17 The nine and thirtieth yere of Azariah king of Iudah, began Menahem the sonne of Gadi to reigne ouer Israel, and reigned ten yeeres in Samaria.

IN the seuenteenth yere of Pekah the sonne of Remaliah, [a] Ahaz the sonne of Iotham king of Iudah began to reigne.

[a] This was a wicked sonne of a godly father, as of him againe came godly Ezekiah, and of him wicked Manasseh, saue that God in the end shewed him mercy. Thus we see how vncertaine it is to depend on the dignitie of our fathers.

2 Twenty yeere old was Ahaz, when he began to reigne, and he reigned sixteene yere in Jerusalem, and did not vprightly in the sight of the Lord his God, like Dauid his father,

3 But walked in the way of the kings of Israel, yea, and made his sonne to [b] go thorow the fire, after the abominations of the heathen, whom the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

4 Also he offered and burnt incense in the high places and on the hilles, and vnder euery greene tree.

5 * Then Rezin king of Aram, and Pekah sonne of Remaliah king of Israel came vp to Jerusalem, to fight: and they besieged Ahaz, but could not ouercome [c] him.

6 At the same time Rezin king of Aram restored [d] Elath to Aram, and droue the Iewes from Elath: so the Aramites came to Elath, and dwelt there vnto this day.

7 Then Ahaz sent [e] messengers to Tiglath Pileser king of Asshur, saying, I am thy seruant and thy sonne: come vp, and deliuer me out of the hand of the king of Aram, and out of the hand of the king of Israel which rise vp against me.

8 And Ahaz tooke the siluer and the gold that was found in the [f] house of the Lord, and in the treasures of the Kings house, and sent a present to the king of Asshur.

9 And the king of Asshur consented vnto him: and the king of Asshur went vp against Damascus, and when hee had taken it, hee caried the people away to Kir, and slew Rezin.

10 And king Ahaz went vnto Damascus to meete Tiglath Pileser king of Asshur: and when king Ahaz sawe the altar that was at Damascus, hee sent to Uriiah the Priest the paterne of the altar, and the fashion of it, and all the workmanship thereof.

11 And Uriiah the Priest made an altar [g] in all points like to that which king Ahaz had sent from Damascus, so did Uriiah the Priest against king Ahaz came from Damascus.

12 So when the king was come from Damascus, the king saw the altar: and the king drew neere to the altar, and offered [h] thereon.

13 And hee burnt his burnt offering, and his meate offering, and powred his drinke offering, and sprinckled the blood of his peace offerings besides the altar,

14 And set it by the brasen altar which was before the Lord, and brought it in farther before the house betweene the altar and the house of the Lord, and set it on the [i] North side of the altar.

15 And king Ahaz commanded Uriiah the priest, and said, Upon the great altar set on fire in the morning the burnt offering, and in the euen the meat offring, and the kings burnt offering and his meate offering, with the burnt offering of all the people of the land, and their meate offering, and their drinke offrings: and powre therby al the blood of the burnt offring, and all the blood of the sacrifice, and the [k] brasen altar shall be for me to enquire of God.

16 And Uriiah the Priest did according to all that king Ahaz had commanded.

17 And king Ahaz brake the borders of the bases, and tooke the caldrons from off them, and tooke downe the sea from the brasen oxen that were vnder it, and put it vpon a pauement of stones.

18 And the [l] vaile for the Sabbath (that they had made in the house) and the Kings entry without turned hee to the house of the Lord, [m] because of the king of Asshur.

19 Concerning the rest of the actes of Ahaz, which hee did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Iudah?

20 And Ahaz slept with his fathers, & was buried with his fathers in the citie of Dauid, and Hezekiah his sonne reigned in his stead.

2 And he did euill in the sight of the Lord, [a] but not as the kings of Israel, that were before him.

3 And Shalmaneser king of Asshur came vp against him, and Hoshea became his seruant, and gaue him presents.

4 And the king of Asshur found treason in Hoshea: for he had sent messengers to So king of Egypt, and brought no present vnto the king of Asshur, [b] as he had done yeerely: therefore the king of Asshur shut him vp, and put him in prison.

of the kings of Israel, which they vsed,

9 And the children of Israel had done secretly things that were not vpright before the Lord their God, and throughout all their cities had built hie places, both from the towre e of the watch, to the defensed citie,

10 And had made them images & groues vpon euery high hill, and vnder euery greene tree,

11 And there burnt incense in all the high places, as did the heathen whom the Lord had taken away before them, and wrought wicked things to anger the Lord,

12 And serued idoles: whereof the Lord had said vnto them, *Ye shal do no such thing,

13 Notwithstanding the Lord testified to Israel and to Iudah † by all the Prophets, and by all the Seers, saying, * Turne from your euill wayes, and keepe my commandements and my statutes, according to all the Lawe, which I commanded your fathers, and which I sent to you by my seruants the Prophets.

14 Neuertheless they would not obey, * but hardened their neckes, like to the neckes of their f fathers, that did not beleeue in the Lord their God.

15 And they refused his statutes and his couenant, that he made with their fathers, and his testimonies (wherewith he witnessed vnto them) and they followed vanitie, and became vaine, & followed the heathen that were round about them: concerning whom the Lord had charged them, that they should not doe like them.

16 Finally they left all the commandements of the Lord their God, and made them molten images, * euen two calues, and made a groue, and worshipped all the g hoste of heauen, and serued Baal,

17 And they made their sonnes and their daughters h passe thorow the fire, and vsed witchcrafts and inchantments, yea, i solde themselues to doe euill in the sight of the Lord, to anger him.

18 Therefore the Lorde was exceeding wroth with Israel, and put them out of his sight, and none was left but the tribe of Iudah k onely.

19 Yet Iudah kept not the commandements of the Lord their God, but walked according to ỹ fashion of Israel, which they vsed.

20 Therefore the Lord cast off all the seed of Israel, and afflicted them, and deliuered them into the hands of spoilers, vntill he had cast them out of his l sight.

21 m For he cut off Israel from the house of Dauid, and they made Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat king: and Ieroboam drewe Israel away from following the Lord, and made them sinne a great sinne,

22 For the children of Israel walked in all the sinnes of Ieroboam, which he did, and departed not therefrom, 23 Untill the Lord put Israel away out of his sight, as he had said † by all his seruants the * Prophets, and caried Israel away out of their land to Asshur vnto this day.

24 And the king of Asshur brought folke from Babel, and from n Cuthah, and from Aua, and from Hamath, & from Sepharuaim, and placed them in the cities of Samaria in stead of the children of Israel: so they possessed Samaria, and dwelt in the cities thereof.

25 ¶ And at the beginning of their dwelling there, they o feared not the Lord: therefore the Lord sent Lions among them, which slew them.

26 Wherefore they spake to the King of Asshur, saying, The nations which thou hast remoued, and placed in the cities of Samaria, know not the manner of the God of the land: therefore he hath sent lions among them, and behold, they slay them, because they know not the maner of the God of the land.

27 Then the king of Asshur commanded, saying, Cary thither one of the Priests whom yee brought thence, and let him goe and dwell there, and teach them the manner of the God p of the countrey.

28 So one of the Priests, which they had carried from Samaria, came and dwelt in Beth-el, and taught them how they should feare the Lord.

29 Howbeit euery nation made their gods, and put them in the houses of the hie places, which the Samaritanes had made, euery nation in their cities, wherein they dwelt.

30 For the men of Babel made q Succoth-Benoth: & the men of Cuth made Nergal, and the men of Hamath made Ashima, 31 And the Auims made Nibhaz, and Tartak: and the Sepharuims burnt their children in the fire to Adrammelech, and Anammelech the gods of Sepharuaim.

32 Thus they feared the Lorde, and appointed out Priests out of themselues for the hie places, who prepared for them sacrifices in the houses of the hie places.

33 * They r feared the Lord, but serued their gods after the manner of the nations whom they caried thence.

34 Unto this day they do after the old maner: they neither feare God, neither doe after s their ordinances, nor after their customes, nor after the Law, nor after the commandement, which the Lord commaunded the children of Iaakob, * whom he named Israel, 30 Neither let Hezekiah make you to trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord will surely deliuer vs, and this citie shall not be giuen ouer into the hand of the king of Ashur.

† Ebr blessing: meaning, the conditions of peace.

31 Hearken not vnto Hezekiah: for thus saith the king of Ashur, Make † appointment with me, and come out to me, that euery man may eate of his owne vine, and euery man of his owne figge tree, and drinke euery man of the water of his owne well, l He maketh himselfe so sure, that he will not grant them truce, except they render themselues to him to be led away captiues.

32 Till [l] I come and bring you to a land like your owne land, euen a land of wheate and wine, a land of bread and vineyards, a land of oliues oyle, and hony, that ye may liue and not die: and obey not Hezekiah, for he deceiueth you, saying, The Lord will deliuer vs.

33 Hath any of the gods of the nations deliuered his land out of the hand of the king of Ashur?

34 Where is the god of Hamath, and of Arpad? where is the god of Sepharuaim, Hena and Iuah? howe haue they deliuered Samaria out of mine hand?

m This is an execrable blasphemie against the true God, to make him equall with the idoles of other nations: therefore God did most sharply punish it.

35 Who are they among all the gods of the nations, that haue deliuered their land out of mine hand, that the [m] Lord should deliuer Ierusalem out of mine hand?

36 But the people helde their peace, and answered him not a word: for the Kings commandement was, saying, Answere ye him not.

37 Then Eliakim, the sonne of Hilkiah which was steward of the house, and Shebnah the chanceller, and Ioah the sonne of Asah the recorder, came to Hezekiah with their clothes rent, and tolde him the wordes of Rabshakeh.

CHAP. XIX.

6 God promiseth by Isaiah victory to Hezekiah. 35 The Angel of the Lord killeth an hundreth and fourescore and fiue thousand men of the Assyrians. 37 Sanherib is killed of his owne sonnes.

AND [*] when king Hezekiah heard it, hee rent his clothes and put on sackecloth, and came into the house of the Lord,

* Isa 37.1.

2 And sent Eliakim which was the steward of the house, and Shebnah the chanceller, and the Elders of the Priests clothed in sackecloth [a] to Isaiah the Prophet the sonne of Amoz.

a To heare some new prophecie, and to haue comfort of him.

3 And they said vnto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This day is a day of tribulation and of rebuke, and blasphemie: for the children are come to [b] the birth, and there is no strength to bring forth.

b The dangers are so great that we can neither auenge this blasphemie, nor helpe our selues, no more then a woman in her trauaile.

4 It is so be the Lord thy God hath heard all the wordes of Rabshakeh, whom the king of Ashur his master hath sent to raile on the liuing God, & to reproch him with wordes which the Lord thy God hath heard, then lift thou vp thy prayer for the [c] remnant that are left.

c Meaning, for Ierusalem, which onely remained of all the cities of Iudah.

5 ¶ So the seruants of king Hezekiah came to Isaiah.

6 And Isaiah said vnto them, So shall ye say to your master, Thus saith the Lord, Be not afraid of the wordes which thou hast heard, wherewith the seruants of the king of Ashur haue blasphemed me.

d The Lord can with one blast blow away all the strength of man and turne it into dust.

7 Behold, I will send a blast [d] vpon him, and hee shall heare a noise, and returne to his owne land: and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his owne land.

8 ¶ So Rabshakeh returned, and found the king of Ashur fighting against Libnah: for hee had heard that he was departed from Lachish.

g The more neere that the wicked are to their destruction, the more they blaspheme.

10 Thus shall yee speake vnto Hezekiah king of Iudah, and say, Let not thy [g] God deceiue thee in whom thou trustest, saying, Ierusalem shall not be deliuered into the hand of the king of Ashur.

11 Behold, thou hast heard what the kings of Ashur haue done to all lands, how they haue destroyed them: and shalt thou be deliuered?

12 Haue the gods of the Heathen deliuered them which my fathers haue destroyed?

as Gozan, and Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden, which were in Thelasar?

13 Where is the king of Hamath, and the king of Arpad, and the king of the citie of Sepharuaim, Hena and Iuah?

14 ¶ So Hezekiah receiued the letter of the hand of the meſſengers, and read it: and Hezekiah went vp into the houſe of the Lord, and Hezekiah ſpread it before the [h] Lord.

15 And Hezekiah [i] prayed before the Lord, and ſayd, O Lord God of Iſrael, which dwelleſt betweene the Cherubims, thou art very God alone ouer all the kingdoms of the earth: thou haſt made the heauen and the earth.

16 Lord, [k] bow downe thine eare, & heare: Lord open thine eyes and beholde, and heare the wordes of Saneherib, who hath ſent to blaſpheme the [l] liuing God.

17 Trueth it is, Lord, that the kings of Aſſhur haue deſtroyed the nations and their lands, 18 And haue ſet fire on their gods: for they were no gods, but the worke of mans handes, euen wood and ſtone: therefore they deſtroyed them.

19 Now therefore, O Lord our God, I beſeech thee, ſaue thou vs out of his hand, that all the [m] kingdomes of the earth may know, that thou, O Lord, art onely God.

20 ¶ Then Iſaiah the ſonne of Amoz ſent to Hezekiah, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael, I haue heard that which thou haſt prayed mee, concerning Saneherib king of Aſſhur.

21 This is the worde that the Lorde hath ſpoken againſt him, O [n] Virgine, daughter of Zion, hee hath deſpiſed thee, and laughed thee to ſcorne: O daughter of Ieruſalem, hee hath ſhaken his head at thee.

22 Whom haſt thou railed on? and whom haſt thou blaſphemed? and againſt whom haſt thou exalted thy voyce, and lifted vp thine eyes on hie? euen [o] againſt the Holy one of Iſrael.

23 By thy meſſengers thou haſt railed on the Lord, & ſaid, By the multitude of my charets, I am come vp to the top of the mountaines, by the ſides of Lebanon, and will cut downe the high Cedars thereof, and the faire firre trees thereof, and will goe into the [p] lodging of his borders, and into the forreſt of ‖ his Carmel.

24 I haue digged, and drunke the waters of others, and with the plant of my feete haue I dryed all the ‖ floods cloſed in.

25 Haſt thou not heard, how I haue of old time made it, and haue formed it long agoe? [q] and ſhould I now bring it, that it ſhould bee deſtroyed, and layed on ruinous heapes, as cities defenſed?

26 Whoſe [r] inhabitants haue ſmall power, and are afrayd, and confounded: they are like the graſſe of the fielde, and greene herbe, or graſſe on the houſe tops, or as corne blaſted before it be growen.

27 I know thy dwelling, yea, thy going out, and thy comming in, and thy furie againſt me.

28 And becauſe thou rageſt againſt mee, and thy tumult is come vp to mine eares, I will put mine [s] hooke in thy noſtrels, and my bridle in thy lips, and will bring thee backe againe the ſame way thou cameſt.

29 And this ſhall be a [t] ſigne vnto thee, O Hezekiah, Thou ſhalt eate this yeere ſuch things as grow of themſelues, and the next yeere ſuch as grow without ſowing, and the third yeere ſow ye and reape, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruits thereof.

30 And the remnant that is eſcaped of the houſe of Iudah, ſhall againe take [u] root downward, and beare fruit vpward.

31 For out of Ieruſalem ſhall goe a remnant, & ſome that ſhall eſcape out of mount Zion: the [x] zeale of the Lord of hoſts ſhall do this.

32 Wherefore thus ſaith the Lord, concerning the king of Aſſhur, He ſhal not enter into this city, nor ſhoote an arrow there, nor come before it with ſhield, nor caſt a mount againſt it:

33 But hee ſhall returne the way he came, and ſhall not come into this citie, ſayeth the Lord.

34 For I will defend this citie to ſaue it, for mine owne ſake, and for Dauid my ſeruants ſake.

35 ¶ *And the ſame night the Angel of the Lord went out and ſmote in the campe of Aſſhur an hundreth foureſcore and fiue thouſand: ſo when they aroſe early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpſes.

36 So Saneherib king of Aſſhur departed, and went his way, and returned, and dwelt in Nineueh.

37 And as he was in the temple worſhipping Niſroch his god, Adramelech and Sharezer his ſonnes [y] ſlewe him with the ſword: and they eſcaped into the land of Ararat, and Eſarhaddon his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

15 Then ſaid he, What haue they ſeene in thine houſe? And Hezekiah anſwered, All that is in mine houſe haue they ſeene: there is nothing among my treaſures, that I haue not ſhewed them.

2 And the King went vp into the houſe of the Lord, with all the men of Iudah and all the inhabitants of Ieruſalem with him, and the Priests and Prophets, and all the people both ſmall & great: and he read in their eares all the wordes of the booke of the Couenant, which was found in the houſe of the Lord.

b Where the King had his place, Chap. 11. 14.

3 And the King ſtood by [b] the pillar, and made a [c] Couenant before the Lord, that they ſhould walke after the Lord, and keepe his Commandements, and his Teſtimonies, and his ſtatutes with all their heart, and with all their ſoule, that they might accompliſh the wordes of this couenant written in this booke. And all the people ſtood to the Couenant.

c As Joshua did, Joſh. 24 22, 25.

4 Then the King commaunded Hilkiah the hie Priest, and the [d] Prieſtes of the ſecond order, and the keepers of the doore, to bring out of the Temple of the Lord all the veſſels that were made for Baal, and for the groue, and for all the hoſte of heauen, and hee burnt them without Ieruſalem in the fieldes of Kedron, and carried [e] the powder of them into Beth-el.

d Meaning, them which were next in dignitie to the hie Priest.

e In contempt of that altar, which Ieroboam had there built, to ſacrifice to his calues.

5 And hee put downe the [f] Chemarims, whom the Kings of Iudah had founded to burne incenſe in the hie places, and in the Cities of Iudah, and about Ieruſalem, and alſo them that burnt incenſe vnto Baal, to the Sunne and to the Moone, and to the Planets, and to all the hoſte of heauen.

f Meaning, the prieſts of Baal, which were called Chemarims, either becauſe they were blacke garments, or els were ſmoked with burning incenſe to idols.

6 And hee brought out the [g] groue from the Temple of the Lord without Ieruſalem vnto the valley of Kedron, and burnt it in the valley Kedron, and ſtampt it to powder, and caſt the duſt thereof vpon the [h] graues of the children of the people.

g He remooued the groue which idolaters for deuotion had planted neere vnto the Temple, contrary to the commandement of the Lord, Deut. 16. 21. or as ſome reade, the ſimilitude of a groue, which was hanged in the Temple.

h Both in contempt of the idols, and reproch of them which had worſhipped them in their liues.

7 And hee brake downe the houſes of the Sodomites, that were in the houſe of the Lord, where the women woue hangings for the groue.

8 Alſo hee brought all the Priests out of the Cities of Iudah, and defiled the hie places where the Prieſtes had burnt incenſe, euen from Geba to Beer-sheba, and deſtroyed the hie places of the gates, that were in the entring in of the gate of Joshua the gouernour of the Citie, which was at the left hand of the gate of the Citie.

9 Neuertheleſſe the prieſts of the hie places [i] came not vp to the Altar of the Lord in Ieruſalem, ſaue onely they did eate of the vnleauened bread among their brethren.

i Becauſe that thoſe that had forſaken the Lord to ſerue idoles, were not meete to miniſter in the ſeruice of the Lord, for the inſtruction of others.

10 Hee defiled alſo [k] Topheth, which was in the valley of the children of Hinnom, that no man ſhould make his ſonne or his daughter paſſe thorow the fire to Molech.

k Which was a valley neere to Ieruſalem, and ſignifieth a tabret, becauſe they ſmote on the tabret while their children were burning, that their cry ſhould not be heard, Leuit. 18. 21. where after Iosiah commaundeth the ſame to be call in contempt thereof.

11 He put downe also the [l] horses that the kings of Iudah had giuen to the Sunne at the entring in of the house of the Lord, by the chamber of Nethan-melech the eunuch, which was ruler of the Suburbs, and burnt the charets of the Sunne with fire.

12 And the altars that were on the top of the chamber of Ahaz, which the kings of Iudah had made, and the altars which Manasseh had made in the two courts of the house of the Lord, did the King breake downe, and hasted thence, and cast the dust of them in the ‖ brooke Kedron.

13 Moreouer the King defiled the hie places that were before Ierusalem and on the right hand of the [m] mount of corruption (which * Salomon the King of Israel had built for Ashtoreth the idole of the Sidonians, and for Chemosh the idole of the Moabites, and for Milchom the abomination of the children of Ammon)

14 And he brake the images in pieces, and cut downe the groues and filled their places with the bones of men.

15 Furthermore [n] the altar that was at Beth-el, and the hie place made by Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat, which made Israel to sin, both this altar and also the hie place, brake he downe, and burnt the hie place, and stampt it to powder, and burnt the groue.

16 And as Iosiah turned himselfe, he spied the graues, that were in the mount, and sent and tooke the bones out of the graues, and burnt them vpon the altar and polluted it, according to the word of the Lord, that the [o] man of God proclaimed, which cried the same words.

17 Then he said, What title is that which I see? And the men of the city said vnto him, It is the sepulchre of the man of God, which came from Iudah, and tolde these things that thou hast done to the altar of Beth-el.

18 Then said he, Let him alone: let none remoue his bones. So his bones were saued with the bones of the [p] Prophet that came from Samaria.

19 Iosiah also tooke away all the houses of the hie places, which were in the Cities of Samaria, which the Kings of Israel had made to anger the Lord, and did to them according to all the factes that hee had done in Beth-el.

20 And hee sacrificed all the priests of the hie places that were there vpon the altars, and burnt mens bones vpon them, and returned to Ierusalem.

21 ¶ Then the King commaunded all the people, saying, *Keepe the Passeouer vnto the Lord your God, * as it is written in the booke of this Couenant, 22 And there was no Passeouer holden [q] like that from the dayes of the Iudges that iudged Israel, nor in all the dayes of the kings of Israel, and of the kings of Iudah.

23 And in the eighteenth yeere of King Iosiah was this Passeouer celebrated to the Lord in Ierusalem.

24 Iosiah also tooke away them that had familiar spirits, and the Soothsayers, and the images, and the idoles, and all the abominations that were espied in the land of Iudah and in Ierusalem, to performe the wordes of the * Law, which were written in the booke that Hilkiah the Priest found in the house of the Lord.

25 Like vnto him was there no King before him that turned to the Lord with all his heart, and with all his soule, and with all his might according to all the Law of Moses, neither after him arose there any like him.

26 Notwithstanding the Lord turned not from the [r] fiercenes of his great wrath wherewith he was angry against Iudah, because of all the prouocations wherewith Manasseh had prouoked him.

27 Therefore the Lord said, I will put Iudah also out of my sight, as I haue put away Israel, and will cast off this citie Ierusalem, which I haue chosen, & the house whereof I said, * My Name shalbe there.

28 Concerning the rest of the acts of Iosiah, and all that he did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudah?

29 ¶ * In his dayes Pharaoh Nechoh King of Egypt went vp against the King of Asshur to the riuer Perath. And King Iosiah [s] went against him, whom when Pharaoh saw, he slew him at Megiddo.

30 Then his seruants caried him dead from Megiddo, and brought him to Ierusalem, and buried him in his owne sepulchre. And the people of the land tooke Iehoahaz the sonne of Iosiah, and anoynted him, and made him King in his fathers stead.

31 * Iehoahaz was three and twenty yeere old when hee began to reigne, & reigned three moneths in Ierusalem. His mothers name also was Hamutal the daughter of Ieremiah of Libnah.

32 And he did euil in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his [t] fathers had done.

33 And Pharaoh Nechoh put him in bondes [u] at Riblah in the land of Hamath, ‖ while he reigned in Ierusalem, and put the land to tribute of an hundred talents of siluer, and a talent of gold.

34 ¶ And Pharaoh Nechoh made Eliakim the sonne of Iosiah King in stead of Iosiah his father, and turned his name to Iehoiakim, b Though God vses these wicked tyrants to execute his iust iudgements, yet they are not to be excused, because they proceeded of ambition and malice.

3 Surely by the [b] commaundement of the Lord came this vpon Iudah that he might put them out of his sight for the sinnes of Manasseh, according to all that he did,

4 And for the innocent blood that he shed, (for he filled Ierusalem with innocent blood) therefore the Lord would not pardon it.

5 Concerning the rest of the acts of Iehoiakim, and all that he did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudah?

c Not that he was buried with his fathers, but he died in the way as they led him prisoner towards Babylon: read Iere.22.19.

6 So Iehoiakim [c] slept with his fathers, and Iehoiachin his sonne reigned in his stead.

12 This Iehoiachin the King of Iudah [d] came out against the King of Babel, he, and his mother and his seruants, and his Princes, and his Eunuches: and the King of Babel tooke him in the eight yeere [e] of his reigne.

the [d] gate which is betweene two walles that was by the Kings garden: now the Caldees were by the Citie round about: and the King went by the way of the wildernesse.

5 But the armie of the Caldees pursued after the King, and tooke him in the deserts of Jericho, and all his hoste was scattered from him.

6 Then they tooke the King, and caried him vp to the King of Babel to Riblah, where they [e] gaue iudgement vpon him.

7 And they slew the sonnes of Zedekiah before his eyes, and put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and bound him in chaines, and carried him to Babel.

8 ¶ And in the fift moneth, and [f] seuenth day of the moneth, which was the nineteenth yeere of king Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, came Nebuzar-adan ‖ chiefe steward and seruant of the king of Babel, to Jerusalem,

9 And burnt the house of the Lord, and the kings house, and all the houses of Jerusalem, and all the great houses burnt he with fire.

10 And all the armie of the Caldees that were with the chiefe steward, brake downe the walles of Jerusalem round about.

11 And the rest of the people that were left in the city, and those that were fled and [g] fallen to the king of Babel, with the remnant of the multitude, did Nebuzar-adan chiefe steward cary away captiue.

12 But the chiefe steward left of the poore of the land to dresse the vines, and to till the land.

13 * Also the pillars of brasse that were in the house of the Lord, and the bases, and the brasen Sea that was in the house of the Lord, did the Caldees breake, and caried the brasse of them to Babel.

14 The pots [h] also and the besoms, and the instruments of musick, and the incense dishes, and all the vessels of brasse that they ministred in, tooke they away.

15 And the ashpannes, and the basens, and all that was of golde, and that was of siluer, tooke the chiefe steward away.

16 With the two pillars, one Sea, and the bases, which Salomon had made for the house of the Lord: the brasse of all these vessels was without weight.

17 * The height of one pillar was eighteene cubites, and the chapiter thereon was brasse, and the height of the chapiter was with networke three cubits, and pomegranates vpon the chapiter round about, all of brasse: and likewise was the second pillar with the networke.

18 And the chiefe steward tooke Seraiah the chiefe Priest, and Zephaniah the [i] second Priest, and the three keepers of the doore.

19 And out of the city he tooke an eunuch that had the ouersight of the men of warre, and [k] fiue men of them that were in the kings presence, which were found in the citie, and Sopher captaine of the host, who mustred the people of the land, and threescore men of the people of the land, that were found in the citie.

20 And Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward tooke them, and brought them to the King of Babel to Riblah.

21 And the king of Babel smote them, and slew them at Riblah in the land of Hamath. So Judah was caried away captiue out of his owne land.

22 * Howbeit there remained people in the land of Judah, whom Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel left, and made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan ruler ouer them.

23 Then when all the Captaines of the host and their men heard, that the king of Babel had made Gedaliah gouernour, they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, to wit, Ishmael, the sonne of Nethaniah, and Johanan the sonne of Kareah, and Seraiah the sonne of Tanhumeth the Netophathite, and Jaazaniah the sonne of Maachathi, they and their men.

24 And Gedaliah [l] sware to them, and to their men, and said vnto them, Feare not to be the seruants of the Caldees: dwel in the land, and serue the king of Babel, and yee shall bee well.

25 * But in the seuenth moneth Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah the sonne of Elishama of the kings seed, came, and ten men with him, and smote Gedaliah, and hee died, and so did he the Iewes, and the Caldees that were with him at Mizpah.

26 Then all the people both small and great, and the Captaines of the armie arose, and came to [m] Egypt: for they were afraid of the Caldees.

27 Notwithstanding in the seuen and thirtieth yeere after [n] Jehoiachin king of Judah was caried away in the twelfe moneth, and the seuen and twentieth day of the moneth, Euil-merodach king of Babel in the yeere that hee began to reigne, did lift vp the head of Jehoiachin king of Judah out of the prison,

THE ARGVMENT.

THe Iewes comprehend both these bookes in one, which the Grecians, because of the length diuide into two: and they are called Chronicles, because they note briefly the histories from Adam to the returne from their captiuitie in Babylon. But these are not those bookes of Chronicles, which are so oft mentioned in the bookes of the Kings of Iudah and Israel, which did at large set foorth the storie of both the kingdomes, and afterward perished in the captiuitie: but an abridgement of the same, and were gathered by Ezra, as the Iewes write, after their returne from Babylon. This first booke conteineth a briefe rehearsall of the children of Adam vnto Abraham, Izhak, Iaakob, and the twelue Patriarches, chiefly of Iudah, and of the reigne of Dauid, because Christ came of him according to the flesh. And therefore it setteth foorth more amply his actes, both concerning ciuill gouernment, and also the administration, and care of things concerning religion, for the good successe whereof he reioyceth, and giueth thankes to the Lord.

CHAP. X.

1 The battell of Saul against the Philistims, 4 In which hee dieth, 6 And his sonnes also. 13 The cause of Sauls death.

Then

* 1.Sam.31.1. NOw * the Philistims fought against Israel, and the men of Israel fled before the Philistims, and fell downe slaine in mount Gilboa.

2 And the Philistims pursued after Saul, and after his sonnes, and the Philistims smote Jonathan, and Abinadab, and Malchishua the sonnes of Saul.

3 And the battell was sore against Saul, and the archers † hit him, and he was wounded of the archers.

† Ebr. found.

4 Then sayd Saul to his armour bearer, Draw out thy sword, and thrust mee thorow therewith, lest these vncircumcised come and mocke at mee: but his armour bearer would not, for hee was sore afrayd: therefore Saul tooke the sword and fell vpon it.

5 And when the armour bearer sawe that Saul was dead, hee likewise fell vpon the sword, and died.

6 So Saul died and his three sonnes, and all his house, they died together.

7 And when all the men of Israel that were in the valley, saw how they fled, and that Saul and his sonnes were dead, they forsooke their cities, and fled away, and the Philistims came, and dwelt in them.

8 And on the morrow when the Philistims came to spoile thē that were slaine, they found Saul and his sonnes † lying in mount Gilboa.

† Ebr. fallen.

9 And when they had stript him, they tooke his head, and his armour, and sent them into the land of the Philistims round about, to publish it vnto their idoles, and to the people.

11 ¶ When all they of Jabesh Gilead heard all that ỹ Philistims had done to Saul, 12 Then they arose (all the valiant men) and tooke the bodie of Saul, and the bodies of his sonnes, and brought them to Jabesh, and buried the bones of them vnder an oke in Jabesh, and fasted seuen dayes.

13 So Saul died for his transgression, that he committed against the Lord, * euen against the word of the Lord, which he kept not, and in that hee sought and asked counsell of a ‖ * familiar spirit,

3 After the death of Saul is Dauid anointed in Hebron. 5 The Iebusites rebell against Dauid, from whom he taketh the tower of Zion. 6 Ioab is made captaine. 10 His valiant men.

2.Sam.5.1.

THen * all Israel [a] gathered themselues to Dauid vnto Hebron, saying, Behold, we are thy bones and thy flesh.

a This was after the death of Ishbosheth Sauls sonne, when Dauid had reigned ouer Iudah seuen yeeres and sixe moneths in Hebron, 2.Sam.5.5.

2 And in time past, euen when Saul was king, thou leddest Israel out and in: and the Lord thy God said vnto thee, Thou shalt feed my people Israel, and thou shalt be captaine ouer my people Israel.

3 So came all the Elders of Israel to the king to Hebron, & Dauid made a couenant w̄ them in Hebron before the Lord. And they anointed Dauid king ouer Israel, * according ỹ word of the Lord by the hand of Samuel.

* 1.Sam.16.13.

4 ¶ And Dauid and all Israel went to Jerusalem, which is Jebus, where were the Jebusites, the inhabitants of the land.

5 And the inhabitants of Jebus sayd to Dauid, Thou shalt not come in hither. Neuertheless Dauid tooke the tower of Zion, which is the citie of Dauid.

6 And Dauid sayd, * Whosoeuer smiteth the Jebusites first, shall be the chiefe and captaine. So Joab the sonne of Zeruiah went first vp, and was captaine.

* 2.Sam.5.8.

7 And Dauid dwelt in the tower: therefore they called it the citie of Dauid.

8 * And he built the city on euery side, from Millo euen round about, and Joab repaired the rest of the citie.

* 2.Sam.5.9.

9 And Dauid prospered and grewe: for the Lord of hosts was with him.

10 ¶ * These also are the chiefe of the valiant men that were with Dauid, and ioyned their force with him in his kingdome with all Israel, to make him king ouer Israel, according to the word of the Lord.

* 2.Sam.23.8.

12 And after him was Eleazar the sonne of ‖ Dodo the Ahohite, which was one of the three valiant men.

13 He was with Dauid at Pas-dammim, and there the Philistims were gathered together to battell: and there was a parcell of ground full of barley, and the people fled before the Philistims.

14 And they stoode in the middes of the field, [c] and saued it, and slew the Philistims: so the Lord gaue a great victory.

c This acte is referred to Shammah, 2.Sam.23.11. which seemeth was the chiefest of these.

d That is, Eleazar and his two companions.

16 And when Dauid was in the hold, the Philistims garison was at Beth-lehem.

17 And Dauid longed, and sayd, * Oh, that one would giue me to drinke of the water of the well of Beth-lehem that is at the gate.

* 2.Sam.23.15.

18 Then these three brake thorowe the hoste of the Philistims, and drew water out of the well of Beth-lehem that was by the gate, and tooke it and brought it to Dauid: but Dauid would not drinke of it, but powred it for an oblation to the Lord, 19 And said, Let not my God suffer me to doe this: should I drinke the [e] blood of these mens liues? for they haue brought it with the ieopardie of their liues: therefore hee would not drinke it: these things did these three mighty men.

e That is this water, for the which they ventured their blood.

20 ¶ And Abishai the brother of Ioab, he was chiefe of the three, and he lift vp his speare against three hundreth, and slew them, and had the name among the three.

21 Among the three he was more honourable then the two, and he was their captaine: * but he attained not vnto the first three.

* 2. Sam. 23. 19.

22 Benaiah the sonne of Iehoiada (the son of a valiant man) which had done many acts, and was of Kabzeel, he slew two ‖ strong men of Moab: he went downe also and slew a Lion in the middes of a pit in the time of snow.

‖ Or, Lyons.

23 And hee slew an Egyptian, a man of great stature, euen fiue cubits long, and in the Egyptians hand was a speare like a weauers beame: and he went down to him with a staffe, and plucked the speare out of the Egyptians hand, and slew him with his owne speare.

24 These things did Benaiah the sonne of Iehoiada, and had the name among the three worthies.

25 Behold, hee was honourable among thirty, but he attained not vnto the [f] first three. * And Dauid made him of his counsell.

e The spirit of boldnesse and courage mooued him to speake thus.

18 And the [e] spirit came vpon Amasai, which was the chiefe of thirtie, and he said, Thine are we, Dauid, and with thee, O sonne of Jshai. Peace, peace be vnto thee, and peace be vnto thine helpers: for thy God helpeth thee. Then Dauid receiued them, and made them captaines of the garison.

19 ¶ And of Manasseh some fell to Dauid, when he came with the Philistims against Saul to battell, but they [f] helped them not: for the princes of the Philistims * by aduisement sent him away, saying, Hee will fall to his master Saul ‖ for our heads.

f They came onely to helpe Dauid and not to succour the Philistims, which were enemies to their countrey.

CHAP. XIII.

7 The Arke is brought againe from Kiriath-iearim to Ierusalem. 9 Vzza dieth because he toucheth it.

AND Dauid counselled with the captaines of thousands and of hundreds, and with all the gouernours.

2 And Dauid sayd to all the Congregation of Jsrael, If it seem good to you, and that it it proceedeth of the Lorde our God, we will send to and fro vnto our brethren, that are left in all the land of Israel (for with them are the Priests and the Leuites in the cities and their suburbs) that they may assemble themselues vnto vs.

a His first care was to restore religion, which had in Sauls dayes beene corrupted and neglected.

3 And we will bring againe the a Arke of our God to vs: for we sought not vnto it in the dayes of Saul.

4 And all the Congregation answered, Let vs do so: for the thing seemed good in the eyes of all the people.

* 2. Sam. 6. 2.

5 ¶ * So Dauid gathered all Israel together from ‖ Shihor in Egypt, euen vnto the entring of Hamath, to bring the Arke of God from b Kiriath-iearim.

b That is, from Gibea, where the inhabitants of Kiriath-iearim had placed it in the house of Abinadab, 2. Sam. 6. 3.

6 And Dauid went vp and all Israel to ‖ Baalath, in Kiriath-iearim, that was in Iudah, to bring vp from thence the Arke of God the Lorde that dwelleth betweene the Cherubims, where his Name is called on.

‖ Or, Baale, reade 2. Sam. 6. 2.

7 And they caried the Arke of God in a newe cart out of the house of Abinadab: and Uzza and Ahio c guided the cart.

8 And Dauid and all Israel played before d God with all their might, both with songs and with harps, and with viols, and with timbrels and with cymbals, and with trumpets.

d That is, before the Arke where God shewed himselfe: so that the signe is taken for the thing signified, which is cõmon to all sacraments both in the olde and new Testament.

9 ¶ And when they came vnto the threshing floore of e Chidon, Uzza put forth his hand to hold the Arke, for the oxen did shake it.

e Called also Nachon, 2. Sa. 6. 6.

10 But the wrath of the Lorde was kindled against Uzza, and hee smote him, because hee layed his hande vpon the Arke: so he died there f before God.

f Before ye Arke for vsurping that which did not appertaine to his vocation: for this charge was giuẽ to the Priests, Num. 4 15. so that here all good intentions are condemned, except they be commanded by the word of God.

11 And Dauid was angry, because the Lord had made a breach in Uzza, and he called the name of that place Perez-uzza vnto this day.

12 And Dauid feared God that day, saying, How shall I bring in to mee the Arke of God?

13 Therfore Dauid brought not the Arke to him into the citie of Dauid, but caused it to turne into the house of g Obed Edom the Gittite.

g Who was a Leuite, & called Gittite, because he had dwelt at Gath.

14 So the Arke of God remained in the house of Obed Edom, euen in his house three moneths: And the Lorde blessed the house of Obed Edom, and all that he had.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 Hiram sendeth wood and workemen to Dauid. 4 The names of his children. 8 14 By the counsell of God he goeth against the Philistims, and ouercommeth them. 15 God fighteth for him.

* 2 Sam 5.11. † Ebr. Zor.

THen * sent Hiram the King of † Tyrus messengers to Dauid, and Cedar trees, with masons and carpenters to build him an house.

2 Therefore Dauid knew that the Lord had confirmed him King ouer Israel, and that his kingdome was lift vp on high, because of his a people Israel.

a Because of Gods promise made to the people of Israel.

3 ¶ Also Dauid tooke moe wiues at Ierusalem, and Dauid begate moe sonnes and daughters.

4 And these are the names of the children which hee had at Ierusalem, Shammua, and Shobab, Nathan, and Salomon,

5 And Ibhar, and Elishua, and b Elpalet,

6 And Nogah, and Nepheg, and Japhia,

7 And Elishama, and ‖ Beeliada, and Eliphalet.

b Elpalet and Nogah are not mentioned, 2. Sam. 5. 14. & there are but eleuen, and here thirteene.

‖ Or, Eliada.

8 But when the Philistims heard that Dauid was anointed King ouer Israel, all the Philistims came vp to seeke Dauid. And when Dauid heard, he went out against them.

9 And the Philistims came, and spread themselues in the valley of Rephaim.

10 Then Dauid asked counsell at God, saying, Shall I go vp against the Philistims, and wilt thou deliuer them into mine hand? And the Lord said vnto him, Goe vp: for I wil deliuer them into thine hand.

11 So they came vp to Baal-perazim, and Dauid smote them there: and Dauid said, God hath diuided mine enemies with mine hand, as waters are diuided: therefore they called the name of that place, c Baal-perazim.

c That is, the valley of diuisions, because the enemies were dispersed there like waters.

12 And there they had left their gods: and Dauid said, Let them euen be burnt with fire.

13 Againe the Philistims came and spred themselues in the valley.

14 And when Dauid asked againe counsell at God, God said to him, Thou shalt not go vp after them, but turne away from them, that thou mayest come vpon them ouer against the mulbery trees.

15 And when thou hearest the noyse of one going in the tops of the mulbery trees, then go out to battel: for God is gone forth before thee, to smite the host of the Philistims.

16 So Dauid did as God had commaunded him: and they smote the host of the Philistims from Gibeon euen to Gezer.

17 And the fame of Dauid went out into all landes: and the Lord brought the feare of him vpon all nations.

CHAP. XV.

AND Dauid made him houses in the a citie of Dauid, and prepared a place for the Arke of God, and pitched for it a tent.

a That was in the place of the citie called Zion, 2. Sam. 5. 7. 9.

2 Then Dauid said, * None ought to carie the Arke of God, but the Leuites: for the

3 ¶ And Dauid gathered all Israel together to Ierusalem to bring vp the [b] Arke of the Lord vnto his place, which he had ordeined for it.

b From the house of Obed Edom, 2. Sam. 6,10,12.

4 And Dauid assembled the sonnes of Aaron, and the Leuites.

5 Of the sonnes of Kohath, Uriel the chiefe, and his ‖ brethren sixe score.

6 Of the sonnes of Merari, Asaiah the chiefe, and his brethren two hundred and twentie.

7 Of the sonnes of Gershom, Joel the chiefe, and his brethren an hundred and thirty.

c Who was the sonne of Uzziel, the fourth sonne of Kohath, Exo. 6.18,22. and num. 3.30.

8 Of the sonnes of [c] Elizaphan, Shemaiah the chiefe, and his brethren two hundred.

9 Of the sonnes of [d] Hebron, Eliel the chiefe, and his brethren fourescore.

d The third sonne of Kohath, Exod. 6, 18.

10 Of the sonnes of Uzziel, Amminadab the chiefe, and his brethren an hundred and twelue.

11 ¶ And Dauid called Zadok and Abiathar the Priests, and of the Leuites, Uriel, Asaiah and Joel, Shemaiah, and Eliel, and Amminadab:

12 And hee sayd vnto them, Yee are the chiefe fathers of the Leuites: [e] sanctifie your selues, and your brethren, and bring vp the Arke of the Lord God of Israel vnto the place that I haue prepared for it.

e Prepare your selues, & be pure, abstaine from all things whereby ye might be polluted, and so not able to come to the Tabernacle.

13 For * because ye were not there at the first, the Lord our God made a breach among vs: for we sought him not after due [f] order.

* Chap. 13,10.

f According as he hath appointed in the Law.

14 So the Priests and the Leuites sanctified themselues to bring vp the Arke of the Lord God of Israel.

15 ¶ And the sonnes of the Leuites bare the Arke of God vpon their shoulders with the barres, as Moses had commanded, * according to the word of the Lord.

* Exo. 25,14,15.

16 And Dauid spake to the chiefe of the Leuites, that they should appoint certaine of their brethren to sing with [g] instruments of musicke, with violes, and harps, and cymbals, that they might make a sound, and lift vp their voice with ioy.

g These instruments and other ceremonies, which they obserued, were instructions of their infancie, which continued to the comming of Christ.

17 So the Leuites appointed Heman the sonne of Joel, and of his brethren Asaph the sonne of Berechiah, and of the sons of Merari their brethren, Ethan the sonne of Kushaiah, 18 And with them their brethren in the [h] second degree, Zechariah, Ben, and Jaaziel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehiel, and Unni, Eliab, and Benaiah, and Maaseiah, and Mattithiah, and Eliphelehu, and Mikneah, and Obed Edom, and Ieiel the porters.

h Which were inferiour in dignitie.

19 So Heman, Asaph, and Ethan were singers to make a sound with cymbals of brasse.

20 And Zechariah, and Aziel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehiel, and Unni, and Eliab, and Maaseiah, and Benaiah with violes on [i] Alamoth, i This was an instrument of musicke, of a certeine tune, whereunto they accustomed to sing Psalmes.

21 And Mattithiah, and Eliphelehu, and Mikneah, and Obed Edom, and Ieiel, and Azaziah, with harpes vpon [k] Sheminith Jenazzeah.

k Which was the eight tune, ouer the which hee that was most excellent had charge.

22 But Chenaniah the chiefe of the Leuites had [l] the charge, bearing the burden in the charge, for he was able to instruct.

l To wit, to appoint Psalmes, and songs to them that sung.

23 And Berechiah and Elkanah were porters for the Arke.

1 The Arke being placed, they offer sacrifices. 4 Dauid ordeineth Asaph and his brethren to minister before the Lord. 8 Hee appointeth a notable Psalme to be sung in praise of the Lord.

SO * they brought in the Arke of God, and set it in the middes of the Tabernacle that Dauid had pitched for it, and they offred burnt offerings and peace offerings before God.

* 2. Sam. 6.17.

2 And when Dauid had made an ende of offering the burnt offering and the peace offerings, he [a] blessed the people in the Name of the Lord.

a He called vpon the Name of God, desiring him to prosper the people, and giue good successe to their beginnings.

3 And he dealt to euery one of Israel both man and woman, to euery one a cake of bread, and a piece of flesh, and a bottell of wine.

4 And hee appointed certaine of the Leuites to minister before the Arke of the Lord, and and to [b] rehearse and to thanke and praise the Lord God of Israel:

5 Asaph the chiefe, and next to him Zechariah, Jeiel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehiel, and Mattithiah, and Eliab, and Benaiah, and Obed Edom, euen Jeiel with instruments, violes and harpes, and Asaph to make a sound with cymbals,

6 And Benaiah and Ahaziel Priests, with trumpets continually before the Arke of the couenant of God.

7 Then at that time Dauid did [c] appoint at the beginning to giue thankes to the Lord by the hand of Asaph and his brethren.

8 * Praise the Lorde and call vpon his Name: declare his [d] works among the people.

9 Sing vnto him, sing praise vnto him, and talke of all his [e] wonderfull workes.

10 Reioyce in his holy Name: let the hearts of them that seeke the Lord reioyce.

11 Seeke the Lord and his strength: seeke his face continually.

12 Remember his marueilous workes that he hath done, his wonders, and the [f] iudgments of his mouth, 13 O seede of Israel his seruant, O the children of Iaakob his [g] chosen.

14 Hee is the Lord our God: his iudgements are throughout all the earth.

15 Remember his couenant for euer, and the word, which he commanded to a thousand generations:

16 * Which hee made with Abraham, and and his othe to Izhak:

17 And hath confirmed it to Iaakob for a Law, & to Israel for an euerlasting couenant, 21 He suffred no man to do them wrong, but rebuked [i] kings for their sakes, saying,

22 Touch not mine [k] anointed, and do my [l] Prophets no harme.

23 * Sing vnto the Lord all the earth: declare his saluation from day to day.

24 Declare his glory among the nations, and his wonderfull workes among all people.

25 For the Lord is great and much to bee praised, and he is to be feared aboue all gods.

26 For all the gods of the people are [m] idols, but the Lord made the heauens.

27 Praise and glory are before him: power and beautie are in his place.

28 Giue vnto the Lord, ye families of the people: giue vnto the Lord glory and power.

29 Giue vnto the Lorde the glory of his Name: bring an offering and come before him, and worship the Lord in the glorious Sanctuary.

30 [n] Tremble ye before him, all the earth, surely the world shal be stable and not moue.

31 Let the [o] heauens reioyce, and let the earth be glad, and let them say among the nations, The Lord reigneth.

32 Let the sea roare, and all that therein is: Let the field be ioyfull and all that is in it.

33 Let the trees of the wood then reioyce at the presence of the Lord: for he commeth to [p] iudge the earth.

34 Praise the Lord, for he is good, for his mercy endureth for euer.

35 And say ye, Saue vs, O God, our saluation, and gather vs, and deliuer vs from the heathen, that we may praise thine holy Name, and [q] glorie in thy praise.

36 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel for euer and euer: and let all people say, [r] So be it, and praise the Lord.

37 ¶ Then hee left there before the Arke of the Lords couenant, Asaph and his brethren to minister continually before the Arke, that which was to be done euery day:

38 And Obed Edom & his brethren, three score and eight: and Obed Edom the sonne of Jeduthun, and Hosah were porters.

39 And Zadok the Priest and his brethren the Priests were before the Tabernacle of the Lord, in the hie place that was at Gibeon, 40 To offer burnt offrings vnto the Lord, vpon the burnt offering altar continually, in the morning and in the euening, euen according vnto all that is written in the Law of the Lord, which he commanded Israel.

41 And with [s] them were Heman and Jeduthun, and the rest that were chosen (which were appointed by names) to praise the Lord, because his mercy endureth for euer.

42 Euen with them were Heman and Jeduthun, to make a sound with the cornets and with the cymbals, with excellent instruments of musicke: and the sonnes of Jeduthun were at the gate.

43 And all the people departed, euery man to his house: and Dauid returned to [t] blesse his house.

c As yet God had not reuealed to the Prophet what he purposed concerning Dauid: therefore seeing God fauoured Dauid, he spake what he thought.

2 And

3 And the same [d] night euen the word of God came to Nathan, saying,

4 Goe and tell Dauid my seruant, Thus saith the Lord, Thou shalt not build me an house to dwell in:

5 For I haue dwelt in no house, since the day that I brought out the children of Israel vnto this day, but I haue beene from [e] tent to tent, and from habitation to habitation.

6 Whereseuer I haue [f] walked with all Israel, spake I one word to any of the iudges of Israel (whome I commanded to feede my people) saying, Why haue ye not built me an house of ceoar trees?

7 Now therefore thus shalt thou say vnto my seruant Dauid, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, I tooke thee from the sheepecoat [g] and from following the sheepe, that thou shouldest be a prince ouer my people Israel.

8 And I haue beene with thee whithersoeuer thou hast walked, and haue destroyed all thine enemies out of thy sight, and haue ‖ made thee a name, like the name of the great men that are in the earth.

9 Also I will appoint a place for my people Israel, and [h] will plant it, that they may dwell in their place, and moone no more: neither shall the † wicked people ‖ vexe them any more, as at the beginning,

10 And since the time that I commanded Iudges ouer my people Israel: And I will subdue all thine enemies: therefore I say vnto thee, that the Lord will [i] build thee an house.

11 And when thy dayes shalbe fulfilled to goe with thy fathers, then will I raise vp thy seed after thee, which shalbe of thy sonnes, and will stablish his kingdome.

12 He shall build me an house, and I will stablish his throne for [k] euer.

13 I will be his father, and he shall be my sonne, and I will not take my mercy away from him, as I tooke it from him that was before [l] thee.

14 But I will establish him in mine house, and in my kingdome for euer, and his throne shalbe stablished for euer.

15 According to all these words, and according to all this vision. So Nathan spake to Dauid.

16 ¶ And Dauid the king [m] went in and ‖ sate before the Lord, and said, Who am I, O Lord God, and what is mine house, that thou hast brought me [n] hitherto?

17 Yet thou esteeming this a small thing, O God, hast also spoken concerning the house of thy seruant for a great while, and hast regarded me according to the estate of a man of [o] hie degree, O Lord God.

18 What can Dauid desire more of thee, for the honour of thy seruant? for thou know-est thy seruant.

19 O Lord, for thy seruants sake, euen according to thine [p] heart hast thou done all this great thing to declare all magnificence.

20 Lord, there is none like thee, neither is there any God besides thee, according to all that we haue heard with our eares.

21 Moreouer, what one nation in the earth is like thy people Israel, whose God went to redeeme them to be his people, and to make thy selfe a Name, and to doe great and terrible things by casting out nations from before thy people, whom thou hast deliuered out of Egypt?

22 For thou hast ordeined thy people Israel to be thine owne people for euer, and thou Lord art become their God.

23 Therefore now Lord, let the thing that thou hast spoken concerning thy seruant and concerning his house, be confirmed for euer, and doe as thou hast said,

24 And let thy Name be stable and magnified for euer, that it may be said, The Lord of hosts, God of Israel, is the God of [q] Israel, and let the house of Dauid thy seruant be established before thee.

25 For thou, O my God, hast [r] reuealed vnto the eare of thy seruant, that thou wilt build him an house: therefore thy seruant hath † beene bold to pray before thee.

26 Therefore nowe Lord (for thou art [s] God, and hast spoken this goodnesse vnto thy seruant.)

27 Now therefore it hath pleased thee to blesse the house of thy seruant, that it may be before thee for euer: for thou, O Lord, hast blessed it, and it shall be blessed for euer.

2 And Dauid said, I will shew kindnesse vnto Hanun the sonne of Nahash, because his a father shewed kindnesse vnto me. And Dauid sent messengers to comfort him for his father. So the seruants of Dauid came into the land of the children of Ammon to Hanun to comfort him.

a Because Nahash receiued Dauid and his company, when Saul persecuted him, he would now shew pleasure to his sonne for the same.

3 And the princes of the children of Ammon said to Hanun, Thinkest thou that Dauid doeth honour thy father, that he hath sent comforters vnto thee? Are not his seruants come to thee to b search, to seeke and to spie out the land?

b Thus the malicious euer interpret the purpose of the godly in the worst sence.

9 And the children of Ammon came out, and set their battell in aray at the gate of the city. And the kings that were come, were by themselues in the field.

10 When Ioab saw that the front of the battell was against him before and behinde, then he chose out of all the choise of Israel, and set himselfe in aray to meete the Aramites.

11 And the rest of the people he deliuered vnto the hand of Abishai his brother, and they put themselues in aray against the children of Ammon.

12 And he said, If Aram be too strong for me, then thou shalt succour me: and if the children of Ammon preuaile against thee, then I will succour thee.

3 And Joab answered, The Lord increase his people an hundreth times so many as they be, O my lord the King: are they not all my lords seruants? wherefore doeth my lord require this thing? why should hee be a cause of [c] trespasse to Israel?

4 Neuertheless the Kings word preuailed against Joab. And Joab departed & went thorow all Israel, and turned to Jerusalem.

5 And Joab gaue the number and summe of the people vnto Dauid: and all Israel were [d] eleuen hundreth thousande men that drewe sword: and Judah was [e] foure hundreth and seuentie thousand men that drew sword.

6 But the Leuites and Beniamin counted he not among them: for the Kings word was abominable to Joab.

8 Then Dauid said to God, I haue sinned greatly, because I haue done this thing: but now, I beseech thee, remoue the iniquitie of thy seruant: for I haue done very foolishly.

9 And the Lord spake vnto Gad Dauids ‖Seer, saying, h Thus he both sheweth a true repentance and a fatherly care toward his people, which desireth God to spare them and to punish him and his.

b Thy people.

18 ¶ Then the Angel of the Lord commaunded Gad to say to Dauid, that Dauid should go vp, and set vp an altar vnto the Lord in the threshing floore of Ornan the Iebusite.

19 So Dauid went vp according to the saying of Gad, which hee had spoken in the Name of the Lord.

20 And Ornan turned about & saw the Angel, and his foure sonnes, that were with him, [i] hid themselues, and Ornan threshed wheate.

i If a man hide himselfe at the sight of an Angel which is a creature, how much lesse is a sinner able to appeare before the face of God?

21 And as Dauid came to Ornan, Ornan looked and saw Dauid, and went out of the threshing floore, and bowed himselfe to Dauid with his face to the ground.

22 And Dauid said to Ornan, Giue mee the place of thy threshing floore, that I may build an [k] altar therein vnto the Lord: giue it mee for sufficient money, that the plague may be staied from the people.

k Thus he did by the commandement of God, as vers. 18. for els it had bene abominable, except he had either Gods word, or reuelation.

23 Then Ornan said vnto Dauid, take it to thee, and let my lord the King doe that which seemeth him good: loe, I giue thee bullockes for burnt offerings, and threshing instruments for wood, and wheat for meate offering, I giue it all.

24 And King Dauid said to Ornan, Not so: but I wil buy it for sufficient [l] money: for I wil not take that which is thine for the Lord nor offer burnt offerings without cost.

l That is, as much as it is worth: for hauing enough of his owne, and yet to haue taken of another mans goods to offer vnto the Lord, it hath bene theft, and not acceptable to God. m Read 2. Sa. 24.24.

25 So Dauid gaue to Ornan for that place [m] sixe hundreth shekels of gold by weight.

26 And Dauid built there an altar vnto the Lord, and offred burnt offrings, and peace offerings, and called vpon the Lord, and hee [n] answered him by fire from heauen vpon the altar of burnt offering.

n God declared that he heard his request in that hee sent downe fire from heauen: for els they might vse no fire in sacrifice, but of that which was reserued still vpon the altar, Leuit. 6.13. and came downe from heauen, Leuit. 9.24. as appeared by the punishment of Nadab and Abihu, Leui. 10.1.

27 And when the Lord had spoken to the Angel, hee put vp his sword againe into his sheath.

28 At that time when Dauid saw that the Lord had heard him in the threshing floore of Ornan the Iebusite, then he sacrificed there.

29 (But the Tabernacle of the Lord which Moses had made in the wildernesse, and the altar of burnt offering were at that season in the high place at Gibeon.

30 And Dauid could not goe before it to aske counsell at God: for he was afraid of the sword of the Angel of the Lord.)

CHAP. XXII.

2 Dauid prepareth things necessarie for the building of the Temple. 6 Hee commandeth his sonne Salomon to build the Temple of the Lord, which thing he himselfe was forbidden to doe. 9 Vnder the figure of Salomon Christ is promised.

AND Dauid said, This is the [a] house of the Lord God, and this is the altar for the burnt offring of Israel.

a That is, the place wherein he will be worshipped.

2 And Dauid commaunded to gather together the [b] strangers that were in the land of Israel, and hee set masons to hew and polish stones to build the house of God.

b Meaning, cunning men of other Nations which dwelt among the Iewes.

3 Dauid also prepared [c] much yron for the nailes of the doores and of the gates, and for the ioynings, and abundance of brasse passing weight, c To wit, which weighed fiftie shekels of gold, 2. Chron. 3.9.

4 And cedar trees without number: for the Zidonians and they of Tyrus brought much cedar wood to Dauid.

5 And Dauid said, Salomon my sonne is yong and tender, and wee must build an house for the Lord, magnifical, excellent and of great fame and dignitie throughout all countreys, I will therefore now prepare for him. So Dauid prepared very much before his death.

6 Then he called Salomon his sonne, and charged him to builde an house for the Lord God of Israel.

7 And Dauid saide to Salomon, * My sonne, I purposed with my selfe to builde an house to the Name of the Lord my God,

* 2.Sam.7.13.

8 But the word of the Lord came to mee saying, *[d] Thou hast shed much blood, & hast made great battels: thou shalt not builde an house vnto my Name: for thou hast shed much blood vpon the earth in my sight.

* Chap.28.3.

d This declareth how greatly God detesteth the shedding of blood, seeing Dauid for this cause is staied to build the Temple of the Lord, albeit he enterprised no warre, but by Gods commandement, and against his enemies.

9 Behold, a sonne is borne to thee, which shall be a man of rest, for I will giue him rest from all his enemies round about: therefore his name is Salomon: and I will send peace and quietnesse vpon Israel in his dayes.

10 *He shall build an house for my Name, and he shall be my sonne, and I will be his father, and I wil establish the throne of his kingdome of Israel for euer.

* 2.Sam.7.13. 1.King.5.5.

11 Now therefore my sonne, the Lord shall be with thee, and thou shalt [e] prosper, and thou shalt build an house to Lord thy God, as he hath spoken of thee.

e He sheweth that there can be no prosperitie, but when the Lord is with vs.

12 Onely the Lord giue thee [f] wisdome and vnderstanding, and giue thee charge ouer Israel, euen to keepe the Law of the Lord thy God.

f These are only the meanes whereby Kings gouerne their subiects aright, and whereby the Realmes doe prosper and flourish.

13 Then thou shalt prosper, if thou take heede to obserue the statutes and the iudgements which the Lord commanded Moses for Israel: be strong and of good courage: feare not, neither be afraid.

14 For behold, according to my spouertie haue I prepared for the house of the Lord an hundreth thousand talents of gold, and a thousand thousand talents of siluer, and of brasse and of yron passing weight: for there was abundance: I haue also prepared timber and stone, and thou mayest prouide more thereto.

g For Dauid was poore in respect of Salomon.

15 More-

15 Moreouer thou haſt workemen with thee enow, ‖ hewers of ſtone, and workemen for timber, and all men expert in euery worke.

‖ Or, maſons and carpenters.

16 Of gold, of ſiluer, and of braſſe, and of yron there is no number: [h] Up therefore, and be doing, and the Lord will be with thee.

h That is, goe about it quickly.

17 Dauid alſo commanded all the princes of Iſrael to helpe Salomon his ſonne, ſaying, 18 Is not the Lord your God with you, and hath giuen you reſt on euery ſide? for hee hath giuen the [i] inhabitants of the land into mine hand, and the land is ſubdued before the Lord, and before his people.

i The Nations round about.

19 Now ſet [k] your hearts and your ſoules to ſeeke the Lord your God, and ariſe, and build the Sanctuary of the Lord God to bring the Arke of the Couenant of the Lord, and the holy veſſels of God into the houſe built for the Name of the Lord.

k For els he knew that God would plague them, and not proſper their labours except they ſought with all their hearts to ſet forth his glory.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Dauid being old, ordeineth Salomon King. 3 He canſeth the Leuites to be numbred, 4 And aſſigneth them to their offices. 13 Aaron and his ſonnes are for the hie Priest. 14 The ſonnes of Moſes.

SO when Dauid was old and full of dayes, *he made Salomon his ſonne King ouer Iſrael.

*1. King. 1. 30.

2 And he gathered together al the princes of Iſrael with the Priests and the Leuites.

3 And the Leuites were numbred from the age of thirtie yeere and aboue, and their number according to their ſumme was eight and thirtie thouſand men.

4 Of theſe foure and twentie thouſand were ſet to ‖ aduance the worke of the houſe of the Lord, and ſixe thouſand were ouerſeers and Iudges.

‖ Or, to haue care ouer.

5 And foure thouſand were porters, and foure thouſand praiſed the Lord with inſtruments which † he made to praiſe the Lord.

† Ebr. I made, meaning Dauid.

6 *So Dauid diuided offices vnto them, to wit, to the ſonnes of Leui, to *Gerſhon, Kohath and Merari.

* Chap. 6. 1.
* Exod. 6. 17.

7 Of the Gerſhonites were ‖ Laadan and Shimei.

‖ Or, Libni, Chap. 6. 17.

8 The ſonnes of Laadan, the chiefe was Iehiel, and Zetham and Ioel, three.

9 The ſonnes of Shimei, Shelomith, and Haziel, and Haram, three: theſe were the chiefe fathers of Laadan.

10 Alſo the ſonnes of Shimei were Iahath, Zina, Ieuſh, and Beriah: theſe foure were the ſonnes of Shimei.

‖ Or, Zina.

11 And Iahath was the chiefe, and ‖ Zizah the ſecond, but Ieuſh and Beriah had not many ſonnes: therefore they were in the families of their father, counted but as one.

12 The ſonnes of Kohath were Amram, Izhar, Hebron and Uzziel, foure.

* Exod. 2. 2. and 6. 20. hebr. 5. 4, 5.

13 *The ſonnes of Amram, Aaron and Moſes: and Aaron was ſeparated to [a] ſanctifie the moſt holy place, he and his ſonnes for euer to burne incenſe before the Lord, to miniſter to him, and to bleſſe in his Name for euer.

a That is, to ſerue in the moſt holy place, and to conſecrate the holy things.

14 Moſes alſo the man of God, and his children were named with the [b] tribe of Leui.

b They were but of the order of the Leuites, and not of the Prieſts, as Aarons ſonnes.

15 The ſonnes of Moſes were Gerſhom, and Eliezer, 16 Of the ſonnes of *Gerſhom was Shebuel the chiefe.

* Exod. 2. 22. and 18. 3.

17 And the ſonne of Eliezer was Rehabiah the [c] chiefe, for Eliezer had none other ſonnes: but the ſonnes of Rehabiah were very many.

c The Scripture vſeth to call chiefe or the firſt borne, although he be alone, and there be none borne after, Matth. 1. 25.

18 The ſonne of Izhar was Shelomith the chiefe.

19 The ſonnes of Hebron were Ieriah the firſt, Amariah the ſecond, Iehaziel the third, and Iekamiam the fourth.

20 The ſonnes of Uzziel were Michah the firſt, and Iſſhiah the ſecond.

21 The ſonnes of Merari were Mahli and Mushi. The ſonnes of Mahli, Eleazar and Kish.

22 And Eleazar died, and had no ſonnes, but daughters, and their [d] brethren the ſonnes of Kish tooke them.

d Meaning, their couſins.

23 The ſonnes of Mushi were Mahli, and Eder, and Ierimoth, three.

24 Theſe were the ſonnes of Leui according to the houſe of their fathers, euen the chiefe fathers according to their offices, according to the number of names, and their ſumme that did the worke for the ſeruice of the houſe of the Lord from the age of [e] twentie yeeres and aboue.

e Dauid did chuſe the Leuites twiſe, firſt at the age of thirtie, as verſ. 3. and againe afterward at 20. as the neceſſitie of the office did require: at the beginning they had no charge in the Temple, before they were fiue and twentie yeere old, and had none after fiftie, Num. 4. 3.

25 For Dauid ſaid, The Lord God of Iſrael hath giuen reſt vnto his people, that they may dwell in Ieruſalem for euer.

26 And alſo the Leuites ſhall no more beare the Tabernacle and all the veſſels for the ſeruice thereof.

27 Therefore according to the laſt words of Dauid, the Leuites were numbred from twentie yeere and aboue,

28 And their office was vnder the hand of the ſonnes of Aaron, for the ſeruice of the houſe of the Lord in the Courts, and chambers, and in the [f] purifying of all holy things, and in the worke of the ſeruice of the houſe of God, f In waſhing and cleanſing all the holy veſſels.

29 Both for the Shewbread, and for the fine floure, for the meate offering, and for the vnleauened cakes, and for the fryed things, and for that which was roſted, and for all meaſures and ſize.

30 And for to ſtand euery morning, to giue thankes and to praiſe the Lord, and likewiſe at euen,

31 And to offer all burnt offrings vnto the Lord, in the Sabbaths, in the moneths, and in the appointed times, according to the number and according to their custome continually before the Lord, 32 And that they should keepe the charge of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and the charge of the holy place, and the charge of the sonnes of Aaron their brethren in the seruice of the house of the Lord.

CHAP. XXIIII.

Dauid assigneth Offices vnto the sonnes of Aaron.

THese are also the *diuisions of the sonnes of Aaron: The sonnes of Aaron were Nadab, and Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

2 But Nadab and Abihu died [a] before their father, and had no children: therfore Eleazar and Ithamar executed the Priests office.

3 And Dauid distributed them, euen Zadok of the ‖ sonnes of Eleazar, and Ahimelech of the sonnes of Ithamar according to their offices in their ministration.

4 And there were found moe of the sonnes of Eleazar by the † number of men, then of the sonnes of Ithamar, and they diuided them, to wit, among the sonnes of Eleazar, sixteene heads, according to the houshold of their fathers, and among the sonnes of Ithamar, according to the houshold of their fathers, eight.

5 Thus they distributed them by lot the one from the other, and so the rulers of the Sanctuarie and the rulers of the house of God were of the sonnes of Eleazar and of the sonnes of Ithamar.

6 And Shemaiah the sonne of Nethaneel the scribe of the Leuites, wrote them before the King & the Princes, and Zadok the Priest, and Ahimelech the sonne of Abiathar, and before the chiefe fathers of the Priestes and of the Leuites, one family being reserued for Eleazar, and another reserued for Ithamar.

19 These were their orders according to their Offices, when they entred into the house of the Lord according to their custome vnder [d] the hand of Aaron their father, as the Lord God of Israel had commanded him.

20 ¶ And of the sonnes of Leui that remained of the sonnes of Amram, was Shubael, of the sonnes of Shubael, Iedeiah.

21 Of Rehabiah, euen of the sonnes of Rehabiah, the first Isshiiah, 22 Of Izhari, Shelomoth, of the sonnes of Shelomoth, Iahath, 23 And his sonnes Ieriah the first, Amariah the second, Iahaziel the third, and Iekameam the fourth,

24 The sonne of Uzziel was Michah, the sonne of Michah was Shamir, 28 Of Mahli came Eleazar, which had no sonnes.

29 Of Kish, the sonne of Kish was Ierahmeel,

30 And the sonnes of [e] Mushi were Mahli, & Eder, & Ierimoth: these were sonnes of the Leuites after the houshold of their fathers.

31 And these also cast [f] lots with their brethren the sonnes of Aaron before King Dauid, and Zadok and Ahimelech and the chiefe fathers of the Priests, & of the Leuites, euen the chiefe of the families against their ponger brethren.

2 The offering of Dauid and of the princes for the building of the Temple. 10 Dauid giueth thankes to the Lord. 20 He exhorteth the people to doe the same. 22 Salomon is created King. 28 Dauid dieth, and Salomon his sonne reigneth in his stead.

MOreouer Dauid the King said vnto all the Congregation, God hath chosen Salomon mine onely sonne yong and tender, and the worke is great: for this house is not for man, but for the [a] Lord God.

a And therefore it ought to bee excellent in all points.

2 Now I haue prepared with all my power for the house of my God, golde for vessels of golde, and siluer for them of siluer, and brasse for things of brasse, yron for things of yron, and wood for things of wood, and Onix stones, and stones to bee set, and carbuncle stones and of diuers colours, and all precious stones, and marble stones in abundance.

3 Moreouer because I haue [b] delite in the house of my God, I haue of mine owne golde and siluer, which I haue giuen to the house of my God, beside all that I haue prepared for the house of the Sanctuary, b His great zeale toward the furtherance of the temple made him to spare no expences, but to bestow his owne peculiar treasure.

4 Euen [c] three thousand talents of golde of the golde of Ophir, and seuen thousand talents of fined siluer to ouerlay the walles of the houses.

c He sheweth what he had of his owne store for the Lords house.

5 The gold for the things of gold, and the siluer for things of siluer, and for all the worke by the hands of artificers: and who is [d] willing ‖ to fill his hand to day vnto the Lord?

d He was not onely liberall himselfe, but prouoked others to set forth the worke of God.

‖ Or, to offer.

6 So the princes of the families, and the princes of the tribes of Israel, and the Captaines of thousands and of hundreths, with the rulers of the Kings worke, offred willingly.

7 And they gaue for the seruice of the house of God fiue thousand talents of golde, and ten thousand peeces, and ten thousand talents of siluer, & eighteene thousand talents of brasse, and one hundreth thousand talents of yron.

8 And they with whom precious stones were [e] found, gaue them to the treasure of the house of the Lorde, by the hand of Iehiel the Gershunnite.

e Meaning, them that had any.

9 All the people reioyced when they offered willingly: for they offred willingly vnto the Lorde, with a [f] perfite heart. And Dauid the king also * reioyced with great ioy.

f That is, with a good courage and without hypocrisie.

* Psal. 122. 1.

10 Therefore Dauid blessed the Lord before all the Congregation, and Dauid saide, Blessed be thou, O Lord God of [g] Israel our father, for euer and euer.

g Which didest reueale thy selfe to our father Iaakob.

11 Thine, O Lord, is greatnesse and power, and glory, and victory and praise: for all that is in heauen and in earth is thine: thine is the kingdome, O Lord, & thou excellest as head ouer all.

12 Both riches and honour come of thee, and thou reignest ouer all, and in thine hand is power and strength, and in thine hand it is to make great and to giue strength vnto all.

13 Now therefore our God, wee thanke thee, and praise thy glorious Name.

h We gaue thee nothing of our owne, but that which we haue receiued of thee: for whether the gifts be corporall or spirituall, we receiue them all of God, & therefore must giue him the glory.

14 But who am I, and what is my people, that we should be able to offer willingly after this sort? for all things [h] come of thee: and of thine owne hand we haue giuen thee.

15 For we are [i] strangers before thee, and soiourners, like all our fathers: our daies are like the shadow vpon the earth, and there is none † abiding.

i And therefore haue this land but lent to vs for a time.

† Eb. waiting for them to returne.

16 O Lord our God, all this abundance that wee haue prepared to builde thee an 17 I know alſo, my God, that thou * trieſt the heart, and haſt pleaſure in righteouſneſſe: I haue offered willingly in the vprightneſſe of mine heart all theſe things: now alſo haue I ſeene thy people which are found here, to offer vnto thee willingly with ioy.

* 1.Sam.16.7. chap.28.9.

18 O Lord God of Abraham, Izhak, and Iſrael our fathers, keepe this for euer in the k purpoſe, and the thoughts of the heart of thy people, and prepare their hearts vnto thee.

k Continue them in this good mind, that they may ſerue thee willingly.

19 And giue vnto Salomon my ſonne a perfit heart to keepe thy commandements, thy teſtimonies, and thy ſtatutes, and to doe all things, and to build the houſe which I haue prepared.

20 ¶ And Dauid ſaid to all the Congregation, Now bleſſe the Lord your God. And all the Congregation bleſſed the Lord God of their fathers, and bowed downe their heads, and worſhipped the Lord and the l King.

l That is, did reuerence the king.

21 And they offred ſacrifices vnto the Lord, and on the morrow after that day, they offred burnt offrings vnto the Lord, euen a thouſand yong bullockes, a thouſand rammes, and a thouſand ſheepe, with their m drinke offrings, and ſacrifices in abundance for all Iſrael.

m Meaning, all kinde of licour which they mingled with their ſacrifices, as wine, oyle, &c.

22 And they did eate and drinke before the Lord the ſame day with great ioy, and they made Salomon the ſonne of Dauid King the ſecond time, and annointed him Prince before the Lord, and Zadok for the hie Prieſt.

23 So Salomon ſate on the n throne of the Lord, as king in ſtead of Dauid his father, and proſpered: and all Iſrael obeyed him.

n This declared that the kings of Iudah were figures of Chriſt, who was the true annointed, and to whom God gaue the chiefe gouernment of all things.

24 And all the princes and men of power, and all the ſonnes of king Dauid † ſubmitted themſelues vnder king Salomon.

† Ebr gaue the hand.

25 And the Lord magnified Salomon in dignitie in the ſight of all Iſrael, and gaue him ſo glorious a kingdome, as no king had before him in Iſrael.

* 1.King.2.11.

27 And the ſpace that he reigned ouer Iſrael, was fourtie yeere: ſeuen yeeres reigned he in Hebron, and three and thirtie yeere reigned he in Ieruſalem:

28 And he died in a good age, full of dayes, riches and honour, and Salomon his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

29 Concerning the actes of Dauid the king firſt and laſt, beholde, they are written in the booke of Samuel the Seer, and in the booke of ° Nathan the Prophet, and in the booke of Gad the Seer, o The bookes of Nathan and Gad are thought to haue bene loſt in the captiuitie.

30 With all his reigne and his power, and p times that went ouer him, and ouer Iſrael and ouer all the kingdomes of the earth.

p Meaning, the troubles and griefes.

The ſecond Booke of the Chronicles.

THE ARGVMENT.

THis ſecond Booke conteineth briefly in effect that, which is comprehended in the two bookes of the Kings, that is, from the reigne of Salomon to the deſtruction of Ieruſalem, and the carying away of the people captiue into Babylon. In this ſtory are certaine things declared & ſet forth more copiouſly then in the bookes of the Kings, and therefore ſerue greatly to the vnderſtanding of the Prophets. But three things are here chiefly to be conſidered. Firſt that the godly Kings, when they ſaw the plagues of God prepared againſt their countrey for ſinne, had recourſe to the Lord, and by earneſt prayer were heard, and the plagues remoued. The ſecond, how it is a thing that greatly offendeth God, that ſuch as feare him and profeſſe his religion, ſhould ioyne in amitie with the wicked. And thirdly, how the good Rulers euer loued the Prophets of God, and were very zealous to ſet forth his religion throughout all their dominions, and contrariwiſe the wicked hated his miniſters, depoſed them, and for the true religion and worde of God, ſet vp idolatrie and ſerued God according to the fantaſie of men. Thus haue we hitherto the chiefe actes from the beginning of the world to the building againe of Ieruſalem, which was the two and thirtieth yeere of Darius, and conteine in the whole, three thouſand, fiue hundreth, threeſcore and eighteene yeeres and ſixe moneths.

CHAP. I.

1 The offering of Salomon at Gibeon. 8 He prayeth vnto God to giue him wiſdome: 11 Which he giueth him, and more. 14 The number of his charets and horſes, 15 and of his riches.

THen Salomon the ſonne of Dauid was ‖ confirmed in his kingdome: and the Lord his God was with him, and magnified him highly.

a That is, he proclaimed a ſolemne ſacrifice, and commanded that all ſhould be at the ſame.

6 And Salomon offered there before the Lorde vpon the brasen altar that was in the Tabernacle of the Congregation: * euen a thousand burnt offerings offered he vpon it.

* 1.Kings 3.4.

7 ¶ The same night did God appeare vnto Salomon, and said vnto him, Aske what I shall giue thee.

8 And Salomon said vnto God, Thou hast shewed great mercie vnto Dauid my father, and hast made me to reigne in his stead.

9 Now therefore, O Lord God, let thy promise vnto Dauid my father bee [e] true: for thou hast made me king ouer a great people, like to the dust of the earth.

e Perfourme thy promise made to my father concerning me.

10 Giue me now wisedom and knowledge, that I may [f] go out and goe in before this people: for who can iudge this thy great people?

f That I may gouerne this people, reade 1. Chron. 27. 1. and 1. king. 3. 7.

11 And God said to Salomon, Because this was in thine heart, & thou hast not asked riches, treasure nor honour, nor the [g] liues of thine enemies, neither yet hast asked long life, but hast asked for thee wisedome and knowledge, that thou mightest iudge my people, ouer whom I haue made thee king, g That is, to be reuenged on thine enemies.

12 Wisedome and knowledge is granted vnto thee, and I wil giue thee riches and treasures and honour, so that there hath not bin the like among the kings which were before thee, neither after thee shall there be the like.

13 Then Salomon came from the high place that was at Gibeon, to Jerusalem from before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and reigned ouer Israel.

* 1.King.10.26.

14 * And Salomon gathered the charets and horsemen: and he had a thousand and foure hundreth charets, and twelue thousand horsemen, whom he placed in the [h] charet cities, and with the king at Jerusalem.

h Which were cities appointed to keepe & maintaine the charets.

15 And the king gaue siluer and golde at Jerusalem as [i] stones, and gaue Cedar trees as the wilde figge trees, that are abundantly in the plaine.

i He caused so great plentie that it was no more esteemed then stones.

2 And Salomon told out seuentie thousand that bare burdens, & fourescore thousand men to hew stones in the mountaine, and three thousand and [a] fiue hundreth to ouersee them.

a Which is to be vnderstood of all sort of officers and ouerseers: for else the chiefe officers were but 3300. as 1. king. 5. 16.

3 And Salomon sent to ‖ Huram the king of Tyrus, saying, As thou hast done to Dauid my father, and * didst send him Cedar trees to build him an house to dwell in, so doe to me.

‖ Or, Hiram.

* 2. Sam 5.11.

4 Behold, I build an house vnto the name of the Lord my God, to sanctifie it vnto him, and to burne sweete incense before him, and for the continuall shewbread, and for the burnt offerings of the morning and euening, on the Sabbath dayes, and in the new moneths, and in the solemne feasts of the Lorde our God: this is a perpetuall thing for Israel.

5 And the house which I build, is great: for great is our God aboue all gods.

6 Who is he then that can be able to build him an house, when the heauen, and the heauen of heauens cannot conteine him? who am I then that I should build him an house? but I doe it to burne [b] incense before him.

b That is, to do the seruice which he hath commanded, signifying, that none is able to honour and serue God in that perfection as his maiestie deserueth.

7 Send me now therefore a cunning man that can worke in gold, in siluer, and in brasse, and in yron, and in purple, and ‖ crimosin and blue silke, and that can graue in grauen worke with the cunning men that are with mee in Judah and in Jerusalem, whome Dauid my father hath prepared.

10 And behold, I will giue to thy seruants the cutters and the hewers of timber twentie thousand † measures of beaten wheate, and twentie thousand measures of barley, & twentie thousand baths of wine, and twenty [d] thousand baths of oyle.

d Of Bath read 1. kin. 7 26. it is called also Epha: but Epha is to measure drie things, as Bath is a measure for licours.

11 Then Huram king of Tyrus answered in writing which he sent to Salomon, Because the Lord hath loued his people, hee hath made thee king ouer them.

e The very heathen confessed that it was a singular gift of God, when he gaue to any nation a king that was wise and of vnderstanding, albeit it appeareth that this Huram had the true knowledge of God.

12 Huram said moreouer, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, which made the heauen and the earth, and that hath giuen vnto Dauid the king a [e] wise sonne, that hath discretion, prudence and vnderstanding to build an house for the Lord, and a palace for his kingdome.

13 Now therefore I haue sent a wise man, and of vnderstanding of my father Hurams, 15 Now therefore the wheate and the barley, the oyle and the wine, which my lord hath spoken of, let him send vnto his seruants.

16 And we will cut wood in Lebanon, as much as thou shalt neede, and will bring it to thee in ‖ rafts by the sea to ‖ Japho, so thou mayest carie them to Ierusalem.

17 ¶ And Salomon numbred all the strangers that were in the land of Israel, after the numbring that his father Dauid had numbred them: and they were found an hundreth and three and fiftie thousand, and fiue hundreth.

18 And he set seuentie thousand of them to the burden, and foure score thousand to hewe stones in the mountaine, & three thousand and fiue hundreth ouerseers to cause the people to worke.

CHAP. III.

1 The Temple of the Lord, & the porch are builded with ther things thereto belonging.

SO * Salomon began to build the house of the Lord in Ierusalem, in mount [a] Moriah which had bene declared vnto Dauid his father, in the place that Dauid prepared in the threshing floore of * Ornan the Iebusite.

* 1.King.6.1.

a Which is the mountaine where Abrahã thought to haue sacrificed his sonne, Gen. 22.2.

* 2.Sam.24. 16,18.

2 And he began to build in the second moneth and the second day, in the fourth yeere of his reigne.

3 And these are the measures, whereon Salomon grounded to builde the house of God: the length of cubits after the first [b] measure was three score cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites:

b According to the whole length of the Temple, comprehending the most holy place with the rest.

4 And the porch, that was before ỹ length in the front [c] of the breadth was twenty cubits, and the height was an [d] hundreth and twenty, and he ouerlaid it within with pure gold.

c It conteined as much as din the breadth of the Temple, 1.king.6.3.

5 And the greater house he sieled with firre tree which he ouerlaid with good golde, and grauen thereon palme trees and chaines.

d From ỹ foundation to the top: for in the booke of Kings mention is made from the foundation to the first stage.

6 And he ouerlaid the house with precious stone for beautie: and the golde was golde of [e] Paruaim.

e Some thinke it is that place which is called Peru.

7 The house, I say, the beames, postes, and walles therof and the doores thereof ouerlaid he with gold, and grauen Cherubims vpon the walles.

8 ¶ Hee made also the house of the most holy place: the length thereof was in the front of the breadth of the house, twentie cubits, and the breadth thereof twentie cubites: and he ouerlaid it with the best golde, of fiue hundreth talents.

9 And the weight of the nailes was fiftie shekels of golde, and he ouerlaid the Chambers with golde.

10 ¶ And in the house of the most holy place he made two Cherubims wrought like children, and ouerlaid them with gold.

11 * And the wings of the Cherubims were twentie cubites long: the one wing was fiue cubites, reaching to the wall of the house, and the other wing fiue cubites, reaching to the wing of the other Cherub.

* 1.King.6 24.

12 Likewise the wing of the other Cherub was fiue cubites, reaching to the wall of the house, and the other wing fiue cubites ioyning to the wing of the other Cherub.

13 The wings of the Cherubims were spread abroad twentie cubites: they stood on their feete, and their faces were toward the house.

14 ¶ He made also [f] the vaile of blew silke and purple, and crimosin, and fine linnen, and wrought Cherubims thereon.

f Which seperated the Temple from the most holy place.

15 ¶ And he made before the house two pillars [g] of fiue and thirtie cubites hie: and the chapiter that was vpon the toppe of each of them was fiue cubites.

g Euery one was 18.cubites long, but the halfe cubite could not be seene: for it was hid in the roundnesse of the chapiter, & therefore he giueth to euery one but 17 and an halfe.

16 He made also chaines for the oracle, and put them on the heads of the pillars, and made an [h] hundreth pomegranates, and put them among the chaines.

h For euery pillar an hundreth. 2.kin.7.20.

17 And hee set vp the pillars before the Temple, one on the right hand, and the other on the left, and called that on the right hand Iachin, and that on the left hand Boaz.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The Altar of brasse. 2 The molten sea. 6 The caldrons. 7 The candlesticks, &c.

AND hee made an altar of brasse twentie cubites long, and twentie cubites broad, and ten cubites hie.

2 And he made a molten [a] Sea of ten cubites from brimme to brimme, round in compasse, and fiue cubites hie: and a line of thirtie cubites did compasse it about.

a A great vessell of brasse, so called because of the great quantitie of water, which it conteined, 1. king.7.23.

3 And vnder [b] it was the fashion of oxen, which did compasse it round about, [c] tenne in a cubite compassing the sea about: two rowes of oxen were cast when it was molten.

b Meaning, vnder the brimme of the vessell, as 2.king.7.24.

c In the length of euery cubite were ten heads or knops which in all are 300.

4 It stood vpon twelue oxen: three looked toward the North, and three looked toward the West, and three looked toward the South, and three looked toward the East, and the Sea stoode aboue vpon them, and all their hinder parts were inward.

5 And the thicknesse thereof was an hand breadth, & the brim thereof was like the worke of the brimme of a cup, with floures of ‖ lilies: it conteined [d] three thousand baths.

d In the first booke of Kings, Chap.7.26. mention is onely made of 2. thousand: but the lesse number was taken there, and here according as the measures proued afterward is declared.

6 ¶ He made also ten caldrons, & put fiue on the right hand, and fiue on the left, to wash in them, and to cleanse in them that which

appertemed to the burnt offerings: but the lea was for the Priests to wash in.

7 ¶ And he made ten candlesticks of gold (according to their [e] forme) and put them in the Temple, fiue on the right hand, and fiue on the left.

8 ¶ And he made ten tables, and put them in the Temple, fiue on the right hand, and fiue on the left: and hee made an hundreth basens of gold.

9 And he made the court of the priests, and the great [f] court and doores for the court, and ouerlaid the doores thereof with brasse.

10 And he set the sea on the right side Eastward toward the South.

11 And Huram made ‖ pots and besoms and basens, & Huram finished the worke that hee should make for king Salomon for the house of God,

12 To wit, two pillars, & the bowles, and the chapiters on the top of the two pillars, and two grates to couer the two bowles of ỹ cha-piters which were vpon the top of the pillars:

13 And foure hundreth pomegranates for the two grates, two rowes of pomegranates for euery grate to couer the two bowles of the chapiters, that were vpon the pillars.

14 He made also bases, and made caldrons
vpon the bases:

15 And a sea, and twelue bulles vnder it.

16 Pots also and besoms, and fleshhooks, and all these vessels made Huram [g] his father, to king Salomon for the house of the Lord, of shining brasse.

17 In the plaine of Iorden did the King cast them in clay betweene Succoth and Zere-dathah.

18 And Salomon made all these vessels in great abundance: for the weight of brasse could not be reckoned.

19 And Salomon made all the vessels that were for the house of God: the golden altar also & the tables whereon the [h] shewbread stood.

20 Moreouer the candlesticks with their lampes to burne them after the maner, before the oracle of pure gold.

21 And the floures and the lampes, and the snuffers of gold, which was fine gold.

22 And the ‖ hookes, and the basens, and the spoones, and the ashpans of pure golde:
the entrie also of the house and doores thereof within, euen of the most holy place: and the doores of the house, to wit, of the Temple were [i] of gold.

CHAP. V.

1 The things dedicated by Dauid are put in the Temple. 2 The Arke is brought into the Temple. 10 What was within it. 12 They sing praise to the Lord.

SO * was all the worke finished that Salomon made for the house of the Lord, and Salomon brought in the things that Dauid his father had dedicated, with the siluer and the golde, and all the vessels, and put them among the treasures of the house of God.

2 Then Salomon assembled the Elders of Israel, and all the heads of the tribes, the chiefe fathers of the children of Israel vnto Ierusalem to bring vp the Arke of the couc-nant of the Lord from the [a] citie of Dauid, which is Zion.

3 And all the men of Israel assembled vnto the king at the [b] feast: it was in the seuenth [c] moneth.

4 And all the Elders of Israel came, and the Leuites tooke vp the Arke.

5 And they caried vp the Arke and the Tabernacle of the Congregation: and all the holy vessels that were in the tabernacle, those did the Priests and Leuites bring vp.

6 And king Salomon and all the Congregation of Israel that were assembled vnto him, were before the Arke, offering sheepe and bullockes, which could not bee told nor numbred for multitude.

7 So the Priests brought the Arke of the couenant of the Lord vnto his place, into the Oracle of the house, into the most Holy place, euen vnder the wings of the Cherubims.

8 For the Cherubims stretched out their wings ouer the place of the Arke, and the Cherubims couered the Arke and the barres thereof aboue.

9 And they drew out the barres, that the endes of the barres might be seene out of the Arke before the Oracle, but they were not seene ‖ without: and there they are vnto this day.

10 Nothing was in the Arke, saue [d] the two Tables which Moses gaue at Horeb, where the Lord made a couenant with ỹ children of Israel, when they came out of Egypt.

11 And when the Priests were come out of the Sanctuarie (for all the Priestes that were present, were * sanctified, and did not wait by course.

12 And the Leuites the singers of al sorts, as of Asaph, of Heman, of Iedithun, & of their sonnes and of their brethren, being clad in fine linnen, stood with cymbals, and with violes, and harpes at the East ende of the altar, and with them an hundreth and twentie Priestes blowing with trumpets:

13 And they were [f] as one, blowing trumpets, and singing, and made one sound to bee heard in praising and thanking the Lord, and when they lift vp their voyce wt trumpets and with cymbals, & with instruments of musicke, & when they praised the Lord, singing, [g] For he is good, because his mercy lasteth for euer) then the house, euen the house of the Lorde was

e Euen as they should be made.

f Called also the porch of Salomon, Acts 3.11. It is also taken for the Temple where Christ preached, Mat. 21.23. ‖ Or, caldrons.

g Whom Salomon reuerenced for the gifts that God had giuen him, as a father: he had the same name also that Huram the king of Tyrus had, his mother was a Iewesse, and his father a Tyrian. Some reade, for his father, the author of this worke.

h In Ebrew, the bread of the faces, because they were set before the Arke, where the Lord shewed his presence.

‖ Or, instruments of musicke.

i That is, couered with plates of golde.

* 1.Kings 7.51. and 8.1.

a Reade 2. Sam. 6.12.

b When the things were dedicated, and brought into the Temple.

c Called in Ebrew Ethanim, conteining part of September & part of October, 1.Kings 8.2. which moneth the Iewes called the first moneth, because they say, that the world was created in that moneth, and after they came from Egypt, they began at March: but because this opinion is vncertaine, we make March euer the first, as best writers do.

‖ Or, without the Oracle.

d For Aarons rod and Manna were taken thence before it was brought to this place.

* That is, prepared to serue the Lord.

f They agreed all in one tune.

g This was the effect of their songs, as Psal. 118.1. and 136.1.

Lord was filled with a cloude,

14 So that the Priests could not stand to minister, because of the cloud: for the glory of the Lord had filled the house of God.

CHAP. VI.

3 Salomon blesseth the people. 4 Hee praiseth the Lord. 14 Hee prayeth vnto God for those that shall pray in the Temple.

a 1. King. 8 12. a After that he had seene the glory of the Lord in the cloude.

THen * Salomon [a] sayd, The Lord hath sayd that hee would dwell in the darke cloud.

2 And I haue built thee an house to dwel in, an habitation for thee to dwell in for euer.

3 And the king turned his face, and blessed all the Congregation of Israel (for all the Congregation of Israel stood there)

4 And he said, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, who spake with his mouth vnto Dauid my father, and hath with his ‖hand fulfilled it, saying,

‖Or, power.

5 Since the day that I brought my people out of the land of Egypt, I chose no city of all the tribes of Israel to build an ‖house, that my Name might be there, neither chose I any man to be ruler ouer my people Israel:

‖Or, Temple.

6 But I haue chosen Ierusalem, that my Name might bee there, and haue chosen Dauid to be ouer my people Israel.

* 2. Sam. 7. 3.

7 *And it was in the heart of Dauid my father to build an house vnto the Name of the Lord God of Israel.

8 But the Lord said to Dauid my father, Whereas it was in thine heart to build an house vnto my Name, thou didest well, that † thou wast so minded.

† Ebr. that it was in thine heart.

9 Notwithstanding thou shalt not build the house, but thy sonne which shall come out of thy loynes, hee shall build an house vnto my Name.

10 And the Lord hath performed his word that he spake: and I am risen vp in the roume of Dauid my father, and am set on the throne of Israel as the Lord promised, and haue built an house to the Name of the Lord God of Israel.

b Meaning, the two Tables, wherein is contained the effect of the couenant, that God made with our fathers.

11 And I haue set the Arke there, wherein is the [b] couenant of the Lord, that hee made with the children of Israel.

c On a scaffold that was made for that purpose, that he praying for the whole people, might be heard of all, as 1. King. 8. 22.

12 ¶ And the king [c] stood before the altar of the Lord, in the presence of all the Congregation of Israel, and stretched out his hands, d Both to giue thankes for the great benefits of God bestowed vpon him, and also to pray for the perseuerance and prosperitie of his people.

13 (For Salomon had made a brasen scaffold, and set it in the middes of the court, of fiue cubites long, and fiue cubites broad, and three cubites of height, and vpon it hee stood, and kneeled downe vpon his knees before all the Congregation of Israel, and [d] stretched out his hands toward heauen)

14 And said, O Lord God of Israel, *there is no God like thee in heauen nor in earth, which keepest couenant, and mercie vnto thy seruants, that walke before thee with all their heart.

* 2. Mac. 2. 8.

15 Thou that hast kept with thy seruant Dauid my father, that thou hast promised him: for thou spakest with thy mouth, & hast fulfilled it ‖with thine hand, as appeareth this day.

‖Or, in effect, or by thy power.

16 Therefore nowe Lord God of Israel, keepe with thy seruant Dauid my father, that thou hast promised him, saying, Thou † shalt not want a man in my sight, that shall sit vpon the throne of Israel: so that thy sonnes take heed to their wayes, to walke in my Law, as thou hast walked before me.

† Ebr. a man shall not be cut off.

17 And now, O Lord God of Israel, let thy word be verified, which thou spakest vnto thy seruant Dauid.

18 (Is it true in deed that God will dwell with man on earth: behold, the *heauens, and the heauens of heauens are not able to containe thee: how much more vnable is this house which I haue built?)

* 1. King. 8. 27.

19 But haue thou respect to the prayer of thy seruant, and to his supplication, O Lord my God, to heare the cry and prayer which thy seruant prayeth before thee, e That thou mayest declare in effect, that thou hast a continuall care ouer this place.

20 That thine [e] eyes may be open toward this house day and night, euen toward the place, whereof thou hast said, that thou wouldest put thy Name there, that thou mayest hearken vnto the prayer, which thy seruaunt prayeth in this place.

21 Heare thou therefore the supplication of thy seruant, and of thy people Israel, which they pray in this place: and heare thou in the place of thine habitation, euen in heauen, and when thou hearest, be mercifull.

* 1. Kin. 8. 31.

22 ¶ *When a man shall sinne against his [f] neighbour, and hee lay vpon him an othe to cause him to sweare, and the † swearer shall come before thine altar in this house, f By receiuing any thing from him, or els by denying that which he hath left him to keepe, or doe him any wrong.

† Ebr. othe.

23 Then heare thou in heauen, and doe, and iudge thy seruants, in recompensing the wicked to bring his way vpon his head, and in iustifying the righteous, to giue him according to his righteousnesse.

g Meaning, to giue him that which he hath deserued.

24 ¶ And when thy people Israel shall be ouerthrowen before the enemie, because they haue sinned against thee, and turne againe, and ‖confesse thy Name, and pray, and make supplication before thee in this house,

‖Or, praise.

25 Then heare thou in heauen, and be mercifull vnto the sinne of thy people Israel, and bring them againe vnto the land which thou gauest to them and to their fathers.

26 When heauen shalbe shut vp, and there shall bee no raine, because they haue sinned against thee, and shall pray in this place, and confesse thy Name, and ‖turne from their sinne, when thou doest afflict them,

‖Or, toward this place.

27 Then heare thou in heauen, and pardon the sinne of thy seruants, and of thy people Israel (when thou hast taught them the good way wherein they may walke) and giue raine vpon thy land, which thou hast giuen vnto thy people for an inheritance.

*Chap. 20 9. 28 ¶ *When there shall be famine in the land, when there shalbe pestilence, blasting, or mildew, when there shalbe grashopper, or caterpiller, when their enemie shall besiege them †in the cities of their land, or any plague, or any sickenesse, †Ebr. in the land of their gates.

29 Then what prayer and supplication soeuer shalbe made of any man, or of all thy people Israel, when euery one shall know his owne plague, and his owne disease, and shall stretch foorth his hands toward this house,

30 Heare thou then in heauen, thy dwelling place, and be mercifull, and giue euery man according vnto all his wayes, as thou doest know his [h] heart (for thou onely knowest the hearts of the children of men)

h He declareth that the prayers of hypocrites can not be heard, nor of any but of them, which pray vnto God with an vnfained faith and in true repentance.

31 That they may feare thee, and walke in thy wayes as long as they liue in the land which thou gauest vnto our fathers.

32 ¶ Moreouer as touching the stranger which is not of thy people Israel, who shall come out of a farre countrey for thy great Names sake, and thy mightie hand, and thy stretched out arme: when they shall come and [i] pray in this house, i He sheweth that before God there is no acception of person, but all people that feareth him and worketh righteousnesse, is accepted, Act. 10.35.

33 Heare thou in heauen thy dwelling place, and doe according to all that the stranger calleth for vnto thee, that all the people of the earth may know thy Name, and feare thee like thy people Israel, and that they may know, that thy Name is called vpon in this house which I haue built.

34 ¶ When thy people shall goe out to battell against their enemies, by the way that [k] thou shalt send them, and they pray to thee, ‖ in the way toward this citie, which thou hast chosen, euen toward the house which I haue built to thy Name, k Meaning, that none ought to enterprise any warre, but at the Lords commandement, that is which is lawfull by his word.

‖ Or, according to the maner of this citie.

35 Then heare thou in heauen their prayer and their supplication, & iudge their cause.

36 If they sinne against thee (*for there is no man that sinneth not) and thou be angry with them and deliuer them vnto the enemies, and they take them and cary them away captiue vnto a land farre or neere,

*1. King. 8. 46. eccles. 7, 22. 1. iohn 1. 8.

‖ Or, repent.

37 If they ‖ turne againe to their heart in the land whether they be caried in captiues, and turne and pray vnto thee in the land of their captiuitie, saying, Wee haue sinned, we haue transgressed and haue done wickedly,

38 If they turne againe to thee with all their heart, and with all their soule in the land of their captiuitie, whither they haue caried them captiues, & pray toward their land, which thou gauest vnto their fathers, and toward the citie which thou hast chosen, and toward the house which I haue built for thy Name, 39 Then heare thou in heauen, in the place of thine habitation their prayer and their supplication, and ‖ iudge their cause, and be mercifull vnto thy people, which haue sinned against thee.

‖ Or, maintains their right.

40 Now my God, I beseech thee let thine eyes bee open, and thine eares attent vnto the prayer that is made in this place.

41 *Now therefore arise, O Lord God, to come into thy [l] rest, thou, and the Arke of thy strength: O Lord God, let thy Priests be clothed with [m] saluation, and let thy Saints reioyce in goodnesse.

*Psal. 132. 8.

l That is, into thy Temple.

m Let them be preserued by thy power and made vertuous and holy.

42 O Lord God, refuse not the face of [n] thine anoynted: remember the mercies promised to Dauid thy seruant.

n Heare my prayer which am thine anoynted King.

CHAP. VII.

1 The fire consumeth the sacrifice. 2 The glory of the Lord filleth the Temple. 12 He heareth his prayer, 17 and promiseth to exalt him and his throne.

AND *when Salomon had made an ende of praying, [a] fire came downe from heauen, & consumed the burnt offring & the sacrifices: and the glory of the Lord filled the house,

*2. Mach. 2. 10.

a Hereby God declared that he was pleased with Salomons prayer.

2 So that the Priests could not enter into the house of the Lorde, because the glory of the Lord had filled the Lords house.

3 And when all the children of Israel saw the fire, and the glory of the Lord come downe vpon the house, they bowed themselues with their faces to the earth vpon the pauement, & worshipped and prayed the Lord, saying, For he is good, because his mercie lasteth for euer.

4 *Then the King and all the people offred sacrifices before the Lord.

*1. King. 8. 62, 63.

5 And King Salomon offred a sacrifice of two and twentie thousand bullockes, and an hundreth and twentie thousand sheepe, so the King and all the people dedicated the house of God.

6 And the Priests waited on their offices, and the Leuites with the instruments of musicke of the Lord, which king Dauid had made to praise the Lord, Because his mercy lasteth for euer: when Dauid praised God †by them, the Priestes also blew trumpets ouer against them: and all they of Israel stood by.

7 Moreouer Salomon halowed the middle of the court that was before the house of the Lord: for there he had prepared burnt offrings, and the fat of the peace offerings, because the brasen Altar which Salomon had made, was not able to receiue the burnt offring, and the meat offring, and the fat.

8 And Salomon made [b] a feast at that time of seuen dayes, and all Israel with him, a very great Congregation, from the entring in of b The feast of the Tabernacles which was kept in the seuenth moneth.

of Hamath, vnto the riuer of Egypt.

c They assembled to heare the word of God, after that they had remained seuen dayes in the doothes of Tabernacles.

9 And in the eight day they c made a solemne assemblie: for they had made the dedication of the altar seuen dayes, and the feast seuen dayes.

d They had leaue to depart the two & twentieth day, 1. Kin. 8.66. but they went not away till the next day.

10 And the d three and twentieth day of the seuenth moneth, hee sent the people away into their tents, ioyous and with glad heart, because of the goodnesse that the Lord had done for Dauid and for Salomon, and for Israel his people.

* 1. King. 9. 1.

11 * So Salomon finished the house of the Lord, and the Kings house, & all that came into Salomons heart to make in the house of the Lord: and he prospered in his house.

* Num. 12. 6.

12 ¶ And the Lord * appeared to Salomon by night, and said to him, I haue heard thy prayer, and haue chosen this place for my selfe to be an house of sacrifice.

13 If I shut the heauen that there bee no raine, or if I commaund the grashopper to deuoure the land, or if I send pestilence among my people,

14 If my people, among whom my Name is called vpon, doe humble themselues, and pray, and seeke my presence, and turne from their wicked wayes, then will I heare in heauen, and bee mercifull to their sinne, and will e I will cause the pestilence to cease, and destroy the beasts that hurt the fruits of the earth, and send raine in due season.

e heale their land:

15 Then mine eyes shalbe open, and mine eares attent vnto the praier made in this place.

16 For I haue now chosen and sanctified this house, that my Name may bee there for euer: and mine eyes and mine heart shalbe there perpetually.

17 And if thou wilt walke before mee, as Dauid thy father walked, to do according vnto all that I haue commaunded thee, and shalt obserue my statutes and my iudgements, 18 Then will I stablish the throne of thy kingdome, according as I made the couenant with Dauid thy father, saying, * Thou shalt not want a man to be ruler in Israel.

* Chap. 6. 16.

19 But if ye turne away, and forsake my statutes and my commaundements which I haue set before you, and shall goe and serue other gods, and worship them,

20 Then will I plucke them out of my land which I haue giuen them, and this house which I haue f sanctified for my Name, wil I cast out of my sight, & will make it to be a prouerbe and a common talke among all people.

f Which thing declareth that God had more respect to their saluation, then to the aduancement of his owne glory: and whereas men abuse those things, which God hath appointed to set forth his praise, hee worthy withdraweth his graces thence.

21 And this house which is most high, shall bee an astonishment to euery one that passeth by it, so that he shall say, Why hath the Lord done thus to this land, and to this house?

22 And they shall answere, Because they forsooke the Lord God of their fathers, which brought them out of the land of Egypt, and haue taken hold on other gods, and haue worshipped them, and serued them, therefore hath he brought all this euill vpon them.

CHAP. VIII.

2 The cities that Salomon built. 7 People that were made tributarie vnto him. 12 His sacrifices. 17 He sendeth to Ophir.

AND * after a twentie yeere, when Salomon had built the house of the Lord, and his owne house,

* 1. King. 9. 10.

a Signifying, that hee was twenty yeere in building them.

2 Then Salomon built the cities that Huram b gaue to Salomon, and caused the children of Israel to dwell there.

b That is, which Hiram gaue againe to Salomon, because they pleased him not: and therefore called them Cabul, that is, dirt or filth, 1. King. 9. 13.

3 And Salomon went to Hamath Zobah, and ouercame it.

4 And he built Tadmor in the wildernes, and repayred all c the cities of store which hee built in Hamath.

c Meaning of munitions and treasures for the warre.

5 And hee built d Beth-horon the vpper, and Beth-horon the nether, cities defenced with walles, gates and barres:

d That is, he repaired and fortified them: for they were built long before by Sherah a noble woman of the tribe of Ephraim, 1. Chron. 6. 68. and 7. 24.

6 Also Baalath, and all the cities of store that Salomon had, and all the charet cities, and the cities of the horsemen, and euery pleasant place that Salomon had a minde to build in Ierusalem, and in e Lebanon, and throughout all the land of his dominion.

e Reade 1. Kin. 7. 2.

7 And all the people that were left of the Hittites, and the Amorites, & the Perizzites, and the Hiuuites, and the Iebusites, which were not of Israel,

8 But of their children which were left after them in the land, whom the children of Israel had not consumed, euen them did Salomon make † tributaries vntill this day.

† Ebr. to come vp to tribute.

9 But of the children of Israel did Salomon make no seruants for his worke: for they were men of war, & his chiefe princes, and the captaines of his charets and of his horsemen.

10 So these were the chiefe of the officers which Salomon had, euen f two hundreth and fiftie that bare rule ouer the people.

2 And Salomon declared her all her questions, and there was [b] nothing hid from Salomon, which he declared not vnto her.

b There was no question so hard that he did not resolue.

9 Then shee gaue the King sixe score talents of gold, and of sweete odours exceeding much and precious stones: neither was there such sweete odours since, as the Queene of Sheba gaue vnto King Salomon.

3 And they sent and called him: so came Ieroboam and all Israel, and communed with Rehoboam, saying,

4 Thy father [b] made our yoke grieuous: now therefore make thou the grieuous seruitude of thy father, and his sore yoke that hee put vpon vs lighter, and we will serue thee.

b That is, handled vs rudely. It seemeth that God hardened their hearts, so that they thus murmured without cause: which declareth also the inconstancie of the people.

5 And hee said to them, Depart yet three dayes, then come againe vnto mee. And the people departed,

6 And king Rehoboam tooke counsel with the old men that had stood before Salomon his father while he yet liued, saying, What counsell giue ye that I may answere this people?

7 And they spake vnto him, saying, If thou be kinde to this people, and please them, and speake louing words to them, they will be thy seruants for euer.

9 And he said vnto them, What counsell giue yee, that wee may answere this people, which haue spoken to me, saying, Make ý yoke which thy father did put vpon vs, lighter?

10 And the yong men that were brought vp with him, spake vnto him, saying, Thus shalt thou answere the people that spake to thee, saying, Thy father made our yoke heauie, but make thou it lighter for vs: thus shalt thou say vnto them, My [d] least part shalbe bigger then my fathers loynes.

d Or, little finger: meaning, that he was of farre greater power then was his father.

14 And spake to them after the counsell of the young men, saying, My father made your yoke grieuous, but I will increase it: my father chastised you with rods, but I wil correct you with scourges.

IN the eighteenth yeere of king Ieroboam began Abiiah to reigne ouer [a] Iudah.

2 Hee reigned three yeere in Ierusalem (his mothers name also was [b] Michaiah the daughter of [c] Uriel of Gibea) and there was warre betweene Abiiah and Ieroboam.

3 And Abiiah set the battell in arap with the armie of valiant men of warre, euen foure hundreth thousand chosen men. Ieroboam also set the battell in arap against him with eight hundreth thousand chosen men which were strong and valiant.

4 And Abiiah stood vp vpon mount [d] Zemeraim, which is in mount Ephraim, & said, O Ieroboam, and all Israel, heare you me.

5 Ought you not to know that the Lord God of Israel hath giuen the kingdome ouer Israel to [e] Dauid for euer, euen to him and to his sonnes by a couenant [f] of salt?

6 And Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat the seruant of Salomon the sonne of Dauid is risen vp, and hath *rebelled against his Lord:

7 And there are gathered to him [g] vaine men and †wicked, & made themselues strong against Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon: for Rehoboam was [h] but a childe and ‖*tender hearted, and could not resist them.

8 Now therefore ye thinke that ye be able to resist against the kingdome of the Lord, which is in the hands of the sonnes of Dauid, and yee be a great multitude, and the golden calues are with you which Ieroboam made you for gods.

9 *Haue ye not driuen away the Priests of the Lord the sonnes of Aaron and the Leuites, and haue made you priests like the people of other countreys? whosoeuer commeth to †consecrate with a young bullocke and seuen rammes, the same may be a priest of them that are no gods.

10 But we belong vnto the Lord our God, and haue not forsaken him, and the priests the sonnes of Aaron minister vnto the Lord, and the Leuites in their office.

11 And they burne vnto the Lord euery [k] morning and euery euening burnt offerings and sweet incense, and the bread is set in order vpon the pure Table, and the candlesticke of golde with the lampes thereof, to burne euery euening: for we keepe the watch of the Lord our God: but ye haue forsaken him.

12 And behold, this God [l] is with vs as a captaine, and his Priests with the sounding trumpets, to crie an alarme against you. O yee children of Israel, fight not against the Lord God of your fathers: for yee shall not prosper.

13 ¶ But Ieroboam caused an ambushment [m] to compasse, and come behinde them, when they were before Iudah, and the ambushment behinde them.

14 Then Iudah looked, and behold, the battell was before and behinde them, and they cried vnto the Lord, and the priests blew with the trumpets, 15 And the men of Iudah gaue a shoute: and euen as the men of Iudah shouted, God ‖smote Ieroboam and also Israel before Abiiah and Iudah.

16 And the children of Israel fled before Iudah, and God deliuered them into their hand.

17 And Abiiah and his people slew a great slaughter of them, so that there fell downe wounded of Israel fiue hundreth thousand chosen men.

18 So the children of Israel were brought vnder at that time: and the children of Iudah preuailed, [n] because they stayed vpon the Lord God of their fathers.

19 And Abiiah pursued after Ieroboam, and tooke cities from him, euen Beth-el, and the †villages thereof, and Ieshanah with her villages, and Ephron with her villages.

20 And Ieroboam recouered no strength againe in the dayes of Abiiah, but the Lord plagued him, and he died.

21 So Abiiah waxed mightie, and maried fourteene wiues, and begate two and twentie sonnes, and sixteene daughters.

12 ¶ So the Lord smote the Ethiopians before Asa and before Iudah, and the Ethiopians fled.

13 And Asa and the people that was with him, pursued them vnto Gerar. And the Ethiopians hoste was ouerthrowen, so that there was no life in them: for they were destroyed before the Lord and before his hoste: and they caried away a mightie great spoile.

14 And they smote all the cities round about Gerar: for the [g] feare of the Lord came vpon them, and they spoiled all the cities, for there was exceeding much spoile in them.

g The Lord had stricken them with feare.

15 Yea, and they smote the tents of cattell, and caried away plentie of sheepe and camels, and returned to Ierusalem.

1 The exhortation of Azariah. 8 Asa purgeth his countrey of idolatrie. 11 Hee sacrificeth with the people. 14 They sweare together to serue the Lord. 16 Hee deposeth his mother for her idolatrie.

THen the Spirit of God came vpon [a] Azariah the sonne of Obed.

a Who was called Oded, as his father was, verse 8.

2 And he went out to meete Asa, and said vnto him, O Asa, and all Iudah, and Beniamin, heare ye me. The Lord is with you, while ye be with him: and if ye seeke him, hee will be found of you, but if ye forsake him, he will forsake you.

3 Now for a long season Israel hath beene without the [b] true God, and without Priest to teach, and without Law.

b For the space of twelue yeeres vnder Rehoboam, and three yeeres vnder Abiiah, religion was neglected and idolatrie planted.

4 But whosoeuer returned in his affliction to the Lord God of Israel, and sought him, he [c] was found of them.

c He sheweth that notwithstanding the wickednesse of tyrants and their rage, yet God hath his, whom he heareth in their tribulation, as he deliuered his from Zerah king of the Ethiopians, Chap. 14. 9. 12. and out of all other dangers, when they called vpon the Lord.

5 And in that time there was no peace to him, that did goe out & goe in: but great troubles were to all the inhabitants of the earth.

6 For nation was destroyed of nation, and citie of citie: for God troubled them with all aduersitie.

7 Be yee strong therefore, and let not your handes be weake: for your [d] worke shall haue a reward.

d Your confidence and trust in God shal not be frustrate.

8 ¶ And when Asa heard these words, and the prophecie of Obed the Prophet, he was incouraged, & tooke away the abominations out of all the land of Iudah, & Beniamin, and out of the cities which hee had taken of mount Ephraim, and hee renued the altar of the Lord, that was before the porch of the Lord.

9 And he gathered all Iudah and Beniamin, & the strangers with them out of Ephraim, and Manasseh, and out of Simeon: for there fel many to him out of Israel, when they saw that the Lord his God was with him.

10 So they assembled to Ierusalem in the [e] third moneth, in the fifteenth yeere of the reigne of Asa.

e Called Sivan, containing part of May, and part of June.

11 And they offred vnto the Lord the same time of the [f] spoyle, which they had brought, euen seuen hundreth bullocks, and seuen thousand sheepe.

f Which they had taken of the Ethiopians.

12 And they made a couenant to seeke the Lord God of their fathers, with all their heart, and with all their soule.

13 And [g] whosoeuer will not seeke the Lord God of Israel, shall be slaine, whether he were small or great, man or woman.

g Their were the wordes of their couenant, which commanded all idolaters to be put to death according to the Law of God, Deut. 13. 5. 9. 15.

14 And they sware vnto the Lord with a loud voice, and with shouting, and with trumpets, and with cornets.

15 And all Iudah reioyced at the other for they had sworne vnto the Lord with all their heart, and sought him with a whole desire, and hee was [h] found of them. And the Lord gaue

17 But the hie places were not [k] taken away out of [l] Israel: yet the heart of Asa was [m] perfite all his dayes.

18 Also he brought into the house of God the things that his father had dedicate, & that he had dedicate, siluer, and golde, and vessels.

Asa for feare of Baasha king of Israel, maketh a couenant with Benhadad king of Aram. 7 Hee is reprooued by the Prophets, 10 Whom he putteth in prison. 12 He putteth his trust in the Physicians. 13 His death.

IN the sixe and thirtieth yeere of the reigne of Asa came [a] * Baasha king of Israel vp against Iudah, and built [b] Ramah to let none passe out or goe in to Asa king of Iudah.

2 Then Asa brought out siluer & gold out of the treasures of the house of the Lord, and of the kings house, and sent to Benhadad king of Aram that dwelt at ‖ Damascus, saying,

3 There is a couenant betweene me and thee, and betweene my father and thy father: behold, I haue sent thee siluer and gold: come, [c] breake thy league with Baasha king of Israel that he may depart from me.

4 And Benhadad hearkened vnto King Asa, and sent the captaines of the armies which he had, against the cities of Israel. And they smote Ijon, and Dan, and Abel-maim, and all the store cities of Naphtali.

5 And when Baasha heard it, he left building of Ramah, and let his worke cease.

6 Then Asa the king tooke all Iudah, and caried away the stones of Ramah, and the timber thereof, wherewith Baasha did build, and he built therewith Geba and Mizpah.

7 ¶ And at that same time Hanani the ‖ Seer came to Asa king of Iudah, and said vnto him, Because thou hast rested vpon the king of Aram, and not rested in the Lord thy God, therefore is the hoste of the king of Aram escaped out of thine hand.

8 * The Ethiopians and the Lubims, were they not a great hoste with charets and horsemen, exceeding many? yet because thou diddest rest vpon the Lord, hee deliuered them into thine hand.

9 * For the eyes of the Lord behold all the earth to shew himselfe strong with them that are of perfite heart toward him: thou hast then done foolishly in this: therefore from henceforth thou shalt haue warres.

10 Then Asa was wroth with the Seer, and put him into a † prison: for he was [d] displeased with him, because of this thing. And Asa oppressed certaine of the people at the same time.

11 And behold, the actes of Asa first and last, loe, they are written in the booke of the Kings of Iudah and Israel.

12 ¶ And Asa in the nine & thirtieth yere of his reigne was ‖ * diseased in his feet, and his disease was ‖ [e] extreme: yet he sought not the Lord in his disease, but to the [f] Physicians.

13 So Asa slept with his fathers, and died in the one and fourtieth yeere of his reigne.

14 And they buried him in one of his sepulchres, which hee had made for himselfe in the citie of Dauid, and laide him in the bedde, which they had filled with sweete odours and diuers kindes of spices, made by the arte of the Apothecarie: and they burnt odours for him with an exceeding great fire.

Iehoshaphat trusting in the Lord, prospereth in riches and honor. 6 He abolisheth idolatrie, 7 and causeth the people to be taught. 11 Hee receiueth tribute of strangers. 13 His munitions, and men of warre.

AND Iehoshaphat his sonne reigned in his stead, and preuailed against Israel.

2 And he put garisons in all the strong cities of Iudah, and set bands in the land of Iudah and in the cities of Ephraim, which Asa his father had taken.

3 And the Lord was with Iehoshaphat, because hee walked in the [a] first wayes of his father Dauid, and sought not [b] Baalim,

4 But sought the Lord God of his father, and walked in his commandements, and not after the † trade of Israel.

5 Therefore the Lord stablished the kingdome in his hand, and all Iudah brought presents to Iehoshaphat, so that he had of riches and honour in abundance.

6 And he [c] lift vp his heart vnto the wayes of the Lord, and hee tooke away moreouer the hie places and the groues out of Iudah.

7 ¶ And in the third yere of his reigne he sent his Princes, Ben-hail, and Obadiah, and Zechariah, and Nethaneel, and Michaiah, that they should [d] teach in the cities of Iudah.

8 And with them Leuites, Shemaiah, and Nethaniah, and Zebadiah, and Asahel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehonathan, and Adoniiah, and Tobiiah, and Tob-adoniiah, Leuites, and with them Elishama and Iehoram Priests.

10 And the feare of the Lord fell vpon all the kingdomes of the lands that were round about Iudah, and they [c] fought not against Iehoshaphat.

11 And some of the Philistims brought Iehoshaphat gifts and tribute siluer, and the Arabians brought him flocks, seuen thousand and seuen hundreth rammes, and seuen thousand and seuen hundreth hee goats.

12 So Iehoshaphat prospered and grew vp on hie: and hee built in Iudah palaces and cities of store.

13 And he had great workes in the cities of Iudah, and men of warre, and valiant men in Ierusalem.

14 And these are the numbers of them after the house of their fathers, in Iudah were captaines of thousands, Adnah the captaine, and † with him of valiant men three hundreth thousand.

17 And of Beniamin, Eliada a valiant man, and with him armed men with bow and shield two hundreth thousand.

Iehoshaphat maketh affinitie with Ahab. 10 Foure hundreth Prophets counsell Ahab to goe to warre. 16 Michaiah is against them. 23 Zidkiah smiteth him. 25 The king putteth him in prison. 29 The effect of his prophecie.

AND * Iehoshaphat had riches and honour in abundance, but hee was ioyned in [a] affinitie with Ahab.

2 And after certaine [b] yeeres hee went downe to Ahab to Samaria: and Ahab slewe sheepe and oxen for him in great number, and for the people that he had with him, and entised him to goe vp vnto [c] Ramoth Gilead.

3 And Ahab king of Israel said vnto Iehoshaphat king of Iudah, Wilt thou goe with me to Ramoth Gilead? And he answered him, I am as thou art, and my people as thy people, and we will ioyne with thee in the warre.

4 And Iehoshaphat said vnto the king of Israel, Aske counsell, I pray thee, at the [d] word of the Lord this day.

5 Therefore the king of Israel gathered of [e] prophets foure hundreth men, and said vnto them, Shall we goe to Ramoth Gilead to battell, or shall I cease? And they said, Goe vp: for God shal deliuer it into the kings hand.

6 But Iehoshaphat said, Is there here neuer a Prophet more of the Lord that we might inquire of him?

7 And the king of Israel said vnto Iehoshaphat, There is yet one man, by whom we may aske counsell of the Lord, but I [f] hate him: for he doeth not prophecie good vnto me, but alway euill: it is Michaiah the sonne of Imla. Then Iehoshaphat said, Let not the King say so.

8 And the King of Israel called an eunuch, and said, Call quickly Michaiah the sonne of Imla.

9 ¶ And the king of Israel, and Iehoshaphat king of Iudah sate either of them on his throne clothed in their [h] apparel: they sate euen in the threshing floore at the entring in of the gate of Samaria: and all the Prophets prophecied before them.

10 And Zidkiah the sonne of Chenaanah made him [i] hornes of yron, and said, Thus saith the Lord, With these shalt thou push the Aramites vntill thou hast consumed them.

11 And all the Prophets prophecied so, saying, Goe vp to Ramoth Gilead, and prosper: for the Lord shall deliuer it into the hand of the king.

12 ¶ And the messenger that went to call Michaiah, spake to him, saying, Behold, the wordes of the Prophets declare good to the king with one [k] accord: let thy word therfore, I pray thee, be like one of theirs, and speake thou good.

13 And Michaiah said, As the Lord liueth, whatsoeuer my God sayth, that will I speake.

14 ¶ So hee came to the King, and the king said vnto him, Michaiah, shall we goe to Ramoth Gilead to battell, or shall I leaue off? And he said, [l] Goe ye vp, and prosper, and they shalbe deliuered into your hand.

15 And the king said to him, How oft shall I charge thee, that thou tell me nothing but the trueth in the Name of the Lord?

16 Then he sayd, I saw all Israel scattered in the mountaines, as sheepe that haue no sheepheard: and the Lord said, [m] These haue no master: let them returne euery man to his house in peace.

17 And the king of Israel said to Iehoshaphat, Did I not tell thee, that hee would not prophecie good vnto me, but euill?

18 Againe he said, Therefore heare ye the word of the Lord: I saw the Lord sit vpon his throne, and all the [n] hoste of heauen standing at his right hand, and at his left.

21 And hee said, I will goe out, and be a false spirit in the mouth of all his Prophets. And [o] he said, Thou shalt perswade, and shalt also preuaile: goe forth, and doe so.

22 Now therefore behold, the Lord hath put a [p] false spirit in the mouth of these thy Prophets, and the Lord hath determined euill against thee.

23 Then Zidkiah the sonne of Chenaanah came neere, and smote Michaiah vpon the [q] cheeke, and said, By what way went the spirit of the Lord from me, to speake with thee?

24 And Michaiah said, Behold, thou shalt see that day when thou shalt goe from chamber to chamber to hide thee.

31 And when the captaines of the charets saw Iehoshaphat, they said, It is the king of Israel: and they compassed about him to fight. But Iehoshaphat [t] cryed, and the Lord helped him and mooued them to depart from him.

32 For when the captaines of the charets saw that hee was not the king of Israel, they turned backe from him.

2 Then there came that told Iehoshaphat, saying, There commeth a great multitude against thee from beyond the [b] Sea, out of Aram: and behold, they be in Hazzon Tamar, which is En-gedi.

3 And Iehoshaphat feared, and set himselfe [c] to seeke the Lord, and proclaimed a fast throughout all Iudah.

4 And Iudah gathered themselues together to aske counsell of the Lord: they came euen out of all the cities of Iudah to inquire of the Lord.

5 And Iehoshaphat stood in the Congregation of Iudah and Ierusalem in the house of the Lord before the new court,

6 And said, O Lord God of our fathers, art not thou God in heauen? and reignest not thou on all the kingdomes of the heathen? and in thine hand is power and might, and none is able to withstand thee.

7 Diddest not thou our God cast out the inhabitants of this land before thy people Israel, and [d] gauest it to the seede of Abraham thy friend for euer?

8 And they dwelt therein, and haue built thee a sanctuary therein for thy name, saying,

9 * If euill come vpon vs, as the [e] sword of iudgement, or pestilence, or famine, wee will stand before this house and in thy presence (for thy Name [f] is in this house) and will cry vnto thee in our tribulation, and thou wilt heare and helpe.

10 And now behold, the children of * Ammon and Moab, and mount Seir, by whome thou wouldest not let Israel goe, when they came out of the land of Egypt: but they turned aside from them, and destroyed them not:

11 Behold, I say, they reward vs, in comming to cast vs out of thine inheritance, which thou hast caused vs to inherite.

12 O our God, wilt thou not iudge them? for there is no strength in vs to stand before this great multitude that commeth against vs, neither doe wee know what to doe: but our eyes [g] are toward thee.

13 And all Iudah stood [h] before the Lord with their young ones, their wiues, and their children.

15 And he said, Hearken ye, all Iudah, and ye inhabitants of Ierusalem, and thou, King Iehoshaphat: thus sayth the Lord vnto you, Feare you not, neither be afraid for this great multitude: for the [k] battell is not yours, but Gods.

19 And the Leuites of the children of the Kohathites, and of the children of the Korhites stood vp to praise the Lord God of Israel with a loude voice on hie.

20 And when they arose early in the morning, they went forth to the wildernes of Tekoa: and as they departed, Iehoshaphat stood and said, Heare ye me, O Iudah, and ye inhabitants of Ierusalem: put your trust in the Lord your God, and yee shall be assured: beleeue his [m] Prophets, and ye shall prosper.

22 And when they began to shoute, and to praise, the Lord layd ambushments against the children of Ammon, Moab, and [o] mount Seir, which were come against Iudah, and they slew one another.

23 For the children of Ammon and Moab rose against the inhabitants of mount Seir, to slay and to destroy them: and when they had made an ende of the inhabitants of Seir, euery one helped to [p] destroy another.

24 And when Iudah came toward Mizpah in the wildernesse, they looked vnto the multitude, and behold, the carkeises were fallen to the earth, and none escaped.

25 And when Iehoshaphat and his people came to take away [p] spoile of them, they found among them in abundance both of substance and also of bodies laden with precious iewels, which they tooke for themselues, till they could carie no more: they were three dayes in gathering of the spoile: for it was much.

1 Iehoshaphat dieth. 3 Iehoram succeedeth him, 4 which killeth his brethren. 6 He was brought to idolatrie, 11 and seduceth the people. 16 He is oppressed of the Philistims. 18 His miserable end.

IEhoshaphat then slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the citie of Dauid: and Iehoram his sonne reigned in his stead.

2 And he had brethren the sonnes of Iehoshaphat, Azariah, and Iehiel, and Zachariah, and Azariah, and Michael, and Shephatiah. All these were the sonnes of Iehoshaphat King of [a] Israel.

3 And their father gaue them great gifts of siluer and of gold, and of precious things, with strong cities in Iudah, but the kingdom gaue he to Iehoram: for he was the eldest.

4 *And Iehoram rose vp vpon the kingdome of his father, and made himselfe strong, and [b] slew all his brethren with the sword, and also of the princes of [c] Israel.

5 Iehoram was two and thirtie yere old, when he began to reigne, and he reigned eight yeere in Ierusalem.

6 And he walked in the way of the kings of Israel, as the house of Ahab had done: for he had the daughter of Ahab to [d] wife, and he wrought euill in the eyes of the Lord.

7 Howbeit the Lord would not destroy the house of Dauid, because of the *couenant that he had made with Dauid, and because hee had promised to giue a light to him and to his sonnes for euer.

8 ¶ In his dayes Edom rebelled from vnder the hand of Iudah, and made a King ouer them.

9 And Iehoram went forth with his princes, and all his charets with him: and he rose vp by night, and smote Edom, which had compassed him in, and the captaines of the charets.

10 But Edom rebelled from vnder the hand of Iudah vnto this day. then did [e] Libnah rebel at the same time from vnder his hand, because he had forsaken the Lord God of his fathers.

11 ¶ Moreouer hee made high places in the mountaines of Iudah, and caused the inhabitants of Ierusalem to commit [f] fornication, and compelled Iudah thereto.

12 And there came a writing to him from [g] Eliiah the Prophet, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of Dauid thy father, Because thou hast not walked in ỹ waies of Iehoshaphat thy father, nor in the wayes of Asa king of Iudah,

13 But hast walked in the way of the kings of Israel, and hast made Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem to go a whoring, as the house of Ahab went a whoring, and hast also slaine thy brethren of thy fathers house, which were better then thou,

15 And thou shalt bee in great diseases in the disease of thy bowels, vntill [h] thy bowels fall out for the disease, day by day.

16 ¶ So the Lord stirred vp against Iehoram the spirit of the Philistims, and the Arabians that were beside the [i] Ethiopians.

e He sheweth that it must needs follow that the rulers are such as their counsellers be, and that there cannot be a good King, that suffereth wicked counsellers.

5 And he walked after their counsell, and went with Iehoram the sonne of Ahab king of Israel to fight against Hazael king of Aram at Ramoth Gilead: and the Aramites smote Ioram.

6 ¶ And he returned to be healed in Izreel, because of the wounds wherewith they had wounded him at Ramah, when he fought with Hazael king of Aram. Now Azariah the sonne of Iehoram king of Iudah went downe to see Iehoram the sonne of Ahab at Izreel, because he was diseased.

4 Ioash repaireth the house of the Lord. 17 After the death of Iehoiada, he falleth to idolatry. 21 He stoneth to death Zechariah the Prophet. 25 Ioash is killed of his owne seruants, 27 After him reigneth Amaziah.

b He meaneth not the tenne tribes, but onely the two tribes of Iudah and Beniamin.

10 And all the princes and all the people reioyced, and brought in, and cast into the chest, vntill they had finished.

11 And when it was time, [e] they brought the chest vnto the Kings officer by the hand of the Leuites: and when they saw that there was much siluer, then the Kings Scribe (and one appointed by the high Priest) came and emptied the chest, and tooke it, and caried it to his place againe: thus they did day by day and gathered siluer in abundance.

e Such as were faithfull men, whom the king had appointed for that matter.

12 And the King and [f] Iehoiada gaue it to such as did the labour and worke in the house of the Lord, and hired masons and carpenters to repaire the house of the Lord: they gaue it also to workers of yron and brasse, to repaire the house of the Lord.

15 ¶ But Iehoiada waxed olde, and was full of dayes and died. An hundred and thirty yeere old was he when he died.

16 And they buried him in the citie of Dauid with the [h] kings, because he had done good in Israel, and toward God and his house.

17 ¶ And after the death of Iehoiada, came the [i] princes of Iudah, & did reuerence to the king, and the king hearkened vnto them.

18 And they left the house of the Lord God of their fathers, and serued groues and idoles: and wrath came vpon Iudah and Ierusalem, because of this their trespasse.

19 And God sent Prophets among them, to bring them againe vnto the Lord: and they [k] made protestation among them, but they would not heare.

20 And the Spirit of God came vpon Zechariah the sonne of Iehoiada the priest, which stood [l] aboue the people, and said vnto them, Thus saith God, Why transgresse ye the commandements of the Lord? surely ye shall not prosper: because ye haue forsaken the Lord, he also hath forsaken you.

21 Then they conspired against him, and stoned him with stones at the [m] commaundement of the King, in the court of the house of the Lord.

22 Thus Ioash the King remembred not the kindenesse which Iehoiada his father had done to him, but slew his sonne. And when he died, he said, The Lord [n] looke vpon it, and require it.

23 ¶ And when the yeere was out, the host of Aram came vp against him, and they came against Iudah and Ierusalem, and destroyed all the princes of the people from among the people, and sent all the spoile of them vnto the king of Damascus.

24 Though the army of Aram came with a small companie of men, yet the Lord deliuered a very great armie into their hand, because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers: and they [o] gaue sentence against Ioash.

25 And when they were departed from him, (for they left him in great diseases) his owne seruants conspired against him for the blood of the [p] children of Iehoiada the Priest, and slew him on his bed, and he died, and they buried him in the citie of Dauid: but they buried him not in the sepulchres of the Kings.

26 And these are they that conspired against him, Zabad the sonne of Shimrath an Ammonitesse, and Iehozabad the sonne of Shimrith a Moabitesse.

27 But [q] his sonnes, and the summe of the taxe gathered by him, and the [r] foundation of the house of God, behold, they are written in the storie of the booke of the Kings. And Amaziah his sonne reigned in his stead.

b That is, for that fault wherefore the childe is punished, except he be culpable of the same.

5 ¶ And Amaziah assembled Iudah, and made them captaines ouer thousands, and captaines ouer hundreds, according to the houses of their fathers, throughout all Iudah and Beniamin: & he numbred them from [c] twentie yeere olde and aboue, and found among them three hundred thousand chosen men, to goe foorth to the warre, and to handle speare and shield.

c So many as were able men to beare weapons, and go to warre.

6 He hired also an hundred thousand valiant men [d] out of Israel for an hundred talents of siluer.

d That is, out of the ten tribes, which had separated themselues before, both from God and their true King.

7 But a man of God came to him, saying, O King, let not the armie of Israel goe with thee: for the Lord is not [e] with Israel, neither with all the house of Ephraim.

e And therefore to thinke to haue helpe of them, whom the Lord fauoureth not, is to cast off the helpe of the Lord.

8 If [f] not, goe thou on, doe it, make thy selfe strong to the battell, but God shall make thee fall before the enemie: for God hath power to helpe, and to cast downe.

f If thou wilt not giue credit to my words.

9 And Amaziah said to the man of God, What shall wee doe then for the hundred talents, which I haue giuen to the hoste of Israel? Then the man of God answered, The Lord is able [g] to giue thee more then this.

g He sheweth that if we repent onely vpon God, we shall not needs to be troubled with these worldly respects: for he will giue at all times that which shall be necessary, if we obey his word.

10 So Amaziah separated them, to wit, the army that was come to him out of Ephraim, to returne to their place: wherefore their wrath was kindled greatly against Iudah, and they returned to their places with great anger.

11 Then Amaziah was encouraged, and led foorth his people, and went to the salt valley, and smote of the children of [h] Seir, ten thousand.

h For the Idumeans whom Dauid had brought to subiection, rebelled vnder Iehoram Iehoshaphats sonne.

12 And other ten thousand did the children of Iudah take aliue, and caried them to the top of a [i] rocke, and cast them downe from the

the top of the rocke, & they all burst in pieces.

13 But the men of the [k] armie, which Amaziah sent away, that they should not goe with his people to battell, fell vpon the cities of Judah from Samaria vnto Beth-horon, and smote three thousand of them, and tooke much spoile.

14 Nowe after that Amaziah was come frō the slaughter of the Edomites, he brought the gods of the children of Seir, and set them vp to be his gods, and [l] worshipped them, and burnt incense vnto them.

15 Wherefore the Lord was wroth with Amaziah, and sent vnto him a Prophet, which said vnto him, Why hast thou sought the gods of the people, which were not able to [m] deliuer their owne people out of thine hand?

16 And as he talked with him, [n] he said vnto him, Haue they made thee the Kings counseller? cease thou: why should they [o] smite thee? And the Prophet ceased, but said, I know that God hath determined to destroy thee, because thou hast done this, and hast not obeyed my counsell.

17 ¶ Then Amaziah king of Judah tooke counsel, and sent to Joash the sonne of Jehoahaz, the sonne of Jehu King of Israel, saying, Come, [p] let vs see one another in the face.

18 But Joash King of Israel sent to Amaziah King of Judah, saying, The thistle that is in Lebanon, sent to the cedar that is in Lebanon, saying, *Giue thy daughter to my sonne to wife: and the wilde beast that was in Lebanon, went and trode downe the thistle.

19 Thou thinkest: loe, thou hast smitten Edom, and thine heart lifteth thee vp to brag: abide now at home: why doest thou prouoke to thine hurt, that thou shouldest fall, and Judah with thee?

20 But Amaziah would not heare: for [q] it was of God, that he might deliuer them into his hand, because they had sought the gods of Edom.

21 So Joash the king of Israel went vp: and hee, and Amaziah king of Judah saw one another in the face at Bethshemesh, which is in Judah.

22 And Judah was put to the worse before Israel, and they fled euery man to his tents.

23 But Joash the King of Israel tooke Amaziah King of Judah, the sonne of Joash, the sonne of Jehoahaz in Bethshemesh, and brought him to Jerusalem, & brake downe the wall of Jerusalem, from the gate of Ephraim vnto the corner gate, foure hundred cubites.

24 And he tooke all the gold and the siluer, and all the vessels that were found in the house of God with [r] Obed Edom, and in the treasures of the Kings house, and the children that were in hostage, & returned to Samaria.

25 ¶ And Amaziah the sonne of Joash King of Judah liued after the death of Joash sonne of Jehoahaz King of Israel, fiftene yeere.

26 Concerning the rest of the actes of Amaziah first and last, are they not written in the booke of the Kings of Judah and Israel?

27 Now after the time that Amaziah did turne away from the Lord, * they wrought treason against him in Jerusalem: and when he was fled to Lachish, they sent to Lachish after him, and slew him there.

28 And they brought him vpon horses, and buried him with his fathers in the citie of of Judah.

5 And he sought God in the dayes of [c] Zechariah (which vnderstood the visions of God) and when as [d] he sought the Lord, God made him to prosper.

6 For he went forth and fought against the Philistims, and brake downe the wall of Gath, and the wall of Jabneh, and the wall of Ashdod, and built cities in Ashdod, and among the Philistims.

7 And God helped him against the Philistims, and against the Arabians that dwelt in Gur-baal, and Hammeunim.

8 And the Ammonites gaue [e] gifts to Vzziah, and his name spread to the entring in of Egypt: for he did most valiantly.

9 Moreouer Vzziah built towres in Jerusalem at the corner gate, and at the valley gate, and at the *[f] turning, and made them strong.

10 And he built towres in the wildernesse, and digged many ‖ cisternes: for he had much cattell both in the valleys and plaines, plowmen, and dressers of vines in the mountaines, and in [g] Carmel: for he loued husbandrie.

17 And Azariah the Priest went in after him, and with him fourescore Priests of the Lord, valiant men.

8 And the children of Israel tooke prisoners of their brethren, d two hundreth thousand of women, sonnes and daughters, and caried away much spoile of them, and brought the spoyle to Samaria.

9 ¶ But there was a Prophet of ꝑ Lords, (whose name was Oded) and he went out before the hoste that came to Samaria, and said vnto them, Behold, e because the Lord God of your fathers is wroth with Iudah, he hath deliuered them into your hand, and ye haue slaine them in a rage, that reacheth vp to heauen.

e For they thought they had ouercome them by their owne valiantnesse, and did not consider that God had deliuered them into their hands, because Iudah had offended him.

10 And now yee purpose to keepe vnder the children of Iudah and Ierusalem, as seruants and handmaids vnto you: but are not you such, that f sinnes are with you before the Lord your God?

f May not God aswell punish you for your sinnes, as he hath done these men for theirs, seeing yours are greater?

11 Now therefore heare me, and deliuer the captiues againe, which ye haue taken prisoners of your brethren: for the fierce wrath of the Lord is toward you.

12 Wherefore certaine of the chiefe of the children of g Ephraim, Azariah the sonne of Iehohanan, Berechiah the sonne of Meshillemoth, and Iehizkiah the sonne of Shallum, and Amasa the sonne of Hadlai, stood vp against them that came from the warre,

5 And said vnto them, Heare me, ye Leuites: sanctifie now your selues, & sanctifie the house of the Lord God of your fathers, and cary forth the [c] filthinesse out of the Sanctuary.

6 For our fathers haue trespassed and done euill in the eyes of the Lord our God, and haue forsaken him, and turned away their faces from the Tabernacle of the Lord, and turned their backes.

7 They haue also shut the doores of the porch, and quenched the lampes, and haue neither burnt incense, nor offered burnt offerings in the Sanctuarie vnto the God of Israel.

14 And of the sonnes of Heman, Iehiel, and Shimei: and of the sonnes of Ieduthun, Shemaiah and Vzziel.

15 And they gathered their brethren, and sanctified themselues and came according to the commandement of the King, and ‖ by the words of the Lord, for to cleanse the house of the Lord.

16 And the Priests went into the inner parts of the house of the Lord, to [f] cleanse it, and brought out all the vncleannesse that they found in the Temple of the Lord, into the court of the house of the Lord: and the Leuites tooke it, to cary it out vnto the brooke Kidron.

17 They began the first day of the first moneth to sanctifie it, and the eight day of the moneth came they to the porch of the Lord: so they sanctified the house of the Lord in eight dayes, and in the sixteenth day of the first moneth, they made an end.

18 ¶ Then they went in to Hezekiah the king, and said, We haue cleansed all the house of the Lord and the altar of burnt offring, with all the vessels thereof, and the ‖ shewbread table, with all the vessels thereof:

19 And all the vessels which king Ahaz had cast aside when he reigned, and transgressed, haue we prepared and sanctified: and behold, they are before the altar of the Lord.

20 ¶ And Hezekiah the king [h] rose early, and gathered the princes of the citie, and went vp to the house of the Lord.

21 And they brought seuen bullockes, and seuen rammes, and seuen lambs, and seuen hee goates, for a * sinne offring for the kingdome, and for the Sanctuary, and for Iudah. And he commanded the Priests the sonnes of Aaron, to offer them on the altar of the Lord.

22 So they slewe the bullockes, and the Priests receiued the blood, and [i] sprinkled it vpon the altar: they slew also the rammes and sprinkled the blood vpon the altar, and they slewe the lambes, and they sprinkled the blood vpon the altar.

23 Then they brought the hee goates for the sinne offring before the king and the Congregation, [k] and they laide their hands vpon them.

24 And the Priests slewe them, and with the blood of them they cleansed the altar to reconcile all Israel: for the king had commanded for all Israel the burnt offering and the sinne offering.

25 Hee appointed also the Leuites in the house of the Lord with cymbales, with violes, and with harpes, * according to the commandement of Dauid, and Gad the Kings Seer, and Nathan the Prophet: for the [l] commandement was by the hand of the Lord, and by the hand of his Prophets.

26 And the Leuites stood with the instruments of Dauid, and the Priests with the trumpets.

27 And Hezekiah commanded to offer the burnt offering vpon the altar: and when the burnt offering began, the song of the [m] Lord began with the trumpets, and the instruments [n] of Dauid king of Israel.

28 And all the Congregation worshipped, singing a song, and they blewe the trumpets: all this continued vntill the burnt offering was finished.

34 But the Priestes were too few, and were not able to slay all the burnt offerings: therefore their brethren the Leuites did helpe them, till they had ended the worke, and vntill other Priests were sanctified: for the Leuites were [q] more vpright in heart to sanctifie themselues, then the Priests.

35 And also the burnt offerings were many with the * fat of the peace offerings and the drinke offerings for the burnt offering, so the seruice of the house of the Lord was set in order.

CHAP. XXX.

1. 13 The keeping of the Passeouer by the kings commandement. 6 Hee exhorteth Israel to turne to the Lord. 18 He prayeth for the people. 24 His oblation and the princes. 27 The Leuites blesse the people.

AND Hezekiah sent to all Israel, and Iudah, and also wrote letters to [a] Ephraim and Manasseh, that they should come to the house of the Lord at Ierusalem, to keepe the Passeouer vnto the Lord God of Israel.

a Meaning, all Israel, whome Tilgath Pilneser had not taken away into the captiuitie, 2. King. 15. 29.

2 And the king and his princes and all the Congregation had taken counsell in Ierusalem to keepe the Passeouer in the [b] second moneth.

b Though they ought to haue done it in the first moneth, as Exod. 12. 18. Numb. 9. 3. yet if any were not cleane, or els had a long iourney, they might referre it vnto the second moneth, as Numb. 9. 10, 11.

3 For they could not keepe it at this time, because there were not Priests ynow sanctified, neither was the people gathered to Ierusalem.

4 And the thing pleased the king, and all the Congregation.

5 And they decreed to make Proclamation throughout all Israel from [c] Beersheba euen to Dan, that they should come to keepe the Passeouer vnto the Lord God of Israel at Ierusalem: for they had not done it of a great time, [d] as it was written.

c From one end of the land to the other, North and South.

d In such sort and perfection, as God had appointed.

6 So the postes went with letters by the commission of the king, and his princes, throughout all Israel and Iudah, and with the commandement of the king, saying, Ye children of Israel, turne again vnto the Lord God of Abraham, Izhak, and Israel, and [e] he will returne to the remnant that are escaped of you, out of the hands of the kings of Assur.

e He will haue compassion on them, and preserue them.

7 And bee not yee like your fathers, and like your brethren, which trespassed against the Lord God of their fathers: and therefore he made them desolate, as ye see.

8 Be not yee now stiffenecked like your fathers, but [f] giue the hand to the Lord, and come into his Sanctuarie, which he hath sanctified for euer, and serue the Lord your God, and the fiercenesse of his wrath shall turne away from you.

f Submit your selues to the Lord, and rebell no more.

9 For if ye returne vnto the Lord, your brethren and your children shall finde mercie before them that led them captiues, and they shall [g] returne vnto this land: for the Lord your God is gracious and mercifull, and will not turne away his face from you, if yee conuert vnto him.

g God will not onely preserue you, but through your repentance restore your brethren, which for their sinnes he gaue into the handes of the enemies.

10 So the postes went from citie to citie thorow the land of Ephraim and Manasseh, euen vnto Zebulun: but they [h] laughed them to scorne, and mocked them.

h Though the wicked mocke at the seruants of God, by whom he calleth them to repentance, as Gen. 19. 14, yet the word ceaseth not to fructifie in the hearts of Gods elect.

11 Neuertheless diuers of Asher and Manasseh, and of Zebulun submitted themselues, and came to Ierusalem.

12 And the hand of God was in Iudah, so that he gaue them one [i] heart to doe the commandement of the king, and of the rulers, according to the word of the Lord.

i He sheweth the cause why some obey, and some mocke at Gods calling, to wit, because his Spirit is with the one sort, and moueth their hearts, and the other are left to themselues.

13 And there assembled to Ierusalem much people, to keepe the feast of the vnleauened bread in the second moneth, a very great assembly.

14 And they arose, and tooke away the [k] altars that were in Ierusalem: and all those for incense tooke they away, and cast them into the brooke Kidron.

k Which declareth that we must put away those things wherewith God is offended, before we can serue him aright.

15 Afterward they slew the Passeouer the fourteenth day of the second moneth: and the Priests and Leuites were [l] ashamed, and sanctified themselues, and brought the burnt offerings into the house of the Lord.

l Seeing their owne negligence (who should haue beene most prompt) and the readinesse of the people. Chap. 29. 36.

16 And they stood in their place after their manner, according to the Law of Moses the man of God: and the Priests sprinkled the [m] blood, receiued of the hands of the Leuites.

m To wit, of the Lambe of the Passeouer.

17 Because there were many in the Congregation that were not sanctified, therefore the Leuites had the charge of the killing of the Passeouer for all that were not cleane, to sanctifie it to the Lord.

18 For a multitude of the people, euen a multitude of Ephraim, and Manasseh, Issachar & Zebulun had not cleansed themselues, yet did eate the Passeouer, but not as it was written: wherefore Hezekiah prayed for them, saying, The [n] good Lord be merciful toward him, n He knew, that faith and sincerite of heart was more agreeable to God, then the obseruation of these ceremonies, and therefore he prayed how God to pardon this fault vnto the people, which did not offend of malice but of ignorance.

19 That prepareth his whole heart to seeke the Lord God, the God of his fathers, though he be not cleansed, according to the purification of the Sanctuarie.

20 And the Lord heard Hezekiah, and [o] healed the people.

21 And the children of Israel that were present at Jerusalem, kept the feast of the vnleauened bread seuen dayes with great ioy, and the Leuites and the Priests praised the Lord, day by day, singing with loude instruments vnto the Lord.

22 And Hezekiah † spake comfortably vnto all the Leuites that had good knowledge to sing vnto the Lord: and they did eate in that feast seuen dayes, and offered peace offerings, and praised the Lord God of their fathers.

23 And the whole assembly tooke counsell to keepe it other seuen dayes. So they kept it seuen dayes with ioy.

24 For Hezekiah king of Iudah had giuen to the Congregation a [p] thousand bullockes, and seuen thousand sheepe. And the princes had giuen to the Congregation a thousand bullockes, and ten thousand sheepe: and many Priests were sanctified.

25 And all the Congregation of Iudah reioyced with the Priests and the Leuites, and all the Congregation that came out of Israel, and the strangers that came out of the land of Israel, and that dwelt in Iudah.

26 So there was great ioy in Jerusalem: for since the time of Salomon the sonne of Dauid king of Israel, there was not the like thing in Jerusalem.

27 Then the Priests and the Leuites arose, and [q] blessed the people, and their voice was heard, and their prayer came vp vnto heauen, to his holy habitation.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 The people destroy idolatrie. 2 Hezekiah appointeth Priests and Leuites, 4 and prouideth for their liuing. 13 Hee ordeineth ouerseers to distribute to euery one his portion.

AND when all these things were finished, all Israel that were found in the cities of Iudah, went out and [a] brake the images, and cut downe the groues, & brake downe the hie places, and the altars throughout all Iudah and Beniamin, in Ephraim also and Manasseh, vntill they had made an ende: afterward all the [b] children of Israel returned euery man to his possession, into their owne cities.

2 And Hezekiah appointed the courses of the Priests and Leuites by their turnes, euery man according to his office, both Priests and Leuites, for the burnt offering and peace offrings, to minister and to giue thankes, and to praise in the gates of the [c] tents of the Lord.

3 (And the kings portion was of his owne substance for the burnt offerings, euen for the burnt offrings of the morning, and of the euening, & the burnt offerings for the Sabbaths, and for the new Moones, and for the solemne feasts, * as it is written in ỹ Law of the Lord)

4 Hee commaunded also the people that dwelt in Jerusalem, to giue a [d] part to the Priests, and Leuites, that they might be [e] encouraged in the Law of the Lord.

5 ¶ And when the commandement was ‖ spread, the children of Israel brought abundance of first fruits, of corne, wine, and oile, and hony, and of all the increase of the field, and the tithes of all things brought they abundantly.

6 And the children of Israel & Iudah that dwelt in the cities of Iudah, they also brought the tithes of bullockes and sheepe, and the holy tythes [f] which were consecrate vnto the Lord their God, and laid them on [g] many heapes.

7 In the third moneth they began to lay the foundation of the heapes, and finished them in the seuenth moneth.

8 ¶ And when Hezekiah and the Princes came, and saw the heapes, they [h] blessed the Lord and his people Israel.

9 And Hezekiah questioned with the priests & the Leuites, concerning the heapes.

10 And Azariah the chiefe Priest of the house of Zadok answered him, and said, Since the people began to bring the offrings into the house of the Lord, wee haue [i] eaten and haue beene satisfied, and there is left in abundance: for the Lord hath blessed his people, and this abundance that is left.

11 ¶ And Hezekiah commanded to prepare chambers in the house of the Lord: and they prepared them,

14 And Kore the sonne of Imnah the Leuite, porter toward the East, was ouer the things that were willingly offered vnto God, to distribute the oblations of the Lord, and the holy things that were consecrate.

15 And at his hand were Eden, and Miniamin, and Iehua, and Shemaiah, Amariah, and Shechaniah, in the cities of the Priests, to distribute with fidelitie to their brethren by courses, both to the great and small,

CHAP. XXXII.

1 Sanherib inuadeth Iudah. 3 Hezekiah prepareth for the warre. 7 He exhorteth the people to put their trust in the Lord. 9 Sanherib blasphemeth God. 20 Hezekiah prayeth. 21 The Angel destroyeth the Assyrians, and the king is slaine. 25 Hezekiah is not thankfull toward the Lord. 33 His death.

AFter these things faithfully described, *Sanherib king of Asshur came and entred into Iudah, and besieged the strong cities, and thought to † win them for himselfe.

2 When Hezekiah saw that Sanherib was come, and that his † purpose was to fight against Ierusalem,

3 Then he tooke counsel with his princes and his nobles, to stop the water of the fountaines without the citie: & they did helpe him.

4 So many of the people assembled themselues, and stopt all the fountaines, and the riuer that ran through the middes of the countrey, saying, Why should the kings of Asshur come, and finde much water?

5 And † hee toooke courage, and built all the broken wall, and made vp the towers, and another wall without, and repaired [a] Millo in the [b] citie of Dauid, and made many [c] darts and shields.

6 And he set captaines of warre ouer the people, and assembled them to him in the broad place of the gate of the citie, and † spake comfortably vnto them, saying,

7 Bee strong and courageous: feare not, nieither be afraid for the king of Asshur, neither for all the multitude that is with him: * for there be moe with vs, then is with him.

8 With him is an [d] arme of flesh, but with vs is the [e] Lord our God for to helpe vs, & to fight our battels. Then the people were confirmed by the words of Hezekiah king of Iudah.

9 * After this did Sanherib king of Asshur send his seruants to Ierusalem (while he was [f] against Lachish, and all his dominion with him) vnto Hezekiah king of Iudah, and vnto al Iudah that were at Ierusalem, saying,

10 Thus sayth Sanherib the King of Asshut, Wherein doe ye trust, that ye will remaine in Ierusalem during the siege?

11 Doth not Hezekiah entise you to giue ouer your selues vnto death by famine and by thirst, saying, The Lord our God shall deliuer vs out of the hand of the king of Asshur?

12 Hath not the same Hezekiah taken away his hie places and his [g] altars, and commanded Iudah & Ierusalem, saying, Ye shall worship before one altar, & burne incense vpon it?

13 Know yee not what I and my fathers haue done vnto all the people of other countreys? were the gods of the nations of other landes able to deliuer their land out of mine hand?

14 Who is he of all the [h] gods of those nations (that my fathers haue destroyed) that could deliuer his people out of mine hand? that your God should be able to deliuer you out of mine hand?

15 Nowe therefore let not Hezekiah deceiue you, nor seduce you after this sort, neither beleeue yee him: for none of all the gods of any nation or kingdome was able to deliuer his people out of [i] mine hand, and out of the hand of my fathers: how much lesse shall your gods deliuer you out of mine hand?

16 And his seruants spake yet more against the Lord God, and against his [k] seruant Hezekiah.

17 He wrote also letters, blaspheming the Lord God of Israel, and speaking against him, saying, As the gods of the nations of other countreys could not deliuer their people out of mine hand, so shall not the God of Hezekiah deliuer his people out of mine hand.

18 Then they [l] cried with a loud voyce in the Iewes speach vnto the people of Ierusalem that were on the wall, to feare them and to astonish them, that they might take the citie.

19 Thus they spake against the God of Ierusalem, as against the gods of the people of the earth, euen the [m] works of mans hands.

20 But Hezekiah the King, and the Prophet Isaiah the sonne of Amoz [n] prayed against this, and cried to heauen.

21 And the Lord sent an Angel which destroyed all the valiant men, and the princes and [o] captaines of the hoste of the king of Asshur: so hee returned † with shame to his owne land. And when hee was come into the house of his god, they that came forth of his [p] owne bowels, slew him there with the sword.

22 So the Lord saued Hezekiah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem from the hand of Sanche-

23 And many brought offerings vnto the Lord to Jeruſalem, and preſents to Hezekiah king of Judah, ſo that he was q magnified in the ſight of all nations from thenceforth.

26 Notwithſtanding Hezekiah humbled himſelfe (after that his heart was lifted vp) hee and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, and the wrath of the Lord came not vpon them in the dayes of Hezekiah.

27 Hezekiah alſo had exceeding much riches and honour, and he gate him treaſures of ſiluer, and of golde, and of pꝛecious ſtones, and of ſweet odours, and of ſhields, and of all pleaſant veſſels:

30 This ſame Hezekiah alſo ſtopped the vpper water ſpꝛings of t Gihon, and led them ſtreight vnderneath toward the city of Dauid Weſtward. ſo Hezekiah pꝛoſpered in all his woꝛkes.

31 But becauſe of the ambaſſadours of the pꝛinces of Babel, which ſent vnto him to enquire of the wonder that was done in the land, God left him to u try him, and to know all that was in his heart.

32 Concerning the reſt of the actes of Hezekiah, and his goodnes, behold, they are written in the viſion of Iſaiah the Pꝛophet, the ſonne of Amoz, in the booke of the Kings of Judah and Iſrael.

33 So Hezekiah ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in the higheſt ſepulchꝛe of the ſonnes of Dauid: and all Judah and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem did him honour at his death: and Manaſſeh his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

MAnaſſeh was twelue yeere olde, * when he began to reigne, and he reigned fiue and fiftie yeere in Jeruſalem:

2 And he did euil in the ſight of the Lord, like the abominations of the heathen, * whom the Lord had caſt out before the children of Iſrael.

3 Foꝛ hee went backe and built the high places, * which Hezekiah his father had bꝛoken downe: * and he ſet vp altars foꝛ Baalim, and made groues, and woꝛſhipped all the hoſte of the heauen, and ſerued them.

4 Alſo hee built altars in the houſe of the Lord, whereof the Lord had ſaid, * In Jeruſalem ſhall my Name be foꝛ euer.

5 And hee built altars foꝛ all the hoſte of the heauen in the two Courts of the houſe of the Lord.

6 a And he cauſed his ſons to paſſe thꝛough the fire in the valley of Ben-hinnom: he gaue himſelfe to witchcraft and to charming, and to ſoꝛcerie, and hee vſed them that had familiar ſpirits, and ſoothſayers: he did very much euil in the ſight of the Lord to anger him.

7 He put alſo the carued image, which he had made, in the houſe of God: whereof God had ſaid to Dauid and to Salomon his ſonne, * In this houſe and in Jeruſalem, which I haue choſen before all the tribes of Iſrael, will I put my Name foꝛ euer,

8 Neither will * I make the foote of Iſrael to remoue any moꝛe out of the land which I haue appointed foꝛ your fathers, ſo that they take heede, and doe all that I haue commanded them, accoꝛding to the Law and ſtatutes and iudgements by the b hand of Moſes.

9 So Manaſſeh made Judah and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem to erre, and to doe woꝛſe then the heathen, whom the Lord had deſtroyed before the children of Iſrael.

10 ¶ And the Lord ſpake c to Manaſſeh and to his people, but they would not regard.

13 And prayed vnto him: and God was d entreated of him, and heard his prayer, and bꝛought him againe to Jeruſalem into his kingdom: then Manaſſeh knew that the Lord was God.

14 Now after this he built a wall without the citie of Dauid, on the Weſt ſide of e Gihon in the valley, euen at the entry of the fiſh-gate, and compaſſed about f Ophel, and raiſed it very hie, and put captaines of warre in all the ſtrong cities of Judah.

a He followed Dauid in all points that he followed the Lord.

2 And hee did vprightly in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the wayes of a Dauid his father, and bowed neither to the right hand nor to the left.

b When he was but sixteene yeere old, hee shewed himselfe zealous of Gods glory, and at twentie yeere old hee abolished idolatry, and restored the true religion.

3 And in the eight yeere of his reigne (when hee was yet a b child) he began to seeke after the God of Dauid his father: and in the twelft yeere he began to purge Iudah, and Ierusalem from the high places, and the groues, and the carued images, and molten images:

c Which sheweth that he would see the reformation with his owne eyes.

4 And they brake downe c in his sight the altars of Baalim, and hee caused to cut downe the images that were on high vpon them: hee brake also the groues, and the carued images, and the molten images, and stampt them to powder, and strowed it vpon the graues of them that had sacrificed vnto them.

d Leuit. 2. Kin. 23.16. 5 Also he burnt the d bones of the priests vpon their altars, and purged Iudah and Ierusalem.

6 And in the cities of Manasseh, and Ephraim, & Simeon, euen vnto Naphtali, with their maules they brake all round about.

e This great zeale of this godly king the holy Ghost setteth forth as an example and paterne to other kings and rulers, to teach them what God requireth of them.

* 2.King.22.3. 7 And when he had e destroyed the altars and the groues, and had broken and stamped to powder the images, and had cut downe all the idoles throughout all the land of Israel, he returned to Ierusalem.

8 ¶ * Then in the eighteenth yeere of his reigne, when hee had purged the land and the Temple, he sent Shaphan the sonne of Azaliah, and Maaseiah the gouernour of the citie, and Ioah the sonne of Ioahaz the Recorder, to repaire the house of the Lord his God.

‖ Or, they returned to Ierusalem meaning, Shaphan.

9 And when they came to Hilkiah the hie Priest, they deliuered the money that was brought into the house of God, which the Leuites that kept the doore, had gathered at the hand of Manasseh, and Ephraim, and of all the residue of Israel, and of all Iudah and Beniamin, and ‖ of the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

10 And they put it in the handes of them that should doe the worke, and had the ouersight in the house of the Lord: and they gaue it to the workmen that wrought in the house of the Lord, to repaire and amend the house.

f For there were many portions and pieces annexed to the Temple.

11 Euen to the workmen and to the builders gaue they it to buy hewed stone and timber for couples and for beames of the f houses, which the kings of Iudah had destroyed.

g Meaning, that they were in such credite for their fidelitie, that they made none accounts of that which they receiued, 2. Kin. 22.7,9.

12 And the men did the worke g faithfully, and the ouerseers of them were Iahath and Obadiah the Leuites, of the children of Merari, and Zechariah, and Meshullam, of the children of the Kohathites to set it forward: and of the Leuites all that could skill of instruments of musicke.

13 And they were ouer the bearers of burdens, and them that set forward all the worke-men in euery worke: and of the Leuites were Scribes, and officers and porters.

h Reade 2. King. 22.8. 14 ¶ And when they brought out the money that was brought into the house of the Lord, Hilkiah the Priest found the h booke of the Lawe of the Lord giuen by the hand of Moses.

15 Therefore Hilkiah answered and sayd to Shaphan the chancellor, I haue found the booke of the Lawe in the house of the Lord: and Hilkiah gaue the booke to Shaphan.

i For the king was commanded to haue continually a copie of this booke, and to reade therein day and night, Deut. 17.18.

16 And Shaphan caried the i booke to the King, and brought the King word againe, saying, saying, All that is committed to the hand of thy seruants, that doe they.

17 For they haue gathered the money that was found in the house of the Lord, and haue deliuered it into the hands of the ouerseers, and to the hands of the workemen.

18 Also Shaphan the Chancellour declared to the king, saying, Hilkiah the Priest hath giuen me a booke, and Shaphan read it before the king.

19 And when the King had heard the words of the Law, he [k] tare his clothes.

20 And the king commanded Hilkiah, and Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, and Abdon the sonne of Micah, and Shaphan the Chancellor, and Asaiah the kings seruant, saying,

21 Goe and enquire of the Lord for mee, and for the rest in Israel and Iudah, concerning the wordes of this booke that is found: for great is the wrath of the Lord that is fallen vpon vs, because our [l] fathers haue not kept the word of the Lord, to doe after all that is written in this booke.

22 Then Hilkiah and they that the King had appointed, went to Huldah the Prophetesse the wife of Shallum, the sonne of || Tokhath, the son of || Hasrah keeper of the [m] wardrobe (and shee dwelt in Ierusalem within the [n] Colledge) & they communed hereof with her.

23 And she answered them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Tell yee [o] the man that sent you to me.

24 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will bring euill vpon this place, and vpon the inhabitants thereof, euen all the curses, that are written in the booke which they haue read before the king of Iudah:

25 Because they haue forsaken mee, and burnt incense vnto other gods, to anger mee with all the workes of their [p] hands, therefore shall my wrath fall vpon this place, and shall not be quenched.

26 But to the king of Iudah, who sent you to enquire of the Lord, so shal ye say vnto him, Thus saith [q] the Lord God of Israel, The wordes which thou hast heard, shall come to passe.

27 But because thine heart did [q] melt, and thou diddest humble thy selfe before God, when thou heardest his wordes against this place, and against the inhabitants thereof, and humbledst thy self before me, and tarest thy clothes, and weptest before mee, I haue also heard it, saith the Lord.

28 Behold, I will gather thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt bee put in thy graue in peace, and thine eyes shall not see all the euill, which I will bring vpon this [r] place, and vpon the inhabitants of the same. Thus they brought the king word againe.

29 ¶ Then the king sent and gathered all the Elders of Iudah and Ierusalem.

30 And the king went vp into the house of the Lord, and all the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and the Priestes and the Leuites, and all the people from the greatest to the [r] smallest, and he read in their eares all the wordes of the booke of the couenant that was found in the house of the Lord.

31 And the King stood by his pillar, and made a couenant before the Lord, to walke after the Lord, and to keepe his commaundements, and his testimonies, and his statutes, with all his heart, and with all his soule, and that he would accomplish the wordes of the couenant written in the same booke.

32 And hee caused all that were found in Ierusalem and Beniamin to stand to it: and the inhabitants of Ierusalem did according to the couenant of God, euen the God of their fathers.

33 So Iosiah tooke away all the abominations out of all the countreys that pertained to the children of Israel, and compelled all [t] that were found in Israel, to serue the Lord their God: so all his dayes they turned not backe from the Lord God of their fathers.

CHAP. XXXV.

1 Iosiah keepeth the Passeouer. 2 He setteth forth Gods seruice. 20 He fighteth against the king of Egypt, and dieth. 24 The people bewaile him.

MOreouer *Iosiah kept a Passeouer vnto the Lord in Ierusalem, and they slew the [a] Passeouer in the fourteenth day of the first moneth.

2 And hee appointed the Priests to their charges, and encouraged them to the seruice of the house of the Lord,

3 And hee sayd vnto the Leuites that [b] taught all Israel, and were sanctified vnto the Lord, Put the holy arke in the house which Salomon the sonne of Dauid king of Israel did build: it shall be no more a [c] burden vpon your shoulders: serue nowe the Lord your God, and his people Israel,

4 And prepare your selues by the houses of your fathers according to your courses, as *Dauid the King of Israel hath written, and according to the writing of Salomon his sonne,

5 And stand in the Sanctuarie according to the diuision of the families of your brethren || the children of the people, and after the diuision of the familie of the Leuites:

6 So kil the Passeouer and sanctifie your selues, and [d] prepare your brethren that they may doe according to the word of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

7 Iosiah also gaue to the † people sheepe, lambes and kids, all for the Passeouer, euen to all that were present, to the number of thirty thousand.

q This declareth what is the ende of Gods threatnings, to call his to repentance, and, to assure the vnrepentant of their destruction.

r It may appeare that very few were touched with true repentance, seeing that God spared them for a time onely for the kings sake.

s For asmuch as neither yong nor old could be exempted from the curses conteined therein, if they did transgresse, he knew it pertained to all, and was his duetie to see it read to all sorts, that euery one might learne to auoide those punishments by seruing God aright.

t Because he had charge onely all and must answere for euery one that perished, he thought it his duetie to see that all should make profession to receiue the word of God.

a The Scripture vseth in sundry places to call the Lambe the Passeouer, which was but the signe of the Passeouer. because in all Sacraments the signes haue the names of the things which are signified.

thousand, and three thousand bullocks: these were of the kings substance.

8 And his princes offered willingly vnto the people, to the Priestes and to the Leuites: Hilkiah, and Zechariah, and Iehiel, rulers of the house of God, gaue vnto the Priests for the Passeouer, euen two thousand and sixe hundreth sheepe, and three hundreth bullocks.

10 Thus the seruice was prepared, and the Priestes stood in their places, also the Leuites in their orders, according to the Kings commandement:

11 And they slewe the Passeouer, and the Priestes [f] sprinckled the blood with their hands, and the Leuites flaied them.

12 And they tooke away from the [g] burnt offering to giue it according to the diuisions of the familes of the children of the people, to offer vnto the Lord, as it is written in the booke of Moses, and so of the bullocks.

13 And * they rosted the Passeouer with fire, according to the custome, but the sanctified things they sod in pots, pannes, and caudrons, and distributed them quickly to all the people.

14 Afterward also they prepared for themselues and for the Priests: for the Priests the sonnes of Aaron were occupied in offering of burnt offerings and the fat vntil night: therefore the Leuites prepared for themselues, and for the Priests the sonnes of Aaron.

15 And the singers the sonnes of Asaph stoode in their standing, * according to the commaundement of Dauid, and Asaph, and Heman, and Ieduthun the kings [h] Seer: and the porters at euery gate, who might not depart from their seruice: therefore their brethren the Leuites prepared for them.

16 So the seruice of the Lord was prepared the same day, to keepe the Passeouer, and to offer burnt offerings vpon the altar of the Lord, according to the commaundement of king Iosiah.

17 And the children of Israel that were present, kept the Passeouer the same time, and the feast of the vnleauened bread seuen dayes.

18 And there was no Passeouer kept like that in Israel, from the dayes of Samuel the Prophet: neither did all the kings of Israel keepe such a Passeouer as Iosiah kept, and the Priestes and the Leuites, and all Iudah, and Israel that were [†] present, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

19 The Passeouer was kept in [i] the eighteenth yeere of the reigne of Iosiah.

20 ¶ * After all this, when Iosiah had prepared the Temple, Necho king of Egypt came vp to fight against [k] Carchemish by ‖ Perath, and Iosiah went out against him.

21 But he sent messengers to him, saying, What haue I to doe with thee, thou king of Iudah? I come not against thee this day, but against the house † of mine enemie, and God commaunded mee to make haste: leaue off to come against God, which is with mee, lest hee destroy thee.

22 But Iosiah would not turne his face from him, but [l] changed his apparell to fight with him, and hearkened not vnto the wordes of Necho, which were of the mouth of God, but came to fight in the valley of Megiddo.

23 And the shooters shot at King Iosiah: then the King said to his seruants, Cary me away, for I am very sicke.

24 So his seruants tooke him out of that charet, and put him in the second charet which he had, and when they had brought him to Ierusalem, he died, and was buried in the sepulchres of his fathers: and all Iudah and Ierusalem [m] mourned for Iosiah.

25 And Ieremiah lamented Iosiah, and all singing men and singing women mourned for Iosiah in their lamentations to this day, and made the same for an ordinance vnto Israel: and behold, they bee written in the [n] lamentations.

26 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iosiah, and his goodnesse, doing as it was written in the Law of the Lord, 27 And his deedes first and last, beholde, they are written in the booke of the Kings of Israel and Iudah.

9 ¶ Iehoiachin was [e] eight yeere olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned three moneths and ten dayes in Ierusalem, and did euill in the sight of the Lord.

13 But he rebelled moreouer against Nebuchad-nezzar, which had caused him to sweare by God: and he hardned his necke and made his heart obstinate, that he might not returne to the Lord God of Israel.

14 All the chiefe of the Priestes also, and of the people trespassed wonderfully, according to all the abominations of the heathen, and polluted the house of the Lord which hee had sanctified in Ierusalem.

15 Therefore the Lord God of their fathers sent to them † by his messengers, [f] rising early and sending: for hee had compassion on his people, and on his habitation.

16 But they mocked the messengers of God, and despised his wordes, and misused his Prophets, vntill the wrath of the Lord arose against his people, and till there was no [g] remedie.

19 And they burnt the house of God, and brake downe the wall at Ierusalem, and burnt all the palaces thereof with fire, and all the precious vessels thereof, to destroy all.

20 And they that were left by the sword, caried hee away to Babel, and they were seruants to him and to his sonnes, vntil the kingdome of the [k] Persians had rule,

This prayer is not in the Ebrew, but is translated out of the Greeke.

O Lord Almightie, God of our fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob, and of their righteous seede, which hast made heauen and earth, with all their ornament, which hast bound the Sea by the word of thy commaundement, which hast shut vp the deepe, and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious Name, whom all doe feare and tremble before thy power: for the Maiestie of thy glory cannot bee borne, and thine angry threatning toward sinners is importable, but thy mercifull promise is vnmeasurable and vnsearchable. For thou art the most hie Lord, of great compassion, long suffering, and most merciful, & repentest for mans miseries. Thou, O Lord, according to thy great goodnes hast promised [a] repentance and forgiuenesse to them that sinne against thee, and for thine infinite mercies hast appointed repentance vnto sinners that they may be saued. Thou therefore, O Lord, that art the God of the iust, hast not appointed repentance to the iust, as to Abraham, and Isaac, and Iacob, which haue not [b] sinned against thee, but thou hast appointed repentance vnto mee that am a sinner: for I haue sinned aboue the number of the sand of the Sea. I am bowed downe with many yron bands, that I cannot lift vp mine head, neither haue any release. For I haue prouoked thy wrath and done euill before thee. I did not thy will, neither kept I thy commandements. I haue set vp abomination, and haue multiplied offences. Now therefore I bow the knee of mine heart, beseeching thee of grace. I haue sinned, O Lord, I haue sinned, and acknowledge my transgressions: but I humbly beseech thee, forgiue me: O Lord, forgiue mee, and destroy me not with my transgressions. Be not angry with me for euer by reserving euill for me, neither condemne mee into the lower parts of the earth. For thou art the God, euen the God of them that repent: and in mee thou wilt shew all thy goodnes: for thou wilt saue me that am vnworthy, according to thy great mercy: therefore I will praise thee for euer all the dayes of my life: for all the power of the heauens praise thee, & thine is the glory for euer & euer, Amen.

THE ARGVMENT.

AS the Lord is euer mercifull vnto his Church, and doeth not punish them, but to the intent they should see their own miseries, and be exercised vnder the crosse, that they might contemne the world, and aspire vnto the heauens: so after that he had visited the Iewes and kept them now in bondage seuentie yeeres in a strange countrey among infidels and idolaters, he remembred his tender mercies and their infirmities, and therefore for his owne sake raised them vp a deliuerer, and mooued both the heart of the chiefe ruler to pitie them, and also by him punished such, which had kept them in seruitude. Notwithstanding, lest they should growe into a contempt of Gods great benefit, hee keepeth them still in exercise, and raiseth domesticall enemies, which endeuour as much as they can to hinder their most worthy enterprises: yet by the exhortation of the Prophets they went forward by little and little till their worke was finished. The author of this booke was Ezra, who was Priest and Scribe of the Law, as Chap. 7. 6. He returned to Ierusalem the sixt yeere of Darius, who suceeded Cyrus, that is, about fiftie yeeres after the returne of the first vnder Zerubbabel, when the Temple was built. Hee brought with him a great companie, and much treasures, with letters to the Kings officers for all such things as should bee necessary for the Temple: and at his comming hee redressed that which was amisse, and set the things in good order.

3 Who is he among you of all his people with whome his God is? let him goe vp to Ierusalem which is in Iudah, and build the house of the Lord God of Israel: hee is the God, which is in Ierusalem.

4 And euery one that remaineth in any place (where hee sojourneth) [e] let the men of his place relieue him with siluer & with gold, and with substance, and with cattel, [f] and with a willing offering, for the house of God that is in Ierusalem.

5 Then the chiefe fathers of Iudah and Beniamin, and the Priests and Leuites rose vp with all them whose spirit God had raised to goe vp to build the house of the Lord which is in Ierusalem.

6 And all [g] they that were about them, strengthened their handes with vessels of siluer, with gold, with substance, and with cattel, and with precious things, besides all that was willingly offered.

7 Also the king Cyrus brought foorth the vessels of the house of the Lord, * which Nebuchad-nezzar had taken out of Ierusalem, and had put them in the house of his god.

8 Euen them did Cyrus king of Persia bring foorth by the hand of Mithredath the treasurer, and counted them vnto [h] Sheshbazzar the prince of Iudah.

2 Then ſtood vp Ieſhua the ſonne of Iozadak, and his brethren the Prieſts, and Zerubbabel the [b] ſonne of Shealtiel, and his brethren, and builded the altar of the God of Iſrael, to offer burnt offerings thereon, as it is written in the Law of Moſes the man of God,

3 And they ſet the altar vpon [c] his baſes (for feare was among them, becauſe of the people of thoſe countreys) therefore they offered burnt offrings thereon vnto the Lord, euen burnt offerings in the morning, and at euen.

c In the place where Salomon had placed it.

5 And afterward [d] the continuall burnt offering, both in the new moneths and in all the feaſt dayes that were conſecrate vnto the Lord, and in all the oblations willingly offered vnto the Lord.

d That is, after the feaſt of Tabernacles.

6 From the firſt day of the ſeuenth moneth began they to offer burnt offerings vnto the Lord: but the foundation of the Temple of the Lord was not layde.

7 They gaue money alſo vnto the maſons, and to the workemen, and meate and drinke, and oile vnto them of Zidon and of Tyrus, to bring them cedar wood from Lebanon to the ſea vnto ‖ Japho, according to the grant that they had of Cyrus king of Perſia.

‖ Or, Ioppe.

8 ¶ And in the ſecond yere of their comming vnto the houſe of God in Ieruſalem in the [e] ſecond moneth begame Zerubbabel the ſonne of Shealtiel, and Ieſhua the ſonne of Iozadak, and the remnant of their brethren the Prieſts and the Leuites, and all they that were come out of the captiuitie vnto Ieruſalem, and appointed the Leuites from twentie yeere olde and aboue, to ſet forward the worke of the houſe of the Lord.

e Which moneth conteines part of April, and part of May, for in the meane ſeaſon they had prouided for things neceſſary for the worke.

9 And Ieſhua [f] ſtood with his ſonnes, and his brethren, and Kadmiel with his ſons, and the ſonnes of Iudah together to ſet forward the workemen in the houſe of God, and the ſonnes of Henadad with their ſonnes, and their brethren the Leuites.

10 And when the builders laid the foundation of the Temple of the Lord, they appointed the Prieſts in their apparell with trumpets, and the Leuites the ſonnes of Aſaph with cymbales, to praiſe the Lord, * after the ordinance of Dauid king of Iſrael.

* 1. Chro. 16. 7, 8.

11 Thus they ſang when they gaue praiſe, and when they gaue thankes vnto the Lord, For he is good, for his mercy endureth for euer toward Iſrael. And all the people ſhouted with a great ſhout, when they praiſed the Lord, becauſe the foundation of the houſe of the Lord was layde.

12 Many also of the Priests and the Leuites and the chiefe of the fathers, ancient men which had seene the first house, (when the foundation of this house was laid before their eyes) g wept with a loude voice, and many shouted aloude for ioy, 13 So that the people could not discerne the sound of the shout for ioy, from the noise of the weeping of the people: for the people shouted with a loude crie, and the noise was heard farre off.

g Because they saw that it was nothing so glorious as the Temple, which Salomon had built, notwithstanding Aggeus comforteth them and prophesieth that it shall be more beautifull then the first: meaning the spirituall Temple, which are the members of Christs body.

CHAP. IIII.

2 The building of the Temple is hindered, and how. 11 Letters to Artaxerxes, and the answere.

BUt a the aduersaries of Iudah and Beniamin heard, that the children of the captiuitie builded the Temple vnto the Lord God of Israel,

2 And they came to Zerubbabel, and to the chiefe fathers, and sayd vnto them, Wee will build with you; for wee seeke the Lorde your God as ye doe, and wee haue sacrificed vnto him since the time of Esar Haddon king of Asshur, which brought vs vp hither.

3 Then Zerubbabel, and Ieshua, and the rest of the chiefe fathers of Israel, sayde vnto them, It is not for you, but for vs to build the house vnto our God: b for we our selues together will build it vnto the Lord God of Israel, as King Cyrus the king of Persia hath commanded vs.

4 Wherefore the people of the land † discouraged the people of Iudah, and troubled them in building,

5 And they c hired counsellers against them, to hinder their deuise, all the dayes of Cyrus king of Persia, euen vntill the reigne of Darius king of Persia.

6 And in the reigne of d Ahashuerosh (in the beginning of his reigne) wrote they an accusation against the inhabitants of Iudah and Ierusalem.

7 And in the dayes of e Artahshashte, Bishzedath, Tabeel, and the rest of their companions wrote when it was peace, vnto Artahshashte king of Persia, and the writing of the letter was the Aramites writing, and the thing declared was in the language of the Aramites.

8 Rehum the ‖ chancellour, and Shimshai the scribe wrote a letter against Ierusalem to Artahshashte the king, in this sort.

9 Then wrote Rehum the chancellour, and Shimshai the scribe, and their companions f Dinaie, and Apharsathcaie, Tarpelaie, Apharsaie, Archeuaie, Babylaie, Shushanchaie, Dehaue, Elmaie,

10 And the rest of the people whom the great and noble g Asnappar brought ouer, and set in the cities of Samaria, and other that are beyond the h Riuer and i Cheeneth.

a Meaning, the inhabitants of Samaria, whom the king of Assyria had placed in the stead of the ten tribes, 2. King. 17. 24. and 19. 37. These professed God, but worshipped idoles also, and therefore were the greatest enemies to the true seruants of God.

12 Be it knowen vnto the king, that the Iewes, which came vp from thee to vs, are come vnto Ierusalem (a citie rebellious and wicked) and build, and lay the foundations of the walles, and haue ioyned the foundations.

13 Be it knowen now vnto the king, that if this citie be built, and the foundations of the walles laide, they will not giue toll, tribute, nor k custome: so shalt thou hinder the kings tribute.

14 Now therefore because † we haue bene brought vp in the Kings palace, it was not meete for vs to see the Kings dishonour: for this cause haue we sent and certified the king,

15 That one may search in the booke of the Chronicles of thy fathers, and thou shalt finde in the booke of the Chronicles, and perceiue that this citie is rebellious and noysome vnto kings and prouinces, and that they haue mooued sedition of olde time, for the which cause this citie was destroyed.

16 We certifie the king therefore, that if this citie be builded, and the foundation of the walles laide, by this meanes the portion beyond the Riuer shall not be thine.

17 ¶ The king sent an answere vnto Rehum the chancellor, and Shimshai the scribe, and to the rest of their companions that dwelt in Samaria, and vnto the other beyond the Riuer, l Shelam and m Cheeth.

18 ¶ The letter which yee sent vnto vs, hath beene openly read before me, 19 And I haue commanded and they haue searched, and found, that this citie of olde time hath made insurrection against kings, & hath rebelled, and rebellion hath beene committed therein.

20 There haue beene mightie kings also ouer Ierusalem, which haue ruled ouer all beyond the Riuer, and toll, tribute, and custome was giuen vnto them.

21 Make ye now a decree, that those men may cease, and that the citie be not built, till I haue giuen another commandement.

22 Take heede now that yee faile not to doe this: why should damage growe to hurt the king?

23 When the copie of king Artahshashtes letter was read before Rehum and Shimshai the scribe, and their companions, they went vp in all the haste to Ierusalem vnto the Iewes, and caused them to cease by force and power.

24 Then n ceased the worke of the house of God, which was in Ierusalem, and did stay vnto the second yeere of Darius king of Persia.

2 Then Zerubbabel the ſonne of Shealtiel, and Ieſhua the ſonne of Iozadak aroſe, and began to build the houſe of God at Ieruſalem, and with them were the Prophets of God, which [a] helped them.

a Which incouraged them to go forward, and accuſed them that they were more carefull to build their owne houſes, then zealous to builde the Temple of God.

3 At the ſame time came to them Tatnai, which was captaine beyond the Riuer, and Shether-boznai and their companions, and ſaid thus vnto them, Who hath giuen you commandement to build this houſe, and to lay the foundations of theſe walles?

4 [b] Then ſaid wee vnto them after this maner, What are the names of the men that build this building?

7 They ſent a letter vnto him, wherein it was written thus, VNTO DARIVS the King, all peace.

8 Be it knowen vnto the King that wee went into the prouince of Iudea, to the houſe of the great God, which is builded with ‖ great ſtones, and beames are laid in the walles, and this worke is wrought ſpedily, and proſpereth in their hands.

f Reade Chap. 1. 8.

15 And he ſaid vnto him, Take theſe veſſels and goe thy way, and put them in the temple that is in Ieruſalem, and let the houſe of God be built in his place.

16 Then came the ſame Sheſhbazzar and laid the foundation of the houſe of God, which is in Ieruſalem, and ſince that time euen vntill now, hath it beene in building, yet is it not finiſhed.

17 Now therefore if it pleaſe the king, let there be ſearch made in the houſe of the Kings [g] treaſures, which is there in Babel, whether a decree hath beene made by king Cyrus, to build this houſe of God in Ieruſalem, and let the King ſend his minde concerning this.

c Meddle not with them, neither hinder them.

7 Suffer ye the worke of this houſe of God, that the captaine of the Iewes and the Elders of the Iewes may builde this houſe of God in his place.

10 That they may haue to offer sweete odours vnto the God of heauen, and pray for the Kings life, and for his sonnes.

11 And I haue made a decree, that whosoeuer shall altar this sentence, the wood shall be pulled downe from his house, and shall be set vp, and he shall be hanged thereon, and his house shall be made a dunghill for this.

CHAP. VII.

1 By the commandement of the King, Ezra and his companions come to Ierusalem. 27 Hee giueth thankes to God.

NOw after these things, in the reigne of [a] Artahshashte king of Persia, was Ezra the sonne of Seraiah, the sonne of Azariah, the sonne of Hilkiah, a The Greekes write, that diuers of the Kings of Persia were called by this name, as Pharaoh was a common name to the Kings of Egypt, and Cesar to the Emperours Romane.

2 The sonne of Shallum, the sonne of Zadok, the sonne of Ahitub,

3 The sonne of Amaria, the sonne of Azariah, the sonne of Meraioth,

4 The sonne of Zeraiah, the sonne of Uzzi, the sonne of Bukki,

5 The sonne of Abishua, the sonne of Phinehas, the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of [b] Aaron the chiefe Priest.

b Ezra deriueth his kinred, till he commeth to Aaron, to proue that he came of him.

6 This Ezra came vp from Babel, and was a [c] Scribe prompt in the Law of Moses, which the Lord God of Israel had giuen, and the King gaue him all his request according to the hand of the Lord his God, which was vpon him.

c He sheweth here what a scribe is, who had charge to write the Law and to expound it, whom Marke calleth a scribe, Marke 12. 28. Matthew and Luke call him a Lawyer, or doctor of the Law, Matt. 22. 35. Luke 10. 25.

7 And there went vp certaine of the children of Israel, and of the Priests, and the Leuites, and the singers, and the porters, and the Nethinims vnto Ierusalem, in the seuenth yeere of King Artahshashte.

8 And he came to Ierusalem in the [d] fift moneth, which was in the seuenth yeere [e] of the King.

d That conteined part of July and part of August.

e Of King Darius.

9 For vpon the first day of the first moneth began hee to goe vp from Babel, and on the first day of the fifth moneth came he to Ierusalem, according to the good hand of his God that was vpon him.

10 For Ezra had prepared his heart to seeke the Law of the Lord, and to doe it, and to teach the precepts and iudgements in Israel.

11 ¶ And this is the copy of the letter that king Artahshashte gaue vnto Ezra the Priest and scribe, euen a writer of the wordes of the commandements of the Lord, and of his statutes ouer Israel, 12 ARTAHSHASHTE King of kings to Ezra the Priest and perfit scribe of the law of the God of heauen, and [f] Cheeneth.

f Some take this for the name of a people, some for time of continuance, meaning that the king wished him long life.

13 I haue giuen commaundement, that euery euery one, that is willing in my kingdome of the people of Israel, and of the Priests & Leuites to go to Ierusalem with thee, shall goe.

g Which remained as yet in Babylon, and had not returned with Zerubbabel.

14 Therefore art thou sent of the king and his seuen counsellers, to [b] enquire in Iudah and Ierusalem, according to the law of thy God, which is in [i] thine hand, h To examine who liued according to the law.

i Whereof thou art expert.

15 And to cary the siluer and the golde, which the king and his counsellers willingly offer vnto the God of Israel (whose habitation is in Ierusalem)

16 And all the siluer and golde that thou canst finde in all the prouince of Babel, with the free offering of the people, and that which the Priests offer willingly to the house of their God which is in Ierusalem, 17 That thou mayest buy speedily with this siluer, bullockes, rammes, lambes, with their meat offrings and their drinke offrings: and thou shalt offer them vpon the altar of the house of your God, which is in Ierusalem.

18 And whatsoeuer it pleaseth thee and thy brethren to doe with the rest of the siluer, and golde, doe yee it according to the will of your [k] God.

k As ye know best may serue to Gods glory.

19 And the vessels that are giuen thee for the seruice of the house of thy God, those deliuer thou before God in Ierusalem.

20 And the residue that shall be needfull for the house of thy God, which shall be meet for thee to bestow, thou shalt bestow it out of the Kings treasure house,

21 And I king Artahshashte haue giuen commandement to all the treasurers which are beyond [l] the Riuer, that whatsoeuer Ezra the Priest and Scribe of the Law of the God of heauen shall require of you, that it be done incontinently, l Which was the riuer Euphrates, & they were beyond it in respect of Babylon.

23 Whatsoeuer is by the commandement of the God of heauen, let it be done speedily for the house of the God of heauen: for why should he be wroth [n] against the realme of the King, and his children?

n This declareth that the feare of Gods iudgements caused him to vse this liberalitie, and not the loue that he bare to Gods glory or affection to his people.

24 And wee certifie you, that vpon any of the Priests, Leuites, singers, porters, Nethinims, or Ministers in this house of God, there shall no gouernour lay vpon them toll, tribute nor custome.

25 And thou Ezra (after the wisedome of thy God, that is in thine hand) [o] set Iudges and arbiters, which may iudge all the people that is beyond the Riuer, euen all that know the Law of thy God, and teach yee them that know it not.

o He gaue Ezra full authoritie to restore all things according to the word of God, and to punish them that resisted and would not obey.

26 And whosoeuer will not doe the Law of thy God, and the Kings Law, let him haue iudgement without delay, whether it be vnto death, or to banishment, or to confiscation of goods, or to imprisonment.

27 [p] Blessed be the Lord God of our fathers, which so hath put in the Kings heart, to beautifie the house of the Lord that is in Ierusalem, p Thus Ezra gaue God thanks for that he gaue him so good successe in his affaires by reason of the King.

28 And hath enclined mercie toward mee, before the king and his counsellers, and before all the Kings mightie princes: and I was comforted by the hand of the Lord my God which was vpon me, and I gathered the chiefe of Israel to goe vp with me.

10 And of the sonnes of Shelomith the sonne of Iosiphiah, and with him an hundred and threescore males.

11 And of the sonnes of Bebai, Zechariah the sonne of Bebai, and with him eight and twentie males.

12 And of the sonnes of Azgad, Iohanan the sonne of Hakkatan, and with him an hundred and ten males.

13 And of the sonnes of Adonikam, that were the [b] last, whose names are these: Eliphelet, Iehiel and Shemaiah, and with them threescore males.

b That came to goe with Ezra.

14 And of the sonnes of Biguai, Uthai, and Zabbud, and with them seuentie males.

15 And

15 And I gathered them to the [c] Riuer that goeth toward Ahaua, and there abode wee three dayes: then I viewed the people, and the Priests, and found there none of the sonnes of Leui.

16 Therefore sent I to Eliezer, to Ariel, to Shemeiah, and to Elnathan, and to Jarib, and to Elnathan, and to Nathan, and to Zechariah, and to Meshullam the chiefe, & to Jocharib, and to Elnathan, men of vnderstanding.

17 And I gaue them commandement, to Iddo the [d] chiefest at the place of Casiphia, and I † tolde them the words that they should speake to Iddo, and to his brethren the Nethinims at the place of Casiphia, that they should cause the ministers of the house of our God to come vnto vs.

18 So by the good hand of our God which was vpon vs, they brought vs a man of vnderstanding of the sonnes of Mahali the sonne of Leui the sonne of Israel, and Sherebiah with his sonnes and his brethren, euen eighteene.

19 Also Hashabiah, and with him Jeshaiah of the sonnes of Merari, with his brethren and their sonnes twentie.

20 And of the [e] Nethinims, whom Dauid had set, and the princes for the seruice of the Leuites, two hundred and twentie of the Nethinims, which all were named by name.

21 And there at the Riuer, by Ahaua, I proclaimed a fast, that we might humble [f] our selues before our God, and seeke of him a right way for vs, and for our children, and for all our substance.

22 For I was ashamed to require of the King an armie and horsemen, to helpe vs against the enemie in the way, because wee had spoken to the King, saying, The hand of our God is vpon all them that seeke him in goodnesse, but his power and his wrath is against all them that forsake him.

23 So we fasted, and besought our God for this: and he was intreated of vs.

24 Then I separated twelue of the chiefe of the Priests, Sherebiah, and Hashabiah, and ten of their brethren with them,

25 And weighed them the siluer and the golde, and the vessels, euen the offering of the house of our God, which the king & his counsellers, and his Princes, and all Israel that were present had offered.

26 And I weighed vnto their hand sixe hundred and fiftie [h] talents of siluer, and in siluer vessell, an hundred talents, and in golde, an hundred talents:

27 And twentie basins of golde, of a thousand [i] drammes, and two vessels of shining brasse very good, and precious as golde.

28 And I said vnto them, Ye are consecrate vnto the Lord, and the vessels are consecrate, and the golde and the siluer are freely offered vnto the Lord God of your fathers.

29 Watch yee, and keepe them vntill ye weigh them before the chiefe Priests and the Leuites, and the chiefe fathers of Israel in Jerusalem in the chambers of the house of the Lord.

30 So the Priests and the Leuites receiued the weight of the siluer and of the golde, and of the vessels to bring them to Jerusalem, vnto the house of our God.

31 ¶ Then we departed from the Riuer of Ahaua on the twelfth day of the first moneth, to goe vnto Jerusalem, and the hand of our God was vpon vs, and deliuered vs from the hand of the enemie, and of such as layde [k] waite by the way.

32 And we came to Jerusalem, and abode there three dayes.

33 And on the fourth day was the siluer weighed, and the golde and the vessell in the house of our God by the hand of Meremoth the sonne of Uriah the Priest, and with him was Eleazar the sonne of Phinehas, and with them was Jozabad the sonne of Jeshua, and Noadiah the sonne of Binnui the [l] Leuites, 34 By number and by weight of euery one, and all the weight was written at the same time.

35 Also the children of the captiuity, which were come out of captiuitie, offered burnt offerings vnto the God of Israel, twelue bullockes for all Israel, ninetie and sixe rammes, seuenty & seuen lambes, and twelue hee goats for sinne: all was a burnt offering of the Lord.

36 And they deliuered the kings commission vnto the Kings officers, and to the captaines beyond the Riuer: and they promoted the people, and the house of God.

CHAP. IX.

1 Ezra complaineth on the people that had turned themselues from God, and married with the Gentiles. 5 He prayeth vnto God.

WHen * as these things were done, the rulers came to me, saying, The people of Israel, and the Priests, and the Leuites are not [a] separated from the people of the lands (as touching their abominations) to wit, of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Iebusites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Amorites.

2 For they haue taken their daughters to themselues, and to their sonnes, and they haue mixed the holy seede with the people of the lands, and the hand of the [b] princes and rulers haue beene chiefe in this trespasse.

3 But when I heard this saying, I rent my clothes and my garment, and plackt off the haire of mine head, and of my beard, and sate downe [c] astonied.

4 And there assembled vnto mee all that feared the words of the God of Israel, because of the transgression of them of the captiuitie. And I sate downe astonied vntil the *euening sacrifice.

*Exod.29.39. num.28.3.4.

5 And at the euening sacrifice I arose vp from mine heauinesse, and when I had rent my clothes and my garment, I fell vpon my knees, and spread out mine handes vnto the Lord my God,

6 And said, O my God, I am confounded and ashamed, to lift vp mine eyes vnto thee my God: for our iniquities are increased ouer [d] our head, and our trespasse is growen vp vnto [e] the heauen.

d That is, we are drowned in sinne.

e They so exceed, that they cannot grow greater.

7 From the dayes of our fathers haue we bene in a great trespasse vnto this day, and for our iniquities haue wee, our Kings, and our Priestes bene deliuered into the hand of the kings of the lands, vnto the sword, into captiuitie, into a spoile, and into confusion of face, as appeareth this day.

8 And now for a little space grace hath bin shewed from the Lord our God, in causing a remnant to escape, and in giuing vs a [f] naile in his holy place, that our God may light our eyes, and giue vs a little reuiuing in our seruitude.

f In giuing vs a resting place. It is a similitude taken of them that remaine still in a place, which smite nailes to hang things vpon, Isa.22.23.

9 For though we were bondmen, yet our God hath not forsaken vs in our bondage, but hath enclined mercie vnto vs in the sight of the Kings of Persia, to giue vs life, and to erect the house of our God, and to repaire the desolate places thereof, and to giue vs a wall in Iudah and in Ierusalem.

10 And now our God, what shall wee say after this? for we haue forsaken thy commandements, 11 Which thou hast commaunded by thy seruants the Prophets, saying, *The land whereunto ye goe to possesse it, is an vncleane land, because of the filthinesse of the people of the lands, which by their abominations, and by their vncleannesse haue filled it from corner to corner.

*Exod.25.32. and 34.12,15, 16.deut.7.23.

12 Now therefore shall yee not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, neither shall yee take their daughters vnto your sonnes, nor seeke their *peace nor wealth for euer, that ye may bee strong and eate the goodnesse of the land, and leaue it for an inheritance to your sonnes for euer.

*Deut 23.6.

13 And after all that is come vpon vs for our euill deedes, and for our great trespasses, (seeing that thou our God hast stayed vs from being beneath [g] for our iniquities, and hast giuen vs such deliuerance)

g Hast not vtterly cast vs downe and destroyed vs for our sinnes, Deut. 28.13.

14 Should we returne to breake thy commandements, and ioyne in affinitie with the people of such abominations? wouldest not thou bee angrie toward vs till thou hadest consumed vs, so that there should be no remnant, nor any escaping?

h He sheweth that God is iust in punishing his people, and yet merciful in reseruing a remnant to whom he sheweth fauour.

15 O Lord God of Israel, thou art iust, for we haue bene [h] reserued to escape, as appeareth this day: behold, wee are before thee in our trespasse: therefore we cannot stand before thee because of it.

CHAP. X.

1 The people repent and turne, and put away their strange wiues.

NOw while *Ezra prayed thus, and [a] confessed himselfe weeping, and falling downe before the house of God, there assembled vnto him of Israel a very great Congregation of men and women and children: for the people wept with a great lamentation.

a He confessed his sinnes and the sinnes of the people.

2 Then Shechaniah the sonne of Iehiel one of the sonnes of Elam answered, and said to Ezra, We haue trespassed against our God, and haue taken strange wiues of the people of the land, yet now there is [b] hope in Israel concerning this.

b Meaning that God would receiue them to mercy.

3 Now therefore let vs make a couenant with our God, to put away [c] all the wiues (and such as are borne of them) according to the counsel of the Lord, and of those that feare the Commandements of our God, and let it bee done according to the Law.

6 *And Ezra rose vp from before the house of God, and went into the chamber of Iohanan the sonne of Eliashib: hee went euen thither, but he did eate neither bread, nor drinke water: for hee mourned, because of the transgression of them of the captiuitie.

e To wit, the King Artahshashte.

CHAP. II.

1 After Nehemiah had obtained letters of Artaxerxes, 11 he came to Ierusalem, 17 And builded the walles.

NOw in the moneth [a] Nisan in the twentieth yere of the King [b] Artahshashte, the wine stood before him, and I tooke vp the wine and gaue it vnto the King. Now I was not before time sad in his presence.

2 And the King said vnto me, Why is thy countenance sadde, seeing thou art not sicke? this is nothing, but sorow of heart. Then was I sore afraid,

3 And I said to the King, God saue the king for euer: why should not my countenance be sad, when the citie and house of the sepulchres of my fathers lieth waste, and the gates thereof are deuoured with fire?

4 And the King said vnto mee, For what thing doest thou require? Then I prayed [c] to the God of heauen,

5 And said vnto the King, If it please the King, and if thy seruant haue found fauour in thy sight, I desire that thou wouldest send mee to Iudah vnto the citie of the sepulchres of my fathers, that I may build it.

6 And the King said vnto me, (the Queene also sitting by him) How long shal thy iourney be? & when wilt thou come againe? So it pleased the King, & he sent me, & I set him a time.

7 After I said vnto the King, If it please the King, let them giue me letters to the captaines beyond the || Riuer, that they may conuey me ouer, till I come into Iudah,

8 And letters vnto Asaph the keeper of the Kings || parke, that he may giue me timber to build the gates of the palace (which apperteined to the house) and for the wals of the citie, and for the house that I shall enter into. And the king gaue me according to [d] the good hand of my God vpon me.

9 ¶ Then came I to the captaines beyond the Riuer, and gaue them the Kings letters. And the King had sent captaines of the armie and horsemen with me.

10 But [e] Sanballat ỹ Horonite, & Tobiah a seruant an Ammonite heard it, and it grieued them sore, that there was come a man which sought the wealth of the children of Israel.

11 So I came to Ierusalem, and was there three dayes.

12 And I rose in the night, I, and a few men with me: for I told no man, what God had put in mine heart to doe at Ierusalem, and there was not a beast with mee, saue the beast whereon I rode.

13 And I went out by night by the gate of the valley, and came before the dragon well, and to the dung port, and viewed the walles of Ierusalem, how they were broken downe, and the portes thereof deuoured with the fire.

14 Then I went foorth vnto the gate of the || fountaine, and to the Kings fishpoole, and there was no roome for the beast that was vnder me to passe.

15 Then went I vp in the night by the brooke, and viewed the wal, and turned backe, and comming backe, I entred by the gate of the valley and returned.

16 And the rulers knew not whither I was gone, nor what I did, neither did I as yet tel it vnto the Iewes, nor to the Priests, nor to the noble men, nor to the rulerrs, nor to the rest that laboured in the worke.

17 Afterward I said vnto them, Yee see the misery that we are in, how Ierusalem lyeth waste, and the gates therof are burnt with fire: come and let vs build the wall of Ierusalem, that we be no more [f] a reproch.

18 Then I tolde them of the hand of my God, (which was good ouer mee) and also of the Kings words that he had spoken vnto me. And they said, Let vs rise, and build. So they [g] strengthened their hand to good.

19 But when Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the seruant an Ammonite, and [h] Geshem the Arabian heard it, they mocked vs and despised vs, and said, What a thing is this that ye doe? Will ye [i] rebell against the King?

20 Then answered I them, and said to them, The God of heauen, he will prosper vs, and wee his seruants will rise vp and build: but as for you, ye haue no portion nor right, nor [k] memoriall in Ierusalem.

f That is, contemned of other nations, as though God had forsaken vs.
g They were incouraged, and gaue themselues to doe well, and to trauell in this worthy enterprise.
h These were three chiefe gouernours vnder the king of Persia beyond Euphrates.
i Thus the wicked when they will burthen the children of God, euer lay treason vnto their charge, both because it maketh them most odious to the world, and also stirreth the hatred of Princes most against them.
k Neither ye are of the number of the children of God (to whom he hath appointed this citie onely) neither did any of your predecessours euer feare God.

CHAP. III.

The number of them that builded the walles.

THen arose Eliashib the hie Priest with his brethren the Priestes, and they built the sheepegate: they [a] repaired it, and set vp the doores thereof: euen vnto the tower of Meah repaired they it, and vnto the tower of Hananeel.

2 And next vnto him builded the men of Iericho, and beside him Zaccur the sonne of Imri.

3 But the fish port did the sonnes of Senaah build, which also layd the beames thereof, and set on the doores thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof.

4 And next vnto them fortified Meremoth, the sonne of Vrriiah, the sonne of Hakkoz: and next vnto them fortified Meshullam, the sonne of Berechiah, the sonne of Meshezabeel: and next vnto them fortified Zadok, the sonne of Baana:

5 And next vnto them fortified the Tekoites: but the great men of them [b] put not their neckes to the worke of their lords.

6 And the gate of the * olde fishpoole fortified Iehoiada the sonne of Paseah, and Meshullam the sonne of Besodaiah: they layd the beames thereof, and set on the doores thereof, and the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof.

7 Next vnto them also fortified Melatiah the Gibeonite, and Iadon the Meronothite, men of Gibeon, & of Mizpah, vnto the [c] throne of the duke, which was beyond the Riuer.

8 Next vnto him fortified Vzziel the son of Harhohiah ‖ of the goldsmiches: next vnto him also fortified Hananiah, the sonne [of] Harakkabim, and they repaired Ierusalem vnto the broad wall.

9 Also next vnto them fortified Rephaiah, the sonne of Hur, the ruler of the halfe part of Ierusalem.

10 And next vnto him fortified Iedaiah the sonne of Harumaph, euen ouer against his house: and next vnto him fortified Hattush, the sonne of Hashabniah.

11 Malchiiah the son of Harim, & Hashub the sonne of Pahath Moab fortified the second ‖ portion, and the tower of the fornaces.

12 Next vnto him also fortified Shallum, the sonne of Halloesh, the ruler of the halfe part of Ierusalem, he, and his daughters.

13 The valley gate fortified Hanum, and the inhabitants of Zanuah: they built it, and set on the doores thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof, euen a thousand cubites on the wall vnto the dung port.

14 But the dung port fortified Melchiah, the sonne of Rechab, the ruler of the fourth part of Beth-haccarem: he built it, and set on the doores thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof.

15 But the gate of the fountaine fortified Shallum, the sonne of Col-hozeh, the ruler of the fourth part of Mizpah: he builded it, and couered it, and set on the doores thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof, and the wall vnto the fishpoole of ‖ Shelah by the Kings garden, and vnto the steppes that goe downe from the citie of Dauid.

16 After him fortified Nehemiah the sonne of Azbuk, the ruler of the halfe part of Bethzur, vntill the other side ouer against the sepulchres of Dauid, and to the fishpoole that was repaired, and vnto the house of the mighty.

17 After him fortified the Leuites, Rehum the sonne of Bani, and next vnto him fortified Hashabiah the ruler of the halfe part of Keilah in his quarter.

18 After him fortified their brethren: Bauai, the sonne of Henadad the ruler of the halfe part of Keilah:

19 And next vnto him fortified Ezer, the sonne of Ieshua the ruler of Mizpah, the other portion ouer against the going vp to the [d] corner of the armour.

20 After him was earnest Baruch the sonne of Zacchai, and fortified another portion from the corner vnto the doore of the house of Eliashib the hie Priest.

a In Ebrew, they sanctified it, that is, they finished it, and so dedicated it to the Lord by prayer, in desiring him to maintaine it.

22 After him also fortified the Priests, the men of [c] the plaine.

[c] Which dwelt in the plaine country by Iorden & Jericho.

23 After them fortified Beniamin, and Hashhub ouer against their house: after him fortified Azariah, the sonne of Maaseiah, the the sonne of Ananiah, by his house.

24 After him fortified Binnui, the sonne of Henadad another portion, from the house of Azariah vnto the turning and vnto the corner.

28 From aboue the horsegate forth fortified the Priests, euery one ouer against his house.

29 After them fortified Zadok the sonne of Immer ouer against his house: and after him fortified Shemaiah, the sonne of Shechaniah the keeper of the East gate.

30 After him fortified Hananiah, the sonne of Shelemiah, and Hanun, the sonne of Zalaph, the sixt, another portion: after him fortified Meshullam, the sonne of Berechiah, ouer against his chamber.

[g] Meaning, the first of his sonnes.

31 After him fortified Malchiah the goldsmiths sonne, vntill the house of the Nethinims, and of the merchants ouer against the gate [h] Miphkad, and to the chamber in the corner.

32 And betweene the chamber of the corner vnto the sheepegate fortified the goldesmiths and the merchants.

CHAP. IIII.

7 The building of Ierusalem is hindred, 15 but God breaketh their enterprise. 17 The Iewes build with one hand, and hold their weapons in the other.

BUt when Sanballat heard that we builded the wall, then was hee wroth and sore grieued, and mocked the Iewes,

[a] Of his companions that dwelt in Samaria.

2 And said before his [a] brethren and the armie of Samaria, thus he said, What doe these [b] weake Iewes: will they fortifie themselues? will they sacrifice? will they finish it in a day? will they make the stones whole againe out of the heapes of dust, seeing they are burnt?

[b] Thus the wicked, that consider not that Gods power is euer in a readinesse for the defence of his, mocke them as though they were weake and feeble.

3 And Tobiah the Ammonite was beside him, and said, Although they builde, yet if a fore goe vp, hee shall euen breake downe their stone wall.

4 [c] Heare, O our God (for wee are despised) and turne their shame vpon their owne head, and giue them vnto a pray [d] in the land of their captiuitie,

[c] This is the remedy that the children of God haue against the derision & threatnings of their enemies, to flee to God by prayer.

[d] Let them be spoyled and led away captiue.

5 And couer not their [e] iniquitie, neither let their sinne bee put out in thy presence: for they haue prouoked vs before the builders.

[e] Let thy plagues declare to the world, that they set themselues against thee, and against thy Church: thus he prayeth, onely hauing respect to Gods glory, and not for any priuate affection, or grudge.

6 So wee built the wall, and all the wall was ioyned vnto the ‖ halfe thereof, and the heart of the people was to worke.

‖ Or, halfe height.

7 ¶ But when Sanballat, & Tobiah, and the Arabians, & the Ammonites, and the Ashdodims heard that the walles of Ierusalem were repaired, (for the breaches began to be stopped) then they were very wroth,

8 And conspired all together to come & to fight against Ierusalem, and to † hinder them.

† Ebr. make to stay, meaning the people.

6 Then wee prayed vnto our God, and set watchmen by them, day and night, because of them.

10 And Iudah saide, The strength of the bearers is weakened, and there is much earth, so that we are not able to build the wall.

11 Also our aduersaries had saide, They shall not know, neither see, till we come into the mids of them and slay them, and cause the worke to cease.

12 But when the Iewes (which dwelt beside them) came, they tolde vs [f] ten times, [g] From all places, whence yee shall returne, they will be vpon vs.

[f] That is, often times.

[g] They, which brought the tidings, said thus, When you leaue your worke, and goe thither to eate or to rest, your enemies will assaile you.

13 Therefore set I in the lower places behind the wall vpon the toppes of the stones and placed the people by their families, with their swords, their speares and their bowes.

14 Then I beheld, & rose vp, and said vnto the Princes, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, Be not afraid of them: [h] remember the great Lord, and fearefull, and fight for your brethren, your sonnes, and your daughters, your wiues, and your houses.

[h] Who is euer at hand to deliuer his out of danger, and therefore seeing they should fight for the maintenance of Gods glory, and for the preseruation of their owne liues and of theirs, he encourageth them to play the valiant men.

15 And when our enemies heard that it was knowen vnto vs, then God brought their counsell to nought, and wee turned all againe to the wall, euery one vnto his worke.

16 And from that day, halfe of the yong men did the labour, and the other halfe part of them held the speares, and shields, and bowes, and harbergins: and the rulers stood [i] behind all the house of Iudah.

[i] To ouerlee them, and to encourage them to their worke.

17 They that builded on the wal, and they that bare burthens, and they that laded, did the worke with one hand, and with the other helde the sword.

18 For euery one of the builders had his sworde girded on his loynes, and so builded: and he that blew the trumpet, was beside me.

19 Then saide I vnto the Princes, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, The worke is great and large, and we are separated vpon the wall, one farre from another.

20 In what place therefore yee heare the sound of the trumpet, [k] resort yee thither vnto vs: our God shall fight for vs.

21 So we laboured in the worke, & halfe of them held the speares, from the appearing of the morning, till the starres came forth.

22 And at the same time saide I vnto the people, Let euery one with his seruant lodge within Ierusalem, that they may bee a watch for vs in the night, and labour in the day.

23 So neither I, nor my brethren, nor my seruants, nor the men of the ward, (which followed me) none of vs did put off our clothes, saue euery one put them off [l] for washing.

k Meaning, to resist their enemies, if need required.

l That is, when they purified themselues, or else when they washed their clothes.

CHAP. V.

1 The people are oppressed and in necessitie. 6 Nehemiah remedieth it. 14 He tooke not the portion of others that had ruled before, lest he should grieue the people.

NOw there was a great cry of the people, and of their wiues [a] against their brethren the Iewes.

2 For there were that said, Wee, our sonnes & our daughters are many, therefore we take vp [b] corne, that we may eate and liue.

3 And there were that said, Wee must gage our lands, and our vineyards, and our houses, and take vp corne for the famine.

4 There were also that said, Wee haue borowed money for the Kings [c] tribute, vpon our lands and our vineyards.

5 And now our flesh is as [d] the flesh of our brethren, and our sonnes as their sonnes: and loe, we bring into subiection our sonnes and our daughters, as seruants, and there be of our daughters now in subiection, and there is no power [e] in our hands: for other men haue our lands and our vineyards.

6 Then was I very angry when I heard their cry and these words.

7 And I thought in my minde, and I rebuked the princes, and the rulers, and sayd vnto them, You lay [f] burthens euery one vpon his brethren: and I set a great [g] assembly against them.

8 And I said vnto them, We (according to our abilitie) haue redeemed our brethren the Iewes, which were solde vnto the heathen: and will you sell your brethren againe, or shall they be [h] solde vnto vs? Then held they their peace, and could not answere.

9 [i] I said also, That which ye doe, is not good. Ought yee not to walke in the feare of our God, for the [k] reproch of the heathen our enemies?

a Against the rich, which oppressed them.

b This is the complaint of the people, shewing to what extremitie they were brought vnto.

c To pay our tribute to the king of the Persians, which was exacted peerely of vs.

d By nature the rich is no better then the poore.

e We are not able to redeeme them, but for pouertie are constrained to hire them to others.

f You presse them with vsury, and seeke how to bring all things into your hands.

g Both because they should be moued with pitie, seeing how many were by them oppressed, and also heare the iudgement of others, which should be as it were witnesses of their dealing toward their brethren.

h Seeing God hath once deliuered them from the bondage of the heathen, shall we make them our slaues?

i Meaning Nehemiah. k Who by this occasion will blaspheme the Name of God, seeing that our acts are no better then theirs.

10 For euen I, my brethren, and my seruants doe lend them money and corne: I pray you, let vs leaue off this ‖ burden.

‖ Or, vsury.

11 Restore, I pray you, vnto them this day their lands, their vineyards, their oliues, and their houses, and remit the hundreth part of the siluer and of the corne, of the wine, and of the oyle [l] that ye exact of them.

l Which ye take of them for the lone.

12 Then said they, We will restore it, and will not require it of them: we will do as thou hast said. Then I called the Priests, and caused them to sweare, that they should doe according to this promise.

13 So I shooke my lappe, and saide, So let God shake out euery man that will not performe this promise, from his house, and from his labour: euen thus let him bee shaken out, and emptied. And all the Congregation said, Amen, and praised the Lord: and the people did according to this promise.

14 And from the time that the King gaue me charge to be gouernour in the land of Iudah, from the twentieth yeere, euen vnto the two and thirtieth yeere of King Artahshashte, that is, twelue yeere, I and my brethren haue not eaten the [m] bread of the gouernour.

m I receiued not that portion, and diet, which the gouernors that were before me, exacted: wherein he declareth that he rather sought the wealth of the people, then his owne commoditie.

15 For the former gouernours that were before me, had bene chargeable vnto the people, and had taken of them bread and wine, besides fourtie shekels of siluer: yea, and their seruants bare rule ouer the people: and so did not I, because of the feare of God,

16 But rather I fortified a portion in the worke of this wal, and we bought no land, and all my seruants came thither together vnto the worke.

17 Moreouer there were at my table an hundreth and fiftie of the Iewes, and rulers which came vnto vs from among the heathen that are about vs.

18 And there was prepared dayly an ore, and sixe chosen sheepe, and birdes were prepared for me, and ‖ within ten dayes wine for all [n] in abundance. Yet for all this I required not the bread of the gouernour: for the bondage was grieuous vnto this people.

‖ Or, once in ten dayes.

n Whereas at other times they had by measure, at this time they had most liberally.

19 Remember mee, O my God, in goodnesse, according to all that I haue done for this people.

CHAP. VI.

8 Nehemiah answereth with great wisdome, and zeale to his aduersarie. 11 He is not discouraged by the false prophets.

AND when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and Geshem the Arabian, and the rest of our enemies heard that I had built the wall, and that there were no moe [a] breaches therein, (though at that time I had not set vp the doores vpon the gates) a That is, that they were ioyned together, as Chap. 4. 6.

2 Then sent Sanballat and Geshem vnto me, me, saying, Come thou that we may meet together in the villages in the plaine of Ono: and they thought to do me euill.

3 Therefore I sent messengers vnto them, saying, I haue a great worke to doe, and I can not come downe: [b] why should the worke cease, whiles I leaue it, and come downe to you?

4 Yet they sent vnto me foure times after this sort. And I answered them after the same maner.

5 Then sent Sanballat his seruant after this sort vnto mee the fift time, with an open letter in his hand,

6 Wherein was written, Is is reported among the heathen, and ‖ Gashmu hath said it, that thou & the Iewes thinke to rebell, for the which cause thou buildest the wall, & thou wilt be their King according to these [c] words.

7 Thou hast also ordained [d] the Prophets to preach of thee at Ierusalem, saying, There is a King in Iudah: and nowe according to these wordes it shall come to the Kings eares: come nowe therefore, and let vs take counsell together.

8 Then I sent vnto him, saying, It is not done according to these wordes that thou sayest: for thou feignest them of thine owne heart.

9 For all they afraide vs, saying, Their hands shall be weakened from the worke, and it shall not be done: now therefore † encourage thou me.

10 ¶ And I came to the house of Shemaiah the sonne of Delaiah the sonne of Mehetabeel, and he was [e] shut vp, and he said, Let vs come together into the house of GOD in the middes of the Temple, and shut the doores of the Temple: for they will come to slay thee: yea, in the night will they come to kill thee.

11 Then I said, [f] Should such a man as I, flee? Who is he being as I am, that would goe into the Temple to liue? I will not go in.

12 And loe, I perceiued, that God had not sent him, but that he pronounced this prophecie against me: for Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him.

13 Therefore was he hired, that I might be afraide, and doe thus, and sinne, & that they might haue an euill report that they might reproch me.

14 My God, remember thou Tobiah, and Sanballat according vnto these their works, and Noadiah the [g] Prophetesse also, and the rest of the Prophets that would haue put me in feare.

15 ¶ Notwithstanding the wall was finished vn the fiue and twentieth day of [h] Elul, in two and [i] fiftie dayes.

16 And when all our enemies heard thereof, euen all the heathen that were about vs, they were afraid, & their courage failed them: for they knew that this worke was wrought by our God.

17 And in these dayes were there many of the Princes of Iudah, whose [k] letters went vnto Tobiah, and those of Tobiah came vnto them.

18 For there were many in Iudah, that were sworne vnto him: for he was the sonne in lawe of Shechaniah, the sonne of Arah: and his sonne Iehonathan had the daughter of Meshullam, the sonne of Berechiah.

19 Yea, they spake in his praise before me, and told him my wordes, and Tobiah sent letters to put me in feare.

2 Then I commanded my brother Hanani, and Hananiah the Prince of the palace in Ierusalem (for he was doubtlesse a faithful man, and feared God aboue many)

4 Now the citie was large and great, but the people were fewe therein, and the houses were not builded.

CHAP. VIII.

2 Ezra gathered together the people, and readeth to them the Law. 12 They reioyce in Israel for the knowledge of the word of God. 15 They keepe the feast of Tabernacles or boothes.

AND all the people assembled themselues † together, in the streete that was before the watergate, and they spake vnto Ezra the a Scribe, that he would bring the booke of the Law of Moses, which the Lord had commanded to Israel.

† Hebr. as one man.

a Reade Ezra 7.6.

2 And Ezra the Priest brought the Law before the Congregation both of men and women, and of all that b could heare and vnderstand it, in the first day of the seuenth moneth.

b Which had age and discretion to vnderstand.

3 And he read therin in the streete that was before the watergate (from the morning vntill c the midday) before men and women, and them that vnderstood it, and the eares of all the people hearkened vnto the booke of the Lawe.

c It is declared the great zeale that the people had to heare the word of God.

4 And Ezra the Scribe stood vpon a pulpit of wood which he had made for the preaching, and beside him stood Mattithiah, & Shema, and Ananiah, and Uriiah, and Hilkiah, and Maaseiah on his right hand, and on his left hand Pedaiah, and Mishael, and Malchiah, and Hashum, and Hashbadana, Zechariah, and Meshullam.

5 And Ezra opened the booke before all the people: for he was d aboue all the people: and when he opened it, all the people stood vp.

d To the intent that his voyce might be the better heard.

6 And Ezra praised the Lord the great God, and all the people answered, Amen, Amen, with lifting vp their handes: and they bowed themselues, and worshipped the Lord with their faces toward the ground.

7 Also Jeshua, and Bani, & Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodiiah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, and the Leuites caused the people to vnderstand the law, and the people stood in their place.

8 And they read in the booke of the Law of God distinctly, and gaue the sence, and caused them to vnderstand the reading.

9 Then Nehemiah (which is Tirshatha) and Ezra the Priest and scribe, and the Leuites that instructed the people, said vnto all the people, This day is holy vnto ỳ Lord your God: mourne not, neither weepe: for all the people e wept, when they heard the words of ỳ Law.

e In confuting their offences against the Law. Therefore the Leuites doe not reproue them for mourning, but assure them of Gods mercies forasmuch as they are repentant.

10 He said also vnto them, Go, and eate of the fat, and drinke the sweete, and send part vnto them, for whom none is f prepared: for this day is holy vnto our Lord: be ye not sorie therefore: for the g ioy of the Lord is our strength.

f That is, remember the poore.

g Reioyce in the Lord, and he will giue you strength

11 And the Leuites made silence throughout all the people, saying, Holde your peace: for the day is holy, be not sad therefore.

12 Then all the people went to eate and to drinke, and to send away part, and to make great ioy, because they had vnderstood the words that they had taught them.

13 And on the second day the chiefe fathers of all the people, the Priests and the Leuites were gathered vnto Ezra the Scribe, that he also might instruct them in the words of the Law.

14 And they found written in the Lawe, (that the Lord had commanded by Moses) that the children of Israel should dwel in * boothes in the feast of the seuenth moneth,

* Leuit. 23.34.

15 And that they should cause it to bee declared and proclaimed in all their cities, and in Jerusalem, saying, Go forth vnto the mount, and bring oliue branches, and pine branches, and branches of || myrtus, and palme branches, and branches of thicke trees, to make boothes, as it is written.

|| Or, goodly branches, as Leuit. 23.40.

16 So the people went forth and brought them them, and made them boothes, euery one vpon the [h] roofe of his house, and in their courts, and in the courts of the house of God, and in the streete by the watergate, and in the streete of the gate of Ephraim.

h For their houses were made flat aboue, Deut. 22.8.

17 And all the congregation of them that were come againe out of the captiuitie made boothes, and sate vnder the boothes: for since the [i] time of Ieshua the sonne of Nun vnto this day, had not the children of Israel done so, and there was very great ioy.

i Which was almost a thousand yeeres.

18 And he read in the booke of the Lawe of God euery day, from the first day vnto the last day. And they kept the feast seuen dayes, and on the eight day a solemne assembly, according vnto the maner.

CHAP. IX.

1 The people repent, and forsake their strange wiues. 5 The Leuites exhort them to praise God, 6 declaring his wonders, 26 And their ingratitude, 30 And Gods great mercies toward them.

IN the foure and twentieth day of this [a] moneth the children of Israel were assembled with *fasting, and with sackcloth, and earth vpon them.

2 (And they that were of the seed of Israel were separated from all the † strangers) and they stood and confessed their sinnes, and the iniquities of their fathers.

† Ebr. strange children.

3 And they stood vp in their place and read in the booke of the Law of the Lord their God foure times on the day, and they [b] confessed and worshipped the Lord their God foure times.

b They made confession of their sinnes, and vsed prayers.

4 Then stood vp vpon the staires of the Leuites, Ieshua, and Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani, and Chenani, and cried with a loud voice vnto the Lord their God.

5 And the Leuites said, euen Ieshua and Kadmiel, Bani, Hashabniah, Sherebiah, Hodiiah, Shebaniah, and Pethahiah, Stand vp, and praise the Lord your God for euer and euer, and let them praise thy glorious name, O God, which excelleth aboue all thankesgiuing and praise.

6 Thou art Lord alone: thou hast made heauen, and the heauen of all heauens, with all their hoste, the earth, and all things that are therein, the seas, and all that are in them, and thou preseruest them all, and the hoste of the heauen worshippeth thee.

7 Thou art, O Lord, the God, that hast chosen Abram, and broughtest him out of * Ur in Caldea, * and madest his name Abraham,

* Gen.11.31.
* Gen.17.5.

8 And foundest his heart faithfull before thee, * and madest a couenant with him, to giue vnto his seede the lande of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, and Perizzites, and Iebusites, and Girgashites, and hast performed thy wordes, because thou art iust.

* Gen.15.18.

9 * Thou hast also considered the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and heard their cry by the red Sea,

* Exod.3.7. and 14.10.

10 And shewed tokens and wonders vpon Pharaoh, and on all his seruants, and on al the people of his land: for thou knewest that they dealt proudly against them: therefore thou madest thee a Name, as appeareth this day.

11 * For thou diddest breake vp the Sea before them, and they went through the mids of the Sea on dry land: and those that pursued them, hast thou cast into the bottomes as a stone, in the mighty waters:

* Exod.14.22.

12 * And leddest them in the day with a pillar of a cloude, and in the night with a pillar of fire to giue them light in the way that they went.

* Exod.13.21.

13 * Thou camest downe also vpon mount Sinai, & spakest vnto them from heauen, and gauest them right iudgements, & true lawes, ordinances, and good commandements,

* Exod.19.18, 20. and 20.1.

14 And declaredst vnto them thine holy Sabbath, and commaundedst them precepts, and ordinances, and lawes, by the hand of Moses thy seruant:

15 * And gauest them bread from heauen for their hunger, * and broughtest foorth water for them out of the rocke for their thirst: and *promisedst them that they should goe in, and take possession of the land, for the which thou haddest lift vp thine hand for to giue them.

* Exod.16.15.
* Exod.17.6.
* Deut.1.8.

16 But they and our fathers behaued themselues proudly, and hardened their necke, so that they hearkened not vnto thy commandements,

17 But refused to obey, and would not remember thy marueilous workes that thou haddest done for them, but hardened their neckes, and had in their heads to returne to their bondage by their rebellion: but thou, O God of mercies, gracious and full of compassion, of long suffering, and of great mercie, yet forsookest them not.

18 Moreouer, when they made them a molten calfe (and said, This is thy God that brought thee vp out of the land of Egypt) and committed great blasphemies, 19 Yet thou for thy great mercies forsookest them not in the wildernesse: *the pillar of the cloude departed not from them by day to leade them the way, neither the pillar of fire by night, to shew them light, and the way whereby they should goe.

* Exod.13.22. numb.14.14. 1.cor.10.1.

20 Thou gauest also thy good Spirit to instruct them, and withheldest not thy MAN from their mouth, and gauest them water for their thirst.

21 Thou didst also feed them fourty yeres

in the wildernes: they lacked nothing: * their clothes waxed not olde, and their feete [c] swelled not.

22 And thou gauest them kingdomes and people, and [d] scatteredst them into corners: so they possessed the *land of Sihon and the land of the king of Heshbon, and the lande of Og king of Bashan.

23 And thou diddest multiply their children, like the starres of the heauen, & broughtest them into the land, whereof thou haddest spoken vnto their fathers, that they should go, and possesse it.

24 So the children went in, and possessed the land, & thou subduedst before them the inhabitants of the land, euen the Canaanites, and gauest them into their hands, with their kings & the people of the land, that they might doe with them what they would.

25 And they tooke their strong cities and the fat land, & possessed houses, full of all goods, cisternes digged out, vineyards, and oliues, and trees for foode in abundance, and they did eate, and were filled, and became fat, and liued in pleasure through thy great goodnesse.

26 Yet they were disobedient, and rebelled against thee, and cast thy Law behind their backes, and slew thy Prophets (which [e] protested among them to turne them vnto thee) and committed great blasphemies.

27 Therefore thou deliueredst them into the hand of their enemies that vexed them: yet in the time of their affliction, when they cried vnto thee, thou heardest them from the heauen, and through thy great mercies thou gauest them sauiours, who saued them out of the hand of their aduersaries.

28 But when they had [f] rest, they returned to doe euill before thee: therefore lefrest thou them in the hand of their enemies, so that they had the dominion ouer them, yet when they conuerted and cried vnto thee, thou heardest them from heauen, and deliueredst them according to thy great mercies many times,

29 And protestedst among them that thou mightest bring them againe vnto thy Lawe: but they behaued themselues proudely, and hearkened not vnto thy commandements, but sinned against thy iudgements (*which a man should doe and liue in them) and [g] pulled away the shoulder, and were stiffenecked, and would not [h] heare.

30 Yet thou † diddest forbeare them many yeeres, and protestedst among them by thy Spirit, euen by the hand of thy Prophets, but they would not heare: therefore gauest thou them into the hand of the people of the lands.

31 Yet for thy great mercies thou hast not consumed them, neither forsaken them: for thou art a gracious and mercifull God, 32 Now therefore our God, * thou great God, mightie and terrible, that keepest couenant and * mercie, let not all the affliction that hath come vnto vs, seeme a litle before thee, that is, to our Kings, to our princes, and to our Priestes, and to our Prophets, and to our fathers, and to all thy people since the time of the Kings of [i] Asshur vnto this day.

33 Surely thou art iust in all that is come vpon vs: for thou hast [k] dealt truely, but wee haue done wickedly.

34 And our Kings and our Princes, our Priestes and our fathers haue not done thy Law, nor regarded thy commandements nor thy protestations, wherewith thou hast [l] protested among them.

35 And they haue not serued thee in their kingdome, and in thy great goodnes that thou shewedst vnto them, and in the large and fatte land which thou diddest set before them, and haue not conuerted from their euill workes.

36 Beholde, we are seruants this day, and the land that thou gauest vnto our fathers, to eate the [m] fruite thereof, and the goodnes thereof, behold, we are seruants therein

37 And it yeeldeth much fruite vnto the kings whom thou hast set ouer vs, because of our sinnes: and they haue dominion ouer our bodies, and ouer our cattell at their pleasure, and we are in great affliction.

38 Nowe because of all this we make [n] a sure couenant, and write it, and our Princes, our Leuites and our Priests seale vnto it.

CHAP. XII.

1 The Prieſts and Leuites which came with Zerubbabel vnto Ieruſalem, are numbred, 27 and the wall is dedicated.

8 And the Leuites, Ieshua, Binnui, Kadmiel, Sherebiah, Iudah, Mattaniah, [c] were ouer the thankeſgiuings, he, and his brethren.

c Had charge of them that ſang the Pſalmes.

9 And Bakbukiah and Unni, and their brethren were about them in the [d] watches.

d They kept the wards and watches according to their turnes, as 1. Chron. 23. 6.

10 And Ieshua begate Ioiakim: Ioiakim alſo begate Eliashib, Eliashib begate Ioiada.

11 And Ioiada begate Ionathan, and Ionathan begate Iaddua, 12 And in the daies of Ioiakim were theſe, the chiefe fathers of the Prieſts: vnder [e] Seraiah was Meraiah, vnder Ieremiah, Hananiah, e That is, next to Seraiah, or rather of that order, which was called after the name of Seraiah.

13 Under Ezra, Meshullam, vnder Amariah, Iehohanan,

14 Under Melicu, Ionathan, vnder Shebaniah, Ioſeph,

15 Under Harim, Adna, vnder Meraioth, Helkai,

16 Under Iddo, Zechariah, vnder Ginnithon, Meshullam,

22 In the dayes of Eliashib, Ioiada, and Iohanan and Iaddua were the chiefe fathers of the Leuites written, and the Prieſtes in the reigne of Darius the Persian.

23 The sonnes of Leui, the chiefe fathers were written in the booke of the Chronicles euen vnto the dayes of Johanan the sonne of Eliashib.

24 And the chiefe of the Leuites were Hashabiah, Sherebiah, and Jeshua the sonne of Kadmiel, and their brethren about them to giue praise and thankes, according to the ordinance of Dauid the man of God, ward ouer g against ward.

g That is, one after another, and euery one in his course.

25 Mattaniah and Bakbukiah, Obadiah, Meshullam, Talmon and Akkub were porters keeping the ward at the threesholds of the gates.

26 These were in the dayes of Ioiakim, the sonne of Jeshua, the sonne of Iozadak, and in the dayes of Nehemiah the captaine, and of Ezra the Priest and Scribe.

27 And in the dedication of the wall at Jerusalem they sought the Leuites out of all their places to bring them to Jerusalem to keepe the dedication and gladnesse, both with thankesgiuings and with songs, cymbales, violes, and with harpes.

† Ebr. sonnes of the singers.

28 Then the † singers gathered themselues together both from the plaine countrey about Jerusalem, and from the villages of h Netophathi, h Which were a certaine family, and had their possessions in the fields, 1. Chron. 2. 54.

29 And from the house of Gilgal, and out of the countreys of Geba, and Azmaueth: for the singers had built them villages round about Jerusalem.

30 And the Priests and Leuites were purified, and cleansed the people, and the gates, and the wall.

i Meaning, Nehemiah.

31 And i I brought vp the princes of Iudah vpon the wall, & appointed two great companies to giue thankes, and the one went on the right hand of the wall toward the dung gate.

32 And after them went Hoshaiah, and halfe of the princes of Iudah, 33 And Azariah, Ezra and Meshullam,

34 Iudah, Beniamin, and Shemaiah, and Jeremiah,

35 And of the Priests sonnes with trumpets, Zechariah the sonne of Jonathan, the sonne of Shemaiah, the sonne of Mattaniah, the sonne of Michaiah, the sonne of Zaccur, the sonne of Asaph.

k That is, the brethren of Zaccur.

36 And k his brethren, Shemaiah, and Azareel, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nethaneel, and Iudah, Hanani, with the musicall instruments of Dauid the man of God: and Ezra the Scribe went before them.

l Which was the going vp to the mount Zion, which is called the citie of Dauid.

37 And to the gate of the fountaine, euen ouer against them went they vp by the l staires of the citie of Dauid, at the going vp of the wall beyond the house of Dauid, euen vnto the water gate Eastward.

38 And the second company of them that gaue thankes, went on the other side, and I after them, and the halfe of the people was vpon the wall, and vpon the towre of the fornaces euen vnto the broad wall.

39 And vpon the gate of Ephraim, and vpon the olde gate, and vpon the fish gate, and the towre of Hananeel, and the tower of Meah, euen vnto the sheepegate: and they stood in the gate of the ward.

40 So stood the two companies of them that gaue thankes in the house of God, and I and the halfe of the rulers with me.

41 The Priests also, Eliakim, Maaseiah, Miniamin, Michaiah, Elioenai, Zechariah, Hananiah, with trumpets, 42 And Maaseiah, and Shemaiah, and Eleazar, and Uzzi, and Iehohanan, and Malchiiah, and Elam, and Ezer: and the singers † sang loude, hauing Izrahiah which was the ouerseer.

† Ebr. caused to heare.

43 And the same day they offered great sacrifices and reioyced: for God had giuen them great ioy, so that both the women, and the children were ioyfull: and the ioy of Jerusalem was heard farre off.

44 Also at the same time were men appointed m ouer the chambers of the store for the offerings for the first fruites, and for the tythes to gather into them out of the fields of the cities, the portions of the Law for the Priests and the Leuites: for Iudah reioyced for the Priests and for the Leuites, that serued.

m Which were chambers appointed by Hezekiah to put in the tithes, and such things, 2. Chron. 31. 11. and now were repaired againe for the same vse.

45 And both the singers and the porters kept the ward of their God, & the ward of the purification according to the commandement of Dauid, and Salomon his sonne.

46 * For in the dayes of Dauid & Asaph, of old were chiefe singers, and songs of praise and thankesgiuing vnto God.

* 1. Chro. 15. 16.

47 And in the dayes of Zerubbabel, and in the daies of Nehemiah did all Israel giue portions vnto the singers and porters, euery day his portion, and they gaue the holy things vnto the Leuites, and the Leuites n gaue the holy things vnto the sonnes of Aaron.

n That is, the tenth part of the tithes.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The Law is read. 3 They separate from them all strangers. 15 Nehemiah reproueth them that brake the Sabbath. 30 An ordinance to serue God.

AND on that day did they reade in the booke of Moses, in the audience of the people, and it was found written therein, that the Ammonite, and the Moabite * should not enter into the Congregation of God,

* Deut. 23. 3.

2 Because they met not the children of Israel with bread & with water, * but hired Balaam against them, that he should curse them: and our God turned the curse into a blessing.

* Numb. 22. 5. 6.

3 Now when they had heard the Law, they separated

separated from Israel [a] all those that were mixed.

4 ¶ And before [b] this, had the Priest Eliashib the ouerlight of the chamber of the house of our God, being [c] kinseman to Tobiah.

5 And he had made him a great chamber, and there had they aforetime laid the offrings, the incense, and the vessels, and the tithes of corne, of wine, and of oyle (appointed for the Leuites, and the singers, and the porters) and the offerings of the Priests.

6 But in all this time was not I in Jerusalem: for in the two & thirtieth yere of Artahshashte king of Babel, came I vnto the king, and ‖after certaine dayes, I obteined of ỹ king.

7 And when I was come to Jerusalem, I vnderstood [e] the euill that Eliashib had done for Tobiah, in that hee had made him a chamber in the court of the house of God,

8 And it grieued me sore: therefore I cast forth all the vessels of the house of Tobiah out of the chamber.

9 And I commanded them to cleanse the chambers: and thither brought I againe the vessels of the house of God with the meate offring and the incense.

10 And I perceiued that the portions of the Leuites had not bene giuen, and that euery one was fled to his land, euen the Leuites and the singers that executed the worke.

11 Then reproued I the rulers, and said, Why is the house of God forsaken? And I assembled them, and set them in their place.

12 Then brought all Judah the tithes of corne & of wine, and of oile vnto the treasures.

13 And I made treasurers ouer the treasures, Shelemiah the Priest, and Zadok the scribe, and of the Leuites, Pedaiah, and vnder their hand Hanan the son of Zaccur the sonne of Mattaniah: for they were counted faithful, and their office was to distribute vnto their brethren.

14 Remember me, O my God, herein, and wipe not out my [f] kindnesse that I haue shewed on the house of my God, and on the offices thereof.

15 In those dayes saw I in Judah them, that trode wine presses on the Sabbath, and that brought in sheaues, and which laded asses also with wine, grapes, and figges, and all burdens, and brought them into Jerusalem vpon the Sabbath day: and ‖ I protested to them in the day that they sold vitailes.

16 There dwelt men of Tyrus also therein, which brought fish and all wares, and sold on the Sabbath vnto the children of Judah, euen in Jerusalem.

17 Then reproued I the rulers of Judah, and sayd vnto them, What euill thing is this that ye doe, and breake the Sabbath day?

18 Did not your fathers [h] thus, and our God brought all this plague vpon vs, and vpon this citie? yet yee increase the wrath vpon Israel, in breaking the Sabbath.

19 And when the gates of Jerusalem began to be [i] darke before the Sabbath, I commaunded to shut the gates, and charged that they should not bee opened till after the Sabbath, and some of my seruants set I at the gates, that there should no burden bee brought in on the Sabbath day.

20 So the chapmen and merchants of all merchandise remained once or twise all night without Jerusalem.

21 And I protested among them, and said vnto them, Why tary yee all night about the wall? If yee doe it once againe, I will lay hands vpon you. From that time came they no more on the Sabbath.

22 ¶ And I sayd vnto the Leuites, that they should cleanse themselues, and that they should come and [k] keepe the gates, to sanctifie the Sabbath day. Remember me, O my God concerning this, and pardon mee according to thy great mercy.

23 In those dayes also I saw Jewes that married wiues of [l] Ashdod, of Ammon, and of Moab.

24 And their children spake halfe in the speach of Ashdod, and could not speake in the Jewes language, & according to the language of the one people, and of the other people.

25 Then I reproued them, and [m] cursed them, and smote certaine of them, & pulled off their haire, and tooke an othe of them by God, Yee shall not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, neither shal ye take of their daughters vnto your sonnes, nor for your selues.

26 * Did not Salomon the King of Israel sinne by these things? yet among many nations was there no King like him: for he was *beloued of his God, and God had made him King ouer Israel: * yet strange women caused him to sinne.

27 Shall wee then obey vnto you, to doe all this great euill, and to transgresse against our God, euen to marrie strange wiues?

28 And one of the sonnes of Joiada the sonne of Eliashib the hie Priest was the sonne in law of Sanballat the Horonite: but I chased him from me.

29 Remember them, O my God, that [n] defile the Priesthood, and the Couenant of the Priesthood, and of the Leuites.

30 Then cleansed I them from all strangers, and appointed the wards of the Priests and of the Leuites, euery one in his office, 31 And for the offring of the wood at times appointed, and for the first fruits. Remember me, O my God, [o] in goodnesse.

a That is, all such which had ioyned in vnlawfull marriage, and also those with whom God had forbidden them to haue societie.

b That the separation was made.

c He was ioyned in affinitie with Tobiah the Ammonite, and enemie of the Jewes.

d Called also Darius, Ezra 7.1.

‖Or, at the yeeres ende.

e Thus we see to what inconueniences the people fall into, when they are destitute of one that hath the feare of God, seeing that their chiefe gouernour was but a while absent, and yet they fel into such great absurdities: as appeareth also, Exod. 32.1.

f He protesteth that he did his office with a good conscience, yet he doeth not iustifie himselfe herein, but desireth God to fauour him, and to be mercifull vnto him for his owne goodnesse sake, as vers. 22 & 31.

‖ I declared vnto them, that God would not suffer such transgressours of his Law to be vnpunished.

g Was not this a great cause, why God plagued vs in times past? meaning, that if they transgressed now in the same againe, their plague should be greater.

h Did not your fathers sinne in the like? and was not God displeased with them for the same?

i About the time that the sunne went downe: for the Sabbath lasted from the sunne going downe of the one day, to the sunne setting of the other.

k Meaning, of the Temple, that none that was vncleane, should enter.

l Which was a citie of the Philistims, and they had married wiues thereof, and so had corrupted their speach and religion.

m That is, I did excommunicate them, and driue them out of the Congregation.

The Argvment.

BEcause of the diuersitie of names, whereby they vsed to name their Kings, and the supputation of yeeres wherein the Ebrewes and the Grecians doe varie, diuers authours write diuersly as touching this Ahashuerosh, but it seemeth, Dan. 6. 1. and 9. 1. that he was Darius king of the Medes, and sonne of Astyages, called also Ahashuerosh, which was a name of honour, and signified great and chiefe, as chiefe head. Herein is declared the great mercies of God toward his Church: who neuer faileth them in their greatest dangers, but when all hope of worldly helpe faileth, hee euer stirreth vp some, by whom he sendeth comfort, and deliuerance. Herein also is described the ambition, pride and crueltie of the wicked, when they come to honour, and their sudden fall when they are at highest: and how God preserueth, and preferreth them which are zealous of his glory, and haue a care and loue toward their brethren.

CHAP. I.

3 King Ahashuerosh maketh a royall feast, 12 whereunto the Qyeene Vashti will not come. 19 For which cause she is diuorced. 20 The Kings decree touching the preeminence of man.

a Called also Darius, who was now the soueraigne Monarch, and had the gouernment of the Medes, Persians and Caldeans, some thinke he was Darius Hystaspis sonne, called also Artaxerxes.

b Daniel chap. 6. 1. maketh mention but of fiue score, leauing out the number that is vnperfite, as the Scripture in diuers places vseth.

c That is, had rest and quietnesse.

* Nehem. 1. 1.

d Which they vsed in those countreys in stead of tables.

e As was beseeming for so magnificall a king.

f None might be compelled to drinke more then it pleased him.

g Which was the last day of the feast that the King made for the people, as verse 5.

NOw the daies of a Ahashuerosh (this is Ahashuerosh that reigned frõ India euen vnto Ethiopia, ouer an b hundreth & seuen & twenty prouinces) 2 In those dayes when the King Ahashuerosh c sate on his throne, which was in the palace of * Shushan,

3 In the third yeere of his reigne he made a feast vnto all his princes and his seruants, euen the power of Persia and Media, and to the captaines and gouernors of the prouinces which were before him,

4 That hee might shew the riches and glory of his kingdome, and the honour of his great maiestie many dayes, euen an hundreth and fourescore dayes.

5 And when these dayes were expired, the King made a feast to all the people that were found in the palace of Shushan, both vnto great and small, seuen dayes, in the court of the garden of the Kings palace,

6 Vnder an hanging of white, greene, and blue clothes, fastened with cordes of fine linnen and purple, in siluer rings, and pillars of marble: the d beds were of gold, and of siluer vpon a pauement of porphyre, and marble, and alabaster, and blue colour.

7 And they gaue them drinke in vessels of gold, and changed vessell after vessell, and royall wine in abundance according to the e power of the King.

8 And the drinking was by an order, none might f compell: for so the king had appointed vnto all the officers of his house, that they should doe according to euery mans pleasure.

9 ¶ The Queene Vashti made a feast also for the women in the royall house of King Ahashuerosh.

10 Vpon the g seuenth day when the King were merie with wine, he commanded Mehuman, Bizetha, Harbona, Bigtha, and Abagtha, Zethar, and Carcas, the seuen eunuches, (that serued in the presence of King Ahashuerosh)

11 To bring Queene Vashti before the King with the crowne royall, that hee might shewe the people and the princes her beautie: for she was faire to looke vpon.

12 But the Queene Vashti refused to come at the Kings word, † which he had giuen in charge to the eunuches: therefore the King was very angry, & his wrath kindled in him.

† Ebr. which was in the hand of the eunuches.

13 Then the King sayd to the wise men, h that knewe the times (for so was the Kings maner towards all that knew the law and the iudgement:

h That had experience of things as they had learned by diligent marking in continuance of time.

14 And the next vnto him was Carshena, Shetar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Marsena, and Memucan the seuen princes of Persia, and Media, which saw the i kings face, and sate first in the kingdome)

i Which were his chiefe counsellers, that might haue alwayes accesse to him.

15 What shall wee doe vnto the Queene Vashti according to the law, because shee did not according to the word of the King Ahashuerosh by the commission of the eunuches?

16 Then Memucan answered before the King and the Princes, The Queene Vashti hath not onely done k euill against the King, but against all the princes, and against all the people that are in all the prouinces of King Ahashuerosh.

k By her disobedience she hath giuen an example to all women to doe the like to their husbands.

17 For the l acte of the Queene shall come abroad vnto all women, so that they shall despise their husbands in their owne eyes, and shall say, The King Ahashuerosh commanded Vashti the Queene to bee brought in before him, but she came not.

l That is, her disobedience.

18 So shall the m princesses of Persia and Media this day say vnto all the Kings Princes, when they heare of the act of the Queene: thus shall there be much despitefulnesse and wrath.

m Meaning, that they would take first occasion hereof to doe the like, and that the rest of women would by continuance doe the same.

19 If it please the King, let a royal decree proceed from him, and let it be written among the statutes of Persia and Media, (and let it not be transgressed) that Vashti come n no more before King Ahashuerosh: and let the King giue her royall estate vnto her companion that is better then she.

n Let her be diuorced and another made Queene.

20 And when the decree of the King which shall bee made, shall bee published throughout out all his kingdome (though it be ° great) all the women ſhall giue their huſbands honour, both great and ſmall.

21 And this ſaying pleaſed the King and the princes, and the King did according to the word of Memucan.

22 For hee ſent letters into all the prouinces of the king, into euery prouince according to the writing thereof, & to euery people after their language, that euery man ſhould p beare rule in his owne houſe, and that he ſhould publiſh it in the language of the ſame people.

p That is, that the wife ſhould be ſubiect to the husband, and at his commandement.

CHAP. II.

2 After the Queene is put away, certaine young maydes are brought to the King. 17 Eſter pleaſeth the King, and is made Queene. 22 Mordecai diſcloſeth vnto the King thoſe that would betray him.

a That is, he called the matter againe into communication.

AFter theſe things, when the wrath of King Ahaſhuerosh was appeaſed, he a remembred Vaſhti, and what ſhee had done, and what was decreed b againſt her.

b By the ſeuen wiſe men of his counſell.

2 And the Kings ſeruants that miniſtred vnto him, ſayd, Let them ſeeke for the King beautifull young virgins,

3 And let the King appoint officers through all the prouinces of his kingdome, and let them gather all the beautifull young virgins vnto the palace of Shuſhan, into the houſe of the women, vnder the hand of Hege the Kings eunuch, c keeper of the women, to giue them their things d for purification.

c The abuſe of theſe countries was ſo great, that they inuented many meanes to ſerue the luſts of princes: and therefore, as they ordained wicked lawes that the King might haue whole daughters hee would, ſo they had diuers houſes appointed, as one for them, whiles they were virgins, another when they were concubines, and for the Queenes mother.

d Reade what this purification was, verſe 12.

4 And the mayde that ſhall pleaſe the King, let her reigne in the ſteade of Vaſhti. And this pleaſed the King, and he did ſo.

5 ¶ In the citie of Shuſhan there was a certaine Iew, whoſe name was Mordecai the ſonne of Iair, the ſonne of Shimei, the ſonne of Kiſh a man of Iemini,

6 Which had bene caried away from Ieruſalem * with the captiuity that was caried away w Ieconiah king of Iudah (whō Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel had caried away)

* 2. King. 24. 15.

7 And hee nouriſhed Hadaſſah, that is Eſter, his vncles daughter: for ſhe had neither father nor mother, and the mayde was faire, and beautifull to looke on: and after the death of her father and her mother, Mordecai tooke her for his owne daughter.

8 And when the Kings commandement and his decree was publiſhed, & many maides were brought together to the palace of Shuſhan, vnder the hande of Hege, Eſter was brought alſo vnto the Kings houſe vnder the hand of Hege the keeper of the women.

9 And the mayd pleaſed him, and ſhe found fauour in his ſight: therefore hee cauſed her things for purification to bee giuen her ſpeedily, and her † ſtate, and ſeuen comely maides to bee giuen her out of the Kings houſe, and hee gaue change to her and to her maydes of the beſt in the houſe of the women.

† Hebr. portion.

10 But Eſter ſhewed not her people and her kinred: for Mordecai had charged her, that ſhe ſhould not tell it.

11 And Mordecai walked ° euery day before the court of the womens houſe, to knowe e For though ſhe was taken away by a cruell law, yet he ceaſed not to haue a fatherly care ouer her, and therefore did reſorte oftimes to heare of her.
i: Eſter did wel, and what ſhould be done with her.

12 And when the courſe of euery maid came to go in to king Ahaſhuerosh, after that ſhe had bene twelue moneths according to the maner of the women (for ſo were the dayes of their purifications accompliſhed, ſixe moneths with oyle of myrrhe, and ſixe moneths with ſweete odours and in the purifying of the women:

13 And thus went the maydes vnto the King) whatſoeuer ſhee required, was f giuen her, to goe with her out of the womens houſe vnto the Kings houſe.

f What apparel ſhee aſked of the eunuch, that was he bound to giue her.

14 In the euening ſhee went, and on the morrow ſhee returned into the ſecond houſe of the women vnder the hand of Shaaſhgaz the kings eunuch which kept the concubines: ſhe came in to the king no more, except ſhe pleaſed the king, and that ſhe were called by name.

15 Nowe when the courſe of Eſter the daughter of Abihail the vncle of Mordecai (which had taken her as his owne daughter) came, that ſhe ſhould goe in to the King, ſhee deſired nothing, but what || Hege the Kings eunuch the keeper of the women ſaid: and Eſter found fauour in the ſight of all them that looked vpon her.

|| Or, Hegai.

16 ¶ So Eſter was taken vnto King Ahaſhuerosh into his houſe royall in the tenth moneth, which is the h moneth Tebeth, in the ſeuenth yeere of his reigne.

g Wherein her modeſtie appeared, becauſe ſhee ſought not apparell to commend her beautie, but ſtood to the Eunuches appointment.

h Which conteined part of December and part of January.

17 And the King loued Eſter aboue all the women, and ſhe found grace and fauour in his ſight more then all the virgins: ſo that hee ſet the crowne of the kingdome vpon her head, and made her Queene in ſtead of Vaſhti.

18 Then the King made a great feaſt vnto all his princes, and his ſeruants, which was i the feaſt of Eſter, and gaue k reſt vnto the prouinces, and gaue gifts, according to the l power of a King, i That is, made for her ſake.

k He releaſed their tribute.

l That is, great and magnificall.

19 And when the virgins were gathered the m ſecond time, then Mordecai ſate in the Kings gate.

m That is, at the mariage of Eſter, which was the ſecond mariage of the King.

20 Eſter had not yet ſhewed her kinred nor her people, as Mordecai had charged her: for Eſter did after the word of Mordecai, as when ſhe was nouriſhed with him.

21 ¶ In thoſe dayes when Mordecai ſate in the kings gate, two of the kings eunuches, Bigthan and Tereſh, which kept the doore, were wroth, and ſought to lay n hand on the king Ahaſhuerosh.

n Meaning, to kill him.

22 And the thing was knowen to Mordecai, and he told it vnto Queene Ester, and Ester certified the king thereof in Mordecais name: and when inquisition was made, it was found so: therefore they were both hanged on a tree: and it was written in the booke of the o Chronicles before the King.

o In the Chronicles of the Medes and Persians, as Chap. 10, 2.

CHAP. III.

1 Haman, after hee was exalted, obtained of the King, that all the Iewes should be put to death, because Mordecai had not done him worship as other had.

AFter these things did king Ahashuerosh promote Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite, and exalted him, and set his seat aboue all the princes that were with him.

2 And all the kings seruants that were at the kings gate, bowed their knees, and reuerenced Haman: for the king had so commanded concerning him: but Mordecai a bowed not the knee, neither did reuerence.

a The Persians maner was to kneele downe and reuerence their Kings, and such as he appointed in chiefe authoritie, which Mordecai would not doe to this ambitious and proud man.

3 Then the kings seruants which were at the kings gate, sayd vnto Mordecai, Why transgressest thou the kings commandement?

4 And albeit they spake dayly vnto him, yet hee would not heare them: therefore they b told Haman, that they might see how Mordecais matters would stand: for hee had tolde them, that he was a Iew.

b Thus we see that there is none so wicked, but they haue their flatterers to accuse the godly.

5 And when Haman sawe that Mordecai bowednot the knee vnto him, nor did reuerence vnto him, then Haman was full of wrath.

† Ebr. despised in his eyes.

6 Now hee † thought it too little to lay hands onely on Mordecai: and because they had shewed him the people of Mordecai, Haman sought to destroy all the Iews, that were throughout the whole kingdome of Ahashuerosh, euen the people of Mordecai.

7 In the first moneth (that is the moneth c Nisan) in the twelfth yeere of king Ahashuerosh, they cast Pur (that is a lot) d before Haman, from day to day, and from moneth to moneth, vnto the twelfth moneth, that is the moneth e Adar.

c Which answereth to part of March and part of April.

d To knowe what moneth and day should be good to enterprise this thing, that it might haue good successe: but God disappointed their lots and expectation.

e Conteining part of February and part of March.

8 Then Haman said vnto king Ahashuerosh, There is a people scattered and dispersed among the people in all the prouinces of thy kingdome, and their lawes are diuers from all people, and they doe not obserue the f kings lawes: therefore it is not the kings profite to suffer them.

f These be the two arguments which commonly the worldlings and the wicked vse toward princes against the godly, that is, the contempt of their lawes, and diminishing of their profite: without respect how God is either pleased or displeased.

9 If it please the king, let it bee written that they may be destroyed, and I will † pay ten thousand talents of siluer by the hands of them that haue the charge of this businesse to bring it into the kings treasurie.

† Ebr. weigh.

10 Then the king tooke his ring from his hand, & gaue it vnto Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite the Iewes aduersary.

11 And the king said vnto Haman, Let the siluer be thine, and the people to do with them as it pleaseth thee.

12 Then were the kings ‖ scribes called on the thirteenth day of the first moneth, and there was written (according to all that Haman commanded) vnto the kings officers, and to the captaines that were ouer euery prouince, and to the rulers of euery people, and to euery prouince, according to the writing thereof, and to euery people according to their language: in the name of king Ahashuerosh was it written, and sealed with the kings ring.

‖ Or, secretaries.

13 And the letters were sent ‖ by posts into all the kings prouinces, to roote out, to kill and to destroy all the Iewes both yong & old, children and women, in one day vpon the thirteenth day of the twelft moneth, (which is the moneth Adar) and to spoile them as a pray.

† Ebr. the hands of postes.

14 The contents of the writing was, that there should be giuen a commandement in all prouinces, and published vnto all people, that they should be ready against the same day.

15 And the postes compelled by the kings commandement went forth, and the commandement was giuen in the palace at Shushan: and the King and Haman sate drinking, but the g citie of Shushan was in perplexitie.

g To wit, the Iewes, that were in Shushan.

CHAP. IIII.

5 Mordecai giueth the Queene knowledge of the cruell decree of the King against the Iewes. 16 Shee willeth that they pray for her.

NOw when Mordecai perceiued all that was done, Mordecai rent his clothes, and put on sackecloth and ashes, and went out into the middes of the citie, and cried with a great cry, and bitter.

2 And hee came euen before the kings a gate, but he might not enter within the kings gate, being clothed with sackcloth.

a Because hee would aduertise Ester of this cruell proclamation.

3 And in euery prouince and place, whither the kings charge & his commission came, there was great sorow among the Iewes, and fasting, and weeping and mourning, and † many lay in sackcloth and in ashes.

† Ebr. sackcloth, and ashes were spread for many.

4 ¶ Then Esters maids and her eunuches came and tolde it her: therefore the Queene was very heauy, and she sent raiment to clothe Mordecai, and to take away his sackecloth from him, but he receiued it not.

5 Then called Ester Hatach one of the kings eunuches, whom he † had appointed to serue her, and gaue him a commandement vnto Mordecai, to know what it was, and why it was.

† Ebr. had caused to stand before her.

6 So Hatach went forth to Mordecai vnto the streete of the citie, which was before the kings gate.

7 And Mordecai told him of all that which had come vnto him, and of the † summe of the siluer that Haman had promised to pay vnto the kings treasures, because of the Iewes, for to destroy them.

8 Also

8 Also he gaue him the ‖ copy of the writing and commission that was giuen at Shushan, to destroy them, that he might shewe it vnto Ester, and declare it vnto her, and to charge her, that she should goe in to the king, and make petition and supplication before him for her people.

9 ¶ So when Hatach came, he tolde Ester the wordes of Mordecai.

10 Then Ester saide vnto Hatach, and commanded him to say vnto Mordecai, 11 All the kings seruants and the people of the kings prouinces do know, that whosoeuer, man or woman, that commeth to the King into the inner court, which is not called, there is a law of his, that hee shall die, except him to whom the king holdeth out the golden rodde, that he may liue. Now I haue not been called to come vnto the king these thirtie dayes.

12 And they certified Mordecai of Esters wordes.

13 And Mordecai sayd, that they should answere Ester thus, Thinke not with thy selfe that thou shalt escape in the kings house, more then all the Iewes.

† Ebr. breathing.
b Thus Mordecai spake in the confidence of that faith, which all Gods children ought to haue: which is, that God will deliuer them, though all worldly meanes faile.
c For to deliuer Gods Church out of their present dangers.
d I will put my life in danger and referre the successe to God, seeing it is for his glory and the deliuerance of his Church.

14 For if thou holdest thy peace at this time, † comfort and deliuerance [b] shal appeare to the Iewes out of another place, but thou and thy fathers house shall perish: and who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdome for [c] such a time?

15 Then Ester commaunded to answere Mordecai,

16 Go, and assemble all the Iewes that are found in Shushan, and fast ye for me, and eate not, nor drinke in three dayes, day nor night. I also and my maides will fast likewise, and so will goe in to the king, which is not according to the law: and if I perish, [d] I perish.

17 So Mordecai went his way, and did according to all that Ester had commanded him.

CHAP. V.

1 Ester entreth in to the King, and biddeth him and Haman to a feast. 14 Haman prepareth a gallowes for Mordecai.

a To wit, after that the Iewes had begun to fast.

AND on the third [a] day Ester put on her royall apparell, and stood in the court of the kings palace within, ouer against the kings house: and the king sate vpon his royall throne in the kings palace ouer against the gate of the house.

b Which was a signe that her comming was agreeable vnto him, as Chap. 4.11.
c Meaning hereby, that whatsoeuer she asked, should be granted, as Mark. 6.23.

2 And when the King sawe Ester the Queene standing in the court, she found fauor in his sight: and the king [b] held out the golden scepter that was in his hand: so Ester drewe neere, and touched the top of the scepter.

3 Then sayd the King vnto her, What wilt thou, Queene Ester? and what is thy request? it shall be euen giuen [c] thee to the halfe of the kingdome.

4 Then said Ester, If it please the King, let the King and Haman come this day vnto the banket, that I haue prepared for him.

5 And the king said, Cause Haman to make haste that he may doe as Ester hath said. So the king and Haman came to the banket that Ester had prepared.

d Because they vsed to drinke excessiuely in their bankets, they called the banket by the name of that, which was most in vse or esteemed.

6 And the king said vnto Ester at the banket of [d] wine, What is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? and what is thy request? it shall euen bee performed vnto the halfe of the kingdome.

7 Then answered Ester, and said, My petition and my request is,

8 If I haue found fauour in the sight of the king, and if it please the king to giue mee my petition, and to performe my request, let the king and Haman come to the banket that I shall prepare for them, and I will do to morrow according to the Kings [e] saying.

e I will declare what thing I demand.

9 ¶ Then went Haman foorth the same day ioyfull and with a glad heart. But when Haman saw Mordecai in the kings gate, that he stood not vp, nor mooued for him, then was Haman full of indignation at Mordecai.

10 Neuertheless Haman refrained himselfe: and when he came home, he sent, and called for his friends, and Zeresh his wife.

11 And Haman tolde them of the glory of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the king had [f] promoted him, and how that he had set him aboue the princes and seruants of the king.

f Thus the wicked when they are promoted, in stead of acknowledging their charge and humbling themselues waxe ambitious, vndanted, and cruell.

12 Haman said moreouer, Yea, Ester the Queene did let no man come in with the king to the banket that she had prepared, saue me: and to morrow am I bidden vnto her also with the king.

13 But all this doeth nothing auaile me, as long as I see Mordecai the Iewe sitting at the kings gate.

14 Then said Zeresh his wife and all his friends vnto him, Let them make a tree of fiftie cubites high, and to morrow speake thou vnto the king, that Mordecai may be hanged thereon: then shalt thou goe ioyfully with the king vnto the banket. And the thing pleased Haman, and he caused to make the tree.

g Meaning, the highest that could be found.

CHAP. VI.

1 The king turneth ouer the Chronicles, and findeth the fidelitie of Mordecai, 10 and commandeth Haman to cause Mordecai to be had in honour.

† Ebr. the kings sleepe departed.

THE same night † the king slept not, and hee commanded to bring the booke of the Records, and the Chronicles: and they were read before the king.

* Chap. 2.22.

2 Then it was found written that Mordecai * had told of Bigtana, and Teresh two of the kings eunuches keepers of the doore, who sought to lay hands on the king Ahashuerosh.

3 Then

3 Then the king ſaid, What honour and dignitie hath beene giuen to Mordecai [a] for this? And the kings ſeruants that miniſtred vnto him, ſaid, There is nothing done for him.

a For he thought it vnworthy his eſtate to receiue a benefite, and not reward it.

4 And the king ſaid, Who is in the court? (Now Haman was come into the inner court of the kings houſe, that he might ſpeake vnto the King to [b] hang Mordecai on the tree that he had prepared for him.)

b Thus while the wicked imagine the deſtruction of others, they themſelues fall into the ſame pit.

5 And the kings ſeruants ſaid vnto him, Behold, Haman ſtandeth in the court. And the king ſaid, Let him come in.

6 And when Haman came in, the king ſaid vnto him, What ſhall be done vnto the man whom the king will honour? Then Haman thought in his heart, To whome would the king doe honour more then to me?

7 And Haman anſwered the king, The man whom the king would honour,

8 Let them bring for him royall apparel, which the king vſeth to weare, and the [c] horſe that the king rideth vpon, and that the crowne royall may be ſet vpon his head.

c Meaning hereby, that the king ſhould make him next vnto himſelfe, as Joſeph hereby was knowen to be next to Pharaoh, Gen. 41. 42.

9 And let the raiment and the horſe be deliuered by the hand of one of the kings moſt noble Princes, and let them apparell the man (whom the king will honour) and cauſe him to ride vpon the horſe thorow the ſtreete of the citie, and proclaime before him, Thus ſhall it be done vnto the man, whom the king will honour.

10 Then the king ſaid to Haman, Make haſte, take the raiment and the horſe as thou haſt ſaid, and doe ſo to Mordecai the Jew, that ſitteth at the kings gate: let nothing faile of all that thou haſt ſpoken.

11 So Haman tooke the raiment and the horſe, and arayed Mordecai, and brought him on horſebacke thorow the ſtreete of the citie, and proclaimed before him, Thus ſhall it be done to the man whom the king will honour.

12 And Mordecai came againe to the kings gate, but Haman haſted home mourning, and his head couered.

13 And Haman tolde Zereſh his wife, and all his friends all that had befallen him. Then ſaid his wiſe men, and Zereſh his wife vnto him, If Mordecai be of the ſeed of the Jewes, before whom thou haſt begun to fall, thou ſhalt not preuaile againſt him, [d] but ſhalt ſurely fall before him.

d Thus God ſometime putteth in the mouth of the very wicked, to ſpeak that thing, which he hath decreed ſhal come to paſſe.

14 And while they were yet talking with him, came the kings eunuches, and haſted to bring Haman vnto the banket that Eſter had prepared.

CHAP. VII.

3 The Queene biddeth the King and Haman againe, and prayeth for her ſelfe and her people. 6 Shee accuſeth Haman, and he is hanged on the gallowes which he had prepared for Mordecai.

SO the King and Haman came to banket with the Queene Eſter.

2 And the king ſaid againe vnto Eſter on the ſecond day at the banket of [a] wine, What is thy petition, Queene Eſter, that it may be giuen thee? and what is thy requeſt? It ſhall be euen performed vnto the halfe of the Kingdome.

a Reade chap. 5. 6.

3 And Eſter the Queen anſwered, & ſaid, If I haue found fauour in thy ſight, O king, and if it pleaſe the King, let my life be giuen me at my petition, & my people at my requeſt.

4 For we are ſold, I, and my people, to be deſtroyed, to be ſlaine and to periſh: but if we were ſolde for ſeruants, and for handmaids, I would haue held my tongue: although the aduerſary could not [b] recompenſe the kings loſſe.

b Haman could not ſo much profite the king by this his malice, as he ſhould hinder him by the loſſe of ỹ Jewes, and the tribute which he hath of them.

5 Then king Ahaſhueroſh anſwered, and ſaid vnto the Queene Eſter, Who is he? and where is he that † preſumeth to doe thus?

† Ebr. filleth his heart.

6 And Eſter ſaid, The aduerſarie and enemie is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was afraid before the King and the Queene.

7 And the king aroſe from the banket of wine in his wrath, and went into the palace garden: but Haman ſtood vp, to make requeſt for his life to the Queene Eſter: for he ſawe that there was a [c] miſchiefe prepared for him of the king.

c His conſcience did accuſe him, that as he had conſpired the death of innocents, ſo the vengeance of God might fall vpon him for the ſame.

8 And when the king came againe out of the palace garden, into the houſe where they dranke wine, Haman was [d] fallen vpon the bed whereon Eſter ſate: therefore the King ſaid, Will he force the Queene alſo before me in the houſe? As the word went out of the kings mouth, they [e] couered Hamans face.

d He fell downe at the beds feete or couch, whereupon ſhe ſate, and made requeſt for his life.

e This was the manner of the Perſians when one was out of the kings fauour.

9 And Harbonah one of the eunuches, ſaid in the preſence of the king, Behold, there ſtandeth yet the tree in Hamans houſe fifty cubits high, which Haman had prepared for Mordecai, that ſpake [f] good for the king. Then the king ſaid, Hang him thereon.

f Which diſcouered the conſpiracie againſt the king, Chap. 2. 21, 22.

10 So they hanged Haman on the tree, that he had prepared for Mordecai: then was the kings wrath pacified.

CHAP. VIII.

1 After the death of Haman was Mordecai exalted. 14 Comfortable letters are ſent vnto the Iewes.

THe ſame day did king Ahaſhueroſh giue the houſe of Haman the aduerſarie of the Jewes vnto the Queene Eſter: and Mordecai [a] came before the king: for Eſter tolde what he was [b] vnto her.

a That is, was receiued into the kings fauour and preſence.

b That he was her vncle, and had brought her vp.

2 And the king tooke off his ring, which hee had taken from Haman, and gaue it vnto Mordecai: and Eſter ſet Mordecai ouer the houſe of Haman.

c Meaning, that he ſhould abolith the wicked decrees, which he had made for the deſtruction of the Jewes.

3 And Eſter ſpake yet more before the king, & fell downe at his feet weeping, and beſought him that he would put away the [c] wickedneſſe redneſſe of Haman the Agagite, and his deuice that he had imagined againſt the Iewes.

d Reade chap. 5.2.

4 And the king held out the golden [d]ſceptre toward Eſter. Then aroſe Eſter, and ſtood before the king,

5 And ſaid, If it pleaſe the king, and if I haue found fauour in his ſight, and the thing be acceptable before the King, and I pleaſe him, let it be written, that the letters of the deuice of Haman the ſonne of Ammedatha the Agagite may be called againe, which he wrote to deſtroy the Iewes, that are in all the kings prouinces.

6 For how can I ſuffer and ſee the euill, that ſhall come vnto my people? Or how can I ſuffer and ſee the deſtruction of my kinred?

7 And the king Ahaſhuerosh ſaid vnto the Queene Eſter, and to Mordecai the Iewe, Behold, I haue giuen Eſter the houſe of Haman, whom they haue hanged vpon the tree, becauſe he ‖ laide hand vpon the Iewes.

‖ Or, went about to ſlay the Iewes.

8 Write ye alſo for the Iewes, as it liketh you in the kings name, and ſeale it with the kings ring (for the writings written in the kings name, and ſealed with the kings ring, may no [e] man reuoke)

e This was the law of the Medes and Perſians, as Dan. 6.15. notwithſtanding the king reuoked the former decree granted to Haman for Eſters ſake.

9 Then were the kings ſcribes called at the ſame time, euen in the third moneth, that is the moneth [f] Siuan, on the three and twentieth day thereof: and it was written, according to all as Mordecai commanded, vnto the Iewes and to the princes and captaines and rulers of the prouinces, which were from India euen vnto Ethiopia, an hundreth and ſeuen and twenty prouinces, vnto euery prouince, according to the s writing thereof, and to euery people after their ſpeech, and to the Iewes, according to their writing, and according to their language.

f Which containeth part of May and part of June.

g That is, in ſuch letters and language as was vſuall in euery prouince.

10 And he wrote in the King Ahaſhuerosh name, and ſealed it with the kings ring: and he ſent letters by poſts on horſebacke and that rode on beaſts of price, as dromedaries and ‖ coltes of mares.

‖ Or, mules.

11 Wherein the king granted the Iewes (in what cities ſoeuer they were) to gather themſelues together, and to ſtand for [h] their life, and to roote out, to ſlay and to deſtroy all the power of the people and of the prouince that vexed them, both children and women, and to ſpoile their goods:

h That is, to defend themſelues againſt all that would aſſaile them.

12 Vpon one day in all the prouinces of king Ahaſhuerosh, euen in the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth [i] Adar.

i Which hath part of Febuary and part of March.

13 The copy of the writing was, how there ſhould be a commandement giuen in all and euery prouince, publiſhed among all the people, and that the Iewes ſhould bee ready againſt that day to [k] auenge themſelues on their enemies.

k The King gaue them liberty to kill all that did oppreſſe them.

14 So the poſtes rode vpon beaſts of price, and dromedaries, and went forth with ſpeede, to execute the kings commandement, and the decree was giuen at Shuſhan the palace.

15 And Mordecai went out from the king in royall apparell of blew, and white, and with a great crowne of gold, and with a garment of fine linen and purple, and the citie of Shuſhan reioyced and was glad.

16 And vnto the Iewes was come light and [l] ioy, and gladneſſe, and honour.

l He ſheweth by theſe words that follow, what this light was.

17 Alſo in all and euery prouince, and in all and euery citie and place, where the Kings commandement and his decree came, there was ioy and gladneſſe to the Iewes, a feaſt and good day, and many of the people of the land [m] became Iewes: for the feare of the Iewes fell vpon them.

m Conformed themſelues to the Iewes religion.

CHAP. IX.

1 At the commandement of the King the Iewes put their aduerſaries to death. 14 The ten ſonnes of Haman are hanged. 17 The Iewes keepe a feaſt in remembrance of their deliuerance.

NOw in the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth Adar, vpon the thirteenth day of the ſame, when the kings commandement and his decree drewe neere to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Iewes hoped to haue power ouer them (but it [a] turned contrary: for the Iewes had rule ouer them that hated them) a This was by Gods great prouidence, who turneth the ioy of the wicked into ſorrow, and the teares of the godly into gladneſſe.

2 The Iewes gathered themſelues together into their cities throughout all the prouinces of the king Ahaſhuerosh, to lay hand on ſuch as ſought their hurt, and no man could withſtand them: for the feare of them fell vpon all people.

3 And all the rulers of the prouinces, and the princes and the captaines, and the officers of the king [b] exalted the Iewes: for the feare of Mordecai fell vpon them.

b Did them honour and ſhewed them friendſhip.

4 For Mordecai was great in the kings houſe, and the report of him went through all the prouinces: for this man Mordecai waxed greater and greater.

5 Thus the Iewes ſmote all their [c] enemies with ſtrokes of the ſword and ſlaughter, and deſtruction, and did what they would vnto thoſe that hated them.

c Which had conſpired their death by the procurement of the wicked Haman.

6 And at Shuſhan the palace ſlewe the Iewes and deſtroyed [d] fiue hundreth men, d Beſides thoſe three hundreth, that they ſlewe the ſecond day, as verſe 15.

7 And Parſhandatha, and Dalphon, and Aſpatha,

8 And Poratha, and Adalia, and Aridatha,

9 And Parmaſhta, and Arieai, and Aridai, and Vaiezatha,

10 The ten ſonnes of Haman, the ſonne of Ammedatha, the aduerſarie of the Iewes ſlewe they: but they laide not their hands [e] on the ſpoyle.

e Whereby they declared that this was Gods iuſt iudgement vpon the enemies of his Church, foraſmuch as they ſought not their own gaine, but to ſeeme his vengeance.

11 On the ſame day came the number of thoſe that were ſlaine, vnto the palace of Shuſhan before the King.

12 And the King ſaid vnto the Queene Eſter, The Iewes haue ſlaine in Shuſhan the palace, and deſtroyed fiue hundreth men, and the ten ſonnes of Haman: what haue they done in the reſt of the kings prouinces? and what is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? or what is thy requeſt moreouer, that it may be performed?

13 Then ſaid Eſter, If it pleaſe the king, let it be granted alſo to morrow to the Iewes that are in Shuſhan, to doe according [f] vnto this dayes decree, that they may hang vpon the tree Hamans ten ſonnes.

14 And the king charged to doe ſo, and the decree was giuen at Shuſhan, and they hanged Hamans ten ſonnes.

15 ¶ So the Iewes that were in Shuſhan, aſſembled themſelues vpon the foureteenth day of the moneth Adar, and ſlewe three hundreth men in Shuſhan, but on the ſpoile they laide not their hand.

16 And the reſt of the Iewes that were in the Kings prouinces aſſembled themſelues, and ſtood for [g] their liues, and had reſt from their enemies, and ſlew of them that [h] hated them, ſeuentie and fiue thouſand: but they laid not their hand on the ſpoile.

17 This they did on the [i] thirteenth day of the moneth Adar, and reſted the fourteenth day thereof, and keepe it a day of feaſting & ioy.

18 But the Iewes that were in Shuſhan aſſembled themſelues on the thirteenth day, and on the fourteenth thereof, and they reſted on the fifteenth of the ſame, and kept it a day of feaſting and ioy.

19 Therefore the Iewes of the villages that dwelt in the vnwalled townes, [k] kept the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar with ioy and feaſting, euen a ioyfull day, and euery one ſent preſents vnto his neighbour.

20 ¶ And Mordecai wrote [l] theſe words, and ſent letters vnto all the Iewes that were through all the prouinces of the king Ahaſhueroſh, both neere and farre, 21 Inioyning them that they ſhould keepe the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, and the fifteenth day of the ſame, euery yeere.

22 According to the dayes wherein the Iewes reſted from their enemies, and the moneth which was turned vnto them from ſorrow to ioy, and from mourning into a ioyfull day, to keepe them the dayes of feaſting, and ioy, and [m] to ſend preſents euery man to his neighbour, and giftes to the poore.

23 And the Iewes promiſed to do as they had begun, and as Mordecai had written vnto them.

24 Becauſe Haman the ſonne of Hammedatha the Agagite, all the Iewes aduerſarie, had imagined againſt the Iewes, to deſtroy them, and had [n] caſt Pur (that is a lot) to conſume and deſtroy them.

25 And when [o] ſhe came before the King, he commanded by letters, Let his wicked [p] deuiſe (which hee imagined againſt the Iewes) turne vpon his owne head, and let them hang him and his ſonnes on the tree.

26 Therefore they called theſe dayes Purim, by the name of Pur, and becauſe of all the wordes of this letter, and of that which they had ſeene beſides this, and of that which had come vnto them.

27 The Iewes alſo ordained, and promiſed for them and for their ſeede, and for all that ioyned vnto them, that they would not ‖ faile to obſerue thoſe [q] two dayes euery yeere, according to their writing, and according to their ſeaſon,

28 And that theſe dayes ſhould be remembred, and kept throughout euery generation and euery family, and euery prouince, and euery city: euen theſe dayes of Purim ſhould not faile among the Iewes, and the memoriall of them ſhould not periſh from their ſeede.

29 And the Queene Eſter the daughter of Abihail, and Mordecai the Iewe wrote with all ‖ authoritie (to confirme this letter of Purim the ſecond time.)

30 And he ſent letters vnto all the Iewes to the hundreth and ſeuen and twenty prouinces of the kingdome of Ahaſhueroſh, with [r] words of peace and trueth.

Iob.

The Argvment.

In this hiſtorie is ſet before our eyes the example of a ſingular patience. For this holy man Iob was not onely extremly afflicted in outward things and in his body, but alſo in his minde and conſcience, by the ſharpe temptations of his wife, and chiefe friends: which by their vehement words and ſubtill diſputations brought him almoſt to deſpaire: for they ſet forth God as a ſeuere iudge, and mortall enemie vnto him, which had caſt him off, therefore in vaine hee ſhould ſeeke to him for ſuccour. Theſe friends came vnto him vnder pretence of conſolation, and yet they tormented him more then did all his affliction. Notwithſtanding he did conſtantly reſiſt them, and at length had good ſucceſſe. In this ſtory we haue to marke that Iob maintaineth a good cauſe, but handleth it euill: againe, his aduerſaries haue an euill matter, but they defend it craftily. For Iob held that God did not alway puniſh men according to their ſinnes, but that hee had ſecret iudgements, whereof man knew not the cauſe, and therefore man could not reaſon againſt God therein, but hee ſhould be conuicted. Moreouer, hee was aſſured that God had not reiected him, yet through his great torments and affliction he braſteth foorth into many inconueniences both of words and ſentences, and ſheweth himſelfe as a deſperate man in many things, and as one that would reſiſt God: and this is his good cauſe which he doth not handle well. Againe, the aduerſaries maintaine with many goodly arguments, that God puniſheth continually according to the treſpaſſe, grounding vpon Gods prouidence, his iuſtice, and mans ſinnes, yet their intention is euill: for they labour to bring Iob into deſpaire, and ſo they maintaine an euill cauſe. Ezekiel commendeth Iob as a iuſt man, Ezek. 14. 14. and Iames ſetteth out his patience for an example, Iames 5. 11.

CHAP. I.

1 The holineſſe, riches, and care of Iob for his children. 10 Satan hath permiſſion to tempt him. 13 He tempteth him by taking away his ſubſtance, and his children. 20 His faith and patience.

THere was a man in the land of [a] Uz called Iob, and this man [b] was an vpright and iuſt man, [c] one that feared God, and eſchewed euill.

2 And he had ſeuen ſons and three daughters.

3 His [d] ſubſtance alſo was ſeuen thouſand ſheepe, and three thouſand camels, and fiue hundreth yoke of oxen, and fiue hundreth ſhee aſſes, and his familie was very great, ſo that this man was the greateſt of all the † men of [e] the Eaſt.

4 And his ſons went & banqueted in their houſes, euery one his day, and ſent, and called their three ſiſters to eat & to drinke with them.

5 And when the dayes of their banketting were gone about, Iob ſent, and [f] ſanctified them, and roſe vp early in the morning, and [g] offred burnt offrings according to the number of them all. For Iob thought, It may be that my ſonnes haue ſinned, and [h] blaſphemed God in their hearts: thus did Iob [i] euery day.

6 ¶ Now on a day when the [k] children of God came and ſtood [l] before the Lord, Satan [m] came alſo among them.

7 Then the Lord ſaid vnto Satan, Whence [n] commeſt thou? And Satan anſwered the Lord, ſaying, [o] From compaſſing the earth to and fro, and from walking in it.

8 And the Lord ſayd vnto Satan, Haſt thou not conſidered my ſeruant Iob, how none is like him in the earth, an vpright & iuſt man, one that feareth God, and eſcheweth euill?

9 Then Satan anſwered the Lord, and ſaid, Doeth Iob feare God for [p] nought?

10 Haſt thou not made [q] an hedge about him and about his houſe, and about all that hee hath on euery ſide? thou haſt bleſſed the worke of his hands, and his ſubſtance is increaſed in the land.

11 But ſtretch out now thine hand, [r] and touch all that he hath, to ſee if he will not blaſpheme thee to [s] thy face.

12 Then the Lord ſayd vnto Satan, Loe, all that he hath is in [t] thine hand: onely vpon himſelfe ſhalt thou not ſtretch out thine hand. So Satan departed from the [u] preſence of the Lord.

13 ¶ And on a day when his ſonnes and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldeſt brothers houſe,

14 There came a meſſenger vnto Iob, and ſaid, The oxen were plowing, and the aſſes feeding in their places,

15 And the [x] Shabeans came violently, and tooke them, yea, they haue ſlaine the ſeruants with the edge of the ſword: but I onely am eſcaped alone to tell thee.

16 And whiles he was yet ſpeaking, another came, and ſayd, The [y] fire of God is fallen from the heauen, and hath burnt vp the ſheepe, and the ſeruants, and deuoured them: but I onely am eſcaped alone to tell the.

17 And whiles he was yet ſpeaking, an-

b Forasmuch as he was a Gentile, and not a Iew, and yet is pronounced vpright, and without hypocriſie, it declareth that among the heathen God hath his.

c Hereby is declared, what is meant by an vpright and iuſt man.

d His children and riches are declared, to commend his vertue in his proſperitie, and his patience and conſtancie, when God had taken them from him.

l Becauſe our infirmitie cannot comprehend God in his maieſtie, he is ſet foorth vnto vs as a King, that our capacitie may be able to vnderſtand that which is ſpoken of him.

m This declareth, that although Satan be aduerſary to God, yet hee is compelled to obey him, and to doe him all homage, without whoſe permiſſion and appointment hee can doe nothing.

n This queſtion is aſked for our inſtruction: for God knewe whence he came.

o Herein is deſcribed the nature of Satan, which is euer ranging for his pray, 1. Pet. 5. 8.

q Meaning, the grace of God, which ſerued Iob as a rampart againſt all tentations.

r This ſignifieth, that Satan is not able to touch vs, but it is God that muſt doe it.

s Satan noteth the vice, whereunto men are commonly ſubiect: that is, to hide their rebellion, and to be content with God in the time of proſperitie, which vice is diſcloſed in the time of their aduerſitie.

t God giueth not Satan power ouer man to greatifie him, but to declare that he hath no power ouer man, but that which God giueth him.

u That is, went to execute that which God had permitted him to doe: for elſe he can neither y Which fire was also done by the craft of Satan, to tempt Iob the more grieuouſly, ſeeming as he might ſee, that not onely men were his enemies, but that God was againſt him.

ther came, & said, The Caldeans set out three bands, and fell vpon the camels, and haue taken them, and haue slaine the seruants with the edge of the sword: but I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

18 And whiles he was yet speaking, came another, & said, Thy [z] sonnes, and thy daughters were eating, and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house,

19 And behold, there came a great winde from beyond the wildernesse, and smote the foure corners of the house, which fell vpon the children, and they are dead, and I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

20 Then Iob arose, and [a] rent his garment, and shaued his head, and fell downe vpon the ground, and worshipped, 21 And said, * Naked came I out of my mothers wombe, & naked shall I returne [b] thither: the Lord hath giuen, and the Lord hath taken it: [c] blessed be the Name of the Lord.

22 In all this did not Iob sinne, nor charge God [d] foolishly.

z The last plague declareth that when one plague is past which seemeth hard to be borne, God can send vs another farre more grieuous, to trie his, and teach them obedience.

a Which came not of impatiencie, but declareth that the children of God are not insensible like blockes, but that in their patience they feele affliction and griefe of minde, yet they keepe a meane herein, and rebell not against God, as the wicked doe.

b That is, into the belly of the earth, which is the mother of all.

c Hereby he confesseth that God is iust and good, although his hand be sore vpon him.

d But declareth that God did all things according to iustice and equitie.

CHAP. II.

6 Satan hath permission to afflict Iob. 9 His wife tempteth him to forsake God. 11 His three friendes visite him.

AND on a day the [a] children of God came and stood before the Lord, and [b] Satan came also among them, and stood before the Lord.

2 Then the Lord said vnto Satan, Whence commest thou? And Satan answered the Lord, and said, From compassing the earth to and fro, and from walking in it.

3 And the Lord said vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my seruant Iob, how none is like him in the earth? * an vpright and iust man, one that feareth God, and escheweth euill? for yet he continueth in his vprightnes, [c] although thou mouedst me against him, to destroy him [d] without cause.

4 And Satan answered the Lord, and said, [e] Skin for skin, and all that euer a man hath, will he giue for his life.

5 But stretch now out thine hand, and touch his [f] bones and his flesh, to see if he will not blaspheme thee to thy face.

6 Then the Lord sayd vnto Satan, Loe, he is in thine hand, but saue [g] his life.

7 So Satan departed from the presence of the Lord, and smote Iob with sore [h] boiles, from the sole of his foote vnto his crowne.

8 And hee tooke a [i] potshard to scrape him, and he sate downe among the ashes.

9 Then said his [k] wife vnto him, Doest thou [l] continue yet in thine vprightnesse? [m] Blaspheme God, and die.

10 But hee said vnto her, Thou speakest like a foolish woman: what? shall we receiue good at the hand of God, and not [n] receiue euill? In all this did not Iob sinne with his [o] lippes.

11 Now when Iobs three [p] friends heard of all this euill that was come vpon him, they came euery one from his owne place, to wit, Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite: for they were agreed together to come and lament with him, and to comfort him.

12 So when they lift vp their eyes a farre off, they knew him not: therefore they lift vp their voices and wept, and euery one of them rent his garment, and sprinckled [q] dust vpon their heads toward the heauen.

13 So they sate by him vpon the ground seuen dayes, and seuen nights, and none spake a word vnto him: for they saw, that the griefe was very [r] great.

k Satan vseth the same instrument against Iob, as he did against Adam.

l Meaning, what gainest thou to serue God, seeing he thus plagueth thee as though he were thine enemie? This is the most grieuous tentation of the faithfull, when their faith is assailed, and when Satan goeth about to perswade them, that they trust in God in vaine.

m For death was appointed to the blasphemer, and so thee meant that he should be soone ridde out of his paine.

n That is, to be patient in aduersitie, as wee require, when he sendeth prosperitie, and so to acknowledge him to be both mercifull and iust.

o He so bridled his affections, that his tongue through impatiencie did not murmure against God.

p Which were men of authoritie, wise and learned, and as the Septuagint write, Kings, and came to comfort him, but when they saw how he was visited, they conceiued an euill opinion of him, as though he had bene but an hypocrite, and so iustly plagued of God for his sinnes.

q This was also a ceremonie, which they vsed in those Countreys, as the renting of their clothes in signe of sorrow, &c.

r And therefore thought that he would not haue hearkened to their counsell.

CHAP. III.

1 Iob complaineth and curseth the day of his birth. 11 He desireth to die, as though death were the end of all mans miserie.

AFterward [a] Iob opened his mouth, and [b] cursed his day.

2 And Iob cryed out, and said,

3 Let the day [c] perish, wherein I was borne, and the night when it was said, There is a man childe conceiued.

4 Let that day be darkenesse, let not God [d] regard it from aboue, neither let the light shine vpon it.

5 But let darkenesse, and the [e] shadow of death staine it: let the cloude remaine vpon it, and let them make it fearefull as a bitter day.

6 Let darkenesse possesse that night, Let it not be ioyned vnto the dayes of the yeere, nor let it come into the count of the moneths.

7 Yea, desolate be that night, and let no ioy be in it.

8 Let them that curse the day, (being [f] ready to renue their mourning) curse it.

9 Let the starres of that twilight be dim through darkenesse of it: let it looke for light, but haue none: neither let it [g] see the † dawning of the day, a The seuen dayes ended, Chap. 2. 13.

b Here Iob beginneth to feele his great imperfection in this battell betweene the spirit and the flesh, Rom. 7. 18. and after a manner perisheth, yet in the end he getteth victorie, though hee was in the meane time greatly wounded.

c Men ought not to be wearie of their life, and curse it, because of the infirmities that it is subiect vnto, but because they are giuen to sinne and rebellion against God.

d Let it be put out of the number of dayes, and let it not haue the light of the sunne to separate it from the night.

e That is, most obscure darkenesse, which maketh them afraid of death, that are in it.

f Which curse the day of their birth, curse vpon this night.

g Let it be alwayes night, and neuer see day. † Ebr. the eye lids of the morning.

i As destitute of all other helpe and meanes, and miserably afflicted with the sorrow of his disease.

10 Because it shut not vp the doores of my mothers wombe, nor hide sorrow from mine eyes.

11 [h] Why died I not in the birth? or why died I not, when I came out of the wombe?

12 Why did the knees preuent mee? and why did I sucke the breasts?

13 For so should I now haue [i] lien and bene quiet, I should haue slept then, and bene at rest,

14 With the kings and counsellers of the earth, which haue builded themselues [k] desolate places:

15 Or with the princes that had gold, and haue filled their houses with siluer.

16 Or why was I not hid, as an vntimely birth, either as infants, which haue not seene the light?

17 The wicked [l] haue there ceased from their tyrannie, and there they that laboured valiantly, are at rest.

18 The [m] prisoners rest together, and heare not the voyce of the oppressour.

19 There are small and great, and the seruant is free from his master.

20 Wherefore is the light giuen to him that is in miserie? and [n] life vnto them that haue heauie hearts?

21 Which long for death, and if it come not, they would euen search it more then treasures:

22 Which ioy for gladnesse, and reioyce, when they can find the graue.

23 Why is the light giuen to the man whose way is [o] hid, and whom God hath hedged in?

24 For my sighing commeth before I eate, and my roarings are powred out like the water.

25 For the thing I [p] feared, is come vpon mee, and the thing that I was afraid of, is come vnto me.

26 I had no peace, neither had I quietnes, neither had I rest, [q] yet trouble is come.

h This and that which followeth, declareth that when man giueth place to his passions, he is not able to stay nor keepe measure, but runneth headlong into all euil, except God call him backe.

i The vehemencie of his afflictions made him to vtter these words, as though death were the end of all miseries, & as if there were no life after this, which he speaketh not as though it were so, but the infirmities of his flesh caused him to burst out into this errour of the wicked.

k He noteth the ambition of them which for their pleasure, as it were, change the order of nature, and build in most barren places, because they would hereby make their names immortall.

l That is, by death the cruelte of the tyrants haue ceased.

m All they that sustaine any kind of calamitie and miserie in this world: which he speaketh after the iudgement of the flesh.

n He sheweth that the benefits of God are not comfortable, except the heart be faithfull, and the conscience quiete.

o That seeth not how to come out of his miseries, because hee beyeeldeth not on Gods prouidence.

p In my prosperitie I looked euer for a fall, as is now come to passe.

q The feare of troubles that should ensue, caused my prosperity to seeme to me as nothing, and yet I am not exempted from trouble.

CHAP. IIII.

5 Iob is reprehended of impatiencie, 7 and vniustice, 17 and of the presumption of his owne righteousnesse.

THen Eliphaz the Temanite answered, and said,

2 If we assay to commune with thee, wilt thou be grieued? but [a] who can withhold himselfe from speaking?

3 Behold, thou hast taught many, and [b] hast strengthened the wearie hands.

4 Thy words haue confirmed him that was falling, and thou hast strengthened the weake knees.

a Seeing this thine impatiencie.

b Thou hast comforted others in their afflictions, and canst not now comfort thy selfe.

5 But now it is come vpon thee, and thou art grieued: it toucheth thee, and thou art troubled.

6 Is not this thy [c] feare, thy confidence, thy patience, and the vprightnes of thy wayes?

7 Remember, I pray thee: who euer perished, being an [d] innocent? or where were the vpright destroyed?

8 As I haue seene, they that [e] plow iniquitie, and sowe wickednesse, reape the same.

9 With the [f] blast of God they perish, and with the breath of his nostrels are they consumed.

10 The roaring of the [g] Lyon, and the voyce of the Lyoness, and the teeth of the Lyons whelpes are broken.

11 The Lion perisheth for lacke of pray, and the Lions whelps are scattered abroad.

12 But a thing was brought to me [h] secretly, and mine eare hath receiued a little thereof.

13 In the thoughts of the visions of the night, when sleepe falleth on men, 14 Feare came vpon me, and dread which made all my bones [i] to tremble.

15 And the winde passed before mee, and made the haires of my flesh to stand vp.

16 Then stood one, and I knew not his face: an image was before mine eyes, and in [k] silence heard I a voyce, saying, 17 Shall a man be more [l] iust then God? or shall a man be more pure then his maker?

18 Behold, he found no stedfastnesse in his seruants, and laid follie vpon his [m] Angels.

19 How much more in them that dwell in houses of [n] clay, whose foundation is in the dust, which shall be destroyed before the moth?

20 They be destroyed from [o] the morning vnto the euening: they perish for euer, [p] without regard.

21 Doth not their dignitie goe away with them? do they not die, and that without [q] wisedome?

c This hereuncleth that Iob was but an hypocrite, and had no true feare nor trust in God.

d He concludeth that Iob was conuicted, seeing that God handled him so extremely, which is the argument that the carnall men make against the children of God.

e They that be euill, cannot but receiue euill.

f He sheweth that God needeth no great preparation to destroy his enemies: for he can doe it with the blast of his mouth.

g Though men accoumpting to their office do punish tyrants (whom for their cruelitie he compareth to Lyons & their children to their whelps) yet God both is able, and his iustice will punish them.

h A thing that I knew not before, was declared vnto me by vision: that is, that whosoeuer thinketh himselfe iust, shall be found a sinner, when he commeth before God.

i In these visions which God sheweth to his creatures, there is euer a certaine feare ioyned, that the authoritie thereof might be had in greater reuerence.

k When all things were quiet, or when the feare was somewhat asswaged, as God appeared to Eliah. 1. King. 19. 12.

l He pronounceth that if God did punish the innocent, the creature should be more iust then the Creatour, which were a blasphemie.

m If God finde imperfection in his Angels, when they are not maintained by his power, how much more shall hee lay follie to mans charge, when he would iustifie himselfe against God?

n That is, in this mortall body, subiect to corruption, 1. Cor. 5. 1.

o They see death continually before their eyes, and hasty approching toward them.

p He meaneth for all this doeth consider it.

q That is, before that any of them were so wilfully to thinke on death.

CAll now, if any will [a] answere thee, and to which of thy Saints wilt thou turne?

2 Doubtlesse [b] anger killeth the foolish, and enuie slayeth the idiot.

a He willeth Iob to consider the example of all the elect that euer liued, whereby he may learne to submit himself vnto God, whatsoeuer any of them do.

b He meaneth that he that striueth against God as he doth, is like vnto him in raging against God as he doth. b Murmuring in afflictions, increaseth the paine, and neuer ceaseth to folde.

3 I haue seene thee [c] foolish well rooted, and suddenly I [d] cursed his habitation, saying,

4 His [e] children shalbe farre from saluation, and they shalbe destroyed in the [f] gate, and none shall deliuer them.

5 The hungry shall eate vp his harueſt: yea, they shall take it frō among the [g] thornes, and the thirstie shall drinke vp their substance.

6 For miserie commeth not forth of the dust, [h] neither doeth affliction spring out of the earth.

7 But man is borne vnto [i] trauell as the sparkes flie vpward.

8 But I would enquire [k] at God, and turne my talke vnto God:

9 Which [l] doeth great things and vnsearchable, and maruellous things without number.

10 Hee [m] giueth raine vpon the earth, and powreth water vpon the streetes, 11 And setteth vp on hie them that be low, that the sorrowful may be exalted to saluation.

12 He scattereth the deuises of the craftie: so that their handes cannot accomplish that which they doe enterprise.

13 * He taketh the wise in their craftines, and the counsell of the wicked is made foolish.

14 They meete with [n] darkenesse in the day time, and [o] grope at noone day, as in the night.

15 But hee saueth the [p] poore from the sword, from their [q] mouth, and from the hand of the violent man, 16 So that the poore hath his hope, but iniquitie shall [r] stop her mouth.

17 Behold, blessed is the man whom God correcteth: therefore refuse not thou the chastising of the Almightie.

18 For hee maketh the wound, and bindeth it vp: hee smiteth, and his handes make whole.

19 He shall deliuer thee in [s] sixe troubles, and in the seuenth the euil shall not touch thee.

20 In famine hee shall deliuer thee from death: and in battell from the power of the sword.

21 Thou shalt be hid from the scourge of the tongue, and thou shalt not bee afraid of destruction when it commeth.

22 But thou shalt [t] laugh at destruction and dearth, and shalt not bee afraid of the beast of the earth.

23 For the stones of the field [u] shall bee in league with thee, and the beastes of the field shalbe at peace with thee.

24 And thou shalt know, that peace shall be in thy tabernacle, and thou shalt visit thine habitation, and shalt not [x] sinne.

25 Thou shalt perceiue also, that thy seed shall be great, and thy posteritie as the grasse of the earth.

26 Thou shalt goe to thy graue in [y] a full age, as a ricke of corne commeth in due season into the barne.

27 Loe, [z] thus haue we enquired of it, and so it is: heare this, and know it for thy selfe.

2 I was not moued with his prosperity, but knew that God had cursed him & his.

3 Though God sometime suffer the fathers to faile in this world, yet his iudgements will light vpon their wicked children.

4 By publique iudgement they shall be condemned, & none shall pitie them.

5 Though there bee but two or three eares left in the hedges, yet these shalbe taken from him.

6 That is, the earth is not the cause of barrennesse and mans miserie, but his owne sinne.

7 Which declareth that sinne is euer in our corrupt nature: for before sinne it was not subiect to paine and affliction.

8 If I suffered as thou doest, I would seeke vnto God.

9 He counselleth Iob to humble himselfe vnto God, to whom all creatures are subiect, and whose works declare that man is vnreuealable, except he glorifie God in all his works.

b My griefe is so great, that I lacke words to expresse it.

c Which declareth that he was not onely afflicted in body, but wounded in conscience, which is the greatest battel that the faithfull can haue.

d Thinke you that I crie without cause, seeing the brute beasts do not complaine when they haue what they would?

e Can a mans taste delight in that that hath no sauor? meaning, that none take pleasure in affliction, seeing they cannot away with things y are vnsauorie to the mouth.

f Herein he sinneth double, both in wishing thorow impatiencie to die, and also in desiring of God a thing which was not agreeable to his will.

g That is, let me die at once, before I come to distrust in Gods promise through mine impatiencie.

h He feareth lest hee should be brought to inconueniences, if his sorrowes should continue.

i Haue I not sought to helpe my selfe as much as was possible? ‖ Or, wisdome, or law.

k By compareth those friendes which comfort vs not in miserie, to a brooke, which in Summer, when wee need waters, is vile, in Winter is hard frozen, and in the time of raine when we haue no need, ouerfloweth with water.

x God shall so bleſſe thee, that thou shalt haue occasion to reioyce in all things, and not to be offended.

y Though the children of God haue not alwayes this promise performed, yet God doth recompense it otherwise to their aduantage.

z We haue learned these points by experience, that God punisheth not the innocent, that man cannot compare in iustice with him, that the hypocrites shall not long prosper, and that the affliction which man sustaineth, commeth for his owne sinne.

CHAP. VI.

1 Iob answereth, that his paine is more grieuous then his fault. 8 He wisheth death. 14 He complaineth of his friends.

BUt Iob answered, and said,

2 Oh that my griefe were wel weighed and my miseries were layed together in the [a] ballance!

3 For it would be now heauier then the sand of the sea: therefore my words are [b] swallowed vp.

4 For the arrowes of the Almighty are in me, the venim whereof doth drinke vp my spirit, and the terrors of God [c] fight against me.

5 Doeth the [d] wilde asse bray when hee hath grasse? or loweth the oxe when he hath fodder?

6 That which is [e] vnsauorie, shall it bee eaten without salt? or is there any taste in the white of an egge?

7 Such things as my soule refused to touch, as were sorrowes, are my meat.

8 Oh that I might haue [f] my desire, and that God would graunt mee the thing that I long for!

9 That is, that God would destroy mee: that he would let his hand goe, and cut me off.

10 Then shoulde I yet haue comfort, (though I burne with sorrowe, let him not spare) [g] because I haue not denied the words of the Holy one.

11 What power haue I that I should endure? or what is mine [h] end, if I should prolong my life?

12 Is my strength the strength of stones? or is my flesh of brasse?

13 Is it not so, that there is in mee no [i] helpe? and that ‖ strength is taken from me?

14 He that is in miserie, ought to be comforted of his neighbour: but men haue forsaken the feare of the Almighty.

15 My brethren haue deceiued mee as a [k] brooke, and as the rising of the riuers they passe away.

16 Which are blackiſh with yce, and wherein the ſnow is hid.

17 But in time they are dried vp with heate and are conſumed: and when it is hote, they faile out of their places, 18 Or they depart from their way and courſe, yea, they vaniſh and periſh.

19 They that goe to Tema, [l] conſidered them, and they that goe to Sheba, waited for them.

20 But they were confounded: when they hoped, they came thither and were aſhamed.

21 Surely now are yee like [m] vnto it: yee haue ſeene my fearefull plague, and are afraid.

22 Was it becauſe I ſaid, Bring vnto me? or giue a reward to me of your [n] ſubſtance?

23 And deliuer me from the enemies hand, or ranſome me out of the hand of tyrants?

24 Teach me, and I wil [o] hold my tongue: and cauſe mee to vnderſtand wherein I haue erred.

25 How [p] ſtedfaſt are the words of righteouſneſſe? and what can any of you iuſtly reproue?

26 Doe ye imagine to reproue [q] words, that the talke of the afflicted ſhould bee as the winde?

27 Yee make your wrath to fall vpon the fatherleſſe, and dig a pit for your friend.

28 Now therefore be content to [r] looke vpon me: for I will not lie before your face.

29 Turne, I pray you, let there bee none iniquitie: returne, I ſay, and ye ſhall ſee yet my righteouſneſſe in that behalfe. Is there iniquitie in my tongue? doeth not my mouth feele ſorowes?

l They that paſſe thereby to goe into the hote countreys of Arabia, thinke to find water there to quench their thirſt, but they are deceiued.

m That is, like to this brooke, which deceiueth them, that thinke to haue water there in their neede, as I looked for conſolation at your hands.

n He toucheth the worldlings, which for no neceſſitie will giue part of their goods, and much more theſe men, which would not giue him comfortable words.

o Shew me wherein I haue erred, and I will confeſſe my fault.

p He that hath a good conſcience, doeth not ſhrinke at the ſharpe words or reaſonings of others, except they be able to perſuade him by reaſon.

q Do you cauill at my words, becauſe I ſhould be thought to ſpeake foolihly, which am now in miſerie?

r Conſider whether I ſpeake as one that is driuen to this impatiencie through very ſorow, or as an hypocrite, as you condemne me.

CHAP. VII.

1 Iob ſheweth the ſhortneſſe and miſerie of mans life.

IS there not an appointed time to man vpon earth? and are not his dayes as the dayes of an [a] hireling?

2 As a ſeruaunt longeth for the ſhadow, and as an hireling looketh for the end of his worke,

3 So haue I had as an inheritance the [b] moneths of vanitie, and painefull nights haue bene appointed vnto me.

4 If I layed mee downe, I ſayd, When ſhall I ariſe? and meaſuring the euening, I am euen full with toſſing to and fro vnto the dawning of the day.

5 My fleſh is [c] clothed with wormes and filthineſſe of the duſt: my ſkin is rent, and become horrible.

6 My daies are ſwifter then [d] a weauers ſhittle, and they are ſpent without hope.

7 Remember that my life is but a wind, and that mine eye ſhall not returne to ſee pleaſure.

8 The eye that hath ſeene mee, ſhall ſee mee no more: thine eyes are vpon mee, and I ſhall be no longer.

9 [e] As the cloud vaniſheth & goeth away, ſo hee that goeth downe to the graue, ſhall [f] come vp no more.

10 He ſhall returne no more to his houſe, neither ſhall his place know him any more.

11 Therefore I wil not [g] ſpare my mouth, but wil ſpeake in the trouble of my ſpirit, and muſe in the bitternes of my mind.

12 Am I a ſea [h] or a whaleſiſh, that thou keepeſt me in ward?

13 When I ſay, My couch ſhall relieue me, and my bed ſhal bring comfort in my meditation, 14 Then feareſt thou mee [i] with dreames, and aſtoniſheſt me with viſions.

15 Therefore my ſoule [k] chuſeth rather to be ſtrangled & to die, then to be in my bones.

16 I abhorre it, I ſhall not liue alway: [l] ſpare me then, for my dayes are but vanitie.

17 What is man that thou [m] doeſt magnifie him, and that thou ſetteſt thine heart vpon him?

18 And doeſt viſite him euery morning, and trieſt him euery moment?

19 How long will it be yer thou depart from me? thou wilt not let mee alone whiles I may ſwallow my ſpettle.

20 I haue [n] ſinned, what ſhall I doe vnto thee? O thou preſeruer of men, why haſt thou ſet me as a marke againſt thee, ſo that I am a burden vnto my ſelfe?

21 And why doeſt thou not pardon my treſpaſſe? and take away mine iniquitie? for now ſhall I ſleepe in the duſt, and if thou ſeekeſt me in the morning, I ſhall [o] not be found.

a Hath not an hired ſeruant ſome reſt and eaſe? then in this my continuall torment I am worſe then an hireling.

b My ſorow hath continued from moneth to moneth and I haue looked for hope in vaine.

c This ſignifieth that his diſeaſe was rare and moſt horrible.

d Thus he ſpeaketh in reſpect of the breuitie of mans life, which paſſeth without hope of returning, in conſideration whereof he deſireth God to haue compaſſion on him.

e If thou beholde me in thine anger, I ſhall not be able to ſtand in thy preſence.

f Shall no more enioy this mortall life.

g Seeing I call by none other meanes comfort my ſelfe, I will declare my griefe by words: & thus he ſpeaketh as one ouercome with griefe of mind.

h Am not I a poore wretche? what needeſt thou then to lay ſo much paine on me?

i So that I can haue no reſt, night nor day.

k He ſpeaketh as one ouercome with ſorow, and not of iudgement, or of the examination of his faith.

l Seeing my terme of life is ſo ſhort, let me haue ſome reſt and eaſe.

m Seeing that man of himſelfe is ſo vile, why doeſt thou giue him that honor to contend againſt him? Iob vſeth all kinds of perſwaſion with God, that he might ſtay his hand.

n After all temptations, faith burſteth forth, and leadeth Iob to repentance: yet it was not in ſuch perfection, that hee could bridle himſelfe from reaſoning with God, becauſe that hee ſtill tried his faith.

o That is, I ſhall be dead.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Bildad ſheweth that Iob is a ſinner, becauſe God puniſheth the wicked, and preſerueth the good.

THen anſwered Bildad the Shuhite, and ſaid,

2 How long wilt thou talke of theſe things? and how long ſhall the words of thy mouth [a] be as a mighty winde?

3 Doeth God peruert iudgement? or doeth the Almightie ſubuert iuſtice?

4 If thy ſonnes haue ſinned againſt him, and hee hath ſent them into the place of their [b] iniquitie,

5 Yet if thou [c] wilt early ſeeke vnto God, and pray vnto the Almightie,

6 If thou be pure and vpright, then ſurely hee will awake vp vnto thee, and hee will make the habitation of thy righteouſneſſe proſperous.

a He declareth that their words which would diminiſh any thing from the iuſtice of God, is but as a puffe of winde that vaniſheth away.

b That is, hath rewarded them according to their iniquities: meaning that Iob ought to be warned by the example of his children, that he offend not God.

c That is, if thou turne betime whiles God calleth thee to repentance.

7 And though thy beginning [d] bee small, yet thy latter end shall greatly increase.

8 [e] Inquire therefore, I pray thee, of the former age, and prepare thy selfe to search of their fathers.

9 (For we are but [f] of yesterday, and are ignorant: for our dayes vpon earth are but a shadow.)

10 Shall not they teach thee and tell thee, and vtter the words of their heart?

11 Can a rush [g] grow without myre? or can the grasse grow without water?

12 Though it were in greene and not cut downe, yet shall it wither before any other herbe.

13 So are the pathes of all that forget God, and the hypocrites hope shall perish.

14 His confidence also shall be cut off, and his trust shall be as the house of a [h] spider.

15 Hee shall leane vpon his house, but it shall not stand: hee shall holde him fast by it, yet shall it not endure.

16 The [i] tree is greene before the sun, and the branches spread ouer the garden thereof.

17 The rootes thereof are wrapped about the fountaine, and are folden about the house of stones:

18 If any plucke it from his place, and it [k] denie, saying, I haue not seene thee, 19 Behold, it will reioice [l] by this meanes, that it may grow in another mold.

20 Behold, God will not cast away an vpright man, neither will he take the wicked by the hand.

21 Till hee haue filled thy mouth with [m] laughter, and thy lips with ioy.

22 They that hate thee, shalbe clothed with shame, and the dwelling of the wicked shall not remaine.

d Though the beginnings be not so pleasant, as thou wouldest desire, yet in the ends thou shalt haue sufficient occasion to content thy selfe.
e He willeth Job to examine all antiquitie, and he shall finde it true which he here saith.
f Meaning, that it is not enough to haue the experience of our selues, but to be confirmed by the examples of them that went before vs.
g As a rush can not grow without moisture, so cannot the hypocrite, because he hath not faith, which is moistened with Gods Spirit.
h Which is to day, & to morrow swept away.
i He compareth the iust to a tree, which although it be remooued out of one place vnto another, yet flourisheth: so the affliction of the godly turneth to their profit.
k That is, so that there remaine nothing there to proue whether the tree had growen there or no.
l To be planted in another place, where it may grow at pleasure.
m If thou be godly, he will giue thee occasion to reioyce, and if not, thine affliction shall increase.

CHAP. IX.

1 Iob declareth the mightie power of God, and that mans righteousnesse is nothing.

THen Job answered, and said,

2 I know verily that it is so: for how should man compared vnto God be [a] iustified?

3 If he would dispute with him, he could not answere him one thing of a [b] thousand.

4 Hee is wise in heart, and mighty in strength: who hath beene fierce against him and hath prospered?

5 He remooueth the mountaines, & they feele not when he ouerthroweth them in his wrath.

6 Hee [c] remooueth the earth out of her place, that the pillars thereof doe shake.

7 He commandeth the sunne, and it riseth not: he closeth vp the starres, as vnder a signet.

a Job here answereth to that point of Eliphaz and Bildads oration, touching the iustice of God, and his innocencie, confessing God to be infinit in iustice, & man to be nothing in respect.
b Of a thousand things, which God could lay to his charge, man cannot answere him one.
c He declareth what is the infirmitie of man, by the mighty and incomprehensible power that is in God, shewing what he could doe if he would set forth his power.

8 He himselfe alone spreadeth out the heauens, and walketh vpon the height of the sea.

9 He maketh the starres [d] Arcturus, Orion, and Pleiades, and the climates of the South.

10 He doeth great things, and vnsearchable: yea, marueilous things without number.

11 Loe, when he goeth [e] by mee, I see him not: and when he passeth by, I perceiue him not.

12 Behold, when he taketh a praye, [f] who can make him to restore it? who shall say vnto him, What doest thou?

13 God [g] wil not withdraw his anger, and the most mighty helps [h] doe stoope vnder him.

14 How much lesse shall I answere him? or how should I finde out [i] my words with him?

15 For though I were iust, yet could I [k] not answere, but I would make supplication to my Iudge.

16 If I [l] crie, & he answer me, yet would I not beleeue, that he heard my voice.

17 For he destroyeth me with a tempest, and woundeth me [m] without cause.

18 He wil not suffer me to take my breath, but filleth me with bitternesse.

19 If we speake of strength, behold, hee is [n] strong: if we speake of iudgement, who shall bring me in to plead?

20 If I would iustifie my selfe, mine owne mouth shall condemne me: [o] if I would be perfit, he shall iudge me wicked.

21 Though I were perfit, yet I know not my soule: therefore abhorre I my life.

22 This is one point: therefore I said, He destroyeth the [p] perfit and the wicked.

23 If the scourge should suddenly [q] slay, should God [r] laugh at the punishment of the innocent?

24 The earth is giuen into the hand of the wicked: hee [s] coureth the faces of the iudges thereof: if not, where [t] is he? or who is he?

25 My dayes haue beene more swift then a poste: they haue fled, and haue seene no good thing.

26 They are passed as with the most swift ships, and as the eagle that flieth to the pray.

27 If [u] I say, I will forget my complaint, I will cease from my wrath, and comfort mee, 28 Then I am afrayd of all my sorrowes, knowing that thou wilt not iudge me innocent.

29 If I bee wicked, why [x] labour I thus in vaine?

d These are the names of certain starres, whereby he meaneth that all starres both known and vnknown are at his appointment.
e I am not able to comprehend his workes, which are common and daily before mine eyes, much lesse in those things, which are hid and secret.
f Hee sheweth that when God doth execute his power, he doth it iustly, forasmuch as none can controll him.
g God will not be appeased for ought that man can say for himselfe for his iustification.
h That is, all the reasons that men can lay to approoue their cause.
i How should I be able to answere him by eloquence? whereby he noteth his friends, that albeit they were eloquent in talke, yet they felt not in deed which they spake.
k Meaning, in his own opinion, signifying that man will sometime flatter himselfe to be righteous, which before God is abomination.
l Whiles I am in my pangs, I cannot but burst forth into many inconueniences, although I know still that God is iust.
m I am not able to feele my sins so great as I feele the weight of his plagues: and this he speaketh to condemne his vnthankfulnesse, and to iustifie God.
n After he hath accused his owne weaknesse, he continueth to iustifie God and his power.
o If I would stand in mine owne defence, yet God hath iust cause to condemne me, if he examine mine heart and conscience.
p If God punish according to his iustice, he wil destroy alwell them that are counted perfit as them that are wicked.
q To wit, the wicked.
r This is spoken according to our apprehension, as though hee would say, If God destroy but the wicked, as Chap. 5. 3. why should he suffer the innocents to be so long tormented by them?
s That they cannot see to doe iustice.
t That can them the contrary?
u I thinke not to fall into these affections, but my sorowes bring me to these manifold infirmities, and my conscience condemneth me.
x Why doth not God destroy me at once? thus he speaketh according to the infirmitie of the flesh.

30 If

30 If I y wash my selfe with snow water, and purge my hands most cleane, 31 Yet thou shalt plunge mee in the pit, and mine owne z clothes shall make me filthie.

32 For hee is not a man as I am, that I should answere him, if wee come together to iudgement.

33 Neither is there any vmpire a that might lay his hand vpon vs both.

34 Let him take his rod away from mee, and let not his feare astonish me:

35 Then wil I speake, and feare him not: b but because I am not so, I hold me still.

y Though I seeme neuer so pure in mine owne eyes, yet all is but corruption before God.
z Whatsoeuer I would vse to couer my filthines with, that discloseth me so much more.
a Which might make an accord betweene God and me, speaking of impatiencie, and yet confessing God to be iust in punishing him.
b Signifying that Gods iudgements keepe him in awe.

CHAP. X.

1 Iob is wearie of his life, and setteth out his fragilitie before God. 20 He desireth him to stay his hand. 22 A description of death.

MY soule is cut off a though I liue: I will leaue my b complaint vpon my selfe, and will speake in the bitternesse of my soule.

2 I will say vnto God, c Condemne mee not: shew me, wherefore thou contendest with mee.

3 Thinkest thou it d good to oppresse me, and to cast off the e labour of thine handes, and to fauour the f counsell of the wicked?

4 Hast thou g carnall eyes? or doest thou see as man seeth?

5 Are thy dayes as mans h dayes? or thy yeeres, as the time of man,

6 That thou enquirest of mine iniquitie, and searchest out my sinne?

7 Thou knowest that I cannot do i wickedly: for none can deliuer me out of thine hand.

8 Thine k hands haue made mee, and fashioned me wholly round about, and wilt thou destroy me?

9 Remember, I pray thee, that thou hast made me as l the clay, and wilt thou bring mee into dust againe?

10 Hast thou not powred me out as milke? and turned me to cruds like cheese?

11 Thou hast clothed mee with skin and flesh, and ioyned me together with bones and sinewes.

12 Thou hast giuen me life, and m grace: and thy n visitation hath preserued my spirit.

13 Though thou hast hid these things in thine heart, yet I know o that it is so with thee.

14 If I haue sinned, then thou wilt straitly looke vnto mee, and wilt not hold mee guiltlesse of mine iniquitie.

15 If I haue done wickedly, wo vnto me: if I haue done righteously, I will not p lift vp mine head, being full of confusion, because I see mine affliction.

a I am more like to a dead man then to one that liueth.
b I will make an ample declaration of my torments, accusing my selfe and not God.
c He would not that God should proceed against him by his secret iustice, but by the ordinary meanes that he punisheth others.
d It is agreeable to thy iustice to doe me wrong?
e Wilt thou be without compassion?
f Wilt thou gratifie the wicked & condemne me?
g Doest thou this of ignorance?
h Art thou inconstant & changeable as the times, to day a friend, to morrow an enemie?
i By affliction thou keepest me as in a prison, & restrainest me from doing euill, neither can any let me at libertie.
k In these eight verses following he describeth the mercy of God in the wonderfull creation of man: & thereon groundeth that God should not shew himselfe rigorous against him.
l As brittle as a pot of clay.
m That is, reason and vnderstanding, and many other gifts whereby man excelleth all earthly creatures.
n That is, thy fatherly care and prouidence, whereby thou preseruest me, and without the which I should perish straightway.
o Though I be not fully able to comprehend these things, yet I must needs confesse that it is so.
p I will alway walke in feare and humilitie, knowing that none is iust before thee.

16 But let it increase: hunt thou me as a lyon: returne and shew thy selfe q marueilous vpon me.

17 Thou renewest thy plagues against me, and thou increasest thy wrath against mee: r changes & armies of sorowes are against me.

18 Wherefore then hast thou brought me out of the wombe? Oh that I had perished, and that none eye had seene me!

19 And that I were as I had not beene, but brought from the wombe to the graue!

20 Are not my dayes few? let him s cease and leaue off from me, that I may take a little comfort,

21 Before I go and shal not t returne, euen to the land of darknesse, and shadow of death:

22 Into a land, I say, darke as darknesse it selfe, and into the shadow of death, where is no u order, but the light is there as darkenesse.

q Iob being sore assaulted in this battel betweene the flesh and the spirit, burdeneth out into these affections, wishing rather short dayes then long paine.
r That is, diuersitie of diseases & in great abundance: shewing that God hath infinite meanes to punish man.
s He wisheth that God would leaue off his affliction, considering his great miserie & the briefnesse of his life.
t He speaketh thus in the person of a sinner, that is ouercome with passions & with the feeling of Gods iudgements, and therefore cannot apprehend in that state the mercies of God, and comfort of the resurrection.
u No distinction betweene light and darkenesse, but where all is very darkenesse it selfe.

CHAP. XI.

1 Iob is vniustly reprehended of Zophar. 7 God is incomprehensible. 14 Hee is mercifull to the repentant. 18 Their assurance that liue godly.

THen answered Zophar the Naamathite, and said,

2 Should not the multitude of wordes be answered? or should a great a talker be iustified?

3 Should men holde their peace at thy lies? and when thou mockest others, shal none make thee ashamed?

4 For thou hast sayd, b My doctrine is pure, and I am cleane in thine eyes.

5 But, oh that God would speake and open his lips against thee!

6 That hee might shew thee the c secrets of wisedome, how thou hast deserued double, according to right: know therefore that God hath forgotten thee for thine iniquitie.

7 Canst thou by searching finde out God? canst thou finde out the Almightie to his perfection?

8 The heauens are high, what canst thou doe? d it is deeper then the hel, how canst thou know it?

9 The measure thereof is longer then the earth, and it is broader then the sea.

10 If he cut off and e shut vp, or gather together, who can turne him backe?

11 For hee knoweth vaine men, and seeth iniquitie, and him that vnderstandeth nothing.

12 Yet vaine man would be wise, though man new borne is like a wilde asse f colt.

13 If thou g prepare thine heart, & stretch out thine hands toward him:

a Should he perswade by his great talke, that he is iust?
b He chargeth Iob with error, that he should say, that y thing which he spake, was true, and that he was without sinne in the sight of God.
c Which is not to stand in iustifying of thy selfe: by signifieth that man will neuer be ouercome, whiles he reasoneth with another, & therefore God must breake off the controuersie and stop mans mouth.
d That is, this perfection of God, and if man be not able to comprehend the height of the heauen, the depth of hell, the length of the earth, the breadth of y same which are but creatures: how can he attaine to the perfection of the Creator?
e If God should turne the state of things, and establish a new order in nature, who could controll him?
f That is, without vnderstanding: so that whatsoeuer gifts he hath afterward, come of God and not of nature.
g If thou repent, pray vnto him.

14 If iniquitie bee in thine [h] hand, put it farre away, and let no wickednesse dwel in thy Tabernacle.

15 Then truely shalt thou lift vp thy [i] face without spot, and shalt be stable, and shalt not feare.

16 But thou shalt forget thy miserie, and remember it as waters that are past.

17 Thine age also shall appeare more cleare then the noone day: thou shalt shine and be as the morning.

18 And thou shalt bee bold, because there is hope: and thou shalt dig pits, and shalt lie downe safely.

19 * For when thou takest thy rest, none shall make thee afraid: yea, many shall make sute vnto thee.

20 But the eyes [k] of the wicked shal faile, and their refuge shall perish, and their hope shall be sorow of minde.

h Renounce thine owne euill workes, and see that they offend not God, ouer whom thou hast charge.

i He declareth what quietnesse of conscience and successe in all things such shall haue, which turn to God by true repentance.

* Leuit. 26. 5, 6.

k He sheweth that contrary things shall come vnto them that doe not repent.

CHAP. XII.

1 Iob accuseth his friends of ignorance. 7 Hee declareth the might and power of God, 17 and how he changeth the course of things.

THen Iob answered, and said,

2 In deed because that ye are the people onely, [a] wisedome must die with you.

3 But I haue vnderstanding aswell as you, and am not inferiour vnto you: yea, who knoweth not such things?

4 * I am [b] as one mocked of his neighbour, who calleth vpon God, and hee [c] heareth him: the iust and the vpright is laughed to scorne.

5 [d] He that is ready to fall, is as a lampe despised in the opinion of the rich.

6 The tabernacles of robbers doe prosper, and they are in safetie that prouoke God, † whom God hath enriched with his hand.

7 Aske now the beastes, [e] and they shall teach thee, and the foules of the heauen, and they shall tell thee:

8 Or speake to the earth, and it shal shew thee: or the fishes of the sea, and they shall declare vnto thee.

9 Who is ignorant of all these, but that the hand of the Lord hath made these?

10 In whose hand is the soule of euery liuing thing, and the breath of all ‖ mankinde.

11 Doeth not the eares [f] discerne the words? and the mouth taste meat for it selfe?

12 Among the [g] ancient is wisedome, and in the length of dayes is vnderstanding.

13 With him is wisedome and strength: he hath counsell and vnderstanding.

a Because you feele not that which you speak, you thinke the whole standeth in words, and so flatter your selues as though none knew any thing, or could know but you.

* Prou. 14. 2.

b He reproueth these his friends of two faults: the one, that they thought they had better knowledge then in deed they had, and the other, that in sted of true consolation, they did deride and despise their friend in his aduersitie.

c The which neighbor being a mocker, and a wicked man, thinketh that no man is in Gods fauour but he, because he hath all things that he desireth.

d As the rich esteem not a light, or torch that goeth out, so is he despised that falleth from prosperitie to aduersitie.

† Or, to whom God hath broght it with his hand.

e He declareth to them that did dispute against him, that their wisedome is common to all, and such as the very brute beasts dee daily teach. ‖ Or, flesh. f He exhorteth them to bee wise in iudging, and aswell to know the right vse why God hath giuen them eares, as he hath done a mouth. g Though men by age, and continuance of time attaine to wisedome, yet it is not comparable to Gods wisedome, nor able to comprehend his iudgements, wherein hee answereth to that, which was alleaged, Chap. 8. 8.

14 Behold, hee will breake downe, and it cannot bee built: he shutteth a man vp, and he cannot bee loosed.

15 Behold, hee withholdeth the waters, and they drie vp: but when hee sendeth them out, they destroy the earth.

16 With him is strength & wisedome: he that is deceiued, and that [h] deceiueth, are his.

17 Hee causeth the counsellers to goe as spoiled, and maketh the iudges fooles.

18 [i] Hee looseth [k] the collar of Kings, and girdeth their loynes with a girdle.

19 He leadeth away the princes as a pray, and ouerthroweth the mightie.

20 Hee taketh away the speach from the [l] faithfull counsellers, and taketh away the iudgement of the ancient.

21 Hee powreth contempt vpon princes, and maketh the strength of the mighty weake.

22 Hee discouereth the deepe places from their darknesse, and bringeth forth the shadow of death to light.

23 He [m] increaseth the people, and destroieth them: he enlargeth the nations, and bringeth them in againe.

24 Hee taketh away the hearts of them that are the chiefe ouer the people of the earth, and maketh them to wander in the wildernesse out of the way.

25 They grope in the darke without light: and hee maketh them to stagger like a drunken man.

h He sheweth that there is nothing done in this world without Gods will & ordinance: for els he should not be almightie.

i He taketh wisedome from them.

k He abateth the honor of princes, & bringeth them into the iudgement of others.

l He causeth that their words haue no credit, which is when he will punish sinne.

m In this discourse of Gods wonderfull works, Iob sheweth that whatsoeuer is done in this world, both in the order & change of things, is by Gods will and appointment: wherein he declareth that he thinketh well of God, & is as able to set forth his power in words, as they that reasoned against, were.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Iob compareth his knowledge with the experience of his friends. 16 The penitent shall bee saued, and the hypocrite condemned. 20 Hee prayeth vnto God that hee would not handle him rigorously.

LO, mine eye hath seene all this: mine eare hath heard, and vnderstood it.

2 I know also as much as you know: I am not inferiour vnto you.

3 But I will speake to the Almightie, and I desire [a] to dispute with God.

4 For indeede yee forge lies, and all you are [b] physicians of no value.

5 Oh, that you would hold your tongue, that it might be imputed to you for wisedome!

6 Now heare my disputation, and giue eare to the arguments of my lips.

7 Will yee speake [c] wickedly for Gods defence, and talke deceitfully for his cause?

8 Will ye accept his person? or will yee contend for God?

9 Is it well that hee should seeke of you? will you make a lie for him, as one lieth for a man?

10 He will surely reproue you, if ye doe secretly accept any person.

11 Shall not his excellencie make you afraid? and his feare fall vpon you?

a For although he knew that God had a iustice, which was manifest in his ordinary working, & another in his secret counsell, yet he would vtter his affection to God, because he was not able to vnderstand the cause why he did thus punish him.

b You doe not well apply your medicine to the disease.

c He condemneth their zeale, which had not knowledge, neither regarded they to comfort him, but alway grated on Gods iustice, as though it was not euidently seene in Iob, except they had vndertaken the probation thereof.

12 Your [d] memories may be compared vnto ashes, and your bodies to bodies of clay.

13 Holde your tongues in my presence, that I may speake, and let come vpon what will.

14 Wherefore doe I [e] take my flesh in my teeth, and put my soule in mine hand?

15 Loe, though he slay me, yet will I trust in him, and I will reproue my wayes in his sight.

16 He shall be my saluation also: for the [f] hypocrite shall not come before him.

17 Heare diligently my words, and marke my talke.

18 Behold now: if I prepare me to iudgement, I know that I shall be [g] iustified.

19 Who is he, that will pleade [h] with me? for if I now holde my tongue, I [i] die.

20 But doe not these two things vnto me: then will I not hide my selfe from thee.

21 [k] Withdraw thine hand from me, and let not thy feare make me afraid, 22 Then call thou, and I will answere: or let me speake, and answere thou me.

23 How many are [l] mine iniquities and sinnes? shew me my rebellion and my sinne.

24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and takest me for thine enemie?

25 Wilt thou breake a leafe driuen to and fro? and wilt thou pursue the drie stubble?

26 For thou writest bitter things against me, and makest me to possesse [m] the iniquities of my youth.

27 Thou puttest my feete also in the [n] stockes, and lookest narrowly vnto all my pathes, and makest the print thereof in the †heeles of my feete.

28 Such one consumeth like a rotten thing, and as a garment that is motheaten.

d Your fame shall come to nothing.

e Is not this a manifest signe of mine affliction, and that I doe not complaine without cause, seeing that I am thus tormented as though I should teare mine owne flesh, and put my life in danger?

f Whereby he declareth that hee is not an hypocrite, as they charged him.

g That is, cleared, and not cast off for my sinnes, as you reason.

h To proone that God doeth thus punish me for my sinnes.

i If I defend not my cause, euery man will condemne me.

k He sheweth what these two things are.

l His pangs thus moone him to reason with God, not denying but that he had sinned: but he desireth to vnderstand what were his great sinnes that had deserued such rigour, wherein hee offended that hee would know a cause of God why he did punish him.

m Thou punishest me now for the faults that I committed in my youth.

n Thou makest me thy prisoner, and doest so presse me, that I cannot stirre hand nor foote. †Ebr. rootes.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 Iob describeth the shortnesse and miserie of the life of man. 15 Hope sustaineth the godly. 22 The condition of mans life.

MAn [a] that is borne of woman, is of short continuance, and full of trouble.

2 Hee shooteth forth as a flowre, and is cut downe: hee vanisheth also as *a shadow, and continueth not.

3 And yet thou openest thine eyes vpon such [b] one, and causest me to enter into iudgement with thee.

4 *Who can bring a cleane thing out of filthinesse? there is not one.

5 Are not his dayes determined? the number of his moneths are with thee: thou hast appointed his bounds, which hee cannot passe.

6 Turne from him that he may cease vntill his desired day, [c] as an hireling.

7 For there is hope of a tree, if it be cut downe, that it will yet sproute, and the branches thereof will not cease.

8 Though the roote of it waxe olde in the earth, and the stocke thereof bee dead in the ground,

9 Yet by the sent of water it will budde, and bring foorth boughes like a plant.

10 [d] But man is sicke, and dieth, and man perisheth, and where is he?

11 As the waters passe from the Sea, and as the flood decayeth and dryeth vp,

12 So man sleepeth and riseth not: for he shal not wake againe, nor be raised from his sleepe, till the heauen be no more.

13 Oh that thou wouldest hide me in the graue, and keepe me secret, vntill thy [e] wrath were past, and wouldest giue me terme, and [f] remember me.

14 If a man die, shall he liue againe? All the dayes of mine appointed time will I wait, till [g] my changing shall come.

15 Thou shalt call me, and I shall [h] answere thee: thou louest the worke of thine owne handes.

16 But now thou * numbrest my steps, and doest not delay my sinnes.

17 Mine iniquitie is sealed vp, as in a [i] bag, and thou addest vnto my wickednesse.

18 And surely as the mountaine that falleth, commeth to nought, and the [k] rocke that is remooued from his place:

19 As the water breaketh the stones, when thou ouerflowest the things which growe in the dust of the earth: so thou destroyest the hope of man.

20 Thou preuailest alway against him, so that hee passeth away: hee changeth his face when thou sendest him away.

21 And he knoweth not if his sonnes shall be honourable, neither shall he vnderstand concerning them, whether they shall bee of lowe degree, 22 But while his [l] flesh is vpon him, hee shalbe sorowfull, and while his soule is in him, it shall mourne.

a Taking occasion of his aduersaries words, he describeth the state of mans life from his birth to his death.

* Chap.8.9. psal.144.4.

b His meaning is, that seeing that man is so fraile a creature, God should not handle him so extremely: wherein Iob sheweth the wickednes of the flesh, when it is not subiect to the Spirit.

* Psal.51.5,7.

c Vntil the time that thou hast appointed for him to die, which he desireth, as the hireling wisheth for the end of his labour, to receiue his wages.

d He speaketh not there as though he had not hope of the immortalitie, but as a man in extreme paine, when reason is ouercome by affections and torments.

e Hereby he declareth that the feare of Gods iudgement was the cause why he desired to die.

f That is, release my paines, and take me to mercie.

g Meaning, vntil the day of the resurrection, when he should be changed and renewed.

h Though I be afflicted in this life, yet in the resurrection I shall see thy mercies and answere when thou callest me.

* Prouerb. 5.21.

i Thou lapest them all together, and sufferest none of my sinnes vnpunished.

k He murmureth through the impatiencie of the flesh against God, as though he did as great iniuries against him as against the hard rocke, or waters that ouerflow, so that hereby all the occasion of his hope is taken away.

l Yet whiles he liueth, he shall be in paine and miserie.

CHAP. XV.

1 Eliphaz reprehendeth Iob, because he ascribeth wisedome, and pureness to himselfe. 16 Hee describeth the curse that falleth on the wicked, reckoning Iob to be one of the number.

THen answered Eliphaz the Temanite, and said,

2 Shall a wise man speake words of the [a] winde, and fill his bellie [b] with the East winde?

3 Shall hee dispute with words not comely? or with talke that is not profitable?

a That is, vaine words, and without consolation?

b Meaning, with matters that are of none importance, which are forgotten as soone as they are vttered, as the East winde dryeth vp the moisture as soone as it falleth.

4 Surely

4 Surely thou hast cast off [c] feare, and restrainest prayer before God.

5 For thy mouth declareth thine iniquitie, seeing thou hast chosen [d] the tongue of the craftie.

6 Thine owne mouth condemneth thee, and not I, and thy lips testifie against thee.

7 Art thou the [e] first man that was borne? and wast thou made before the hilles?

8 Hast thou heard the secret counsell of God, and doest thou restraine wisedome [f] to thee?

9 What knowest thou that we know not? and vnderstandest that is not in vs?

10 With vs are both ancient and very aged men, farre older then thy father.

11 Seeme the consolations of God [g] small vnto thee? is this thing strange vnto thee?

12 Why doeth thine heart [h] take thee away, and what doe thine eyes meane, 13 That thou answerest to God † at thy pleasure, and bringest such wordes out of thy mouth?

14 What is man, that he should be cleane? and he that is borne of woman, that he should [i] be iust?

15 Behold, he found no stedfastnesse in his Saints: yea, the heauens are not cleane in his sight.

16 How much more is man abominable, & filthie, which [k] drinketh iniquitie like water?

17 I will tell thee, heare me, and I will declare that which I haue seene:

18 Which wise men haue told, as they haue heard of their fathers, and haue not kept it secret:

19 To whom alone the land was [l] giuen, and no stranger passed through them.

20 The wicked man is continually as one that trauelleth of childe, and the number [m] of yeeres is hid from the tyrant.

21 A sound of feare is in his eares, and in his prosperitie the destroyer shall come vpon him.

22 Hee beleeueth not to returne out of [n] darkenesse: for hee seeth the sworde before him.

23 Hee wandereth [o] to and fro for bread where hee may: hee knoweth that the day of darkenesse is prepared at hand.

24 Affliction and [p] anguish shall make him afraid: they shall preuaile against him as a King ready to the battell.

25 For hee hath stretched out his hand against God, and made himselfe strong against the Almightie.

26 Therefore God shall runne vpon him, euen vpon his necke, and against the most thicke part of his shield.

27 Because he hath couered his face with [q] his fatnesse, and hath collops in his flancke.

28 Though hee dwell [r] in desolate cities, and in houses which no man inhabiteth, but are become heapes, 29 Hee shall not be rich, neither shall his substance continue, neither shall hee prolong the [s] perfection thereof in the earth.

30 He shall neuer depart out of darkenes: the flame shall dry vp his branches, and he shall goe away with the breath of his mouth.

31 He [t] beleeueth not that he erreth in vanitie: therefore vanitie shall be his change.

32 His branch shall not bee greene, but shall be cut off before his day.

33 God shall destroy him as the vine her sowre [u] grape, and shall cast him off, as the Oliue doeth her flower.

34 For the congregation of the hypocrite shalbe desolate, and fire shall deuoure the houses of [x] bribes.

35 For they [y] conceiue mischiefe, & bring foorth vanitie, and their belly hath prepared deceit.

a He chargeth Iob as though his talke caused him to cast off the feare of God and prayer.
b Thou speakest as doe the mockers and contemners of God.
c That is, the most ancient, and so by reason the most wise?
d Art thou onely wise?
e He accuseth Iobs pride and ingratitude, that will not be comforted by God, nor by their counsell.
f Why doest thou stand in thine owne conceit?
† Ebr. in thy spirit.
g His purpose is to proue that Iob as an vniust man and an hypocrite, is punished for his sins, like as he did before, chap. 4. 18.
h Which hath a neede to sinne, as he that is thirstie to drinke.
i Who by their wisedome so gouerned, that no stranger inuaded them, and so the land seemed to be giuen to them alone.
k The cruell man is euer in danger of death, and is neuer quiet in conscience.
l Out of that miserie whereinto he once fallen.
m God doth not onely impouerish the wicked oft times: but euen in their prosperitie he punisheth them with a greedines euermore to gather: which is as a beggerie.
n He sheweth what weapons God vseth against the wicked, which lift vp themselues against him, to wit, terrour of conscience, and outward afflictions.
o That is, he was so puft vp with great prosperitie and abundance of all things, that he forgat God: noting that Iob in his felicitie had not the true feare of God.
p Though he build, and repaire ruinous places to get him fame, yet God shall bring all to nought, and turne his great prosperitie into extreme misery.
q Meaning, that his sumptuous building should neuer come to perfection.
r He flattereth so in his owne conceit, that he will giue no place to good counsell, therefore his own pride shall bring him to destruction.
s That is, he was so puft vp with great prosperitie and abundance of all things, that he forgat God: noting that Iob in his felicitie had not the true feare of God.
t Though he build, and repaire ruinous places to get him fame, yet God shall bring all to nought, and turne his great prosperitie into extreme misery.
u Meaning, that his sumptuous building should neuer come to perfection.
x He flattereth so in his owne conceit, that he will giue no place to good counsell, therefore his own pride shall bring him to destruction.
y As one that gathereth grapes before they be ripe.
x Which were built or maintained by pouling, and briberie.
y And therefore all their braue deuices shall turne to their owne destruction.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Iob moued by the importunacie of his friends, 7 counteth in what extremitie hee is, 19 And taketh God witnesse of his innocencie.

BVt Iob answered, and sayd,

2 I haue oft times heard such things: miserable comforters are ye all.

3 Shall there be none ende of wordes of [a] winde? or what maketh thee bolde so to [b] answere?

4 I could also speake as yee doe: (but would God your [c] soule were in my soules steade) I could keepe you company in speaking, and could [d] shake mine head at you.

5 But I would strengthen you [e] with my mouth, and the comfort of my lips should asswage your sorow.

6 Though I speake, my sorow [f] cannot bee asswaged: though I cease, what release haue I?

7 But now [g] hee maketh me weary: O God, thou hast made all my [h] congregation desolate,

8 And hast made mee full of [i] wrinkles which is a witnesse thereof, and my leannesse riseth vp in me, testifying the same in my face.

9 [k] His wrath hath torne me, and he hateth me, and gnasheth vpon me with his teeth: mine enemie hath sharpened his eyes against mee.

10 They haue opened their mouthes vpon me, and smitten mee on the [l] cheeke in reproch: they gather themselues together aa Which seeme for vaine ostentation, and for no true comfort.

b For Eliphaz did replie against Iobs answere.
c I would you felt that which I doe.
d That is, mocke at your miserie, as you doe at mine.
e If this were in my power, yet would I comfort you, and not doe as ye doe to me.
f If they would say, Why doest thou not then comfort thy selfe? he answereth, that the iudgements of God are more heauie, then he is able to asswage either by wordes or silence.
g Meaning, God.
h That is destroyed most of my family.
i In token of sorow and griefe.
k That is, God by his wrath: and in this diuersitie of wordes and high stile, he expresseth how grieuous the hand of God was vpon him.
l That is, hath handled mee most contemptuously: for to smiting on the cheeke signified, 1. King. 22. 24. marke 14. 65.

gainſt me.

11 God hath deliuered mee to the vniuſt, and hath made mee to turne out of the way by the [m] handes of the wicked.

12 I was in wealth, but he hath brought me to nought: he hath taken me by the neeke, and beaten me, and ſet me as a marke for himſelfe.

13 His [n] archers compaſſe mee round about: he cutteth my reines, and doth not ſpare, and powreth my gall [o] vpon the ground.

14 He hath broken me with one breaking vpon another, and runneth vpon mee like a Gyant.

15 I haue ſowed a ſackcloth vpon my ſkinne, and haue abaſed mine [p] horne vnto the duſt.

16 My face is withered with weeping, and the ſhadow of death is vpon mine eyes, 17 Though there bee no wickednesſe in [q] mine hands, and my prayer [r] be pure.

18 O earth, couer not thou my [s] blood, and let my crying finde no place.

19 For loe, now my [t] witnes is in the heauen, and my record is on high.

20 My friends [u] ſpeake eloquently againſt mee: but mine eye powreth out teares vnto God.

21 Oh that a man might [x] pleade with God, as man with his neighbour!

22 For the yeeres accounted come, and I ſhall goe the way, whence I ſhall not returne.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Iob ſaith that he conſumeth away, and yet doeth patiently abide it. 10 He exhorteth his friendes to repentance, 13 ſhewing that he looketh but for death.

MY breath is corrupt: my dayes are cut off, and the graue is readie for me.

2 There are none but [a] mockers with me, and mine eye continueth in [b] their bitternesſe.

3 [c] Lay downe now and put me in ſuretie for thee: who is he, that [d] will touch mine hand.

4 For thou haſt hid their heart from [e] vnderſtanding: therefore ſhalt thou not ſet them vp on high.

5 [f] For the eyes of his children ſhall faile, that ſpeaketh flatterie to his friends.

6 He hath alſo made me as by word of the people, and I am as a Tabret [h] before them.

7 Mine eye therefore is dimme for grieke, and all my ſtrength is like a ſhadow.

8 The righteous ſhalbe aſtonied at [i] this, and the innocent ſhall be mooued againſt the hypocrite.

9 But the righteous will holde his [k] way, and he whoſe hands are pure, ſhall increaſe his ſtrength.

10 All [l] you therefore turne you, and come now, and I ſhall not finde one wiſe among you.

11 My dayes are paſt, mine enterpriſes are broken, and the thoughts of mine heart

12 Haue changed the [m] night for the day, and the light that approched, for darkneſſe.

13 Though I hope, [n] yet the graue ſhall be mine houſe, and I ſhall make my bed in the darke.

14 I ſhall ſay to corruption, Thou art my [o] father, and to the worme, Thou art my mother and my ſiſter.

15 Where is then now mine hope? or who ſhall conſider the thing that I hoped for?

16 [p] They ſhall goe downe into the bottome of the pit: ſurely it ſhall lie together in the duſt.

m They haue led me whither they would.
n His manifolde afflictions.
o I am wounded to the heart.
p Meaning, his glorie was brought low.
q Signifying, that he is not able to comprehend the cauſe of this his grieuous puniſhment.
r That is, vnfained, and without hypocriſie.
s Let my ſinne be knowen if I be ſuch a ſinner as mine aduerſaries accuſe me, and let me finde no fauour.
t Though man condemne me, yet God is witneſſe of my cauſe.
u The painted wordes in ſteade of true conſolation.
x Thus by his great torments he is caried away, & breaketh out into paſſions, and ſpeaketh vnadviſedly, as though God ſhould intreate man more gently, ſeeing he hath but a ſhort time here to liue.

a In ſteade of comfort, being now at deaths doore, he had but them that mocked at him, and diſcouraged him.
b I ſee ſtill that they ſeeke but to hate me.
c He reaſoneth with God as a man beſide him ſelfe, to the intent that his cauſe might be brought to light.
d Am I anſwere for thee?
e That theſe mine afflictions are thy iuſt iudgments, though man knowe not the cauſe.
f He that flattereth a man, & onely iudgeth him happy in his proſperitie, ſhall not himſelfe onely, but in his poſteritie bee puniſhed.
g God hath made all the world to ſpeake of me, becauſe of mine afflictions.
h That is, as a continuall ſound in their eares.
i To wit, when they ſee the godly puniſhed, but in the ende they ſhall come to vnderſtanding, and know what ſhall be the reward of the hypocrite.
k That is, will not be diſcouraged, conſidering that the godly are puniſhed, as well as the wicked.
l Iob ſpeaketh to them three, that came to comfort him.
m That is, haue brought me ſorow in ſtead of comfort.
n Though I ſhould hope to come from auenture to proſperitie, as your diſcourſe pretendeth.
o I haue no more hope in father, mother, ſiſter, or any worldly thing: for the duſt and wormes ſhall be to me in ſtead of them.
p All worldly hope and proſperitie faile, which you ſay, are onely ſignes of Gods fauour: but ſeeing that theſe things periſh, I ſet mine hope in God, and in the life euerlaſting.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Bildad rebearſeth the paines of the vnfaithfull and wicked.

THen anſwered Bildad the Shuhite, and ſayd,

2 When will [a] yee make an end of your words? [b] cauſe vs to vnderſtand, and then we will ſpeake.

3 Wherefore are wee counted as beaſts, and are vile in your ſight?

4 Thou art [c] as one that teareth his ſoule in his anger. Shall the [d] earth be forſaken for thy ſake? or the rocke remooued out of his place?

5 Yea, the light of the wicked ſhall bee [e] quenched, and the ſparke of his fire ſhall not ſhine.

6 The light ſhalbe darke in his dwelling, and his candle ſhalbe put out with him.

7 The ſteppes of his ſtrength ſhall be reſtrained, and his owne counſell ſhall caſt him downe.

8 For he is taken in the net by his feete, and he [f] walketh vpon the ſnares.

9 The grenne ſhall take him by the heele, and the thiefe ſhall come vpon him.

10 A ſnare is layed for him in the ground, and a trap for him in the way.

11 Fearefulneſſe ſhall make him afraid on euery ſide, and ſhall driue him to his feete.

12 His ſtrength ſhall be [g] famine: and deſtruction ſhall be ready at his ſide.

13 It ſhall deuoure the inner parts of his ſkinne, and the [h] firſt borne of death ſhall deuoure his ſtrength.

14 His hope ſhall bee rooted out of his dwelling, a Which count your ſelues fooliſh, as Chap. 12.4. b Whom you take to be but beaſts, as Chap. 12.7.

c That is, like a mad man.
d Shall God change the order of nature for thy ſake by dealing with thee otherwiſe then he doth with all men?
e When the wicked is in his proſperitie, then God changeth his ſtate: and this is his ordinarie working for their ſinnes.
f Meaning, that the wicked are in continuall danger.
g That which ſhould nourith him, ſhalbe conſumed by famine.
h That is, ſome ſtrong and violent death ſhall conſume his ſtrength: or as the Ebrew word ſignifieth, his members or parts.

dwelling, and shall cause him to goe to the i king of feare.

i That is, with most great feare.

15 Feare shall dwell in his house (because it is not k his) l and brimstone shalbe scattered vpon his habitation.

k Meaning, not truely come by.
l Though all the world would fauour him, yet God would destroy him and his.

16 His rootes shall bee dried vp beneath, and aboue shall his branch be cut downe.

17 His remembrance shall perish from the earth, and hee shall haue no name in the streete.

m He shall fall from prosperitie to aduersitie.

18 They shall driue him out of the m light vnto darkenesse, & chase him out of the world.

19 He shal neither haue sonne nor nephew among his people, nor any posteritie in his dwellings.

20 The posteritie shall bee astonied at his n day, and feare shall come vpon the ancient.

n When they shall see what came to him.

21 Surely such are the habitations of the wicked, and t! is is the place of him that knoweth not God.

CHAP. XIX.

2 Iob reproueth his friends, 15 and reciteth his miseries and grieuous paines. 25 Hee assureth himselfe of the generall resurrection.

BUt Iob answered, and said,

2 How long will yee vexe my soule, and torment me with words?

a That is, many times, as Nehe. 4. 12.

3 Ye haue now a ten times reproched me, and are not ashamed: yee are impudent toward me.

4 And though I had in deed erred, mine errour b remaineth with me.

b That is, I my selfe shalbe punished for it, or you haue not yet confuted it.

5 But in deed if ye wil aduance your selues against me, and rebuke me for my reproch,

6 Know now, that God hath c ouerthrowen me, and hath compassed me with his net.

c Hee bursteth out againe into his passions, and declareth stil that his affliction commeth of God, though he be not able to feele the cause in himselfe.

7 Behold, I cry out of violence, but I haue none answere: I crie, but there is no iudgement.

8 He hath hedged vp my way that I cannot d passe, and hee hath set darkenesse in my pathes.

d Meaning, out of his afflictions.

9 He hath spoiled me of mine honour, and taken the e crowne away from mine head.

e Meaning, his children, and whatsoeuer was deare vnto him in this world.

10 He hath destroied me on euery side, and I am gone: and he hath remooued mine hope like f a tree.

f Which is plucked vp, and hath no more hope to grow.

11 And he hath kindled his wrath against me, and counteth me as one of his enemies.

12 His g armies came together, and made their way vpon mee, and camped about my tabernacle.

g His manifold afflictions.

13 Hee hath remooued my brethren farre from mee, and also mine acquaintance were strangers vnto me.

14 My neighbours haue forsaken me, and my familiars haue forgotten me.

h Mine houshold seruants: by all these losses Iob sheweth that touching the flesh he had great occasion to be mooued.

15 h They that dwell in mine house, and my maides tooke me for a stranger: for I was a stranger in their sight.

16 I called my seruant, but he would not answere, though I prayed him w̄ my mouth.

17 My breath was strange vnto my wife, though I prayed her for the childrens sake of mine i owne body.

i Which were ters and mine.

18 The wicked also despised me, and when I rose, they spake against me.

k Besides these great losses and most cruell vnkindnes, he was touched in his owne person as followeth.

19 All my secret friends abhorred me, and they whom I loued, are turned against me.

20 My bone k cleaueth to my skinne and to my flesh, and I haue escaped with the l skin of my teeth.

l All my flesh was consumed.

21 Haue pitie vpon me: haue m pitie vpon mee, (O yee my friends) for the hand of God hath touched me.

m Seeing I haue these iust causes to complaine, condemne me not as an hypocrite, specially ye which should comfort me.

22 Why doe ye persecute mee as n God?: and are not satisfied with my o flesh?

n It is not ynough that God doeth punish me, except you by reproches increase my sorow?

o To see my body punished, except ye trouble my minde?

23 Oh that my words were now written! oh that they were written euen in a booke, 24 And grauen with p an yron pen in lead, or in stone for euer!

p Hee protesteth that notwithstanding his sore passions his religion is perfite, and that he is not a blasphemer, as they iudged him.

25 For I am sure, that my q redeemer liueth, and he shall stand the last on the earth.

q I doe not iustifie my selfe before the world, but I know that I shall come before the great Iudge, who shal be my deliuerer and Sauiour.

26 And though after my skinne wormes destroy this body, yet shall I see God r in my flesh.

r Herein Iob declareth plainly that he had a full hope, that both the soule and body should enioy the presence of God in the last resurrection.

27 Whom I my selfe shall see, and mine eyes shall beholde, and none other for mee, though my reines are consumed within me.

28 But yee said, Why is he persecuted?: And there was a s deepe matter in me.

s Though his friends thought that he was but persecuted of God for his sinnes, yet he declareth that there was a deeper consideration: to wit, the triall of his faith and patience, and so to be an example for others.

29 Be ye afraid of the sword: for the sword will be t auenged of wickednesse, that yee may know that there is a iudgement.

t God will be reuenged of this hastie iudgement, whereby you condemne me.

CHAP. XX.

1 Zophar sheweth, that the wicked and the couetous shall haue a short end, 22 though for a time they flourish.

THen answered Zophar the Naamathite, and said,

2 Doubtlesse my thoughts cause mee to answere, and therefore I make haste.

3 I haue heard a the correction of my reproch: therefore the spirit of mine vnderstanding causeth me to answere.

a He declareth that two things mooued him to speake: to wit, because Iob seemed to touch him, and because he thought he had knowledge sufficient to confute him.

4 Knowest thou not this of old?: and since God placed man vpon the earth,

5 That the reioycing of the wicked is short, and that the ioy of hypocrites is but a moment?

6 Though b his excellencie mount vp to the heauen, & his head reach vnto the cloudes, b His purpose is to proue Iob to be a wicked man, and an hypocrite, because God punished him, and changed his prosperitie into aduersitie.

7 Yet shal he perish for euer, like his dung, and they which haue seene him, shall say, Where is he?

8 He shal flee away as a dreame, and they shall not finde him, and shall passe away as a vision vision of the night.

9 So that the eye which had seene him, shall doe so no more, and his place shal see him no more.

10 His children shall [c] flatter the poore, and his hands shall [d] restore his substance.

11 His bones are full of the sinne of his youth, and [e] it shall lie downe with him in the dust.

12 When wickednes [f] was sweete in his mouth, and he hid it vnder his tongue,

13 And fauoured it, and would not forsake it, but kept it close in his mouth, 14 Then his meate in his bowels was turned: the gall of Aspes was in the middes of him.

15 He hath deuoured substance, and he shal vomite it: for God shall draw it out of his bellie.

16 He shall sucke the [g] gall of Aspes, and the vipers tongue shall slay him.

17 Hee shall not see the [h] riuers, nor the floods and streames of honie and butter.

18 He shall restore the labour, and shal deuoure no more: euen according to the substance shall be his exchange, [i] and he shall enioy it no more.

19 For he hath vndone many: he hath forsaken the poore, & hath spoiled houses which he builded not.

20 Surely he shall feele no quietnes in his bodie, neither shall he reserue of that which he desired.

21 There shall none of his [k] meate be left: therefore none shall hope for his goods.

22 When he shall be filled with his abundance, he shall be in paine, and the hand [l] of all the wicked shall assaile him.

23 He shall bee about to fill his bellie, but God shall send vpon him his fierce wrath, [m] & shall cause to raine vpon him, euen vpon his meate.

24 He shall flee from the yron weapons, & the bowe of steele shall strike him through.

25 The arrowe is drawen out, and commeth forth of the [n] bodie, and shineth of his gall, so feare commeth vpon him.

26 [o] All darkenesse shal be hid in his secret places: the fire that is not [p] blowen, shall deuoure him, and that which remaineth in his Tabernacle, shall be destroyed.

27 The heauen shall declare his wickednes, and the earth shall rise vp against him.

28 The [q] increase of his house shall goe away: it shal flow away in the day of his wrath.

29 This is the portion of the wicked man from [r] God, and the heritage that hee shall haue of God, for his [s] words.

CHAP. XXI.

7 Iob declareth how the prosperitie of the wicked maketh them proud, 15 insomuch that they blaspheme God. 16 Their destruction is at hand. 23 None ought to be iudged wicked for affliction, neither good for prosperitie.

BVt Iob answered, and said,

2 Heare diligently my words, and this [a] shalbe in stead of your consolations.

3 Suffer me that I may speake, & when I haue spoken, mocke on.

4 Doe I direct my talke to man? If it [b] were so, how should not my spirit be troubled?

5 Marke me, and be abashed, and lay your hand vpon your [c] mouth.

6 Euen when I remember, I am afraid, and feare taketh hold on my flesh.

7 Wherefore doe the wicked [d] liue, and waxe old, and grow in wealth?

8 Their seede is established in their sight with them, and their generation before their eyes.

9 Their houses are peaceable without feare, and the rod of God is not vpon them

10 Their bullocke gendreth, & faileth not: their cow calueth, and casteth not her calfe.

11 They send foorth their children [e] like sheepe, and their sonnes dance.

12 They take the tabret and harpe, and reioyce in the sound of the organns.

13 They spend their dayes in wealth, and suddenly [f] they goe downe to the graue.

14 They say also vnto God, Depart from vs: for we desire not the [g] knowledge of thy wayes.

15 Who is the Almightie, that we should serue him? and what profit should we haue, if we should pray vnto him?

16 Loe, their wealth is not in their [h] hand: therefore let the counsell of the wicked [i] bee farre from me.

17 How oft shall the candle of the wicked bee put out? and their destruction come vpon them? he will diuide their liues in his wrath.

18 They shalbe as stubble before the wind, and as chaffe that the storme carieth away.

19 God will lay vp the sorrow of the father for his children: when he rewardeth him, he shall know it.

20 [k] His eyes shall see his destruction, and he shall drinke of the wrath of the Almightie.

21 For what pleasure hath he in his house after him, when the number of his moneths is cut off?

22 Shal any teach [l] God knowledge, who iudgeth the highest things?

23 One [m] dieth in his full strength, being in all ease and prosperitie.

c Whereas the father through ambition and tyrannie oppressed the poore, the children through pouertie and miserie shall seeke fauour at the poore.

d So that the thing, which he hath taken away by violence, shall be restored againe by force.

e Meaning, that he shall carry nothing away with him, but his sinne.

f As poison that is sweete in the mouth, bringeth destruction, when it commeth into the body: so all vice at the first is pleasant, but afterward God turneth it to destruction.

g He compareth euill gotten goods to the venim of aspes, which serpent is most dangerous: noting that Iobs great riches were not truely come by, and therefore God did plague him iustly for the same.

h Though God giue to all other abundance of his blessings, yet he shal haue no part thereof.

i That is, these rauiners and spoilers of the poore shall enioy their theft but for a time, for after God will take it from them, and cause them to make restitution, so that it is but an exchange.

k He shall leaue nothing to his posteritie.

l The wicked shall neuer be in rest: for one wicked man shall seeke to destroy another.

m Some reade, vpon his flesh, alluding to Iob, whose flesh was smitten with a plab.

n Some reade, of the quiuer.

o All feare and sorow shall light vpon him, when he thinketh to escape.

p That is, fire from heauen, or the fire of Gods wrath.

q Meaning, the children of the wicked shall flowe away like riuers, and be dispersed in diuers places.

r Thus God will plague the wicked.

s According to Gods, thinking to excuse himselfe, and to escape Gods hand.

a Your diligent marking of my words shalbe to me a great consolation.

b As though he would say, I doe not talke with man, but with God, who will not answere me, and therefore my mind must needs be troubled.

c He chargeth them as though they were not able to comprehend this his feeling of Gods iudgement, and exhorteth them therefore to silence.

d Iob proceeth against his aduersaries, that God punisheth not straightwayes the wicked, but oft times giueth them long life and prosperitie: so that we must not iudge God iust or vniust by the things that appeare to our eye.

e They haue store of children, iustie and healthfull, and in these points he answereth to that which Zophar alleaged before.

f Not being tormented with long sickenesse.

g They desire nothing more then to be exempt from all subiection that they should beare to God: this Iob sheweth his aduersaries, that if they reason onely by that which is seene by common experience, the wicked that hate God, are better dealt withall, then they that loue him.

h It is not their owne, but God onely lendeth it vnto them.

i God keepe me from their prosperitie.

k When God recompenceth his wickednesse, he shall know that his prosperitie and punishment l Who seemeth to the wicked prosperitie. godly.

m Meaning, the wicked.

24 His breasts are full of milke, and his bones run full of marrow.

25 And another [n] dieth in the bitternesse of his soule, and neuer eateth with pleasure.

26 They shall sleepe both in the [o] dust, and the wormes shall couer them.

27 Behold, I know your thoughts, and the enterprises, wherewith ye doe me wrong.

28 For yee say, Where is the Princes [p] house? and where is the Tabernacle of the wickeds dwelling?

29 May ye not [q] aske them that goe by the way? and ye cannot denie their signes.

30 But the wicked is kept vnto the day of [r] destruction, and they shall be brought foorth to the day of wrath.

31 Who shal declare his way [r] to his face? and who shall reward him for that hee hath done?

32 Yet shall hee be brought to the graue, and remaine in the heape.

33 The [t] slimie valley shall be sweete vnto him, and euery man shall drawe after him, as before him there were innumerable.

34 How then comfort [u] ye me in vaine, seeing in your answeres there remaine but lies?

n To wit, the godly.
o As concerning their bodies: and this he speaketh according to the common iudgement.
p Thus they called Iobs house in derision concluding that it was destroied because he was wicked.
q Which through long trauelling haue experience and tokens hereof, to wit, that the wicked doe prosper, and the godly liue in affliction.
r Though the wicked flourish here, yet God will punish him in the last day.
s Though men doe flatter him, and none dare reproue him in this world, yet death is a token that God will bring him to an account.
t He shalbe glad to lie in a slimie pit, which before could not be content with a royall palace.
u Saying, that the iust in this world haue prosperitie, and the wicked aduersitie.

CHAP. XXII.

2 Eliphaz affirmeth that Iob is punished for his sinnes. 6 He accuseth him of vnmercifulnesse, 13 and that hee denieth Gods prouidence. 21 He exhorteth him to repentance.

THen Eliphaz the Temanite answered, and said,

2 May a man be [a] profitable vnto God, as he that is wise, may be profitable to himselfe?

3 *Is it any thing vnto the Almightie, that thou art righteous? or is it profitable to him, that thou makest thy wayes vpright?

4 Is it for feare [b] of thee that he will accuse thee? or goe with thee into iudgement?

5 Is not thy wickednes great, and thine iniquities innumerable?

6 For thou hast taken the [c] pledge from thy brother for nought, and spoiled the clothes of the naked.

7 To such as were wearie, thou hast not giuen water to drinke, and hast withdrawen bread from the hungry.

8 But the mightie man [d] had the earth, and he that was in authoritie, dwelt in it.

9 Thou hast cast out widowes emptie, and the armes of [e] the fatherlesse were broken.

10 Therefore snares are round about thee, and feare shall suddenly trouble thee:

11 Or darknesse that thou shouldest not see, and [f] abundance of waters shal couer thee.

12 Is not God on [g] high in the heauen? and behold the height of the [h] starres how hie they are.

13 But thou sayest, How should God [i] knowe? can hee iudge through the darke cloude?

14 The clouds hide him that hee can not see, and he walketh in the circle of heauen.

15 Hast thou marked the way of ỹ world, [k] wherein wicked men haue walked?

16 Which were [l] cut downe before the time, whose foundation was as a riuer that ouerflowed:

17 Which sayd vnto God, Depart from vs, and asked what the Almightie could doe for them.

18 Yet he [m] filled their houses with good things: but let the counsell of the wicked be farre from me.

19 The righteous shall see them, and shall reioyce, [n] and the innocent shall laugh them to scorne.

20 Surely [o] our substance is hid: but the fire hath deuoured the remnant [p] of them.

21 Therefore acquaint thy selfe, I pray thee, [q] with him, and make peace: thereby thou shalt haue prosperitie.

22 Receiue, I pray thee, the lawe of his mouth, and lay vp his wordes in thine heart.

23 If thou returne to the Almightie, thou shalt [r] be built vp, and thou shalt put iniquitie farre from thy Tabernacle.

24 Thou shalt lay vp golde for [r] dust, and the gold of Ophir, as the flints of the riuers.

25 Yea, the Almightie shall be thy defence, and thou shalt haue plentie of siluer.

26 And thou shalt then delight in the Almightie, and lift vp thy face vnto God.

27 Thou shalt make thy prayer vnto him, and hee shall heare thee, and thou shalt render thy vowes.

28 Thou shalt also decree a thing, and hee shall establish it vnto thee, and the [t] light shall shine vpon thy wayes.

29 [u] When others are cast downe, then shalt thou say, I am lifted vp: and God shall saue the humble person.

30 The innocent shall deliuer the [x] yland, and it shall bee preserued by the pureness of thine handes.

a Though man were iust, yet God could haue no profit of this his iustice: and therefore when he punisheth him, he hath no regard to his iustice, but to his sinne.
* Chap. 35. 7.
b Lest thou shouldest reproue or hurt him?
c Thou hast bene cruell and without charitie, and wouldest doe nothing for the poore, but for thine owne auantage.
d When thou wast in power and authoritie, thou diddest not iustice, but wrong.
e Thou hast not onely not shewen pitie, but oppressed them.
f That is, manifold afflictions.
g He accuseth Iob of impietie and contempt of God, as though he would say, Iob, if thou passe not for men, yet consider the height of Gods Maiestie.
h That so much the more by that excellent worke thou maiest learne God, and reuerence him.
i He reproueth Iob as though he denied Gods prouidence, and that he could not see the things that were done in this world.
k How God hath punished them from the beginning.
l He proueth Gods prouidence by the punishment of the wicked, whom he taketh away before they can bring their wicked purposes to passe.
m He answereth to that, which Iob had saye, Chap. 21. 7. that the wicked haue prosperitie in this world: declaring that hee might not be partaker of the like.
n The iust reioyce at the destruction of the wicked for two causes: first, because God sheweth himselfe Iudge of the world, and by this meanes continueth his honour and glory: secondly, because God sheweth that he hath care ouer his, in that he punisheth their enemies.
o That is, the state and preseruation of the godly is hid vnder Gods wings.
p Meaning of the wicked.
q He exhorteth Iob to repentance, and to returne to God.
r God will restore to thee all thy substance.
s Which shall be in abundance like dust.
t That is, the fauour of God.
u God will deliuer his when the wicked are destroyed round about them, as in the flood and in Sodom.
x God will deliuer a whole countrey for the iust mans sake.

CHAP. XXIII.

2 Iob affirmeth that he both knoweth and feareth the power and sentence of the Iudge, 10 And that he is not punished onely for his sinnes.

BUt Iob answered, and said,

2 Though my talke bee this day in [a] bitternesse, and my plague greater then my groning, a He sheweth the iust cause of his complayning, and as touching that Eliphaz had exhorted him to returne to God, Chap. 22. 21. he declareth that he refused nothing more: but it seemed that God would not be found of him.

3 Would God yet I knew how to finde him, I would enter into his place.

4 I would plead the cause before him, and fill my mouth with arguments.

5 I would know the words, that he would answere me, and would vnderstand what hee would say vnto me.

6 Would hee [b] plead against me with his great power? No, but he would [c] put strength in me.

7 [d] There the righteous might reason with him, so I should bee deliuered for euer from my Iudge.

8 [e] Behold, if I go to ỹ East, he is not there: if to the West, yet I cannot perceiue him:

9 If to the North where he worketh, yet I cannot see him: hee will hide himselfe in the South, and I cannot behold him.

10 But he knoweth my [f] way, and tryeth me, and I shall come forth like the gold.

11 My foote hath followed his steps: his way haue I kept, and haue not declined.

12 Neither haue I departed from the commandement of his lips, and I haue [g] esteemed the wordes of his mouth more then mine appointed food.

13 Yet he is in one mind, & who can [h] turne him? yea, he doth what his minde desireth.

14 For he will performe that, which is decreed of me, & [i] many such things are with him.

15 Therefore I am troubled at his presence, & in considering it, I am afraide of him.

16 For God [k] hath softned mine heart, and the Almightie hath troubled me.

17 For I am not cut off in [l] darkenesse, but he hath hid the darkenesse from my face.

b Wing his absolute power, and saying, Because I am God, I may doe what I will.
c Of his mercie he would giue me power to answere him.
d When he of his mercie hath giuen strength to maintaine their cause.
e Meaning, that if he consider Gods iustice, hee is not able to comprehend his iudgements on what side or part soeuer he turneth himselfe.
f God hath this preeminence aboue me, that he knoweth my way: to wit, that I am innocent, and I am not able to iudge of his workes: he sheweth also his confidence, that God doeth visite him for his profite.
g His word is more precious vnto me, then the meate wherewith the body is sustained.
h Iob confesseth that at this present he felt not Gods fauour, and yet was assured, that he had appointed him to a good ende.
i In many points man is not able to attaine to Gods iudgements.
k That I should not be without feare.
l He sheweth the cause of his feare, which is, that he being in trouble seeth none ende, neither yet knoweth the cause.

CHAP. XXIIII.

2 Iob describeth the wickednes of men, and sheweth what curse belongeth to the wicked. 12 How all things are gouerned by Gods prouidence. 17 And the destruction of the wicked.

a Thus Iob speaketh in his passions and after the iudgement of the flesh: that is, that he seeth not the things that are done at times, neither hath a peculiar care ouer all, because hee punisheth not the wicked, nor reuengeth the godly.
b When he punisheth the wicked and rewardeth the good.
c And for cruelty and oppression dare not shew their faces.
d That is, feare no diligence.
e He and his, liue by robbing and murthering.
f Meaning the poore mans.

HOw should not the times [a] bee hid from the Almightie, seeing that they which know him, see not his [b] dayes?

2 Some remoue the land marks, that rob the flockes and feede thereof.

3 They lead away the asse of the fatherles: and take the widowes oxe to pledge.

4 They make the poore to turne out of the way, so that the poore of the earth hide themselues [c] together.

5 Behold, others as wild asses in the wildernesse, goe forth to their businesse, and [d] rise earely for a pray: the wildernesse [e] giueth him and his children foode.

6 They reape [f] his prouision in the fielde, but they gather the late [g] vintage of ỹ wicked.

7 They cause the naked to lodge without garment, and without couering in the colde.

8 They are wet with the showres of the mountaines: [h] and they imbrace the rocke for want of a couering.

9 They plucke the fatherlesse [i] from the brest, and take the pledge [k] of the poore.

10 They cause him to goe naked without clothing, and take the gleaning from the hungrie.

11 They that make oyle [l] betweene their wals, & tread their wine presses, suffer thirst.

12 Men [m] cry out of the citie, and the soules of the slaine [n] crie out: yet God doeth [o] not charge them with folly.

13 These are they, that abhorre the [p] light: they know not the waies thereof, nor continue in the pathes thereof.

14 The murtherer riseth earely and killeth the poore and the needie: and in the night he is as a theefe.

15 The eye also of the [q] adulterer waiteth for the twilight and saith, No eye shall see me, and disguiseth his face.

16 They dig through houses in the darke, which they marked for themselues in the day: they know not the light.

17 But the morning is euen to them as the shadow of death: if one know them, they are in the terrours of the shadow of death.

18 Hee is [r] swift vpon the waters: th [s] portion shalbe cursed in the earth: he will not beholde the way of the vineyards.

19 As the drie ground and heate consume the snow waters, so shal ỹ graue [t] the sinners.

20 [u] The pitifull man shall forget him: the worme shall feede his sweetnesse: he shalbe no more remembred, and the wicked shall be broken like a tree.

21 Hee [x] doeth euill intreate the barren, that doth not beare, neither doth he good to the widowe.

22 Hee draweth also the [y] mightie by his power, & when he riseth vp, none is sure of life.

23 Though men giue him assurance to be in safetie, yet his eyes are vpon their waies.

24 They are exalted for a little, but they are gone, and are brought lowe as all others: they are destroyed, and cut off as the top of an eare of corne.

25 But if it bee not [z] so, where is hee? or who will proue me a lyar, and make my words of no value?

g Signifying, that one wicked man will not spoyle another, but for necessitie.
h The poore are driuen by the wicked into rockes and holes, where they can not lie drie for the raine.
i That is, they so powle and pill the poore widow, that she cannot haue to sustaine her selfe that she may be able to giue her child. sucke.
k That is, his garment, wherewith he should be couered or clad.
l In such places which are appointed for that purpose: meaning that those that labour for the wicked, are pined for hunger.
m For the great oppression and extortion.
n Crie out & cal for vengeance.
o God doth not condemne the wicked, but seemeth to passe ouer it by his long silence.
p That is, Gods word, because they are reproued thereby.
q By these particular vices and the licence thereunto, he would proue that God punisheth not the wicked & rewardeth the iust.
r He fleeth to the waters for succor.
s They thinke that all the world is bent against them, & dare not goe by the high way.
t As the drie ground is neuer full of waters, so will they neuer cease sinning, till they come to ỹ graue.
u Though God suffer the wicked for a time, yet their end shall be most vile destruction, and in this poinct Iob commeth to himselfe and sheweth his confidence.
x He sheweth why the wicked shall not be lamented, because he did not pitie others.
y He declareth that after that the wicked haue destroyed the weakest, they will doe like to the stronger, and therefore they are iustly preuented by Gods iudgements.
z That is, that contrary to your reasoning no man can giue a perfit reason of Gods iudgements, let me be reproued.

CHAP. XXV.

Bildad proueth that no man is cleane not without sinne before God.

THen answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said,

2 [a] Power and feare is with him, that maketh peace in his hie places.

3 Is there any number in his armies: and vpon whom [b] shall not his light arise:

4 And how may a man [c] bee iustified with God: or how can he be cleane, that is borne of woman:

5 Behold, he wil giue no light to the moone, [d] and the starres are vncleane in his sight.

6 How much more man, a worme, euen the sonne of man, which is but a worme:

a His purpose is to proue, that albeit God try and afflict the iust, yet soone after he sendeth prosperitie, and because he did not so to Iob, he concludeth that he is wicked.
b Who can hide him from his presence?
c That is, bee iust in respect of God?
d If God shew his power, the moone and starres cannot haue that light, which is giuen them, much lesse can man haue any excellencie, but of God.

CHAP. XXVI.

Iob sheweth that man cannot helpe God, and proueth it by his miracles.

BUt Iob answered, and said,

2 [a] Whom helpest thou: him that hath no power: sauest thou the arme that hath no strength:

3 Whome counsellest thou: him that hath no wisedome: thou [b] shewest right well as the thing is.

4 To whome doest thou declare these words: or whose spirit [c] commeth out of thee:

5 The [d] dead things are formed vnder the waters, and neere vnto them.

6 The graue is [e] naked before him, & there is no couering for [f] destruction.

7 He stretcheth out the [g] North ouer the emptie place, and hangeth the earth vpon nothing.

8 He bindeth the waters in his cloudes, and the cloud is not broken vnder them.

9 He holdeth backe the face of his throne: [h] and spreadeth his cloud vpon it.

10 He hath set bounds about the waters, vntill the [i] day and night come to an end.

11 The [k] pillars of heauen tremble and quake at his reproofe.

12 The sea is calme by his power, and by his vnderstanding he smiteth the pride therof.

13 His spirit hath garnished the heauens, and his hand hath formed the crooked [l] serpent.

14 Loe, these are part of his wayes: but [m] how little a portion heare wee of him: and who can vnderstand his fearefull power:

a Thou concludest nothing: for neither thou helpest me, which am destitute of all helpe, neither yet speakest sufficiently on Gods behalfe who hath no neede of thy defence.
b But thou doest not applie it to the purpose.
c That is, moueth thee to speake this?
d Iob beginneth to declare the force of Gods power and prouidence in the mines and metals in the deepe places of the earth.
e There is nothing hid in the bottome of the earth, but he seeth it.
f Meaning, the graue wherein things putrifie.
g He causeth the whole heauen to turne about the North pole.
h That is, he bindeth the heauens, which are called his throne.
i So long as this world endureth.
k Not that heauen hath pillars to vphold it, but he speaketh by a similitude, as though hee would say, The heauen it selfe is not able to abide his reproch.
l Which is a figure of starres fashioned like a serpent, because of the crookednesse.
m If these few things, which wee see daily with our eyes, declare his great power and prouidence, how much more would they appeare, if we were able to comprehend all his workes?

CHAP. XXVII.

3 The constancie and perfitnesse of Iob. 13 The reward of the wicked and of the tyrants.

MOreouer, Iob proceeded and continued his parable, saying,

2 The liuing God hath taken away my [a] iudgement: for the Almightie hath put my soule in bitternesse.

3 Yet so long as my breath is in mee, and the Spirit of God in my nostrels, 4 My lips surely shall speake no wickednesse, and [b] my tongue shall vtter no deceit.

5 God forbid, that I should [c] iustifie you: vntill I die, I will neuer take away mine [d] innocencie from my selfe.

6 I will keepe my righteousnesse, and wil not forsake it: mine heart shall not reproue me of my [e] dayes.

7 Mine enemie shall be as the wicked, and he that riseth against mee, as the vnrighteous.

8 For what [f] hope hath the hypocrite when he hath heaped vp riches, if God take away his soule:

9 Will God heare his crie, when trouble commeth vpon him:

10 Will he set his delight on the Almightie: will he call vpon God at all times:

11 I will teach you what is in the hand of [g] God, and I will not conceale that which is with the Almightie.

12 Behold, all ye your selues [h] haue seene it: why then doe you thus vanish [i] in vanitie:

13 This is the [k] portion of a wicked man with God, and the heritage of tyrants, which they shall receiue of the Almightie.

14 If his children be in great number, the sword shall destroy them, and his posteritie shall not be satisfied with bread.

15 His remnant shall bee buried in death, and his widowes [l] shall not weepe.

16 Though hee should heape vp siluer as the dust, and prepare raiment as the clay, 17 He may prepare it, but the iust shall put it on, and the innocent shall diuide the siluer.

18 Hee buildeth his house as the [m] moth, and as a lodge that the watchman maketh.

19 When the rich man sleepeth, [n] hee shall not bee gathered to his fathers: they opened their eyes, and he was gone.

20 Terrours shal take him as waters, and a tempest shall carie him away by night.

21 The East winde shall take him away, and he shall depart: and it shall hurle him out of his place.

22 And God shal cast vpon him & not spare, though he would faine flee out of his hand.

23 Euery man shal clap their hands at him, and hisse at him out of their place.

a He hath so sore afflicted me, that men cannot iudge of mine vprightnesse: for they iudge onely by outward signes.
b Howsoeuer men iudge of me, yet will I not speake contrary to that, which I haue said, and so not wickedly in betraying the truth.
c Which condemne me as a wicked man, because the hand of God is vpon me.
d I will not confesse that God doeth thus punish me for my sinnes.
e Of my life past.
f What aduantage hath the dissembler to gaine neuer so much, seeing he shall loose his owne soule?
g That is, what God reserueth to himselfe, and whereof he giueth not the knowledge to all.
h That is, these secrete iudgements of God, & yet do not vnderstand them.
i Why maintaine you this errour?
k Thus will God order the wicked and punish him, euen vnto his posteritie.
l None shall lament him.
m Which breedeth in an other mans possession, or garment, but is soone shaken out.
n He meaneth that the wicked tyrants shall not haue a quiet death, nor bee buried honourably.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Iob sheweth that the wisedome of God is vnsearchable.

THe siluer surely hath his veine, [a] and the gold his place, where they take it.

2 Yron is taken out of the dust, and brasse is molten out of the stone.

3 God putteth an end to darkenesse, [b] and a His purpose is to declare that man may attaine in this world to diuers secrets of nature, but man is neuer able to comprehend the wisedome of God. b There is nothing but it is compassed within certaine limits, and hath an end, but Gods wisedome.

he trieth the perfection of all things: hee setteth a bond of darkenesse, and of the shadow of death.

4 The flood breaketh out against the [c] inhabitant, and the waters [d] forgotten of the foote, being higher then man, are gone away.

5 Out of the same earth commeth [e] bread, and vnder it, as it were fire is turned vp.

6 The stones thereof are a place [f] of saphirs, and the dust of it is golde.

7 There is a path which no foule hath knowen, neither hath the kites eye seene it.

8 The lyons whelpes haue not walked it, nor the lyon passed thereby.

9 He putteth his hand vpon the [g] rockes, and ouerthroweth the mountaines by the rootes.

10 Hee breaketh riuers in the rockes, and his eye seeth euery precious thing.

11 He bindeth the floods, that they doe not ouerflowe, and the thing that is hid, bringeth he to light.

12 But where is wisedome found? [h] and where is the place of vnderstanding?

13 Man knoweth not [i] the price thereof: for it is not found in the land of the liuing.

14 The depth saith, It is not in mee: the sea also saith, It is not with me.

15 [k] Gold shall not be giuen for it, neither shall siluer be weighed for the price thereof.

16 It shall not be valued with the wedge of gold of Ophir, nor with the precious Onix, nor the saphir.

17 The golde nor the chrystall shall bee equal vnto it, nor the exchange shall be for plate of fine golde.

18 No mention shall be made of coral, nor of the [l] gabish: for wisedome is more precious then pearles.

19 The Topaz of Ethiopia shall not bee equall vnto it, neither shall it bee valued with the wedge of pure gold.

20 Whence then commeth wisedome? and where is the place of vnderstanding.

21 Seeing it is hid from the eyes of all the liuing, and is hid from the [m] foules of the heauen?

22 Destruction and death say, Wee haue heard the fame thereof with our eares, 23 But God vnderstandeth the [n] way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof.

24 For he beholdeth the ends of the world, and seeth all that is vnder heauen.

25 To make the weight of the winds, and to weigh the waters by measure.

26 When hee made a decree for the raine, and a way for the lightning of the thunders, 27 Then did he see it, and counted it: hee prepared it and also considered it.

28 And vnto man hee said, Beholde, *the [o] feare of the Lord is wisedome, and to depart from euil is vnderstanding.

[o] He declareth that man hath so much of this heauenly wisedome, as he sheweth by fearing God, and departing from euill.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Iob complaineth of the prosperitie of the time past. 7. 21 His authoritie, 12 iustice and equitie.

MOreouer Iob proceeded and continued his parable, saying,

2 O that I were as [†] in times past, when God preserued me!

[†] Ebr. moneths before.

3 When his [a] light shined vpon mine head: and when by his light I walked thorow the [b] darkenesse,

[a] When I felt his fauour.

[b] I was free from affliction.

4 As I was in the daies of my youth: when [c] Gods prouidence was vpon my tabernacle:

[c] That is, seemed by euident tokens to bee more present with me.

5 When the Almightie was yet with mee, and my children round about me:

6 When I washed my paths [d] with butter, and when the rocke powred me out riuers of oyle:

[d] By these similitudes he declareth the great prosperitie, that he was in, so that he had none occasion to be such a sinner as they accused him.

7 When I went out to the gate, euen to the iudgement seat and when I caused them to prepare my seate in the streete.

8 The yong men saw me, and [e] hid themselues, and the aged arose, and stood vp.

[e] Being ashamed of their lightnesse and afraid of my grauitie.

9 The princes stayed talke, and layd their hand on their [f] mouth.

[f] Acknowledging my wisedome

10 The voyce of princes was hid, & their tongue cleaued to the roofe of their mouth.

11 And when the [g] eare heard mee, it blessed me: and when the eye saw me, it gaue witnesse to [h] me.

[g] All that heard me, praised me.

[h] Testifying that I did good iustice.

12 For I deliuered the [i] poore that cryed, and the fatherlesse, and him that had none to helpe him.

[i] Because his aduersaries did so much charge him with wickednesse, he is compelled to render account of his life.

13 [k] The blessing of him that was readie to perish, came vpon me, and I caused the widowes heart to reioyce.

[k] That is, I did succour him that was in distresse, and so he had cause to praise me.

14 I put [l] on iustice, and it couered me: my iudgement was as a robe, and a crowne.

15 I was the eyes to the blinde, and I was the feete to the lame.

16 I was a father vnto the poore, & when I knew not the cause, I sought it out diligently.

[l] I delited to do iustice, as other did to weare costly apparell.

17 I brake also the chawes of the vnrighteous man, & pluckt the pray out of his teeth.

18 Then I said, I shall die in my [m] nest, and I shall multiply my daies as the sand.

[m] That is, at home in my bed, without all trouble, and vnquietnesse.

19 For my roote is [n] spread out by the water, and the dewe shall lie vpon my branch.

[n] My felicitie doth increase.

20 My glory shall renue toward mee, and my bow shalbe restored in mine hand.

21 Vnto me men gaue eare, and waited, and held their tongue at my counsell.

[o] That is, was pleasant vnto them.

22 After my wordes they replied not, and my talke [o] dropped vpon them.

[p] As the raine ground thirsteth for the raine.

23 And they waited for mee, as for the raine, and they opened their mouth [p] as for the latter raine.

[q] That is, they thought it not to be ceased, or they thought not that I would render vnto them.

24 If I [q] laughed on them, they beleeued it c Meaning, him that dwelleth thereby.

d Which a man cannot wade thorow.
e That is, corne, and vnderneath is brimstone or cole, which easily conceiueth fire.
f He alludeth to the mines and secrets of nature, which are vnder the earth, whereinto neither foules nor beasts can enter.
g After that he hath declared the wisedome of God in the secrets of nature, he describeth his power.
h Though Gods power, and wisedome may be vnderstand in earthly things, yet his heauenly wisedome cannot be atteined vnto.
i It is to hie a thing for a man to attaine vnto in this world.
k It can neither be bought for gold nor precious stones, but is onely the gift of God.
l Which is thought to be a kinde of precious stone.
m Meaning, that there is no natural meanes whereby man might attaine to the heauenly wisedome: which he meaneth by the foules, that flie hie.
n He maketh God onely the author of this wisdome, and the giuer thereof.
*Proverb. 1.7.

not: neither did they cause the light of my countenance[r] to fall.

r They were afraid to offend me, and cause me to be angry.

25 I appointed out[s] their way, and did sit as chiefe, and dwelt as a King in the armie, and like him that comforteth the mourners.

s I had them at commandement.

CHAP. XXX.

1 Iob complaineth that he is contemned of the most contemptible, 11.21. because of his adversitie and affliction. 23 Death is the house of all flesh.

BUt now they that are yonger then I, mock me: yea, they whose fathers I haue refused to set with the[b] dogs of my flocks.

a That is, mine estate is changed, and whereas before the ancient men were glad to doe me reuerence, the yong men now contemne me.

b Meaning, to be my shepheards, or to keepe my dogs.

2 For whereto should the strength of their hand haue serued me, seeing age[c] perished in them?

c That is, their fathers died for famine before they came to age.

3 For pouertie and famine they were solitarie, fleeing into the wildernesse, which is darke, desolate and waste.

4 They cut vp ‖ nettles by the bushes, and the iuniper rootes was their meat.

‖ Or, mallowes.

5 They were[d] chased forth from among men: they shouted at them, as at a thiefe.

d Iob sheweth that these that mocked him in his affliction, were like to their fathers wicked, and lewde fellowes, such as he here describeth.

6 Therefore they dwelt in the clefts of riuers, in the holes of the earth and rockes.

7 They roared among the bushes, and vnder the thistles they gathered themselues.

8 They were the children of fooles and the children of villaines, which were more vile then the earth.

9 And now am I their[e] song, and I am their talke.

e They make songes of me, and mocke at my miserie.

10 They abhorre mee, and flee farre from me, and spare not to spit in my face.

11 Because that God hath loosed my[f] cord and humbled me, [g] they haue loosed the bridle before me.

f God hath taken from me the force, credite and authoritie, wherewith I kept the in subiection.

g He said that the yong men when they saw him, hid themselues, as Chap. 29.8 and now in his misery they were impudent and licentious.

12 The youth rise vp at my right hand: they haue pusht my feet, and haue trode on me as on the[h] paths of their destruction.

h That is, they sought by all meanes how they might destroy me.

13 They haue destroyed my paths: they tooke pleasure at my calamitie, they had none[i] helpe.

i They neede none to helpe them.

14 They came as a great breach of waters: and[k] vnder this calamitie they come on heaps.

k By my calamitie they tooke an occasion against me.

15 Feare is turned vpon mee: and they pursue my soule as the winde, and mine health passeth away as a cloude.

16 Therefore my soule is now[l] powred out vpon mee, and the dayes of affliction haue taken hold on me.

l My life faileth me, and I am as halfe dead.

17 [m] It pearced my bones in the night, and my sinewes take no rest.

m Meaning, sorow.

18 For the great vehemencie is my garment changed, which compassed mee about as the collar of my coate.

19 [n] He hath cast me into the myre, and I and become like ashes and dust.

n That is, God hath brought me into contempt.

20 When I cry vnto thee, thou doest not hear me, neither regardest me, when I stand vp.

21 Thou turnest thy selfe[o] cruelly against me, and art enemie vnto me with the strength of thine hand.

o He speaketh not thus to accuse God, but to declare the vehemencie of his affliction, whereby he was carried beside himselfe.

22 Thou takest me vp and causest mee to ride vpon [p] the winde, & makest my ‖ strength to faile.

p He compareth his afflictions to a tempest or whirlewinde.

‖ Or, wisedome, or Law.

23 Surely I know that thou wilt bring me to death, and to the house appointed for all the liuing.

24 Doubtlesse none can stretch his hand [q] vnto the graue, though they cry in his destruction.

q None can deliuer me thence though they lament at my death.

25 Did not I weepe with him that was in trouble? was not my soule in heauinesse for the poore?

26 Yet when I looked for good, [r] euill came vpon me: and when I waited for light, there came darkenesse.

r In stead of comforting they mocked at me.

27 My bowels did boyle without rest: for the daies of affliction are come vpon me.

28 I went mourning [s] without sunne: I stood in the congregation, [t] and cryed.

s Not delighting in any worldly thing, no not so much, as in the vse of the sunne.

t Lamenting them that were in affliction, and mouing others to pitie them.

29 I am a brother to the [u] dragons, and a companion to the ostriches.

u I am like the wilde beasts that desire most solitary places.

30 My skinne is blacke vpon mee, and my bones are burnt with [x] heate.

x With the heat of affliction.

31 Therefore mine harpe is turned to mourning, and mine organs into the voyce of them that wepe.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 Iob reciteth the innocencie of his liuing, and number of his vertues, which declareth what ought to be the life of the faithfull.

I Made a couenant with mine[a] eyes, why then should I thinke on a[b] mayde?

a I kept mine eyes from all wanton lookes.

b Would not God then haue punished me?

2 For what portion should I haue of God from aboue? and what inheritance of the Almightie from on hie?

3 Is not destruction to the wicked, and strange punishment to [c] the workers of iniquitie?

c Iob declareth that the feare of God was a bridle to stay him from all wickednesse.

4 Doeth not hee behold my wayes, and tell all my steps?

5 If I haue walked in vanitie, or if my foote hath made haste to deceit,

6 Let God weigh me in the iust balance, and he shall know mine [d] vprightnesse.

d He sheweth wherein his vprightnesse standeth, that is, in as much as hee was blamelesse before men, & sinned not against the second table.

7 If my step hath turned out of the way, or mine heart hath [e] walked after mine eye, or if any blot haue cleaued to mine hands, e That is, hath accomplished the lust of mine eye.

8 Let me sow, and let another [f] eate: yea, let my plants be rooted out.

f According to the curse of the law. Deu. 28.33.

9 If mine heart hath bene deceiued by a woman, or if I haue laid waite at the doore of my neighbour, g Let her be made a slaue.

10 Let my wife [g] grinde vnto another man, and let other men bow downe vpon her:

11 For this is a wickednesse, and iniquitie to be condemned:

h He sheweth that albeit man neglect the punishment of adulterie, yet the wrath of God will neuer cease till such be destroyed.

12 Yea, this is a fire that shall deuoure [h] to destruction, and which shall roote out all mine mine increaſe.

13 If I did contemne the iudgement of my ſeruant, and of my maide, when they [i] did contend with me, 14 What then ſhall I doe when [k] God ſtandeth vp? and when he ſhall viſit me, what ſhall I anſwere?

15 Hee that hath made mee in the wombe, hath he not made [l] him? hath not he alone faſhioned vs in the wombe?

16 If I reſtrained the poore of their deſire, or haue cauſed the eyes of the widowe [m] to faile,

17 Or haue eaten my morſels alone, and the fatherleſſe hath not eaten thereof,

18 (For from my youth hee hath growen vp with me [n] as with a father, and from my mothers wombe I haue beene a guide vnto her.)

19 If I haue ſeene any periſh for want of clothing, or any poore without couering,

20 If his loynes haue not bleſſed mee becauſe he was warmed [o] with the fleece of my ſheep,

21 If I haue lift [o] vp mine hand againſt the fatherleſſe, when I ſawe that I might helpe him in the gate, 22 Let mine arme fall from my ſhoulder, and mine arme be broken from the bone.

23 For Gods puniſhment was [q] fearefull vnto mee, and I could not be deliuered from his highneſſe.

24 If I made gold mine hope, or haue ſaid to the wedge of gold, Thou art my confidence,

25 If I reioyce becauſe my ſubſtance was great, or becauſe mine hand had gotten much,

26 If I did behold the [r] ſunne, when it ſhined, or the moone walking in her brightneſſe,

27 If mine heart did flatter mee in ſecret, or if my mouth did kiſſe mine [ſ] hand,

28 (This alſo had beene an iniquitie to be condemned: for I had denied the God [t] aboue)

29 If I reioyced at his deſtruction that hated mee, or was mooued to ioy when euill came vpon him, 30 Neither haue I ſuffered my mouth to ſinne, by wiſhing a curſe vnto his ſoule.

31 Did not the men of my [u] Tabernacle ſay, Who ſhall giue vs of his fleſh? we can not be ſatisfied.

32 The ſtranger did not lodge in the ſtreet, but I opened my doores vnto him, that went by the way.

33 If I haue hid [x] my ſinne, as Adam, concealing mine iniquitie in my boſome, 34 Though I could haue made afraide a great multitude, yet the moſt contemptible of the families did [y] feare me: ſo I kept [z] ſilence, and went not out of the doore.

35 Oh that I had ſome to heare mee! behold my [a] ſigne that the Almightie will witneſſe for mee: though mine aduerſarie ſhould write a booke againſt me, 36 Would not I take it vpon my ſhoulder, and bind it as [b] a crowne vnto me?

37 I will tell him the number of my goings, and goe vnto him as to a [c] prince.

38 If my land [d] crie againſt me, or the furrowes thereof complaine together,

39 If I haue eaten the fruites thereof without ſiluer: or if I haue grieued [e] the ſoules of the maſters thereof, 40 Let thiſtles grow in ſtead of wheat and cocle in the ſtead of barley.

THE [f] WORDES OF IOB ARE ENDED.

CHAP. XXXII.

2 Elihu reproueth them of folly. 8 Age maketh not a man wiſe, but the ſpirit of God.

SO theſe three men ceaſed to anſwere Job, becauſe he † eſteemed himſelfe iuſt.

2 Then the wrath of Elihu the ſonne of Barachel the [a] Buzite, of the familie of [b] Ram, was kindled: his wrath, I ſay, was kindled againſt Job, becauſe he iuſtified himſelfe [c] more then God.

3 Alſo his anger was kindled againſt his three friends, becauſe they could not find an anſwere, and yet condemned Job.

4 (Now Elihu had waited till Job had ſpoken: for [d] they were more ancient in yeeres then he,)

5 So when Elihu ſawe, that there was none anſwere in the mouth of the three men, his wrath was kindled.

6 Therefore Elihu the ſonne of Barachel, the Buzite anſwered, and ſaid, I am yong in yeres, and ye are ancient: therefore I doubted, and was afraid to ſhew you mine opinion.

7 For I ſaid, The [e] daies ſhall ſpeake, and the multitude of yeeres ſhall teach wiſedome.

8 Surely there is a ſpirit in man, [f] but the inſpiration of the Almightie giueth vnderſtanding.

9 Great men are not alway wiſe, neither doe the aged alway vnderſtand iudgement.

10 Therefore I ſay, Heare me, and I will ſhew alſo mine opinion.

11 Behold, I did waite vpon your words, and hearkened vnto your knowledge, whiles you ſought out reaſons.

12 Yea, when I had conſidered you, loe, there was none of you that reproued Job, nor anſwered his words:

13 Leſt yee ſhould ſay, Wee haue [h] found wiſedome: for God hath caſt him downe, and no man.

14 Yet hath [i] hee not directed his words to me, neither will I anſwer [k] him by your words.

CHAP. XXXIII.

5 Elihu accuſeth Iob of ignorance. 14 Hee ſheweth that God hath diuers meanes to inſtruct man and to drawe him from ſinne. 19. 29. He afflicteth man and ſuddenly deliuereth him. 26 Man being deliuered giueth thankes to God.

WHerefore, Iob, I pray thee, heare my talke, & hearken vnto all my words.

6 Behold, I am according to thy wiſh in [b] Gods ſtead: I am alſo formed of the clay.

7 Behold, my terrour ſhall not feare thee, neither ſhall mine hand [c] be heauie vpon thee.

8 Doubtleſſe thou haſt ſpoken in mine eares, & I haue heard the voyce of thy words.

9 I am [d] cleane, without ſinne: I am innocent, and there is none iniquitie in me.

10 Lo, he hath found occaſions againſt me, and counted me for his enemie.

11 He hath put my feete in the ſtockes, and looked narowly vnto my pathes.

12 Behold, in this haſt thou not done right: I will anſwere thee, that God is greater then man.

13 Why doeſt thou ſtriue againſt him: for hee doth not [e] giue account of all his matters.

14 For God ſpeaketh [f] once or twiſe, and one ſeeth it not.

15 In dreames and viſions of the night, when ſleepe falleth vpon men, and they ſleepe vpon their beds,

16 Then he openeth the eares of men, euen by their corrections, which he [h] had ſealed,

17 That hee might cauſe man to turne away from his enterpriſe, & that hee might hide the [i] pride of man, 18 And keepe backe his ſoule from the pit, and that his life ſhould not paſſe by the ſword.

19 He is alſo ſtriken with ſorow vpon his bed, and the griefe of his bones is ſore.

20 So that his [k] life cauſeth him to abhorre bread, and his ſoule daintie meate.

21 His fleſh faileth that it cannot be ſeene, and his bones which were not ſeene, clatter.

22 So his ſoule draweth to the graue, and his life [l] to the buriers.

23 If there be a [m] meſſenger with him, or an interpreter, one of a thouſand [n] to declare vnto man his righteouſneſſe, 24 Then will he haue [o] mercie vpon him, and will ſay, [p] Deliuer him, that hee goe not downe into the pit: for I haue receiued a reconciliation.

25 Then ſhall his fleſh bee [q] as freſh as a childes, and ſhal returne as in the dayes of his youth.

26 He ſhal pray vnto God, and he wil be fauourable vnto him, and hee ſhall ſee his face with ioy: for hee will render vnto man his [r] righteouſneſſe.

27 He looketh vpon men, and if one ſay, I haue ſinned, and [ſ] peruerted righteouſnes, and it did not profit [t] me, 28 [u] He will deliuer his ſoule from going into the pit, and his life ſhall ſee the light.

29 Loe, all theſe things will God worke [x] twiſe or thriſe with a man, 30 That hee may turne backe his ſoule from the pit, to be illuminate in the light of the liuing.

31 Marke well, O Iob, and heare mee: keepe ſilence, and I will ſpeake.

32 If there be [y] matter, anſwere me, and ſpeake: for I deſire to [z] iuſtifie thee.

33 If thou haſt not, heare mee: holde thy tongue, and I will teach thee wiſedome.

1 I haue conceiued in my minde great ſtore of reaſons.
m I will neither haue regard to riches, credit, nor authoritie, but will ſpeake the very trueth.
n The Ebrewe word ſignifieth, to change the name, as to call a foole a wiſe man: meaning that he would not ſtoke the truth to flatter men.
a I confeſſe the power of God, and am one of his, therfore thou oughteſt to heare mee.
b Becauſe Iob had wiſhed to diſpute his cauſe with God, Cha. 16.21. ſo that he might doe it without feare, Elihu ſaid, he will reaſon in Gods ſtead, whom he needeth not to feare, becauſe he is a man made of the ſame matter that he is.
c I wil not handle thee ſo roughly as theſe others haue done.
d He repeateth Iobs words, whereby he proteſted his innocencie in diuers places, but ſpecially in the 13. 16. and 30. Chapters.
e The cauſe of his iudgements is not alwaies declared to man.
f Though God by ſundry examples of his iudgements ſpeake vnto man, yet the reaſon thereof is not knowen: yea and though God ſhould ſpeake, yet he is not vnderſtoode.
g God ſaith he ſpeaketh commonly, either by viſions to teach vs the cauſe of his iudgements, or elſe by afflictions, or by his meſſenger. h That is, determined to ſend vpon them.
i He ſheweth for what end God ſendeth afflictions: to beate downe mans pride, & to turne from euill.
k That is, his paineful and miſerable life.
l To them that ſhall bury him.
m A man ſent of God to declare his will.
n A ſinguler man and as one choſen out of a thouſand which is able to declare the great mercies of God vnto ſinners: and wherein mans righteouſnes ſtandeth, which is through the iuſtice of Ieſus Chriſt and faith therein.
o He ſheweth that it is a ſure token of Gods mercie toward ſinners, when he cauſeth his word to be preached vnto them.
p That is, the miniſter ſhall by the preaching of the word pronounce vnto him the forgiuenes of his ſinnes.
q He ſhall feele Gods fauour and reioyce: declaring hereby, wherein ſtandeth the true ioy of the faithfull: and that God will reſtore him to health of body, which is a token of his bleſſing.
r God will forgiue his ſinnes and accept him as iuſt.
ſ That is, done wickedly.
t But my ſinne hath bene the cauſe of Gods wrath toward mee.
u God will forgiue the penitent ſinner.
x Meaning, oft times, euen as oft as a ſinner doth repent.
y If thou doubt of any thing, or ſee occaſion to ſpeake againſt it.
z That is, to ſhew thee wherein mans iuſtification conſiſteth.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

5 Elihu chargeth Iob, that he calleth himſelfe righteous. 12 He ſheweth that God is iuſt in his iudgement. 24 God deſtroyeth the mightie. 30 By him the hypocrite reigneth.

MOreouer Elihu anſwered, and ſaid,

2 Heare my words, ye [a] wiſe men, and hearken vnto me, ye that haue knowledge.

3 For the eare trieth the words, as the mouth taſteth meate.

4 Let vs ſeeke [b] iudgement among vs, and let vs know among our ſelues what is good.

5 For Iob hath ſaid, I am righteous, and God hath taken [c] away my iudgement.

a Which are eſteemed wiſe of the world.
b Let vs examine the matter vprightly.
c That is, hath afflicted me without meaſure.

6 Should

6 Should I lie in my [d] right? my wound of the arrow is [e] grieuous without my ſinne.

7 What man is like Iob, that drinketh [f] ſcornefulneſſe like water?

8 Which goeth in the [g] company of them that worke iniquity, and walketh with wicked men?

9 For he hath ſaid, [h] It profiteth a man nothing that he ſhould [i] walke with God.

10 Therefore hearken vnto me, yee men of wiſedom, God forbid that wickednes ſhould be in God, and iniquity in the Almighty.

11 For hee will render vnto man according to his worke, and cauſe euery one to find according to his way.

12 And certainely God will not do wickedly, neither will the Almightie peruert iudgement.

13 Whome * hath he appointed ouer the earth beſide himſelfe? or who hath placed the whole world?

14 If hee ſet his heart vpon man, and gather vnto himſelfe his ſpirit [l] and his breath, 15 All fleſh ſhall periſh together, and man ſhall returne vnto duſt.

16 And if thou haſt vnderſtanding, heare this, and hearken to the voice of my words.

17 Shall he that hateth iudgement, [m] gouerne? and wilt thou iudge him wicked that is moſt iuſt?

18 Wilt thou ſay vnto a King, Thou art [n] wicked? or to princes, Ye are vngodly?

19 How much leſſe to him that accepteth not the perſons of princes, and regardeth not the rich, more then the poore? for they bee all the worke of his hands.

20 They ſhall die ſuddenly, [o] and the people ſhall bee troubled at midnight, [p] and they ſhall paſſe forth and take away the mightie without hand.

21 For his eyes are vpon the wayes of man, and he ſeeth all his goings.

22 There is no darkeneſſe nor ſhadow of death, that the workers of iniquity might bee hid therein.

23 For hee will not lay on man ſo much, that hee ſhould [q] enter into iudgement with God.

24 Hee ſhall breake the mighty without [r] ſeeking, and ſhall ſet vp other in their ſtead.

25 Therefore ſhal he declare their [s] works: he ſhall turne the [t] night, and they ſhall be deſtroyed:

26 He ſtriketh them as wicked men in the places of the [u] ſeers, 27 Becauſe they haue turned backe from him, and would not conſider all his wayes.

28 So that they haue cauſed the voyce of the poore to [x] come vnto him, & hee hath heard the crie of the afflicted.

29 And when he giueth quietnes, who can make trouble? and when hee hideth his face, who can behold him, whether it be vpon nations, or vpon a man onely?

30 Becauſe the [y] hypocrite doth reigne, and becauſe the people are ſnared, 31 Surely it appertaineth vnto God [z] to ſay, I haue pardoned, I will not deſtroy.

32 [a] But if I ſee not, teach thou me: if I haue done wickedly, I will do no more.

33 Will hee perfourme the thing through [b] thee? for thou haſt reproued [c] it, becauſe that thou haſt choſen, and not I, now ſpeake what thou knoweſt.

34 Let men of vnderſtanding tell me, and let a wiſe man hearken vnto me.

35 Iob hath not ſpoken of knowledge: neither were his words according to wiſdome.

36 I deſire [γ] Iob may be [d] tried, vnto the end touching the anſweres for wicked men.

37 For he [e] addeth rebellion vnto his ſinne: he clappeth his hands among vs, and multiplieth his words againſt God.

d Should I ſay, I am wicked, being an innocent.
e I am ſorer puniſhed then my ſinne deſerueth.
f Which is compelled to receiue the reproch and ſcornes of many for his fooliſh words.
g Meaning, that Iob was like to the wicked, becauſe he ſeemed not to glorifie God and ſubmit himſelfe to his iudgements.
h He wreſteth Iobs words, who ſaid that Gods children are oftentimes puniſhed in this world, and the wicked goe free.
i That is, liue godly, as Gen. 5.22.
* Chap. 36.23.
k To deſtroy him.
l The breath of life which hee gaue man.
m If God were not iuſt, how could he gouerne the world?
n If man of nature feare to ſpeake euill of ſuch as haue power, then much more ought they to be afraid to ſpeake euill of God.
o When they looke not for it.
p The meſſengers of deſtruction that God ſhall ſend.
q God doeth not afflict man aboue meaſure, ſo that he ſhould haue occaſion to contend with him.
r For all his creatures are at hand to ſerue him, ſo that he needeth not to ſeek for any other army.
ſ Make them manifeſt that they are wicked.
t Declare the things that were hid.
u Meaning, openly in the ſight of all men.
x By their cruelty and extortion.
y When tyrants ſit in the throne of iuſtice, which vnder pretence of executing iuſtice are but hypocrites & oppreſſe the people, it is a ſigne that God hath drawen back his countenance and fauour from that place.
z Only it belongeth to God to moderate his corrections, and not vnto man.
a Thus Elihu ſpeaketh in the perſon of God, as it were mocking Iob, becauſe he would be wiſer then God.
b Will God vſe thy counſell in doing his works.
c Thus hee ſpeaketh in the perſon of God, as though Iob ſhould chuſe and refuſe affliction at his pleaſure.
d That he may ſpeake as much as he can, that wee may anſwere him and all the wicked that ſhall vſe ſuch arguments.
e Hee ſtandeth ſtubburnely in the maintenance of his cauſe.

CHAP. XXXV.

6 Neither doeth godlineſſe profite, or vngodlineſſe hurt God, but man. 13 The wicked cry vnto God, and are not heard.

ELihu ſpake moreouer, and ſaid,

2 Thinkeſt thou this right that thou haſt ſaid, I am [a] more righteous then God?

3 For thou haſt ſaid, What profiteth it thee, and what auaileth it mee, to purge mee from my ſinne?

4 Therefore wil I anſwere thee, and thy [b] companions with thee.

5 Looke vnto the heauen, and ſee & behold the [c] clouds which are higher then thou.

6 If thou ſinneſt, what doeſt thou [d] againſt him? yea, when thy ſinnes be many, what doeſt thou vnto him?

7 If thou be righteous, what giueſt thou vnto him? or what receiueth he at thine hand?

8 Thy wickednes may hurt a man as thou art: and thy righteouſnes may profite the ſonne of man.

9 They cauſe many that are oppreſſed, [e] to crie, which crie out for the violence of the mighty.

10 But none ſayeth, Where is God that made me, which giueth ſongs in the night?

11 Which teacheth vs more then [γ] beaſts of the earth, and giueth vs more wiſdome then the foules of the heauen.

12 Then they cry becauſe of the violence of the wicked, but [f] he anſwereth not.

13 Surely God will not heare vanity, neither will the Almighty regard it.

a Iob neuer ſpake theſe words: but becauſe he maintained his innocency, it ſeemed as though he would ſay, that God reputed him without iuſt cauſe.
b Such as are in the like error.
c If thou canſt not controll the clouds, wilt thou preſume to inſtruct God?
d Neither doth thy ſin hurt God, nor thy iuſtice profit him: for he will be glorified without thee.
e The wicked may hurt man and cauſe him to crie, who if he ſought to God which ſendeth comfort, ſhould be deliuered.
f Becauſe they pray not in faith, as feeling Gods mercies.

14 Although

14 Although thou sayest to God, Thou wilt not regard it, yet [s] iudgement is before him, trust thou in him.

15 But now because his anger hath not visited, nor called to count the euill with great extremity, 16 Therefore Iob [h] openeth his mouth in vaine, and multiplieth words without knowledge.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Elihu sheweth the power of God, 6 and his iustice, 9 And wherefore he punisheth. 13 The property of the wicked.

ELihu also proceeded and said,

2 Suffer me a little, and I will instruct thee: for I haue yet to speak on Gods behalfe.

3 I will fetch [a] my knowledge a farre off, and will attribute righteousnesse vnto my Maker.

4 For truely my words shall not be false, and he that is [b] perfect in knowledge, speaketh with thee.

5 Behold, the mighty God casteth away none that is [c] mighty and valiant of courage.

6 [d] He maintaineth not the wicked, but he giueth iudgement to the afflicted.

7 He withdraweth not his eyes from the righteous, but they are with [e] Kings in the throne, where he placed them for euer: thus they are exalted.

8 And if they be bound in fetters, and tyed with the coards of affliction, 9 Then will he shew them their [f] worke, and their sins, because they haue bene proud.

10 He openeth also their eare to discipline, and commandeth them that they returne from iniquity.

11 *If they obey and serue him, they shal end their dayes in prosperity, and their yeeres in pleasures.

12 But if they wil not obey, they shal passe by the sword, and perish [g] without knowledge.

13 But the hypocrites [h] of heart increase the wrath: for they [i] call not when he bindeth them.

14 Their soule dieth in [k] youth, and their life among the whoremongers.

15 He deliuereth the poore in his affliction, and openeth their eare in trouble.

16 Euen so would hee haue taken thee out of the streight place into a broad place, and not shut vp beneath: and [l] that which resteth vpon thy table, had bene full of fat.

17 But thou art full of the [m] iudgement of the wicked, though iudgement and equitie maintaine all things.

18 [n] For Gods wrath is, lest he should take thee away in thine abundance: for no multitude of gifts can deliuer thee.

19 Will he regard thy riches? he regardeth not golde, nor all them that excell in strength.

20 [o] Be not carefull in the night, how hee destroyeth the people out of their place.

21 Take thou heed: look not to [p] iniquity: for thou hast chosen it rather then affliction.

22 Behold, God exalteth by his power: what teacher is like him?

23 Who hath appointed to him his way? or who can say, Thou hast done wickedly?

24 Remember that thou magnifie his worke, which men behold.

25 All men see it, and men beholde it [q] a farre off.

26 Behold, God is excellent, [r] and we know him not, neither can the number of his yeeres be searched out.

27 When he restraineth the drops of water, the raine [s] powreth downe by the vapour thereof, 28 Which raine the clouds doe drop, and let fall abundantly vpon man.

29 Who can knowe the diuisions of the clouds, and the thunders of his [t] tabernacle?

30 Behold, he spreadeth his light vpon [u] it, and couereth the [x] bottome of the sea.

31 For thereby hee iudgeth [y] the people, and giueth meat abundantly.

32 He couereth the light with the clouds, and commandeth them to go [z] against it.

33 [a] His companion sheweth him thereof, and there is anger in rising vp.

g God is iust, howsoeuer thou iudgest of him.

h For if he did punish thee as thou deseruest, thou shouldest not be able to open thy mouth.

a He sheweth that when wee speake of God, we must lift vp our spirits, more hie then our naturall sense is able to reach.

b Thou shalt perceiue that I am a faithful instructour, and that I speake to thee in the name of God.

c Strong and constant, and of vnderstanding: for these are the gifts of God, and he loueth them in man: but forasmuch as God punishes now Iob, it is a signe that these are not in him.

d Therefore he will not preserue the wicked: but to the humble and afflicted heart he will shew grace.

e He preferreth the godly to honour.

f He will moue their hearts to feele their sinnes that they may come to him by repentance as he did Manasseh.

*Isa. 1. 19.

g That is, in their folly or obstination, and so shall be cause of their owne destruction.

h Which are maliciously bent against God and flater themselues in their vices.

i When they are in affliction they seeke not to God for succour, as Asa. 2. Chron. 16. 12. Reue. 16. 11.

k They die of some vile death, and that before they come to age.

l If thou hadst beene obedient to God, hee would haue brought thee to libertie and wealth.

m Thou art altogether after the maner of the wicked: for thou doest murmure against the iustice of God.

n God doeth punish thee, lest thou shouldest forget God in thy wealth, and so perish.

o Be not thou curious in seeking the cause of Gods iudgements, when he destroyeth any.

p And so murmure against God through impatiencie.

q The works of God are so manifest, that a man may see them a far off, and know God by the same.

r Our infirmitie hindereth vs, y we cannot attaine to the perfit knowledge of God.

s That is, the raine commeth of those drops of water, which he keepeth in the clouds.

t Meaning of the clouds, which he calleth the Tabernacle of God.

u Vpon the cloud.

x That men cannot come to the knowledge of the springs thereof.

y He sheweth that the raine hath double vse the one, that it declareth Gods iudgments, when it doth ouerflow any places, & the other that it maketh the land fruitfull.

z That is, one cloude to bush against another.

a The cold vapour sheweth him: that is, the cloud of the hote exhalation, which being taken in the cold cloud mounteth vp toward the place where the the fire is, and so anger is ingendred: that is, noyse and thunderclaps.

CHAP. XXXVII.

2 Elihu proueth that the vnsearchable wisdom of God is manifest by his works, 4 As by the thunders, 6 The snow, 9 The whirlewind, 14 And the raine.

AT this also mine heart is [a] astonied, and is mooued out of his place.

2 Heare the [b] sound of his voyce, and the noyse that goeth out of his mouth.

3 He directeth it vnder the whole heauen, and his light vnto the ends of the world.

4 After it a noise soundeth: he thundreth with the voyce of his maiesty, and he will not stay [c] them when his voice is heard.

5 God thundreth marueilously with his voyce: hee worketh great things, which wee know not.

6 For he saith to the snow, Be thou vpon the earth: [d] likewise to the small raine and to the great raine of his power.

7 With the force thereof he [e] shutteth vp a At the marueiling of the thunder and lightnings: wherby he declareth that the faithful are liuely touched with the Maiesty of God, when they behold his works.

b That is, the thunder, whereby he speaketh to men to waken their dulnes, and to bring them to the consideration of his works.

c Meaning, the raines and thunders.

d So that neither small raine nor great, snow nor any thing els e By raines and thunders God commeth without Gods appoyntment.

e By raines and thunders God compelleth men to keepe themselues within their houses.

euery

euery man, that all men may know his worke.

8 Then the beaſtes go into the deune, and remaine in their places.

9 The whirlewinde commeth out of the South, and the cold from the [f] Northwind.

10 At the breath of God the froſt is giuen, and the breadth of the waters [g] is made narrow.

11 He maketh alſo the clouds to [h] labour, to water the earth, and ſcattereth the cloud of [i] his light.

12 And it is turned about by his gouernment, that they may doe whatſoeuer he commandeth them vpon the whole world:

13 Whether it bee for [k] puniſhment, or for his land, or of mercy, he cauſeth it to come.

14 Hearken vnto this, O Iob: ſtand and conſider the wondrous works of God.

15 Diddeſt thou know when God diſpoſed them: and cauſed the [l] light of his cloud to ſhine:

16 Haſt thou knowen the [m] variety of the cloud, and the wondrous works of him, that is perfit in knowledge:

17 Or how thy clothes are [n] warme, when he maketh the earth quiet through the South wind:

18 Haſt thou ſtretched out the heauens, which are ſtrong, and as a molten [o] glaſſe:

19 Tell vs what we ſhall ſay vnto him: for wee can not diſpoſe our matter, becauſe of [p] darkneſſe.

20 Shall it be [q] told him when I ſpeake: or ſhall man ſpeake when he ſhall be [r] deſtroyed:

21 And now men ſee not the light, [ſ] which ſhineth in the clouds, but the wind paſſeth and cleanſeth them.

22 The [t] brightneſſe commeth out of the North: the praiſe thereof is to God, which is terrible.

23 It is the Almighty: we cannot find him out: he is excellent in power and iudgement, and abundant in iuſtice: he [u] afflicteth not.

24 Let men therefore feare him: for hee wil not regard any that are wiſe in their owne conceit.

f In Ebrew it is called the ſcattering wind, becauſe it driueth away the clouds and purgeth the ayre.
g That is, is frozen vp & dried.
h Gather the vapours, & moue to and fro to water the earth.
i That is, the cloud that hath lightning in it.
k Raine, cold, heat, tempeſts, and ſuch like are ſent of God, either to puniſh man, or to profit the earth or to declare his fauor toward man, as Chap. 36.31.
l That is, the lightning to breake forth in the clouds.
m Which is ſometime changed into raine, or ſnow, or haile, or ſuch like.
n Why thy clothes ſhould keep thee warme when the South wind bloweth, rather then when any other winde bloweth?
o For their clearenеſſe.
p That is, our ignorance: ſignifying that Iob was ſo preſumptuous that hee would controll the workes of God.
q Hath God needе that any ſhould tell him when man murmureth againſt him?
r If God would deſtroy a man, ſhuld he repine?
ſ The cloud ſtoppeth the ſhining of the ſunne, that man can not ſee it till the winde haue chaſed away the cloud:
and if man be not able to attaine to the knowledge of theſe things, how much leſſe of Gods iudgements? t In Ebrew, gold: meaning faire weather and cleare as gold. u Meaning, without cauſe.

3 Gird vp now thy loynes like a man: I [c] will demaund of thee, and declare thou vnto mee.

4 Where waſt thou when I laid the [d] foundations of the earth: declare, if thou haſt vnderſtanding,

5 Who hath laid the meaſures thereof, if thou knoweſt, or who hath ſtretched the line ouer it:

6 Whereupon are the foundations therof ſet: or who laid the corner ſtone thereof:

7 When the ſtarres of the morning [e] prayſed me together, and all the [f] children of God reioyced:

8 Or who hath ſhut vp the ſea with doores, when it iſſued and came forth as out of the wombe:

9 When I made the clouds as a couering thereof, and darkneſſe as the ſwadling bands thereof:

10 When I eſtabliſhed my commandement vpon it, and ſet barres and doores, 11 And ſaid, Hitherto ſhalt thou come, but no farther, and heere [h] ſhall it ſtay thy proude waues.

12 Haſt thou commaunded the [i] morning ſince thy dayes: haſt thou cauſed the morning to know his place:

13 That it might take hold of the corners of the earth, and that the wicked might bee [k] ſhaken out of it:

14 It is turned as clay to faſhion, [l] and all ſtand vp as a garment.

15 And from the wicked their light ſhall be taken away, and the hie arme ſhall bee broken.

16 Haſt thou entred into the bottomes of the ſea: or haſt thou walked to ſeeke out the [m] depth:

17 Haue the gates of death beene opened vnto thee: or haſt thou ſeene the gates of the ſhadow of death:

18 Haſt thou perceiued the breadth of the earth: tell if thou knoweſt all this.

19 Where is the way where light dwelleth: and where is the place of darkneſſe,

20 That thou [n] ſhouldeſt receiue it in the bounds thereof, and that thou ſhouldeſt know the paths to the houſe thereof:

21 Knoweſt thou it, becauſe thou waſt then borne, and becauſe the number of thy dayes is great:

22 Haſt thou entred into the treaſures of the ſnow: or haſt thou ſeene the treaſures of the hayle,

23 Which I haue [o] hid againſt the time of trouble againſt the day of warre and battell:

24 By what way is the light parted, which ſcattereth the Eaſt wind vpon the earth:

25 Who hath diuided the ſpouts for the raine:

c Becauſe he had wiſhed to diſpute with God, Chap. 13.3 God reaſoneth with him to declare his raſhneſs.
d Seeing hee could not iudge of thoſe things which were done ſo long before he was borne, he was not able to comprehend all Gods workes: much leſſe the ſecret cauſes of his iudgements.
e The ſtars and dumbe creatures are ſaid to praiſe God, becauſe his power, wiſedome and goodneſſe is manifeſt and knowen therein.
f Meaning, the Angels.
g As though the great ſea were but as a little babe in y hands of God to turne to and fro.
h That is, Gods decree and commandement, as verſe, 10.
i To wit, to riſe, ſince thou waſt borne?
k Who hauing in the night bene giuen to wickenes, cannot abide the light, but hide themſelues.
l The earth which ſeemed in the night to haue no forme, by the riſing of the ſun is as it were created anew, & all things therein clad with new beauty.
m If thou art not able to ſeeke out y depth of the ſea, how much leſſe art thou able to comprehend the counſell of of God.
n That thou mightеſt appoint it his way and limits.
o To puniſh mine enemies with them, as Exod. 9.18. Ioſh. 10.11.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 God ſpeaketh to Iob, and declareth the weakeneſſe of man in the conſideration of his creatures, by whoſe excellency the power, iuſtice and prouidence of the Creator is knowen.

THen anſwered the Lord vnto Iob out of the [a] whirlewind, and ſaid,

2 Who is this that [b] darkeneth the counſel by words without knowledge:

a That his words might haue greater maieſty, and that Iob might know with whom he had to do. b Which by ſeeking out the ſecret counſel of God by mans reaſon, maketh it more obſcure and ſheweth his owne folly.

raine: or the way for the lightning of the thunders,

26 To cause it to raine on the earth where no man is, and in the wildernesse where there is no man:

27 To fulfil the wild & waste place, and to cause the bud of the herbe to spring forth:

28 Who is the father of the raine: or who hath begotten the drops of the dew:

29 Out of whose wombe came the yce? who hath ingendred the frost of the heauen:

30 The waters are hid [p] as with a stone: and the face of the depth is frozen.

31 Canst thou restraine the sweete influences of [q] the Pleiades: or loose the bands of [r] Orion:

32 Canst thou bring forth [s] Mazzaroth in their time: canst thou also guide [t] Arcturus with his sonnes:

33 Knowest thou the course of heauen: or canst thou set [u] the rule thereof in the earth:

34 Canst thou lift vp thy voyce to the cloudes, that the abundance of water may couer thee:

35 Canst thou sende the lightnings that they may walke, and say vnto thee, Loe, heere we are:

36 Who hath put wisdome in the [x] reines: or who hath giuen the heart vnderstanding:

37 Who can number clouds by wisdome: or who can cause to cease the [y] bottles of Heauen,

38 When the earth groweth into hardnes, [z] and the clots are fast together:

p The yce couereth it, as though it were pauen with stone.
q Which stars arise when the sunne is in Taurus, which is the spring time, and bring floures.
r Which starre bringeth in Winter.
s Certaine stars so called, some thinke they were the twelue signes.
t The North starre with those that are about him?
u Canst thou cause the heauenly bodies to haue any power ouer the earthly bodies?
x In the secret parts of man. y That is, the clouds wherein the water is conteined as in bottles.
z For when God doeth not open these bottels, the earth commeth to this inconuenience.

CHAP. XXXIX.

The bounty and prouidence of God, which extendeth euen to the young rauens, giueth man full occasion to put his confidence in God. 37 Iob confesseth and humbleth himselfe.

a After he had declared Gods workes in the heauens, he sheweth his marueilous prouidence in earth, euen toward the bruite beasts.
b Reade Psal. 147. 9.
c He chiefly maketh mention of wilde goats and hindes, because they bring forth their yong with most difficulty.
d That is, how long they goe with yong?
e They bring forth with great difficultie.

WIlt [a] thou hunt the pray for the lion: or fill the appetite of the lions whelps,

2 When they couch in their places, and remaine in the couert to lie in wait:

3 Who prepareth for the rauen his meat, when his birds [b] cry vnto God, wandering for lacke of meat:

4 Knowest thou the time when the wild goats bring forth yong: or doest thou marke when the [c] hindes doe calue:

5 Canst thou number the moneths that they [d] fulfill: or knowest thou the time when they bring forth:

6 They bow themselues: they [e] bruise their yong, and cast out their sorrowes.

7 Yet their young waxe fat, and grow vp with corne: they go forth and returne not vnto them.

8 Who hath set the wilde asse at libertie: or who hath loosed the bondes of the wilde asse:

9 It is I which haue made the wildernesse his house, and the [f] salt places his dwellings.

10 He derideth the multitude of the citie: he heareth not the crie of the driuer.

11 Hee seeketh out the mountaine for his pasture, and searcheth after euery greene thing.

12 Will the Unicorne [g] serue thee: or will he tary by thy cribbe:

13 Canst thou bind the Unicorne with his band to labour in the furrow: or wil he plow the valleys after thee:

14 Wilt thou trust in him, because his strength is great, and cast off thy labour vnto him:

15 Wilt thou beleeue him, that he wil bring home thy seed, and gather it vnto thy barne:

16 Hast thou giuen the pleasant wings vnto the peacocks: or wings and feathers vnto the ostrich:

17 Which leaueth his egges in the earth, and maketh [h] them hote in the dust,

18 And forgetteth that the foot might scatter them, or that the wild beast might breake them.

19 Hee sheweth himselfe cruell vnto his yong ones, as they were not his, and is without feare, as if he trauelled [i] in vaine.

20 For God hath depriued him of [k] wisedome, and hath giuen him no part of vnderstanding.

21 When [l] time is, he mounteth on hie: he mocketh the horse and his rider.

22 Hast thou giuen the horse strength: or couered his necke with [m] neying:

23 Hast thou made him afraid as the grashopper: his strong neying is fearefull.

24 Hee [n] diggeth in the valley, and reioyceth in his strength: he goeth forth to meet the harnessed man.

25 He mocketh at feare, and is not afraid, and turneth not backe from the sword.

26 Though the quiuer rattle against him, the glittering speare and the shield.

27 He [o] swalloweth the ground for fiercenesse and rage, and he beleeueth not that it is the noyse of the trumpet.

28 He saith among the trumpets, Ha, ha: he smelleth the battel a farre off, and the noise of the captaines, and the shouting.

29 Shall the Hauke flie by thy wisedome, stretching out his wings toward the [p] South:

30 Doth the Eagle mount vp at thy commandement, or make his nest on hie:

31 Shee abideth and remaineth in the rocke, euen vpon the top of the rocke, and the tower.

32 From thence she spieth for meate, and her eyes behold a farre off, f That is, the barren ground where no good fruits do grow.

g Is it possible to make the unicorne tame? signifying, that if man cannot rule a creature, that it is much more impossible that he should appoint the wisedome of God, whereby he gouerneth all the world.
h They write that the ostrich couereth her egs in the sand, and because the countrey is hote and the sunne still keepeth them warme, they are hatched.
i If he should take care for them.
k That is, to haue a care and naturall affection toward his yong.
l When the yong ostrich is growen vp he ouerrunneth the horse.
m That is, giuen him courage? which is meant by neying & shaking his mane: for with his breath he couereth his necke.
n He beateth with his hoofe.
o He so rideth the ground, that it seemeth nothing vnder him.
p That is, when cold commeth to fly into the warm countries.

33 His yong ones also sucke vp blood: and where the slaine are, there is he.

34 Moreouer, the Lord spake vnto Iob, and said, q Is this the way for a man that will learne, to striue with God? which thing he reproueth in Iob.

35 Is this to q learne, to striue with the Almighty? he that reproueth God, let him answere to it.

r Whereby he sheweth that he repenteth, and desired pardon for his faults.

36 ¶ Then Iob answered ye Lord, saying,

37 Behold, I am r vile: what shall I answere thee? I will lay mine hand vpon my mouth.

38 Once haue I spoken, but I will answere no more, yea, twise, but I will proceede no further.

CHAP. XL.

2 How weak mans power is, being compared to the works of God: 10 Whose power appeareth in the creation, and gouerning of the great beasts.

A Gaine the Lord answered Iob out of the * whirlewind, and said,

* Chap. 38.1.

2 Gird vp now thy loines like a man: I will demand of thee, & declare thou vnto me.

a Signifying, that they that iustifie themselues, condemne God agaynst.

3 Wilt thou disanull a my iudgment? or wilt thou condemne me, that thou mayest bee iustified?

4 Or hast thou an arme like God? or doest thou thunder with a voice like him?

b Meaning, that these were proper vnto God, and belonged to no man.

5 Decke thy selfe now with b maiesty and excellency, and aray thy selfe with beauty and glory.

6 Cast abroade the indignation of thy wrath, and behold euery one that is proud, and abase him.

7 Looke on euery one that is arrogant, and bring him low: and destroy the wicked in their place.

8 Hide them in the dust together, and bind c their faces in a secret place.

c Saue them to die if thou canst.

d Prouing hereby that whosoeuer attributeth to himselfe power & ability to saue himselfe, maketh himselfe God.

9 Then will I confesse vnto thee also, that thy right hand can d saue thee.

e This beast is thought to be the elephant, or some other which is vnknowen.

f Whom I made as well as thee.

g This commendeth the prouidence of God toward man: for if he were giuen to deuoure as a lion, nothing were able to resist him or content him.

10 ¶ Behold now * Behemoth (whom I made f with thee) which eateth g grasse as an ox.

11 Beholde now, his strength is in his loines, and his force is in the nauil of his belly.

12 When hee taketh pleasure, his taile is like a cedar: the sinews of his stones are wrapt together.

13 His bones are like staues of brasse, and his small bones like staues of yron.

h He is the chiefe of the waies of God: i he that made him, will make his sword to approch vnto him.

i Though man dare not come neere him, yet God can kil him.

14 h He is the chiefe of the waies of God: i he that made him, will make his sword to approch vnto him.

15 Surely the mountains bring him forth grasse, where all the beasts of the field play.

16 Lieth he vnder the trees in the couert of the reede and fennes?

17 Can the trees couer him with their shadowe? or can the willowes of the riuer compasse him about?

18 Behold, he spoileth the riuer, k and hasteth not: he trusteth that he can draw vp Iorden into his mouth.

k He drinketh at leasure, & feareth no body.

19 He taketh it with his eyes, & thrusteth his nose thorow whatsoeuer meeteth him.

20 ¶ Canst thou draw out l Leuiathan with an hook, and with a line which thou shalt cast downe vnto his tongue?

l Meaning, the whale.

21 Canst thou cast an hooke into his nose? canst thou pierce his iawes with an angle?

22 Will he make many m prayers vnto thee, or speake thee fayre?

m Because he feareth lest thou shouldest take him.

23 Will hee make a couenant with thee? and wilt thou take n him as a seruant for euer?

n To do thy businesse, and be at thy commandement.

24 Wilt thou play with him as with a bird? or wilt thou bind him for thy maids?

25 Shall the companions banquet with him? shall they diuide him among the Marchants?

26 Canst thou fil the basket with his skin? or the fishpanier with his head?

27 Lay thine hand vpon him: remember o the battell, and doe no more so.

o If thou once consider the danger, thou wilt not meddle with him.

28 Behold, p his hope is in vaine: for shall not one perish euen at the sight of him?

p To wit, that trusteth to take him.

CHAP. XLI.

1 By the greatnes of this monster Leuiathan God sheweth his greatnes, and his power, which nothing can resist.

NOne is so fierce that dare stirre him vp. Who is hee then that can stand a before mee?

a If none dare stand against a whale, which is but a creature, who is able to compare with God the Creator.

2 Who hath preuented me that I should b make an end? All vnder heauen is mine.

b Who hath taught me to accomplish my worke?

3 I will not keepe silence concerning c his parts, nor his power nor his comely proportion.

c The parts and members of the whale.

4 Who can discouer the face d of his garment? or who shall come to him with a double e bridle?

d That is, who dare pull off his skinne?

e Who dare put a bridle in his mouth?

5 Who shall f open the doores of his face? his teeth are fearefull round about.

f Who dare look in his mouth?

6 The maiesty of his scales is like strong shields, and are sure sealed.

7 One is set to another, that no wind can come betweene them.

8 One is ioyned to another: they sticke together, that they cannot be sundered.

9 His nieslings g make the light to shine, and his eyes are like the eye lids of the morning.

g That is, castech out flames of fire.

10 Out of his mouth goe lampes, and sparkes of fire leape out.

11 Out of his nostrils commeth out smoke as out of a boyling pot or caldron.

12 His breath maketh the coales burne: for a flame goeth out of his mouth.

13 In his necke remaineth strength, and h labour is reiected before his face.

h Nothing is painefull or hard vnto him.

14 The members of his body are ioyned:

they

they are strong in themselues, and can not bee moued.

15 His heart is as strong as a stone, and as hard as the nether milstone.

16 The mighty are afraide of his maiesty, and for feare they faint in themselues.

17 When the sword doeth touch him, hee will not rise vp, nor for the speare, dart, nor habergeon.

18 He esteemeth yron as straw, and brasse as rotten wood.

19 The archer cannot make him flee: the stones of the sling are turned into stubble vnto him.

20 The darts are counted as straw: and he laugheth at the shaking of the speare.

21 Sharpe stones[i] are vnder him, and he spreadeth sharpe things vpon the myre.

22 Hee maketh the depth to [k]boyle like a pot, and maketh the sea like a pot of ointment.

23 Hee maketh a path to [l]shine after him, one would thinke the depth as an hoare head.

24 In the earth there is none like him: he is made without feare.

25 He beholdeth [m]all high things: he is a king ouer all the children of pride.

i His skinne is so hard that he lyeth with as great ease on the stones as in the myre.
k Either he maketh the sea to seeme as it boyled by his wallowing, or els he throweth water in such abundance, as it would seeme ẏ the sea boyled.
l That is, a white froth, and shining streame before him.
m He despiseth all other beasts and monsters, and is the prowdest of all others.

CHAP. XLII.

6 The repentance of Iob. 9 Hee prayeth for his friends. 12 His goods are restored double vnto him. 13 His children, age and death.

THen Iob answered the Lord, and said,

2 I know that thou canst do all things, and there is no [a]thought hid from thee.

3 Who is he that hideth counsel without [b]knowledge? therefore haue I spoken that I vnderstood not, euen things too wonderful for me, [c]and which I knew not.

4 Heare, I beseech thee, and I will speake: I will demand of thee, [d]and declare thou vnto me.

5 I haue [e]heard of thee by the hearing of the eare, but now mine eye seeth thee.

6 Therefore I abhorre my selfe, and repent in dust and ashes.

7 Now after that the Lord had spoken these words vnto Iob, the Lord also said vnto Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled against thee, and against thy two friends: for yee haue not spoken of mee the thing that is [f]right, like my seruant [g]Iob.

8 Therefore take vnto you nowe seuen bullockes, and seuen rammes, and goe to my seruant Iob, and offer vp for your selues a burnt offring, and my seruant Iob shall [h]pray for you: for I will accept him, lest I should put you to shame, because yee haue not spoken of me the thing, which is right, like my seruant Iob.

9 So Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite, went, and did according as the Lord had sayd vnto them, and the Lord accepted Iob.

10 Then the Lord turned the [i]captiuity of Iob when he prayed for his friends: also the Lord gaue Iob twise so much as hee had before.

11 Then came vnto him all his [k]brethren, and all his sisters, and all they that had beene of his acquaintance before, and did eat bread with him in his house, and had compassion of him, and comforted him for all the euil that the Lord had brought vpon him, and euery man gaue him a ‖ piece of money, and euery one an earing of gold.

12 So the Lord blessed ẏ last daies of Iob more then the first: for he had [l]fourteene thousand sheep, and sixe thousand camels, & a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand she asses.

13 Hee had also seuen sonnes, and three daughters.

14 And he called the name of one [m]Iemimah, and the name of the second [n]Keziah, and the name of the third [o]Keren-happuch.

15 In all the land were no women found so faire as the daughters of Iob, and their father gaue them inheritance among their brethren.

16 And after this liued Iob an hundred and forty yeres, and saw his sonnes, and his sonnes sonnes, euen foure generations.

17 So Iob died, being olde, and full of dayes.

a No thought so secret, but thou dost see it, nor any thing that thou thinkest, but thou canst bring it to passe.
b Is there any but I? for this God laid to his charge, Chap. 38.2. c I confesse herein mine ignorance, and that I spake I wist not what.
d He sheweth that he will be Gods scholler to learne of him.
e I knew thee only before by heare say, but now thou hast caused me to feele what thou art to me, that I may resigne my selfe ouer vnto thee.

f You tooke in hand an euill cause, in that you condemned him by his outward afflictions and not comforted him with my mercies.
g Who had a good cause, but handled it euill.
h When you haue reconciled your selues to him for the faults that you haue committed against him, he shall pray for you, and I will heare him.
i He deliuered him out of the affliction wherein he was.
k That is, all his kindred, read Chap. 19.13.

‖ Or, lambe, or money so marked.

l God made him twise so rich in cattell as he was afore, and gaue him as many children as hee had taken from him.
m That is, of long life, or beautifull as the day.
n As pleasant as Cassia or sweet spice.
o That is, the horne of beauty.

¶ The *Pſalmes of Dauid.

*Or, praiſes, according to the Ebrewes: & were chiefly inſtitute to praiſe & giue thanks to God for his benefits. They are called the Pſalmes or Songs of Dauid, becauſe the moſt part were made by him.

THE ARGVMENT.

THis booke of Pſalmes is ſet forth vnto vs by the holy Ghoſt to be eſteemed as a moſt precious treaſure, wherein all things are conteined that apperteine to true felicitie, aſwel in this preſent life as in the life to come. For the riches of true knowledge, and heauenly wiſedome are here ſet open for vs, to take thereof moſt abundantly. If we would know the great and hie maieſty of God, here we may ſee the brightnes thereof ſhine moſt clearely. If we would ſeeke his incomprehenſible wiſdome, here is the ſchoole of the ſame profeſſion. If wee would comprehend his ineſtimable bountie, and approch neere thereunto, and fill our hands with that treaſure, here wee may haue a moſt liuely and comfortable taſte thereof. If we would know wherein ſtandeth our ſaluation, and how to attaine to life euerlaſting, here is Chriſt our only redeemer and mediatour moſt euidently deſcribed. The rich man may learne the true vſe of his riches. The poore man may find full contentation. He that will reioyce, ſhall know the true ioy, and how to keepe meaſure therein. They that are afflicted and oppreſſed, ſhall ſee wherein ſtandeth their comfort, and how they ought to praiſe God when he ſendeth them deliuerance. The wicked and the perſecuters of the children of God ſhal ſee how the hand of God is euer againſt them, and though he ſuffer them to proſper for a while, yet he bridleth them, in ſo much as they cannot touch an haire of ones head, except he permit them, and how in the end their deſtruction is moſt miſerable. Briefly, here we may haue moſt preſent remedies againſt all tentations, and troubles of mind and conſcience, ſo that being well practiſed herein, we may be aſſured againſt all dangers in this life, liue in the true feare and loue of God, and at length attaine to that incorruptible crowne of glory, which is layd vp for all them that loue the comming of our Lord Ieſus Chriſt.

PSALME I.

Whether it was Eſdras, or any other that gathered the Pſalmes into a booke, it ſeemeth he did ſet this Pſalme firſt in maner of a Preface, to exhort all godly men to ſtudie, and meditate the heauenly wiſedome. For the effect hereof is, 1 That they bee bleſſed which giue themſelues wholly all their life to the holy Scriptures. 4 And that the wicked contemners of God, though they ſeeme for a while happie, yet at length ſhall come to miſerable deſtruction.

BLeſſed is the man that doth not walke in the [a] counſell of the wicked, nor ſtand in the way of ſinners, nor ſit in the ſeat of the ſcornfull.

2 But his delight is in the *Lawe of the Lord, and in his [b] Law doeth he meditate day and night.

3 For hee ſhall be like a *tree planted by the riuers of waters, that will bring foorth her fruite in due ſeaſon: whoſe leafe ſhall not fade: ſo [c] whatſoeuer hee ſhall doe, ſhall proſper.

4 [d] The wicked are not ſo, but as the chaffe, which the winde driueth away.

5 Therefore the wicked ſhall not ſtand in the [e] iudgement, nor ſinners in the aſſembly of the righteous.

6 For the Lord [f] knoweth the way of the righteous, and the way of the wicked ſhall perish.

a When a man hath giuen once place to euill counſel, or to his owne concupiſcence, he beginneth to forget himſelfe in his ſinne, and ſo falleth into contempt of God, which contempt is called the ſeat of the ſcorners.
*Deut. 6.6. Ioſh. 1.8 prou. 6.20.
b In the holy Scriptures.
*Iere. 17.8.
c Gods children are ſo mooſtened euer with his grace, that whatſoeuer commeth vnto them, tendeth to their ſaluation.
d Though the wicked ſeeme to beare the ſwinge in this worlde, yet the Lord driueth them ſo ſwone that they ſhall not riſe nor ſtand in the companie of the righteous. e But tremble when they feele Gods wrath. f Doeth approoue and proſper, like as not to know, is to reprooue and reie

PSAL. II.

1 The Prophet Dauid reioyceth, that notwithſtanding his enemies rage, yet God will continue his kingdome for euer, and aduance it euen to the end of the world, 10 And therefore exhorteth Kings and Rulers, that they would humbly ſubmit themſelues vnder Gods yoke, becauſe it is in vaine to reſiſt God. Herein is figured Chriſtes kingdome.

1. day morning

WHy doe the [a] heathen *rage, and the people murmure in vaine?

2 The kings of the earth band themſelues, and the princes are aſſembled together againſt the Lord, and againſt his ‖ Chriſt.

3 [b] Let vs breake their bands, and caſt their cords from vs.

4 *But he that dwelleth in the heauen, ſhal laugh: the Lord ſhall haue them in deriſion.

5 [c] Then ſhall hee ſpeake vnto them in his wrath, and vexe them in his ſore diſpleaſure, ſaying,

6 Euen I haue ſet my King vpon Zion mine holy mountaine.

7 I will declare the [d] decree: that is, the Lord hath ſaid vnto me, *Thou art my ſonne: this [e] day haue I begotten thee.

8 Aſke of me, and I ſhal giue thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the [f] ends of the earth for thy poſſeſſion.

9 *Thou ſhalt cruſh them with a ſcepter of yron, and breake them in pieces like a potters veſſell.

10 [g] Be wiſe now therefore, yee Kings: be learned ye Iudges of the earth.

11 Serue the Lord in feare, and reioyce in trembling.

a The conſpiracie of the Gentiles, the murmuring of the Iewes, & power of Kings, cannot preuaile againſt Chriſt.
*Acts 4.25.
‖ Or, anointed.
b Thus the wicked ſay, that they will caſt off the yoke of God, and of his Chriſt.
*Prou. 1.26.
c Gods plagues will declare that in reſiſting his Chriſt, they fought againſt him.
d To ſhew that my vocation to the kingdome, is of God.
*Act. 13.23.33. hebr. 1.5.
e That is to ſay, as touching mine knowledge, becauſe it was the firſt time that Dauid appeared to be elected of God. Or, is it applied to Chriſt in his firſt manifeſtation to the world.
f That onely the Iewes, but the Gentiles alſo. *Reuel. 2.27. g He exhorteth all rulers to repent in time.

12 [h]Kisse the sonne, lest he be angry, and ye [i]perish in the way, when his wrath shall suddenly burne, blessed are all that trust in him.

h In signe of homage.
i When the wicked shall say, Peace and rest, seeming yet to bee but in the midway of their purposes, then shall destruction suddenly come, 1. Thess. 5. 3.

PSAL. III.

1 Dauid driuen forth of his kingdom, was greatly tormented in mind for his sinnes against God: 4 And therefore calleth vpon God, and waxeth bold through his promises against the great railings and terrours of his enemies, yea, against death it selfe, which hee saw present before his eyes. 7 Finally, he reioyceth for the good successe that God gaue him and all the Church.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid, when he fled from his sonne Absalom.

LOrd, how are mine aduersaries [a]increased? how many arise against me?

2 Many say to my soule, There is no helpe for him in God. [b]Selah.

3 But thou Lord art a buckler for me: my glory, and the lifter vp of mine head.

4 I did call vnto the Lord with my voyce, and hee heard mee out of his holy mountaine. Selah.

5 I laid mee downe and slept, and rose vp againe: for the Lord sustained me.

6 I will not be afraid for [c]ten thousand of the people, that should beset me round about.

7 O Lord, arise: helpe mee, my God: for thou hast smitten all mine enemies vpon the cheeke bone: thou hast broken the teeth of the wicked.

8 [d]Saluation belongeth vnto the Lord, and thy blessing is vpon thy people. Selah.

a This was a token of his stable faith, that for all his troubles he had his recourse to God.
b Selah here signifieth a lifting vp of the voyce to cause vs to consider the sentence, as a thing of great importance.
c When he considered the trueth of Gods promises, and tried the same, his faith increased marueilously.
d Be the dangers neuer so great or many, yet God hath euer meanes to deliuer his.

PSAL. IIII.

1 When Saul persecuted him, he called vpon God, trusting most assuredly in his promise, and therefore boldly reproueth his enemies, who wilfully resisted his dominion. 7 And finally preferreth the fauour of God before all worldly treasures.

¶ [a]To him that excelleth on Neginoth. A Psalme of Dauid.

HEare mee when I call, [b]O God of my righteousnesse: thou hast set mee at libertie, when I was [c]in distresse: haue mercie vpon me, and hearken vnto my prayer.

2 O yee [d]sonnes of men, how long will ye turne my glory into shame, [e]louing vanitie, and seeking lies? Selah.

3 For be ye sure that the Lord hath chosen to himselfe [f]a godly man: the Lord will heare when I call vnto him.

4 [g]Tremble and sinne not: examine your own heart vpon your bed, and be [h]still. Selah.

5 [i]Offer the sacrifices of righteousnesse, and trust in the Lord.

6 Many say, Who will shew vs any [k]good? but Lord, lift vp the light of thy countenance vpon vs.

7 Thou hast giuen mee more ioy of heart, then they haue had, when their wheate and their wine did abound.

8 I will lay mee downe, and also sleepe in peace: for thou, Lord, [l]onely makest me dwell in safetie.

a Among them that were appointed to sing the Psalmes, and to play on the instruments, one was appointed chiefe to set the tune, and to begin: who had the charge, because hee was most excellent, and hee began this Psalme on the instrument called Neginoth, or in a tune so called.
b Thou that art the defender of my iust cause.
c Both of mind and body.
d Ye that thinke your selues noble in this world.
e Though your enterprises and deuises you neuer so much, yet God will bring them to nought.
f A King that walketh in his vocation.
g For feare of Gods iudgement.
h Cease your rage.
i Serue God purely and not with outward ceremonies.
k The multitude seeke worldly wealth, but Dauid setteth his felicitie in Gods fauour.
l This word in Ebrew may be referred to God, as it is here translated, or to Dauid, signifying that he should dwell as ioyfully alone, as if he had many about him, because the Lord is with him.

PSAL. V.

1 Dauid oppressed with the cruelties of his enemies, and fearing great dangers, calleth to God for succour, shewing how requisite it is that God should punish the malice of his aduersaries. 7 After, being assured of prosperous successe, hee conceiueth comfort, 12 Concluding that when God shall deliuer him, others also shall be partakers of the same mercies.

¶ To him that excelleth vpon ‖Nehiloth. A Psalme of Dauid.

HEare my words, O Lord: vnderstand my [a]meditation.

2 Hearken vnto the voyce of my crie, my King and my God: for vnto thee doe I pray.

3 Heare my voyce in the morning, O Lord: for in the morning wil I direct me vnto thee, and I will [b]waite.

4 For thou art not a God that loueth [c]wickednesse: neither shall euill dwell with thee.

5 [d]The foolish shall not stand in thy sight: for thou hatest all them that worke iniquitie.

6 Thou shalt destroy them that speake lies: the Lord wil abhorre the bloody man and deceitfull.

7 But I [e]wil come into thine house in the multitude of thy mercy: and in thy feare will I worship toward thine holy Temple.

8 Leade me, O Lord, in thy righteousnes, [f]because of mine enemies: make thy way plaine before my face.

9 For no constancie is in their mouth: within, they are very corruption: their * throate is an open sepulchre, and they flatter with their tongue.

10 Destroy them, O God: ‖let them [g]fall from their counsels: cast them out for the multitude of their iniquities, because they haue rebelled against thee.

11 And [h]let all them ỳ trust in thee, reioyce and triumph for euer, & couer thou them: and let them that loue thy Name, reioyce in thee.

12 For thou Lord wilt ‖ blesse the righteous, and with fauour [i]wilt compasse him, as with a shield.

‖ Or, a musicall instrument or tune.
a That is, my vehement prayer and secret complaint and sighings.
b With patience and trust till I be heard.
c Seeing that God of nature hateth wickednesse, hee must needes punish the wicked, and saue the godly.
d Which runne most ragingly after their carnall affections.
e In the depest of his tentations he putteth his full confidence in God.
f Because thou art iust, therefore leade me out of the dangers of mine enemies.
* Rom. 3. 13.
‖ Or, cause them to erre.
g Let their deuises come to nought.
h Thy fauour toward me shall confirme the faith of all others.
‖ Or, giue good successe.
i So that he shal be safe from all dangers.

PSAL. VI.

1 When Dauid by his sinnes had prouoked Gods wrath, and nowe felt not onely his hand against him, but also conceiued the horrours of death euerlasting, he desireth forgiuenes, 6 Bewailing that if God tooke him away in his indignation, hee should lacke occasion to praise him as hee was wont to doe whiles hee was among men. 9 Then suddenly feeling Gods mercy, he sharply rebuketh his enemies which reioyced in his affliction.

¶ To him that excelleth vpon Neginoth vpon the eight tune. A Psalme of Dauid.

O Lord, *[a]rebuke mee not in thine anger, neither chastise me in thy wrath.

* Iere. 10. 24.
a Though I deserue destruction, yet let thy mercy pitie my frailtie.

Haue

2 Haue mercy vpon me, O Lord, for I am weake: O Lord heale me, for my [b] bones are vexed.

3 [c] My soule is also sore troubled: but Lord, how long wilt thou delay?

4 Returne, O Lord: deliuer my soule: saue me for thy mercis sake.

5 For in [d] death there is no remembrance of thee: in the graue who shall praise thee?

6 I fainted in my mourning: I cause my bed euery night to swimme, and water my couch with teares.

7 ‖ Mine eye is dimmed for despight, and sunke in because of all mine enemies.

8 [e] Away from mee all ye workers of iniquitie: for the Lord hath heard the voyce of my weeping.

9 The Lord hath heard my petition: the Lord will receiue my prayer.

10 All mine enemies shall bee confounded and sore vexed: they shall be turned backe, and put to shame [f] suddenly.

PSAL. VII.

1 Being falsly accused by Chush one of Sauls kinsmen, he calleth to God to be his defender. 3 To whom he commendeth his innocencie, 9 First shewing that his conscience did not accuse him of any euill towards Saul: 10 Next, that it touched Gods glory to award sentence against the wicked. 12 And so entring into the consideration of Gods mercies and promise, he waxeth bold, and derideth the vaine enterprises of his enemies, 16 Threatning that that shall fall on their owne necke which they haue purposed for others.

¶ ‖ Shigaion of Dauid, which hee sang vnto the Lord concerning the ‖ wordes of * Chush the sonne of Iemini.

O Lord my God, in thee I put my trust: saue me from all that persecute me, and deliuer me,

2 Lest [a] he deuoure my soule like a lion, and teare it in pieces, while there is none to helpe.

3 O Lord my God, if I haue done [b] this thing, if there bee any wickednesse in mine hands,

4 [c] If I haue rewarded euill vnto him that had peace with me, (yea I haue deliuered him that vexed me without cause)

5 Then let [ỹ] enemie persecute my soule and take it: yea, let him tread my life down vpō the earth, & lay mine [d] honour in the dust. Selah.

6 Arise, O Lord, in thy wrath, and lift vp thy selfe against the rage of mine enemies, and awake for mee according to the [e] iudgement that thou hast appointed.

7 So shal the Congregation of the people compasse thee about: for their sakes therefore [f] returne on high.

8 The Lord shall iudge the people: iudge thou me, O Lord, according to my [g] righteousnes, and according to mine innocencie, that is in me.

9 Oh let the malice of the wicked come to an end: but guide thou the iust: for the righteous God trieth the [h] hearts and reines.

10 My defence is in God, who preserueth the vpright in heart.

11 God iudgeth the righteous, and him that contemneth God [i] euery day.

12 Except [k] hee turne, hee hath whet his sword: he hath bent his bow & made it ready.

13 He hath also prepared him deadly weapons: hee will ordeine his arrowes for them that persecute me.

14 *Behold, he shal trauaile with wickednesse: for he hath conceiued mischiefe, but he shall bring forth a lie.

15 Hee hath made a pit and digged it, and is fallen into the pit that he made.

16 His mischiefe shal return vpon his own head, & his cruelty shal fall vpon his own pate.

17 I will praise the Lord according to his [l] righteousnes, and wil sing praise to the name of the Lord most high.

PSAL. VIII.

1 The Prophet considering the excellent liberality & fatherly prouidence of God towards man, whom he made as it were a god ouer all his works, doth not onely giue great thanks, but is astonished with the admiratiō of the same, as one nothing able to compasse such great mercies.

¶ To him that excelleth on ‖ Gittith. ¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

O Lord our Lord, how ‖ excellent is thy Name in all the world! which hast set thy glory aboue the heauens.

2 Out of the mouth [a] of babes and sucklings hast thou ‖ ordeined strength, because of thine enemies, that thou mightest ‖ still the enemie, and the auenger.

3 When I behold thine heauens, euen the works of thy fingers, the moone and the starrs which thou hast ordeined,

4 What is [b] man, say I, that thou art mindful of him? and the sonne of man, that thou visitest him?

5 For thou hast made him a litle lower then [c] God, and crowned him with glory & worship.

6 Thou hast made him to haue dominion in the works of thine hands: thou hast put all things vnder his feet:

7 All [d] sheepe and oxen: yea, and the beasts of the field:

8 The foules of the ayre, and the fish of the sea, and that which passeth through the pathes of the seas.

9 O Lord our Lord, how excellent is thy Name in all the world!

PSAL. IX.

I Will praise the Lord with my [a] whole heart: I wil speake of all thy maruellous workes.

2 I wil be glad, and reioyce in thee: I wil sing praise to thy Name, O most High.

3 For that mine enemies are turned back: they shall fall, and perish at thy presence.

4 For [b] thou hast maintained my right and my cause: thou art set in the throne, and iudgest right.

5 Thou hast rebuked the heathen: thou hast destroyed the wicked: thou hast put out their name for euer and euer.

6 [c] O enemie, destructions are come to a perpetuall end, and thou hast destroyed the cities: their memorial is perished with them.

7 But the Lord ‖ shall sit for euer: he hath prepared his throne for iudgement.

8 For he shal iudge the world in righteousnesse, and shall iudge the people with equitie.

9 The Lord also will bee a refuge for the [d] poore, a refuge in due time, euen in affliction.

10 And they that knowe thy Name, will trust in thee: for thou, Lord, hast not failed them that seeke thee.

PSAL. X.

1 Hee complaineth of the fraud, rapine, tyrannie, and all kindes of wrong, which worldly men vse, assigning the cause thereof, that wicked men, being as it were drunken with worldly prosperitie, and therefore setting apart all feare and reuerence towards God, thinke they may doe all things without controwling. 15 Therefore hee calleth vpon God to send some remedie against these desperate euils, 16 And at length comforteth himselfe with hope of deliuerance.

WHy standest thou farre off, O Lord, and hidest thee in [a] due time, euen in affliction?

2 The wicked with pride doeth persecute the poore: let them be taken in the crafts that they haue imagined.

3 For the wicked hath [b] made boast of his owne hearts desire, and the couetous blesseth himselfe: he contemneth the Lord.

4 The wicked is so proud that hee seeketh not for God: he thinketh alwayes, There is no God.

5 His wayes alway prosper: thy iudgements are high aboue his sight: therefore ‖ defieth he all his enemies.

6 He saith in his heart, I shall ‖ neuer bee moued, [c] nor be in danger.

7 His mouth is full of cursing and deceite and fraud: vnder his tongue is mischiefe and iniquitie.

9 He lieth in waite secretly, euen as a lion in his den: he lieth in wait to spoile the poore: he doth spoile the poore, when he draweth him into his net.

10 Hee croucheth and boweth: therefore heapes of the [e] poore doe fall by his might.

11 He hath said in his heart, God hath forgotten, he hideth away his face, and wil neuer see.

12 [f] Arise, O Lord God: lift vp thine hand: forget not the poore.

13 Wherefore doth the wicked contemne God? hee sayth in his heart, Thou wilt not [g] regard.

14 Yet thou hast seene it: for thou beholdest mischiefe and wrong, that thou maiest [h] take it into thine hands: the poore committeth himselfe vnto thee: for thou art the helper of the fatherlesse.

15 Breake thou the arme of the wicked and malicious: search his wickednes, and thou shalt finde [i] none.

16 The Lord is King for euer and euer: the [k] heathen are destroyed forth of his land.

e By the hypocrisie of them that haue authoritie, the poore are deuoured.

f He calleth to God for helpe, because wickednesse is so farre ouergrowen, that God must now helpe or neuer.

PSAL. XI.

1 This Psalme conteineth two parts. In the first Dauid sheweth how hard assaults of tentations hee susteined, and in how great anguish of mind hee was, when Saul did persecute him. 4 Then next, he reioyceth that God sent him succour in his necessitie, declaring his iustice aswell in gouerning the good and the wicked men, as the whole world.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

IN the Lord put I my trust: how say ye then to my soule, [a] Flee to your mountaine as a bird?

2 For loe, the wicked bend their bow, and make readie their arrowes vpon the string, that they may secretly shoote at them, which are vpright in heart.

3 For the [b] foundations are cast downe: what hath the [c] righteous done?

4 The Lord is in his holy palace: the Lords throne is in the heauen: his eyes [d] will consider: his eye lids will trie the children of men.

5 The Lord will trie the righteous: but the wicked and him that loueth iniquitie, doth his soule hate.

6 Vpon the wicked he shall raine snares, [e] fire, and brimstone, and stormie tempest: this is the [f] portion of their cup.

7 For the righteous Lord loueth righteousnesse: his countenance doth behold the iust.

a This is the wicked counsell of his enemies to him and his companions, to driue him from the hope of Gods promise.
b All hope of succour is taken away.
c Yet am I innocent, and my cause good.
d Though all things in earth be out of order, yet God will execute iudgement from heauen.
e As in the destruction of Sodom and Gomorah.
f Which they shall drinke euen to the dregs, Ezek. 23. 34.

PSAL. XII.

1 The Prophet lamenting the miserable estate of the people, and the decay of all good order, desireth God speedily to send succour to his children. 7 Then comforting himselfe and others with the assurance of Gods helpe, he commendeth the constant veritie that God obserueth in keeping his promises.

¶ To him that excelleth vpon the eight tune. A Psalme of Dauid.

HElpe Lord, for there is not [a] a godly man left: for the faithfull are failed from among the children of men.

2 They speake deceitfully euery one with his neighbour, [b] flattering with their lips, and speake with a double heart.

3 The Lord cut off all flattering lips, and the tongue that speaketh proud things:

4 Which haue said, [c] With our tongue will we preuaile: our lips are our owne: who is Lord ouer vs?

5 [d] Now for the oppression of the needy, and for the sighes of the poore, I will vp, saith the Lord, and will [e] set at liberty him, whom the wicked hath snared.

6 The words of the Lord are pure words, as the siluer, tried in a furnace of earth, fined seuen folde.

7 Thou wilt keepe [f] them, O Lord: thou wilt preserue him from this generation for euer.

8 The wicked walke on euery side: when they are exalted, [g] it is a shame for the sonnes of men.

a Which rare defend the trueth and shew mercy to the oppressed.
b He meaneth the flatterers of the court, which hurt him more in their tongues, then with their weapons.
c They thinke themselues able to perswade whatsoeuer they take in hand.
d The Lord is moued with the complaints of his, and deliuereth in the end from all dangers.
e Because the Lords word and promise is true and vnchangeable, he will performe it, and preserue the poore from this wicked generation.
f That is, thine, though he were but one man.
g For they suppresse the godly, and maintaine the wicked.

PSAL. XIII.

1 Dauid as it were ouercome with sundry and new afflictions, fleeth to God as his only refuge, 3 And so at the length being encouraged through Gods promises, hee conceiueth most sure confidence against the extreme horrors of death.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

HOw long wilt thou forget me, O Lord, [a] for euer? how long wilt thou hide thy face from me?

2 How long shall I take [b] counsell within my selfe, hauing wearinesse daily in mine heart? how long shall mine enemie be exalted aboue me?

3 Behold, and heare mee, O Lord my God: lighten mine eyes, that I sleepe not in death:

4 Lest mine enemie say, I haue [c] preuailed against him: and they that afflict me, reioyce when I slide.

5 But I trust in thy [d] mercy: mine heart shall reioyce in thy saluation: I will sing to the Lord, because he hath [e] dealt lovingly with mee.

a He declareth that his afflictions lasted a long time, and that his faith failed not.
b Changing my purpose as the fickle man doeth his place.
c Which might turne to Gods dishonour, if he did not defend his.
d The mercy of God is the cause of our saluation.
e Both by the benefits past and by others to come.

PSAL. XIIII.

1 He describeth the peruerse nature of men, which were so growen to licentiousnesse, that God was brought to vtter contempt. 7 For the which thing, although he was greatly grieued, yet being perswaded that God would send some present remedie, hee comforteth himselfe and others.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

THe * foole hath said in his heart, [a] There is no God: they haue [b] corrupted, & done an abominable worke: there is none that doth good.

2 The Lord looked downe from heauen vpon the children of men, to see if there were any that would vnderstand, and seeke God.

3 [c] All are gone out of the way: they are all corrupt: there is none that doeth good, no not one.

4 Doe not all the workers of iniquitie know that they eate vp my people as they eate bread? they call not vpon the Lord.

5 [d] There they shall be taken with feare, because God is in the generation of the iust.

6 You haue made [e] a mocke at the counsell of the poore, because the Lord is his trust.

7 Oh giue saluation vnto [f] Israel out of Zion: when the Lord turneth the captiuitie of his people, then Iaakob shall reioyce, and Israel shall be glad.

* Psal. 53.
a He sheweth that the cause of all wickednes is to forget God.
b There is nothing but disorder and wickednesse among them.
c Dauid here maketh comparison betweene the faithfull and the reprobate, but S. Paul speaketh the same of all men naturally, Rom. 3. 10.
d Where they thinke themselues most sure.
e You mocke them that put their trust in God.
f He prayeth for the whole Church, whom he is assured God will deliuer: for none but he onely can doe it.

¶ Note that of this 14. Psalme, the 5. 6. and 7. verses which are put into the common Translation, and may seeme vnto some to be left out in this, are not in the same Psalme in the Hebrew text, but are rather put in, more fully to expresse the maners of the wicked, and are gathered out of the 5. 140. and 10. Psalmes, the 59. of the Prophet Isaiah, & the 36. Psalme, and are alledged by S. Paul, and placed together in the 3. to the Romanes.

PSAL. XV.

1 This Psalme teacheth on what condition God did chuse the Iewes for his peculiar people, and wherefore he placed his Temple among them, which was to the intent that they by liuing vprightly and godly, might witnesse that they were his speciall and holy people.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

LOrd, who shall dwell in thy Tabernacle? who shall rest in thine holy Mountaine?

2 Hee that [a] walketh vprightly and worketh righteousnesse, and speaketh the trueth in his heart.

3 He that slandereth not with his tongue, nor doeth euill to his neighbour, nor receiueth a false report against his neighbour.

4 [b] In whose eyes a vile person is contemned, but he honoureth them that feare the Lord: hee that sweareth to his owne hinderance and changeth not.

5 He that [c] giueth not his money vnto vsurie, nor taketh reward against the innocent: he that doth these things, shall neuer [d] be moued.

PSAL. XVI.

¶ ‖ Michtam of Dauid.

PReserue me, O God: for in thee doe I [a] trust.

2 O my soule, thou hast sayde vnto the Lord, Thou art my Lord: my [b] well doing extendeth not to thee,

3 But to the Saints that are in the earth, and to the excellent: all my delight is in them.

4 The [c] sorowes of them that offer to an other god, shalbe multiplied: [d] their offrings of blood will I not offer, neither make * mention of their names with my lips.

5 The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance & of my cup: thou shalt maintein my lot.

6 The [e] lines are fallen vnto mee in pleasant places: yea, I haue a faire heritage.

7 I will praise the Lord, who hath giuen me counsell: my [f] reines also teach me in the nights.

8 I haue set the Lord alwayes before me: for he is at my right hand: therefore I [g] shall not slide.

9 Wherefore [h] mine heart is glad and my tongue reioyceth: my flesh also doeth rest in hope.

10 For thou [i] wilt not leaue my soule in the graue: neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy one to see corruption.

11 Thou wilt shew me the path of life: in thy [k] presence is the fulnesse of ioy: and at thy right hand there are pleasures for euermore.

PSAL. XVII.

¶ The prayer of Dauid.

HEare [a] the right, O Lord, consider my crie: hearken vnto my prayer of lippes vnfained.

2 Let my [b] sentence come forth from thy presence, and let thine eyes behold equitie.

3 Thou hast [c] proued and visited mine heart in the night: thou hast tryed me, and foundest nothing: for I was purposed that my [d] mouth should not offend.

4 Concerning the workes of men, by the [e] words of thy lips I kept me from the paths of the cruell man.

5 Stay my steppes in thy paths, that my feete doe not slide.

6 I haue called vpon thee: [f] surely thou wilt heare me, O God: incline thine eare to me, and hearken vnto my words.

7 Shew thy marueilous mercies, thou that art the Sauiour of them that trust in thee, from such as [g] resist thy right hand.

8 Keepe me as the apple of the eye: hide me vnder the shadow of thy wings,

9 From the wicked that oppresse mee, from mine enemies, which compasse me round about for [h] my soule.

10 They are inclosed in their owne [i] fat, and they haue spoken proudly with their mouth.

11 They haue compassed vs now in our steps: they haue set their eyes to bring downe to the ground:

12 Like as a lyon that is greedy of pray, and as it were a lyons whelpe lurking in secret places.

13 Vp Lord, [k] disappoint him: cast him downe: deliuer my soule from the wicked ‖ with thy sword.

14 From men by thine [l] hand, O Lord, from men ‖ of the world, who haue their [m] portion in this life, whose bellies thou fillest with thine hid treasure: their children haue enough, and leaue the rest of their substance for their children.

15 But I will behold [n] thy face in righteousnesse, and when I [o] awake, I shall be satisfied with thine image.

PSAL. XVIII.

1 This Psalme is the first beginning of his gratulation, and thanksgiuing in the entring into his kingdome, wherein hee extolleth and praiseth most highly the marueilous mercies and grace of God, who hath thus preserued and defended him. 32 Also hee setteth foorth the image of Christes kingdome, that the faithfull may bee assured that Christ shall alwayes conquer and ouercome by the vnspeakeable power of his Father, though all the whole world should striue thereagainst.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid the seruant of the Lord, which spake vnto the Lord the words of this song (in the day that the Lord deliuered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul) and said,

I Will loue thee dearely, O Lorde my strength.

n This is the full felicitie, comforting against all assaults, to haue the face of God and fauourable countenance openen vnto vs.
o And am deliuered out of my great troubles.

2 *[a] The Lord is my rocke, and my fortresse, and he that deliuereth me, my God and my strength: in him will I trust, my shield, the horne also of my saluation, and my refuge.

3 I will call vpon the Lord, which is worthy to be [b] praised: so shal I be safe from mine enemies.

4 The [c] sorowes of death compassed me, and the floods of wickednesse made me afraid.

5 The ‖ sorowes of the graue haue compassed mee about: the snares of death ouertooke me.

6 But in my trouble did I call vpon the Lord, and cryed vnto my God: he heard my voice out of his Temple, and my cry did come before him, euen into his eares.

7 [d] Then the earth trembled, and quaked: the foundations also of the mountaines mooued and shooke, because he was angry.

8 Smoke went out at his nostrels, and a [e] consuming fire out of his mouth: coales were kindled thereat.

9 Hee bowed the heauens also and came downe, and [f] darkenesse was vnder his feete.

10 And he rode vpon [g] Cherub and did flie, & he came flying vpon the wings of the wind.

11 He made darkenesse his [h] secret place, and his pauilion round about him, euen darkenesse of waters, and cloudes of the aire.

12 At the brightnesse of his presence his cloudes passed, haile stones and coales of fire.

13 The Lord also thundred in the heauen, and the Highest gaue [i] his voice, haile stones and coales of fire.

14 Then hee sent out [k] his arrowes and scattered them, and he increased lightnings and destroyed them.

15 And the chanels of waters were seene, and the [l] foundations of the world were discouered at thy rebuking, O Lord, at the blasting of the breath of thy nostrels.

16 Hee hath sent downe from aboue and taken me: hee hath drawen mee out of many [m] waters.

17 He hath deliuered me from my [n] strong enemie, and from them which hate mee: for they were [o] too strong for me.

18 They preuented mee in the day of my calamitie: but the Lord was my stay.

19 He brought me forth also into a large place: [p] he deliuered me because hee fauoured mee.

20 The Lord rewarded me according to my [q] righteousnesse: according to the pureneſſe of mine hands he recompensed me:

21 Because I kept the wayes of the Lord, and did not wickedly against my God.

22 For all his Lawes were before mee, and I did not cast away his commandements from me.

23 I was vpright also with him, and haue kept me from my [r] wickednesse.

24 Therefore the Lord rewarded me according to my righteousnesse, and according to the pureneſſe of mine hands in his sight.

25 With the [t] godly thou wilt shewe thy selfe godly: with the vpright man thou wilt shewe thy selfe vpright.

26 With the pure thou wilt shew thy selfe pure, and with the froward thou wilt shew thy selfe froward.

27 Thus thou wilt saue the poore people, and wilt [u] cast downe the proud lookes.

28 Surely thou wilt light my candle: the Lord my God will lighten my darkenesse.

29 For by thee I haue [x] broken through an hoste, & by my God I haue leaped ouer a wall.

30 The way of God is vncorrupt: the [y] word of the Lord is tried in the fire: hee is a shield to all that trust in him.

31 For who is God besides the Lord? and who is mightie saue our God?

32 God girdeth mee with strength, and maketh my [z] way vpright.

33 He maketh my feete like Hindes feete, and setteth me vpon mine [a] high places.

34 He teacheth mine handes to fight: so that a bowe of ‖ braſſe is broken with mine armes.

35 Thou hast also giuen me the [b] shield of thy saluation, and thy right hand hath stayed me, and thy [c] louing kindnesse hath caused me to increase.

36 Thou hast enlarged my steps vnder me, and mine heeles haue not slid.

37 [d] I haue pursued mine enemies, and taken them, and haue not turned againe till I had consumed them.

38 I haue wounded them, that they were not able to rise: they are fallen vnder my feete.

39 For thou hast girded me with strength to battell: them that rose against me, thou hast subdued vnder me.

40 And thou hast [e] giuen me the neckes of mine enemies, that I might destroy them that hate me.

41 They [f] cryed, but there was none to saue them, euen vnto the Lord, but he answered them not.

42 Then I did beate them small as the dust before the winde: I did tread them flat as the clay in the streets.

43 Thou hast deliuered me from the contentions of the people: thou hast made me the head of the [g] heathen: a people, whom I haue not [h] knowen, shall serue me.

44 Assoone as they heare, they shall obey me: the strangers shall [i] be in subiection to me.

45 Strangers shall [k] shrinke away, & feare in their priuie chambers.

d A description of the wrath of God against his enemies after he had heard his prayers.

e He sheweth how horrible Gods iudgements shalbe to the wicked.

f Darkenesse signifieth the wrath of God, as the cleare light signifieth Gods fauour.

m Out of sundry and great dangers.

n To wit, Saul.

o Therefore God sent me succour.

p The cause of Gods deliuerance is his only fauour and loue to vs.

q Dauid was sure of his righteous cause and good behauiour towards Saul and his enemies, and therefore was assured of Gods fauour and deliuerance.

r For all his wanderings he erred not wilfully in the Law of God.

s I neither gaue place to their wicked temptations, nor to mine owne affections.

t Here he speaketh of God according to our capacitie, who sheweth mercy to his and punisheth the wicked, as is also said, Leuit. 26. 21, 24.

u When their sinne is come to the full measure.

x He attributeth it to God that hath gate the victorie in the field, and also destroyed the cities of his enemies.

y The dangers neuer so many or great, yet Gods promise must take effect.

z He giueth good successe to all mine enterprises.

a As townes and forts, which he tooke out of the hands of Gods enemies.

‖ Or, steele.

b To defend me from dangers.

c He attributeth the beginning, continuance and increase in well doing onely to Gods fauour.

d Dauid declareth that he did nothing beside his vocation, but was stirred vp by Gods spirit to execute his iudgements.

e That is, giuen them into mine hands to be slaine.

f They that reiect the cry of the afflicted, God will also reiect them, when they cry for helpe: by either paine of feare cause those hypocrites to cry.

g Which dwell round about me.

h The kingdome of Christ is in Dauids kingdome prefigured: and by the preaching of his word bringeth all to his subiection.

i Or, lie: signifying a subiection constrained and not voluntarie.

k Feare shall cause them to be so afraid and cause them to come forth of their secret holes and holes to their power.

46 Let the Lorde liue, and blessed be my strength, & the God of my saluation be exalted.

47 It is God that giueth me power to auenge me, and subdueth the people vnder me.

48 O my deliuerer from mine enemies, euen thou hast set me vp from them, that rose against mee: thou hast deliuered me from the [l] cruell man.

49 Therefore [m] I wil praise thee, O Lord, among the nations, and will sing vnto thy Name.

50 Great deliuerances giueth he vnto his King, and sheweth mercy to his anointed, euen to Dauid, and to his [n] seede for euer.

PSAL. XIX.

1 To the intent hee might moone the faithfull to a deeper consideration of Gods glory, he setteth before their eyes the most exquisite workemanship of the heauens with their proportion and ornaments: 8 And afterward calleth them to the Lawe, wherein God hath reuealed himselfe more familiarly to his chosen people. The which peculiar grace by commending the Law he setteth forth more at large.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

THe [*a] heauens declare the glory of God, and the firmament sheweth the worke of his hands.

3 There is no speech nor [c] language, where their voice is not heard.

4 Their [d] line is gone foorth through all the earth, and their words into the ends of the world: in them hath he set a tabernacle for the sunne.

5 Which commeth foorth as a bridegroome out of his [e] chamber, and reioyceth like a mightie man to runne his race.

6 His going out is from the ende of the heauen, & his compasse is vnto the endes of the same, and none is hid from the heate thereof.

7 The [f] Law of the Lord is perfite, conuerting the soule: the testimony of the Lord is sure, and giueth wisedome vnto the simple.

8 The statutes of the Lord are right and reioyce the heart: the commandement of the Lord is pure, and giueth light vnto the eyes.

9 The feare of the Lord is cleane, and endureth for euer: the iudgements of the Lord are [g] trueth: they are righteous [h] altogether,

10 And more to be [i] desired then gold, yea, then much fine golde: sweeter also then honie and the honie combe.

11 Moreouer by them is thy seruant made circumspect, and in keeping of them there is great [k] reward.

12 Who can vnderstand his [l] faults? cleanse me from secret faults.

13 Keepe thy seruant also from [m] presumptuous sinnes: let them not reigne ouer me: [n] so shall I be vpright, and made cleane from much wickednesse.

14 Let the wordes of my mouth, and the [o] meditation of mine heart be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength, and my redeemer.

PSAL. XX.

A prayer of the people vnto God, that it would please him to heare their King and receiue his sacrifice which hee offred before he went to battel against the Ammonites.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

THe [a] Lord heare thee in the day of trouble: the [b] Name of the God of Iaakob defend thee.

2 Send thee helpe from the Sanctuary, and strengthen thee out of Zion.

3 Let him remember all thine offerings, and [c] turne thy burnt offerings into ashes. Selah:

4 And graunt thee according to thine heart, and fulfill all thy purpose:

5 That wee may reioyce in thy [d] saluation, and set vp the banner in the Name of our God, when the Lord shall performe all thy petitions.

6 Now [e] know I that the Lord will helpe his anoynted, and will heare him from his [f] Sanctuary by the mightie helpe of his right hand.

7 Some trust in chariots, and some in horses: but wee will remember the Name of the Lord our God.

8 [g] They are brought downe and fallen, but we are risen, and stand vpright.

9 Saue Lord: [h] let the King heare vs in the day that we call.

PSAL. XXI.

1 Dauid in the person of the people praiseth God for the victory, attributing it to God, and not to the strength of man. Wherein the holy Ghost directeth the faithfull to Christ, who is the perfection of this kingdome.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

THe King shall [a] reioyce in thy strength, O Lord: yea, how greatly shall hee reioyce in thy saluation!

2 Thou hast giuen him his hearts desire, and hast not denied him the request of his lips. Selah.

3 For thou [b] diddest preuent him with liberall blessings, and diddest set a crowne of pure golde vpon his head.

4 [c] He asked life of thee, and thou gauest him a long life for euer and euer.

5 His glory is great in thy saluation: dignitie and honour hast thou laid vpon him.

6 For thou hast set him as [d] blessings for euer: thou hast made him glad with the ioy of thy countenance.

The manner was that the bride & bridegroome should vnder a pauilion together, and after come forth with great solemnitie and reioycing of the assembly. f Though the creatures cannot speake, yet this ought to be sufficient to leaue vs vnto him. g So that all mans inuentions and intentions are lies. h Euery one without exception. i Except Gods worde be esteemed aboue all worldly things, it is contemned. k For God accepteth our indeauour, though it be farre vnperfite. l Then there is no reward of merit, but of grace: for where sinne is, there death is the reward.

a When he shall ouercome his enemies, and so be assured of his vocation. b Thou declarest thy liberall fauour towards him before he prayed.

c Dauid did not only obtaine life, but also assurance that his posteritie should reigne for euer. d Thou hast made him the blessings to others, and a perpetuall example of thy fauour for euer.

m Which are done purposely and of malice. n If thou suppresse my wicked affections by thine holy spirit. o That I may obey thee in thought, worde, and deede.

8 [e] Thine hand ſhall find out all thine enemies, and thy right hand ſhall finde out them that hate thee.

9 Thou ſhalt make them like a fiery ouen in time of thine anger: the Lord ſhall deſtroy them in his [f] wrath, and the fire ſhall deuoure them.

10 Their fruit ſhalt thou deſtroy from the earth, and their ſeed from the children of men.

11 For they [g] intended euill againſt thee, and imagined miſchiefe, but they ſhall not preuaile.

12 Therefore ſhalt thou put them [h] apart, and the ſtrings of thy bow ſhalt thou make ready againſt their faces.

1 Dauid complained becauſe hee was brought into ſuch extremities, that he was paſt all hope, but after he had rehearſed the ſorrowes and griefes, wherewith hee was vexed, 10 He recouereth himſelfe from the bottomleſſe pit of tentations, and groweth in hope. 3 But thou art holy, and doeſt inhabite the [c] praiſes of Iſrael.

4 Our fathers truſted in thee: they truſted, and thou diddeſt deliuer them.

5 They called vpon thee, and were deliuered: they truſted in thee, and were not confounded.

15 My ſtrength is dryed vp like a potſheard, & my tongue cleaueth to my iawes, and thou [i] haſt brought me into the duſt of death.

24 For hee hath not deſpiſed nor abhorred the affliction of the [o] poore: neither hath he hid his face from him, but when hee called vnto him, he heard.

25 My praiſe ſhall be of thee in the great Congregation: my [p] vowes will I performe before them that feare him.

26 [q] The poore ſhall eate and be ſatisfied: they that ſeeke after the Lord, ſhall praiſe him: your heart ſhall liue for euer.

27 All the endes of the world ſhall remember themſelues, and turne to the Lord: and all the kinreds of the nations ſhall worſhip before thee.

28 For the kingdome is the Lords, and he ruleth among the nations.

5 Leade mee forth in thy trueth, and teach mee: for thou art the God of my saluation: in thee doe I trust [d] all the day.

6 Remember, O Lord, thy tender mercies, and thy louing kindnesse: for they haue bene for euer.

7 Remember not the [e] sins of my youth, nor my rebellions, but according to thy kindnesse remember thou mee, euen for thy goodnesse sake, O Lord.

8 Gracious and righteous is the Lord: therefore will he [f] teach sinners in the way.

9 Them that be meeke, will he [g] guide in iudgement, and teach the humble his way.

10 All the pathes of the Lord are mercie and trueth vnto such as keepe his couenant and his testimonies.

11 For thy [h] Names sake, O Lord, bee mercifull vnto mine iniquitie, for it is great.

12 What [i] man is he that feareth the Lord? him will he teach the way that he shall [k] chuse.

13 His soule shall dwell at [l] ease, and his seed shall inherit the land.

14 The [m] secret of the Lord is reuealed to them that feare him: and his couenant to giue them vnderstanding.

15 Mine eyes are euer toward the Lord: for he will bring my feet out of the net.

16 Turne thy face vnto me, and haue mercie vpon me: for I am desolate and poore.

17 The sorrowes of mine heart are [n] enlarged: draw me out of my troubles.

18 Looke vpon mine affliction and my trauell, and forgiue all my sinnes.

19 Behold mine [o] enemies, for they are many, and they hate me with cruell hatred.

20 Keepe my soule, and deliuer me: let me not be confounded, for I trust in thee.

a I put not my trust in any worldly thing.

b That thou wilt take away mine enemies, which are thy foes.

* Isa.28.16. rom.10.11.

c Receiue me in the faith of thy promise, that I swarue not in any fine.

d Constantly and against all temptations.

e He confesseth that his manifold sinnes were the cause that his enemies did thus persecute him, desiring that the cause of the euill may be taken away, to the intent that the effect may cease.

f That is, call them to repentance.

g He will gouerne and comfort them that are truely humbled for their sinnes.

h And for none other respect.

i Meaning, the number is very small.

k He will direct such with his spirit to follow the right way.

l He shall prosper both in spirituall and carnall things.

m His counsel contained in his word, whereby he declareth that he is the protector of the faithfull.

n My griefe is increased because of mine enemies crueltie.

o The greater that his afflictions were, and the more that his enemies increased, the more neere was he Gods helpe.

21 Let [p] mine vprightnesse and equitie preserue me: for mine hope is in thee.

22 Deliuer Israel, O God, out of all his troubles.

p For as much as I haue behaued my selfe vprightly toward mine enemies, let them know that thou art the defender of my iust cause.

PSAL. XXVI.

1 Dauid oppressed with many iniuries, finding no helpe in the world, calleth for aide from God: and assured of his integrity toward Saul, desireth God to be his iudge, and to defend his innocencie. 6 Finally he maketh mention of his sacrifice, which he wil offer for his deliuerance, and desireth to be in the cõpany of the faithfull in the Congregation of God, whence he was banished by Saul, promising integrity of life, & open praises & thãkesgiuing.

A Psalme of Dauid.

IUdge me, [a] O Lord, for I haue walked in mine innocencie: my trust hath beene also in the Lord: therefore shall I not slide.

a He fleeth to God to bee the Iudge of his iust cause, seeing there is no equitie among men.

2 Proue me, O Lord, and try me: examine my [b] reines, and mine heart.

b By very affections & inward motions of the heart.

3 For thy [c] louing kindnesse is before mine eyes: therefore haue I walked in thy trueth.

c He sheweth what stayed him, that he did not recompence euill for euill.

4 I haue not [d] hanted with vaine persons, neither kept company with the dissemblers.

d He declareth that they cannot walke in simplicitie before God, that delite in the company of the vngodly.

5 I haue hated the assembly of the euil, and haue not companied with the wicked.

6 I will [e] wash mine hands in innocencie, O Lord, and compasse thine altar, e I will serue thee with a pure affection, & with the godly that sacrifice vnto thee.

7 That I may declare with the voyce of thanksgiuing, and set forth all thy wonderous workes.

8 O Lord, I haue loued the habitation of thine house, and the place where thine honour dwelleth.

9 [f] Gather not my soule with the sinners, nor my life with the bloody men:

f Destroy mee not in the ouerthrow of the wicked.

10 In whose hand is [g] wickednesse, and their right hand is full of bribes.

g Whose cruell hands doe execute the malicious deuises of their hearts.

11 But I will walke in mine innocency: redeeme me therefore, and bee mercifull vnto mee.

12 My foote standeth in [h] vprightnesse: I will praise thee, O Lord, in the Congregations.

h I am preserued from mine enemies by the power of God, and therefore will praise him openly.

PSAL. XXVII.

1 Dauid maketh this Psalme being deliuered from great perils, as appeareth by the praises and thanksgiuing annexed: 6 Wherein we may see the constant faith of Dauid against the assaults of all his enemies, 7 And also the end wherfore he desireth to liue and to be deliuered, onely to worship God in his Congregation.

A Psalme of Dauid.

THe Lord is my [a] light and my saluation, whom shal I feare: the Lord is the strength of my life, of whom shall I be afraid?

a Because he was assured of good successe in all his dangers, and that his saluation was surely layd vp in God, he feareth not the tyranny of his enemies.

2 When the wicked euen mine enemies and my foes came vpon me to eate vp my flesh, they stumbled and fell.

3 Though an hoste pitched against mee, mine heart should not be afraid: though warre be raised against me, I will trust in [b] this.

b That God will deliuer me, and giue my faith the victorie.

4 [c] One thing haue I desired of the Lord, that I will require, euen that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the dayes of my life, to behold the beautie of the Lord, and to visite his Temple.

c The lasse of country, wife & all worthy commodities grieue me not in respect of this one thing that I may not praise thy Name in the middes of the cõgregation.

5 For in the time of trouble he shall hide mee in his Tabernacle, in the secret place of his pauilion shall he hide mee and set mee vp vpon a rocke.

6 [d] And now shall hee lift vp mine head aboue mine enemies round about me: therfore wil I offer in his Tabernacle sacrifices of ioy: I will sing and praise the Lord.

d Dauid assured himselfe by the Spirite of prophecie that he should ouercome his enemies, and serue God in his Tabernacle.

7 Hearken vnto my voyce, O Lord, when I crie: haue mercie also vpon mee and heare me.

8 When thou saidest, [e] Seeke ye my face, mine heart answered vnto thee, O Lord, I wil seeke thy face.

e He grounded vpon Gods promise, and sheweth that he is most willing to obey his commandement.

9 Hide not therefore thy face from me, nor cast thy seruant away in displeasure: thou hast bene my succour: leaue me not, neither forsake me, O God of my saluation.

10 [f] Though my father and my mother should forsake me, yet the Lord wil gather me vp.

f He magnifieth Gods loue towards his which farre passeth the most tender loue of parents towards their children.

11 Teach me thy way, O Lord, and leade me in a right path, because of mine enemies.

12 Giue me not vnto the [g] lust of mine aduersaries: for there are false witnesses risen vp against mee, and such as speake cruelly.

g But either pacifie their wrath, or bridle their rage.

13 I should haue fainted, except I had beleeued to see the goodnesse of the [h] Lord in the land of the liuing.

h In this present life before I die, as Isa. 38. 11

14 [i] Hope in the Lord: bee strong, and hee shall comfort thine heart, and trust in the Lord.

i He exhorteth himselfe to depend on the Lord, seeing he neuer failed in his promises.

PSAL. XXVIII.

1 Being in great feare and heauinesse of heart to see God dishonoured by the wicked, he desireth to be rid of them, 4 And crieth for vengeance against them: & at length assureth himselfe, that God hath heard his prayer. 9 Vnto whose tuition he commendeth all the faithfull.

A Psalme of Dauid.

VNto thee, O Lord, doe I crie: O my strength, be not deafe toward me, least, if thou answere me not, I be [a] like them that goe downe into the pit.

a He counteth himselfe as a dead man, till God shew his fauour toward him, and grant him his petition.

2 Heare the voice of my petitions, when I cry vnto thee, when I holde vp mine hands toward thine [b] holy Oracle.

b He vseth this outward meanes to helpe the weakenesse of his faith: for in that place was the Arke, and there God promised to shew the tokens of his fauour.

3 [c] Drawe me not away with the wicked, and with the workers of iniquitie: which speake friendly to their neighbours, when malice is in their hearts.

c Destroy me not the good with the bad.

4 [d] Reward them according to their deedes, and according to the wickednesse of their inuentions: recompence them after the worke of their hands: render them their reward.

d He thus prayeth in respect of Gods glorie, and not for his owne cause, being affiured that God would punish the persecuters of his Church.

5 For they regard not the workes of the Lord, nor the operation of his hands: therefore [e] breake them downe, and build them not vp.

6 [f] Praised be the Lord, for hee hath heard the voyce of my petitions.

7 The Lord is my strength and my shield: mine heart trusteth in him, and I was helped: therefore mine heart shal reioyce, and with my song will I praise him.

8 The Lord is [g] their strength, and hee is the strength of the deliuerances of his anointed.

9 Saue thy people, and blesse thine inheritance: feede them also, and exalt them for euer.

e Let them be vtterly destroyed, as Malac. 1.4.
f Because he felt the assurance of Gods helpe in his heart, his mouth was opened to sing his praises.
g Meaning, his souldiers, who were as meanes, by whom God declared his power.

PSAL. XXIX.

1 The Prophet exhorteth the princes and rulers of the world, (which for the most part thinke there is no God) 3 At the least to feare him for the thunders & tempests, for feare whereof all creatures tremble. 11 And though thereby God threatneth sinners, yet is he alwaies mercifull to his, & moueth them thereby to praise his Name.

A Psalme of Dauid.

GIue vnto the Lord, ye [a] sonnes of [b] might: giue vnto the Lord glory & strength.

2 Giue vnto the Lord glory due vnto his Name: worship the Lord in the glorious Sanctuarie.

3 The [b] voice of the Lord is vpon the waters: the God of glory maketh it to thunder: the Lord is vpon the great waters.

4 The voyce of the Lord is mightie: the voyce of the Lord is glorious.

5 The [c] voyce of the Lord breaketh the cedars: yea, the Lord breaketh the cedars of Lebanon.

6 He maketh them also to leape like a calfe: Lebanon also and [d] Shirion like a yong Unicorne.

7 The voice of the Lorde diuideth the [e] flames of fire.

8 The voice of the Lord maketh the wildernesse to tremble: the Lord maketh the wildernesse of [f] Kadesh to tremble.

9 The voyce of the Lorde maketh the hindes to [g] calue, and [h] discouereth the forests: therefore in his [i] Temple doeth euery man, speake of his glory.

10 The Lord sitteth vpon the [k] flood, and the Lord doth remaine King for euer.

11 The Lord shall giue strength vnto his people: the Lord shall blesse his people with peace.

a He exhorteth the proud tyrats to humble themselues vnder Gods hand, and not to be inferiour to brute beasts & dumme creatures.
b The thunder clappes, that are heard out of the cloudes, ought to make the wicked to tremble for feare of Gods anger.
c That is, the thunderbolt breaketh the most strong trees, and shall men thinke their power to be able to resist God?
d Called also Hermon.
e It causeth the lightnings to shoote and glide.
f In places most desolate, whereas seemeth there is no presence of God.
g For feare maketh them to cast their calues.
h Maketh the trees bare, or pearceth y most secret places.
i Though the wicked are nothing mooued with these sights, yet the faithfull praise God.
k To moderate the rage of the tempest and waters, that they destroy not all.

PSAL. XXX.

1 When Dauid was deliuered from great danger, he rendered thanks to God, exhorting others to do the like, and to learne by his example, that God is rather mercifull then seuere and rigorous towards his children, 7 And also that the fal from prosperitie to aduersitie is sudden. 8 This done, he returneth to prayer, promising to praise God for euer.

¶ * A Psalme or song of the * dedication of the [a] house of Dauid.

I Will magnifie thee, O Lord: [b] for thou hast exalted me, and hast not made my foes to reioyce ouer me.

2 O Lord my God, I cried vnto thee, and thou hast [c] restored me.

3 O Lord, thou hast brought vp my [d] soule out of the graue: thou hast reuiued mee from them that goe downe into the pit.

4 Sing praises vnto the Lord, yee [e] his Saints, and giue thanks [f] before the remembrance of his Holinesse.

5 * For he endureth but a while in his anger: but in his fauour is life: weeping may abide at euening, but ioy commeth in the morning.

6 And in my [g] prosperitie I saide, I shall neuer be mooued.

7 For thou Lord of thy goodnesse hadst made my [h] mountaine to stand strong: but thou didst hide thy face, and I [i] was troubled.

8 Then cried I vnto thee, O Lorde, and prayed to my Lord.

9 What profite is there in my blood, when I goe downe to the pit? shall the dust [k] giue thanks vnto thee? or shal it declare thy trueth?

10 Heare O Lord, and haue mercie vpon me: Lord, be thou mine helper.

11 Thou hast turned my mourning into ioy: thou hast loosed my sacke and girded mee with gladnesse.

PSAL. XXXI.

1 Dauid deliuered from some great danger, first rehearseth what meditation he had by the power of faith, when death was before his eyes, his enemie being ready to take him. 15 Then he affirmeth that the fauour of God is alwaies ready to those that feare him. 20 Finally hee exhorteth all the faithfull to trust in God & to loue him, because hee preserueth & strengtheneth them, as they may see by his example.

8 And thou hast not shut me vp in the hand of the enemie, but hast set my feete at [e] large.

9 Haue mercie vpon mee, O Lord: for I am in trouble: mine [f] eye, my soule and my belie are consumed with griefe.

10 For my life is wasted with heauinesse, and my yeeres with mourning: my strength faileth for my pain, & my bones are consumed.

11 I was a [g] reproch among all mine enemies, but specially among my neighbours: and a feare to mine acquaintance, [h] who seeing me in the streete, fled from me.

12 I am forgotten, as a dead man out of mind: I am like a broken vessell.

13 For I haue heard the railing of [i] great men: feare was on euery side, while they conspired together against me, and consulted to take my life.

14 But I trusted in thee, O Lord: I said, [k] Thou art my God.

15 My [l] times are in thine hand: deliuer me from the hand of mine enemies, and from them that persecute me.

16 Make thy face to shine vpon thy seruant, and saue me through thy mercie.

17 Let me not be confounded O Lord: for I haue called vpon thee: let the wicked be put to confusion, and [m] to silence in the graue.

18 Let the lying lippes bee made dumme, which cruelly, proudly and spitefully speake against the righteous.

19 How great is thy goodnes, which thou [n] hast layed vp for them, that feare thee, and done to them, that trust in thee, euen before the sonnes of men!

20 Thou doest hide them [†o] priuily in thy presence from the pride of men: thou keepest them secretly in thy Tabernacle from the strife of tongues.

21 Blessed be the Lord: for he hath shewed his marueilous kindnesse toward mee in a [p] strong citie.

22 Though I said in mine [q] haste, I am cast out of thy sight, yet thou hearest the voice of my prayer, when I cried vnto thee.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid to giue [a] instruction.

BLessed is he whose wickednesse is [b] forgiuen, and whose sinne is couered.

2 Blessed is the man vnto whom the Lord imputeth not iniquitie, and in whose spirite there is no guile.

3 When I held my [c] tongue, my bones consumed, or when I [d] roared all the day,

4 (For thine hand is heauie vpon me, day and night: and my moysture is turned into the drought of summer. Selah.)

5 Then I [e] acknowledged my sinne vnto thee, neither hide I mine iniquitie: for I thought, I will confesse against my selfe my wickednesse vnto the Lord, and thou forgauest the punishment of my sinne. Selah.

6 Therefore shal euery one that is godly, make his prayer vnto thee in a [f] time, when thou mayest bee found: surely in the flood of great waters [g] they shall not come neere him.

12 * What man is hee, that desireth life, and loueth long dayes for to [i] see good?

* 1. Pet. 3. 10.

i Seeing all men naturally desire felicitie, he wondereth why they cast themselues willingly into miserie.

13 Keepe thy tongue from euill, and thy lips, that they speake no guile.

14 Eschew euil and doe good: seeke peace and follow after it.

k The anger of God doeth not onely destroy the wicked, but also abolisheth their name for euer.

15 The eyes of the Lord are vpon the righteous, and his eares are open vnto their crie.

16 But the[k] face of the Lord is against them that doe euill, to cut off their remembrance from the earth.

l When they seeme to be swallowed vp with afflictions, then God is at hand to deliuer them.

17 The righteous crie, and the Lord heareth them, and deliuereth them out of all their troubles.

m And as Christ saith, all the haires of his head.

18 The Lord is neere vnto them that are of a [l] contrite heart, and will saue such as bee afflicted in spirit.

n Their wicked enterprises shall turne to their owne destruction.

19 Great are the troubles of ỹ righteous: but the Lord deliuereth him out of them all.

o For when they seeme to be ouercome with great dangers and death it selfe, then God sheweth himselfe their redeemer.

20 [m] He keepeth all his bones: not one of them is broken.

21 But malice shall slay the [n] wicked: and they that hate the righteous, shall perish.

22 The Lord[o] redeemeth the soules of his seruants: & none, that trust in him, shall perish.

PSAL. XXXV.

1 So long as Saul was enemie to Dauid, all that had any authoritie vnder him, to flatter their king (as is the course of the world) did also most cruelly persecute Dauid: against whom he prayeth God to pleade and to auenge his cause, 8 That they may be taken in their nets and snares, which they layd for him, that his innocencie may be declared, 27 And that the innocent, which taketh part with him, may reioyce and praise the Name of the Lord, that thus deliuered his seruant. 28 And so he promiseth to speake foorth the iustice of the Lord, and to magnifie his Name all the daies of his life.

A Psalme of Dauid.

a He desireth God to vndertake his cause against them that do persecute him and slander him.

PLead thou my[a] cause, O Lord, with them that striue with mee: fight thou against them, that fight against me.

7. days

2 [b]Lay hand vpon the shield and buckler, and stand vp for my helpe.

3 Bring out also the speare and stoppe the way against them, that persecute mee: say vnto my [c] soule, I am thy saluation.

4 Let them be confounded & put to shame, that seeke after my soule: let them bee turned backe, and brought to confusion, that imagine mine hurt.

5 Let them be as chaffe before the winde, and let the Angel of the Lord [d] scatter them.

6 Let their way be darke and slipperie: and let the Angel of the Lord persecute them.

7 For [e] without cause they haue hid the pit and their net for me: without cause haue they digged a pit for my soule.

8 Let destruction come vpon [f] him at vnwares, and let his net, that he hath laide priuily, take him: let him fall into [g] the same destruction.

9 Then my soule shall bee ioyfull in the Lord: it shall reioyce in his saluation.

10 All my [h] bones shall say, Lord, who is like vnto thee, which deliuerest the poore from him, that is too strong for him! yea, the poore and him that is in miserie, from him that spoileth him!

11 [i] Cruell witnesses did rise vp: they asked of me things that I knew not.

12 They rewarded mee euill for good, to [k] haue spoyled my soule.

13 Yet I, when they were sicke, I was clothed with a sacke: I humbled my soule with fasting: and [l] my prayer was turned vpon my bosome.

14 I behaued my selfe as to my friend, or as to my brother: I humbled my selfe, mourning as one that bewaileth his mother.

15 But in mine [m] aduersitie they reioyced, and gathered themselues together: the abiects assembled themselues against me, and I knew not: they tare [n] me and ceased not,

16 With the false scoffers at [o] bankets, gnashing their teeth against me.

17 Lord, how long wilt thou behold this? deliuer my soule from the tumult, euen my desolate soule from the Lyons.

18 So will I giue thee thankes in a great Congregation: I will praise thee among much people.

19 Let not them that are mine enemies, vniustly reioyce ouer mee, neither let them [p] winke with the eye, that hate mee without a cause.

20 For they speake not as friendes: but they imagine deceitfull wordes against the [q] quiet of the land.

21 And they gaped on mee with their mouthes, saying, Aha, aha, [r] our eye hath seene.

22 Thou hast seene it, O Lord: keepe not silence: be not farre from mee, O Lord.

23 Arise and wake to my iudgement, euen to my cause, my God, and my Lord.

24 Iudge me, O Lord my God according to thy [s] righteousnes, and let them not reioyce ouer me.

25 Let them not say in their hearts, [t] O our soule reioyce: neither let them say, Wee haue deuoured him.

26 Let them bee confounded, and put to shame [u] together, that reioyce at mine hurt: let them bee clothed [x] with confusion and shame, that lift vp themselues against me.

27 But let them be ioyfull and glad, [y] that loue my righteousnesse: yea, let them say alway, Let the Lord bee magnified, which loueth the [z] prosperitie of his seruant.

28 And my tongue shall vtter thy righteousnes, and thy praise euery day.

a Albeit God can with his breath destroy all his enemies, yet the holy Ghost attributeth vnto him these outward weapons, to assure vs of his present power.

b Against these tentations, that thou art the author of my saluation.

c Smite them with the spirit of giddinesse, that their enterprises may be foolish, and they receiue iust reward.

d Shewing that we may not call God to be a reuenger, but only for his glory, and when our cause is iust.

e Which he prepared against the children of God.

f He attributeth his deliuerance onely to God, praising him therefore both in soule and body.

g That would not suffer me to purge my selfe.

h To haue taken from me all comfort, and brought me into despaire.

i I prayed for them with inward affection, as I would haue done for my selfe: or, I declared mine affection with bowing downe mine head.

k When they saw me ready to slip, and as one that halted for infirmitie.

l With their railing words.

m The word signifieth cakes: meaning, that the proud Courtiers at their daintie feastes, scoffe, raile, and reuyle his death.

n In token of contempt and mocking.

o Or, clefts of the earth: meaning himselfe and others in their miserie.

p They reioyced as though they had now seene Dauid ouerthrowen.

q Albeit the mountaines of God: for whatsoeuer is excellent, is thus called.

r It is the iustice of God to giue to the oppressors affliction and confusion, and to the oppressed aide and reliefe, 2. Thes. 1.6.

s Because we haue that which we sought for, seeing he is destroyed.

t That is, at once, were they neuer so many or mightie.

u This prayer shall alwaies be verified against them that persecute the faithfull.

x That at least fauour my right, though they be not able to helpe mee.

y He exhorteth the Church to praise God for the deliuerance of his seruants, and for the destruction of his aduersaries.

f The depth of thy prouidence gouerneth all things, and disposeth them, albeit the wicked seeme to raigne in the world.

g Onely Gods children haue enough of all things both concerning this life and the life to come.

PSAL. XXXVI.

1 The Prophet grieuously vexed by the wicked, doeth complaine of their malicious wickednes. 6 Then he turneth to consider the vnspeakeable goodnesse of God towards all creatures: 9 But specially towards his children, that by the faith thereof he may be comforted and assured of his deliuerance by this ordinary course of Gods worke, 13 Who in the end destroieth the wicked, and saueth the iust.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid, the seruant of the Lord.

WIckednesse saith to the wicked man [a] euen in mine heart, that there is no feare of God before his eyes.

2 For hee [b] flattereth himselfe in his owne eies, while his iniquitie is found worthie to be hated.

3 The workes of his mouth are iniquitie and [c] deceite: he hath left off to vnderstand and to doe good.

4 He [d] imagineth mischiefe vpon his bed: he setteth himselfe vpon a way, that is not good, and doeth not abhorre euill.

5 Thy [e] mercie, O Lord, reacheth vnto the heauens, and thy faithfulnes vnto the cloudes.

6 Thy righteousnes is like the [f] mightie mountaines: thy iudgements are like a great [f] deepe: thou, Lord, doest saue man and beast.

7 How excellent is thy mercie, O God! therefore the children of men trust vnder the shadow of thy wings.

8 They shall be [g] satisfied with the fatnes of thine house, and thou shalt giue them drinke out of the riuer of thy pleasures.

9 For with thee is the well of life, and in thy light shall we see light.

a I see euidently by his deedes, that sinne pusheth forward the reprobate from wickednesse to wickednesse, albeit he goe about to couer his impietie.

b Though altogether dereft his bile sinne, yet he himselfe seeth it not.

c The reprobate mocke at wholesome doctrine, and put not difference betweene good and euill.

d By describing at large the nature of the reprobate, he admonisheth the godly to beware of their vices.

e Though wickednesse seemeth to ouerflowe all the world, yet by thine heauenly prouidence thou gouernest heauen and earth.

10 Extend thy louing kindneſſe vnto them that [h] know thee, and thy righteouſneſſe vnto them that are vpright in heart.

11 Let not the [i] foot of pride come againſt mee, and let not the hand of the wicked men moue me.

12 [k] There they are fallen that worke iniquitie: they are caſt downe, and ſhall not bee able to riſe.

h He ſheweth who are Gods children, to wit, they that know him, and leade their liues vprightly.

i Let not the proud aduance himſelfe againſt me, neither the power of the wicked driue me away. k That is, in their pride wherein they flatter themſelues.

PSAL. XXXVII.

1 This Pſalme containeth exhortation and conſolation for the weake, that are grieued at the proſperitie of the wicked, and the affliction of the godly. 7 For how proſperouſly ſoeuer the wicked do liue for the time, he doth affirme their felicitie to be vaine & tranſitorie, becauſe they are not in the fauour of God, but in the end they are deſtroyed as his enemies, 11 And how miſerably that the righteous ſeemeth to liue in the world, yet his end is peace, and he is in the fauour of God, hee is deliuered from the wicked, and preſerued.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid.

FRet not [a] thy ſelfe becauſe of the wicked men, neither be enuious for the euill doers.

2 For they ſhall ſoone be [b] cut downe like graſſe, and ſhall wither as the greene herbe.

3 [c] Truſt thou in the Lord and doe good: dwell in the land, & thou ſhalt be fed aſſuredly.

4 And delite thy ſelfe in the Lord, and he ſhall giue thee thine hearts deſire.

5 [d] Commit thy way vnto the Lord, and truſt in him, and he ſhall bring it to paſſe.

6 And hee ſhall bring foorth thy righteouſneſſe as the light, and thy [e] iudgement as the noone day.

7 Waite patiently vpon the Lorde, and hope in him: fret not thy ſelfe for him [f] which proſpereth in his way: nor for the man that bringeth his enterpriſes to paſſe.

8 Ceaſe from anger, and leaue off wrath: fret not thy ſelfe [g] alſo to doe euill.

9 For euill doers ſhall be cut off, and they that waite vpon the Lord, they ſhall inherite the land.

10 [h] Therefore yet a little while, and the wicked ſhall not appeare, and thou ſhalt looke after his place, and he ſhall not be found.

11 But * meeke men ſhall poſſeſſe the earth, and ſhall haue their delite in the multitude of peace.

12 [i] The wicked practiſeth againſt the iuſt, and gnaſheth his teeth againſt him.

13 But the Lord ſhall laugh him to ſcorne: for he ſeeth, that his day is comming.

14 The wicked haue drawen their ſword, and haue bent their bowe, to caſt downe the poore and needie and to ſlay ſuch as bee of vpright conuerſation.

15 But their ſworde ſhall enter into their owne heart, and their bowels ſhall be broken.

16 [k] A ſmall thing vnto the iuſt man is better, then great riches to the wicked & mighty.

17 For the armes of the wicked ſhall bee broken: but the Lord vpholdeth the iuſt men.

18 The Lord [l] knoweth the dayes of vpright men, and their inheritance ſhall bee perpetuall.

19 They ſhal not be confounded in the perilous time, and in the daies of famine they ſhall haue [m] enough.

20 But the wicked ſhall periſh, and the enemies of the Lord ſhall bee conſumed as the [n] fat of lambes: euen with the ſmoke ſhall they conſume away.

21 The wicked borroweth and payeth not againe: but the righteous is mercifull, and [o] giueth.

22 For ſuch as be bleſſed of God, ſhall inherite the land, and they that be curſed of him, ſhall be cut off.

23 [p] The paths of man are directed by the Lord: for he loueth his way.

24 Though he [q] fall, he ſhal not be caſt off, for the Lord putteth vnder his hand.

25 I haue beene yong, and am olde: yet I ſaw neuer the righteous forſaken, nor his [r] ſeede begging bread.

26 But hee is euer mercifull and lendeth, and his ſeede enioyeth the bleſſing.

27 Flee from euill and doe good, and dwel for euer.

28 For the Lord loueth iudgement, and forſaketh not his Saints: they ſhall bee preſerued for euermore: but the ſeede of the wicked ſhall be cut off.

29 The righteous men ſhall inherite the land, and dwell therein [s] for euer.

30 The [t] mouth of ỹ righteous wil ſpeake of wiſedome, & his tongue will talke of iudgement.

31 For the Law of his God is in his heart, and his ſteps ſhall not ſlide.

32 The wicked watcheth the righteous, and ſeeketh to ſlay him.

33 But the Lord will not leaue him in his hand, nor condemne him, when he is [u] iudged.

34 Waite thou on the Lord, and keepe his way, and he ſhall exalt thee, that thou ſhalt inherite the land: when the wicked men ſhal periſh, thou ſhalt ſee.

35 I haue ſeene the wicked ſtrong, and ſpreading himſelfe like a greene Bay Tree.

36 Yet he [x] paſſed away, and loe, hee was gone, and I ſought him, but hee could not be found.

37 [y] Marke the vpright man, and beholde the iuſt: for the end of that man is peace.

38 But the tranſgreſſours ſhall be deſtroyed together, and the end of the wicked ſhall bee a He admoniſheth vs neither to vexe our ſelues for the proſperous eſtate of the wicked, neither to deſire to be like them to make our ſtate the better.

b For Gods iudgement cutteth downe their ſtate in a moment.

c To truſt in God, and doe according to his will, are ſure tokens, that his prouidence will neuer faile vs.

d Be not led by thine owne wilſdome, but obey God, and he will fulfill his worke in thee.

e As the hope of the day light cauſeth vs to be offended with the darkneſſe of the night: ſo ought we patiently to truſt that God will cleare our cauſe and reſtore vs to our right.

f When God ſuffereth the wicked to proſper, it ſeemeth to the fleſh that he fauoureth their doings, Iob. 21. 7. &c.

g Meaning, except he moderate his affections, he ſhall be led to doe as they doe.

h He correcteth the impatiencie of our nature, which cannot abide till the fulneſſe of Gods time be come. Mat. 5. 5.

i The godly are aſſured that the power and craft of the wicked ſhall not preuaile againſt them, but fall on their owne neckes, and therefore ought patiently to abide Gods time, and in the meane while bewaile their ſinnes, and offer vp their teares as a ſacrifice of their obedience.

k For they are daily fed as with Manna from heauen, and haue ſufficient, when the wicked haue neuer enough, but euer hunger.

l God knoweth what dangers hang ouer his, and by what meanes to deliuer them.

m For God will giue them contented mindes, and that which ſhall be neceſſarie.

n They ſhall vaniſh away ſuddenly: for they are fed for the day of ſlaughter.

o God ſo furniſheth him with his bleſſing, that he is able to help others.

p God proſpereth the faithfull, becauſe they walke in his wayes with an vpright conſcience.

q When God doeth exercite his ſaint with diuers tentations.

r Though the iuſt man die, yet Gods bleſſings are extended to his poſteritie, and though God ſuffer ſome iuſt man to lacke temporall benefites, yet he recompenſeth him with ſpirituall treaſures.

s They ſhall continually be preſerued vnder Gods wings, and haue at leaſt inward reſt.

t Theſe three points are required of the faithfull, that their talke bee godly, that Gods law be in their heart, and that their life be vpright.

u For though it be ſometime ſo expedient both for Gods glorie and their ſaluation, yet he will approue their cauſe, & reuenge their wrong.

x So that the proſperitie of the wicked is but as a cloude, which vaniſheth away in a moment.

y He exhorteth the faithfull to marke diligently the examples both of Gods mercies paſt & his iudgements.

be cut off.

39 But the z saluation of the righteous men shall be of the Lord: he shall be their strength in the time of trouble.

40 For the Lord shall help them, & deliuer them: he shall deliuer them from the wicked, and shall saue them, because they trust in him.

z Her sheweth that the patient hope of the godly is neuer in vaine, but in the end hath good successe, though for a time God proue them by sundry tentations.

PSAL. XXXVIII.

1 Dauid lying sicke of some grieuous disease, acknowledgeth himselfe to be chastised of the Lord for his sinnes, and therefore prayeth God to turne away his wrath. 5 He vttereth the greatnesse of his griefe by many words and circumstances, as wounded with the arrowes of Gods ire, forsaken of his friendes, euill intreated of his enemies. 22 But in the end with firme confidence hee commendeth his cause to God, and hopeth for speedy helpe at his hand.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid for a remembrance.

O Lord, rebuke me not in thine b anger, neither chastise me in thy wrath.

2 For thine c arrowes haue light vpon me, and thine hand lieth vpon me.

3 There is nothing sound in my flesh, because of thine anger: neither is there rest in my bones because of my d sinne.

4 For e mine iniquities are gone ouer mine head, and as a weighty burden they are too heauy for me.

5 My wounds are putrified, and corrupt, because of f my foolishnes.

6 I am bowed, and crooked very sore: I go || mourning all the day.

7 For my reines are full of burning, and there is nothing sound in my flesh.

8 I am weakened and sore broken: I roare for the very griefe of mine heart.

9 Lord, I powre my whole desire before thee, and my sighing is not hid from thee.

10 Mine heart †panteth: my strength faileth me, and the light of mine eyes, euen h they are not mine owne.

11 My louers & my friends stand aside frō my plague, and my i kinsmen stand afarre off.

12 They also, that seeke after my life, lay snares, and they that go about to doe me euill, talke wicked things, and imagine deceite continually.

13 But I as k a deafe man heard not, & am as a dumb man, which openeth not his mouth.

14 Thus am I as a man that heareth not, and in whose mouth are no reproofes.

15 For on thee, O Lord, do I wayt: thou wilt heare me, my Lord, my God.

16 For I said, Heare me, lest they reioyce ouer me: for l when my foot slippeth, they extoll themselues against me.

17 Surely I am ready to m halt, and my sorow is euer before me.

a To put himself and others in mind of Gods chastisement for sinne.

b He desireth not to be exempted from Gods rod, but that he would so moderate his hand, that he might be able to beare it.

c Thy sickenesse, wherewith thou hast visited me.

d Dauid acknowledgeth God to be iust in his punishments, because his sins had deserued much more.

e He confesseth his sinnes, Gods iustice, and maketh prayer his refuge.

f That rather gaue place to mine owne lusts, then to the will of God.

|| Or, blacke as one that is disfigured and consumed with sickenesse.

g This example warneth vs neuer to despaire, be the torment neuer so great: but alwayes to cry vnto God with sure trust for deliuerance.

† Ebr. runneth about, or is tossed to and fro: meaning, that he was destitute of all helpe & counsel.

h My sight faileth me for very sorow.

i Partly for feare, & partly for pride, they denied all duety and friendship.

k For I can haue no audience before men, and therefore patiently wait for the helpe of God.

18 When I declare my paine, and am sory for my sinne,

19 Then mine n enemies are aliue and are mighty, and they that hate me wrongfully are many.

20 They also, that reward euill for good, are mine aduersaries, because I follow o goodnesse.

21 Forsake me not, O Lord: bee not thou farre from me, my God.

22 Haste thee to helpe me, O my Lord, my p saluation.

l That is, if they see that thou succour me not in time, they will mocke and triumph, as though thou hadst forsaken me.

m I am without hope to recouer my strength.

h In my greatest misery they most reioyce.

n He had rather haue the hatred of all the world, then to faile in any part of his duty to God ward.

o Which are the author of my saluation: & this declareth that he prayed with sure hope of deliuerance.

PSAL. XXXIX.

1 Dauid vttereth with what great griefe and bitternesse of mind he was driuen to these outragious cōplaints of his infirmities. 2 For he confesseth that when hee had determined silence, hee brast foorth yet into wordes that he would not, through the greatnes of his griefe. 4 Then he rehearseth certaine requests which taste of the infirmity of man, 8 and mixeth with them many praiers: but all do shew a mind wonderfully troubled, that it may plainely appeare how hee did striue mightily against death and desperation.

¶ To the excellent musitian a Ieduthun. A Psalme of Dauid.

I Thought, b I will take heed to my wayes, that I sinne not with my tongue: I will keepe my mouth bridled, while the wicked is in my sight.

2 I was dumbe and spake nothing: I kept silence, euen from good, c and my sorow was more stirred.

3 Mine heart was hote within mee, and while I was musing, the fire kindled, and d I spake with my tongue, saying,

4 Lord let me know mine ende, and the measure of my dayes, what it is: let me know how long I haue to liue.

5 Behold, thou hast made my dayes as an hand breadth, and mine age as nothing in respect of thee: surely euery man in his best state is altogether e vanity. Selah.

6 Doubtlesse man walketh in a shadow, and disquieteth himselfe in vaine: he heapeth vp riches, & cannot tell who shal gather them.

7 And now Lord, what waite I for? mine hope is euen in thee.

8 Deliuer me from all my transgressions, and make me not a rebuke vnto the f foolish.

9 I should haue bene dumbe, and not haue opened my mouth, because g thou didst it.

10 Take thy plague away from me: for I am consumed by the stroke of thine hand.

11 When thou with rebukes dost chastise man for iniquity, thou as a moath h makest his i beauty to consume: surely euery man is vanity. Selah.

12 Heare my prayer, O Lord, & hearken vnto my crie: keepe not silence at my teares, a This was one of the chiefe singers, 1. Chron. 16. 41.

b A diligent he was appointed with himselfe patiently to haue tarried Gods leasure, yet the vehemency of his payne caused him to breake his purpose.

c Though when the wicked raged, he thought to haue kept silence, yet his zeale caused him to chāge his mind.

d He confesseth that he grudged against God, considering the greatnesse of his sorowes, and the shortnesse of his life.

e Yet Dauid offendeth, in that that he reasoned with God, as though that he were too seuere toward his weake creature.

f Make me not a mocking stocke to the wicked, or make me not vp with the wicked, when they are put to shame.

g Seeing my troubles came of thy prouidence, I ought to haue endured them patiently.

h Though thine open plagues light not euermore vpon them, yet thy secret curse continually for I am a ſtranger with thee, and a ſoiourner as all my fathers.

13 Stay thine anger from me, that I may recouer my ſtrength, [k] before I goe hence and be not.

k For his ſorow cauſed him to thinke that God would deſtroy him vtterly: whereby we ſee how hard it is for the very Saints to keepe a meaſure in their words, when death and deſpaire aſſaile them.

PSAL. XL.

1 Dauid deliuered from great danger, doth magnifie and praiſe the grace of God for his deliuerance, and cõmendeth his prouidence towards all mankind. 5 Then doth he promiſe to giue himſelfe wholly to Gods ſeruice, and ſo declareth how God is truely worſhipped. 14 Afterward hee giueth thankes and praiſeth God, and hauing complained of his enemies, with good courage he calleth for ayd and ſuccour.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Pſalme of Dauid.

I Waited [a] patiently for the Lord, and hee inclined vnto me, and heard my cry.

2 He brought me alſo out of the [b] horrible pit, out of the myrie clay, and ſet my feet vpon the rocke, and ordered my goings.

3 And hee hath put in my mouth a [c] new ſong of praiſe vnto our God: many ſhall ſee it and feare, and ſhall truſt in the Lord.

4 Bleſſed is the man that maketh the Lord his truſt, & regardeth [d] not the proud, nor ſuch as turne aſide to lies.

5 [e] O Lord my God, thou haſt made thy wonderfull workes ſo many, that none can count in order to thee thy thoughts toward vs: I would declare, and ſpeake of them, but they are moe then I am able to expreſſe.

6 Sacrifice and offring thou didſt not deſire: (for [f] mine eares haſt thou prepared) burnt offring & ſinne offring haſt thou not required.

7 [g] Then ſaid I, Lo, I come: for in the roll of the booke it is written of me,

8 I deſired to doe thy good will, O my God: yea, thy Law is within mine heart.

9 I haue declared thy righteouſnes in the [h] great Congregation: loe, I will not refraine my lips: O Lord, thou knoweſt.

10 I haue not hid thy righteouſnes within mine heart, but I haue declared thy [i] truth and thy ſaluation: I haue not concealed thy mercy and thy trueth from the great congregation.

11 Withdraw not thou thy tender mercy from me, O Lord: let thy mercy & thy trueth alway preſerue me.

12 For innumerable troubles haue compaſſed me: my ſinnes haue taken ſuch hold vpon me, that I am not able to look vp: yea, they are mo in number then ỹ haires of mine head: therefore mine heart hath [k] failed me.

13 Let it pleaſe thee, O Lord, to deliuer me: make haſte, O Lord, to helpe me.

14 Let them bee [l] confounded and put to ſhame together, that ſeeke my ſoule to deſtroy it: let them be driuen backward and put to rebuke, that deſire mine hurt.

15 Let them be [m] deſtroied for a reward of their ſhame, which ſay vnto me, Aha, aha.

16 Let all them that ſeek thee, reioyce and be glad in thee: and let them that loue thy ſaluation, ſay alway, [n] The Lord be praiſed.

17 Though I bee poore & needy, the Lord thinketh on me: thou art mine helper and my deliuerer: my God, make no tarying.

a Though God deferred his help, yet he patiently abode till he was heard.

b He hath deliuered me from moſt great dangers.

c That is, ſpeciall occaſion to praiſe him: for Gods benefits are ſo many occaſions for vs to praiſe his name.

d To follow their exãple, which he muſt needs do ỹ truſteth not only in the Lord.

e Dauid goeth from one kind of Gods fauour to the cõtemplation of his prouidence ouer all. & confeſſeth that his coũſels towards vs are far aboue our capacities: we cãnot ſo much as feel thẽ in deed.

f Thou haſt opened mine eares to vnderſtãd the ſpirituall meaning of the ſacrifices: and here Dauid eſteemeth the ceremonies of the Law nothing in reſpect of the ſpirituall ſeruice.

g When thou haſt opened mine eares and heart, I was ready to obey thee, being aſſured that I was written in the booke of thine elect for this end.

h In the Church aſſembled in the Sanctuary.

i Dauid here numbreth three degrees of our ſaluation: Gods mercy, whereby he pitieth vs: his righteouſneſſe, which ſignifieth his continuall protection, & his truth, whereby appeareth his conſtant fauour, ſo that hereof proceedeth our ſaluation.

k As touching the iudgement of the fleſh, I was vtterly deſtitute of all counſell: yet faith inwardly mooued mine heart to pray. l Hee deſireth that Gods mercy may contend for him againſt the rage of his enemies.

m Let the ſame ſhame, and confuſion light vpon them, which they intended to haue brought vpõ me.

n As the faithfull alwayes praiſe God for his benefits: ſo the wicked mocke Gods children in their afflictions.

PSAL. XLI.

1 Dauid being grieuouſly afflicted, bleſſed them that pity his caſe, 9 And complaineth of the treaſon of his owne friendes and familiars, as came to paſſe in Iudas, Iohn 13.18 After he feeling the great mercies of God gently chaſtiſing him, and not ſuffering his enemies to triumph againſt him, 13 Giueth moſt hearty thanks vnto God.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Pſalme of Dauid.

BLeſſed is hee that [a] iudgeth wiſely of the poore: the Lorde ſhall deliuer him in the time of trouble.

2 The Lord will keepe him, and preſerue him aliue: he ſhalbe bleſſed vpon the earth, and thou wilt not deliuer him vnto the will of his enemies.

3 The Lord will ſtrengthen him vpon the [b] bed of ſorow: thou haſt turned all his [c] bed in his ſickneſs.

4 Therefore I ſayde, Lord haue mercy vpon me: heale my ſoule, for I haue ſinned againſt thee.

5 Mine enemies [d] ſpeake euil of me, ſaying, When ſhall he die, and his name periſh?

6 And if he come to ſee mee, he ſpeaketh [e] lies, but his heart heapeth iniquitie within him, and when he commeth forth, he telleth it.

7 All they that hate me, whiſper together againſt me: euen againſt me do they imagine mine hurt.

8 [f] A miſchiefe is light vpon him, and hee that lieth, ſhall no more riſe.

9 Yea, my †familiar friend, whom I truſted, which did eat of my bread, [g] hath lifted vp the heele againſt me.

10 Therefore, O Lord, haue mercy vpon me, and raiſe me vp: ſo ſhall I reward them.

11 By this I knowe that thou fauoureſt me, becauſe mine enemy doeth not triumph againſt me.

12 And as for mee, thou vpholdeſt me [h] in mine integritie, and doeſt ſet mee before thy [i] face for euer.

13 Bleſſed bee the Lorde God of Iſrael world without end. [k] So be it, euen ſo be it.

a Not condemning him as accurſed, whom God doth vſe, knowing that there are diuers cauſes why God layeth his hand vpon vs: yea, and afterward he reſtoreth vs.

b When for ſorow and griefe of mind he caſteth himſelfe vpon his bed.

c Thou haſt reſtored him in his ſicke bed, and ſent him comfort.

d That is, curſe me, and cannot haue their cruell hate quenched but with my ſhamefull death.

e For pretending to comfort me, he conſpireth my death in his heart, and braggeth therof.

f The enemies thought by his ſharpe puniſhments, that God was become his moſt all enemy.

† Ebr. the man of my peace.

g As Dauid felt this falſhood, and as it was chiefly accompliſhed in Chriſt, Iohn 13. 18. ſo all his members continually proue the ſame.

h Meaning, either in proſperity of life, or in the true feare of God againſt all tentations.

i Obteining me hee ſtraitly by euident ſignes of thy fatherly prouidence. k By this repetition the faithfull to praiſe God.

PSAL. XLII.

1 The Prophet grieuouſly complaineth, that being letted by his perſecuters, he could not be preſent in the congregation of Gods people, protesting that although hee was separated in body from them, yet his heart was thitherward affectioned. 7 And last of all he sheweth, that he was not so farre ouercome with these sorrowes and thoughts, 8 but that he continually put his confidence in the Lord.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme to giue instruction, [a] committed to the sonnes of Korah.

a As a treasure to be kept of them which were of the number of the Leuites.

AS the Hart brayeth for the riuers of water, so [b] panteth my soule after thee, O God.

b By these similitudes of thirst & panting, he sheweth his feruent desire to serue God in his Temple.

2 My soule thirsteth for God, euen for the liuing God: when shal I come and appeare before the presence of God?

c As others take pleasure in eating and drinking, so he was altogether giuen to weeping.

3 [c] My teares haue bene my meat day and night, while they daily say vnto me, Where is thy God?

d That is, how I led the people to serue thee in thy Tabernacle, and now seeing my contrary estate, I die for sorow.

4 When I remembred [d] these things, I powred out my very heart, because I had gone with the multitude, and ledde them into the House of God with the voyce of singing, and praise, as a multitude that keepeth a feast.

e Though he sustained grieuous assaults of the flesh, to cast him into despaire, yet his faith grounded on Gods accustomed mercies, getteth the victory.

5 Why art thou cast downe, my soule, and vnquiet within me? [e] wait on God: for I will yet giue him thanks for ỹ help of his presence.

f That is, when I remember thee in this land of my banishment amõg the mountaines.

6 My God, my soule is cast downe within me, [f] because I remember thee, frõ the land of Jorden, & Hermonim, and frõ ỹ mount Mizar.

g Afflictions came so thick vpon me, that I felt my selfe as ouerwhelmed: whereby he sheweth there is no end of our misery, till God be pacified and send remedy.

7 One [g] deepe calleth another deepe by the noyse of thy water spoutes: all thy waues and thy floods are gone ouer me.

h He assureth himselfe of Gods helpe in time to come.

8 The Lord [h] will grant his louing kindnesse in the day, and in the night shal I sing of him, euen a prayer vnto the God of my life.

i That is, I am most grieuously tormented.

9 I wil say vnto God, which is my rocke, Why hast thou forgotten me? why goe I mourning, when the enemy oppresseth me?

10 My [i] bones are cut asunder, while mine enemies reproch mee, saying dayly vnto mee, Where is thy God?

k This repetitiõ doth declare that Dauid did not ouercome at once: to teach vs to be constant forasmuch as God will certainely deliuer his.

11 [k] Why art thou cast downe, my soule? and why art thou disquieted within me? wait on God: for I will yet giue him thanks: he is my present helpe, and my God.

PSAL. XLIII.

1 He praieth to bee deliuered from them which conspire against him, that he might ioyfully praise God in his holy Congregation.

a He desireth God to vndertake his cause against the enemies, but chiefly that he would restore him to the Tabernacle.

I Iudge [a] me O God, and defend my cause against the vnmercifull [b] people: deliuer me from the deceitfull and wicked man.

b That is, the cruell company of mine enemies.

2 For thou art the God of my strength: why hast thou put mee away? why goe I so mourning, when the enemy oppresseth me?

c To wit, thy fauour, which appeareth by the performance of thy promises.

3 Send thy [c] light and thy truth: let them leade me: let them bring mee vnto thine holy Mountaine and to thy Tabernacles.

d Then of his great deliuerance.

4 Then [d] will I go vnto the altar of God, euen vnto the God of my ioy and gladnesse: and vpon the harpe will I giue thankes vnto thee, O God, my God.

e Whereby he admonisheth the faithfull not to relent, but constantly to wait on the Lord, though their troubles be long and great.

5 Why art thou cast downe, my soule? and why art thou disquieted within me? [e] wait on God: for I will yet giue him thanks, he is my present helpe, and my God.

PSAL. XLIIII.

1 The faithful remember the great mercy of God toward his people. 2 After, they complaine because they feele it no more. 17 Also they alledge the couenant made with Abraham, for the keeping whereof they shewe what grieuous things they suffred. 23 Finally they pray vnto God not to contemne their affliction, seeing the same redoundeth to the contempt of his honour.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme to giue instruction, committed to the sonnes of Korah.

a This Psalme seemeth to haue bene made by some excellent Prophet for the vse of the people, when the Church was in extreme misery, either at their returne from Babylon, or vnder Antiochus, or in such like affliction.

WE haue heard with our [a] eares, O God: our fathers haue tolde vs the workes, that thou hast done in their dayes, in the olde time:

b That is, the Canaanites.

2 How thou hast driuen out the [b] heathen with thine hand, and planted [c] them: how thou hast destroyed the [d] people, and caused [e] them to grow.

c To wit, our fathers.

d Of Canaan.

e That is, our fathers.

3 For they inherited not the land by their owne sword, neither did their owne arme saue them: but thy right hand, and thine arme and the light of thy countenance, because thou didest [f] fauour them.

f Gods free mercy and loue is the only fountaine and beginning of the Church, Deut. 4. 37.

4 Thou art my King, O God: send helpe vnto [g] Iaakob.

g Because thou art our King, therefore deliuer thy people from their misery.

5 [h] Through thee haue wee thrust backe our aduersaries: by thy name haue we troden downe them that rose vp against vs.

h Because they and their forefathers made both one Church, they apply that to themselues, which before they did attribute to their fathers.

6 For I do not trust in my bowe, neither can my sword saue me.

7 But thou hast saued vs frõ our aduersaries, & hast put them to confusion that hate vs.

8 Therefore will we praise God continually, & wil confesse thy Name for euer. Selah.

9 But now thou art farre off, and puttest vs to [i] confusion, and goest not forth with our armies.

i As they confessed before, that their strength came of God, so now they acknowledge that this affliction came by his iust iudgement.

10 Thou makest vs to turne backe from the aduersary, and they, which hate vs, spoyle for themselues.

|| Or, at their pleasure.

11 *Thou giuest vs [k] as sheep to be eaten, and doest scatter vs among the nations.

*Rom. 8. 36.

k Knowing God to be author of this calamitie, they murmure not, but seeke remedy at his hands, who wounded them.

12 Thou sellest thy people [l] without gaine, and doest not increase their price.

l As sheep which are sold for a low price, or none.

13 Thou makest vs a reproch to our neighbours, a iest and a laughing stocke to them that are round about vs.

14 Thou makest vs a prouerbe among the nations, and a nodding of the head among the people.

15 My [m] confusion is daily before mee, and neither lookest thou for him that offereth most, but takest the first proffer not lifting vp mine head for shame.

the ſhame of my face hath couered me.

16 For the voice of the ſlanderer and rebuker, for the enemy and [n] auenger.

17 All this is come vpon vs, yet doe wee not [o] forget thee, neither deale wee falſly concerning thy couenant.

18 Our heart is not turned back: neither our ſteps gone out of thy paths, 19 Albeit thou haſt ſmitten vs downe into the place of ‖ dragons, and couered vs with the ſhadow of death.

20 If wee haue forgotten the Name of our God, & holden vp our hands to a [p] ſtrange god, 21 Shall not God [q] ſearch this out? for he knoweth the ſecrets of the heart.

22 Surely for thy ſake [r] are we ſlaine continually, and are counted as ſheepe for the ſlaughter.

23 Vp, why ſleepeſt thou, O Lord? awake, be not farre off for euer.

24 Wherefore hideſt thou thy face? and forgetteſt our miſery and our affliction?

25 For our ſoule is [s] beaten downe vnto the duſt: our belly cleaueth vnto the ground.

26 Riſe vp for our ſuccour, and redeeme vs for thy [t] mercies ſake.

n Meaning, the proud and cruell tyrant.
o They boaſt not of their vertues, but declare that they reſt vpon God in the midſt of their afflictions: who puniſhed not now their ſins, but by hard afflictions called them to the conſideration of ỹ heauenly ioyes.

r The faithfull make this their comfort, that the wicked punith them not for their ſinnes, but for Gods cauſe, Mat. 5.10.1. Pet. 4.14.

2 Thou art [c] fayrer then the children of men: grace is powred in thy lips, becauſe God hath bleſſed thee for euer.

3 Gird thy ſword vpon thy thigh, O moſt mighty, to wit, thy worſhip and thy glory,

4 And proſper with thy glory: [d] ride vpon the word of trueth and of meekneſſe and of righteouſneſſe: ſo thy right hand ſhall teach thee terrible things.

5 Thine arrowes are ſharp to pearce the heart of the kings enemies: therfore the people ſhall fall vnder thee.

6 Thy [e] throne, O God, is for euer and euer: the ſcepter of thy kingdome is a ſcepter of righteouſnes.

7 Thou loueſt righteouſneſſe, and hateſt wickednes, becauſe God, euen thy God hath [f] anoynted thee with the oile of gladnes aboue thy fellowes.

9 Kings daughters were among thine honorable wiues: vpon thy right hand did ſtand the [h] Queene in a veſture of gold of Ophir.

10 [i] Hearken, O daughter, and conſider, and incline thine eare: forget alſo thine owne people and thy fathers houſe.

11 So ſhall the King haue pleaſure in thy beauty: for he is thy Lord, and reuerence thou him.

12 And the [k] daughter of ‖ Tyrus with the rich of thy people ſhall doe homage before thy face with preſents.

13 The Kings daughter is all glorious [l] within: her clothing is of imbroydered gold.

14 She ſhall be brought vnto the King in raiment of needle worke: the virgins that follow after her, and her companions ſhall bee brought vnto thee.

15 With ioy and gladneſſe ſhall they bee brought, & ſhall enter into the Kings palace.

16 In ſtead of thy fathers ſhall thy [m] children be: thou ſhalt make thẽ princes [n] throughout all the earth.

17 I will make thy [o] Name to be remembred through all generations: therefore ſhall the people giue thanks vnto thee world without ende.

c Salomons beauty and eloquence is to winne fauour with his people, and his power to ouercome his enemies is here deſcribed.

1 Because the Church is alway ful of hypocrites, 8 which doe imagine that God wil be worshipped with outward ceremonies onely, without the heart: and especially the Iewes were of this opinion, because of their figures and ceremonies of the Lawe, thinking that their sacrifices were sufficient, 21 Therefore the Prophet doeth reproue this grosse errour, and pronounceth the Name of God to be blasphemed, where holinesse is set in ceremonies. 23 For hee declareth the worship of God to bee spirituall, whereof are two principall parts, inuocation and thankesgiuing.

¶ A Psalme of [a] Asaph.

THE God of gods, euen the Lord hath spoken and called the [b] earth from the rising vp of the Sunne, vnto the going downe thereof.

2 Out of Zion, which is the [c] perfection of beauty, hath God shined.

3 Our God shall come and shall not keepe silence: [d] a fire shal deuoure before him, and a mighty tempest shall bee moued round about him.

4 He shall call the heauen aboue, and [e] the earth to iudge his people.

10 [i] For all ỹ beasts of the forest are mine, and the beasts on a thousand mountaines.

11 I know all the foules on ỹ mountaines: and the wild beasts of the field are mine.

12 If I be hungry, I will not tell thee: for the world is mine, and all that therein is.

13 [k] Will I eate the flesh of bulles? or drinke the blood of goats?

14 Offer vnto God prayse, and [l] pay thy vowes vnto the most High,

16 But vnto ỹ wicked, sayd God, [m] What hast thou to doe to declare mine ordinances, that thou shouldest take my couenant in thy mouth, 19 Thou giuest thy mouth to euill, & with thy tongue thou forgest deceit.

21 These things hast thou done, and I held my tongue: therefore thou thoughtest that I was like thee: but I wil reproue thee, and [q] set them in order before thee.

22 Oh consider this, yee that forget God, lest I teare you in peices, and there bee none that can deliuer you.

1 When Dauid was rebuked by the Prophet Nathan, for his great offences, he did not only acknowledge the same to God with protestation of his naturall corruption and iniquitie, but also left a memoriall thereof to his posteritie. 7 Therefore first hee desireth God to forgiue his sinnes, 10 And to renew in him his holy Spirit. 13 With promise that hee will not bee vnmindfull of those great graces. 18 Finally, fearing lest God would punish the whole Church for his fault, he requireth that he would rather increase his graces towards the same.

To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid, when the Prophet Nathan [a] came vnto him, after he had gone in to Bath-sheba.

HAue mercie vpon mee, O God, [b] according to thy louing kindnesse: according to the multitude of thy compassions put away mine iniquities.

2 Wash me [c] throughly from mine iniquitie, and cleanse me from my sinne.

3 For I [d] know mine iniquities, and my sinne is euer before me.

4 Against thee, against thee onely haue I sinned, and done euill in thy sight, that thou mayest bee iust when thou speakest, and pure when thou iudgest.

5 Behold, I was borne in iniquitie, and in sinne hath my mother conceiued me.

6 Behold, thou [f] louest trueth in the inward affections: therfore hast thou taught me wisedome in the secret of mine heart.

7 Purge me with [g] hyssope, and I shalbe cleane: wash me, & I shalbe whiter then snow.

8 Make mee to heare ioy and gladnesse, that the [h] bones which thou hast broken, may reioyce.

9 Hide thy face from my sinnes, and put away all mine iniquities.

10 [i] Create in mee a cleane heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me.

11 Cast mee not away from thy presence, and take not thine holy Spirit from me.

12 Restore to me the ioy of thy saluation, and stablish me with thy [k] free Spirit.

13 Then shall I teach thy [l] wayes vnto the wicked, and sinners shalbe conuerted vnto thee.

14 Deliuer mee from [m] blood, O God, which art the God of my saluation, and my tongue shall sing ioyfully of thy righteousnes.

15 [n] Open thou my lips, O Lord, and my mouth shall shew forth thy praise.

16 For thou desirest no sacrifice, though I would giue it: thou delightest not in burnt offering.

17 The sacrifices of God are a [o] contrite spirit: a contrite and a broken heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

18 Be fauourable vnto Sion for thy good pleasure: build the walles of Ierusalem.

19 Then shalt thou accept the sacrifices of [p] righteousnesse, euen the burnt offering and oblation: then shall they offer calues vpon thine altar.

O My God, [b] deliuer me from mine enemies: defend me from them that rise vp against me.

2 Deliuer me from the wicked doers, and saue me from the bloodie men,

3 For lo, they haue laid wait for my soule: the mightie men are gathered against me, not for mine [c] offence, nor for my sinne, O Lord.

4 They runne and prepare themselues without a fault on my part: arise therefore to assist me, and behold.

5 Euen thou, O Lord God of hostes, O God of Israel, awake to visite all the heathen, and be not [d] merciful vnto all that transgresse maliciously. Selah.

6 They go to and fro in the euening: they barke like [e] dogs, and goe about the citie.

7 Behold, they [f] bragge in their talke, and swords are in their lips: for, Who, say they, doth heare?

8 But thou, O Lord, shalt haue them in derision, and thou shalt laugh at all the heathen.

9 [g] Hee is strong: but I will waite vpon thee: for God is my defence.

10 My mercifull God will [h] preuent me: God will let me see my desire vpon mine enemies.

11 Slay them [i] not, lest my people forget it: but scatter them abroad by thy power, and put them downe, O Lord our shield,

12 For the sinne of their mouth, and the words of their lips: and let them be [k] taken in their pride, euen for their periurie and lies, that they speake.

13 [l] Consume them in thy wrath: consume them that they be no more: and let them know that God ruleth in Iaakob, euen vnto the ends of the world. Selah.

14 And in the euening they [m] shal go to and fro, and barke like dogs, and go about the city.

35 O God, thou art [d] terrible out of thine holy [e] places: the God of Israel is he that giueth strength and power vnto the people: praised be God.

PSAL. LXIX.

1 The complaints, prayers, feruent Zeale and great anguish of Dauid is set foorth as a figure of Christ and all his members: 21 The malicious crueltie of the enemies, 22 And their punishment also, 26 Where Iudas and such traitours are accursed. 30 He gathereth courage in his affliction, and offreth praises vnto God, 32 Which are more acceptable then all sacrifices: whereof all the afflicted may take comfort. 35 Finally hee doeth prouoke all creatures to praises, prophecying of the kingdome of Christ, and the preseruation of the Church, where all the faithfull, 37 And their seede shall dwell for euer.

¶ To him that excelleth vpon [a] Shoshannim. A Psalme of Dauid.

SAue me, O God: for the [b] waters are entred euen to my soule.

2 I sticke fast in the deepe myre, where no [c] stay is: I am come into deepe waters, and the streames runne ouer me.

3 I am wearie of crying: my throate is drie: mine [d] eyes faile, whiles I waite for my God.

4 They that hate me without a cause, are moe then the haires of mine head: they that would destroy mee, and are mine enemies [e] falsely, are mightie, so that I restored that which I [f] tooke not.

5 O God, thou knowest my [g] foolishnesse, and my faults are not hid from thee.

6 Let not them that trust in thee, O Lord God of hostes, be ashamed for [h] mee: let not those that seeke thee, be confounded through me, O God of Israel.

7 For thy sake haue I suffered reproofe: shame hath couered my face.

8 I am become a stranger vnto my brethren, euen an aliant vnto my mothers sonnes.

9 [i] For the zeale of thine house hath eaten mee, and the rebukes of them that rebuked thee, are fallen vpon me.

10 I [k] wept and my soule fasted, but that was to my reproofe.

11 I put on a sacke also: and I became a prouerbe vnto them.

12 They that [l] sate in the gate, spake of me, and the drunkards sang of me.

13 But Lord, I make my prayer vnto thee in an [m] acceptable time, euen in the multitude of thy mercy: O God, heare me in the trueth of thy saluation.

14 Deliuer mee out of the myre, that I sinke not: let me be deliuered from them that hate me, and out of the [n] deepe waters.

15 Let not the water flood drowne mee, neither let the deepe swallow mee vp: and let not the pit shut her mouth vpon me.

16 Heare me, O Lord, for thy louing kindnesse is good: turne vnto me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies.

17 And [o] hide not thy face from thy seruant, for I am in trouble: make haste and heare me.

18 Draw neere vnto my soule and redeeme it: deliuer me because of mine enemies.

19 Thou hast knowen my reproofe and my shame, and my dishonour: all mine [p] aduersaries are before thee.

20 Rebuke hath broken mine heart, and I am full of heauinesse, and [q] I looked for some to haue pitie on me, but there was none: and for comforters, but I found none.

21 For they gaue me gall in my meat, and in my thirst they gaue me vineger to drinke.

22 Let their [r] table be a snare before them, and their prosperitie their ruine.

23 Let their eyes bee blinded that they see not: and make their [s] loynes alway to tremble.

24 Powre out thine anger vpon them, and let thy wrathfull displeasure take them.

¶ A Psalme [a] of Salomon.

GIue thy [b] iudgements to the King, O God, and thy righteousnesse to the kings [c] sonne.

2 Then shall he iudge thy people in righteousnesse, and thy poore with equitie.

3 The [d] mountaines and the hilles shall bring peace to the people by iustice.

4 He shall [e] iudge the poore of the people: he shall saue the children of the needie, and shall subdue the oppressor.

5 They shall [f] feare thee as long as the sunne and moone endureth, from generation to generation.

6 He shall come [g] downe like the raine vpon the mowen grasse, and as the showers that water the earth.

7 In his dayes shall the righteous flourish, and abundance of peace shalbe so long as the moone endureth.

8 His dominion shall be also from [h] sea to sea, and from the riuer vnto the endes of the land.

9 They that dwell in the wildernesse, shall kneele before him, and his enemies shall licke the dust.

HERE ENDE THE [q] prayers of Dauid the sonne of Ishai. 14. day euening

PSAL. LXXIII.

1 The Prophet teacheth by his example that neither the worldly prosperity of the vngodly, 14 Nor yet the affliction of the good ought to discourage Gods children: but rather ought to moone vs to consider our Fathers prouidence, and to cause vs to reuerence Gods iudgements, 19 Forasmuch as the wicked vanish away, 24 And the godly enter into life euerlasting. 28 In hope whereof he resigneth himselfe into Gods hands.

¶ A Psalme committed to Asaph.

YEt [a] God is good to Israel: euen to the pure in heart.

2 As for me, my feete were almost gone: my steps had welneere slipt.

3 For I fretted at the foolish, when I saw the prosperitie of the wicked.

4 For there are [b] no bands in their death, but they are lustie and strong.

5 They are not in trouble as other men, neither are they plagued with other men.

6 [c] Therefore pride is as a chaine vnto them, & crueltie couereth them as a garment.

7 Their eyes stand out for fatnesse: † they haue more then heart can wish.

8 They are licentious, and speake wickedly of their oppression: they talke presumptuously.

9 They [d] set their mouth against heauen, and their tongue walketh through the earth.

10 Therefore his [e] people turne hither: for waters of a full cup are wrung out to them.

11 And they [f] say, How doeth God know it? or is there knowledge in the most High?

12 Loe, these are the wicked, yet prosper they alway, and increase in riches.

13 Certeinly I haue cleansed mine heart in vaine, and washed mine hands in innocencie.

q He confesseth that his long tarriance was well recompensed, when God performed his promise.

r For there is no true praising of God, except it come from the heart: and therefore he promiseth to delight in nothing, but wherein God may be glorified.

a Composed by Dauid as touching the reigne of his sonne Salomon.

b Endue the King with the Spirit of wisedome and iustice, that he reigne not as doe the worldly tyrants.

c To wit, to his posteritie.

d When iustice reigneth, euen the places most barren shall be enriched with the blessings.

e He sheweth wherefore the worde is committed to kings: to wit, to defend the innocent and oppresse the wicked.

f The people shall imbrace thy true religion, when thou giuest the King, that truth according to thy worde.

g As this is true in all godly kings, so is it chiefly verified in Christ, who with his heauenly doctrine maketh his Church euer to flourish.

h That is, from the red sea to the sea called Syrticum, and from Euphrates forward: meaning, that Christes kingdome should be large and vniuersall.

i Of Tisteia, now of all other countreys beyond the Sea, which he meaneth by the yles.

k That is, of Arabia that rich countrey, whereof Sheba was a part bordering vpon Ethiopia.

l Though tyrants passe not to shed blood, yet this godly King will preserue his subiects from all kinde of wrong.

m God will both prosper his life, and also make the people most willing to obey him.

n Vnder such a king shall be most great plentie, both of fruit and also of the increase of mankinde.

o They shall pray to God for his continuance, and know that God doth prosper them, for his sake.

p He confesseth that except God miraculously preserue his people, that neither the king nor the kingdome can continue.

q Concerning his sonne Salomon.

a As it were betweene hope and despaire he byrsteth foorth into this affection, being assured that God would continue his fauour towards such as were godly in deede, and not hypocrites.

b The wicked in this life liue at pleasure, and are not drawen to death like prisoners: that is, by sickenesse, which is deaths messenger.

c They glory in their pride as some doe in their chaines: and in crueltie, as some doe in apparell.

† Ebr. they passe the desires of the heart.

d They blaspheme God and feare not his power, and raile vpon men, because they esteeme themselues aboue all others.

e Not onely the reprobate, but also the people of God oftentimes fall backe, seeing the prosperous estate of the wicked, and are ouerwhelmed with sorowes, thinking that God considereth not aright the state of the godly.

f Thus the flesh moueth euen the godly to dispute with God, touching their poore estate and the prosperitie of the wicked.

14 For daily haue I beene punished, and chastened euery morning.

15 If I say, [s] I will iudge thus, behold the generation of thy children: I haue trespassed.

16 Then thought I to know this, but it was too painefull for me, 17 Untill I went into the [h] Sanctuary of God: then vnderstood I their end.

18 Surely thou hast set them in slipperie places, and castest them downe into desolation.

19 How suddenly are they destroyed, perished and [i] horribly consumed, 20 As a dreame when one awaketh! O Lorde, when [k] thou raisest vs vp, thou shalt make their image despised.

21 Certainely mine heart was vexed, and I was pricked in my reines:

22 So foolish was I and ignorant: I was a [l] beast before thee.

23 Yet I was alway [m] with thee: thou hast holden me by my right hand.

24 Thou wilt guide me by thy counsell, and afterward receiue me to glory.

25 Whom haue I in [n] heauen but thee? and I haue desired none in the earth with thee.

26 My flesh faileth and mine heart also: but God is the strength of mine heart, and my [o] portion for euer.

27 For lo, they that withdraw themselues from thee, shall perish: thou destroyest all them that [p] goe a whoring from thee.

28 As for me, it is good for me [q] to draw neere to God: therefore I haue put my trust in the Lord God, that I may declare all thy workes.

g If I giue place to this wicked thought, I offend against thy prouidence, seeing thou disposest all things most wisely, and preseruest thy children in their greatest dangers.

h Untill I entred into thy schoole and learned by thy word and holy Spirit, that thou ouerrest all things most wisely and iustly.

i By thy fearefull iudgement.

k When thou openest our eyes to consider thy heauenly felicitie, we contemne all their vaine pompe.

l For the more that man goeth about by his own reason to seeke out Gods iudgements, the more doeth he declare himselfe a beast.

m By faith I was assured that thy prouidence did watch alwayes ouer me to preserue me.

n Hee sought neither helpe nor comfort of any saue of God onely.

o He teacheth vs to denie our selues, to haue God our whole sufficiencie, and onely contentment.

p That is, for sake thee to seeke others. q Though all the world shrinke from God, yet he promiseth to trust in him, and to magnifie his workes.

PSAL. LXXVIII.

1 He sheweth how God of his mercy chose his Church of the posteritie of Abraham, 8 Reproching the stubburne rebellion of their fathers, that the children might not only vnderstand, 11 That God of his free mercy made his couenant with their ancestours, 17 But also seeing them so malicious and peruerse, might bee ashamed and so turne wholly to God. In this Psalme the holy Ghost hath comprehended, as it were, the summe of all Gods benefits, to the intent the ignorant & grosse people might see in few words the effect of the whole histories of the Bible.

A Psalme to giue [a] instruction committed to Asaph.

1 HEare my [b] doctrine, O my people: incline your eares vnto the wordes of my mouth.

2 I will open my mouth in a parable: I will declare high sentences of olde.

3 Which we haue heard and knowen, and our [c] fathers haue tolde vs.

4 We will not hide them from their children, but to ỹ generation to come we will shew the prayses of the Lord, his power also, and his wonderfull workes that he hath done.

5 How he established a [d] testimony in Iaakob, and ordeined a Law in Israel, which hee commanded our fathers, that they should teach their children:

6 That the [e] posteritie might know it, and the children, which should be borne, should stand vp, and declare it to their children:

7 That they might [f] set their hope on God, and not forget the workes of God but keepe his commandements:

8 And not to be as their [g] fathers, a disobedient and rebellious generation: a generation that set not their heart aright, and whose spirit was not faithfull vnto God.

9 The children of [h] Ephraim being armed and shooting with the bowe, turned backe in the day of battel.

10 They kept not the couenant of God, but refused to walke in his Law, 11 And forgate his Actes, & his wonderfull workes that he had shewed them.

12 He did marueilous things in the sight of their [i] fathers in the land of Egypt: euen in the field of Zoan.

13 * He deuided the Sea, and ledde them through: he made also the waters to stand as an heape, 14 * In the day time also he led them with a cloud, and all the night with a light of fire.

15 * He claue the rocks in the wildernesse, and gaue them drinke as of the great depths.

16 * He brought floods also out of the stonie rocke, so that hee made the waters to descend like the riuers.

17 Yet they [k] sinned still against him, & prouoked the Highest in the wildernesse, 18 And tempted God in their hearts in [l] requiring meat for their lust.

19 * They spake against God also, saying, Can God [m] prepare a table in the wildernes?

20 * Behold, he smote the rocke, that the water gushed out, and the streames ouerflowed: can he giue bread also? or prepare flesh for his people?

21 Therefore the Lord heard and was angrie, and the * fire was kindled in Iaakob, and also wrath came vpon Israel.

22 Because they beleeued not in God, and [n] trusted not in his helpe.

23 Yet he had cõmanded the [o] clouds aboue, and had opened the doores of heauen, 24 And had rained downe MAN vpon them for to eate, & had giuen them of the wheat of heauen.

25 * Man did eate the bread of Angels: he sent them meate ynough.

26 He caused the [p] Eastwind to passe in the heauen, and through his power he brought in the Southwinde.

27 He rained flesh also vpon them as dust, and feathered foule as the sand of the sea.

28 And he made it fall in the mids of their campe, euen round about their habitations.

29 So they did eate and were well filled: for he gaue them their desire.

30 They were not turned from their [q] lust, but the meate was yet in their mouthes, 31 When the wrath of God came euen vpon them, and slew [r] the strongest of them, and smote downe the chosen men in Israel.

32 For all this, they [s] sinned still, and beleeued not his wonderous workes.

33 Therefore their dayes did he consume in vanitie, and their yeeres hastily.

34 And when hee [t] slew them, they sought him, and they returned, and sought God earely.

8 [h] Heare, O my people, and I will protest vnto thee: O Israel, if thou wilt hearken a An instrument of musicke brought from Geth.

b It seemeth that this Psalme was appointed for solemne feastes and assemblies of the people, to whom for a time these ceremonies were ordeined, but now vnder the Gospell are abolished.
c Vnder this feast he comprehendeth all other solemne daies.
d That is, in Israel: for Iosephs familie was counted the chiefe before that Iuda was preferred.
e God speaketh in the person of the people, because he was their leader.
f If they were neuer able to giue sufficient thankes to God for this deliuerance from corporall bondage, how much more are wee inuited to him for our spirituall deliuerance from the tyranny of Satan and sinne? g By a strange and wonderfull fashion. ‖ Or, contention, Exod. 17.7. h He condemneth all assemblies, where the people are not attentiue to heare Gods voice, and to giue obedience to the same.

vnto me,

9 And wilt haue no strange god in thee, neither worship any strange god,

10 (For I am the Lorde thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt:) open thy mouth wide and I will fill it.

11 But my people would not heare my voyce, and Israel would none of me.

12 So I gaue them vp vnto the hardnesse of their heart, and they haue walked in their owne counsels.

13 [k] Oh that my people had hearkened vnto me, and Israel had walked in my wayes.

14 I would soone haue humbled their enemies, and turned mine hand [l] against their aduersaries.

15 The haters of the Lord should haue bin subiect vnto him, and their time [m] should haue endured for euer.

16 And God would haue fedde them with the [n] fatte of wheate, and with honie out of the rocke would I haue sufficed thee.

PSAL. LXXXII.

1 The Prophet declaring God to be present among the Iudges and Magistrates, 2 Reprooueth their partialitie, 3 And exhorteth them to doe iustice. 5 But seeing none amendment, 8 He desireth God to vndertake the matter and execute iustice himselfe.

¶ A Psalme committed to Asaph.

GOd standeth in the assembly of [a] gods: he iudgeth among gods.

2 How long will ye iudge vniustly, and accept the persons of the [b] wicked? Selah.

3 Doe right to the poore and fatherlesse: doe iustice to the poore and needie.

4 Deliuer the poore and [c] needie: saue them from the hand of the wicked.

5 They know not and vnderstande nothing: they walke in darkenesse, albeit all the [d] foundations of the earth be moued.

6 I haue said, Ye are gods, and ye all are children of the most High.

7 [e] But ye shal die as a man, and ye princes, shall fall like others.

8 O God, arise, therefore iudge thou the earth: for thou shalt inherite [f] all nations.

PSAL. LXXXIII.

1 The people of Israel pray vnto the Lord to deliuer them from their enemies both at home and farre off, which imagined nothing but their destruction. 9 And they desire that all such wicked people may, according as God was accustomed, be stricken with the stormie tempest of Gods wrath, 18 That they may know that the Lord is most High vpon the earth.

¶ A song or Psalme committed to Asaph.

KEepe [a] not thou silence, O God: bee not still, and cease not, O God.

2 For loe, thine [b] enemies make a tumult: and they that hate thee, haue lifted vp the head.

3 They haue taken craftie counsel against thy people, and haue consulted against thy [c] secret ones.

4 They haue said, Come and let vs [d] cut them off from being a nation: and let the name of Israel be no more in remembrance.

5 For they haue consulted together [e] in heart, and haue made a league [f] against thee:

6 The tabernacles of Edom, and the Ishmaelites, Moab and the Agarims:

7 Gebal and Ammon, and Amalech, the Philistims with the inhabitants of ‖ Tyrus:

8 Asshur also is ioyned with them: they haue beene an arme to the children [g] of Lot, Selah.

9 Doe thou to them as vnto the [h] Midianites: as to Sisera, and as to Iabin at the riuer of Kishon, 10 They perished at En-dor, and were [i] dung for the earth.

11 Make them, euen their princes like [*] Oreb and like Zeeb: yea, all their princes like Zebah and like Zalmunna, 12 Which haue said, Let vs take for our possession the [k] habitations of God.

13 O my God, make them like vnto a [l] wheele, and as the stubble before the winde.

14 As the fire burneth the forest, and as the flame setteth the mountaines on fire:

15 So persecute them with thy tempest, and make them afraide with thy storme.

16 Fill their faces with shame, that they may [m] seeke thy Name, O Lord.

17 Let them bee confounded and troubled for euer: yea, let them bee put to shame and perish, 18 That they may [n] know that thou, which art called Iehouah, art alone, euen the most High ouer all the earth.

PSAL. LXXXIIII.

1 Dauid driuen forth of his countrey, 2 Desireth most ardently to come againe to the tabernacle of the Lord and the assembly of the Saints to praise God, 4 Pronouncing them blessed that may so do. 6 Then he prayseth the courage of the people, that passe through the wildernesse to assemble themselues in Zion. 10 Finally with praise of this matter and confidence of Gods goodnes he endeth the Psalme.

¶ To him that excelleth vpon Gittith.

A Psalme committed to the sonnes of Korah.

O [a] Lord of hostes, how amiable are thy Tabernacles!

2 My soule longeth, yea, and fainteth for the [b] courtes of the Lord: for mine heart and God accuseth their incredulitie, because they opened not their mouthes to receiue Gods benefits in such abundance as he offereth them.

God by his word calleth all, but his secret election appointeth who shall beare with fruit.

If their sinnes had not letted.

If the Israelites had not broken couenant with God, he would haue giuen them victorie against their enemies.

That is, with most fine wheate and abundance of honie.

The Prophet sheweth that if princes & iudges doe not their duetie, God, whose authoritie is aboue them, will take vengeance on them.

For theeues & murderers finde fauour in iudgement, when the cause of the godly cannot bee heard.

Not onely when they cry for helpe, but when their cause requireth hope and support.

That is, all things are out of order, either by their tyranny, or careleslie negligence.

No title of honour shall excuse you, but you shall be subiect to Gods iudgement, and render account as well as other men.

Therefore no tyrant shall plucke thy right and authoritie from thee.

a This Psalme seemeth to haue beene composed, as a forme of prayer against the dangers that the Church was in in the dayes of Iehoshaphat.

a Dauid complaineth that he cannot haue accesse to the Church of God to make profession of his faith, and to profite in religion.

b For none but the Priestes could enter into the Sanctuarie, and the rest of the people into the courtey.

b He calleth them Gods enemies, which are enemies to his Church.

c The elect of God are his secret ones: for he hideth them in the secret of his tabernacle, and preserueth them from al dangers.

d They were not content to take the Church as prisoner, but sought vtterly to destroy it.

e By all secret meanes.

f They thought to haue subuerted thy counsell, wherein the perpetuitie of the Church was established.

‖ Or, Zor.

g The wickednesse of the Ammonites & Moabites is discribed, in that they prouoked these other nations to fight against the Israelites their brethren.

h By these examples, they were confirmed that God would not suffer his people to be vtterly destroyed, Iudg. 7. 21. and 4. 15.

i Troden vnder feete as myre.

* Iudg. 7. 25. and 8. 21.

k That is, Iudea: for where his Church is, there dwelleth he among them.

l Because the reprobate could by no meanes be amended, he prayeth that they may vtterly be destroyed, be vnstable and led with all windes.

m That is, bee compelled by thy plagues to confesse thy power. n Though they beleeue not, yet they may profite by experience, that it is in vaine to resist against thy counsell in establishing thy Church.

my flesh reioyce in the liuing God.

3 Yea, the Sparrowe hath found her an house, and the swallow a nest for her, where she may lay her young: euen by thine [c] altars, O Lord of hostes, my King and my God.

4 Blessed are they that dwell in thine house: they will euer praise thee. Selah.

5 Blessed is the man, whose [d] strength is in thee, and in whose heart are thy wayes.

6 They going through the valle of [e] Baca make Wels therein: the raine also couereth the pooles.

7 They goe from [f] strength to strength, til euery one appeare before God in Zion.

8 O Lord God of hostes, heare my prayer: hearken, O God of Iaakob. Selah.

9 Behold, O God, our shield, and looke vpon the face of thine [g] Anointed.

10 For [h] a day in thy Courtes is better then a thousand other where: I had rather be a doore Keeper in the house of my God, then to dwell in the Tabernacles of wickednes.

11 For the Lord God is the sunne & shield vnto vs: the Lord will giue grace and glory, and no [i] good thing wil he withhold from them that walke vprightly.

12 O Lord of hostes, blessed is the man that trusteth in thee.

c So that the poore birds haue more libertie then I.
d Who trusteth nothing in himselfe, but in thee onely, and learneth of thee to rule his life.
e That is, of Mulberie trees, which was a barren place: so that they which passed through, must digge pits for water: signifying that no lets can hinder them that are fully bent to come to Christes church, neither yet that God will euer faile them.
f They are euer wearie, but increase in strength and courage, till they come to Gods house.
g That is, for Christes sake, whose figure I represent.
h He would wish to liue but one day rather in Gods Church, then a thousand among y worldlings.
i But will from time to time increase his blessings towards his more and more.

PSAL. LXXXV.

1 Because God withdrew not his rod from his Church after their returne from Babylon, first they put him in minde of their deliuerance, to the intent that he should not leaue the worke of his grace vnperfite. 5 Next, they complaine of their long affliction. 8 And thirdly they reioyce in hope of felicitie promised. 9 For their deliuerance was a figure of Christes kingdome, vnder the which should be perfite felicitie.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme committed to the sonnes of Korah.

LOrd, thou hast bene [a] fauourable vnto thy land: thou hast brought againe the captiuitie of Iaakob.

2 Thou hast forgiuen the iniquitie of thy people, and [b] couered all their sinnes. Selah.

3 Thou hast withdrawen all thine anger, and hast turned backe from the [c] fiercenes of thy wrath.

4 Turne vs, O God of our saluation, and release thine anger towards vs.

5 Wilt thou be angry with vs [d] for euer? and wilt thou prolong thy wrath from one generation to another?

6 Wilt thou not turne againe and quicken vs, that thy people may reioyce in thee?

7 Shew vs thy mercie, O Lorde, and grant vs thy [e] saluation.

8 I will hearken what the Lord God will say: for he will speake [f] peace vnto his people, and to his Saints, that they turne not againe to folly.

9 Surely his saluation is neere to them that feare him, that glory may dwell in our land.

10 Mercie and trueth shall meete: righteousnes and peace shall kisse one another.

11 [g] Trueth shall bud out of the earth, and righteousnes shall looke downe from heauen.

12 Yea, the Lord shal giue good things, and our land shall giue her increase.

13 [h] Righteousnesse shall goe before him, and shall set her steps in the way.

a They confesse that Gods free mercie was the cause of their deliuerance, because he loued the land, which he had chosen.
b Thou hast buried them that they shall not come into iudgement.
c Not onely in withdrawing thy rod, but in forgiuing our sinnes, and in touching our hearts to confesse them.
d As in times past they hanckered Gods mercies: so now being oppressed by the long continuance of euils, they pray vnto God that according to his nature he would be mercifull vnto them. e Thee confesseth that our saluation commeth onely of Gods mercie.
f He will send all prosperitie to his Church when he hath sufficiently corrected them, also by his punishments the faithfull shal learne to beware that they returne not to like offences.
g Though for a time God thus exercise them with his rod, yet vnder the kingdome of Christ they should haue peace and ioy.
h Iustice shall then flourish and haue free course and passage in euery place.

PSAL. LXXXVI.

1 Dauid sore afflicted & forsaken of all, prayeth feruently for deliuerance: sometimes rehearsing his miseries, 5 sometimes the mercies receiued, 11 Desiring also to bee instructed of the Lord, that hee may feare him and glorifie his Name. 14 He complaineth also of his aduersaries, and requireth to be deliuered from them.

¶ A praier of Dauid.

INcline [a] thine eare, O Lord, and heare me: for I am poore and needie.

2 Preserue thou my soule, for I am [b] mercifull: my God saue thou thy seruant, that trusteth in thee.

3 Be mercifull vnto me, O Lord: for I [c] cry vpon thee continually.

4 Reioyce the soule of thy seruant: for vnto thee, O Lord, doe I lift vp my soule.

5 For thou, Lord, art good and [d] merciful, and of great kindnes vnto all them, that call vpon thee.

6 Giue eare, Lord, vnto my prayer, and [e] hearken to the voyce of my supplication.

7 In the day of my trouble I will call vpon thee: for thou heares me.

8 Among the gods there is none like thee, O Lord, and there [f] is none that can doe like thy workes.

9 All nations, whom thou hast made, shall come and worship before thee, O Lorde, and shall glorifie thy Name.

10 For thou art great, and doest wonderous things: thou art God alone.

11 [h] Teach me thy way, O Lord, and I will walke in thy trueth: knit mine heart vnto thee, that I may feare thy Name.

12 I will praise thee, O Lorde my God, with all mine heart: yea, I will glorifie thy Name for euer.

13 For great is thy mercie toward mee, and thou hast deliuered my soule from [i] the lowest graue.

14 O God, the proud are risen against me, & the assemblies of violent men haue [k] sought my soule, and haue not set thee before them.

15 But thou, O Lord, art a pitifull God, a Dauid persecuted of Saul, thus prayeth, leaning the same to the Church as a monument, how to seeke redresse against their miseries.

b I am not enemie to them, but pitie them, though they be cruel toward me.
c Which was a sure token that he beleeued that God would deliuer him.
d He doeth confesse that God is good to all, but onely merciful to poore sinners.
e By crying and calling continually, he sheweth how we may not be wearie, though God grant not foorthwith our request, but that we must earnestly and often call vpon him.
f He condemneth all idoles, forasmuch as they can doe no workes to declare that they are gods.
g This proueth that Dauid prayed in the name of Christ the Messias, of whose kingdome he weeth here prophecie.
h He confesseth himselfe ignorant till God hath taught him and his heart vnstable and vnpurate from God, till God ioyne it to him, and confirme it in his obedience.
i That is, from most great danger of death: out of the which none, but onely the mightie hand of God, could deliuer him.
k He sheweth that there can be no moderation nor equitie, where proud tyrants reigne, and that the lacke of Gods feare is as a priuiledge to all vice and crueltie.

and mercifull, slowe to anger, and great in kindnes and trueth.

16 Turne vnto me, and haue mercie vpon me: giue thy strength vnto thy seruant, and saue the [l] sonne of thine handmaid.

17 Shew a token of thy goodnes toward me, that they which hate me, may see it, and be ashamed, because thou, O Lord, hast holpen me, and comforted me.

PSAL. LXXXVII.

1 The holy Ghost promiseth that the condition of the Church which was in miserie after the captivitie of Babylon, should bee restored to great excellencie, 4 So that there should be nothing more comfortable, then to be numbred among the members thereof.

¶ A Psalme or song committed to the sonnes of Korah.

GOd laide his [a] foundations among the holy mountaines.

2 The Lord loueth the gates of Zion aboue all the habitations of Iaakob.

3 [b] Glorious things are spoken of thee, O citie of God, Selah.

4 I will make mention of [c] Rahab and Babel among them that knowe mee: beholde Palestina and Tyrus with Ethiopia, [d] There is he borne.

5 And of Zion it shal be saide, [e] Many are borne in her: and he, euen the most High shall stablish her.

6 The Lord shall count, when he [f] writeth the people, He was borne there. Selah.

7 Aswell the singers as the players on instruments shall praise thee: all my [g] springs are in thee.

[a] God did chuse that place among the hils: to establish Ierusalem and his Temple.
[b] Though thy glorious estate be not yet appeare, yet waite with patience, and God will accomplish his promise.
[c] That is, Egypt and these other countreies shall come to the knowledge of God.
[d] It shall be said of him, that is regenerate and come to the Church, that he is as one that was borne in the Church.
[e] Out of all quarters they shall come into the Church, and be counted as Citizens.
[f] When he calleth by his word them into the Church, whom hee had elected and written in his booke.
[g] The Prophet setteth his whole affections and comfort in the Church.

PSAL. LXXXVIII.

1 A grieuous complaint of the faithfull, sore afflicted by sickes, persecutions and aduersitie, 7 Being as it were left of God without any consolation: 13 Yet he calleth on God by faith, and striueth against desperation, 18 Complaining himselfe to be forsaken of all earthly helpe.

¶ A song or Psalme of *Heman the Ezrahite to giue instruction, committed to the sons of Korah for him that excelleth vpon Malath [a] Leannoth.

O Lord God of my saluation, I cry day and night [b] before thee.

2 Let my prayer enter into thy presence: incline thine eare vnto my cry.

3 For my soule is filled with euils, and my life draweth neere to the graue.

4 I am counted among them that goe downe into the pit, and am as a man without strength:

5 [c] Free among the dead, like the slaine lying in the graue, whom thou remembrest no more, and they are cut off from thine [d] hand.

6 Thou hast laide me in the lowest pit, in darkenes, and in the deepe.

7 Thine indignation lieth vpon me, and thou hast vexed me with all thy [e] waues. Selah.

8 Thou hast put away mine [f] acquaintance farre from me, and made me to be abhorred of them: [g] I am shut vp, and cannot get foorth.

9 [h] Mine eye is sorowfull through mine affliction: Lord, I call daily vpon thee: I stretch out mine hands vnto thee.

10 Wilt thou shew [i] a miracle to the dead? or shall the dead rise and praise thee? Selah.

11 Shall thy louing kindnesse be declared in the graue? or thy faithfulnesse in destruction?

12 Shall thy wonderous works be knowen in the darke? and thy righteousnesse in the land [k] of obliuion?

13 But vnto thee haue I cryed, O Lord, and earely shall my prayer come before thee.

14 Lord, why doest thou reiect my soule, and hidest thy face from me?

15 I am afflicted and at the point of death: [l] from my youth I suffer thy terrours, doubting of my life.

16 Thine indignations goe ouer mee, and thy feare hath cut me off.

17 They came round about mee daily like water, and compassed me together.

18 My louers and friendes hast thou put away from mee, and mine acquaintance [†] hid themselues.

[a] That is, to humble. It was the beginning of a song, by the tune whereof this Psalme was sung.
[b] Though many cry in their sorowes, yet they cry not earnestly to God for remedie as he did: whom he confessed to be the author of his saluation.
[c] For he that is dead, is free from all cares and busines of this life, and thus he saith, because he was vnprofitable for all matters concerning mans life, and as it were cut off from this world.
[d] That is, from thy prouidence and care, which is meant according to the iudgement of the flesh.
[e] The stormes of thy wrath haue ouerwhelmed me.
[f] He attributeth the losse and displeasure of his friendes to Gods prouidence, whereby he partly punisheth, and partly trieth him.
[g] I see none end of my sorowes.
[h] Mine eyes and face declare my sorowes.
[i] He sheweth that the time is more conuenient for God to helpe, when men call vnto him in their dangers, then to tary till they be dead, and then raise them vp againe.
[k] That is, in the graue, where only the body lieth without all sense and remembrance.
[l] I am euer in great dangers and sorowes, as though my life should vtterly be cut off euery moment.
[†] Ebr. were in darkenes.

PSAL. LXXXIX.

1 With many words doeth the Prophet praise the goodnes of God, 23 For his testament and couenant, that he had made betweene him and his elect by Iesus Christ the sonne of Dauid: 38 Then doeth he complaine of the great ruine, and desolation of the kingdome of Dauid, so that to the outward appearance the promise was broken. 46 Finally he prayeth to be deliuered from his afflictions, making mention of the shortnes of mans life, and confirming himselfe by Gods promises.

¶ A Psalme to giue instruction, of Ethan the Ezrahite.

I Will [a] sing the mercies of the Lord for euer: with my mouth wil I declare thy trueth from generation to generation.

2 For I [b] said, Mercie shall bee set vp for euer: thy trueth shalt thou [c] establish in the very heauens.

3 [d] I haue made a couenant with my chosen: I haue sworne to Dauid my seruant,

4 Thy seede will I stablish for euer, and set vp thy throne from generation to generation. Selah.

5 O Lord, euen the [e] heauens shall praise

[a] Though the horrible confusion of things might cause them to despaire of Gods fauour, yet the manifold examples of his mercies cause them to trust in God, though to mans iudgement they saw none occasion.
[b] As he that surely beleeued in heart.
[c] As thine inuisible heauen is not subiect to any alteration and change: so shall the trueth of thy promise bee vnchangeable.
[d] The Prophet sheweth what was the promise of God, wherein he grounded his faith.
[e] The Angels shall praise thy power and faithfulnes in deliuering thy Church.

thy wondrous worke: yea, thy trueth in the [f] congregation of the Saints.

6 For who is equall to the Lorde in the heauen? and who is like the Lorde among the [g] sonnes of the gods?

7 God is very terrible in the assembly of the [h] Saints, and to bee reuerenced aboue all, that are about him.

8 O Lord God of hosts, who is like vnto thee, which art a mighty Lord, and thy trueth is about thee?

9 [i] Thou rulest the raging of the sea: when the waues thereof arise, thou stillest them.

10 Thou hast beaten downe Rahab as a man slaine: thou hast scattered thine enemies with thy mighty arme.

11 The heauens are thine, the earth also is thine: thou hast layde the foundation of the world, and all that therein is.

12 Thou hast created the North and the South: [k] Tabor and Hermon shall reioyce in thy Name.

13 Thou hast a mighty arme: strong is thine hand, and high is thy right hand.

14 [l] Righteousnes and equity are the stablishment of thy throne: mercy and trueth go before thy face.

15 Blessed is the people that can [m] reioyce in thee: they shall walke in the light of thy [n] countenance, O Lord.

16 They shall reioyce continually in thy Name, and in thy righteousnes shal they exalt themselues.

17 For thou art the [o] glory of their strength, and by thy fauour our horne shalbe exalted.

18 For our [p] shielde appertaineth to the Lord, and our King to the holy one of Israel.

19 Thou spakest then in a vision vnto thine holy one, & saidest, I haue laid helpe vpon one that is [r] mighty: I haue exalted one chosen out of the people.

20 I haue found Dauid my seruant: with mine holy oyle haue I anointed him.

21 Therefore mine hand shall bee established with him, and mine arme shall strengthen him.

22 The enemy shall not oppresse him, neither shall the wicked hurt him.

23 But I will [s] destroy his foes before his face, and plague them that hate him.

24 My trueth also and my [t] mercy shalbe with him, and in my Name shall his [u] horne be exalted.

25 I will set his hand also in the sea, and his right hand in the [x] floods.

26 He shal cry vnto me, Thou art my [y] Father, my God, and the rocke of my saluation.

27 Also I will make him my first borne, higher then the kings of the earth.

28 My mercy will I keepe for him for euermore, and my couenant shall stand fast with him.

29 His seed also will I make to endure [z] for euer, and his throne as the dayes of heauen.

30 But if his children forsake my Lawe, and walke not in my iudgements:

31 *If they breake my statutes, and keep not my commandements:

32 Then will I visite their transgression with the rod, and their iniquity with strokes.

33 [a] Yet my louing kindnes will I not take from him, neither will I falsifie my trueth.

34 My couenant will I not breake, nor [b] alter the thing that is gone out of my lips.

35 I haue sworne once by mine holinesse, † that I will not faile Dauid, saying, 36 His seede shall endure for euer, and his throne shalbe as the sunne before me.

37 He shall be established for euermore as the moone, and as a faithfull [c] witnesse in the heauen. Selah.

38 But thou hast reiected and abhorred, thou hast bene angry with thine Anointed.

39 Thou hast [d] broken the couenant of thy seruant, and prophaned his [e] crowne, casting it on the ground.

40 Thou hast broken downe all his wals: thou hast laid his fortresses in ruine.

41 All that goe by the way spoile him: hee is a rebuke vnto his neighbours.

42 Thou hast set vp the right hand of his enemies, and made all his aduersaries to reioyce.

43 Thou hast also turned the edge of his sword, and hast not made him to stand in the battell.

44 Thou hast caused his dignity to decay, and cast his throne to the ground.

45 The daies of his [f] youth hast thou shorned, and couered him with shame. Selah.

46 [g] Lord, how long wilt thou hide thy selfe for euer? shall thy wrath burne like fire?

47 Remember [h] of what time I am: wherfore shouldest thou create in vaine all the children of men?

48 What man liueth, and shall not see death? shall he deliuer his soule from the hand of the graue? Selah.

49 Lorde, where are thy former mercies, which thou swarest vnto Dauid in thy truth?

50 Remember, O Lord, the rebuke of thy seruants, which I beare in my [i] bosome of all the mighty people.

51 For [k] thine enemies haue reproched thee, O Lord, because they haue reproched the [l] footesteps of thine Anointed.

h If the Angels tremble before Gods Maiesty and infinite iustice, what earthly creature by oppressing the Church, dare set himselfe against God?
i For as he deliuered the Church by the red sea, and by destroying Rahab, that is, the Egyptians: so will he eftsoone deliuer it, when the dangers be great.
k Tabor is a mountaine Westward from Ierusalem, & Hermon Eastward: so the Prophet signifieth that all parts and places of the world shall obey Gods power for the deliuerance of his Church.

a Though the faithfull answere not in all points to their profession, yet God will not breake his couenant with them.
b For God in promising hath respect to his mercy & not to mans power in performing.
† Ebr. If I lie vnto Dauid, which is a maner of oath.
c As long as the sunne and moone indure, they shall be witnesses to me of this promise.
d Because of the horrible confusion of things, the Prophet complaineth to God, as though he saw not the performance of his promise. And thus discharging his cares on God, he resisteth doubt & impatiency.
e By this he meaneth the horrible dissipation & routing of the kingdome, which was vnder Ieroboam: or also by the spirit of prophesie Ethan speaketh of thole great miseries, which came long afterward to passe at the captiuity of Babylon.
f He sheweth that the kingdom fell before it came to perfection or was ripe.
g The Prophet in praying prayeth with his complaint sheweth that his faith neuer failed.
h Seeing mans life is short, and thou hast created man to bestow thy benefits vpon him, except thou haste to helpe, death will preuent thee.
i He meaneth that Gods enemies did not only slander him behind his backe, but also mocked him to his face, and as it were cast their iniuries 52 Praised be the Lord for euermore, So be it, euen so be it.

PSAL. XC.

1 Moses in his praier setteth before vs the eternall fauor of God toward his, 3 Who are neither admonished by the breuity of their life, 7 Nor by his plagues to bee thankefull, 12 Therefore Moses praieth God to turne their hearts, and continue his mercies toward them, and their posterity for euer.

¶ A praier of Moses the [a] man of God.

LOrd, thou hast bene our [b] habitation from generation to generation.

2 Before the [c] mountaines were made, and before thou hadst formed the earth, & the worlde, euen from euerlasting to euerlasting thou art our God.

3 Thou [d] turnest man to destruction: again thou sayest, Returne ye sonnes of Adam.

4 [e] For a thousand yeeres in thy sight are as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night.

5 Thou hast [f] ouerflowed them: they are as a sleep: in the morning he groweth like the grasse:

6 In the morning it flourisheth and groweth, but in the euening it is cut downe and withereth.

7 For we are consumed by thine anger, and by thy wrath are we troubled.

8 Thou hast set our iniquities before thee, and our secret sinnes in the light of thy countenance.

9 For all our daies are past in thine anger: we haue [h] spent our yeres as a thought.

10 The time of our life is threescore yeres and ten, and if they be of strength, [i] fourescore yeres: yet their strength is but labour and sorowe: for it is cut off quickly, and we flee away.

11 [k] Who knoweth ỹ power of thy wrath: for according to thy feare is thine anger.

12 Teach vs so to number our dayes, that we may apply our hearts vnto [l] wisdome.

13 Returne (O Lord, [m] how long?) and be ‖ pacified toward thy seruants.

14 Fill vs with thy mercy in the morning: so shall we reioyce and be glad all our dayes.

15 Comfort vs according to the daies that thou hast afflicted vs, and according to the yeres that we haue seene euill.

16 [n] Let thy worke bee seene towarde thy seruants, and thy glory vpon their [o] children.

17 And let the [p] beautie of the Lord our God be vpon vs, and [q] direct thou the worke of our hands vpon vs, euen direct the worke of our hands.

a Thus the Scripture vseth to call the Prophets.
b Thou hast bene as an house and defence vnto vs in all our troubles and trauels now 70 is foure hundred yeres.
c Thou hast chosen vs to be thy people before the foundations of the world were layd.
d Moses by lamenting the frailty and shortnes of mans life, moueth God to pitie.
e Though man thinke his life long, which is in deed most short, yea though it were a thousand yeeres: yet in Gods sight it is as nothing, and as the watch that lasteth but three houres.
f Thou takest them away suddenly as with a flood.
g Thou callest vs by thy rods to consider the shortnes of our life, and for our sinnes thou abridgest our dayes.
h Our daies are not onely short, but miserable, forasmuch as our sinnes daily prouoke thy wrath.
i Meaning, according to the common state of life.
k If mans life for the breuitie be miserable, much more if thy wrath lie vpon it, as they, which feare thee, only know.
l Which is by considering the shortnesse of our life, and by meditating the heauenly ioyes
m Meaning, wilt thou be angrye ‖ Or, take comfort
n Euen thy mercy, which is thy chiefest worke.
o As Gods promises appertained as well to their posterity as to them, so Moses prayeth for the posterity.
p Meaning, that it was obscured, when he ceased to do good to his Church.
q For except thou guide vs with thine holy Spirit, our enterprises can haue no good successe.

PSAL. XCI.

1 Here is described in what assurance he liueth that putteth his whole trust in God, and committeth himselfe wholly to his protection in all tentations 14 A promise of God to those that loue him, knowe him, and trust in him, to deliuer them, and giue them immortall glory.

WHo is dwelleth in the [a] secret of the most High, shall abide in the shadow of the Almighty.

2 [b] I will say vnto the Lord, O mine hope, and my fortresse: he is my God, in him will I trust.

3 Surely hee will deliuer thee from the [c] snare of the hunter, and from the noysome pestilence.

4 Hee will couer thee vnder his wings, and thou shalt be sure vnder his feathers: his [d] truth shalbe thy shield and buckler.

5 [e] Thou shalt not bee afrayd of the feare of the night, nor of the arrowe that flyeth by day.

6 Nor of the pestilence that walketh in the darknesse, nor of the plague that destroyeth at noone day.

7 A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand, but it shal not come neere thee.

8 Doubtlesse with thine [f] eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked.

9 For thou hast sayd, The Lord is mine hope: thou hast set the most High for thy refuge.

10 There shall none euill come vnto thee, neither shall any plague come neere thy tabernacle.

11 [g] For he shall giue his Angels charge ouer thee to keepe thee in all thy wayes.

12 They shal beare thee in their hands, that thou hurt not thy foot against a stone.

13 Thou shalt walke vpon the lyon and aspe: the [h] yong lyon and the dragon shalt thou tread vnder feet.

14 [i] Because hee hath loued mee, therefore will I deliuer him: I will exalt him because he hath knowen my Name.

15 He shall call vpon me, and I will heare him: I will be with him in trouble: I will deliuer him, and glorifie him.

16 With [k] long life wil I satisfie him, and shew him my saluation.

a He that maketh God his defence & trust, shal perceiue his protection to be a most sure safegard.
b Being assured of his protection, he prayeth vnto the Lord.
c That is, Gods helpe is most redie for vs, whether Satan assaile vs secretly, which he calleth a snare: or openly, which is best meant by the pestilence.
d That is, his faithfull keeping of promise to help thee in thy necessity.
e The care that God hath ouer his is most sufficient to defend them from all dangers.
f The godly shal haue some experience of Gods iudgements against the wicked euen in this life, but fully they shall see it at that day, when all things shalbe reuealed.
g God hath not appointed euery man one Angel, but many to be ministers of his prouidence to keepe his and defend them in their vocation, which is the way to walk in without tempting God.
h Thou shalt not only be preserued from all euill, but ouercome it whether it be secret or open.
i To assure the faithfull of Gods protection hee bringeth in God to confirme the same.
k For he is contented with that life, that God giueth: for by death the shortnesse of this life is recompensed with immortality.

PSAL. XCII.

1 This Psalme was made to bee sung on the Sabbath, to stir vp the people to acknowledge God and to praise him in his works: the Prophet reioyceth therein. 6 But the wicked is not able to consider, that the vngodly, when he is most flourishing, shal most speedily perish. 12 In the ende is described the felicitie of the iust, planted in the house of God to praise the Lord.

¶ A Psalme or Song for the [a] Sabbath day.

a Which teacheth that the vse of the Sabbath standeth in praysing God, and not onely in ceasing from worke.

It

IT is a good thing to praiſe the Lord, and to ſing vnto thy Name, O moſt High,

2 To declare thy louing kindneſſe in the [b] morning, and thy trueth in the night,

3 Vpon an [c] inſtrument of ten ſtrings, and vpon the viole with the ſong vpon the harpe.

4 For thou, Lord, haſt made mee glad by thy [d] workes, and I will reioyce in the workes of thine hands.

5 O Lord, how glorious are thy workes! and thy thoughts are very deepe.

6 An [e] vnwiſe man knoweth it not, and a foole doeth not vnderſtand this,

7 (When the wicked grow as the graſſe, and all the workers of wickednes do flouriſh) that they ſhalbe deſtroied for euer.

8 But thou, O Lord, art [f] moſt High for euermore.

9 For loe, thine enemies, O Lord: for lo, thine enemies ſhall periſh: all the workers of iniquity ſhalbe deſtroyed.

10 [g] But thou ſhalt exalt mine horne, like the Unicornes, and I ſhall bee anoynted with freſh oyle.

11 Mine eye alſo ſhall ſee my deſire againſt mine enemies: and mine eares ſhall heare my wiſh againſt the wicked, that riſe vp againſt me.

12 The righteous ſhall [h] flouriſh like a palme tree, and ſhall grow like a cedar in Lebanon.

13 Such as be planted in the houſe of the Lord, ſhal flouriſh in the courts of our God.

14 They ſhall ſtill bring forth fruit in their [i] age: they ſhalbe fat and flouriſhing.

15 To declare that the Lorde my rocke is righteous, and that none iniquity is in him.

b For Gods mercy and fidelity in his promiſes toward vs, binde them to praiſe him continually both day & night.

c Theſe inſtruments were then permitted, but at Chriſts comming aboliſhed.

d He ſheweth what is the vſe of the ſabbath day: to wit, to meditate Gods works.

e That is, the wicked conſider not Gods works, nor his iudgmẽts againſt them, and therefore muſt iuſtly periſh.

f Thy iudgements are moſt conſtant againſt the wicked, and paſſe our reach.

g Thou wilt ſtrengthen them with all power, and bleſſe them with all felicity.

h Though the faithfull ſeeme to wither and be cut down by the wicked: yet they ſhall grow againe and flouriſh in the church of God as the cedars doe in mount Lebanon.

i The children of God ſhal haue a power aboue nature, & their age ſhall bring forth moſt freſh fruit

PSAL. XCIII.

1 Hee prayſeth the power of God in the creation of the world, and beateth downe all people which lift them vp againſt his maieſtie, 5 And prouoketh to conſider his promiſes.

19. day. euening

THe Lord [a] reigneth, and is clothed with maieſty: the Lord is clothed, and girded with power: the world alſo ſhalbe eſtabliſhed, that it cannot be moued.

2 Thy [b] throne is eſtabliſhed of old: thou art from euerlaſting.

3 [c] The floods haue lifted vp, O Lord: the floods haue lifted vp their voice: the floods lift vp their waues.

4 The waues of the ſea are marueilous through ẏ noiſe of many waters, yet the Lord on high is more mighty.

5 Thy [d] teſtimonies are very ſure: holineſſe becommeth thine Houſe, O Lord, for euer.

a As God by his power & wiſdome hath made and gouerneth the world: ſo muſt the ſame be our defence againſt all enemies and dangers.

b Wherein thou ſitteſt and gouerneſt the world.

c Gods power appeareth in ruling the furious waters.

d Beſides Gods power & wiſdome in creating and gouerning, his great mercy alſo appeareth in that he hath giuen his people his word and couenant.

PSAL. XCIIII.

1 He praieth vnto God againſt the violence and arrogancy of tyrants, 10 Warning them of Gods iudgements. 12 Then doth he comfort the afflicted by the good iſſue of their afflictions, as he felt in himſelfe, and did ſee in others, and by the ruine of the wicked, 23 Whom the Lord will deſtroy.

O Lord God [a] the auenger, O God the auenger, ſhew thy ſelfe [b] clearely.

2 Exalt thy ſelfe, O Iudge of the world, and render a reward to the proud.

3 Lord, how long ſhall the wicked, how long ſhall the wicked [c] triumph?

4 They prate and ſpeake fiercely: all the workers of iniquity vaunt themſelues.

5 They [d] ſmite downe thy people, O Lord, and trouble thine heritage.

6 They ſlay the widow and the ſtranger, and murther the fatherleſſe.

7 [e] Yet they ſay, The Lord ſhall not ſee: neither will the God of Iaakob regard it.

8 Underſtand ye vnwiſe among the people: and ye fooles, when will ye be wiſe?

9 He that [f] planted the eare, ſhall hee not heare? or he that formed the eyes, ſhall he not ſee?

10 Or he that chaſtiſeth the [g] nations, ſhall he not correct? hee that teacheth man knowledge, ſhall he not know?

11 The Lorde knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanity.

12 Bleſſed is the man whom thou [h] chaſtiſeſt, O Lord, and teacheſt him in thy Law, 13 That thou mayeſt giue him reſt from the dayes of euill, whiles the pit is digged for the wicked.

14 Surely the Lord will not faile his people, neither will he forſake his inheritance.

15 For [i] iudgement ſhall returne to iuſtice, and all the vpright in heart ſhall follow after it.

16 Who will riſe vp with me againſt the wicked? or who wil take my part againſt the workers of iniquity?

17 If the Lord had not [k] holpen mee, my ſoule had almoſt dwelt in ſilence.

18 When I ſaid, [l] My foot ſlideth, thy mercy, O Lord, ſtayed me.

19 In the multitude of my [m] thoughts in mine heart, thy comforts haue reioyced my ſoule.

20 Hath the throne of iniquity [n] fellowſhip with thee, which forgeth wrong for a law?

21 They gather them together againſt the ſoule of the righteous, and condemne the innocent blood.

22 But the Lord is my refuge, and my God is the rocke of mine hope.

23 And he will recompenſe them their wickedneſſe, and [o] deſtroy them in their owne malice: yea, the Lord our God ſhall deſtroy them.

a Whoſe office it is to take vengeance on ẏ wicked.

b Shew by effect that thou art iudge of the world to puniſh the wicked.

c That is, brag of their cruelty & oppreſſion: or eſteem themſelues aboue all other.

d Seeing the Church was then ſo ſore oppreſſed, it ought not to ſeeme ſtrange to vs, if we ſee it ſo now, and therefore we muſt call to God to take our cauſe in hand.

e He ſheweth that they are deſperate in malice, foraſmuch as they feared not God, but gaue themſelues wholy to doe wickedly.

f He ſheweth that it is impoſſible, but God ſhould heare, ſee and vnderſtand their wickednes.

g If God puniſh whole nations for their ſinnes, it is meere folly for any one man, or els a few to thinke that God will ſpare them.

h God hath care ouer his, and chaſtiſeth them for their wealth, that they ſhould not periſh for euer with the wicked.

i God wil reſtore the ſtate and gouernment of things to their right vſe, and then the godly ſhall follow him cheerefully.

k He complaineth of them, which would not helpe him to reſiſt the enemies: yet was aſſured that Gods helpe would not faile.

l When I thought there was no way but death.

m In my trouble and diſtreſſe I euer found thy preſent helpe.

n Though the wicked iudges pretend iuſtice in oppreſſing the Church, yet they haue not that authority of God.

o It is a great token of Gods iudgement, when the purpoſe of the wicked is broken, but moſt, when they are deſtroyed in their owne malice.

PSAL. XCV.

1 An earnest exhortation to praise God, 4 For the gouernment of the world, and the election of his church. 8 An admonition not to follow the rebellion of the old fathers that tempted God in the wildernes: 11 For the which they might not enter into the land of promise.

COme, let vs reioyce vnto the Lord: let vs sing[a] aloud vnto the rocke of our saluation.

2 Let vs come before his face with praise: let vs sing loud vnto him with Psalmes.

3 For the Lord is a great God, and a great king aboue all[b] gods.

4 In whose hands are the deepe places of the earth, and the[c] heights of the mountaines are his:

5 To whom the Sea belongeth: for he made it, and his hands formed the dry land.

6 Come, let vs[d] worship and fall downe, and kneele before the Lord our maker.

7 For he is our God, and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheepe of his[e] hand: to day, if ye will heare his voice,

8 [f] Harden not your heart, as ‖ in Meribah, and as in the day of ‖ Massah in the wildernesse, 9 Where your fathers * tempted me, proued me, though they had seene my worke.

10 Fortie yeeres haue I contended with this generation, and said, They are a people that[g] erre in heart, for they haue not knowen my wayes.

11 Wherefore I sware in my wrath, saying, Surely they shal not enter into my[h] rest.

a He sheweth that Gods seruice standeth not in dead ceremonies, but chiefly in the sacrifice of praise & thanksgiuing.
b Euen the Angels (who in respect of men are thought as gods) are nothing in his sight: much lesse the idoles which mans braine inuenteth.
c All things are gouerned by his prouidence.
d By these three words he signifieth one thing: meaning, that they must wholly giue themselues to serue God.
e That is, the flocke whom he gouerneth with his owne hand. Hee sheweth wherein they are Gods flocke: that is, if they heare his voice.

PSAL. XCVI.

1 An exhortation both to the Iewes & Gentiles to praise God for his mercy. And this specially ought to be referred to the kingdome of Christ.

SIng[a] vnto the Lord a new song: sing vnto the Lord, all the earth.

2 Sing vnto the Lorde, and praise his Name: declare his saluation from day to day.

3 Declare his glory among all nations, and his wonders among all people.

4 For the Lord is[b] great and much to be praised: he is to be feared aboue all gods.

5 For all the gods of the people are ‖ idols: but the Lord[c] made the heauens.

6 [d] Strength and glory are before him: power and beauty are in his Sanctuary.

7 Giue vnto the Lord, ye families of the people: giue vnto the Lord glory & * power.

8 Giue vnto the Lorde the glory of his Name: bring[f] an offering, and enter into his Courts.

9 Worship the Lord in the glorious sanctuary: tremble before him all the earth.

10 Say among the[g] nations, The Lord reigneth: surely the world shall be stable, and not moue, and he shall iudge the people[h] in righteousnes.

11 Let the heauens reioyce, & let the earth be glad: let the sea roare, and all that therin is.

12 Let the field be ioyfull, and all that is in it: let all the[i] trees of the wood then reioyce

13 Before the Lord: for he commeth, for he commeth to iudge the earth: he will iudge the world with righteousnes, and the people in his trueth.

a The Prophet sheweth that the time shall come, that all nations shall haue occasion to praise the Lord for the reuealing of his Gospel.
b Seeing he will reueale himselfe to all nations contrary to their own expectation, they ought all to worship him contrary to their owne imaginations, & onely as he hath appointed.
‖ Or, vanities.
c Then the idols, or whatsoeuer made not the heauens, are not God.
d God cannot be knowen, but by his strength and glory: the signes whereof appeare in his Sanctuary. e As by experience we see that it is onely one vnto him. f By offring vp your selues wholly vnto God, declare that you worship him onely.
g He prophesieth that the Gentiles shalbe partakers with the Iewes of Gods promise.
h He shal regenerate the men with his spirit, and restore them to the image of God.
i If the insensible creatures shall haue cause to reioyce, when God appeareth, much more we from whom he hath taken malediction and sinne.

PSAL. XCVII.

1 The Prophet exhorteth all to reioyce for the comming of the kingdom of Christ, 7 dreadfull to the rebels and idolaters, 8 and ioyfull to the iust, whom he exhorteth to innocency, 12 to reioycing and thanksgiuing.

THe[a] Lord reigneth: let the earth reioyce: let the[b] multitude of the yles be glad.

2 [c] Clouds and darknesse are round about him: righteousnes and iudgment are the foundation of his throne.

3 There shall goe a fire before him, and burne vp his enemies round about.

4 His lightnings gaue light vnto the world: the earth saw it and was[d] afraid.

5 The mountaines melted like waxe at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.

6 The heauens declare his righteousnes, and all the people see his glory.

7 * Confounded be all they that serue grauen images, and that glory in idoles: worship him[f] all ye gods.

8 Zion heard of it, and was glad: and the daughters of Iudah reioyced, because of thy iudgements, O Lord.

9 For thou, Lord, art most Hie aboue all the earth: thou art much exalted aboue all gods.

10 Ye that[h] loue the Lord, hate euil: he preserueth the soules of his Saints: he will deliuer them from the hand of the wicked.

11 [i] Light is sowen for the righteous, and ioy for the vpright in heart.

12 Reioyce ye righteous in the Lord, and giue thanks for his[k] holy remembrance.

a He sheweth that where God reigneth, there is all felicity and spirituall ioy.
b For the Gospel shall not be only preached in Iudea, but throws all yles and countreys.
c Hee is thus described to keep his enemies in feare, which commonly contemne Gods power.
d This feare bringeth not the wicked to true obedience, but maketh them to run away from God.
e He signifieth that Gods iudgements are in a readines to destroy the idolaters.
f Let all that which is esteemed in the world fall downe before him.
g The Iewes shal haue occasion to reioyce that the Gentiles are made partakers with them of Gods fauour.
h He requireth two things of his children: the one, that they detest vice, the other, that they put their trust in God for their deliuerance. i Though Gods deliuerance appeare not suddenly, yet it is sowen and laid vp in store for them. k Be mindfull of his benefits, and only trust in his defence.

PSAL. XCVIII.

1 An earnest exhortation to all creatures to prayse the Lord for his power, mercy and fidelity in his promise by Christ, 10 By whom hee hath communicated his saluation to all nations.

¶ A Psalme.

SIng[a] vnto the Lord a newe song: for hee hath done maruellous things: * his right hand, and his holy[b] arme haue gotten him the victory.

a That is, some song newly made in token of their wonderfull deliuerance by Christ. * Isa 59.16.
b He preserueth his church miraculously.

2 The Lord declared his [c] saluation: his righteousnesse hath he reuealed in the sight of the nations.

3 He hath [d] remembred his mercy and his trueth towarde the house of Israel: all the endes of the earth haue seene the saluation of our God.

4 All the earth, sing ye laud vnto the Lord: cry out and reioyce, and sing prayses.

5 Sing praise to the Lord vpon the harp, euen vpon the harpe with a singing voice.

6 With [e] shalmes and sound of trumpets sing loud before the Lord the King.

7 Let the sea roare, and all that therin is, the world, and they that dwell therein.

8 Let the floods clap their hands, and let the mountaines reioyce together

9 Before the Lord: for he is come to iudge the earth: with righteousnesse shall hee iudge the world, and the people with equity.

c For the deliuerance of his Church.
d God was moued by none other meanes to gather his church of the Iewes and Gentiles, but because he would performe his promise.
e By this repetition and earnest exhortation to giue praises with instruments, and also of the dumbe creatures, he signifieth that the world is neuer able to praise God sufficiently for their deliuerance.

PSAL. XCIX.

1 He commendeth the power, equity and excellency of the kingdom of God by Christ ouer the Iewes and Gentiles, 5 and prouoketh them to magnifie the same & to serue the Lord, 6 Following the example of the ancient Fathers, Moses, Aaron, Samuel, who calling vpon God, were heard in their prayers.

THe Lord reigneth, let the [a] people tremble: he sitteth betweene the *Cherubims, let the earth be moued.

2 The Lord is great in Zion, & he is high aboue all the people.

3 They shall [b] praise thy great and fearefull Name (for it is holy)

4 And the kings power that loueth iudgement: for thou hast prepared equity: thou hast executed iudgement and iustice in Iaakob.

5 Exalt the Lord our God, and fall downe before his [c] footestoole: for he is holy.

6 Moses and Aaron were among his Priests, [d] and Samuel among such as call vpon his Name: these called vpon the Lord, and he heard them.

7 Hee spake vnto them in the cloudy pillar: they kept his testimonies, and the Lawe that he gaue them.

8 Thou heardest them, O Lord our God: thou wast a fauorable God vnto them, though thou diddest take vengeance for [e] their inuentions.

9 Exalt the Lord our God, and fall downe before his holy Mountaine: for the Lord our God is holy.

a When God deliuereth his Church, all the enemies shall haue cause to tremble.
*Exod 25.22.
b Though the wicked rage against God, yet the godly shall praise his name & mighty power.
c That is, before his Temple or Arke, where he promised to heare when they worshipped him, as now he promiseth his spirituall presence wheresoeuer his Church is assembled.
d Vnder these three he comprehendeth the whole people of Israel, with whō God made his promise.
e For the more liberally that God dealeth with his people, the more doeth he punish them that abuse his benefits.

PSAL. C.

1 He exhorteth all to serue the Lord, 3 Who hath chosen vs and preserued vs, 4 and to enter into his assemblies to praise his Name.

¶ A Psalme of praise.

SIng [a] yee loude vnto the Lorde, all the earth.

2 Serue the Lord with gladnesse: come before him with ioyfulnesse.

3 Know ye that euen the Lord is God: he hath [b] made vs, and not we our selues: we are his people, and the sheepe of his pasture.

4 [c] Enter into his gates with praise, and into his courts with reioycing: praise him and blesse his Name.

5 For the Lord is good: his mercy is [d] euerlasting, and his trueth is from generation to generation.

a He prophesieth that Gods benefit in calling the Gentiles, shall bee so great, that they shall haue wonderfull occasion to praise his mercie and reioyce.
b He chiefly meaneth touching the spirituall regeneration, whereby we are his sheepe and people.
c He sheweth that God will not bee worshipped but by y meanes which he hath appointed.
d He declareth that we ought neuer to bee weary in praysing him, seeing his mercies towards vs last for euer.

PSAL. CI.

1 Dauid describeth what gouernment hee will obserue in his house and kingdome. 5 He wil punish and correct, by rooting forth the wicked, 6 And cherishing the godly persons.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

I Will [a] sing mercy and iudgement: vnto thee, O Lord, will I sing.

2 I will do wisely in the perfit way, [b] till thou comest to me: I will walke in the vprightnes of mine heart in the middes of mine house.

3 I will set no wicked thing before mine eyes: I hate [c] the work of them that fall away: it shall not cleaue vnto me.

4 A froward heart shall depart from me: I will know none euill.

5 Him that priuily [d] slandereth his neighbour, will I destroy: him that hath a proude looke and high heart, I cannot suffer.

6 Mine eyes shalbe vnto the [e] faithfull of the land, that they may dwell with me: he that walketh in a perfit way, he shall serue me.

7 There shall no deceitfull person dwell within mine house: hee that telleth lies, shall not remaine in my sight.

8 [f] Betimes will I destroy all the wicked of the land, that I may cut off all the workers of iniquity from the city of the Lord.

a Dauid considereth what maner of king he would be when God should place him in the throne, promising openly, that he would be mercifull and iust.
b Though as yet thou deferrest to place me in the kingly dignity, yet will I giue my selfe to wisedome and vprightnesse being a priuate man.
c He sheweth that magistrates doe not their duties, except they be enemies to all vice.
d In promising to punish these vices, which are most pernicious in them that are about kings, he declareth that hee will punish all.
e He sheweth what is the true
f Magistrates vse of the sword: to punish the wicked & to maintaine the good. must immediatly punish vice, lest it grow to farther inconuenience: and if heathen Magistrates are bound to doe this, how much more they that haue the charge of the Church of God?

1 It seemeth that this praier was appointed to the faithful to pray in the captiuity of Babylon. 16 A consolation for the building of the Church: 18 Whereof followeth the praise of God to bee published to all posterity. 22 The conuersion of the Gentiles, 28 And the stability of the Church.

¶ A prayer [a] of the afflicted, when he shalbe in distresse, and powre foorth his meditation before the Lord.

O Lord, heare my prayer, and let my [b] crie come vnto thee.

2 Hide not thy face from me in the time of my trouble: incline thine eares vnto me: when I call, make haste to heare me.

a Whereby is signified that albeit we bee in neuer so great miseries, yet there is euer place left for prayer.
b He declareth that in our prayers we must liuely feele that, which we desire and feruently beleeue to obtaine.

3 For

20. day morning

3 For my daies are [c]consumed like smoke, and my bones are burnt like an hearth.

4 Mine heart is smitten and withered like grasse, because I forgate [d]to eat my bread.

5 For the voice of my groning my bones doe cleaue to my skinne.

6 I am like a [e]pelicane of the wildernes: I am like an owle of the deserts.

7 I watch and am as a sparow alone vpon the house top.

8 Mine enemies reuile me daily, and they that rage against me, haue [f]sworn against me.

9 Surely I haue [g]eaten ashes as bread, and mingled my drinke with weeping.

10 Because of thine [h]indignation, and thy wrath: for thou hast heaued me vp, and cast me downe.

11 My daies are like a shadow that fadeth, and I am withered like grasse.

12 But thou, O Lord, doest [i]remaine for euer, and thy remembrance from generation to generation.

13 Thou wilt arise and haue mercy vpon Zion: for the time to haue mercy therein, for the [k]appointed time is come.

14 For thy seruants delight in the [l]stones thereof, and haue pity on the dust thereof.

15 Then the heathen shal feare the Name of the Lord, and all the Kings of the earth thy glory,

16 When the Lorde shall builde vp Zion, and shall appeare [m]in his glory, 17 And shall turne vnto the prayer of the desolate, and not despise their prayer.

18 This shalbe written for the generation to come: and the people, which shall be [n]created, shall praise the Lord.

19 For hee hath looked downe from the height of his Sanctuary: out of the heauen did the Lord behold the earth, 20 That he might heare the mourning of the prisoner, & deliuer the [o]children of death.

21 That they may declare the name of the Lord in Zion, and his praise in Jerusalem, 22 When the people shall be gathered [p]together, and the kingdomes to serue the Lord.

23 He [q]abated my strength in the way, and shortned my dayes.

24 And I said, O my God, take me not away in the mids of my dayes: thy yeeres endure from generation to generation.

25 Thou hast afore time laid the foundation of the earth, and the heauens are the worke of thine hands.

26 [r]They shal perish, but thou shalt endure: euen they all shal waxe old as doth a garment: as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shalbe changed.

27 But thou art the same, and thy yeeres shall not faile.

28 The children of thy seruants shall continue, & their seed shal stand [f]fast in thy sight.

c These excessiue kinds of speach shew how much the affliction of the Church ought to wound the hearts of the godly.

d My sorowes were so great, that I passed not for mine ordinary food.

e Euer mourning and solitary casting out feareful cries.

f Haue conspired my death.

g I haue not risen out of my mourning to take my refection.

h He sheweth that the afflictions did not only thus moue him, but chiefly the feeling of Gods displeasure.

i Howsoeuer we be fraile: yet thy promise is sure and the remembrance thereof shall confirme vs for euer.

k That is, the seuenty yeeres, which by the Prophet Jeremy thou didst appoint, Jer. 29. 12

l The more that the church is in misery and desolation, the more ought the faithfull to loue and pity it.

m That is, when he shall haue drawen his Church out of the darknesse of death.

n The deliuerance of ỹ church is a most excellent benefit, and therefore he compareth it to a new creation: for in their banishment the body of the Church seemed to haue bin dead, which by deliuerance was as it were created anew.

o Who now in their banishment could looke for nothing but death.

p He sheweth that Gods name is neuer more praised, then whē religion flourisheth and the Church increaseth: which thing is chiefly accomplished vnder the kingdom of Christ.

q The Church lament that they see not the time of Christ, which was promised, but haue but fewe yeeres and short dayes.

r If heauen & earth perish, much more man shall perish: but the Church by reason of Gods promise endureth for euer.

28 The children of thy seruants shall continue, & their seed shal stand [f]fast in thy sight.

f Seeing thou hast chosen thy Church out of the world and ioyned it to thee, it cannot but continue for euer: for thou art euerlasting.

PSAL. CIII.

1 He prouoketh all to praise the Lord, which hath pardoned his sinnes, deliuered him from destruction, and giuē him sufficient of all good things. 10 Then hee addeth the tender mercies of God, which he sheweth like a most tender father towards his children. 14 The frailty of mans life. 20 An exhortation to man and Angels to praise the Lord.

A Psalme of Dauid.

MY soule, [a]praise thou the Lord, & all that is within me, praise his holy Name.

2 My soule, praise thou the Lord, and forget not all his benefits.

3 Which [b]forgiueth all thine iniquitie, and healeth all thine infirmities.

4 Which redeemeth thy life from the [c]graue, and crowneth thee with mercy and compassions.

5 Which satisfieth thy mouth with good things: and thy [d]youth is renued like the Eagles.

6 The Lord executeth righteousnes and iudgement to all that are oppressed.

7 He made his wayes knowen vnto [e]Moses, and his workes vnto the children of Israel.

8 The Lord is ful of compassion and mercy, slow to anger, and of great kindnesse.

9 He wil not alway [f]chide, neither keepe his anger for euer.

10 Hee hath not [g]dealt with vs after our sinnes, nor rewarded vs according to our iniquities.

11 For as high as the heauen is aboue the earth, so great is his mercy toward them that feare him.

12 As farre as [h] the East is from the West: so farre hath hee remooued our sinnes from vs.

13 As a father hath compassion on his children, so hath the Lord compassion on them that feare him.

14 For he knoweth whereof we be made: he remembreth that we are but dust.

15 The dayes of [i]man are as grasse: as a flowre of the field, so flourisheth he.

16 For the winde goeth ouer it, and it is gone, and the place thereof shall knowe it no more.

17 But the louing kindnes of the Lord endureth for euer and euer vpon them that feare him, and his [k]righteousnesse vpon childrens children, 18 Vnto them that keepe his [l]Couenant, and thinke vpon his commandements to doe them.

19 The Lord hath prepared his throne in heauen, a He wakeneth his dulnesse to praise God, shewing that both vnderstanding and affections, mynde and heart are too little to set forth his praise.

b This is the beginning and chiefest of all benefits: remission of sinnes.

c For before that we haue remission of our sinnes, we are as dead men in the graue.

d As the eagle, when her beake ouergroweth, sucketh blood, & so is renued in strength, euen so God miraculously giueth strength to his Church aboue all mans expectation.

e As to his chiefe minister, & next to his people.

f He sheweth first his seuere iudgement, but so soone as the sinner is humbled, he receiueth him to mercy.

g We haue proued by continuall experience, that his mercy hath euer preuailed against our offences.

h As great as the world is, so full is it of signes of Gods mercies toward his faithfull, when he hath remoued their sinnes.

i He declareth that man hath no thing in himselfe to moue God to mercy, but onely the confession of his infirmity and misery.

k His full and faithfull keeping of his promis.

l To whom he giueth grace to feare him, and to obey his word.

heauen, and his kingdome ruleth ouer all.

20 Praise the Lord, ye [m] his Angels, that excell in strength, that doe his commandement in obeying the voyce of his word.

21 Praise the Lord, all ye his hostes, ye his seruants that doe his pleasure.

22 Praise the Lord, all ye his works, in all places of his dominion: my soule, praise thou the Lord. 20. day euening

m In that that we, which naturally are slowe to praise God, exhort the Angels, which willingly doe it, we stirre vp our selues to consider our duetie, and awake out of our sluggishnesse.

PSAL. CIIII.

1 An excellent Psalme to praise God for the creation of the worlde, and the gouernance of the same by his marueilous prouidence, 35 Wherein the Prophet prayeth against the wicked, who are occasions that God diminished his blessings.

MY soule, prayse thou the Lord: O Lord my God, thou art exceeding great, thou art [a] clothed with glory and honour.

2 Which couereth himselfe with light as with a garment, and spreadeth the heauens like a curtaine.

3 Which layeth the beames of his chambers in the waters, and maketh the clouds his chariot, and walketh vpon the wings of the wind.

4 Which [b] maketh the spirits his messengers, and a flaming fire his ministers.

5 He set the earth vpon her foundations, so that it shall neuer moue.

6 Thou coueredst it with the [c] deepe as with a garment: the [d] waters would stand aboue the mountaines.

7 But at thy rebuke they flee: at the voyce of thy thunder they haste away.

8 And the mountaines ascend, and the vallyes descend to the place which thou hast established for them.

9 But thou hast set them a bounde, which they shall not passe: they shall not returne to couer the earth.

10 He sendeth the springs into the valleys, which runne betweene the mountaines.

11 They shal giue drinke to all the [e] beasts of the field, and the wild asses shall quench their thirst.

12 By these [f] springs shall the fowles of the heauen dwell, and sing among the branches.

13 He watereth the mountaines from his [g] chambers, and the earth is filled with the fruit of thy works.

14 He causeth grasse to grow for the cattel, and herbe for the vse of [h] man, that hee may bring forth bread out of the earth,

15 And wine that maketh glad the heart of man, and oyle to make the face to shine, and bread that strengtheneth mans heart.

16 The high trees are satisfied, euen the cedars of Lebanon, which he hath planted, 17 That the birds may make their nestes there: the storke dwelleth in the firre trees.

18 The hie mountaines are for the ‖ goats: the rockes are a refuge for the conies.

19 He appointed the [i] moone for certaine seasons: [k] the sunne knoweth his going downe.

20 Thou makest darknesse, and it is night, wherein all the beastes of the forrest creepe forth.

21 The lyons roare after their praye, and seeke their meate [l] at God.

22 When the sunne riseth, they retire, and couch in their dens.

23 [m] Then goeth man forth to his worke, and to his labour vntill the euening.

24 O Lord, how [n] manifold are thy works! in wisedome thou hast made them all: the earth is full of thy riches.

25 So is this sea great and wide: for therein are things creeping innumerable, both smal beasts and great.

26 There goe the ships, yea, that ‖ Liuiathan, whom thou hast made to play therein.

27 [o] All these waite vpon thee, that thou mayest giue them food in due season.

28 Thou giuest it to them, and they gather it: thou openest thine hand, and they are filled with good things.

29 But if thou [p] hide thy face, they are troubled: if thou take away their breath, they die and returne to their dust.

30 Againe if thou [q] send forth thy spirit, they are created, and thou renewest the face of the earth.

31 Glory bee to the Lord for euer: let the Lord reioyce in his works.

32 Hee looketh on the earth and it trembleth: hee toucheth the mountaines, and they [r] smoke.

33 I will sing vnto the Lord all my life: I will praise my God, while I liue.

34 Let my words be acceptable vnto him: I will reioyce in the Lord.

35 Let the sinners be [s] consumed out of the earth, and the wicked till there bee no more: O my soule, praise thou the Lord. Praise yee the Lord.

a The Prophet therewith that we needs not to enter into the heauens to seeke God, forasmuch as all the power of nature, with the propriettes & placing of the elements, are most lively mirrours to see his maiestie in.

b As the prophet here sheweth that all visible powers are ready to serue God: so the Apostle to the Ebre. 1.7. beholdeth in this glasse how the very Angels alls are obedient to his commandement.

c Thou makest the sea to be an ornament vnto the earth.

d If by thy power thou diddst not bridle the rage of the waters, it were not possible but the whole world should be destroyed.

e If God prouide for the very beastes, much more will he extend his prouident care to man.

f There is no part of the world so barren, where most euident signes of Gods blessings appeare not.

g From the clouds.

h He describeth Gods prouident care ouer man, who doth not only prouide necessary things for him, as herbes & other meate: but also things to reioice and comfort him, as wine, and oyle and ointments.

‖ Or, does, roes, and such like.

i As to separate the night fro the day, also to note dayes, moneths, and yeares.

k That is, by his course, either far or neere, it noteth summer, winter, & other seasons.

l That is, they onely find meat according to Gods prouidence, who careth euen for the brute beasts.

m To wit, when the day springeth: for the light is as it were a shield to defend man against the tyrannie and fiercenesse of beasts.

n He confesseth that no tongue is able to expresse Gods works, nor minde to comprehend them.

‖ Or, whale.

o God is a most nourishing Father, who prouideth for all creatures their daily food.

p As by thy presence all things haue life: so, if thou withdraw thy blessings, they all perish.

q As the death of creatures sheweth that we are nothing of our selues: so their generation declareth that we receiue all things of our Creator.

r Gods mercifull face giueth strength to the earth, but his seuere countenance burneth the mountaines.

s Who infect the world, & so cause God that he can not reioyce in his works.

2 Sing vnto him, sing praise vnto him, and talke of all his wonderous works.

a Forasmuch as the Israelites were exempted from the common condemnation of the world, and were elected to be Gods people, the Prophet willeth them to shew themselues full by thanksgiuing. b By the strength and face, he meaneth God declared his power and his presence. c Which he hath vouchsafed in the inheritance of his people. d Because his power was thereby as liuely declared, as if he should haue declared it by mouth.

his face continually.

5 Remember his [c] marueilous workes, that he hath done, his wonders, and the [d] iudgements of his mouth,

6 Yee seede of Abraham his seruaunt, yee children of Iaakob, which are his elect.

7 He is the Lord our God: his iudgements are through all the earth.

8 He hath alway remembred his couenant and promise, that he made to a thousand generations,

9 Euen that which hee [e] made with Abraham, and his othe vnto Izhak:

10 And since hath confirmed it to Iaakob for a lawe, and to Israel for an euerlasting couenant, 11 Saying, [f] Unto thee will I giue the land of Canaan, the lot of your inheritance.

12 Albeit they were fewe in number, yea, very few, and strangers in the land,

13 And walked about from nation to nation, from one kingdome to another people,

14 Yet suffered hee no man to doe them wrong, but reproued [g] Kings for their sakes, saying,

15 Touch not mine [h] anointed, and doe my [i] Prophets no harme.

16 Moreouer, he called a famine vpon the land and vtterly brake the [k] staffe of bread.

17 But he sent a man before them: Joseph was sold for a slaue.

18 They held his feet in the stocks, and he was layd in yrons,

19 Untill [l] his appointed time came, and the counsell of the Lord had tried him.

20 The King sent and loosed him: euen the Ruler of the people deliuered him.

21 He made him lord of his house, and ruler of all his substance, 22 That he should bind his [m] princes vnto his will, and teach his Ancients wisedome.

23 Then Israel came to Egypt, and Iaakob was a stranger in the land of Ham.

24 And he increased his people exceedingly, and made them stronger then their oppressours.

25 [n] He turned their heart to hate his people, and to deale craftily with his seruants.

26 Then sent he Moses his seruaunt, and Aaron whom he had chosen.

27 They shewed among them the message of his signes, and wonders in the land of Ham.

28 He sent darkenesse, and made it darke: and they were not [o] disobedient vnto his commission.

29 * Hee turned their waters into blood, and slew their fish.

30 * Their land brought forth frogs, euen in their Kings chambers.

31 He [p] spake, and there came swarmes of flies, and lice in all their quarters.

32 Hee gaue them [q] haile for raine, and flames of fire in their land.

33 He smote their vines also and their fig trees, and brake down the trees in their coasts.

35 [r] Hee spake and the grashoppers came, and caterpillers innumerable,

35 And did eate vp all the grasse in their land, and deuoured the fruit of their ground.

36 * He smote also all the first born in their land, euen the beginning of all their strength.

37 He brought them forth also with siluer and gold, and there was [s] none feeble among their tribes.

38 Egypt was [t] glad at their departing: for the feare of them had fallen vpon them.

39 He spread a cloud to be a couering, and fire to giue light in the night.

40 They [u] asked, and he brought quailes, and he filled them with the bread of heauen.

41 Hee opened the rocke, and the waters flowed out, and ranne in the drie places like a riuer.

42 For hee remembred his holy [x] promise to Abraham his seruant,

43 And he brought forth his people with [y] ioy, and his chosen with gladnesse, 44 And gaue them the lands of the heathen, and they tooke the labours of the people in possession.

45 That they might keepe [z] his statutes, and obserue his Lawes. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CVI.

1 The people dispersed vnder Antiochus, doe magnifie the goodnesse of God among the iust and repentant, 4 Desiring to be brought againe into the land by Gods merciful visitation. 8 And after the manifold marueiles of God wrought in their deliuerance foorth of Egypt, and the great ingratitude of the people rehearsed, 47 They doe pray and desire to be gathered from among the heathen, to the intent they may praise the Name of the God of Israel

¶ Praise ye the Lord.

PRaise [a] ye the Lord, because he is good: for his mercy endureth for euer.

2 Who can expresse the noble actes of the Lord, or shew forth all his praise?

3 Blessed are they that [b] keep iudgement, and doe righteousnesse at all times.

4 Remember mee, O Lord, with the [c] fauour of thy people: visit me with thy saluation,

5 That I may see the felicitie of thy chosen, and reioyce in the ioy of thy people, and glory with thine inheritance.

6 We haue [d] sinned with our fathers: we haue committed iniquitie, and done wickedly.

7 Our fathers vnderstood not thy wonders in Egypt, neither remembred they the multitude of thy mercies, but rebelled at the Sea, euen at the red Sea.

c Which he hath wrought in the deliuerance of his people.
d Because his power was thereby as liuely declared, as if he should haue declared it by mouth.

e The promise which God made to Abraham to be his God, & the God of his seede after him, he renued and repeated it againe to his seed after him.
f By sheweth that they should not enioy the land of Canaan by any other meanes, but by reason of his couenant made with their fathers.

k Either by lending scarcitie or by taking away the strength and nourishment thereof.
l So long he suffered aduersitie, as God had appointed, and till he had tried sufficiently his patience.

y When the Egyptians lamented and were destroyed.
z This is the end why God preserueth his Church, because they should worship, and call vpon him in this world.

a The Prophet exhorteth the people to praise God for his benefites past, that thereby their minds may be strengthened against all present troubles and despaire.
b Hee sheweth that it is not enough to praise God in mouth, except the whole heart agree thereunto, and all our life be thereunto framed.
c Let the good will that thou beareste to thy people, extend vnto mee, that thereby I may be receiued into the number of thine.
d By earnest confession aswell of their owne, as of their fathers sinnes they shew that they had hope that God according to his promise would pitie them.

8 Neuertheleſſe hee [c] ſaued them for his Names ſake, that hee might make his power to be knowen.

9 And he rebuked the red Sea, and it was dried vp, and he led them in the deepe, as in the wildernesſe.

10 And hee ſaued them from the aduerſaries hand, and deliuered them from the hand of the enemie.

11 *And the waters couered their oppreſſours: not one of them was left.

12 Then [f] beleeued they his wordes, and ſang praiſe vnto him.

13 But incontinently they forgate his workes: they waited not for his [g] counſell, 14 But luſted with concupiſcence in the wildernesſe, and tempted God in the deſert.

15 Then gaue he them their deſire, but he ſent [h] leanneſſe into their ſoule.

16 They enuied Moſes alſo in the tents, and Aaron the holy one of the Lord.

17 Therefore the earth opened and [i] ſwallowed vp Dathan, and couered the company of Abiram.

18 And the fire was kindled in their aſſemblie: the flame burnt vp the wicked.

19 They made a calfe in Horeb, and worſhipped the molten image.

20 Thus they turned their [k] glory into the ſimilitude of a bullocke, that eateth graſſe.

21 They forgate God their Sauiour, which had done great things in Egypt, 22 Wonderous workes in the land of Ham, and fearefull things by the red Sea.

23 Therefore he minded to deſtroy them, had [l] not Moſes his choſen ſtood in the breach before him to turne away his wrath, leſt hee ſhould deſtroy them.

24 Alſo they contemned that [m] pleaſant land, and beleeued not his word, 25 But murmured in their tents, and hearkened not vnto the voyce of the Lord.

26 Therefore [n] hee lifted vp his hand againſt them, to deſtroy them in the wildernes, 27 And to deſtroy their ſeede among the nations, and to ſcatter them throughout the countreys.

28 They ioyned themſelues alſo vnto [o] Baal-peor, and did eate the offerings of the [p] dead.

29 Thus they [q] prouoked him vnto anger with their owne inuentions, and the plague brake in vpon them.

30 But [r] Phinehas ſtood vp, and executed iudgement, and the plague was ſtayed.

31 *And it was [s] imputed vnto him for righteouſneſſe from generation to generation for euer.

32 They angred him alſo at the waters of *Meribah, ſo that [t] Moſes was punished for their ſakes.

33 Becauſe they vexed his ſpirit, ſo that he ſpake vnaduiſedly with his lips.

34 Neither deſtroyed they the people, as the Lord had commanded them,

35 But were mingled among the heathen, and learned their workes, 36 And ſerued their idoles, which were their ruine.

37 Yea, they offered their [u] ſonnes, and their daughters vnto deuils, 38 And ſhed innocent blood, euen the blood of their ſonnes, and of their daughters, whom they offered vnto the idoles of Canaan, and the land was defiled with blood.

39 Thus were they ſtained with their owne workes, and went [x] a whoring with their owne inuentions.

40 Therefore was the wrath of the Lord kindled againſt his people, and hee abhorred his owne inheritance.

41 And hee gaue them into the hand of the heathen: and they that hated them, were lords ouer them.

42 Their enemies alſo oppreſſed them, and they were humbled vnder their hand.

43 Many [y] a time did he deliuer them, but they prouoked him by their counſels: therefore they were brought downe by their iniquitie.

44 Yet he ſaw when they were in affliction, and he heard their crie.

45 And hee remembred his couenant toward them, and [z] repented according to the multitude of his mercies, 46 And gaue them fauour in the ſight of all them that led them captiues.

47 Saue vs, O Lord our God, and [a] gather vs from among the heathen, that we may praiſe thine holy Name, & glorie in thy praiſe.

48 Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſrael for euer and euer, and let all the people ſay, So be it. Praiſe ye the Lord.

PSAL. CVII.

1 The Prophet exhorteth all thoſe that are redeemed by the Lord, and gathered vnto him, to giue thanks. 9 For this mercifull pronidence of God, gouerning all things at his good pleaſure, 20 Sending good and euill, proſperitie and aduerſitie to bring men vnto him. 42 Therefore as the righteous thereat reioyce, ſo ſhall the wicked haue their mouthes ſtopped.

PRaiſe [a] the Lord, becauſe hee is good: for his mercy endureth for euer.

2 Let them, [b] which haue bene redeemed of the Lord, ſhew how he hath deliuered them from the hand of the oppreſſour,

3 And gathered them out of the lands, from the Eaſt and from the Weſt, from the North, and from the ‖ South.

[n] That is, he ſware. Sometime alſo it meaneth to puniſh.

[o] Which was the Idole of the Moabites.

[p] Sacrifices offered to the dead idoles.

[q] Signifying that whatſoeuer man inuenteth of himſelfe to ſerue God by, is deteſtable and prouoketh his anger.

[r] When all neglected Gods glory, he in his Zeale killed the aduiterers and preuented Gods wrath.

*Num. 25.12.

[s] This acte declared his liuely faith, and for his faiths ſake was accepted.

*Num. 20.13. pſal. 95.8.

[t] If ſo notable a Prophet of God eſcape not puniſhment, though others prouoked him to ſinne, how much more ſhall they be ſubiect to Gods iudgement, which cauſe Gods children to ſinne?

[u] He ſheweth how monſtrous a thing idolatry is, which can winne vs to things abhorring to nature, whereas Gods worde cannot obtaine moſt ſmall things.

[x] Then true chaſtitie is to cleaue wholly and onely vnto God.

[y] The Prophet ſheweth that neither by menaces, nor promiſes we can come to God, except we be altogether newly reformed, and that his mercy ouercome and hide our malice.

[z] Not that God is changeable in himſelfe, but that then he ſeemeth to vs to repent, when he altereth his puniſhment and forgiueth vs.

[a] Gather thy Church, which is diſperſed, and giue vs conſtancie vnder the croſſe, that with one conſent we may all praiſe thee.

22. days
morning

[a] This notable ſentence was in the beginning vſed, as the foote or tenour of the ſong, which was oftentimes repeated.

[b] As this was true in the Iewes, ſo is there none of Gods elect, that feele not his helpe in their neceſſitie. ‖ Or, from the ſea: meaning the red ſea, which is on the South part of the land.

4 When they wandred in the deſert and wildernesse out of the way, and found no citie to dwell in,

5 [c]Both hungrie and thirſtie, their ſoule fainted in them.

6 Then they cried vnto the Lord in their trouble, and hee deliuered them from their diſtreſſe,

7 And led them forth by the right way, that they might goe to a citie of habitation.

8 Let them therefore confeſſe before the Lord his louing kindneſſe, and his wonderfull workes before the ſonnes of men.

9 For he ſatisfied the thirſtie ſoule, and filled the hungry ſoule with goodneſſe.

10 They that dwell in darkeneſſe and in the ſhadowe of death, being bound in miſerie and yron,

11 Becauſe they [d]rebelled againſt the wordes of the Lord, and deſpiſed the counſell of the moſt High,

12 When hee humbled their heart with heauines, then they fell downe and there was no helper.

13 Then they [e]cried vnto the Lord in their trouble, and hee deliuered them from their diſtreſſe.

14 He brought them out of darkneſſe, and out of the ſhadowe of death, and brake their bands aſunder.

15 Let them therefore confeſſe before the Lord his louing kindneſſe, and his wonderfull workes before the ſonnes of men.

16 For he hath broken the [f]gates of braſſe, and brait the barres of yron aſunder.

17 [g]Fooles by reaſon of their tranſgreſſion, & becauſe of their iniquities are afflicted.

18 Their ſoule abhorreth all meate, and they are brought to deaths doore.

19 Then they crie vnto the Lord in their trouble, and hee deliuereth them from their diſtreſſe.

20 [h]He ſendeth his word and healeth them, and deliuereth them from their [i]graues.

21 Let them therefore confeſſe before the Lord his louing kindneſſe, and his wonderfull workes before the ſonnes of men, 22 And let them offer ſacrifices of [k]praiſe, and declare his workes with reioycing.

23 They that goe downe to the [l]Sea in ſhips, and occupie by the great waters, 24 They ſee the workes of the Lord, and his wonders in the deepe.

25 For hee commaundeth and raiſeth the ſtormie winde, and it lifteth vp the waues thereof.

26 They mount vp to the heauen, and deſcend to the deepe, ſo that their ſoule [m]melteth for trouble.

27 They are toſſed to and fro, and ſtagger like a drunken man, and all their [n]cunning is gone.

28 Then they crie vnto the Lord in their trouble, and hee bringeth them out of their diſtreſſe.

29 He turneth the ſtorme to calme, ſo that the waues thereof are ſtill.

30 When they are [o]quieted, they are glad, and hee bringeth them vnto the hauen, where they would be.

31 Let them therefore confeſſe before the Lord his louing kindneſſe, and his wonderfull workes before the ſonnes of men.

32 And let them exalt him in the [p]Congregation of the people, and praiſe him in the aſſemblie of the Elders.

33 He turneth the floods into a wildernes, and the ſpringes of waters into drineſſe, 34 And a fruitfull land into ‖barrenneſſe for the wickedneſſe of them that dwell therein.

35 Againe hee [q]turneth the wildernesse into pooles of water, and the drie lande into water ſpringes.

36 And there hee placeth the hungry, and they build a citie to dwell in,

37 And ſowe the fieldes, and plant vineyards, which bring forth fruitfull [r]increaſe.

38 For hee bleſſeth them, and they multiplie exceedingly, and hee diminiſheth not their cattell.

39 [ſ]Againe men are diminiſhed, & brought lowe by oppreſſion, euill and ſorrow.

40 He powreth [t]contempt vpon princes, and cauſeth them to erre in deſert places out of the way.

41 Yet hee raiſeth vp the poore out of miſerie, and maketh him families like a flocke of ſheepe:

42 The [u]righteous ſhal ſee it, and reioyce, and all iniquitie ſhall ſtop her mouth.

43 Who is wiſe that he may obſerue theſe things? for they ſhall vnderſtand the louing kindneſſe of the Lord. 22 day morning

PSAL. CVIII.

This Pſalme is compoſed of two other Pſalmes before, the ſeuen and fiftieth, and the ſixtieth. The matter here conteined is, 1 That Dauid giueth himſelfe with heart and voyce to praiſe the Lord, 7 And aſſureth himſelfe of the promiſe of God concerning his kingdome ouer Iſrael, and his power againſt other nations: 11 Who though hee ſeeme to forſake vs for a time, yet hee alone will in the end caſt downe our enemies.

¶ A ſong or Pſalme of Dauid.

O God, mine heart is [a]prepared, ſo is ‖my tongue: I will ſing and giue praiſe.

2 Awake viole and harpe: I will awake early.

3 I will praiſe thee, O Lord, among the [b]people, and I will ſing vnto thee among the nations.

[a] This earneſt affection declareth that he is free from hypocriſie, and that ſluggiſhnes ſlayeth him not.
‖ Or, my glory, becauſe it chiefly ſetteth forth the glory of God.

[b] He propheſieth of the calling of the Gentiles: for except they were called, they could not heare the goodneſſe of God.

[c] He ſheweth that there is none affliction ſo grieuous, out of the which God will not deliuer his, and alſo exhorteth them that are deliuered, to be mindfull of ſo great a benefit.
[d] Then the true way to obey God, is to follow his expreſſe commandement: alſo hereby all are exhorted to deſcend into themſelues, forasmuch as none are puniſhed, but for their ſinnes.
[e] He ſheweth that the cauſe why God doth puniſh vs extremely, is becauſe we can be brought vnto him by none other meanes.
[f] When there ſeemeth to mans iudgement no recouerie, but all things are brought to deſpaire, then God chiefly ſheweth his mightie power.
[g] They that haue no feare of God, by his ſharpe rods are brought to call vpon him, and ſo finde mercie.
[h] By healing them he declareth his good will toward them.
[i] Meaning their diſeaſes, which had almoſt brought them to the graue and corruption.
[k] Praiſe & confeſſion of Gods benefits are the true ſacrifices of the godly.
[l] He ſheweth by the ſea what care God hath ouer man, for in that that he deliuereth them from the great dangers of the ſea, he deliuereth them as it were from a thouſand deaths.
[m] Their feare and danger is ſo great.
[n] When their arte and meanes faile them, they are compelled to confeſſe that onely Gods prouidence doth preſerue them.
[o] Though before euery drop ſeemed to fight one againſt another, yet at his commandement they are as ſtill, as though they were frozen.
[p] This great benefit ought not onely to be conſidered particularly, but magnified in all places and aſſemblies.
‖ Or, ſaltneſſe.
[q] For the loue that he beareth to his Church he changeth the order of nature for their commodity.
[r] Continual increaſe and peerely.
[ſ] As God by his prouidence doeth exalt men, ſo doth he alſo humble them by afflictions to knowe themſelues.
[t] For their wickednesse and tyranny he cauſeth the people and ſubiects to contemne them.
[u] They, whoſe faith is lightned by Gods Spirit, ſhall reioyce to ſee Gods iudgements againſt the wicked & vngodly.

4 For thy mercy is great aboue the heauens, and thy trueth vnto the cloudes.

5 [c] Exalt thy selfe, O God, aboue the heauens, and let thy glory be vpon all the earth,

6 That thy beloued may bee deliuered: [d] helpe with thy right hand and heare me.

7 God hath spoken in his [e] holines: therefore I will reioyce, I shall diuide Shechem, and measure the valley of Succoth.

8 Gilead shalbe mine, and Manasseh shall be mine: Ephraim also shalbe the strength of mine head: Iuda is my lawgiuer.

9 *Moab shalbe my washpot: ouer Edom will I cast out my shoe: vpon Palestina wil I triumph.

10 Who will leade mee into the strong citie? who will bring me vnto Edom?

11 [f] Wilt not thou, O God, which haddest forsaken vs, and didst not goe forth, O God, with our armies?

12 Giue vs helpe against trouble: for vaine is the helpe of man.

13 Through God wee shall doe valiantly: for he shall tread downe our enemies.

c Let all the world see thy iudgements, in that that thou art God ouer all, and so confesse that thou art glorious.

d When God by his benefits maketh vs partakers of his mercies, he admonisheth vs to be earnest in prayer, to desire him to continue and finish his graces.

e As he hath spoken to Samuel concerning me, so will he shew himselfe constant and holy in his promise, so that these nations following shall be subiect vnto me.

*Psal. 60. 8.

f From the first verse of this Psalme, vnto the last, reade the exposition in the 1. Psalme, and 5. verse.

PSAL. CIX.

1 Dauid being falsely accused by flatterers vnto Saul, prayeth God to helpe him and to destroy his enemies. 8 And vnder them he speaketh of Iudas the traitour vnto Iesus Christ, and of all the like enemies of the children of God: 27 And desireth so to bee deliuered, that his enemies may know the worke to bee of God. 30 Then doeth he promise to giue praises vnto God.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

HOlde not thy tongue, O God of my [a] praise.

2 For the mouth of the wicked, and the mouth full of deceit are opened vpon me: they haue spoken to me with a lying tongue.

3 They compassed mee about also with words of hatred, and fought against mee without a cause.

4 For my friendship they were mine aduersaries, [b] but I gaue my selfe to prayer.

5 And they haue rewarded mee euill for good, and hatred for my friendship.

6 [c] Set thou the wicked ouer him, and let the aduersarie stand at his right hand.

7 When he shalbe iudged, let him be condemned, and let his [d] prayer bee turned into sinne.

8 Let his dayes bee fewe, and let another take his [e] charge.

9 Let his children be fatherlesse, and his wife a widow.

10 Let his children be vagabonds and beg and seeke bread, comming out of their places destroyed.

11 Let [f] the extortioner catch all that hee hath, and let the strangers spoile his labour.

12 Let there be none to extend mercy vnto him: neither let there bee any to shew mercy vpon his fatherlesse children.

13 Let his posteritie bee destroyed, and in the generation following let their name bee put out.

14 [g] Let the iniquitie of his fathers be had in remembrance with the Lord: and let not the sinne of his mother be done away.

15 But let them alway be before the Lord, that hee may cut off their memoriall from the earth.

16 Because [h] hee remembred not to shew mercy, but persecuted the afflicted and poore man, and the sorrowfull hearted to slay him.

17 As hee loued cursing, [i] so shall it come vnto him, and as he loued not blessing, so shall it be farre from him.

18 As he clothed himselfe with cursing like a raiment, so shall it come into his bowels like water, and like oyle into his bones.

19 Let it bee vnto him as a garment to couer him, and for a girdle wherewith he shall be alway girded.

20 Let this bee the reward of mine aduersarie [k] from the Lord, and of them that speake euill against my soule.

21 But thou, O Lord my God, deale with me according vnto thy [l] Name: deliuer mee, (for thy mercy is good)

22 Because I am poore and needie, and mine heart is wounded within me.

23 I depart like the shadow that declineth, and am shaken off as the [m] grashopper.

24 My knees are weake through fasting, and my [n] flesh hath lost all fatnesse.

25 I became also a rebuke vnto them: they that looked vpon me, shaked their heads.

26 Helpe me, O Lord my God: [o] saue me according to thy mercy.

27 And they shall know, that this is thine hand, and that thou, Lord, hast done it.

28 Though they [p] curse, yet thou wilt blesse: they shall arise and bee confounded, but thy seruant shall reioyce.

29 Let mine aduersaries bee clothed with shame, and let them couer themselues with their confusion, as with a cloke.

30 I wil giue thanks vnto the Lord greatly with my [q] mouth, and praise him among the multitude.

31 For hee will stand at the right hand of the poore, to saue him from them that would [r] condemne his soule.

a Though all the world condemne me, yet thou wilt approue mine innocency, and that is a sufficient praise to me.

b To declare that I had none other refuge, but thee, in whom my conscience was a trest.

c Whether it were Doeg or Saul, or some familiar friend that had betrayed him, he prayeth not of priuate affection, but moued by Gods spirit, that God would take vengeance vpon him.

d As to the elect all things turne to their profit: so to the reprobate euen those things that are good, turne to their damnation.

e This was chiefly accomplished in Iudas, Acts 1. 20.

f He declareth that the curse of God lieth vpon the extortioners, who thinking to enrich their children by their vnlawfull gotten goods, are by Gods iust iudgement depriued of all.

g Thus punisheth the Lord to the third & fourth generation the wickednes of the parents in their wicked children.

h He sheweth that God accustometh to plague them after a strange sort, that shew themselues cruell toward other.

i Thus giueth the Lord to euery man the thing, wherein he delighteth, that the reprobate cannot accuse God of wrong, when they are giuen vp to their lusts and reprobate minds.

k For being destitute of mans help, he fully trusted in the Lord, that hee would deliuer him.

l As thou art a mans mercifull, gracious & long suffering, so shew thy selfe in effect.

m Meaning, that he hath no stay nor assurance in this world.

n For hunger, that came of sorrow, hee was leane, and his natural moisture failed him.

o The more grieuous that Gods iudgements assailed him, the more earnest and instant was he in prayer.

p They shal gain nothing by cursing me.

q Not onely by confessing it secretly in my selfe, but also in declaring it before all the congregation.

r Hereby he sheweth that he hath not to doe with them that were of little power, but with the iudges and princes of the world.

PSAL. CX.

1 Dauid propheseth of the power and euerlasting kingdome giuen to Christ, 4 And of his Priesthood which should put an end to the Priesthood of Leui.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

THe [a] Lord sayd vnto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, vntil I make thine enemies thy foote stoole.

2 The Lord shall send the rod of thy power out of [b] Zion: bee thou ruler in the mids of thine enemies.

3 Thy people shall come willingly at the time of assembling [c] thine armie in holy beautie: the youth of thy wombe shalbe as the morning dewe.

4 The Lord sware, and will not repent, Thou art a Priest for euer after the order of [d] Melchi-zedek.

5 The Lord, that is at thy right hand, shal wound kings in the day of his wrath.

6 He shalbe Iudge among the heathen: he shall fill all with dead bodies, and smite the [e] head ouer great countreys.

7 He shal [f] drinke of the brooke in the way, therefore shall he lift vp his head.

a Iesus Christ in the two & twenty of Matth. verse 44. giueth the interpretation hereof, and sheweth that this cannot properly be applied vnto Dauid, but to himselfe.
b And thence it shall stretch through all the world: and this power chiefly standeth in the preaching of his word.
c By thy word thy people shalbe assembled into thy Church, whose increase shalbe so abundant and wonderful, as y drops of the dewe.
d As Melchi-zedek the figure of Christ was both King and Priest: so the effect cannot bee accomplished in any King saue onely in Christ, Hebr. 7. 26.
e No power shall be able to resist him.
f Vnder this similitude of a captaine, that is so greedy to destroy his enemies, that hee will not scarce drinke by the way, he sheweth how God will destroy his enemies.

PSAL. CXI.

1 He giueth thanks to the Lord for his mercifull works toward his Church, 10 And declareth wherein true wisedome and right knowledge consisteth.

¶ Praise ye the Lord.

I Will [a] praise the Lord with my whole heart in the assemblie and Congregation of the iust.

2 The works of the Lord are [b] great, and ought to bee sought out of all them that loue them.

3 His worke is beautiful and glorious, and his righteousnesse endureth for euer.

4 Hee hath made his wonderfull works to be had in remembrance: the Lord is merciful and full of compassion.

5 He hath giuen [c] a ‖ portion vnto them that feare him: he will euer bee mindfull of his couenant.

6 He hath shewed to his people the power of his works, in giuing vnto them the heritage of the heathen.

7 The [d] works of his hands are trueth and iudgement: all his statutes are true.

8 They are stablished for euer and euer, and are done in trueth and equitie.

9 He sent redemption vnto his people: he hath commanded his couenant for euer: holy and fearefull is his Name.

10 [e] The beginning of wisedome is the feare of the Lord: all they that obserue [f] them, haue good vnderstanding: his praise endureth for euer.

a The Prophet declareth that hee will praise God both priuately, and openly, and that from the heart, as he that consecrateth himselfe wholly and onely vnto God.
b He sheweth that Gods works are a sufficient cause wherefore we should praise him, but chiefly his benefites toward his Church.
c God hath giuen to his people all that was necessary for them, and will bee still euen for his Couenants sake, and in this sense the Hebrew word is taken, Psal. 50. 8 and 31. 15.
‖ Or, praye and good.
d As God promised to take the care of his Church: so in effect doeth hee declare himselfe iust and true in the gouernment of the same.
e Not, but they that obey his word.
f To wit, his commandements, as verse 7.

PSAL. CXII.

1 He praiseth the felicitie of them that feare God, 10 And condemneth the cursed state of the contemners of God.

¶ Praise ye the Lord.

BLessed is the man that [a] feareth the Lord, and delighteth greatly in his commandements.

2 His seede shall be mightie vpon earth: the generation of the righteous shall bee blessed.

3 [b] Riches and treasures shall be in his house, & his righteousnesse endureth for euer.

4 Vnto the [c] righteous ariseth light in darknesse: he is merciful and full of compassion and righteous.

5 A good man is mercifull and [d] lendeth, and will measure his affaires by iudgement.

6 Surely hee shall neuer bee moued: but the righteous shall bee had in euerlasting remembrance.

7 Hee will not bee afrayd of euill tidings: for his heart is fixed, and beleeueth in the Lord.

8 His heart is stablished: therefore he will not feare, vntill hee see his desire vpon his enemies.

9 Hee hath [e] distributed and giuen to the poore: his righteousnesse remaineth for euer: his [f] horne shalbe exalted with glory.

10 The wicked shall see it, and be angrie: he shall gnash with his teeth, and [g] consume away: the desire of the wicked shall perish.

a He meaneth that reuerent feare, which is in the children of God, which causeth them to delight onely in the word of God.
b The godly shall haue abundance and contentment, because their heart is satisfied in God onely.
c The faithfull in all their aduersities, know that all shall go well with them: for God will be mercifull and iust.
d He sheweth what is the fruit of mercy, to lend freely and not for gaine, and so to measure his doings, that he may be able to helpe where need requireth, and not to bestow all on himselfe.
e The godly pinch not niggardly, but distribute liberally, as the necessitie of the poore requireth, and as his power is able.
f His power and prosperous estate.
g The blessings of God vpon his children shall cause the wicked to die for enuie.

PSAL. CXIII.

1 An exhortation to praise the Lord for his prouidence, 7 In that that contrary to the course of nature hee worketh in his Church.

¶ Praise ye the Lord.

PRaise, O ye seruants of the Lord, [a] praise the Name of the Lord.

2 Blessed be the Name of the Lord from henceforth and for euer.

3 The Lords Name is praised from the rising of the sunne, vnto the going downe of the same.

4 The Lord is high aboue all [b] nations, and his glory aboue the heauens.

5 Who is like vnto the Lord our God, that hath his dwelling on high!

6 Who abaseth himselfe to behold things in the heauen and in the earth!

7 He raiseth the needy out of the dust, and lifteth vp the [c] poore out of the dung.

8 That hee may set him with the princes, euen with the princes of his people.

9 Hee maketh the barren woman to dwell with a family, and a ioyful mother of children. Praise ye the Lord.

a By this often repetition hee stirreth vp our cold dulnesse to praise God, seeing his works are so wonderfull, and that wee are created for the same cause.
b If Gods glory shine through all the world, and therefore of all ought to bee praised, what great condemnation were it to his people, among whome chiefly it shineth, if they should not earnestly extoll his Name?
c By preferring the poore to high honour, and giuing the barren children, he sheweth that God worketh not onely in his Church by ordinary meanes, but also by miracles.

23. day morning

PSAL. CXIIII.

1 How the Iſraelites were deliuered foorth of Egypt, and of the woonderfull miracles that God wrought at that time. Which put vs in remembrance of Gods great mercie toward his Church, who, when the courſe of nature faileth, preſerueth his miraculouſly.

WHen *Iſrael went out of Egypt, and the houſe of Iaakob from the [a] barbarous people,

2 Iudah was [b] his ſanctification, and Iſrael his dominion.

3 The Sea ſaw it, and fled: Iorden was turned backe.

4 The [c] mountaines leaped like rammes, and the hilles as lambes.

5 What ailed thee, O ſea, that thou fleddeſt? O Iordan, why waſt thou turned backe?

6 Yee mountaines, why leaped yee like rammes, and ye hilles as lambes?

7 The [d] earth trembled at the preſence of the Lorde: at the preſence of the God of Iaakob, 8 Which [e] turneth the rocke into waterpooles, and the flint into a fountaine of water.

* Exod. 13.3.

a That is, from them that were of a ſtrange language.

b The whole people were witneſſes of his holy Maieſtie, in adopting them, and of his mightie power in deliuering them.

c Seeing that theſe dead creatures felt Gods power, and after a ſort ſaw it, much more his people ought to conſider it and glorifie him for the ſame.

d Ought then his people to be inſenſible, when they ſee his power and maieſtie?

e That is, cauſed miraculouſly water to come out of the rocke in moſt abundance, Exod. 17.6.

PSAL. CXV.

1 A prayer of the faithfull oppreſſed by idolatrous tyrants, againſt whom they deſire that God would ſuccour them, 9 Truſting moſt conſtantly that God will preſerue them in this their neede, ſeeing that hee hath adopted and receiued them to his fauour, 18 Promiſing finally that they will not be vnmindfull of ſo great a benefite, if it would pleaſe God to heare their prayer, and deliuer them by his omnipotent power.

NOt [a] vnto vs, O Lord, not vnto vs, but vnto thy Name giue the glory, for thy louing mercy, and for thy trueths ſake.

2 Wherefore ſhall the heathen ſay, [b] Where is now their God?

3 But our God is in heauen: hee doeth whatſoeuer he [c] will.

4 Their idoles are [d] ſiluer and gold, euen the worke of mens hands.

5 They haue a mouth and ſpeake not: they haue eyes and ſee not.

6 They haue eares and heare not: they haue noſes and ſmell not.

7 They haue [e] hands and touch not: they haue feete and walke not: neither make they a ſound with their throate.

8 They that make them are [f] like vnto them: ſo are all that truſt in them.

9 O Iſrael, truſt thou in the Lord: for he is their helpe and their ſhield.

10 [g] O houſe of Aaron, truſt yee in the Lord: for he is their helpe and their ſhield.

11 Yee that feare the Lord, truſt in the Lord: for he is their helper and their ſhield.

a Becauſe God promiſed to deliuer them, not for their ſakes, but for his Name, Iſa 48.11. therefore they ground their prayer vpon this promiſe.

b When the wicked ſee that God accompliſheth not his promiſe as they imagine, they thinke there is no God.

c No impediments can let his worke, but hee doeth euen the impediments to ſerue his will.

d Seeing that neither the matter, nor the forme can commend the idoles, it followeth that there is nothing, why they ſhould be eſteemed.

e He ſheweth what great vanitie it is to aske helpe of them, which not onely haue no helpe in them, but lacke ſenſe and reaſon. f As much without ſenſe, as blocks and ſtones. g For they were appointed by God as inſtructers and teachers of faith and religion for others to follow.

12 The Lord hath bene mindfull of vs: he will bleſſe, he [h] will bleſſe the houſe of Iſrael, he will bleſſe the houſe of Aaron.

13 He will bleſſe them that feare the Lord, both ſmall and great.

14 The Lord will increaſe his graces toward you, euen toward you and toward your children.

15 Ye are bleſſed of the Lord, which [i] made the heauen and the earth.

16 The [k] heauens, euen the heauens are the Lords: but hee hath giuen the earth to the ſonnes of men.

17 The dead praiſe not the Lord, neither any that [l] goe downe into the place of ſilence.

18 But wee will praiſe the Lorde from heereforth and for euer. Praiſe ye the Lord.

h That is, hee will continue his graces toward his people.

i And therefore doth ſtill governe and continue all things therein.

k And they declare enough his ſufficiencie, ſo that the world ſerueth him nothing, but to ſhew his fatherly care toward men.

l Though the dead ſet forth Gods glory, yet he meaneth here, that they praiſe him not in his Church and Congregation.

PSAL. CXVI.

24. day morning

1 Dauid being in great danger of Saul in the deſert of Maon, perceiuing the great & ineſtimable loue of God toward him, magnifieth ſuch great mercies, 13 And proteſteth that he will be thankefull for the ſame.

I [a] Loue the Lord, becauſe he hath heard my voice and my prayers.

2 For hee hath inclined his eare vnto me, when I did call vpon him [b] in my dayes.

3 When the ſnares of death compaſſed me, and the griefes of the graue caught mee: when I found trouble and ſorow,

4 Then I called vpon the Name of the Lord, ſaying, I beſeech thee, O Lord, deliuer my ſoule.

5 The Lord is [c] mercifull and righteous, and our God is full of compaſſion.

6 The Lord preſerueth the ſimple: I was in miſerie, and he ſaued me.

7 Returne vnto thy reſt, O [d] my ſoule: for the Lord hath beene beneficiall vnto thee,

8 Becauſe thou haſt deliuered my ſoule from death, mine eyes from teares, and my feete from falling.

9 I ſhall [e] walke before the Lord in the land of the liuing.

1 Dauid reiected of Saul and of the people, at the time appointed obteined the kingdome. 4 For the which he biddeth all them, that feare the Lord, to be thankefull. And vnder his person in all this was Christ liuely set foorth, who should be of his people reiected.

PRaise [a] ye the Lord, because he is good: for his mercie endureth for euer.

2 Let Israel now say, That his mercie endureth for euer.

3 Let the house of Aaron now say, That his mercie endureth for euer.

4 Let them that feare the Lord, now say, That his mercy endureth for euer.

5 I called vpon the Lord in [b] trouble, and the Lord heard me, and set me at large.

6 The Lord is with me: therefore I will not feare what [c] man can doe vnto me.

7 The Lord is with me among them that helpe me: therefore shall I see my desire vpon mine enemies.

8 It is better to trust in the Lord, then to haue confidence [d] in man.

9 It is better to trust in the Lord, then to haue confidence in Princes.

10 All nations haue compassed me: but in the Name of the Lord shall I destroy them.

11 They haue compassed me, yea, they haue compassed me: but in the Name of the Lord I shall destroy them.

12 They came about me like Bees, but they were quenched as a fire of thornes: for in the Name of the Lord I shall destroy them.

13 [e] Thou hast thrust sore at me, that I might fall: but the Lord hath holpen me.

14 The Lord is my strength and [f] song: for he hath beene my deliuerance.

15 The [g] voice of ioy & deliuerance shall be in the tabernacles of the righteous, saying, The right hand of ỹ Lord hath done valiantly.

16 The right hand of the Lord is exalted: [h] the right hand of ỹ Lord hath done valiantly.

17 I shall not die, but liue, and declare the workes of the Lord.

18 The Lord hath chastened me sore, but he hath not deliuered me to death.

19 Open ye vnto me the [i] gates of righteousnes, that I may goe into them, and praise the Lord.

20 This is the gate of the Lord: the righteous shall enter into it.

21 I will praise thee: for thou hast heard me, and hast beene my deliuerance.

22 *The stone, which the builders [k] refused, is the head of the corner.

BLessed are [a] those that are vpright in their way, and walke in the Law of the Lord.

3 Surely they worke [b] none iniquitie, but walke in his wayes.

4 Thou hast commaunded to keepe thy precepts diligently.

5 [c] Oh that my wayes were directed to keepe thy statutes!

6 Then should I not be confounded, when I haue respect vnto all thy commandements.

7 I will praise thee with an vpright [d] heart, when I shall learne the [e] iudgements of thy righteousnesse.

8 I will keepe thy statutes: forsake me not [f] ouerlong.

a That is, the most certeine and continuall testimonies of his fatherly grace.

a Because God by creating Dauid King, shewed his mercy toward his afflicted Church, the Prophet doeth not onely himselfe thanke God but exhorteth all the people to doe the same.

b We are here taught, that the more that troubles oppresse vs, the more ought we to be instant in prayer.

c Being exalted to this estate, he assureth himselfe to haue man enuier to be his enemie. Yet he doubted not, but God would maintaine him, because he had placed him.

d He sheweth that he had trusted in vaine, if he had put his confidence in man, to haue beene preferred to the kingdome, and therefore he put his trust in God, and obtained.

e Her noteth Saul his chiefe enemie.

f In that he was deliuered, it came not of himselfe, nor of the power of man, but onely of Gods fauour, therefore he will praise him.

g He promiseth both to render graces himselfe, and to cause others to doe the same, because that in his person the Church was restored.

h Do that all, that are both farre and neere, may see his mightie power.

i He willeth the doores of the Tabernacle to be opened, that he may declare his thankefull mind.

o Because he hath restored vs from darkenesse to light, we will offer sacrifices and praises vnto him.

a Here they are not called blessed, which thinke themselues wise in their owne iudgement, nor which imagine to themselues a certaine holines, but they whole conuersation is without hypocrisie.

b For they are ruled by Gods Spirit, and embrace no doctrine but his.

c Dauid acknowledgeth his imperfection, desiring God to reforme it, that his life may be conformable to Gods worde.

d For true religion standeth in seruing God without hypocrisie.

e That is, thy precepts, which conteine perfite righteousnesse.

f He refuseth not to be tried by tentations, but he feareth to faint, if God succour not his infirmitie in time.

a Because youth is most giuen to licentiousnesse, he chiefly warneth them to frame their liues betime to Gods worde.

b If Gods word be grauen in our hearts, we shall be more able to resist the assaults of Satan: and therefore the Prophet desireth God to instruct him dayly more and more therein.

11 I haue [b] hid thy promise in mine heart, that I might not sinne against thee.

12 Blessed art thou, O Lord: teach mee thy statutes.

13 With my lips haue I declared all the iudgements of thy mouth.

c The Prophet doeth not boast of his vertues, but setteth forth an example for others to follow Gods word, and leaue worldly vanities.

14 I haue had as great [c] delight in the way of thy testimonies, as in all riches.

15 I will meditate in thy precepts, and consider thy wayes.

16 I will delight in thy statutes, and I will not forget thy word.

GIMEL.

a Hee sheweth that we ought not to desire to liue, but to serue God, and that we cannot serue him aright, except he open our eyes and mindes.

17 Be beneficiall vnto thy seruant, that I may [a] liue and keepe thy word.

18 Open mine eyes, that I may see the wonders of thy Law.

b Seeing mans life in this world is but a passage, what should become of him, if thy word were not his guide?

19 I am a [b] stranger vpon earth: hide not thy commandements from me.

20 Mine heart breaketh for the desire to thy iudgements alway.

c In all ages thou hast plagued all such, which maliciously and contemptuously depart from thy truth.

21 Thou [c] hast destroyed the proude: cursed are they that doe erre from thy commandements.

22 Remoue from me shame and contempt: for I haue kept thy testimonies.

a That is, it is almost brought to the graue, and without thy word I cannot liue.

b I haue confessed mine offences and now depend wholly on thee.

26 I haue [b] declared my wayes, and thou heardest me: teach me thy statutes.

c If God did not maintaine vs by his word, our life would drop away like water.

33 Teach [a] me, O Lord, the way of thy statutes, and I will keepe it vnto the end.

34 Giue mee vnderstanding, and I will keepe thy Law: yea, I will keepe it with my whole [b] heart.

35 Direct me in the path of thy commandements: for therein is my delight.

36 Incline mine heart vnto thy testimonies, and not to [c] couetousnesse.

c Hereby meaning all other vices, because, that couetousnesse is the roote of all euill.

38 Stablish thy promise to thy seruant, because he feareth thee.

39 Take away [e] my rebuke that I feare: for thy iudgements are good.

e Let me not fall to thy dishonour, but let mine heart still delight in thy gracious word.

40 Behold, I desire thy commandements: [f] quicken me in thy righteousnesse.

f Giue mee strength to continue in thy word euen to the end.

VAV.

a He sheweth that Gods mercie and loue is the first cause of our saluation.

41 And let thy [a] louing kindnesse come vnto me, O Lord, and thy saluation according to thy promise.

b By trusting in Gods word he assureth himselfe to be able to confute the slanders of his aduersaries.

42 So shall I [b] make answere vnto my blasphemers: for I trust in thy word.

43 And take not the word of trueth vtterly out of my mouth: for I waite for thy iudgements.

c They, that simply walke after Gods word, haue no lets to intangle them, whereas they that doe contrary, are euer in nets and snares.

44 So shall I alway keepe thy Law for euer and euer.

45 And I will [c] walke at libertie: for I seeke thy precepts.

d He sheweth that the children of God ought not to suffer their fathers glory to be obscured by the vaine pompe of princes.

46 I will speake also of thy testimonies before [d] kings, and will not be ashamed.

47 And my delite shall be in thy commandements, which I haue loued.

48 Mine handes also will I lift vp vnto thy commandements, which I haue loued, and I will meditate in thy statutes.

ZAIN.

a Though hee feele Gods hand still to lie vpon him, yet he resteth on his promise, and comforteth himselfe therein.

49 Remember [a] the promise made to thy seruant, wherein thou hast caused mee to trust.

50 It is my comfort in my trouble: for thy promise hath quickened me.

b Meaning, the wicked, which contemne Gods word, and treade his religion vnder foote.

51 The [b] proud haue had me exceedingly in derision: yet haue I not declined from thy Lawe.

c That is, the examples, whereby thou declarest thy selfe to be iudge of the world.

52 I remembred thy [c] iudgements of old, O Lord, and haue beene comforted.

d That is, a vehement zeale to thy glory, and indignation against the wicked.

53 [d] Feare is come vpon me for the wicked, that forsake thy Law.

54 Thy statutes haue beene my songs in the house of my [e] pilgrimage.

e In the course of this life and this banishment.

55 I haue remembred thy name, O Lord, in the [f] night, and haue kept thy Law.

56 [g] This I had because I kept thy precepts.

f Euen when other sleepe. g That is, all these benefits.

CHETH.

a I am perswaded that to keepe thy Law is an heritage & gaine vnto me.

57 O Lord, that art my [a] portion, I haue determined to keepe thy wordes.

58 I made my supplication in thy presence with my whole heart: be merciful vnto mee according to thy promise.

59 I haue considered my [b] wayes, and turned my feete into thy testimonies.

60 I made haste and delayed not to keepe thy commandements.

61 The bandes of the wicked haue [c] robbed me: but I haue not forgotten thy Law.

62 At midnight will I rise to giue thankes vnto thee, because of thy righteous iudgements.

63 I am [d] a companion of all them that feare thee, and keepe thy precepts.

64 The earth, O Lord, is full of thy mercie: [e] teach me thy statutes.

TETH.

65 O Lorde, thou hast dealt [a] graciously with thy seruant according vnto thy word.

66 Teach me good iudgement and knowledge: for I haue beleeued thy commandements.

67 Before I was [b] afflicted, I went astray: but now I keepe thy word.

68 Thou art good and gracious: teach me thy statutes.

69 The proud haue imagined a lie against mee: but I will keepe thy precepts with my whole heart.

70 [c] Their heart is fat as grease: but my delight is in thy Law.

71 It is [d] good for me that I haue beene afflicted, that I may learne thy statutes.

72 The Law of thy mouth is better vnto me, then thousands of golde and siluer.

73 Thine handes haue [a] made me and fashioned me: giue me vnderstanding therefore, that I may learne thy commandements.

74 So they that [b] feare thee, seeing me shall reioyce, because I haue trusted in thy word.

75 I know, O Lord, that thy iudgements are right, & that thou hast afflicted me † iustly.

76 I pray thee that thy mercie may comfort me, according to thy promise vnto thy seruant.

77 Let thy tender mercies come vnto me, that I may [c] liue: for thy Law is my delight.

78 Let the proude be ashamed: for they haue dealt wickedly and falsely with me: but I meditate in thy precepts.

79 Let such as feare thee [d] turne vnto me, and they that [e] know thy testimonies.

80 Let mine heart be vpright in thy statutes, that I be not ashamed.

CAPH.

81 My soule [a] fainteth for thy saluation: yet I waite for thy word.

82 Mine eyes faile for thy promise, saying, When wilt thou comfort me?

83 For I am like a [b] bottle in the smoke: yet doe I not forget thy statutes.

84 How many are the [c] dayes of thy seruant? When wilt thou execute iudgement on them that persecute me?

85 The proude haue [d] digged pits for me, which is not after thy Law.

86 All thy commandements are true: they persecute me falsely: [e] helpe me.

87 They had almost consumed [f] me vpon the earth: but I forsooke not thy precepts.

88 Quicken me according to thy louing kindnesse: so shall I keepe the testimonie of thy mouth.

LAMED.

89 O Lord, thy word endureth for euer in [a] heauen.

90 Thy trueth is from generation to generation: thou hast laide the foundation of the earth, and it abideth.

91 They [b] continue euen to this day by thine ordinances: for all are thy seruants.

92 Except thy Law had bene my delite, I should now haue perished in mine affliction.

93 I will neuer forget thy precepts: for by them thou hast quickened me.

94 I am [c] thine, saue me: for I haue sought thy precepts.

95 The wicked haue waited for me to destroy me: but I will consider thy testimonies.

96 I [d] haue seene an ende of all perfection: but thy commandement is exceeding large.

MEM.

97 Oh how loue I thy Law! it is my meditation continually.

98 By thy commaundements thou hast made mee wiser then mine enemies: for they are euer with me.

99 I haue had more [b] vnderstanding then all my teachers: for thy testimonies are my meditation.

100 I vnderstood more then the ancient, because I kept thy precepts.

101 I haue refrained my feete from euery euill way, that I might keepe thy word.

102 I haue not declined from thy iudgements: for [c] thou diddest teach me.

103 How sweete are thy promises vnto my mouth! yea, more then honie vnto my mouth.

104 By thy precepts I haue gotten vnderstanding: therefore I hate all the wayes of falshood.

105 Thy worde is a [a] lanterne vnto my feete, and a light vnto my path.

b He sheweth that none can imbrace the word of God, except he consider his owne imperfections and wayes.
c They haue gone about to draw me into their company.
d Not onely in mutuall consent, but also with aide and succour.
e For the knowledge of Gods word is a singular token of his fauour.

a Hauing proued by experience that God was true in his promise, he desireth that hee would increase in him knowledge and iudgement.
b So Jeremie sayth, that before the Lorde touched him, he was like a calfe vntamed: so that the vse of Gods rods is to call vs home to God.

e He assureth himselfe, that God will deliuer his, and destroy such as vniustly persecute them.
f Finding no helpe in earth, he lifteth vp his eyes to heauen.

a Because none should esteeme Gods word according to the changes of things in this world, he sheweth that it abideth in heauen, and therefore is immutable.
b Seeing the earth and all creatures remaine in that estate, wherein thou hast created them, much more thy trueth remaineth constant and vnchangeable.
c He prooueth by effect, that hee is Gods childe, because hee seeketh to vnderstand his word. d There is nothing so perfect in earth, but it hath an ende: onely Gods word lasteth for euer.

b The ſimple idiots, that ſubmit themſelues to God, haue their eyes opened, and their mindes illuminated ſo ſoone as they begin to reade Gods word.

c My zeale toward thy word was ſo great.

d He ſheweth what ought to be the zeale of Gods children, when they ſee his word contemned.

a We cannot confeſſe God to be righteous, except we liue vprightly and truely, as he hath commanded.

me: for I haue not forgotten thy Law.

154 Pleade my cause, and deliuer mee: quicken me according vnto thy [a] word.

155 Saluation is farre from the wicked, because they seeke not thy statutes.

156 Great are thy tender mercies, O Lord: quicken mee according to thy [b] iudgements.

157 My persecutours and mine oppressours are many: yet doe I not swarue from thy testimonies.

158 I sawe the transgressours and was [c] grieued, because they kept not thy word.

159 Consider, O Lord, how I [d] loue thy precepts: quicken me according to thy louing kindnesse.

160 The [e] beginning of thy word is truth, and all the iudgements of thy righteousnesse endure for euer.

SCHIN.

161 Princes haue [a] persecuted mee without cause, but mine heart stood in awe of thy worde.

162 I reioyce at thy worde, as one that findeth a great spoile.

163 I hate falshood and abhorre it, but thy Law doe I loue.

164 [b] Seuen times a day do I praise thee, because of thy righteous iudgements.

165 They [c] that loue thy Law, shall haue great prosperitie, and they shall haue none hurt.

166 Lord, I haue [d] trusted in thy saluation, and haue done thy commandements.

167 My soule hath kept thy testimonies: for I loue them exceedingly.

168 I haue kept thy precepts and thy testimonies: [e] for all my wayes are before thee.

TAV.

169 Let my complaint come before thee, O Lord, and giue me vnderstanding [a] according vnto thy word.

170 Let my supplication come before thee, and deliuer mee according to thy promise.

171 My lippes shall [b] speake praise, when thou hast [c] taught me thy statutes.

172 My tongue shall intreat of thy word: for all thy commandements are righteous.

173 Let thine hand helpe me: for I haue chosen thy precepts.

174 I haue longed for thy saluation, O Lord, and thy Law is my delight.

175 Let my soule liue, and it shall praise thee, and thy [d] iudgements shall helpe me.

176 I haue [e] gone astray like a lost sheepe: seeke thy seruant, for I do not forget thy commandements.

a For without Gods promise there is no hope of deliuerance.
b According to thy promise made in the Lawe, which because the wicked lacke, they can haue no hope of saluation.
c My zeale consumed me, when I saw their malice and contempt of thy glory.
d It is a sure signe of our adoption, when we loue the Lawe of God.
e Since thou first promisedst, euen to the ende all thy sayings are true.

a The threatnings and persecutions of princes could not cause mee to shrinke to confesse thee, whom I more feare then men.
b That is, often or sundry times.
c For their conscience assureth them, that they please thee, whereas they, that loue not thee, haue the contrary.
d He sheweth that we must first haue faith before we can worke and please God.
e I haue no respect of men, but let thee alwayes before mine eyes, as the iudge of my doings.

a As thou hast promised to be the schoolemaster vnto all them that depend vpon thee.

b The word signifieth to powre forth continually.
c All his prayer and desire is, to profite in the word of God.
d That is, thy prouident care ouer me, and wherewith thou wilt iudge mine enemies.
e Being chased to and fro by mine enemies, and hauing no place to rest in.

1 The prayer of Dauid, being vexed by the false reports of Sauls flatterers. 5 And therefore he lamenteth his long abode among those infidels, 7 Who were giuen to all kinde of wickednesse and contention.

27. day ¶ A song of [a] degrees.

I Called vnto the Lord in my [b] trouble, and he heard me.

2 Deliuer my soule, O Lord, from lying lippes, and from a deceitfull tongue.

3 What doeth thy [c] deceitfull tongue bring vnto thee? or what doeth it auaile thee?

4 It is as the [d] sharpe arrowes of a mightie man, and as the coales of iuniper.

5 Woe is to me that I remaine in [e] Meshech, and dwell in the tents of [f] Kedar.

6 My soule hath too long dwelt with him that hateth peace.

7 I seeke [g] peace, and when I speake thereof, they are bent to warre.

a That is, of lifting vp the tune and rising in singing.
b Albeit the children of God ought to reioyce when they suffer for righteousnes sake, yet it is a great griefe to the flesh to beare euill for well doing.
c He assured himselfe that God would turne their craft to their owne destruction.
d He sheweth that there is nothing so sharpe to pierce, nor so hote to set on fire as a slanderous tongue. e These were people of Arabia, which came of Japhet. Gen. 10. 2. f That is, of the Ishmaelites. g Hee declareth what he meaneth by Meshech, and Kedar: to wit, the Israelites, which had degenerate from their godly fathers, and hated and contended against the faithfull.

PSAL. CXXI.

1 This Psalme teacheth that the faithfull ought onely to looke for helpe at God, 7 Who onely doeth maintaine, preserue and prosper his Church.

¶ A Song of degrees.

I Will lift mine eyes ‖ vnto the mountaines, from whence mine helpe shall come.

2 Mine helpe commeth from the Lord, which hath made the [a] heauen and the earth.

3 Hee will not suffer thy foote to slippe: for he that keepeth thee, will not [b] slumber.

4 Behold, hee that keepeth Israel, will neither slumber nor sleepe.

5 The Lord is thy keeper: the Lord is thy shadow at thy right hand.

6 The sunne shall not [c] smite thee by day, nor the moone by night.

7 The Lord shall preserue thee from all euill: he shall keepe thy soule.

8 The Lord shall preserue thy [d] going out, and thy comming in from henceforth and for euer.

‖ Or, aboue the mountaines: meaning, that there is nothing so high in this world, wherein he can trust, but onely in God.
a He accuseth mans ingratitude, which cannot depend on Gods power.
b He sheweth that Gods prouidence not onely watcheth ouer his Church in generall, but also ouer euery member thereof.
c Neither heate nor colde, nor any incommoditie shalbe able to destroy Gods Church, albeit for a time they may molest it. d Whatsoeuer thou doest enterprise, shall haue good successe.

4 Whereunto d the Tribes, euen the Tribes of the Lord goe vp according to the testimonie to Israel, to praise the name of the Lord.

5 For there are thrones set for iudgement, euen the thrones of the house of e Dauid.

6 Pray for the peace of Ierusalem: let them prosper that loue thee.

7 Peace be within thy f wals, and prosperitie within thy palaces.

8 For my g brethren and neighbors sakes I will wish thee now prosperitie.

9 Because of the House of the Lord our God, I will procure thy wealth.

d All the tribes according to Gods couenant shall come and pray there.

e In whose house God placed the throne of Iustice, and made it a figure of Christs kingdome.

f The fauour of God prosper thee both within and without.

g Not onely for mine owne sake, but for all the faithfull.

PSAL. CXXIII.

1 A prayer of the faithfull, which were afflicted either in Babylon or vnder Antiochus by the wicked worldlings and contemners of God.

¶ A song of degrees.

I Lift vp mine eyes to thee, that dwellest in the heauens.

2 Behold, as the eyes of a seruants looke vnto the hand of their masters, and as the eyes of a maiden vnto the hand of her mistresse: so our eyes wait vpon the Lord our God vntill he haue mercie vpon vs.

3 Haue mercie vpon vs, O Lord, haue mercie vpon vs: for wee haue b suffered too much contempt.

4 Our soule is filled too full of the mocking of the wealthy, and of the despitefulnesse of the proud.

a He compareth the condition of the godly to seruants that are destitute of all helpe, assuring that when all other helps faile, God is euer at hand and like himselfe.

b He declareth that when the faithfull are so full, that they can no more endure the oppressions and scornings of the wicked, there is alway helpe aboue, if with hungry desires they call for it.

PSAL. CXXIIII.

1 The people of God escaping a great peril, do acknowledge themselues to be deliuered, not by their owne force, but by the power of God. 4 They declare the greatnesse of the perill, 6 And praise the Name of God.

¶ A song of degrees, or Psalme of Dauid.

IF the Lord had not a beene on our side, (may Israel now say,)

2 If the Lord had not beene on our side, when men rose vp against vs,

3 They had then swallowed vs vp b quicke, when their wrath was kindled against vs.

4 When the c waters had drowned vs, and the streame had gone ouer our soule:

5 Then had the swelling waters gone ouer our soule.

6 Praised be the Lord, which hath not giuen vs as a pray vnto their teeth.

7 Our soule is escaped, euen as a bird out of the d snare of the foulers: the snare is broken, and we are deliuered.

8 Our helpe is in the Name of the Lord, which hath made heauen and earth.

a He sheweth that God was readie to helpe at neede, and that there was none other way to be saued, but by his onely meanes.

b So vnable were we to resist.

c He vseth most proper similitudes to expresse the great danger that the Church was in, and out of the which God miraculously deliuered them.

d For the wicked did not onely furiously rage against the faithfull, but craftily imagined to destroy them.

PSAL. CXXV.

1 He describeth the assurance of the faithfull in their afflictions, 4 And desireth their wealth, 5 And the destruction of the wicked.

¶ A song of degrees.

THey that trust in the Lord, shall bee as mount Zion, which cannot be a remooued, but remaineth for euer.

2 As the mountaines are about Ierusalem: so is the Lord about his people from henceforth and for euer.

3 For the b rodde of the wicked shall not rest on the lot of the righteous, least the righteous put forth their hand vnto wickednesse.

4 Doe well, O Lord, vnto those that bee good and true in their hearts.

5 c But these that turne a side by their crooked wayes, them shal the Lord leade with the workers of iniquitie: but peace shall be vpon Israel.

a Though the world be subiect to mutations, yet the people of God shall stand sure and be defended by Gods prouidence.

b Though God suffer his to be vnder the crosse, least they should imbrace wickednesse, yet this crosse shall not so rest vpon them that it should driue them from hope.

c He desireth God to purge his Church from hypocrites, & such as haue no feare of the truth.

PSAL. CXXVI.

1 This Psalme was made after the returne of the people from Babylon, and sheweth that the meane of their deliuerance was wonderfull after the seuentie yeeres of captiuitie forspoken by Ieremie, chap. 25.12. and 29.10.

¶ A song of degrees, or Psalme of Dauid.

WHen the Lord brought againe the captiuitie of Zion, we were like them that a dreame.

2 Then was our mouth b filled with laughter, and our tongue with ioy: then sayd they among the c heathen, The Lord hath done great things for them.

3 The Lord hath done great things for vs, whereof we reioyce.

4 O Lord, bring againe our captiuitie, as the d riuers in the South.

5 They that sowe in teares, shal reape in ioy.

6 They went weeping and caried e precious seede: but they shall returne with ioy and bring their sheaues.

a Their deliuerance was as a thing incredible, and therefore took away all excuse of ingratitude.

b He sheweth how the godly ought to reioyce, when God gathereth his Church or deliuereth it.

c If the infidels confesse Gods wonderfull worke, the faithfull can neuer shew themselues sufficiently thankefull.

d It is no more impossible to God to deliuer his people, then to cause the riuers to runne in the barren places. e That is, seede which was scarce and deere: meaning, that they which trusted in Gods promise to returne, had their desire.

PSAL. CXXVII.

1 He sheweth that the whole estate of the world, both domesticall and politicall standeth by Gods meere prouidence and blessing. 3 And that to haue children well nurtured, is an especiall grace and gift of God.

¶ A song of degrees, or Psalme of Salomon.

EXcept the Lord a build the house, they labour in vaine that builde it: except the Lord kepe the b citie, the keeper watcheth in vaine.

2 It is in vaine for c you to rise earely a That is, gouerne and dispose all things pertaining to the familie.

b The publicke estate of the common weale.

c Which watch and warde, and are also magistrates, and rulers of the citie.

and to lie downe late, and eate the bread [d] of sorow: but hee will surely giue [e] rest to his beloued.

3 Behold, children are the inheritance of the Lord, and the fruite of the wombe his reward.

4 As are the arrowes in the hand of the strong man: so are the [f] children of youth.

5 Blessed is the man, that hath his quiuer full of them: for they [g] shall not bee ashamed, when they speake with their enemies in the gate.

d Either that which is gotten by hard labour, or eaten with griefe of minde. e Not exempting them from labour, but making their labours comfortable, and as it were a rest. f That is, indued with strength and vertues from God: for these are signes of Gods blessings, and not the number. g Such children shall bee able to stop their aduersaries mouthes, when their godly life is maliciously accused before Iudges.

PSAL. CXXVIII.

1 He sheweth that the blessednesse appertaineth not to all vniuersally, but to them onely that feare the Lord, and walke in his wayes.

¶ A song of degrees.

BLessed is euery one that feareth the Lord, and walketh in his [a] wayes.

2 When thou eatest the labours of thine [b] hands, thou shalt be blessed, and it shal be wel with thee.

3 Thy wife shall be as the fruitfull vine on the sides of thine house, & thy [c] children like the oliue plants round about thy table.

4 Lo, surely thus shall the man bee blessed, that feareth the Lord.

5 The Lord out of Zion shall [d] blesse thee, and thou shalt see the wealth of [e] Ierusalem all the daies of thy life.

6 Yea, thou shalt see thy childrens children, and peace vpon Israel.

a God appointeth not our life, except it be reformed according to his word. b The world esteemeth them happie, which liue in wealth, & idlenes: but the holy Ghost appointeth them best that liue of the meane profit of their labours. c Because Gods fauour appeareth in none outward thing, more then in increase of children, he promiseth to enrich the faithfull with this gift. d Because of the spirituall blessing, which God hath made to his Church, these temporal things shall be graunted. e For except God blessed his Church publikely, this priuate blessing were nothing.

PSAL. CXXIX.

1 He admonisheth the Church to reioyce though it be afflicted. 4 For by the righteous Lord it shall be deliuered. 6 And the enemies for all their glorious shew, shal suddenly be destroyed.

¶ A song of degrees.

THey haue oftentimes afflicted mee from my youth (may [a] Israel now say.)

2 They haue oftentimes afflicted me from my youth: but they could not preuaile against mee.

3 The plowers plowed vpon my backe, and made long furrowes.

4 But the [b] righteous Lord hath cut the cordes of the wicked.

5 They that hate Zion, shal be al ashamed and turned backward.

6 [c] They shall be as the grasse on the house tops, which withereth afore it commeth forth.

7 Wherof the mower filleth not his hand, neither the glainer his lap.

8 [d] Neither they, which goe by, say, The blessing of the Lord be vpon you, or, We blesse you in the Name of the Lord.

a The Church now afflicted ought to remember, how her condition hath euer bin such from the beginning: to be molested most grieuously by the wicked: yet in time it hath euer bene deliuered. b Because God is righteous, hee cannot but plague his aduersaries, and deliuer his as oxen out of the plough. c The enemies that lift themselues most high, and as it were approch neere to the sunne, are consumed with heate of Gods wrath, because they are not grounded in godly humilitie. d That is, the wicked shall perish and none shall passe for them.

PSAL. CXXX.

1 The people of God from their bottomlesse miseries do crie vnto God, and are heard. 3 They confesse their sinnes and flee vnto Gods mercie.

¶ A song of degrees.

OUt of the [a] deep places haue I called vnto thee, O Lord.

2 Lord, heare my voice: let thine eares attend to the voice of my prayers.

3 If thou, O Lord, straightly markest iniquities, O Lord, [b] who shall stand?

4 But mercie is with thee, that thou [c] maiest be feared.

5 I haue waited on the Lord: my soule hath waited, and I haue trusted in his word.

6 My soule waiteth on the Lord more then the morning watch watcheth for the morning.

7 Let Israel waite on the Lord: for with the Lord is [d] mercie, and with him is great redemption.

8 And he shal redeeme Israel from all his iniquities.

a Being in great distresse and sorow. b He declareth that we cannot be iust before God, but by forgiuenes of sins. c Because of nature thou art mercifull: therefore the faithfull reuerence thee. d He sheweth to whom the mercie of God doth appertaine: to Israel, that is, to the Church and not to the reprobate.

PSAL. CXXXI.

1 Dauid charged with ambition and greedy desire to reigne, protesteth his humilitie and modestie before God, and teacheth all men what they should doe.

¶ A song of degrees or Psalme of Dauid.

LOrd, [a] mine heart is not heauie, neither are mine eyes loftie, neither haue I walked in great [b] matters and hid from me.

2 Surely I haue behaued my selfe, like one wained from his mother, and kept silence: I am in my selfe as one that is [c] wained.

3 Let Israel wait on the Lord from henceforth and for euer.

a He setteth forth his great humilitie, as an example to all rulers and gouernors. b Which passe the measure and limits of his vocation. c He was voide of ambition and wicked desires.

PSAL. XXXII.

1 The faithfull grounding on Gods promise made vnto Dauid, desire that he would establish the same, both as touching his posteritie and the building of the temple, to pray there as was forespoken, Deut. 12. 5.

¶ A song of degrees.

LOrd, remember Dauid with all his [a] affliction.

2 Who sware vnto the Lorde, and vowed vnto the mightie God of Iaakob, saying,

3 I [b] will not enter into the Tabernacle of mine house, nor come vpon my pallet or bed,

4 Nor suffer mine eyes to sleep, nor mine eye lids to slumber,

5 Untill I finde out a place for the [c] Lord, an habitation for the mightie God of Iaakob.

a That is, with how great difficultie he came to the kingdome, and with how great zeale and care he went about to builde thy Temple. b Because the chiefe charge of the King was to set forth Gods glory, he sheweth that he could take no rest, neither would goe about any worldly thing, were it neuer so necessarie, before he had executed his office. c That is, the Arke, which was a signe of Gods presence.

6 Loe, we heard of it in [d] Ephrathath, and found it in the fields of the foreſt.

7 Wee will enter into his Tabernacles, and worſhip before his footeſtoole.

8 Ariſe, O Lord, to come into thy [e] reſt, thou, and the Arke of thy ſtrength.

9 Let thy Prieſtes be clothed with [f] righteouſneſſe, and let thy Saints reioyce.

10 For thy ſeruant Dauids ſake refuſe not the face of thine Anointed.

11 The Lord hath ſworne in trueth vnto Dauid, and he will not ſhrinke from it, ſaying, Of the fruit of thy body will I ſet vpon thy throne.

12 If thy ſonnes keepe my couenant, and my teſtimonies, that I ſhall teach them, their ſonnes alſo ſhall ſit vpon thy throne for [h] euer.

13 For the Lord hath choſen Zion, and loued to dwell in it, ſaying, 14 This is my reſt for euer: here will I dwell, for I haue a [i] delight therein.

15 I will ſurely bleſſe her victailes, and will ſatisfie her poore with bread, 16 And will clothe her Prieſts with [k] ſaluation, and her Saints ſhall ſhout for ioy.

17 There will I make the [l] horne of Dauid to bud: for I haue ordeined a light for mine Anointed.

18 His enemies will I cloth with ſhame, but on him his crowne ſhall flouriſh.

d The common bruite was that the Arke ſhould remaine in Ephrathath: that is in Beth-lehem a plentifull place: but after, wee perceiued that thou wouldeſt place it in Ieruſalem, which was barren as a forreſt and compaſſed about onely with hilles.

e That is, Ieruſalem, becauſe that afterward his Arke ſhould remoue to none other place.

f Let the effect of thy grace doth appeare in the Prieſts and in the people.

g As thou firſt madeſt promiſe to Dauid, ſo continue it to his poſteritie, that whatſoeuer they ſhall aſke for their people, it may be granted.

h Becauſe this cannot bee accompliſhed but in Chriſt, it followeth that the promiſe was ſpirituall.

i Meaning, for his owne ſake, and not for the plentifulneſſe of the place: for he promiſeth to bleſſe it, declaring before, that it was barren. k That is, with my protection, whereby they ſhall be ſafe. l Though his force for a time ſeemed to be broken, yet he promiſeth to reſtore it.

PSAL. CXXXIII.

1 This Pſalme conteineth the commendation of brotherly amitie among the ſeruants of God.

¶ A ſong of degrees or Pſalme of Dauid.

BEholde, howe good and how comely a thing it is, brethren to dwell euen [a] together.

2 It is like to the precious [b] oyntment vpon the head, that runneth downe vpon the beard, euen vnto Aarons beard, which went downe on the border of his garments:

3 And as the dew of [c] Hermon, which falleth vpon the mountaines of Zion: for [d] there the Lord appointed the bleſſing and life for euer.

a Becauſe the greateſt part were againſt Dauid, though ſome fauoured him, yet when he was eſtabliſhed King, at length they ioyned all together like brethren: and therefore he ſheweth by theſe ſimilitudes the commoditie of brotherly loue.

b The oyntment was a figure of the graces, which come from Chriſt the head vnto his Church. c By Hermon and Zion he meaneth the plentifull countrey about Ieruſalem. d Where there is ſuch concord.

PSAL. CXXXIIII.

1 He exhorteth the Leuites watching in the Temple, to praiſe the Lord.

¶ A ſong of degrees.

BEhold, praiſe yee the Lord, all yee [a] ſeruants of the Lord, ye that by night ſtand in the houſe of the Lord.

2 Lift vp your [b] hands to the Sanctuary, and praiſe the Lord.

a Ye that are Leuites and chiefly appointed to this office.

b For their charge was not onely to keepe the Temple, but to pray there and to giue God thankes.

3 The Lord, that hath [c] made heauen and earth, bleſſe thee out of Zion.

c And therefore hath all power. bleſſe thee with his fatherly loue declared in Zion. Thus the Leuites vſed to praiſe the Lord, and bleſſe the people.

¶ Prayſe ye the Lord.

PRaiſe the Name of the Lord: yee ſeruants of the Lord, praiſe him.

2 Ye that ſtand in the [a] Houſe of the Lord, and in the [b] courts of the Houſe of our God.

a Ye Leuites that are in his Sanctuarie.

b Meaning the people: for the people & Leuites had their courts, which were places of the Temple ſeparate.

3 Praiſe yee the Lord: for the Lorde is good: ſing praiſes vnto his Name: for it is a comely thing.

4 For the Lord hath [c] choſen Iaakob to himſelfe, and Iſrael for his chiefe treaſure.

c That is, hath freely loued the poſteritie of Abraham.

5 For I know that the Lord is great, and that our Lord is aboue all gods.

6 Whatſoeuer pleaſed the Lord, that [d] did he in heauen and in earth, in the ſea, and in all the depths.

d He ioyneth Gods power with his will, to the intent that we ſhould not ſeparate them: and hereby he willeth Gods people to depend on his power, which he confirmeth by examples.

e He ſheweth what fruit the godly conceiue of Gods power, whereby they ſee how he deſtroyeth his enemies, and deliuereth his people.

13 Thy Name, O Lorde, endureth for euer: O Lord, thy remembrance is from generation to generation.

14 For the Lord will [f] iudge his people, and be pacified towards his ſeruants.

f That is, gouerne and defend his people.

15 The [g] idoles of the heathen are ſiluer and golde, euen the worke of mens hands.

g By ſhewing what puniſhment God appointeth for the heathen idolaters, hee warneth his people to beware the like offence, ſeeing that idoles haue neither power nor life, and that their deliuerance came not by idoles, but by the mightie power of God. Reade Pſal. 115. verſ. 4.

16 They haue a mouth, and ſpeake not: they haue eyes and ſee not.

17 They haue eares and heare not, neither is there any breath in their mouth.

18 They that make them, are like vnto them: ſo are all that truſt in them.

19 Praiſe the Lord, yee houſe of Iſrael: praiſe the Lord, yee houſe of Aaron.

20 Praiſe the Lord, yee houſe of Leui: yee that feare the Lord, praiſe the Lord.

21 Praised bee the Lorde out of Zion, which dwelleth in Jerusalem. Praise yee the Lord.

PSAL. CXXXVI.

1 A most earnest exhortation to giue thanks vnto God for the creation & gouernance of all things, which standeth in confessing that he giueth vs all of his meere liberality.

PRaise ye the Lord, because hee is good: for his [a] mercie endureth for euer.

2 Praise ye the God of gods: for his mercie endureth for euer.

3 Praise ye the Lord of lords: for his mercie endureth for euer:

4 Which onely doeth great wonders: for his mercie endureth for euer:

5 Which by his wisedome made the heauens: for his mercie endureth for euer:

6 Which hath stretched out the earth vpon the waters: for his [b] mercie endureth for euer:

7 Which made great lights: for his mercie endureth for euer:

8 As the sunne to rule the day: for his mercie endureth for euer:

9 The moone and the Starres to gouerne the night: for his mercie endureth for euer:

10 Which smote Egypt with their first borne, (for his mercie endureth for euer.)

11 And [c] brought out Israel from among them (for his mercie endureth for euer)

12 With a mightie hand and [d] stretched out arme: for his mercie endureth for euer:

13 Which diuided the red Sea into two parts: for his mercie endureth for euer:

14 And made Israel to passe through the mids of it: for his mercie endureth for euer:

15 And ouerthrew Pharaoh and his hoste in the red Sea: for his mercie endureth for euer:

16 Which ledde his people through the [e] wildernesse: for his mercie endureth for euer:

17 Which smote great Kings: for his mercie endureth for euer:

18 And slew [f] mightie Kings: for his mercie endureth for euer:

19 As Sihon King of the Amorites: for his mercie endureth for euer:

20 And Og the King of Bashan: for his mercie endureth for euer:

21 And gaue their lande for an heritage: for his mercie endureth for euer:

22 Euen an heritage vnto Israel his seruant: for his mercie endureth for euer:

23 Which remembred vs in our [g] base estate: for his mercie endureth for euer:

24 And hath rescued vs from our oppressours: for his mercie endureth for euer:

25 Which giueth foode to all [h] flesh: for his mercie endureth for euer:

26 [i] Praise ye the God of heauen: for his mercie endureth for euer.

1 The people of God in their banishment seeing Gods true religion decay, liued in great anguish & sorow of heart: the which griefe the Chaldeans did so litle pitty, 3 That they rather increased the same daily with tauts, reproches and blasphemies against God. 7 Wherefore the Israelites desire God, first to punish the Edomites, who prouoked the Babylonians against them, 8 And moued by the Spirit of God, prophecie the destruction of Babylon, where they were handled so tyrannously.

BY the riuers of Babel we [a] sate, and there we wept, when we remembred Zion.

2 We hanged our harpes vpon the willowes in the middes [b] thereof.

3 Then they that ledde vs captiues, [c] required of vs songs and mirth, when wee had hanged vp our harpes, saying, Sing vs one of the songs of Zion.

4 How shal we sing, said we, a song of the Lord in a strange land?

5 [d] If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget to play.

6 If I doe not remember thee, let my tongue cleaue to the roofe of my mouth: yea, if I preferre not Jerusalem to my [e] chiefe ioy.

7 Remember the children of [f] Edom, O Lord, in the [g] day of Jerusalem, which saide, Rase it, rase it to the foundation thereof.

8 O daughter of Babel, worthy to be destroyed, blessed shall he bee that rewardeth thee, as thou hast serued vs.

9 [h] Blessed shall he bee that taketh and dasheth thy children against the stones.

PSAL. CXXXVIII.

1 Dauid with great courage praiseth the goodnes of God toward him, the which is so great, 4 That it is knowen to forren Princes, who shall praise the Lord together with him. 6 And he is assured to haue like comfort of God in the time following, as he hath had heretofore.

A Psalme of Dauid.

I Wil praise thee with my whole heart: euen before the [a] gods will I praise thee.

2 I wil worship toward thine holy [b] Temple and praise thy Name, because of thy louing kindnesse and for thy trueth: for thou hast magnified thy Name aboue all things by thy word.

3 When I called, then thou heardest mee, and hast [c] increased strength in my soule.

4 All the [d] Kings of the earth shall praise thee, O Lord: for they haue heard the wordes of thy mouth.

5 And they shall sing of the wayes of a By this repetition he sheweth that the least of Gods benefites bind vs to thankesgiuing: but chiefly his mercie, which is principally declared towards his Church.

b This was a common kind of thanksgiuing, which the whole people vsed, whē they had receiued any benefite of God, as 2 Chro. 7.6. and 20 21: meaning that God was not onely mercifull to their fathers, but also continued the same to their posteritie.

c Gods mercifull prouidence toward man appeareth in all his creatures, but chiefly in that that he deliuereth his Church from the thraldome of their enemies.

d In doing such a worke as was neuer done before, nor that any other could doe.

e Where for the space of fourtie yeeres he shewed infinite and most strange wonders.

f Declaring thereby that no power nor authoritie was so deere vnto him, as the loue of his Church.

g In our greatest affliction and slauerie, when we looked for nothing lesse then to haue had any succour.

h Seeing that God prouideth euen for the beasts, much more hath he care ouer his.

i Seeing that all ages haue had most plaine testimonies of Gods benefits.

a That is, we abode a long time and albeit that the countrey was pleasant, yet could it not stay our teares, nor turne vs from the true seruice of our God.

b To wit, of that countrey.

c The Babylonians spake this in mocking vs, as though by our silence we should signifie that we hoped no more in God.

d Albeit the faithfull are touched with their particular griefes, yet the common sorow of the Church is most grieuous vnto them, and is such as they cannot but remember & lament.

e The decay of Gods religion in their countrey was so grieuous, that no ioy could make them glad, except it were restored. f According as Ezekiel 25.13. and Jeremie 49.7. verse prophecied: And Obadiah. verse 10 sheweth that the Edomites, which came of Esau, conspired with the Babylonians against their brethren and kinsfolke. g When thou didst visite Jerusalem. h Hee alludeth to Isaiahs prophecie, Chapter 13. and 16. verse, promising good successe to Cyrus and Darius, whom ambition moued to fight against Babylon: but God vsed them as his rods to punish his enemies.

a Euen in the presence of Angels and of them, that haue authoritie among men.

b Both the Temple and ceremoniall seruice at Christs comming were abolished: so that now God will be worshipped onely in spirit and trueth. Joh. 4.23.

c Thou hast strengthened me against mine outward and inward enemies. d All the world shall confesse that thou hast wonderfully preserued me, and performed thy promise.

the Lord, because the glorie of the Lorde is great.

6 For the Lord is high: yet he beholdeth the lowly, but the proud he knoweth [e] a farre off.

7 Though I walke in the middes of trouble, yet wilt thou revive me: thou wilt stretch forth thine hand upon the wrath of mine enemies, and thy right hand shall save me.

8 The Lord will [f] performe his worke toward mee: O Lord, thy mercie endureth for ever: forsake not the workes of thine hands.

PSAL. CXXXIX.

1 David to cleanse his heart from all hypocrisie, sheweth that there is nothing so hid, which God seeth not, 13 Which he confirmeth by the creation of man. 14 After declaring his Zeale and feare of God, he protesteth to be enemie to all them that contemne God.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

O Lord, thou hast tried mee and knowen me.

2 Thou knowest my [a] sitting and my rising: thou understandest my thought a farre off.

3 Thou [b] compassest my pathes, and my lying downe, and art accustomed to all my wayes.

4 For there is not a word in [c] my tongue, but loe, thou knowest it wholly, O Lord.

5 Thou holdest me straite behind and before, and laiest thine [d] hand upon me.

6 Thy knowledge is too wonderfull for mee: it is so high that I cannot attaine unto it.

7 Whither shall I goe from thy [e] spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence?

8 If I ascend into heauen, thou art there: if I lie downe in hell, thou art there.

9 Let me take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the vttermost partes of the sea:

10 Yet thither shall thine [f] hand leade mee, and thy right hand hold me.

11 If I say, Yet the darkenesse shall hide mee, euen the night shall be [g] light about mee.

12 Yea, the darkenesse hideth not from thee: but the night shineth as the day: the darknesse and light are both alike.

13 For thou hast [h] possessed my reynes: thou hast couered me in my mothers wombe.

14 I will praise thee, for I am [i] fearefully and wonderously made: marueilous are thy workes, and my soule knoweth it well.

15 My bones are not hidde from thee, though I was made in a secret place, and fashioned [k] beneath in the earth.

16 Thine eyes did see mee, when I was without forme: for in thy booke were all things written, which in continuance were fashioned, when there was none of them before.

17 How [m] deare therefore are thy thoughts vnto mee, O God! how great is the summe of them!

18 If I should count them, they are moe then the sand: when I wake, [n] I am still with thee.

19 Oh that thou wouldest slay, O God, the wicked and bloody men, to whom I say, Depart ye from me:

20 Which speake wickedly of thee, and being thine enemies are lifted vp in vaine.

21 Doe not I [o] hate them, O Lord, that hate thee? and doe not I earnestly contend with those that rise vp against thee?

22 I hate them with an vnfained hatred, as they were mine vtter enemies.

23 Trie me, O God, [p] know mine heart: proone me and know my thoughts, 24 And consider if there bee any [p] way of wickednesse in me, and lead me in the [q] way for ever.

[e] Distance of place cannot hinder God to shew mercie to his, and to iudge the wicked, though they thinke that he is farre off.

[f] Though mine enemies rage neuer so much, yet the Lord which hath begun his worke in me, will continue his grace to the end.

[a] He confesseth that neither our actions, thoughts or any part of our life can bee hid from God, though he seeme to be farre off.

[b] So that they are euidently knowen to thee.

[c] Thou knowest my meaning before I speake.

[d] Thou so guidest me with thine hand, that I can turne no way, but where thou appointest me.

[e] From thy power and knowledge?

[f] Thy power doth so fast hold me that I can escape by no meanes from thee.

[g] Though darknes be no hinderance to mans sight, yet it serueth thine eyes as well as the light.

[h] Thou hast made me in all parts, and therefore must needes know me.

[i] Considering thy wonderfull workes in forming me, I cannot but praise thee, and feare thy mightie power.

[k] That is, in my mothers wombe: which her compareth to the inward parts of the earth.

[l] Seeing that thou diddest know me before I was compacted of either flesh or bone, much more now must thou know me when thou hast fashioned me.

[m] How ought we to esteeme the excellent declaration of thy wisdome in the creation of man!

[n] I continually see new occasions to meditate in thy wholesome and to praise thee.

[o] He teacheth vs boldly to contemne all the hatred of the wicked, and friendship of the world, when they would let vs to serue God sincerely.

[p] Or any heinous way of rebellious: meaning, that though he were subiect to sinne, yet was he not giuen to wickednesse, & to prouoke God by rebellion. [q] That is, continue thy fauour towards me to the end.

PSAL. CXL.

1 David complaineth of the cruelty, falshood and iniuries of his enemies. 8 Against the which hee prayeth vnto the Lord, & assureth himselfe of his helpe and succour. 12 Wherefore he prouoketh the iust to praise the Lord, and to assure themselues of his tuition.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

Deliuer me, O Lord, from the euill man: preserue me from the [a] cruell man:

2 Which imagine euill things in their [b] heart, and make warre continually.

3 They haue sharpened their tongues like a Serpent: [c] Adders poyson is vnder their lips. Selah.

4 Keepe [d] mee, O Lord, from the hands of the wicked: preserue mee from the cruell man, which purposeth to cause my steppes to slide.

5 The proud haue laid a snare for me, and spred a net with cordes in my path way, and set grennes for me. Selah.

6 Therefore I said vnto the Lord, Thou art my God: heare, O Lord, the voyce of my praiers.

7 O Lord God the strength of my saluation, thou [e] hast couered mine head in the day of battell.

8 Let not the wicked haue his desire, O Lord: [f] performe not his wicked thought, least they be proud. Selah.

9 As for the chiefe of them, that compasse

[a] Which persecuteth me of malice and without cause.

[b] That is, by their false cauillations and lies they kindle the hatred of the wicked against me.

[c] He sheweth what weapons the wicked vse, when power and force faile them.

[d] He declareth what is the remedie of the godly, when they are oppressed by the worldlings.

[e] He calleth to God with liuely faith, being assured of his mercies, because he had before time proued, that God helped him euer in his dangers.

[f] For it is in Gods hand to ouerthrow the counsels and enterprises of the wicked. [g] It seemeth that he alludeth to Saul.

me about, let the mischiefe of their owne lips come vpon them.

10 Let coales fall vpon them: let [h] him cast them into the fire, and into the deepe pits, that they rise not.

11 For the backbiter shall not bee established vpon the earth: euill shall [i] hunt the cruell man to destruction.

12 I know that the Lord will auenge the afflicted, and iudge the poore.

13 Surely the righteous shall praise thy Name, and the iust shall [k] dwell in thy presence.

h To wit, God: for Dauid saw that they were reprobate, and that there was no hope of repentance in them.
i Gods plagues shall light vpon him in such sort, that he shall not escape.
k That is, shall be defended and preserued by thy fatherly prouidence and care.

PSAL. CXLI.

1 Dauid being grieuously persecuted vnder Saul, only fleeth vnto God to haue succour, 3 Desiring him to bridle his affections, that he may patiently abide til God take vengeance of his enemies.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

O Lord, I [a] call vpon thee: haste thee vnto mee: heare my voyce, when I cry vnto thee.

2 Let my praier be directed in thy sight as incense, and the [b] lifting vp of mine hands as an euening sacrifice.

3 Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth, and keepe the [c] doore of my lips.

4 Incline not mine heart to euill, that I should commit wicked workes with men that worke iniquitie: and let mee not eate of their [d] delicates.

5 Let the righteous smite me: for that is a benefit: and let [e] him reproue me, and it shal be a precious oyle, that shall not breake mine head: for within a while I shall euen [f] pray in their miseries.

6 When their Iudges shall be cast down in stonie places, they shall [g] heare my wordes, for they are sweete.

7 Our bones lie scattered at the [h] graues mouth, as he that heweth wood, or diggeth in the earth.

8 But mine eyes looke vnto thee, O Lord God: in thee is my trust: leaue not my soule destitute.

9 Keepe me from the snare, which they haue laid for me, and from the grennes of the workers of iniquitie.

10 Let the wicked fall into [i] his nets [k] together, whiles I escape.

a He sheweth that there is none other refuge in our necessities, but only to flee vnto God for comfort of soule.
b He meaneth his earnest zeale and gesture, which he vsed in praier: alluding to the sacrifices, which were by Gods commandement offred in the olde Law.
c He desireth God to keepe his thoughts and eyes either from thinking or executing vengeance.
d Let not their prosperitie allure me to be wicked as they are.
e He could abide all corrections, that came of a louing heart.
f By patience I shall see the wicked so sharply handled, that I shall for pitie pray for them.
g The people, which followed their wicked rulers in persecuting the Prophet, shall repent and turne to God, when they see their wicked rulers punished.
h Here appeareth that Dauid was miraculously deliuered out of many deathes, as 2. Chron. 1. 9, 10.
i Into Gods nets, whereby he catcheth the wicked in their owne malice.
k So that none of them escape.

PSAL. CXLII.

1 The Prophet neither astonied with feare, nor caried away with anger, nor forced by desperation, would kill Saul, but with a quiet mind directed his earnest praier to God, who did preserue him.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid, to giue instruction, and a prayer, when he was in the caue.

I Cried vnto the Lord with my voice: with my voice I [a] prayed vnto the Lord.

2 I powred out my meditation before him, and declared mine affliction in his presence.

3 Though my spirit † was in perplexitie in me, yet thou knewest my path: in the way wherein I walked, haue they priuily laide a snare for me.

4 I looked vpon my right hand, and beheld, but there was none that would knowe me: all refuge failed mee, and none ‖ cared for my soule.

5 Then cried I vnto thee, O Lord, and said, thou art mine [b] hope, and my portion in the land of the liuing.

6 Hearken vnto my cry, for I am brought very low: deliuer mee from my persecuters, for they are too strong for me.

7 Bring my soule out of [c] prison, that I may praise thy Name: then shall the righteous [d] come about me, when thou art beneficiall vnto me.

a Dauids patience and instant prayer to God condemneth their wicked rage, which in their troubles either despaire and murmure against God, or els seeke to others, then to God, to haue reliefe in their miseries.
† Ebr. Was folden or wrapped in meemeaning, as a thing that could haue no issue.
‖ Or, sought for my soule.
b Though all meanes failed him, yet he knew that God would neuer forsake him.
c For he was on all sides beset with his enemies, as though he had bene in a most straight prison.
d Either to reioyce at my wonderfull deliuerance, or to set a crowne vpon mine head.

PSAL. CXLIII.

1 An earnest praier for remission of sinnes, acknowledging that the enemies did thus cruelly persecute him by Gods iust iudgement. 8 He desireth to bee restored to grace, 10 To be gouerned by his holy spirit, that he may spend the remnant of his life in the true feare & seruice of God.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

HEare my prayer, O Lord, and hearken vnto my supplication: answere mee in thy [a] truth, and in thy [b] righteousnesse.

2 (And enter not into iudgement with thy seruant: for in thy [c] sight shal none that liueth, be iustified.)

3 For [ŷ] enemy hath persecuted my soule: he hath smitten my life downe to the earth: he hath laid me in the darkenes, as they that haue beene dead [d] long agoe:

4 And my spirit was in perplexitie in me, and mine [e] heart within me was amased.

5 Yet doe I remember the time [f] past: I meditate in all thy workes, yea, I doe meditate in the workes of thine hands.

6 I stretch foorth mine hands vnto thee: my soule desireth after thee, as the thirstie land. Selah.

7 Heare me speedily, O Lord, for my spirite falleth: hide not thy face from me, else I shall be like vnto them that goe downe into the pit.

8 Let me heare thy louing kindnes in the [g] morning, for in thee is my trust: [h] shewe mee the way, that I should walke in, for I lift vp my soule vnto thee.

9 Deliuer me, O Lord, from mine enea That is, as thou hast promised to be faithfull in thy promise to all that trust in thee.

b That is, according to thy free goodnesse, whereby thou releasest all thine.
c He knew that his afflictions were Gods messengers to call him to repentance for his sinnes, though toward his enemies he was innocent, and that in Gods sight all men are sinners.
d He acknowledgeth that God is the onely and true physition to heale him: and that he is able to raise him to life, though he were dead long agoe, and turned to ashes.
e So that onely by faith, and by the grace of Gods spirit he was vpholden.
f To wit, thy great benefits of old, and the manifold examples of thy fauour toward thine.
g That is, speedily and in due season.
h Let thine holy spirit counsell me how to come foorth of these great cares and troubles.

mies: for [i] I hid me with thee.

10 [k] Teach me to [l] do thy will, for thou art my God: let thy good spirit leade me vnto the land of righteousnes.

11 Quicken me, O Lord, for thy Names sake, and for thy righteousnes bring my soule out of trouble.

12 And for thy mercy [m] slay mine enemies, and destroy all them that oppresse my soule: for I am thy [n] seruant.

i I hid my selfe vnder the shadow of thy wings, that I might be defended by thy power.

k He confesseth that both the knowledge and obedience of Gods will commeth by the spirit of God, who teacheth vs by his word, giueth vnderstanding by his spirit, & frameth our hearts by his grace to obey him. l That is, willy and might: for so soone as we decline from Gods will, we fall into error. m Which shalbe a signe of thy fatherly kindnes toward me. n Resigning my selfe wholy vnto thee, and trusting in thy protection.

PSAL. CXLIIII.

1 He praiseth the Lord with great affection & humility for his kingdom restored, & for his victories obtained, 5 Demanding helpe and the destruction of the wicked, 9 Promising to acknowledge the same with songs of praises, 15 And declareth wherein the felicity of any people consisteth. 30. day morning

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

BLessed bee the Lord my strength, which [a] teacheth mine hands to fight, and my fingers to battell.

2 He is my goodnes and my fortresse, my towre, and my † deliuerer, my shielde, and in him I trust, which subdueth my [b] people vnder me.

3 Lord, what is man that thou [c] regardest him! or the sonne of man that thou thinkest vpon him!

4 Man is like to vanity: his dayes are like a shadow that vanisheth.

5 [d] Bowe thine heauens, O Lord, & come downe: touch the mountaines and they shall smoke.

6 [e] Cast forth the lightning and scatter them: shoot out thine arrowes, and consume them.

7 Send thine hand from aboue: deliuer me, and take me out of the great [f] waters, and from the hand of strangers,

8 Whose mouth talketh vanity, and their right hand is a right hand [g] of falshood.

9 I will sing a [h] new song vnto thee, O God, and sing vnto thee vpon a viole, and an instrument of ten strings.

10 It is hee that giueth deliuerance vnto Kings, and reskeueth Dauid his [i] seruant from the hurtfull sword.

11 Rescue mee, and deliuer mee from the hand of strangers, whose mouth talketh vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of falshood:

12 That our [k] sons may be as the plants growing vp in their youth, and our daughters as the corner stones, grauen after the similitude of a palace:

13 That our [l] corners may be full and abounding with diuers sorts, & that our sheepe may bring forth thousand and ten thousand in our streets:

14 That our [m] oxen may bee strong to labour: that there bee no inuasion, nor going out, nor no crying in our streets.

15 Blessed are the people, that be [n] so, yea, blessed are the people, whose God is the Lord.

a Who of a poore shepheard hath made me a valiant warriour and mighty conqueroure.

† Hebr. my deliuerer vnto me: for the Prophet cannot satisfie himselfe with any words.

b He confesseth that neither by his owne authority, power nor policy, his kingdome was quiet, but by the secret grace of God.

c To giue vnto God such praise, is to confesse our selues to be vnworthy of so excellent benefites, and that he bestoweth them vpon vs of his free mercy.

d Hee desireth God to continue his graces, and to send helpe for the present necessity.

e By these manner of speeches he sheweth that all the lets in the world can not hinder Gods power, which he apprehendeth by faith.

f That is, deliuer me from the tumults of them that should be my people, but are corrupt in their iudgement and enterprises, as though they were strangers.

g For though they shake hands, yet they keepe not promise. h That is, a rare and excellent song, as thy great benefites deserue.

i Though wicked kings be called Gods seruants, as Cyrus, Isa. 45. 1. forasmuch as he vseth them to execute his iudgements: yet Dauid because of Gods promise, and they that rule godly, are properly so called, because they serue not their owne affections, but set forth Gods glory.

k Hee desireth God to continue his benefites toward his people, counting the procreation of children and their good education among the chiefest of Gods benefits.

l That the very corners of our houses may be full of store for the great abundance of thy blessings.

m He attributeth not only the great commodities, but euen the least aide to Gods fauor.

n And if God giue not to all his children all their blessings, yet he recompenseth them with better things.

PSAL. CXLV.

This Psalme was composed when the kingdome of Dauid flourished. 1 Wherin he describeth the wonderful prouidence of God, aswell in gouerning man, as in preseruing al the rest of his creatures. 17 He praiseth God for his iustice and mercy, 18 But especially for his louing kindnesse toward those that call vpon him, that feare him, and loue him: 21 For the which hee promiseth to praise him for euer.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid of praise.

OMy God and King, [a] I will extoll thee, and will blesse thy Name for euer and euer.

2 I will blesse thee dayly, and praise thy Name for euer and euer.

3 [b] Great is the Lord, and most worthy to be praised, and his greatnes is incomprehensible.

4 Generation shal praise thy works vnto [c] generation, and declare thy power.

5 I wil meditate of the beauty of thy glorious maiesty, and thy wonderfull works,

6 And they shal speake of the power of thy [d] fearefull actes, and I will declare thy greatnesse.

7 They shall breake out into the mention of thy great goodnesse, and shall sing aloude of thy righteousnes.

8 *The Lord is gracious and [e] merciful, slow to anger, and of great mercy.

9 The Lord is good to all, and his mercies are ouer all his works.

10 All thy works praise thee, O Lord, and thy Saints blesse thee.

11 [f] They shew the glory of thy kingdom, and speake of thy power, 12 To cause his [g] power to be knowen to the sonnes of men, and the glorious renowme of his kingdome.

13 Thy *kingdome is an euerlasting kingdome, and thy dominion endureth throughout all ages.

14 The Lord vpholdeth all [h] that fall, and a He sheweth what sacrifices are pleasant and acceptable vnto God: euen praise and thanksgiuing, and seeing that God still continueth his benefits towards vs, we ought neuer to be weary in praising him for the same.

b Hereby he declareth that all power is subiect vnto God, and that no worldly promotion ought to obscure Gods glory.

c Forasmuch as the end of mans creation, and of his preseruation in this life is to praise God, therefore he requireth that not onely we our selues doe this, but cause all other to doe the same.

d Of thy terrible iudgements against the wicked.

*Exod. 34. 6.

of his elect, but in doing good, euen to the reprobate, albeit they cannot feele the sweete comfort of the same. f The praise of thy glory appeareth in all thy creatures: and though the wicked would obscure the same by their silence, yet the faithfull are euer mindfull of the same. g He sheweth that all things are out of order but onely where God reigneth. * Luke 1. 33. dan 7. 14. h Which being in misery and affliction would faint and fall away, if God did not vpholde them: and therefore they ought to reuerence him, that reigneth in heauen, and suffer themselues to be gouerned by him.

15 The eyes of [i] all wayte vpon thee, and thou giuest them their meat in due season.

16 Thou openest thine hand, and fillest all things liuing of thy good pleasure.

17 The Lorde is [k] righteous in all his wayes, and holy in all his workes.

18 The Lorde is neere vnto all that call vpon him: yea, to all that call vpon him in [l] trueth.

19 He will fulfill the [m] desire of them that feare him: he also will heare their cry, and will saue them.

20 The Lord preserueth all them that loue him: but he will destroy all the wicked.

21 My mouth shal speake the praise of the Lord, and all [n] flesh shall blesse his holy Name for euer and euer.

n That is, all men shalbe bound to praise him.

PSAL. CXLVI.

1 Dauid declareth his great zeale that hee hath to praise God, 3 And teacheth not to trust in man, but only in God Almighty, 7 Which deliuereth the afflicted, 9 defendeth the strangers, comforteth the fatherlesse, and the widowes, 10 And reigneth for euer.

¶ Praise ye the Lord.

PRaise thou the Lord, O my [a] soule.

2 I will praise the Lord during my life: as long as I haue any being, I will sing vnto my God.

3 Put not your trust in [b] princes, nor in the sonne of man, for there is none helpe in him.

4 His breath departeth, and he returneth to his earth: then his [c] thoughts perish.

5 Blessed is he, that hath the God of Iaakob for his helpe, whose hope is in the Lord his God.

6 Which made [d] heauen and earth, the sea, and all that therein is: which keepeth his fidelity for euer:

7 Which executeth iustice [e] for the oppressed: which giueth bread to the hungry: the Lord looseth the prisoners.

8 The Lord giueth sight to the blind: the Lord raiseth vp the crooked: the Lord [f] loueth the righteous.

9 The Lord keepeth the [g] strangers: he relieueth the fatherles and widow: but he ouerthroweth the way of the wicked.

10 The Lord shal [h] reigne for euer: O Zion, thy God endureth from generation to generation, praise ye the Lord.

a He stirreth vp himselfe and all his affections to praise God.

b That God may haue the whole praise, wherein he forbiddeth all vaine confidence, shewing that of nature we are more inclined to put our trust in creatures, then in God the Creator.

c As their vaine opinions, whereby they flattered themselues, and so imagined wicked enterprises.

d He encourageth the godly to trust only in the Lord, both for that his power is able to deliuer them from all danger, and for his promises sake his will is most ready to doe it.

e Whose faith & patience for a while he tried, but at length he punisheth the aduersaries, that he may be knowen to be the iudge of the world.

f Though he visit them by affliction, hunger, imprisonment and such like, yet his fatherly loue and pity neuer faileth them, yea, rather to his these are signes of his loue.

g Meaning, all them that are destitute of worldly meanes and succour.

h He assureth the Church that God reigneth for euer for the preseruation of the same.

PSAL. CXLVII.

1 The Prophet praiseth the bounty, wisedome, power, iustice & prouidence of God vpon all his creatures, 2 but specially vpon his Church, which he gathereth together after their dispersion, 19 Declaring his word and iudgements so vnto them, as he hath done to none other people.

PRaise ye the Lord, for it is good to sing vnto our God: for it is [a] a pleasant thing, and praise is comely.

2 The Lord doeth build vp [b] Ierusalem, and gather together the dispersed of Israel.

3 He healeth those that are [c] broken in heart, and bindeth vp their sores.

4 He [d] counteth the number of the starres, and calleth them all by their names.

5 Great is our Lord, and great is his power: his wisdome is infinite.

6 The Lord releueth the meeke, and abaseth the wicked to the [e] ground.

7 Sing vnto the Lord with praise: sing vpon the harpe vnto our God,

8 Which [f] couereth the Heauen with cloudes, and prepareth raine for the earth, and maketh the grasse to growe vpon the mountaines:

9 Which giueth to beasts their food, and to the yong rauens that [g] crie.

10 He hath not pleasure in the [h] strength of an horse, neither delighteth he in the legs of man.

11 But the Lorde delighteth in them that feare him, and attend vpon his mercy.

12 Praise the Lord, O Ierusalem: praise thy God, O Zion.

13 For he hath made the barres of thy gates [i] strong, and hath blessed thy children within thee.

14 He setteth peace in thy borders, and satisfieth thee with the † floure of wheat.

15 He sendeth foorth his [k] commaundement vpon earth, and his word runneth very [l] swiftly.

16 He giueth snow like wooll, and scattereth the hoare frost like ashes.

17 He casteth foorth his yce like morsels: who can abide the cold thereof?

18 He sendeth his word and melteth them: he causeth his wind to blowe, and the waters flow.

19 He sheweth his [m] word vnto Iaakob, his statutes and his iudgements vnto Israel.

20 He hath not deale so with euery nation, neither haue they [n] knowen his iudgements. Praise ye the Lord.

a He sheweth wherein wee ought to exercise our selues continually, and to take our pastime to wit, in praising God.

b Because the Lord is the founder of the church, it cannot be destroyed, though the members thereof be dispersed, and seeme as it were, for a time to be cut off.

c With affliction or sorrow for sinne.

d Though it seeme to man incredible, that God should assemble his Church, being so dispersed: yet nothing can bee too hard to him, that can number and name all the starres.

e For the more high that the wicked clime, the greater is their fall in the end.

f He sheweth by the examples of Gods mighty power, goodnes and wisdome, that we can neuer want most iust occasion to praise God.

g For their crying is as it were a confession of their neede, which cannot be relieued, but by God only: then if God shewe himselfe mindfull of the most contemptible soules, can he suffer them to die with famine, whom he hath assured of life euerlasting?

h Though the lawfull meanes is both profitable and pleaseth God, yet to put our trust in them, is to defraud God of his honour.

i He doeth not onely furnish his Church with all things necessary, but preserueth also the same, and maketh it strong against all outward force. † Ebr. fat. k His secret working in all creatures is as a commaundement to keepe them in order, and to giue them mouing and force. l For immediately and without resisting all things obey him. m As before he called Gods secret working in all his creatures his word: so hee meaneth here by his word, the doctrine of life euerlasting, which he hath left to his Church, as a most precious treasure. n The cause of this difference is Gods free mercy, which hath elected vs in his Sonne Christ Iesus to saluation: and his iudgement, whereby he hath appointed the reprobate to eternall damnation.

PSAL. CXLVIII.

1 He prouoketh all creatures to praise the Lord in heauen and earth, and all places, 14 Specially his Church, for the power that he hath giuen to the same, after that he had chosen them, and ioyned them vnto him.

¶ Praise ye the Lord.

PRaise ye the Lord from the heauen: praise ye him in the high places.

2 Praise ye him, all ye [a] his Angels: praise him, all his army.

3 Praise yee him, [b] Sunne and Moone: praise ye him all bright starres.

4 Praise ye him, [c] heauens of heauens, and [d] waters that be aboue the heauens.

5 Let them praise the name of the Lord: for he commanded, and they were created.

6 And he hath established them for euer and euer: hee hath made an ordinance, which shall not passe.

7 Praise ye the Lord from the earth, ye [e] dragons, and all depths:

8 [f] Fire and hayle, snowe and vapours, stormy wind, which execute his word:

9 Mountaines and all hils, fruitfull trees and all cedars:

10 Beasts and all cattell, creeping things and feathered foules:

11 [g] Kings of the earth and all people, princes and all iudges of the world:

12 Yong men and maidens, aged olde men and children:

13 Let them praise the Name of the Lord: for his Name onely is to bee exalted, and his praise aboue the earth and the heauens.

14 For hee hath exalted the [h] horne of his people, which is a praise for all his Saints, euen for the [i] children of Israel, a people that is neere vnto him. Praise ye the Lord.

a Because they are members of the same body, he setteth them before our eyes, which are most willing hereunto, and by their prompt obedience teach vs to do our duety.

b In that Gods glory shineth in these insensible creatures, this their beauty is as a continuall praising of God.

c Not that there are diuers heauens, but because of the spheres and of the situation of the fixed starres and planets, he comprehendeth by this word the whole heauen.

d That is, the raine, which is in the middle region of the aire, which he heere comprehendeth vnder the name of the heauens.

e Meaning, the great and monstrous fishes, as whales, and such like.

f Which come not by chance or fortune, but by Gods appointed ordinance.

g For the greater giftes that any hath receiued, and the more high that one is preferred, the more bound is hee to praise God for the same: but neither high nor low condition or degree can be exempted from this duety. h That is, the dignitie, power and glory of his Church. i By reason of his couenant made with Abraham.

PSAL. CXLIX.

1 An exhortation to the Church to praise the Lord for his victory and conquest, that he giueth his Saints against all mans power.

¶ Praise ye the Lord.

SIng yee vnto the Lord [a] a new song: let his praise bee heard in the Congregation of Saints.

a For his rare and manifold benefites bestowed on his Church.

2 Let Israel reioyce in him that [b] made him, and let the children of Zion reioice in their [c] King.

3 Let them praise his Name with the flute: let them sing praises vnto him with the timbrell and harpe.

4 For the Lord hath pleasure in his people: he will make the meeke glorious by deliuerance.

5 Let the Saints bee ioyfull with glory: let them sing loud vpon their [d] beds.

6 Let the high actes of God bee in their mouth, and a two edged sword in their hands,

7 [e] To execute vengeance vpon the heathen, and correctings among the people:

8 To binde [f] their Kings in chaines, and their nobles with fetters of yron, 9 That they may execute vpon them the iudgement that is [g] written: this honour shall be to all his Saints. Praise ye the Lord.

b In that that they were preferred before all other nations, it was as a new creation, & therefore Psal. 95.7. they were called the sheepe of Gods hands.

c For God as he is the Creator of the soule and body, so will he that both two serue him and that his people be continually subiect vnto him, as to their most lawfull king.

d He alludeth to that continuall rest & quietnesse, which they should haue, if they would suffer God to rule them.

e This is chiefly accomplished in the kingdome of Christ, when Gods people for iust causes execute Gods iudgements against his enemies: and it giueth no liberty to any to reuenge their priuate iniuries. f Not onely the people, but the kings that were their enemies, should be destroied. g Hereby God bindeth the hands & minds of all men, to enterprise no further then he appointeth.

PSAL. CL.

1 An exhortation to praise the Lorde without ceasse by all maner of wayes, for all his mightie and wonderfull workes.

¶ Praise ye the Lord.

PRaise yee God in his [a] Sanctuary: praise ye him in the [b] firmament of his power.

2 Praise ye him in his mighty acts: praise ye him according to his excellent greatnes.

3 Praise ye him in the sound of the [c] trumpet: praise yee him vpon the viole and the harpe.

4 Praise yee him with timbrell and flute: praise ye him with virginals and organs.

5 Praise ye him with sounding cymbals: praise ye him with high sounding cymbals:

6 Let euery thing that hath [d] breath praise the Lord. Praise ye the Lord.

a That is, in the heauen.

b For his wonderfull power appeareth in the firmament, which in Ebrew is called a stretching out, or spreding abroad, wherin the mighty worke of God shineth.

c Exhorting the people onely to reioyce in praising God, he maketh mention of those instruments which by Gods commandement were appointed in the old Law, but vnder Christ the vse thereof is abolished in the Church. d He sheweth that all the order of nature is bound to this duety, and much more Gods children, who ought neuer to cease to praise him, till they be gathered into that kingdome, which hee hath prepared for his, where they shall sing euerlasting praise.

The * Prouerbes of Salomon.

* This word Prouerb, or Parable signifieth a graue & notable sentence, worthy to be kept in memory: & is sometime taken in the euill part for a mocke or scoffe.

The Argument.

THe wonderfull loue of God toward his Church is declared in this Booke: forasmuch as the summe and effect of the whole Scriptures is heere set foorth in these briefe Sentences, which partly containe doctrine, and partly maners, and also exhortations to both. Whereof the nine first Chapters are as a Preface full of graue sentences, and deepe mysteries, to allure the hearts of men to the diligent reading of the Parables that follow: which are left as a most precious iewell to the Church, of those three thousand Parables mentioned, 1. Kings 4.32. and were gathered and committed to writing by Salomons seruants, and indited by him.

CHAP.

CHAP. I.

1 The power and vse of the word of God. 7 Of the feare of God and knowledge of his word. 10 We may not consent to the entisings of sinners. 20 Wisedome complaineth that she is contemned. 24 The punishment of them that contemne her.

THe Parables of Salomon the sonne of Dauid King of Israel.

2 To knowe wisedome, [a] and instruction, to vnderstand the wordes [b] of knowledge,

3 To receiue [c] instruction to do wisely, by [d] iustice and iudgement and equity,

4 To giue vnto the [e] simple, sharpnesse of wit, and to the child knowledge & discretion.

5 A wise man shall heare and increase in learning, and a man of [f] vnderstanding shal attaine vnto wise counsels,

6 To vnderstand a parable, and the interpretation, the wordes of the wise, and their darke sayings.

7 ¶* The feare of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge: but fooles despise wisedome and instruction.

8 My sonne, heare thy [g] fathers instruction, and forsake not thy [h] mothers teaching.

9 For they shall bee † a comely ornament vnto thine head, and as chaines for thy necke.

10 ¶ My sonne, if [i] sinners do entise thee, consent thou not.

11 If they say, Come with vs, we will lay wayte for [k] blood, and lie priuily for the innocent without a cause:

12 We will swallow them vp aliue like a [l] graue euen whole, as those that go downe into the pit:

13 We shall finde all precious riches, and fill our houses with spoile:

14 Cast in thy lot among vs: we will all haue one [m] purse.

15 My sonne, walke not thou in the way with them: refraine thy foot from their [n] path.

16 For their feete runne to euill, and make haste to shed blood.

17 Certainely as without cause the net is spred before the eyes of all that hath wing:

18 So they lay wait for blood, and lie priuily for [o] their liues.

19 Such are the wayes of euery one that is greedy of gaine: hee would take away the [p] life of the owners thereof.

20 ¶ [q] Wisdome crieth without: she vttereth her voyce in the [r] streets.

21 She calleth in the high streete, among the prease in the entrings of the gates, and vttereth her wordes in the city, saying,

22 How [s] long, ye fooles, will ye loue foolishnes: and the scornefull take their pleasure in scorning, and the fooles hate knowledge?

23 (Turne you at my correction: loe, I will powre out my mind vnto you, and make you vnderstand my wordes)

24 Because I haue called, and ye refused: I haue stretched out mine hand, & none would regard.

25 But yee haue despised all my counsell, and would none of my correction.

26 I will also [t] laugh at your destruction, and mocke when your feare commeth.

27 When [u] your feare commeth like sudden desolation, and your destruction shal come like a whirlewinde: when affliction and anguish shall come vpon you,

28 Then shal they call vpon me, but I will not answere: they shall seeke mee early, but they shall not [x] find me, 29 Because they hated knowledge, and did not chuse the feare of the Lord.

30 They would none of my counsell, but [y] despised all my correction.

31 Therfore shall they eat of the [z] fruit of their owne way, and be filled with their owne deuises.

32 For [a] ease slayeth the foolish, and the prosperity of fooles destroyeth them.

33 But he that obeieth me, shal dwel safely, and be quiet from feare of euill.

That is, what we ought to know and follow, and what we ought to refuse.

Meaning the word of God, wherein is the onely true knowledge.

To learne to submit our selues to the correction of those that are wise.

By liuing iustly, & rendring to euery man that which appertaineth vnto him.

To such as haue no discretion to rule themselues.

As he sheweth that these parables conteining the effect of religion as touching maners and doctrine, doe appertaine to simple people: so doth he declare that the same is also necessary for them that are wise and learned.

* Psal. 111. 10. Eccles. 1. 16.

He speaketh this in the name of God, which is the vniuersall father of all creatures, or in the name of the pastor of the Church, who is as a father.

That is, of the Church, wherein the faithfull are begotten by the incorruptible seed of Gods word.

† Or increase of grace.

i To wit, the wicked which haue not the feare of God.

k He speaketh not onely of the shedding of blood with hand, but of all crafty practises which tend to the detriment of our neighbour.

l As the graue is neuer satiate, so the auarice of the wicked and their crueltie hath none ende.

m Hee sheweth whereby the wicked are allured to ioyne together, because they haue euery one part of the spoile of the innocent.

n That is, haue nothing at all to do with them.

o He sheweth that there is no cause to moue these wicked to spoile the innocent, but their auarice and crueltie.

p Whereby hee concludeth that the couetous man is a murtherer.

q This wisdome is the eternall word of God.

r So that none can pretend ignorance.

s Wisdome reproueth three kinds of men: the foolish or simple which erre of ignorance, and the mockers that cannot suffer to be taught, and the fooles which are drowned in worldly lusts, and hate the knowledge of godlines.

t This is spoken according to our capacity, signifying that the wicked which mocke and iest at Gods word, shall haue the iust rewards of their mocking.

u That is your destruction, which thing you feare.

x Because they sought not with an affection to God, but for ease of their owne griefe.

y Shewing, that without faith and obedience, we can not call vpon God aright.

z They shal feele what commodity their wicked life shall giue them.

a That is, the prosperity & sensuality wherein they delight.

CHAP. II.

1 Wisedome exhorteth to obey her. 5 Shee teacheth the feare of God. 6 She is giuen of God. 10 She preserueth from wickednesse.

MY sonne, if thou wilt receiue my words, and [a] hide my commandements within thee,

2 And cause thine eares to hearken vnto wisedome, and encline [b] thine heart to vnderstanding,

3 (For if thou callest after knowledge, [c] and criest for vnderstanding:

4 If thou seekest her as siluer, and searchest for her as for [d] treasures,

5 Then shalt thou vnderstand the feare of the Lord, and find the [e] knowledge of God.

6 For the Lorde giueth wisedome, out of his mouth commeth knowledge and vnderstanding.

7 Hee ‖ preserueth the state of the righteous: hee is a shielde to them that walke vprightly,

8 That they may keepe the wayes of iudgment: and hee preserueth the way of his Saints.

9 Then shalt thou vnderstand righteousnesse, a That is, keepe them in thine heart.

b If thou giue thy selfe to the true knowledge of God without hypocrisie.

c Meaning, that we must seeke the knowledge of God with care and diligence.

d Shewing that no labour must be spared.

e This (saith he) is the true wisdome, to know and feare God.

‖ Or, hideth the saluation.

nesse, and iudgement, and equity, and euery good path.

10 ¶ When wisedome entreth into thine heart, and knowledge delighteth thy soule,

11 Then shall [f] counsell preserue thee, and vnderstanding shall keepe thee,

12 And deliuer thee from the euil way, and from the man that speaketh froward things,

13 And from them that leaue the [g] wayes of righteousnes to walke in the waies of darknesse:

14 Which reioyce in doing euil, and delite [h] in the frowardnes of the wicked, 15 Whose waies are crooked, and they are lewd in their pathes.

16 And it shall deliuer thee frō the strange [i] woman, euen from the stranger, which flattereth with her words.

17 Which forsaketh ỹ [k] guide of her youth, and forgetteth the [l] couenant of her God.

18 Surely her [m] house tendeth to death, and her paths vnto [n] the dead.

19 All they that goe vnto her, returne not againe, neither take they hold of the wayes of life.

20 Therfore walk thou in the way of good men, and keepe the wayes of the righteous.

21 For the iust shal dwell in the [o] land, and the vpright men shall remaine in it.

22 But the wicked shalbe cut off from the earth, and the transgressors shall be rooted out of it.

f The word of God shall teach thee and counsell thee how to gouerne thy selfe.

g That is the word of God, which is the only light, to follow their owne fantasies which are darknesse.

h When they see any giuen to euil as they are.

i Meaning, that wisdom, which is the word of God, shall preserue vs from all vices: naming this vice of whoredome whereunto man is most prone.

k That is, her husband, which is her head and guide to gouerne her, from whom she ought not to depart, but remaine in his subiection.

l Which is the promise made in mariage.

m Her acquaintance with her familiars & them that haunt her.

n To them that are dead in body and soule.

o They shall enioy the temporall and spiritual promises of God, as the wicked shalbe voyd of them.

CHAP. III.

1 The word of God giueth life. 5 Truste in God. 7 Feare him. 9 Honour him 11 Suffer his correction. 22 To them that follow the worde of God, all things shall succeed well.

MY sonne, forget not thou my Lawe, but let thine heart *keepe my commandements.

2 For they shal increase the length of thy [a] dayes and the yeeres of life, and thy prosperitie.

3 Let not [b] mercy and trueth forsake thee: binde them on thy [c] necke, and write them vpon the table of thine [d] heart.

4 So shalt thou find fauour and good vnderstanding in the sight of God and man.

5 ¶ Trust in ỹ Lord with all thine heart, and leane not vnto thine owne wisdome.

6 In all thy wayes acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy wayes.

7 ¶ Be not wise in thine owne eyes: but feare the Lord, and depart from euill.

8 So health shall be vnto thy [e] nauell, and marow vnto thy bones.

9 [f] Honour the Lord with thy riches, and with the first fruits of all thine increase.

10 So shall thy barnes bee filled with abundance, and thy presses shall [g] burst with new wine.

11 ¶ My sonne, refuse not the chastening of the Lord, neither bee grieued with his correction.

12 * For the Lord correcteth him whome he loueth, euen as the father doth the childe in whom he delighteth.

13 Blessed is the man that findeth wisedom, and the man that getteth vnderstanding.

14 For the marchandise thereof is better then the marchandise of siluer, and the gaine thereof is better then gold.

15 It is more precious then pearles: and all things that thou canst desire, are not to bee compared vnto her.

16 Length of dayes is in her right hand, [h] and in her left hand riches and glory.

17 Her wayes are wayes of pleasure, and all her paths prosperity.

18 Shee is a tree [i] of life to them that lay hold on her, and blessed is he that retaineth her.

19 The Lord by wisedome hath layde the [k] foundation of the earth: and hath stablished the heauens through vnderstanding.

20 By his knowledge the depths are broken vp, and the cloudes droppe downe the dewe.

21 My sonne, let not these things depart from thine eyes, but obserue wisedome, and counsell.

22 So they shall bee life to thy soule, and grace vnto thy ‖ necke.

23 Then shalt thou walke safely by the way: and thy foot shall not stumble.

24 If thou sleepest, thou shalt not bee afraid: and when thou sleepest, thy sleepe shalbe sweet.

25 Thou shalt not feare for any sudden feare, neither for the [l] destruction of the wicked when it commeth.

26 For the Lord shalbe for thine assurance, and shall preserue thy foot from taking.

27 ¶ Withhold not the good from [m] the owners therof, though there be power in thine hand to doe it.

28 Say not vnto thy neighbour, Goe and come againe, and to morow will I giue thee, if thou now haue it.

29 ¶ Intend none hurt against thy neighbour, seeing he doeth dwell [n] without feare by thee.

30 ¶ Striue not with a man causelesse, when he hath done thee no harme.

31 ¶ Be not [o] enuious for the wicked man, neither chuse any of his wayes.

32 For the froward is abomination vnto the Lord: but his [p] secret is with the righteous.

g For to the faithful distributer God giueth in greater abundance.

h Meaning, that he that seeketh wisdome, that is, suffereth himselfe to be gouerned by the word of God, shall haue all prosperity both corporall and spirituall.

i Which bringeth foorth such fruit, that they that eat thereof, haue life: and he alludeth to the tree of life in paradise.

k Hereby he sheweth that this wisdome, whereof he speaketh, is euerlasting, because it was before al creatures, & that all things, euen the whole world were made by it.

‖ Or, throate, reade chap. 1. 9.

l For when God destroyeth the wicked, he will saue his, as he did Lot in Sodom.

m Not only from them to whom the possession belongeth, but also thou shalt not keepe it from them, which haue need of the vse therof.

n That is, putteth his trust in thee.

o Desire not to be like vnto him.

p That is, his couenant and fatherly affection which is hid and secret from the wicked.

*Deu. 8. 1. and 30. 16.

a Long life is the blessing of God, which he giueth to his, so farre forth as it is expedient for them.

b By mercy and trueth, he meaneth the cōmandements of the first and second table: or els the mercy and faithfulnes that we ought to vse toward our neighbours.

c Keepe them as a most precious iewell.

d Haue them euer in remembrance.

e By this part he comprehendeth the whole body, as by health he meaneth all the benefites promised in the Law both corporall and spirituall.

f As was commanded in the Law, Exod. 23. 19. Deut. 26. 2. and by this they acknowledged that God was the giuer of all things, and that they were ready to bestow all at his commandement.

33 The curse of the Lord is in the house of the wicked: but he blesseth the habitation of the righteous.

q He will shew by his plagues, that their scornes shall turne to their owne destruction, as Chap. 1, 26.

34 Surely the scorneful q he scorneth, but he giueth grace vnto the humble.

35 The wise shal inherit glory: but fooles dishonour, though they be exalted.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Wisedome and her fruits ought to be searched. 14 The way of the wicked must be refused. 20 By the word of God the heart, eyes, and course of life must be guided.

HEare, O ye children, the instruction of a [a] father, and giue eare to learne vnderstanding.

a He speaketh this in the person of a Preacher & minister which is as a father vnto the people, read Chap. 1, 8.

2 For I doe giue you a good doctrine: therefore forsake ye not my law.

3 For I was my fathers sonne, tender and [b] deare in the sight of my mother, b In Ebrew it is Dnely: for though she had three others, as 1. Chron. 3. 5. yet so tenderly she loued Salomon, that he was vnto her as her only sonne.

4 When [c] he taught me, and said vnto me, Let thine heart hold fast my words: keepe my commandements, and thou shalt liue.

c Meaning, Dauid his father.

5 Get wisdome: get vnderstanding: forget not, neither decline from the words of my mouth.

6 Forsake her not, and she shal keepe thee: loue her, and she shall preserue thee.

d He sheweth that we must first begin at Gods word, if so be we will that other things prosper with vs, contrary to the iudgement of y world, which make it their last study, or els care not for it at all.

7 [d] Wisdome is the beginning: get wisdome therefore: and aboue all thy possession get vnderstanding.

8 Exalt her, and she shal exalt thee: she shal bring thee to honour, if thou imbrace her.

9 She shall giue a comely ornament vnto thine head, yea, she shall giue thee a crowne of glory.

10 ¶ Heare, my sonne, and receiue my words, and the yeres of thy life shalbe many.

e Salomon declareth what care his father had to bring him vp in the true feare of God: for this was Dauids protestation.

11 I haue [e] taught thee in the way of wisdome, and led thee in the pathes of righteousnesse.

12 When thou goest, thy gate shall not be [f] straite, and when thou runnest, thou shalt not fall.

f Thou shalt walke at liberty without offence.

13 Take hold of instruction, and leaue not: keepe her, for she is thy life.

14 ¶ Enter not into the way of the wicked, and walke not in the way of euill men.

15 Auoyd it, and go not by it: turne from it, and passe by.

g Meaning, that to do euil is more proper & naturall to the wicked, then to sleepe, eat or drinke.

16 For they cannot [g] sleepe, except they haue done euill, and their sleepe departeth except they cause some to fall.

h Gotten by wicked meanes and cruell oppression.

17 For they eat the bread of [h] wickednes, and drinke the wine of violence.

i Signifying, that the godly increase daily in knowledge and perfection, till they come to full perfection, which is, when they shalbe ioyned to their head in the heauens.

18 But the way of the righteous shineth as the light, that [i] shineth more and more vnto the perfit day.

19 The way of the wicked is as the darknesse: they know not wherein they shall fall.

20 ¶ My sonne, hearken vnto my words, incline thine eare vnto my sayings, 21 Let them not depart from thine eyes, but keepe them in the mids of thine heart.

22 For they are life vnto those that finde them, and health vnto all their [k] flesh.

k That is, they shall haue health of body, vnder the which all other blessings promised in the law are conteined.

23 Keepe thine heart with all diligence: for thereout commeth [l] life.

l For as the heart is either pure or corrupt, so is the whole course of mans life.

24 Put away from thee a froward mouth, and put wicked lips farre from thee.

25 Let thine eyes behold the right, and let thine eye lids direct thy way before thee.

26 [m] Ponder the path of thy feet, and let all thy wayes be ordered aright, m Keepe a measure in all thy doings.

27 Turne not to the right hand, nor to the left, but remoue thy foot from euill.

CHAP. V.

1 Whoredome forbidden, 7 And prodigality. 15 He willeth a man to liue on his labours, and to help others, 18 To loue his wife. 22 The wicked taken in their owne wickednesse.

MY sonne, hearken vnto my wisedome, and incline thine eare vnto my ‖ knowledge, ‖ Or, vnderstanding.

2 That thou maiest regard counsell, and thy lips obserue knowledge.

3 For the lips [a] of a strange woman drop as an hony combe, and her mouth is more soft then [b] oyle, a That is, an harlot which giueth her selfe to an other then to her husband.

b By oyle and hony he meaneth flattering and crafty entisements.

4 But the ende of her is bitter as wormewood, and sharpe as a two edged sword.

5 Her [c] feet go downe to death, and her steps take hold on hell.

c All her doings leade to destruction.

6 She [d] weigheth not the way of life: her pathes are moueable: thou canst not knowe them.

d She hath euer new meanes to allure to wickednesse.

7 Heare ye me now therefore, O children, and depart not from the words of my mouth.

8 Keepe thy way farre from her, and come not neere the doze of her house,

9 Least thou giue thine [e] honour vnto others, and thy yeres to the cruell:

e That is, thy strength and goods to her that will haue no pity vpon thee: as we read of Samson, and the prodigall sonne.

10 Lest the stranger should be filled with thy strength, and thy [f] labours bee in the house of a stranger, f The goods gotten by thy trauel.

11 And thou mourne at thine ende, (when thou hast consumed thy flesh and thy body,)

12 And say, How haue I hated instruction, and mine heart despised correction!

g Although I was faithfully instructed in the truth, yet had I almost fallen to vtter shame and destruction, notwithstanding my good bringing vp in the assembly of the godly.

13 And haue not obeied the voice of them that taught me, nor inclined mine eare to them that instructed me!

h He teacheth vs sobriety, exhorting vs to liue of our owne labors, and to bee beneficiall to the godly that want.

14 I was almost brought into all euill in the middes of the Congregation and [g] assembly.

15 ¶ Drinke the water of [h] thy cisterne, and of the riuers out of the mids of thine owne well.

16 Let thy fountaines flow forth, and the riuers of waters in the streets.

17 But let them be thine, euen [i] thine onely, and not the strangers with thee.

i Distribute thē not to the wicked and infidels, but reserue them for thy selfe, thy family, and them that are of the houshold of faith.

18 Let

18 Let thy [k] fountaine bee blessed, and reioyce with the wife of thy [l] youth.

19 Let her be as the louing hind and pleasant roe: let her breasts satisfie thee at all times, and delight in her loue continually.

20 For why shouldest thou ‖ delight, my sonne, in a strange woman, or embrace the bosome of a stranger?

21 For the wayes of man are before the [m] eies of the Lord, & he pondereth all his paths.

22 His owne iniquities shall take the wicked himselfe, and he shall be holden with the cords of his owne sinne.

23 Hee shall [n] die for fault of instruction, and shall goe astray through his great follie.

k Thy children which shall come of thee in great abundance, shewing that God blesseth mariage and curseth whoredome.

l Which thou hadest married in thy youth.

‖ Or, goe astray with a stranger?

m He declareth that except man doe ioyne to his wife both in heart and outward conuersation, that he shall not escape the iudgements of God.

n Because he will not giue eare to Gods word and bee admonished.

CHAP. VI.

1 Instruction for sureties. 6 The slouthfull and sluggish is stirred to worke. 12 He describeth the nature of the wicked. 16 The things that God hateth. 20 To obserue the word of God. 24 To flee adulterie.

MY sonne, if thou be surety for thy neighbour, and hast stricken hands with the stranger,

2 Thou art [a] snared with the words of thy mouth: thou art euen taken with the wordes of thine owne mouth.

3 Doe this now, my sonne, and deliuer thy selfe: seeing thou art come into the hand of thy neighbour, goe, and humble thy selfe, and solicite thy friends.

4 Giue no sleepe to thine eyes, nor slumber to thine eyelids.

5 Deliuer thy selfe as a Doe from the hand of the hunter, and as a bird from the hand of the fowler.

6 ¶ Goe to [b] the pismire, O sluggard: behold her wayes, and be wise.

7 For shee hauing no guide, gouernor, nor ruler,

8 Prepareth her meat in the summer, and gathereth her food in harueft.

9 How long wilt thou sleepe, O sluggard? when wilt thou arise out of thy sleepe?

10 * Yet a little sleepe, a little slumber, [c] a little folding of the hands to sleepe.

11 Therefore thy pouertie commeth as one that [d] trauaileth by the way, and thy necessitie like [e] an armed man.

12 The vnthriftie man [f] and the wicked man walketh with a froward mouth.

13 Hee maketh a signe with his eyes: hee † signifieth with his feet: he [g] instructeth with his fingers.

14 Lewd things are in his heart: he imagineth euill at all times, and raiseth vp contentions.

15 Therefore shall his destruction come speedily: he shall be destroyed suddenly without recouerie.

a He forbiddeth vs not to become surety one for another, according to the rule of charitie, but that we consider for whom and after what sort, so that the creditor may not be defrauded.

b If the word of God cannot instruct thee, yet learn at the little pismire to labour for thy selfe and not to burden others.

* Chap. 24. 33.

c He expresseth liuely the nature of the sluggards, which though they sleepe neuer so long, yet haue neuer enough, but euer seeke occasions thereunto.

d That is, suddenly, and when thou lookest not for it.

e It shall come in such sort as thou art not able to resist it.

f He sheweth to what inconuenience the idle persons and sluggards come, by calling them vnthriftie or the men of Belial, and slanderous.

† Hebr. speaketh.

g Thus all his gesture tendeth to wickednesse.

16 ¶ These six things doth the Lord hate: yea, his soule abhorreth seuen:

17 The hautie eyes, a lying tongue, and the hands that shed innocent blood,

18 An heart that imagineth wicked enterprises, [h] feete that bee swift in running to mischiefe, 19 A false witnesse that speaketh lies, and him that raiseth vp contentions among ‖ brethren.

20 ¶ My sonne, keepe thy fathers commandement, and forsake not thy mothers instruction.

21 Binde them alway vpon thine [i] heart, and tie them about thy necke.

22 It shall leade thee when thou walkest: it shall watch for thee when thou sleepest, and when thou wakest, it shall talke with thee.

23 For the [k] commandement is a lanterne, and instruction a light: and [l] corrections for instruction are the way of life, 24 To keepe thee from the wicked woman, and from the flatterie of the tongue of a strange woman.

25 Desire not her beautie in thine heart, neither let her take thee with her [m] eye lids.

26 For because of the whorish woman, a man is brought to a morsell of bread, and a woman wil hunt for the precious life of a man.

27 [n] Can a man take fire in his bosome, and his clothes not be burnt?

28 Or can a man goe vpon coales, and his feet not be burnt?

29 So he that goeth in to his neighbours wife, shal not be innocent, whosoeuer toucheth her.

30 Men doe not [o] despise a thiefe, when he stealeth, to satisfie his [p] soule, because hee is hungry.

31 But if he be found, he shall restore seuen fold, or hee shall giue all the substance of his house.

32 But he that committeth adulterie with a woman, hee † is destitute of vnderstanding: he that doeth it, destroyeth his owne soule.

33 He shall find [q] a wound and dishonour, and his reproch shall neuer be put away.

34 For iealousie is the rage of a man: therefore he wil not [r] spare in the day of vengeance.

35 Hee cannot beare the sight of any ransome: neither will hee consent, though thou augment the gifts.

h Meaning the raging affections, which carie a man away in such sort that he cannot tell what he doeth.

‖ Or, neighbours

i Reade Chap. 3. 3.

k By this commandement he meaneth the word of God: and by the instruction, the preaching and declaration of the same, which is committed to the Church.

l And reproofes when the word is preached, bring vs to life.

m With her wanton looks and gesture.

n Meaning, the fire will neuer cease, till shee haue brought thee to beggerie and then seeke thy destruction.

o He supposeth not theft, but sheweth that it is not so abominable as whoredome, for a man as theft might be redeemed: but adulterie was a perpetuall infamie, & punished by the † Lawe of God.

p Meaning, for very necessitie.

† Hebr. faileth in heart.

q That is, as appointed by the Law.

r He sheweth that man by nature seeketh the death, that hath abused his wife: and so concludeth that neither Gods Law, the Lawe of nature admitteth any ransome for the adulterie.

a apple of thine eyes.

3 Binde them vpon thy fingers, and write them vpon the table of thine heart.

4 Say vnto wisedome, Thou art my sister: and call vnderstanding thy kinswoman,

5 That they may keepe thee from the strange woman, euen from the stranger that is smooth in her words.

6 ¶ [b] As I was in the windowe of mine house, I looked through my window,

7 And I saw among the fooles, and considered among the children a young man destitute of vnderstanding,

8 Who passed through the streete by her corner, and went toward her house,

9 In the twilight of the euening, when the night began to be [c] blacke and darke.

10 And beholde, there met him a woman with an harlots || behauiour, and || subtill in heart.

11 (She [d] is babbling and lowde: whose feet cannot abide in her house.

12 Now she is without, now in the streets, and lieth in wait at euery corner)

13 So she caught him and kissed him and † with an impudent face said vnto him, 14 I haue [e] peace offerings: this [f] day haue I payed my vowes.

15 Therefore came I forth to meete thee, that I might seeke thy face: and I haue found thee.

19 I haue decked my bed with ornaments, || carpets and laces of Egypt.

17 I haue perfumed my bed with myrrhe, aloes, and cinamom.

18 Come, let vs take our fill of loue vntill the morning: let vs take our pleasure in dalliance.

19 For mine husband is not at home: hee is gone a iourney farre off.

20 Hee hath taken † with him a bagof siluer, and will come home at the day appointed.

21 Thus with her great craft shee caused him to yeeld, and with her flattering lips shee entised him.

22 And he followed her straight wayes, as an [g] oxe that goeth to the slaughter, and [h] as a foole to the stocks for correction,

23 Til a dart strike through his liuer, as a bird hasteth to the snare, not knowing that † he is in danger.

24 ¶ Heare me now therefore, O children, and hearken to the words of my mouth.

25 Let not thine heart decline to her waies: wander not thou in her paths.

26 For she hath caused many to fall downe wounded, and the [i] strong men are all slaine by her.

27 Her house is the way *vnto the graue, which goeth downe to the chambers of death.

a By this diuerse of wordes meaneth that nothing ought to be so deare vnto vs, as the word of God, for that we looke in any thing more, nor minde any thing so much.

b Salomon beareth this parable to declare their follie, that suffer themselues to be abused by harlots.

c He sheweth that there was almost none so impudent, but they were afraid to be seene, and also their owne consciences did accuse them, which caused them to seeke the night to couer their filthines.

d Or, garment.

e Or, hid.

f He describeth certaine conditions, which are peculiar to harlots.

† Ebr. she strengthened her face.

g Because that in peace offerings a portion returned to them that offered, she sheweth him that she hath meat at home to make good cheare with: or else she would faine some cloke of holinesse till she had gotten him in her snares.

h Which declareth that harlots outwardly will seeme holy and religious: both because they may the better deceiue others, and also thinking by obseruing of ceremonies and offrings to make satisfaction for their sinnes.

i Or, carued worke.

† Eb. in his hand.

g Which thinking he goeth to the pasture, goeth willingly to his owne destruction.

h Which goeth heedefully, not knowing that he shalbe chastened.

i Ebr. it is for his life.

k Neither wit nor strength can deliuer them that fal into the hands of the harlot.

* Chap. 2. 18.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Wisedome declareth her excellencie. 11 Riches. 15 Power. 22 Eternitie. 32 Shee exhorteth all to loue and follow her.

DOeth * not [a] wisedome crie? and vnderstanding vtter her voyce?

2 She standeth in the top of the high places by the way in the place of the paths.

3 She crieth beside [b] the gates before the citie at the entrie of the doores,

4 O men, I call vnto you, and vtter my voyce to the children of men.

5 O ye foolish men, vnderstand wisdome, and ye, O fooles, be wise in heart.

6 Giue eare, for I will speake of excellent things, and the opening of my lips shall teach things that be right.

7 For my mouth shall speake the trueth, and my lips abhorre wickednesse.

8 All the words of my mouth are righteous: there is no lewdnesse, nor frowardnesse in them.

9 They are all [c] plaine to him that will vnderstand, and streight to them that would finde knowledge.

10 Receiue mine instruction, and not siluer, and knowledge rather then fine gold.

11 For wisedome is better then precious stones: and all pleasures are not to bee compared vnto her.

12 I wisedome dwel with [d] prudence, and I find forth knowledge and counsels.

13 The feare of the Lord is to hate [e] euill: as pride, and arrogancie, and the euill way: and a mouth that speaketh lewd things, I doe hate.

14 I haue counsell and wisedome: I am vnderstanding, and I haue strength.

15 By me Kings [f] reigne, and princes decree iustice.

16 By mee Princes rule, and the nobles, and all the iudges of the earth.

17 I loue them that loue mee: and they that seeke mee early, shall finde me.

18 Riches and honour are with mee: [h] euen durable riches and righteousnesse.

19 My fruit is better then gold, euen then fine golde, and my reuenues better then fine siluer.

20 I cause to walke in the way of righteousnesse, and in the middes of the pathes of [i] iudgement, 21 That I may cause them that loue me, to inherite substance, and I will fill their treasures.

22 The Lord hath possessed me in the beginning of his way: I was [k] before his works of old.

23 I was set vp from euerlasting, from the beginning and before the earth.

a Salomon declareth that man is cause of his owne perdition, and that he can pretend no ignorance, forasmuch as God calleth to all men by his word, and by his works to follow vertue and to flee from vice.

b Where the people did most resort, & which was the place of iustice.

c Meaning, that the word of God is easie vnto all, that haue a desire vnto it, and which are not blinded by the prince of this world.

d That is, except a man haue wisedome, which is the true knowledge of God, he can neither be prudent nor good counseller.

e So that he that doeth not hate euill, feareth not God.

f Whereby he declareth that honours, dignitie or riches come not of mans wisedome or industrie, but by the prouidence of God.

g That is, studie the word of God diligently, and with a desire to profite.

h Signifying, that he chiefly meaneth the spirituall treasures and heauenly riches.

i For there can be no true iustice or iudgement, which is not directed by this wisedome.

k He declareth hereby the diuinitie and eternitie of this wisedome, which he magnifieth and praiseth through this Booke: meaning thereby the eternall Sonne of God Iesus Christ our Sauiour, whom Saint Iohn calleth the Word that was in the beginning. Iohn 1. 1.

24 When there were no depths, was I begotten, when there were no fountaines abounding with water.

25 Before the mountaines were setled: and before the hils, was I begotten:

26 He had not yet made the earth, nor the open places, nor the height of the dust in the world.

27 When hee prepared the heauens, I was [l] there, when he set the compasse vpon the deepe.

28 When hee established the cloudes aboue, when he confirmed the fountaines of the deepe,

29 When he gaue his decree to the Sea, that the waters should not passe his commandement: when hee appointed the foundations of the earth,

30 Then was I with him as [m] a nourisher, and I was daily his delight reioycing alway before him, 31 And tooke my [n] solace in the compasse of his [o] earth: and my delight is with the children of men.

32 Therefore nowe hearken, O children, vnto mee: for blessed are they that keepe my wayes.

33 Heare instruction, and be yee wise, and refuse it not: blessed is the man that heareth me, watching daily at my gates, and giuing attendance at the postes of my doores.

34 For he that findeth me, findeth life, and shall obtaine fauour of the Lord.

35 But hee that sinneth against mee, hurteth his owne soule: and all that hate me, loue death.

l He declareth the eternitie of the Son of God, which is meant by this word wisdome, who was before all time, and euer present with the Father.
m Some reade, a chiefe worker: signifying that this Wisedome, euen Christ Iesus, was equall with God his Father, and created preserueth and still worketh with him, as Ioh. 5.17.
n Whereby is declared that the worke of the creation was no paine but a solace vnto the wisdome of God.
o By earth he meaneth man, which is the worke of God, in whom wisedome tooke pleasure: in so much as for mans sake the Diuine wisedome tooke mans nature, and dwelt among vs, and filled vs with vnspeakeable treasures: and this is that solace and pastime whereof is here spoken.

CHAP. IX.

2 Wisedome calleth all to her feast. 7 The scorner will not be corrected. 10 The feare of God. 13 The conditions of the harlot.

WIsedome hath built her [a] house, and hewen out her [b] seuen pillars.

2 She hath killed her vitailes, drawen her wine, and [c] prepared her table.

3 Shee hath sent forth her [d] maidens, and crieth vpon the highest places of the citie, saying,

4 Who so is [e] simple, let him come hither, and to him that is destitute of wisedome, shee saith,

5 Come, and eat of my [f] meate, and drinke of the wine that I haue drawen.

6 Forsake your way, yee foolish, and yee shall liue: and walke in the way of vnderstanding.

7 He that reproueth a scorner, purchaseth to himselfe shame: and hee that rebuketh the wicked, getteth himselfe a [g] blot.

a Christ hath prepared him a Church.
b That is, many chiefe states and principall parts of his Church, as were the Patriarks, Prophets, Apostles, Pastors, & Doctors.
c He compareth wisedome with great princes that keepe open house for all that come.
d Meaning, true preachers, which are not infected with mans wisedome.
e He that knoweth his owne ignorance, and is voyd of malice.
f By the meat and drinke, is meant the word of God, and the ministration of the Sacraments, whereby God nourisheth his seruants in his house, which is the Church. g For the wicked will contemne him, and labour to defame him.

8 Rebuke not a [h] scorner, lest hee hate thee: but rebuke a wise man, and he will loue thee.

9 Giue admonition to the wise, and he wil bee wiser: teach a righteous man, and he will increase in learning.

10 The beginning of wisdome is the feare of the Lord, and the knowledge of holy things is [i] vnderstanding.

11 For thy dayes shalbe multiplied by me, and the yeeres of thy life shalbe augmented.

12 If thou be wise, thou shalt bee wise for [k] thy selfe, and if thou be a scorner, thou alone shalt suffer.

13 ¶ A [l] foolish woman is troublesome: shee is ignorant, and knoweth nothing.

14 But she sitteth at the doore of her house on a seate in the high places of the citie,

15 To call them that passe by the way, that goe right on their way, saying,

16 Who so is simple, let him come hither, and to him that is destitute of wisedome, shee saith also,

17 Stollen waters are sweete, and hidde bread is pleasant.

18 But hee knoweth not, that the dead are there, and that her ghests are the depth of hell.

h Meaning, them that are incorrigible, which Christ called dogs and swine: for hee speaketh this in comparison, not that the wicked should not be rebuked, but he sheweth their malice, and the small hope of profite.
i Hee sheweth what true vnderstanding is, to know the will of God in his word, which is meant by holy things.
k Thou shalt haue the chiefe profit and commodity thereof.
l By the foolish woman, some vnderstand the wicked preachers, who counterfeit the word of God, as appeareth, verse 16. which were the words of the true preachers, as verse 4. but their doctrine is but as stollen waters: meaning that they are but mens traditions, which are more pleasant to the flesh then the word of God: and therefore they themselues boast therof.

CHAP. X.

In this Chapter and all that follow vnto the thirtieth, the wise man exhorteth by diuers sentences, which hee calleth Parables, to follow vertue, and to flee vice: and sheweth also what profite commeth of wisedome, and what hinderance procedeth of foolishnesse.

THE PARABLES OF Salomon.

A * wise sonne maketh a glad father: but a foolish sonne is an heauines to his mother.

* Chap.15.20.

2 The treasures of [a] wickednes profit nothing: but righteousnesse deliuereth from death.

a That is, wickedly gotten.

3 The Lord will [b] not famish the soule of the righteous: but hee casteth away the substance of the wicked.

b Though he suffer the iust to want for a time, yet he will send him comfort in due season.

4 A ‖ slouthfull hand maketh poore: but the hand of the diligent maketh rich.

‖ Or, deceitfull.

5 He that gathereth in summer, is the sonne of wisedome: but he that sleepeth in haruest, is the sonne of confusion.

6 Blessings are vpon the head of the righteous: but iniquitie shall couer the mouth of [c] the wicked.

7 The memorial of the iust shalbe blessed: but the name of the wicked shall [d] rotte.

8 The wise in heart will receiue commandements: but the foolish in † talke shalbe beaten.

c When their wickednes shall be discouered, they shalbe as dumbe, and not know what to say.
d Shalbe vile, abhorred both of God and men, contrary to the other expected, which shalbe made glorious.
† Heb. lips.

9 Hee that walketh vprightly, walketh ‖ boldly: but hee that peruerteth his wayes, shalbe knowen.

10 Hee that [c] winketh with the eye, worketh sorrow, and hee that is [f] foolish in talke, shalbe beaten.

11 The mouth of a righteous man is a welspring of life: but iniquitie couereth the mouth of the wicked.

12 Hatred stirreth vp contentions: * but loue couereth all trespasses.

13 In the lippes of him that hath vnderstanding wisedome is found, and [g] a rod shalbe for the backe of him that is destitute of wisedome.

14 Wise men lay vp knowledge: but the mouth of the foole is a present destruction.

15 The rich mans goods are his [h] strong citie: but the feare of the needie is their pouertie.

16 The labour of the righteous tendeth to life: but the reuenues of the wicked to sinne.

17 Hee that regardeth instruction, is in the way of life: but hee that refuseth correction, goeth out of the way.

18 Hee that dissembleth hatred with lying lips, and he that inuenteth slander, is a foole.

19 In many wordes there cannot want iniquitie: but hee that refraineth his lips, is wise.

20 The tongue of the iust man is as fined siluer: but the heart of the wicked is little worth.

21 The lippes of the righteous doe [i] feede many: but fooles shall die for want of wisedome.

22 The blessing of the Lord, it maketh rich, and he doeth adde [k] no sorrowes with it.

23 It is as a pastime to a foole to doe wickedly: but wisedome is vnderstanding to a man.

24 That which the wicked feareth, shall come vpon him: but God will graunt the desire of the righteous.

25 As the whirlewinde passeth, so is the wicked no more: but the righteous is as an euerlasting foundation.

26 As vineger is to the teeth, and as smoke to the eyes, so is the slothful to them that [l] send him.

27 The feare of the Lord increaseth the daies: but the yeeres of the wicked [m] shalbe diminished.

28 The patient abiding of the righteous shalbe gladnesse: but the hope of the wicked shall perish.

29 The way of the Lord is strength to the vpright man: but feare shalbe for the workers of iniquitie.

30 The righteous shall [n] neuer bee remoued: but the wicked shall not dwell in the land.

31 The mouth of the iust shalbe fruitful in wisedome: but the tongue of the froward shal be cut out.

32 The lips of the righteous know what is acceptable: but the mouth of the wicked speaketh froward things.

CHAP. XI.

FAlse [a] balances are an abomination vnto the Lord: but a perfite † weight pleaseth him.

2 When pride commeth, then commeth [b] shame: but with the lowly is wisedome.

3 The vprightnesse of the iust shall guide them: but the frowardnesse of the transgressors shall destroy them.

4 * Riches auaile not in the day of wrath: but righteousnes deliuereth from death.

5 The righteousnes of the vpright shal direct his way: but the wicked shall fall in his owne wickednes.

6 The righteousnes of the iust shal deliuer them: but the transgressors shall bee taken in their owne wickednes.

7 * When a wicked man dieth, his hope perisheth, and the hope of the vniust shall perish.

8 The righteous escapeth out of trouble, and the wicked shall come in his [c] stead.

9 An [d] hypocrite with his mouth hurteth his neighbour: but the righteous shall be deliuered by knowledge.

10 In the prosperitie of the righteous the citie [e] reioyceth: and when the wicked perish, there is ioy.

11 By the ‖ blessing of the righteous the citie is exalted: but it is subuerted by the mouth of the wicked.

12 He that despiseth his neighbour, is destitute of wisedome: but a man of vnderstanding will [f] keepe silence.

13 He that goeth about as a slanderer, discouereth a secret: but hee that is of a faithfull heart, concealeth a matter.

22 *A ioyfull heart causeth good health: but a sorowfull minde dryeth the bones.

23 A wicked man taketh a gift out of the [l] bosome to wrest the wayes of iudgement.

24 *Wisedome is in the face of him that hath vnderstanding: but the eyes of a foole are in the [m] corners of the world.

25 A foolish sonne is a griefe vnto his father, and a *heauinesse to her that bare him.

26 Surely it is not good to condemne the iust, nor that the Princes should smite such [n] for equitie.

27 Hee that hath knowledge, spareth his wordes, and a man of vnderstanding is of an excellent spirit.

28 Euen a foole (when hee holdeth his peace) is counted wise, and hee that stoppeth his lips, prudent.

CHAP. XVIII.

[a] For the desire thereof he will separate himselfe to seeke it, and occupie himselfe in all wisedome.

2 A foole hath no delight in vnderstanding: but that his heart may be [b] discouered.

3 When the wicked commeth, then commeth [c] contempt, & with the vile man reproch.

4 The wordes of a mans mouth are like deepe [d] waters, and the wellspring of wisedome is like a flowing riuer.

5 It is not good to [e] accept the person of the wicked, to cause the righteous to fall in iudgement.

6 A fooles lips come with strife, and his mouth calleth for stripes.

7 A fooles mouth is his owne destructions, and his lips are a snare for his soule.

8 The wordes of a talebearer are as flatterings, and they goe downe into the [f] bowels of the belly.

9 He also that is slothfull in his worke, is euen the brother of him that is a great waster.

10 The name of the Lord is a strong towre: the righteous runneth vnto it, and is exalted.

11 *The rich mans riches are his strong citie: and as an high wall in his imagination.

12 *Before destruction the heart of a man is hautie, and before glory goeth lowlinesse.

13 *He that answereth a matter before he heare it, it is folly and shame vnto him.

14 The spirit of a man will sustaine his infirmitie: but [h] a wounded spirit who can beare it?

15 A wise heart getteth knowledge, and the eare of the wise seeketh learning.

16 A mans gift [i] enlargeth him, and leadeth him before great men.

17 [k] He that is first in his owne cause, is iust: then commeth his neighbour, and maketh inquirie of him.

18 The lot [l] causeth contentions to cease, and [m] maketh a partition among the mightie.

19 A brother offended is harder to winne then a strong citie, and their contentions are like the [n] barre of a palace.

20 With the fruite of a mans mouth shall his belly be satisfied, and with the increase of his lips shall he be filled.

21 Death and life are in the power of the tongue, and they that [o] loue it, shall eate the fruite thereof.

22 He that findeth [p] a wife, findeth a good thing, and receiueth fauour of the Lord.

23 The poore speaketh with prayers: but the rich answereth roughly.

24 A man that hath friends, ought to shew himselfe friendly: for a friend is neerer [q] then a brother.

CHAP. XIX.

BEtter * is the poore that walketh in his vprightnesse, then he that abuseth his lips, and is a foole.

2 For without knowledge the mind is not good, and he that hasteth with his feet, sinneth.

3 The foolishnes of a man peruerteth his way, and his heart fretteth against the Lord.

4 Riches gather many friends: but the poore is separated from his neighbour.

5 *A false witnesse shall not be vnpunished: and he that speaketh lies, shall not escape.

6 Many reuerence the face of the Prince, & euery man is friend to him that giueth gifts.

7 All the brethren of the poore doe hate him: how much more will his friends depart farre from him? though hee be instant [a] with wordes, yet they will not.

THe glory of God is to [c] conceale a thing ſecret: but the [d] Kings honor is to ſearch out a thing.

4 Take the [f] droſſe from the ſiluer, and there ſhall proceede a veſſell for the finer.

5 Take [g] away the wicked from the king, & his throne ſhalbe ſtabliſhed in righteouſnes.

6 Boaſt not thy ſelfe before the King, and ſtand not in the place of great men.

7 *For it is better, that it bee ſayd vnto thee, Come vp hither, then thou to be put lower in preſence of the Prince whom thine eyes haue ſeene.

8 Goe not forth haſtily to ſtrife, leſt thou know not what to doe in the end thereof, when thy neighbour hath put thee to ſhame.

9 Debate thy matter with thy neighbour, and diſcouer not the ſecret to another,

10 Leſt hee that heareth it put thee to ſhame, and thine infamie doe not [h] ceaſe.

11 A word ſpoken in his place, is like apples of gold with pictures of ſiluer.

12 Hee that reproueth the wiſe, and the obedient eare, is as a golden earering and an ornament of fine gold.

13 As the [i] colde of the ſnow in the time of harueſt, ſo is a faithfull meſſenger to them that ſend him: for he refreſheth the ſoule of his maſters.

14 A man that boaſteth of falſe liberality, is like [k] cloudes and winde without raine.

15 A prince is pacified by ſtaying [l] of anger, and a ſoft tongue breaketh the [m] bones.

16 If thou haue found honie, eate that is [n] ſufficient for thee, leſt thou be ouer full, and vomit it.

17 Withdraw thy foote from thy neighbours houſe, leſt he be weary of thee, and hate thee.

18 A man that beareth falſe witneſſe againſt his neighbour, is like an hammer and a ſword, and a ſharpe arrow.

19 Confidence in an vnfaithfull man in time of trouble, is like a broken tooth and a ſliding foote.

20 Hee that taketh away the garment in the colde ſeaſon, is lke vineger powred vpon [o] ‖ nitre, or like him that ſingeth ſongs to an heauie heart.

21 *If hee that hateth thee bee hungry, giue him bread to eate, and if hee bee thirſtie, giue him water to drinke.

22 For thou ſhalt lay [p] coales vpon his head, and the Lord ſhall recompenſe thee.

23 As the Northwinde driueth away the raine, ſo doeth an angry countenance the ſlandering tongue.

24 *It is better to dwell in a corner of the houſe top, then with a contentious woman in a wide houſe.

25 As are the colde waters to a wearie ſoule, ſo is good newes from a farre countrey.

26 A righteous man falling downe before the wicked, is like a troubled well, and a corrupt ſpring.

27 It is not good to eate much hony: *ſo to ſearch their owne glory is not glory.

28 A man that refraineth not his appetite, is like a Citie which is [q] broken downe and without walles.

AS the ſnow in the ſummer, and as the raine in the haruеſt are not meete, ſo is honour vnſeemely for a foole.

10 [f] The excellent that formed all things, both rewardeth the foole and rewardeth the tranſgreſſers.

11 *As a dog turneth againe to his owne vomit, ſo a foole turneth to his fooliſhneſſe.

a Because their owne consciences accuseth them. THe wicked a flee when none pursueth: but the righteous are bold as a Lyon.

b The state of the common weale is oftentimes changed. 2 For the transgression of the land b there are many princes thereof: but by a man of vnderstanding and knowledge a realme likewise endureth long.

3 A poore man, if he oppresse the poore, is like a raging raine that leaueth no foode.

4 They that forsake the Law, praise the wicked: but they that keepe the law, set themselues against them.

5 Wicked men vnderstand not iudgement: but they that seeke the Lord, vnderstand all things.

*Chap.19.1. 6 *Better is the poore that walketh in his vprightnesse, then hee that peruerteth his wayes, though he be rich.

7 He that keepeth the Law, is a childe of vnderstanding: but he that feedeth the gluttons, shameth his father.

c For God will take away the wicked vsurer, and giue his goods to him that shall deale them well. 8 He that increaseth his riches by vsurie and interest, gathereth c them for him that will be mercifull vnto the poore.

d Because it is not of faith, which is grounded of Gods worde, or Law, which the wicked contemne. 9 He that turneth away his eare from hearing the Law, euen his prayer shall bee d abominable.

10 Hee that causeth the righteous to goe astray by an euill way, shall fall into his owne pit, and the vpright shall inherite good things.

11 The rich man is wise in his owne conceit: but the poore that hath vnderstanding, can trie [c] him.

14 Blessed is the man that [g] feareth alway: but he that hardeneth his heart, shall fall into euill.

15 As a roaring Lyon, and an hungrie Beare, so is [h] a wicked ruler ouer the poore people.

16 A prince destitute of vnderstanding, is also a great oppressour: but he that hateth couetousnesse, shall prolong his dayes.

17 A man that doeth violence against the blood of a person, shall flee vnto the graue, and they shall not [i] stay him.

18 He that walketh vprightly, shall be saued: but he that is froward in his wayes, shall once fall.

19 * He that tilleth his land, shall be satisfied with bread, but he that followeth the idle, shall be filled with pouertie.

20 A faithful man shal abound in blessings, and * he that maketh haste to be rich, shall not be innocent.

21 To haue respect of persons is not good: for that man will transgresse for a piece of [k] bread.

22 A man with a wicked [l] eye hasteth to riches, and knoweth not that pouertie shall come vpon him.

23 He that rebuketh a man, shal find more fauour at the length, then hee that flattereth with his tongue.

24 He that robbeth his father and mother, and saith, It is no transgression, is the companion of a man that destroyeth.

25 Hee that is of a proud heart, stirreth vp strife: but he that trusteth in the Lord, shall be [m] fat.

26 He that trusteth in his owne heart, is a foole: but he that walketh in wisedome, shal be deliuered.

27 He that giueth vnto the poore, shall not lacke: but hee that hideth his eyes, shall haue many curses.

28 * When the wicked rise vp, men hide themselues: but when they perish, the righteous increase.

CHAP. XXIX.

A Man that hardeneth his necke when he is rebuked, shall suddenly bee destroyed and cannot be cured.

2 * When the righteous ‖ are in authoritie, the people reioyce: but when the wicked beareth rule, the people sigh.

3 A man that loueth wisedome, reioyceth his father: but * he that feedeth harlots, wasteth his substance.

4 A King by iudgement maintaineth the countrey: but a man receiuing gifts, destroystroyeth it.

5 A man that flattereth his neighbour, [a] spreadeth a net for his steps.

6 In the transgression of an euill man is his [b] snare: but the righteous doe sing and reioyce.

7 The righteous knoweth the cause of the poore: but the wicked regardeth not knowledge.

8 Scorneful men bring a city into a snare: but wise men turne away wrath.

9 If a wise man contend with [c] a foolish man, whether he be angrie or laugh, there is no rest.

10 Bloody men hate him that is vpright: but the iust haue care of his soule.

11 A foole powreth out all his minde: but a wise man keepeth it in till afterward.

12 Of a prince that harkeneth to lies, all his seruants are wicked.

13 * The poore and the vsurer meete together, and the Lorde lighteneth both their eyes.

14 * A king that iudgeth the poore in trueth, his throne shalbe established for euer.

15 The rod and correction giue wisdome: but a childe set at libertie, maketh his mother ashamed.

16 When the wicked are increased, transgression increaseth: but the righteous shall see their fall.

17 Correct thy sonne, and he will giue thee rest, and will giue pleasures to thy soule.

18 [d] Where there is no vision, the people decay: but he that keepeth the Law, is blessed.

19 A [e] seruant will not bee chastised with wordes: though he vnderstand, yet he will not ‖ answere.

2 To humble our selues in consideration of Gods workes. 5 The worde of God is perfite. 11 Of the wicked and hypocrites. 15 Of the things that are neuer satiate. 18 Of others that are wonderfull.

THE WORDES OF a AGVR the sonne of Iakeh.

a Who was an excellent man in vertue and knowledge in the time of Salomon.

THe prophecie which the man spake vnto Ithiel, euen to b Ithiel, and Ucal.

b Which were Agurs schollers or friends.

2 Surely I am more c foolish then any man, and haue not the vnderstanding of a man in me.

c Herein he declareth his great humilitie, who would not attribute any wisdom to himselfe, but all vnto God.

3 For I haue not learned wisedome, nor attained to the knowledge of holy things.

4 Who hath ascended vp to d heauen, and descended? Who hath gathered the winde in his fist? Who hath bound the waters in a garment? Who hath established all the endes of the world? What is his name, and what is his sonnes name, if thou canst tell.

d Meaning, to know the secrets of God, as though he would say, None.

* Psal. 19.8. * Deut. 4.2. and 12.32.

7 Two e things haue I required of thee: deny me them not before I die.

8 Remoue farre from mee vanity & lies: giue me not pouertie nor riches: feed me with food conuenient for me,

9 Least I be full, and deny thee, and say, f Who is the Lord? or least I bee poore and steale, and take the name of my God in vaine.

f Meaning, that they that put their trust in their riches, forget God, and that by too much wealth men haue an occasion to the same.

10 Accuse not a seruant vnto his master, least he curse thee, g when thou hast offended.

g In accusing him without cause.

11 There is a generation that curseth their father, and doeth not blesse their mother.

12 There is a generation that are pure in their owne conceite, and yet are not washed from their filthinesse.

13 There is a generation whose eyes are hautie, and their eye lids are lifted vp.

14 There is a generation, whose teeth are as swords, and their chawes as kniues to eate vp the afflicted out of the earth, and the poore from among men.

15 The horse leach hath two h daughters which crie, Giue, giue. There be three things, that will not bee satisfied: yea, foure that say not, It is ynough.

h The horse leach hath two tongues in her tongue, which [illegible] hee calleth her daughters, whereby she sucketh the blood, and is neuer satiate: euen so are the couetous extortioners insatiable.

16 The graue, and the barren wombe, the earth that cannot be satisfied with water, and the fire that saith not, It is ynough.

17 The eye that mocketh his father, and despiseth the instruction of his mother, let the Rauens i of the valley picke it out, & the yong Eagles eate it.

19 The way of an Eagle in the aire, the way of a Serpent vpon a stone, the way of a ship in the middes of the Sea, and the way of a man with a maide.

20 Such is the way also of an adulterous woman: shee eateth and k wipeth her mouth, and saith, I haue not committed iniquitie.

k She hath her desires, and after counterfaiteth as though shee were an honest woman.

21 For three things the earth is moued: yea, for foure it cannot sustaine it selfe.

22 For l a seruant when he reigneth, and a foole when he is filled with meat, l These commonly abuse the state whereunto they are called.

23 For the hatefull woman, when shee is married, and for a handmaid that is m heire to her mistres.

m Which is married to her master after the death of her mistresse.

24 These bee foure small things in the earth, yet they are n wise, and full of wisedome.

n They conteine great doctrine and wisedome.

25 The Pismires a people not strong, yet prepare they their meat in sommer:

26 The Conies a people not mightie, yet make they their houses in the rocke:

27 The Grashopper hath no King, yet go they forth all by bands:

28 The Spider taketh holde o with her hands, and is in Kings palaces.

o If man be not able to compasse these common things by his wisedome, we cannot attribute wisedome to man but follie.

29 There be three things that order well their going: yea, foure are comely in going.

30 A lion which is strong among beastes, and turneth not at the sight of any:

31 A lusty grayhound, and a goate, and a King against whom there is no rising vp.

32 If thou hast beene foollish in lifting thy selfe vp, and if thou hast thought wickedly, lay thine hand p vpon thy mouth.

p Make a stay and continue not in doing euill.

33 When one churneth milke, hee bringeth forth butter: and hee that wringeth his nose, causeth blood to come out: so he that forceth wrath, bringeth forth strife.

2 He exhorteth to chastitie and iustice, 10 And sheweth the condition of a wise and worthy woman.

WHat my sonne! and what the sonne of c my wombe! and what, O sonne of my desires!

c By this often repetition of one thing she declareth her motherly affection.

3 Giue not thy strength vnto women, d nor thy wayes, which is to destroy Kings.

d Meaning, that women are the destruction of Kings, if they haunt them.

4 It is not for Kings, O Lemuel, it is not for Kings to drinke wine, nor for Princes, e strong drinke, e That is, the King must not giue himselfe to drunkennesse, and neglect his office which is to execute iudgement.

5 Least hee drinke and forget the decree, and change the iudgement of all the children of affliction.

6 Giue ye strong drinke vnto him that is ready to perish, and wine vnto them that haue griefe of heart.

7 Let him drinke, that he may forget[f] his pouertie, and remember his miserie no more.

8 Open thy mouth for the[g] dumme in the cause of all the children of destruction.

9 Open thy mouth: iudge righteously, and iudge the afflicted, and the poore.

10 ¶ Who shall finde a vertuous woman? for her price is farre aboue the pearles.

11 The heart of her husband trusteth in her, and he shall haue no neede of[h] spoile.

12 She will doe him good, and not euill all the dayes of her life.

13 She seeketh wool and flaxe, and laboureth cheerefully with her hands.

14 She is like the ships of merchants: she bringeth her food from a farre.

15 And shee riseth, whiles it is yet night: and giueth ‖ the portion to her houshold, and the[i] ordinarie to her maides.

16 She considereth a fielde, and[k] getteth it: and with the fruite of her handes she planteth a vineyard.

17 She girdeth her loines with strength, and strengtheneth her armes.

18 Shee feeleth that her merchandise is good: her candle is not put out by night.

19 Shee putteth her hands to the wheele, and her hands handle the spindle.

20 Shee stretcheth out her hand to the poore, and putteth foorth her handes to the needie.

21 She feareth not the snowe for her familie: for all her familie is clothed with ‖ skarlet.

22 She maketh her selfe carpets: fine linnen and purple is her garment.

23 Her husband is knowen in the[l] gates, when he sitteth with the Elders of the land.

24 She maketh ‖ sheetes, & selleth them, and giueth girdles vnto the merchant.

25 [m] Strength and honour is her clothing, and in the latter day she shall reioyce.

26 She openeth her mouth with wisedom, and the[n] law of grace is in her tongue.

27 Shee ouerseeth the wayes of her houshold, and eateth not the bread of idlenesse.

28 Her children rise vp, and[o] call her blessed: her husband also shall praise her, saying,

29 Many daughters haue done vertuously: but thou surmountest them all.

30 Fauour, is deceitfull, and beautie is vanitie: but a woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised.

31 Giue [p] her of the fruit of her hands, and let her owne workes praise her in the[q] gates.

Ecclesiastes, or the Preacher.

The Argvment.

Salomon as a Preacher, and one that desired to instruct all in the way of saluation, describeth the deceiueable vanities of this world: that man should not be addicted to any thing vnder the Sunne, but rather inflamed with the desire of the heauenly life: therefore he confuteth their opinions, which set their felicitie either in knowledge, or in pleasures, or in dignitie and riches, shewing that mans true felicitie consisteth in that that he is vnited with God, and shall enioy his presence: so that all other things must bee reiected, saue in as much as they further vs to attaine to this heauenly treasure, which is sure and permanent, & cannot be found in any other saue in God alone.

CHAP. I.

2 All things in this world are full of vanitie, & of none endurance. 13 All mans wisedome is but folly & griefe.

THE wordes of the [a] Preacher, the sonne of Dauid King in Ierusalem.

2 [b] Vanitie of vanities, saith the Preacher: vanitie of vanities, all is vanitie.

3 What remaineth vnto man in all his [c] trauaile, which he sustaineth vnder the sunne?

4 One generation passeth, and another generation succeedeth: but the earth remaineth for [d] euer.

5 The Sunne riseth, and the sunne goeth downe, and draweth to his place, where he riseth.

6 The [e] winde goeth toward the South, and compasseth toward the North: the winde goeth round about, and returneth by his circuites.

7 *All the riuers goe into the Sea, yet the Sea is not ful: for the riuers goe vnto the place, [f] whence they returne, and gee.

8 All things are full of labour: man cannot vtter it: the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the eare filled with hearing.

9 [g] What is it that hath beene? that that shall be: and what is it that hath beene done? that which shall be done: and there is no new thing vnder the Sunne.

10 Is there any thing, whereof one may say, Behold this, it is new? it hath bene already in the old time that was before vs.

11 There

a Salomon is here called a Preacher, or one that assembleth the people, because he teacheth the true knowledge of God, and how men ought to passe their life in this transitory world.

b He condemneth y opinions of all men that set felicitie in any thing, but in God alone, seeing that in this world all things are as vanitie and nothing.

c Salomon doth not condemne mans labour or diligence, but sheweth that there is no full contentation in any thing vnder the heauen, nor in any creature, forasmuch as all things are transitory.

d One man dieth after another, and the earth remaineth longest, euen to the last day, which yet is subiect to corruption.

e By the sunne, winde, and riuers, he sheweth that the greatest labour and longest hath an end, and therefore there can be no felicitie in this world.

* Eccles 40.11.

f The sea which compasseth all the earth, filleth the veines thereof, the which powre out springs of riuers into the sea again.

g He sheweth that [illegible] and things [illegible] in them, which as they haue bene in times past, so come they to passe againe.

11 There is no memory of the former, neither shall there be a remembrance of the latter that shall be, with them that come after.

12 ¶ [h] I the Preacher haue bene King ouer Israel in Jerusalem.

13 And I haue giuen mine heart to search and find out wisedome by all things that are done vnder the heauen: (this sore trauell hath God giuen to the sonnes of men, [i] to humble them thereby)

14 I haue considered all the workes that are done vnder the sunne, and behold, all is vanitie, and vexation of the spirit.

15 That which is [k] crooked, can none make straight: and that which faileth cannot be numbred.

16 I thought in my heart, and said, Behold, I am become great, & excell in wisedome all them that haue bin before me in Jerusalem: and mine heart hath seene much wisdome and knowledge.

17 And I gaue mine heart to know wisdome and knowledge, [l] madnes and foolishnes, I knew also ỹ this is a vexation of the spirit.

18 For in the multitude of wisedome is much [m] griefe: and he that increaseth knowledge, increaseth sorow.

h He proueth that if any could haue attained to felicity in this world by labour and study, he chiefly should haue obtained it, because he had gifts and apts of God thereunto aboue all other.

k Man is not able by all his diligence to cause things to goe otherwise then they doe: neither can he number the faults that are committed, much lesse remedy them.

l That is, paine things, which serued vnto pleasure, wherein was no commodity, but griefe and trouble of conscience.

m Wisedome and knowledge cannot be come by without great paine of body and minde: for when a man hath attained to the highest, yet is his mind neuer fully content: therefore in this world is no true felicitie.

CHAP. II.

Pleasures, sumptuous buildings, riches and possessions are but vanity. 15 The wise and the foole haue both one end touching the bodily death.

I Said in mine heart, Goe to now, I will proue [a] thee with ioy: therefore take thou pleasure in pleasant things: and beholde, this also is vanity.

2 I said of laughter, Thou art mad: and of ioy, What is this that thou doest?

3 I sought in mine heart †to giue my selfe to wine, and to leade mine heart in [b] wisdome, and to take holde of folly, till I might see where is that goodnes of the children of men, which they † enioy vnder the sunne the whole number of the dayes of their life.

4 I haue made my great workes: I haue built me houses: I haue plãted me vineyards.

5 I haue made me gardens & † orchards, and planted in them trees of all fruit.

6 I haue made me cisterns of water, to water therwith the woods that grow with trees.

7 I haue gotten seruants and maids, and had children borne in the [c] house: also I had great possession of beeues and sheep aboue all that were before in Jerusalem.

8 I haue gathered vnto me also siluer and golde, and the chiefe treasures of Kings & prouinces: I haue prouided me men singers and women singers, and the [d] delights of the sons of men, as a woman [e] taken captiue, and women taken captiues.

9 And I was great, and increased aboue al that were before me in Jerusalem: also my wisdome [f] remained with me.

10 And whatsoeuer mine eyes desired, I withheld it not from them: I withdrew not mine heart from any ioy: for mine heart reioyced in all my labour: and this was mine portion of all my trauaile.

11 Then I looked on all my workes that mine hands had wrought, and on the trauaile that I had laboured to do: and behold all is vanity and vexation of the spirit: and there is no profit vnder the sunne.

12 ¶ And I turned to behold [h] wisedome, and madnesse, and folly: (for who is the man that ‖ will come after the king in things which men now haue done?)

13 Then I saw that there is profit in wisdome more then in folly: as the light is more excellent then darknesse.

14 * For the wise mans [i] eyes are in his head, but the foole walketh in darknesse: yet I know also that the same [k] condition falleth to them all.

15 Then I thought in mine heart, It befalleth vnto me, as it befalleth to the foole. Why therfore do I then labor to be more wise? And I said in my heart, that this also is vanity.

16 For there shall bee no remembrance of the wise, nor of the foole [l] for euer: for that that now is, in the dayes to come shall all be forgotten. And [m] how dieth the wise man, as doeth the foole?

17 Therefore I hated life: for the worke that is wrought vnder the sunne is grieuous vnto me: for all is vanity, and vexation of the spirit.

18 I hated also all my labour, wherein I had trauailed vnder the Sunne, which I shall leaue to the man that shall be after me.

19 And who knoweth whether he shall be wise or foolish? yet shall he haue rule ouer all my labour, wherein I haue trauailed, and wherein I haue shewed my selfe wise vnder the sunne. This is also vanity.

20 Therefore I went about to make mine heart [n] abhorre all the labour, wherein I had trauailed vnder the sunne.

21 For there is a man whose trauaile is in wisedome, and in knowledge, and in equitie: yet to a man that hath not trauailed herein, shal he [o] giue his portion: this also is vanity and a great griefe.

22 For what hath man of all his trauaile and griefe of his heart, wherein he hath trauailed vnder the sunne?

23 For all his dayes are sorowes, and his trauaile griefe: his heart also taketh not rest in a Salomon maketh this discourse with himselfe, as though he would try whether there were contententation in ease and pleasures.

†Hebr. draw my flesh to wine.

b Albeit I gaue my selfe to pleasures, yet I thought to keepe wisedome and the feare of God in mine heart, and gouerne mine affaires by the same.

†Hebr. doe.

‡Hebr. paradises.

c Meaning, of the seruants or slaues, which he had bought: for the children borne in the seruitude, were the masters.

d That is, whatsoeuer men take pleasure in.

e Which were the most beautifull of them that were taken in warre, as Judg. 5.30. Some vnderstand by these words, no women, but instruments of musick.

f For all this God did not take his guifte of wisedome from me.

g This was the fruit of all my labour, a certaine pleasure mixt with care, which he calleth vanity in the next verse.

h I bethought with my selfe whether it were better to follow wisdome, or mine owne affections and pleasures which he calleth madnesse.

‖ Or, compare with the king.

* Prou. 17.24.

i He foreseeth things, which the foole cannot for lacke of wisdom.

k For both die and are forgotten as ver. 16. or they both alike haue prosperitie or aduersitie.

l Meaning, in this world.

m He wondreth that men forget a wise man being dead, alsoone as they do a foole.

n That I might seeke the true felicitie which is in God.

o Among other griefes this was not the least, to leaue that which he had gotten by great trauaile, to one that had taken no paine therefore, and whom he knew not whether he were a wise man or a foole.

in the night: which also is vanity.

24 There is no profit to man, but that hee eat and drinke, and [p] delight his soule with the profit of his labor: I saw also this, that it was of the hand of God.

25 For who could eat, and who could haste to [q] outward things more then I?

26 Surely to a man that is good in his sight, God giueth wisedome, and knowledge, and ioy: but to the sinner hee giueth paine, to gather, and to heap to giue to him that is good before God: this is also vanity, and vexation of the spirit.

p When man hath all laboured he can get no more then food, and refreshing, yet he confesseth also that this commeth of Gods blessing, as Chap. 3.13.
q Meaning, to pleasures.

CHAP. III.

1 All things haue their time. 14 The works of God are perfit, and cause vs to feare him. 17 God shall iudge both the iust and vniust.

TO all things there is [a] appointed time, and a time to euery purpose vnder the heauen.

2 A time to be borne, and a time to die: a time to plant, and a time to plucke vp that which is planted.

3 A time to slay, and a time to heale: a time to breake downe, and a time to build.

4 A time to weepe, and a time to laugh: a time to mourne, and a time to dance.

5 A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones: a time to embrace, and a time to be farre from embracing.

6 A time to seeke, and a time to lose: a time to keepe, and a time to cast away.

7 A time to rent, and a time to sowe: a time to keepe silence, and a time to speake.

8 A time to loue, and a time to hate: a time of warre, and a time of peace.

9 What profite hath he that worketh, of the thing wherein he trauaileth?

10 I haue seene the trauaile that God hath giuen to the sonnes of men [b] to humble them thereby.

11 Hee hath made euery thing beautifull in his time: also he hath set the [c] world in their heart, yet cannot man finde out the worke that God hath wrought from the beginning euen to the end.

12 I know that there is nothing good in them, but to reioyce, and to do good in his life.

13 And also that euery man eateth & drinketh, and seeth the commodity of all his labour, this is the [d] gift of God.

14 I know that whatsoeuer God shall do, it shal be for [e] euer: to it can no man adde, and from it can none diminish: for God hath done it, that they should feare before him.

15 What is that that hath beene? that is now: and that that shal be, hath now bene: for God [f] requireth that which is past.

16 And moreouer, I haue seene vnder the Sunne the place of iudgement, where was wickednesse, and the place of iustice where was iniquitie.

17 I thought in mine heart, God wil iudge the iust and the wicked: for time is [g] there for euery purpose and for euery worke.

18 I considered in mine heart the state of the children of men that GOD had [h] purged them: yet to see to they are in themselues as beasts.

19 For the condition of the children of men, and the condition of beasts are euen as one [i] condition vnto them. As the one dieth, so dieth the other: for they haue all one breath, and there is no excellencie of man aboue the beast: for all is vanity.

20 All goe to one place, and all was of the dust, and all shall returne to the dust.

21 Who [k] knoweth whether the spirit of man ascend vpward, and the spirit of the beast descend downeward to the earth?

22 Therefore I see that there is nothing better then that a man should [l] reioyce in his affaires, because that is his portion. For who shall bring him to see what shall be after him?

a He speaketh of this diuersity of time for two causes: first, to declare that there is nothing in this world perpetuall: next, to teach vs not to be grieued, if we haue not all things at once according to our desires, neither enioy them so long as wee would wish.

b Reade Chap. 1.13.

c God hath giuen man a desire, and affection to seek out y things of this world, and to labour therein.
d Reade Chap. 2.24. and these places declare that we should do all things with sobriety, and in the feare of God, for so much as he giueth not his gifts to the intent that they should be abused.

e That is, man shall neuer be able to let Gods worke, but as hee hath determined, so it shall come to passe.

f God only canseth that which is past, to returne.

g Meaning, with God, howsoeuer man neglect his duety.
h And made the pure in their first creation.
i Man is not able by his reason and iudgement to put difference betweene man and beast, as touching those things whereunto both are subiect: for the eye cannot iudge any otherwise of a man being dead, then of a beast, which is dead: yet by the word of God and faith, we easily know the diuersitie, as verse 21.
k Meaning, that reason cannot comprehend that which faith beleeueth herein.
l By the often repetition of this sentence, as Chap. 2.24. and Chap. 3.12,22. Chap. 5.17. and Chap. 8.15. he declareth that man by reason can comprehend nothing better in this life then to vse the gifts of God soberly and comfortably: for to know further is a speciall gift of God reuealed by his Spirit.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The innocents are oppressed. 4 Mens labours are full of abuse and vanity. 9 Mans society is necessary. 13 A young man poore and wise, is to bee preferred to an olde King that is a foole.

SO [a] I turned and considered all the oppressions that are wrought vnder the Sunne, and behold the teares of the oppressed, & none comforteth them: and loe, the strength is of the hand of them that oppresse them, and none comforteth them.

a He maketh here another discourse with himselfe concerning the tyranny of them that oppressed the poore.

2 Wherefore I praised the [b] dead which now are dead, aboue the liuing, which are yet aliue.

b Because they are no more subiect to their oppressions.

3 And I count him better then them both, which hath not yet bene: for he hath not seene the euill works which are wrought vnder the sunne.

c He speaketh according to the iudgement of the flesh, which cannot abide to feele, or see troubles.

4 Also I beheld all trauaile, and all [d] perfection of works, that this is the enuy of a man against his neighbour: this also is vanity and vexation of spirit.

d The more perfit that the worke is, the more is it enuied of the wicked.

5 The foole foldeth his hands, and [e] eateth vp his owne flesh.

e For idlenesse he is compelled to destroy himselfe.

6 Better is an handfull with quietnesse, then two handfuls with labor and vexation of spirit.

7 Againe I returned, and saw vanitie vnder the sunne.

8 There is one alone, and there is not a second, which hath neither son nor brother, yet is there none ende of all his trauaile, neither can his eye bee satisfied with riches: neither doeth doeth he thinke, For whome doe I trauaile and defraude my soule of pleasure? this also is vanitie, and this is an euill trauaile.

9 [f] Two are better then one: for they haue better wages for their labour.

10 For if they fall, the one will lift vp his fellow: but woe vnto him that is alone: for he falleth, and there is not a second to lift him vp.

11 And if two sleepe together, then shall they haue heate: but to one, how should there be heate?

12 And if one ouercome him, two shall stand against him: and a threefolde [g] coard is not easily broken.

13 Better is a poore and wise childe, then an old and foolish King, which will no more be admonished.

14 For out of the [h] prison hee commeth forth to reigne: when as he that is [i] borne in his kingdome, is made poore.

15 I beheld all the liuing, which walke vnder the sunne, [k] with the second child, which shall stand vp in his place.

16 There is none [l] end of all the people, nor of all that were before them, and they that come after, shal not reioyce in him: surely this is also vanitie and vexation of spirit.

17 Take heede to thy [m] foote when thou entrest into the house of God, & be more neere to heare then to giue the sacrifice of [n] fooles: for they know not that they doe euill.

m That is, with what affection thou commest to heare the n Meaning, of the wicked, which thinke to please God with ceremonies, and haue neither faith nor repentance.

CHAP. V.

1 Not to speake lightly, chiefly in Gods matters. 9 The couetous can neuer haue ynough. 11 The labourers sleepe is sweet. 14 Man when he dieth, taketh nothing with him. 18 To liue ioyfully, and with a contented minde, is the gift of God.

BE not [a] rash with thy mouth, nor let thine heart be hasty to vtter a thing before God: for God is in the heauens, and thou art on the earth: therefore let thy words be [b] few.

2 For as a dreame commeth by the multitude of businesse: so the voice of a foole is in the multitude of words.

3 * When thou hast vowed a vow to God, deferre not to pay it: for hee delighteth not in fooles: pay therefore that thou hast [c] vowed.

4 It is better that thou shouldest not vowe, then that thou shouldest vowe and not pay it.

5 Suffer not thy mouth to make thy [d] flesh to sinne: neither say before the [e] Angel, that this is ignorance: wherefore shall God be angry by thy voyce, and destroy the worke of thine hands?

6 For in the multitude of dreames, and vanities are also many words: but feare thou God.

7 If in a countrey thou seest the oppression of the poore, and the defrauding of iudgment and iustice, be not astonied at the matter: for hee that is [f] higher then the highest, regardeth, and there be higher then they.

8 And the [g] abundance of the earth is ouer all: the King [h] also consisteth by the field that is tilled.

9 He that loueth siluer, shall not be satisfied with siluer, and he that loueth riches, shall be without the fruite thereof: this also is vanitie.

10 When goods increase, they are increased that eate them: and what good commeth to the owners thereof, but the beholding thereof with their eyes?

11 The sleepe of him that trauaileth, is sweete, whether he eate litle or much: but the [i] satietie of the rich will not suffer him to sleepe.

12 There is an euill sickenes that I haue seene vnder the sunne: to wit, riches [k] reserued to the owners thereof for their euill.

13 And these riches perish by euill trauel, and hee begetteth a sonne, and in his [l] hand is nothing.

14 * As hee came forth of his mothers belly, he shall returne naked to goe as hee came, and shall beare away nothing of his labour, which he hath caused to passe by his hand.

15 And this also is an euill sickenesse, that in all points as he came, so shall hee goe, and what profite hath hee that he hath trauailed for the [m] winde?

16 Also all his dayes he eateth in [n] darkenesse with much griefe, and in his sorow and anger.

17 Behold then, what I haue seene good, that it is comely to [o] eate, and to drinke, and to take pleasure in all his labour, wherein he trauaileth vnder the sunne, the whole number of the dayes of his life, which God giueth him: for this is his portion.

18 Also to euery man to whom God hath giuen riches and treasures, and giueth him power to eate thereof, and to take his part, and to enioy his labour: this is the gift of God.

19 Surely hee will not much remember the dayes of his [p] life, because God answereth to the ioy of his heart.

CHAP. VI.

The miserable estate of him to whom God hath giuen riches, and not the grace to vse them.

THere is an euill, which I saw vnder the sunne, and it is much among men.

2 A man to whom God hath giuen riches, and treasures and honour, and he wanteth nothing for his soule of all that it desireth: but [a] God giueth him not power to eat thereof, but a strange man shal eate it vp: this is vanity, and this is an euill sickenesse.

4 For [d] he commeth into vanitie and goeth into darkenesse: and his name shall be couered with darkenesse.

5 Also he hath not seene the sunne, nor knowen it: therefore this hath more rest then the other.

6 And if hee had liued a thousand yeeres twise tolde, and had seene no good, shall not all goe to one place?

7 All the labour of man is for his mouth: yet the [e] soule is not filled.

8 For what hath the wise man more then the foole? what hath the poore that [f] knoweth how to walke before the liuing?

9 The [g] sight of the eye is better then to walke in the lusts: this also is vanity, and vexation of spirit.

10 What is that that hath bene? the name thereof is now named: and it is knowen that it is man: and hee cannot striue with him that is [h] stronger then he.

b If he can neuer haue enough.
c As we see oftentimes, that the couetous man either falleth into crimes that deserue death, or is murthered or drowned or hangeth himselfe or such like, and so lacketh the honor of burial, which is the last office of humanitie.
d Meaning, the vntimely fruite whole life did neither profite or hurt any.
e His desire and affection.
f That knoweth to vse his goods wel in the iudgement of men.
g To be content with that which God hath giuen, is better then to follow the desires that neuer can be satisfied.
h Meaning, God who will make him to feele that he is mortall.

CHAP. VII.

Diuers precepts to follow that which is good, and to auoide the contrary.

SUrely there be many things that increase vanitie: and what auaileth it a man?

2 For who knoweth what is [a] good for man in the life and in the number of the dayes of the life of his vanitie, seeing he maketh them as a *shadow? For who can shewe vnto man what shall be after him vnder the sunne?

3 *A good name is better then a good ointment, and the day of [b] death, then the day that one is borne.

4 It is better to goe to the house of [c] mourning, then to goe to the house of feasting, because this is the end of all men: and the liuing shall lay it to his heart.

5 Anger is better then laughter: for by a sad looke the heart is made better.

6 The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning: but the heart of fooles is in the house of mirth.

7 Better it is to heare the rebuke of a wise man, then that a man should heare the song of fooles.

8 For like the noise of the [d] thornes vnder the pot, so is the laughter of the foole: this also is vanitie.

9 Surely oppression maketh a wise man [e] mad: and the reward destroyeth the heart.

10 The [f] ende of a thing is better then the beginning thereof, and the patient in spirit is better then the proud in spirit.

a There is no state wherein man can liue to haue perfite quietnes in this life.
* Iob 14. 2. psal. 144. 4.

* Prou. 22. 1.

b He speaketh thus after the iudgment of the flesh, which thinketh death to be the ende of all euils: or els, because that this corporall death is the entring into life euerlasting.
c Where wee may see the hand of God, & learne to examine our liues.

d Which crackle for a while and profite nothing.
e A man that is esteemed wise, when he falleth to oppression, becommeth like a beast.
f He noteth their lightenesse, which enterprise a thing, and sodenly leaue it off again.

11 Be not thou of an hastie spirit to be angry: for anger resteth in the bosome of fooles.

12 Say not thou, Why is it that the former dayes were better then these? for thou doest not enquire [g] wisely of this thing.

13 Wisedome is good with an [h] inheritance, and excellent to them that see the sunne.

14 For man shall rest in the shadowe of wisedome, and in the shadow of siluer: but the excellencie of the knowledge of wisedome giueth life to the possessours thereof.

15 Behold the worke of God: for who can make * straight that which he hath made crooked?

16 In the day of wealth be of good cõfort, and in the day of affliction [i] consider: God also hath made this contrary to that, to the intent that man should finde [k] nothing after him.

17 I haue seene all things in the dayes of my vanitie: there is a iust man that perisheth in his [l] iustice: and there is a wicked man that continueth long in his malice.

18 Bee not thou iust [m] ouermuch, neither make thy selfe ouerwise: wherefore shouldest thou be desolate?

19 Be not thou wicked [n] ouermuch, neither be thou foolish: wherfore shouldest thou perish not in thy time?

20 It is good that thou lay hold on [o] this: but yet withdraw not thine hand from [p] that: for he that feareth God, shal come forth of them all.

21 Wisedome shall strengthen the wise man more then ten mightie princes that are in the citie.

22 *Surely there is no man iust in the earth, that doeth good and sinneth not.

23 Giue not thine [q] heart also to all the words that men speake, lest thou doe heare thy seruant curling thee.

24 For oftentimes also thine heart knoweth that thou likewise hast ‖ cursed others.

25 All this haue I proued by wisdome: I thought I will bee wise, but it went farre from me.

26 It is farre off, what may [r] it bee? and it is a profound deepenesse, who can finde it?

27 I haue compassed about, both I and mine heart to know and to enquire and to search wisedome, and reason, and to know the wickednesse of follie, and the foolishnesse of madnesse, 28 And I finde more bitter then death the woman whose heart is as nets and snares, and her hands as bands: he that is good before God, shall be deliuered from her, but the sinner shall be taken by her.

29 Behold, sayth the Preacher, this haue I found, seeking one by one to [s] finde the count:

g Murmure not against God when he sendeth aduersities for mans sinnes.
h He answereth to them that esteeme not wisedome, except riches be ioyned therewith, shewing that both are the gifts of God, but that wisedom is farre more excellent, and may be without riches.
* Chap. 1. 15.
i Consider wherefore God doeth send it, and what may comfort thee.
k That man should be able to controle nothing in his workes.
l Meaning, that cruel tyrants put the godly to death, and let the wicked goe free.
m Boast not too much of thine owne iustice and wisedome.
n Tary not long when thou art admonished to come out of the way of wickednesse.
o To wit, all these admonitions that goe before.
p Consider what desolation and destruction shall come, if thou bee not obey them.
* 1 King. 8. 46. 2 chron. 6. 36. prou. 20. 9. 1. iohn 1. 8.
q Exercise them not, neither care for them.
‖ Or, spoken euill of others.
r Meaning, wisdome.
s That is, to come to a conclusion.

30 And

30 And yet my ſoule ſeeketh, but I find it not: I haue found one man of a thouſand: but a woman among them all haue I not found.

31 Onely loe, this haue I found, that God hath made man righteous: but they haue ſought many [r] inuentions.

r And ſo are cauſe of their owne deſtruction.

CHAP. VIII.

2 To obey Princes and Magiſtrates. 17 The workes of God paſſe mans knowledge.

WHo is as the wiſe man? & who knoweth the interpretation of a thing? the wiſedome of a man doeth make his [a] face to ſhine: and the [b] ſtrength of his face ſhall bee changed.

a That is, doth get him fauour and proſperitie.
b Whereas before hee was proud and arrogant he ſhall become humble and meeke.

2 I aduertiſe thee to take heede to the [c] mouth of the King, and to the word of the oth of God.

c That is, that thou obey the King, and keepe the othe that thou haſt made by the ſame cauſe.

3 [d] Haſte not to goe foorth of his ſight: ſtand not in an euill thing: for he will do whatſoeuer pleaſeth him.

d Withdraw not thy ſelfe lightly from the obedience of thy prince.

4 Where the word of the King is, there is power, and who ſhal ſay vnto him, What doeſt thou?

5 He that keepeth the commandement, ſhal know none euil thing, and the heart of the wiſe ſhall know the [e] time and iudgement.

e That is, when time is to obey, and how farre he ſhould obey.

6 For to euery purpoſe there is a time and iudgement, becauſe the [f] miſerie of man is great vpon him.

f Man of himſelfe is miſerable, and therefore ought to do nothing to increaſe the ſame, but to worke all things by wiſedome & counſell.

7 For he knoweth not that which ſhalbe: for who can tell him when it ſhall be?

8 Man is not Lord [g] ouer the ſpirit to retaine the ſpirit: neither hath he power in the day of death, nor deliuerance in the battell, neither ſhall wickednes deliuer the poſſeſſers thereof.

g Man hath no power to ſaue his owne life, and therefore muſt not raſhly caſt himſelfe into danger.

9 All this haue I ſeene, and haue giuen mine heart to euery worke, which is wrought vnder the ſunne, and I ſawe a time that man ruleth ouer man to his owne [h] hurt.

h As commeth oft times to tyrants, and wicked rulers.

10 And likewiſe I ſaw the wicked buried, and [i] they returned, & they that came from the holy [k] place, were yet forgotten in the citie where they had done right: this alſo is vanity.

i That is, others as wicked as they.
k They that feared God, and worſhipped him according as he had appointed.

11 Becauſe ſentence againſt an euil worke is not [l] executed ſpeedily, therefore the heart of the children of men is fully ſet in them to do euill.

l Where iuſtice is delayed, there ſinne reigneth.

12 Though a ſinner doe euill an hundreth times, and God prolongeth his dayes, yet I know that it ſhall be well with them that feare the Lord, and doe reuerence before him.

13 But it ſhal not be well to the wicked, neither ſhall he prolong his dayes: he ſhalbe like a ſhadow, becauſe he feareth not before God.

14 There is a vanitie, which is done vpon the earth, that there bee righteous men to whom it commeth according to the [m] worke of the wicked: and there be wicked men to whom it commeth according to the worke of the iuſt:

m Which are puniſhed as though they were wicked, as Chap. 7. 17.

I thought alſo that this is vanitie.

15 And I praiſed ioy: for there is no goodneſſe to man vnder the ſunne, ſaue to [n] eate and to drinke and to reioyce: for this is adioyned to his labour, the dayes of his life that God hath giuen him vnder the ſunne.

n Read Chap. 3. 22.

16 When I applied mine heart to knowe wiſedome, and to beholde the buſineſſe that is done on earth, that neither day nor night the eyes of man take ſleepe,

17 Then I beheld the whole worke of God, that man cannot finde out the worke that is wrought vnder the ſunne: for the which man laboureth to ſeeke it, and cannot finde it: yea, and though the wiſe man thinke to know it, he cannot find it.

CHAP. IX.

1 By no outward thing can man know whom God loueth or hateth. 12 No man knoweth his end. 16 Wiſdome excelleth ſtrength.

I Haue ſurely giuen mine heart to all this, and to declare all this, that the iuſt, and the wiſe, and their workes are in the hand of God: and no man knoweth either loue or [a] hatred of all that is before them.

a Meaning, what things he ought to chuſe or refuſe: or man knoweth not by theſe outward things, that is, by proſperitie or aduerſitie, whom God doeth fauor or hate: for hee loueth them aſwell to the wicked as to the godly.

2 All things come alike to all: & the ſame condition is to the iuſt and to the wicked, to the good and to the pure, and to the polluted, and to him that ſacrificeth, and to him that ſacrificeth not: as is the good, ſo is the ſinner, he that ſweareth, as he that feareth an othe.

3 This is euil among all that is done vnder the ſunne, that there is one [b] condition to all, and alſo the heart of the ſonnes of men is full of euil, & madnes is in their hearts whiles they liue, and after that, they goe to the dead.

b In outward things, as riches, and powertie, ſickneſſe and health, there is no difference betweene the godly & the wicked: but the difference is that the godly are aſſured by faith of Gods fauour and aſſiſtance.

4 Surely whoſoeuer is ioyned to all the liuing, there is hope: for it is better to a [c] liuing dog, then to a dead Lyon.

c Hee meeteth the Epicures, and carnall men, which make their belly their god, and had no pleaſure but in this life, wiſhing rather to be an abiect, and bile perſon in this life, then a man of authoritie, and ſo to die, which is meant by the dog and lyon.

5 For the liuing know that they ſhall die, but the dead know nothing at all: neither haue they any more a reward: for their remembrance is forgotten.

6 Alſo their loue, and their hatred, and their enuie is now periſhed, and they haue no more portion for euer, in all that is done vnder the ſunne.

7 Goe, eat thy bread with ioy, and drinke thy wine with a cheereful heart: for God now [d] accepteth thy workes.

d They flatter themſelues to be in Gods fauour, becauſe they haue all things in abundance.

8 At all times let thy garments be [e] white, and let not oyle be lacking vpon thine head.

e Reioyce, bee merie, and ſpare for no coſt, I bad ſpake the wicked belly gods.

9 †* Reioyce with the wife whome thou haſt loued all the daies of the life of thy vanity, which God hath giuen thee vnder the ſunne all the dayes of thy vanitie: for this is thy portion in the life, and in thy trauaile wherein thou laboureſt vnder the ſunne.

† Ebr. regard the life.
* Chap. 5. 18.

10 And that thine hand ſhall finde to doe, doe it with all thy power: for there is neither worke, worke, nor inuention, nor knowledge, nor wisdome in the graue whither thou goest.

11 I returned, and I saw vnder the sunne that the race is not to the swift, nor the battell to the strong, nor yet bread to the wise, nor also riches to men of vnderstanding, neither yet fauour to men of knowledge: but time and [f] chance commeth to them all.

12 For neither doth man know his [g] time, but as the fishes, which are taken in an euill net, & as the birds that are caught in the snare: so are the children of men snared in the euill time when it falleth vpon them suddenly.

13 I haue also seene this wisedome vnder the sunne, and it is great vnto me.

14 A little citie and fewe men in it, and a great King came against it, and compassed it about, and builded forts against it.

15 And there was found therein a poore and wise man, and hee deliuered the citie by his wisedome: but none remembred this poore man.

16 Then said I, Better is wisedome then strength: yet the wisedome of the poore is despised, and his words are not heard.

17 The words of the wise are more heard in quietnesse, then the crie of him that ruleth among fooles.

18 Better is wisedome then weapons of warre: but one sinner destroyeth much good.

CHAP. X.

1 The difference of foolishnes and wisedome. 11 A slanderer is like a serpent that cannot be charmed. 16 Of foolish Kings and drunken Princes, 17 And of good Kings and Princes.

DEad flies cause to stinke, and putrifie the oyntment of the Apothecarie: so doeth a little follie him that is in estimation for wisedome, and for glory.

2 The heart of a [a] wise man is at his right hand: but the heart of a foole is at his left hand.

3 And also when the foole goeth by the way, his heart faileth, and hee [b] telleth vnto all that he is a foole.

4 If the [c] spirit of him that ruleth, rise vp against thee, leaue not thy place: for gentlenes pacifieth great sinnes.

5 There is an euill that I haue seene vnder the sunne, as an [d] errour that proceedeth from the face of him that ruleth.

6 Follie is set in great excellencie, and the [e] rich set in the low place.

7 I haue seene seruants on horses, and princes walking as seruants on the ground.

8 *He that diggeth a pit, shall fall into it, and he that breaketh the hedge, a serpent shall bite him.

9 He that remoueth stones, shal hurt himselfe thereby, and he that cutteth wood, shalbe in danger thereby.

10 If the yron be blunt, and one hath not whet the edge, hee must then put to more [f] strength: but the excellencie to direct a thing is wisedome.

11 If the serpent bite, when hee is not charmed: no better is a babbler.

12 The words of the mouth of a wise man haue grace: but the lippes of a foole deuoure himselfe.

13 The beginning of the wordes of his mouth is foolishnesse, and the latter ende of his mouth is wicked madnesse.

14 For the foole multiplieth wordes, saying, Man knoweth not what shall bee: and who can tell him what shall be after him?

15 The labour of the foolish doeth weary him: for he knoweth not to goe into the [g] citie.

16 Woe to thee, O land, when thy King is a [h] childe, and thy princes [i] eate in the morning.

17 Blessed art thou, O land, when thy king is the sonne of [k] nobles, and thy princes eate in time, for strength and not for drunkennesse.

18 By slouthfulnes the roofe of the house goeth to decay, & by the idlenesse of the hands, the house droppeth through.

19 They prepare bread for laughter, and wine comforteth the liuing, but siluer answereth to all.

20 Curse not the King, no not in thy thought, neither curse the rich in thy bed chamber: for the [l] foule of the heauen shal carie the voice, and that which hath wings, shall declare the matter.

CHAP. XI.

1 To be liberall to the poore. 4 Not to doubt of Gods prouidence. 8 All worldly prosperitie is but vanitie. 9 God will iudge all.

CAst thy bread vpon the [a] waters: for after many daies thou shalt find it.

2 Giue a portion to seuen, and also to eight: for thou knowest not what euill shall be vpon the earth.

3 If the [b] cloudes be full, they will powre forth raine vpon the earth: and if the [c] tree doe fall toward the South, or toward the North, in the place that the tree falleth, there it shalbe.

4 He that obserueth the [d] winde, shall not sowe, and he that regardeth the cloudes, shall not reape.

5 As thou knowest not which is the way of the spirite, nor how the bones doe grow in the wombe of her that is with childe: so thou knowest not ẏ worke of God that worketh all.

6 In the morning sowe thy seede, and in the euening let not thine hand [e] rest: for thou knowest not whether shall prosper, this or [f] that, or whether both shall be alike good.

7 Surely the light is a pleasant thing: and it is a good thing to the eyes to see the sunne.

f Thus the worldlings say to proue that all things are lawfull for them, and attribute that to chance and fortune, which is done by the prouidence of God.
g That is, he doeth not foresee what shall come.

a So that hee doth all things iustly, whereas the foole doth the contrary.
b By his words he betrayeth himselfe.
c If thy superiour be angry with thee, be thou discreete and not mooued.
d Meaning, that it is an euill thing when they that are in authoritie faile, and do not their duetie.
e They that are rich in wisedome and vertue.
* Psal. 7. 16. prouerb. 26. 27. eccles. 27. 26.

g The ignorance and beastlinesse of the wicked is such, that they know not common things, and yet will they dispute high matters.
h That is, without wisedome and counsell.
i Are giuen to their lusts and pleasures.
k Meaning, when he is noble for vertue and wisedome, and with the gifts of God.

l Thou canst not worke euill so secretly, but it shall be known.

a That is, be liberall to the poore, & though it seeme to be as a thing bestowed on the sea, yet it shall bring thee profite.
b As the cloudes that are full, powre out raine, so he rich that haue abundance, must distribute it liberally.
c He exhorteth to be liberall while we liue: for after there is no power.
d He that feareth inconueniences, when necessitie requireth, shall neuer doe his duetie.
e Be not weary of well doing.

f That is, both of the louing and vnmeet according to God.

8 Though a man liue many yeeres, and in them all be reioyce, yet he shall remember the dayes of [g] darkenesse, because they are many, all that commeth is vanitie.

[g] That is, of affliction & trouble.

9 [h] Reioyce, O young man, in thy youth, and let thine heart cheere thee in the dayes of thy youth: and walke in the wayes of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eyes: but know that for all these things God will bring thee to iudgement.

[h] He derideth them that set their delight in worldly pleasures, as though God would not call them to an account.

10 Therefore take away [i] griefe out of thine heart, and cause euil [k] to depart from thy flesh: for childhood and youth are vanitie.

[i] To wit, anger, and enuie.

[k] Meaning carnal lusts, whereunto youth is giuen.

CHAP. XII.

1 To thinke on God in youth, and not to deferre till age. 7 The soule returneth to God. 11 Wisedome is the gift of God, and consisteth in fearing him and keeping his commandements.

REmember now thy Creator in the dayes of thy youth, whiles the euil dayes come not, nor the yeeres approch, wherein thou shalt say, I haue no pleasure in them:

[a] Before thou come to a continual miserie: for when the cloudes remaine after the raine, mans griefe is increased.

2 Whiles the sunne is not darke, nor the light, nor the moone, nor the starres, nor the [a] cloudes returne after the raine:

3 When the [b] keepers of the house shall tremble, and the [c] strong men shall bow themselues, and the [d] grinders shall cease, because they are few, and they waxe darke that [e] looke out by the windowes:

[b] The hands, which keepe the body.

[c] The legs.

[d] The teeth.

[e] The eyes.

4 And the [f] doores shalbe shut without by the base sound of the [g] grinding, and hee shall rise vp at the voyce of the [h] bird: and all the [i] daughters of singing shalbe abased.

[f] The lips, or mouth.

[g] When the chawes shall seeme open and not be able to chew any more.

[h] He shall not be able to sleepe.

[i] That is, the winde-pipes, or the eares shall be deafe and not able to heare singing.

5 Also they shalbe afraid of the [k] hie thing, and feare shall be in [l] the way, and the almond tree shall [m] florish, and the [n] grashopper shalbe a burden, and concupiscence shall bee driuen away: for man goeth to the house of his age, and the mourners goe about in the streete.

[k] To climbe hie because of their weaknesse, or they stoope down, as though they were afraid lest any thing should hit them.

[l] They shall tremble as they goe, as though they were afraid.

[m] Their heads shalbe as white as the blossomes of an almondtree.

[n] They shall be able to beare nothing.

6 Whiles the [o] siluer coard is not lengthened, nor the golden [p] ewer broken, nor the [q] pitcher broken at the [r] well, nor the [s] wheele broken at the [t] cisterne:

[o] Meaning, the marrow of the backe bone, and the sinewes.

[p] The little skin that couereth the braine, which is in colour like gold.

[q] That is, the veines.

[r] Meaning the liuer.

7 And dust returne to the earth as it was, and the [u] spirit returne to God that gaue it.

[s] Which is the head.

[t] That is, the heart, out of the which the braine draweth the powers of life.

[u] The soule incontinently either goeth to ioy or torment, and sleepeth not as the wicked imagine.

8 Vanitie of vanities, saith the Preacher, all is vanitie.

9 And the more wise the Preacher was, the more hee taught the people knowledge, and caused them to heare, and searched foorth, and prepared many parables.

10 The Preacher sought to find out pleasant words, and an vpright writing, euen the words of trueth.

11 The words of the wise are like goads, and like nailes [x] fastened by the masters of the assemblies, which are giuen by one [y] pastour.

[x] Which are well applied by the ministers, whom he calleth masters.

[y] That is, by, or learned by him.

12 And of other things besides these, my sonne, take thou heed: for there is none end in making many [z] bookes, and much reading is a wearinesse of the flesh.

[z] These things cannot bee comprehended in bookes, but God must instruct thy heart, that thou mayest onely know what is the true felicitie, and the way thereunto is to feare God.

13 Let vs heare the end of all: feare God and keepe his commandements: for this is the whole duetie of man.

14 For God will bring euery worke vnto iudgement, with euery secret thing, whether it be good or euill.

An [†] excellent Song which was Salomons.

[†] Ebr. a song of songs: so called because it is the chiefest of those 1005. which Salomon made, as is mentioned 1. King. 4. 32.

THE ARGVMENT.

IN this Song Salomon by most sweet and comfortable allegories and parables describeth the perfit loue of Iesus Christ, the true Salomon and King of peace, and the faithfull soule or his Church, which he hath sanctified and appointed to be his spouse, holy, chaste and without reprehension. So that here is declared the singular loue of the bridegrome toward the bride, and his great and excellent benefites, wherewith hee doeth enrich her of his pure bountie and grace without any of her deseruings. Also the earnest affection of the Church which is inflamed with the loue of Christ, desiring to bee more and more ioyned to him in loue, and not to be forsaken for any spot or blemish that is in her.

CHAP. I.

1 The familiar talke and mysticall communication of the spirituall loue betweene Iesus Christ and his Church. 5 The domesticall enemies that persecute the Church.

[a] This is spoken in the person of the Church, or of the faithfull soule inflamed in the desire of Christ, whom she loueth.

LEt [a] him kisse mee with the kisses of his mouth: for thy loue is better then wine.

[b] The feeling of thy great benefites.

2 Because of the [b] sauor of thy good ointments, thy name is as an ointment powred out: therefore the [c] virgins loue thee.

[c] They that are pure in heart and conuersation.

3 [d] Draw me: we will runne after thee: the King hath brought me into his [e] chambers: we will reioyce and bee glad in thee: we will remember thy loue more then wine: the righteous doe loue thee.

[d] The faithfull confesse that they cannot come to Christ, except they be drawen.

[e] Secret and inner places.

4 I am [f] blacke, O daughters of Ierusalem, but comely, as the tents of [g] Kedar, and [f] The Church confesseth her spots and sinne, but hath confidence in the fauour of Christ.

[g] Kedar was Ismaels sonne, of whom came the Arabians that dwelt in tents.

as the [h] curtaines of Salomon.

5 Regard yee mee not because I am [i] blacke: for the [k] sunne hath looked vpon me. The [l] sonnes of my mother were angry against mee: they made mee the keeper of the vines: but I [m] kept not mine owne vine.

6 Shew me, [n] O thou, whome my soule loueth, where thou feedest, where thou liest at noone: for why should I be as she that turneth aside to the flocks of [o] thy companions?

7 If thou know not, O thou the faireſt among women, get thee forth by the steps of the flocke, and feed thy kids by the tents of the shepheards.

8 I haue compared thee, O my loue, to the troupe of horses in the [q] charets of Pharaoh.

9 Thy cheekes are comely with rowes of stones, and thy necke with chaines.

10 Wee will make thee borders of golde with studdes of siluer.

11 [r] Whiles the King was at his repast, my spikenard gaue the smell thereof.

12 My welbeloued is as a budle of myrrhe vnto me: he shall lie betweene my [s] breasts.

13 My welbeloued is as a cluster of camphire vnto me in the vines of Engedi.

14 My loue, beholde, thou art [t] faire: beholde, thou art faire: thine eyes are like the doues.

15 My welbeloued, behold, thou art faire, and pleasant: also our [u] bed is greene.

16 The beames of our house are cedars, our rafters are of firre.

CHAP. II.

3 The Church desireth to rest vnder the shadow of Christ. 8 She heareth his voyce. 14 Shee is compared to the doue, 15 And the enemies to the foxes.

I Am the rose of the fielde, and the lilie of the valleys.

2 Like a lilie among the thornes, so is my [a] loue among the daughters.

3 [b] Like the apple tree among the trees of the forrest, so is my welbeloued among the sonnes of men: vnder his shadow had I delight, and sate downe: and his fruit was sweet vnto my mouth.

4 He brought me into the wine cellar, and loue was his baner ouer me.

5 Stay me with flagons, and comfort me with apples: for I am sicke of loue.

6 His left hand is vnder mine head, and his right hand doeth embrace me.

7 [c] I charge you, O daughters of Ierusalem, by the roes and by the hindes of the field, that ye stirre not vp, nor waken my loue, vntill she please.

8 [d] It is the voyce of my welbeloued: beholde, he commeth leaping by the mountaines, and skipping by the hilles.

9 My welbeloued is like a roe, or a young hart: loe, hee [e] standeth behinde our wall, looking forth of the windowes, shewing himselfe through the [f] grates.

10 My welbeloued spake, and said vnto me, Arise, my loue, my faire one, and come thy way.

11 For beholde, [g] winter is past: the raine is changed, and is gone away.

12 The flowers appeare in the earth: the time of the singing of birdes is come, and the voyce of the turtle is heard in our land.

13 The figge tree hath brought forth her young figges: and the vines with their small grapes haue cast a sauour: arise my loue, my faire one, and come away.

14 My doue, that art in the [h] holes of the rocke, in the secret places of the staires, shew me thy sight, let mee heare thy voyce: for thy voyce is sweet, and thy sight comely.

15 Take vs the foxes, the [i] little foxes, which destroy the vines: for our vines haue small grapes.

16 My welbeloued is mine, and I am his: he feedeth among the lilies, 17 Until the day breake, and the shadowes flee away: returne, my welbeloued, and bee like a [k] roe, or a young hart vpon the mountaines of Bether.

a Thus Christ preferreth his Church aboue all other things.
b The spouse testifieth her great loue toward her husband, but her weakenesse faileth her, and therefore she desireth to be comforted, and seeketh it.
c Christ charmeth them which must liue in the Church, as is there by a solemne othe, that they trouble not the quietnesse thereof.
d This is spoken of Christ, who tooke vpon him our nature and came to helpe his Church.
e Forasmuch as his diuinitie was hid vnder the cloke of our flesh.
f So that we cannot haue full knowledge of him in this life.
g That is, sinne and errour is driuen backe by the comming of Christ, which is here described by the spring time, when all things flourish.
h Thou that art ashamed of thy sinnes, come and shew thy selfe vnto me.
i Suppresse the heretikes whiles they are yong, that is, when they begin to shew their malice and destroy the vine of the Lord.
k The Church desireth Christ to be most ready to helpe her in all dangers.

CHAP. III.

1 The Church desireth to bee ioyned inseparably to Christ her husband. 6 Her deliuerance out of the wildernes.

IN my bed by [a] night I sought him that my soule loued: I sought him, but I found him not.

2 I will rise therefore now, and go about in the city, by the streetes and by the open places, and will [b] seeke him that my soule loueth: I sought him, but I found him not.

3 The [c] watchmen that went about the citie, found me: to whom I said, Haue you seene him, whom my soule loueth?

4 When I had past a litle from them, then I found him whom my soule loued: I tooke hold on him and left him not, til I had brought him vnto my mothers house into the chamber of her that conceiued me.

5 [d] I charge you, O daughters of Ierusalem, by the roes and by the hindes of the field, that ye stirre not vp, nor waken my loue vntill she please.

6 Who is she that commeth vp out of the [e] wildernesse, like pillars of smoke perfumed with myrrhe and incense, and with all the [†] spices of the merchant?

9 King Salomon hath made him a palace of the trees of Lebanon.

10 He made the pillars thereof of siluer, and the pauement thereof of golde, the hangings thereof of purple, whose mids was paued with the loue of the daughters of Ierusalem.

11 Come forth, ye [h] daughters of Zion, and behold the King Salomon with the crowne, wherewith his mother crowned him in the day of his mariage, and in the day of the gladnesse of his heart.

h All ye, that are of the number of the faithfull.

i Christ become man, was crowned by the loue of God with the glorious crowne of his diuinitie.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The praises of the Church. 7 She is without blemish in his sight. 8 The loue of Christ towards her.

BEhold, thou art [a] faire, my loue: behold, thou art faire: thine eyes are like the doues: among thy lockes [b] thine haire is like the [b] flocke of goats, which looke downe from the mountaine of Gilead.

a Because Christ delighteth in his Church, he commendeth all that is in her.

* Chap. 6. 4.

b He hath respect to the multitude of the faithfull, which are many in number.

2 Thy teeth are like a flocke of sheepe in good order, which goe vp from the washing: which euery one bring out twinnes, and none is barren among them.

3 Thy lips are like a threed of scarlet, and thy talke is comely: thy temples are within thy lockes as a piece of a pomegranate.

4 Thy necke is as the tower of Dauid built for defence: a thousand shields hang therein, and all the targets of the strong men.

5 Thy two [c] breasts are as two yong roes that are twinnes, feeding among the lilies.

c Wherein are knowledge, and zeale, two precious iewels.

6 Vntill the day breake, and the shadowes flee away, I will goe into the mountaine of myrrhe and to the mountaine of incense.

7 Thou art all faire, my loue, and there is no spot in thee.

8 [d] Come with mee from Lebanon, my spouse, euen with mee from Lebanon, and looke from the top of Amanah, from the top of Shenir, and Hermon, from the dennes of the lyons, and from the mountaines of the leopards.

d Christ promiseth his Church to call his faithfull from all the corners of the world.

9 Thy [e] sister, my spouse, thou hast wounded mine heart: thou hast wounded mine heart with one of thine [f] eyes, and with a chaine of thy necke.

e Christ calleth his Church sister, in respect that he had taken the flesh of man.

f In that hee made his Church beautifull and rich, he loued his gifts in her.

10 Thy sister, my spouse, how faire is thy loue: how much better is thy loue then wine? and the sauour of thine ointments then all spices?

11 Thy [g] lips, my spouse, drop as hony combes: hony and milk are vnder thy tongue, and the sauour of thy garments is as the sauour of Lebanon.

g Because of thy confessions and thanksgiuings.

12 My sister my spouse is as a garden inclosed, as a spring shut vp, and a fountaine sealed vp.

13 Thy plants are as an orchard of pomegranates with sweete fruites, as camphire, spikenard, 14 Euen spikenard and saffron, calamus, and cynamom with all the trees of incense, myrrhe and aloes, with all the chiefe spices.

15 [h] O fountaine of the gardens, O well of liuing waters, and the flowings of Lebanon.

h The Church confesseth that all her glory and beauty is of Christ, who is the true fountaine of all grace.

16 Arise, O [i] North, and come, O South, and blow on my garden, that the spices thereof may flowe out: let my welbeloued come to his garden, and eate his pleasant fruit.

i Sathan, enemie to Christ and his members, by the North and South wind.

CHAP. V.

1 Christ calleth his Church to the participation of all his treasures. 2 She heareth his voyce. 3 She confesseth her nakednesse. 10 She praiseth Christ her husband.

I Am come into my [a] garden, my sister, my spouse: I haue gathered my myrrhe with my spice: I haue eaten mine honie combe with mine honie, I haue dranke my wine with my milke: eat, O friends, drinke, and make you merrie, O welbeloued.

a The garden signifieth the kingdome of Christ where he prepareth for his elect.

2 [b] I sleepe, but mine heart waketh, it is the voyce of my welbeloued that knocketh, saying, Open vnto me, my sister, my loue, my doue, my vndefiled: for mine head is full of dew, & my locks with the drops of the [c] night.

b The spouse signifieth the troubles which the cares of worldly things, which is meant by sleeping.

c Declaring the long patience of the Lord towards sinners.

3 I haue put off my [d] coate, how shall I put it on? I haue washed my feete, how shall I defile them?

d The spouse confesseth her nakednesse, and that often times she hath neglected to seeke that she is once more cleane, she remembreth not to defile her selfe again.

4 My welbeloued put in his hand by the hole of the doore, and [e] mine heart was affectioned toward him.

e The spouse which should be ashamed of Christs sharpe reproofes, is thereby the more prouoked to loue him with more good will.

5 I rose vp to open to my welbeloued, and mine hands did drop downe myrrhe, and my [f] fingers pure myrrhe vpon the handles of the barre.

f Their are the false teachers which pretend the conuersion of the world with their traditions.

6 I opened to my welbeloued: but my welbeloued was gone, and past: mine heart was gone when he did speake: I sought him, but I could not finde him: I called him, but he answered me not.

7 The [g] watchmen that went about the citie, found mee: they smote me and wounded me: the watchmen of the walls tooke away my vaile from me.

g Some of them hated me, some gaue me good counsell, as the faithfull teachers vse to do, and Ierusalem, that they should direct me to Christ.

8 I charge you, [h] O daughters of Ierusalem, if you finde my welbeloued, that you tell him that I am sicke of loue.

h The Church confesseth that all the true fountaine of all grace.

i Christ calleth her, and to powre the graces of his Spirit vpon her, which Spirit is meant by the North and South wind.

9 [i] O thou fairest among women, what is thy welbeloued more then other welbeloued? what is thy welbeloued more then another louer, that thou doest so charge vs?

10 My welbeloued is white and ruddie, the chiefest of ten thousand.

11 His [k] head is as fine golde, his lockes curled, and blacke as a rauen.

k Christ perfect God and man.

12 His eyes are like doues vpon the riuers of waters, which are washt with milke, and remaine by the full vessels.

16 His mouth is as ſweete things, and he is wholly delectable: this is my welbeloued, and this is my louer, O daughters of Ieruſalem.

k Hearing of the excellencie of Chriſt the faithfull deſire to know how to finde him.

17 [k] O the faireſt among women, whither is thy welbeloued gone? whither is thy welbeloued turned aſide, that we may ſeeke him with thee?

CHAP. VI.

2 The Church aſſureth her ſelfe of the loue of Chriſt. 3 The praiſes of the Church. 8 She is but one and vndefiled.

MY welbeloued is gone downe into his [a] garden to the beds of ſpices, to feed in the gardens, and to gather lilies.

4 [c] Turne away thine eyes from mee: for they ouercome me: *thine haire is like a flocke of goats, which looke downe from Gilead.

5 Thy teeth are like a flocke of ſheepe, which goe vp from the waſhing, which euery one bring out twinnes, and none is barren among them, d Meaning, that the gifts are infinite which Chriſt grueth to his Church: or that his faithfull are many in number.

7 There are [d] threeſcore Queenes and foureſcore concubines, and of the damſels without number.

e He ſheweth that the beginning of the Church was ſmall, but that it grew vp to a great multitude.

8 But my doue is alone, and my vndefiled, ſhee is the onely daughter of her mother, and ſhee is deare to her that bare her: the daughters haue ſeene her and counted her bleſſed, euen the Queenes and the concubines, and they haue praiſed her.

f He went downe into the Synagogue to ſee what fruits came of the Law, and the Prophets. g I found nothing but rebellion. h I runne as ſwift as the nobles of my people in their chaiers. i O ye people of Ieruſalem: for Ieruſalem was called Shalem, which ſignifieth peace.

9 [e] Who is ſhee that looketh forth as the morning, faire as the moone, pure as the ſunne, terrible as an armie with banners!

10 I went downe to the [f] garden of nuts, to ſee the fruits of the valley, to ſee if the vine budded, and if the pomegranates flouriſhed.

11 [g] I knew nothing, my ſoule ſet me [h] as the charets of my noble people.

12 Returne, returne, O [i] Shulamite, returne: returne that we may behold thee. What ſhal you ſee in the Shulamite, but as the companie of an armie?

CHAP. VII.

1 The beautie of the Church in all her members. 10 She is aſſured of Chriſt's loue towards her.

HOw beautifull are thy [a] goings with ſhooes, O princes daughter! the ioynts of thy thighs are like iewels: the worke of the hand of a cunning workman.

a He deſcribeth the comely beautie of the Church in euery part, which is to be vnderſtood ſpiritually.

2 Thy nauel is as a round cuppe that wanteth not liquor: thy belly is as an heape of wheate compaſſed about with lilies.

b Reade Chap. 4. 5.

3 [b] Thy two breaſtes are as two young roes that are twinnes.

4 Thy necke is like a towre of yuorie, thine eyes are like the fiſhpooles in Heſhbon by the gate of Bath-rabbim: thy noſe is as the towre of Lebanon, that looketh toward Damaſcus.

5 Thine head vpon thee is as ſcarlet, and the buſh of thine head like purple: the King is tied [c] in the ‖ rafters.

c He deſireth to come neere thee and to be in the companie. ‖ Or, galeries.

6 How faire art thou, and how pleaſant art thou, O my loue, in pleaſures!

7 This thy ſtature is like a palme tree, and thy breſts like cluſters.

8 I ſaid, I will goe vp into the palme tree, I will take hold of her boughs: thy breaſtes ſhall now be like the cluſters of the vine: and the ſauour of thy noſe like apples.

9 And the roofe of thy mouth like good wine, which goeth ſtraight to my welbeloued, and cauſeth the lips of the ancient to ſpeake.

d This the ſpouſe ſpeaketh.

10 [d] I am my welbeloueds, and his deſire is toward me.

11 Come, my welbeloued, let vs goe forth into the field: let vs remaine in the villages.

12 Let vs get vp early to the vines, let vs ſee if the [e] vine flouriſh, whether it hath budded the ſmal grape, or whether the pomegranates flouriſh: there will I giue thee my loue.

e If the people that are called to Chriſt, bring forth any fruit.

13 The mandrakes haue giuen a ſmel, and in our gates are all ſweet things, new and old: my welbeloued, I haue kept them for thee.

CHAP. VIII.

6 d Set me as a seale on thine heart, and as a signet vpon thine arme: for loue is strong as death: ielousie is cruel as the graue: the coles thereof are fiery coles, and a vehement flame.

7 Much water cannot quench loue, neither can the floods drowne it: if a man should giue all the substance of his house for loue, they would greatly contemne it.

e The Iewish Church speaketh this of the Church of the Gentiles.

8 e We haue a little sister, and shee hath no breasts: what shall we doe for our sister when she shalbe spoken for?

f If shee be sure & fast, she is meet for the husband to dwell in.

9 f If shee be a wall, wee will build vpon her a siluer palace: and if she be a doore, we will keepe her in with boards of Cedar.

Isaiah.

The Argument.

God, according to his promise, Deut. 18. 15. that hee would neuer leaue his Church destitute of a Prophet, hath from time to time accomplished the same: whose office was not only to declare to the people the things to come, whereof they had a special reuelation, but also to interpret & declare the Law, to apply particularly the doctrine conteined briefly therein, to the vtilitie and profit of those, to whom they thought it chiefly to appertaine, and as the time and state of things required. And principally in the declaration of the Law they had respect to three things, which were the ground of their doctrine: First, to the doctrine conteined briefly in the two tables: secondly, to the promises and threatnings of the Law: and thirdly, to the couenant of grace and reconciliation, grounded vpon our Sauiour Iesus Christ, who is the end of the Law. Wherunto they neither added nor diminished, but faithfully expounded the sense and meaning thereof. And according as God gaue them vnderstanding of things, they applied the promises particularly for the comfort of the Church and the members thereof, and also denounced the menaces against the enemies of the same: not for any care or regard to the enemies, but to assure the Church of their safegard by the destruction of their enemies. And as touching the doctrine of reconciliation, they haue more clearely intreated it then Moses, and set forth more liuely Iesus Christ, in whom this couenant of reconciliation was made. In all these things Esaiah did excell all the Prophets, and was most diligent to set out the same, with most vehement admonitions, reprehensions, and consolations: euer applying the doctrine, as hee saw that the disease of the people required. He declareth also many notable prophecies which he had receiued of God, as touching the promise of the Messiah, his office, and his kingdome. And also of the fauour of God toward his Church, the vocation of the Gentiles, and their vnion with the Iewes. Which are as most principall points conteined in his Bookes, and a gathering of his sermons that he preached. Which after certaine dayes that they had stood vpon the Temple doore (for the maner of the Prophets was to set vp the summe of their doctrine for certaine dayes, that the people might the better marke it, as Isai. 8. 1. and Habak. 2. 2.) the Priestes tooke it downe, and reserued it among the registers: and so by Gods prouidence these bookes were preserued as a monument to the Church for euer. As touching his person and time, he was of the Kings stocke (for Amoz his father was brother to Azariah King of Iudah, as the best writers agree) and prophesied more than 40 yeeres, from the time of Vzziah vnto the reigne of Manasseh, whose father in law hee was (as the Ebrewes write) and of whom he was put to death. And in reading the Prophets, this one thing among other is to be obserued, that they speake of things to come, as though they were now past, because of the certaintie thereof, and that they could not but come to passe, because God had ordeined them in his secret counsell, and so reuealed them to his Prophets.

THe word that Iſaiah the ſonne of Amoz ſaw vpon Iuda and Ieruſalem.

2 * It [a] shall be in the last dayes, that the mountaine of the house of the Lord shalbe prepared in the top of the mountaines, and [b] shall be exalted aboue the hilles, and all nations shal [c] flow vnto it.

3 And many people shall goe, and say, Come, and let vs goe vp to [d] the mountaine of the Lord, to the house of the God of Iaakob, and he will teach vs his wayes, and wee will walke in his paths: for the * [e] Law shall goe foorth of Zion, and the word of the Lord from [f] Jerusalem,

4 And [g] he shall iudge among the nations, and [h] rebuke many people: they shall [i] breake their swordes also into mattockes, and their speares into sithes: nation shall not lift vp a sword against nation, neither shall they learne [k] to fight any more.

5 O house of Iaakob, come ye, and let vs [l] walke in the light of the Lord.

6 Surely thou [m] hast forsaken thy people, the house of Iaakob, because they are [n] full of the East maners, and are Sorcerers as the Philistims, [o] and abound with strange children.

7 Their land also was full of [p] siluer and golde, and there was none ende of their treasures: and their land was full of horses, and their charets were infinite.

8 Their land also was full of idoles: they worshipped the worke of their owne handes, which their owne fingers haue made.

9 And a man bowed himselfe, and a man [q] humbled himselfe: therefore [r] spare them not.

10 Enter into the rocke, and hide thee in the dust from before the feare of the Lord, and from the glory of his maiestie.

11 The high looke of [s] man shall be humbled, and the loftinesse of men shall be abased, and the Lorde [t] only shall be exalted in [u] that day.

12 For the day of the Lord of hostes is vpon all the proude and haughtie, and vpon all that is exalted, and it shalbe made lowe,

13 Euen vpon all the cedars of Lebanon, that are high and exalted, and vpon all the okes of Bashan,

15 And vpon euery high tower, and vpon euery strong wall,

16 And vpon [y] all the shippes of Tarshish, and vpon all pleasant pictures.

17 And the haughtinesse of men shall be brought low, and the loftinesse of men shall be abased, and the Lord shall onely be exalted in that day.

18 And the idoles will he vtterly destroy.

19 Then they shall goe * into the holes of the rocks, and into the caues of the earth, from before the feare of the Lord, and from the glory of his maiestie, when he shal arise to destroy the earth.

20 At that day shall man cast away his siluer idoles, and his golden idoles (which they had made themselues to worship them) [x] to the mowles and to the backes, i Hee sheweth the fruit of the peace, which the Gospel should bring: to wit, that men should doe good one to another, whereas before they were enemies.

k He speaketh not against the vse of weapons and lawfull war, but sheweth how the hearts of the godly shalbe affected one toward another: which peace and loue doth begin and grow in this life, but shalbe perfected, when we are ioyned with our head Christ Jesus.
l Seeing the Gentiles will be so ready, make you haste & shew the way to walke vnto the Lord.

12 [k] Children are extortioners of my people, and women haue rule ouer them: O my people, they that leade thee, cause thee to erre, and destroy the way of thy paths.

13 The Lorde standeth vp to pleade, yea, he standeth to iudge the people.

14 The Lord shall enter into iudgement with the [l] Ancients of his people, and the princes thereof: for ye haue eaten vp the vineyard: the spoile of the poore is in your houses.

15 What haue ye to doe, that ye beate my people to pieces, [m] and grinde the faces of the poore, sayth the Lord, euen the Lorde of hostes?

16 The Lorde also sayth, [n] Because the daughters of Zion are hautie, and walke with [o] stretched out neckes, and with [p] wandring eyes, walking and [q] minsing as they goe, and making a [r] tinckling with their feete, 17 Therefore shall the Lorde make the heads of the daughters of Zion balde, and the Lord shall discouer their secret parts.

18 In that day shall the Lord take away the ornament of the slippers, and the kalles, and the round tyres.

19 The sweete balles, and the bracelets, and the bounets,

24 And in steade of sweete sauour, there shall be stinke, and in stead of a girdle, a rent, and in stead of dressing of the haire, baldnesse, and in stead of a stomacher, a girding of sackecloth, and burning in stead of beautie.

25 Thy men [t] shall fall by the sword, and thy strength in the battell.

AND in that day shall [a] seuen women take holde of one man, saying, We will eate our owne bread, and wee will weare our owne garments: only [b] let vs be called by thy name, and take away our [c] reproch.

2 In that day shall the [d] bud of the Lorde be beautifull and glorious, and the fruit of the earth shall be excellent and pleasant for them that are escaped of Israel.

3 Then hee that shall be left in Zion, and he that shall remaine in Ierusalem, shalbe called holy, and euery one shall bee [e] written among the liuing in Ierusalem,

4 When the Lord shall wash the filthines of the daughters of Zion, and purge the [f] blood of Ierusalem out of the middes thereof by the spirit of [g] iudgement, and by the spirit of burning.

5 And the Lorde shall create vpon euery place of mount Zion, and vpon the assemblies thereof, [h] a cloude and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for vpon all the [i] glory shall be a defence.

6 And a couering shall be for a shadow in the day for the heate, and a place of refuge and a couert for the storme [k] and for the raine.

CHAP. V.

1 Vnder the similitude of the vine he describeth the state of the people. 8 Of their auarice. 11 Their drunkennesse. 13 Of their captiuitie.

NOw will [a] I sing to my [b] beloued a song of my beloued to his vineyard. [*] My beloued had a [c] vineyard in a very fruitfull hill,

2 And he hedged it, and gathered out the stones of it, and hee planted it with the best plants, [d] and hee built a tower in the middes thereof, and made a wine [e] presse therein: then hee looked that it should bring forth grapes: but it brought [f] forth wilde grapes.

3 Now therefore, O inhabitants of Ierusalem, and men of Iudah, iudge, I pray you, [g] betweene me, and my vineyard.

4 What could I haue done any more to my vineyard that I haue not done vnto it? why haue I looked that it should bring forth grapes, and it bringeth forth wilde grapes?

5 And now I will tell you what I will doe to my vineyard: I [h] will take away the hedge thereof, and it shall be eaten vp: I will breake the wall thereof, and it shall be troden downe:

6 And I will lay it waste: it shall not be cut, nor digged, but briars and thornes shall growe vp: I will also command the cloudes that they raine no raine vpon it.

7 ¶ Surely the vineyard of the Lord of hostes

[i] The faithfull are called the glory of God, because his image and tokens of his grace shine in them. [k] God promiseth to be the defence of his Church against all troubles and dangers.

[a] Be ye that are fully assured that God will defend you in the midst of these troubles.

[b] Because the wicked people were more addicted to their princes, then to the commandements of God, he sheweth that hee would giue them such princes, by whome they should haue no helpe, but that should be manifest tokens of his wrath, because they should be proles and effeminate.

[c] Meaning, that the rulers and gouernors had destroyed his Church, and not deserued it according to their office.

[d] That is, ye vse all cruelty against them.

[g] They delighted then in slippes that did make, or bad fit: in places sowed with them which pleased as they went.

[h] In rehearsing these things particularly, he sheweth the light and vanity of such as cannot be content with comely apparell according their degree.

[c] Meaning, that he had planted his Church in a place most pleasant and abundant.

[d] He spared no diligence for it.

[e] Heere is meant them that were in their owne conceit righteous, and therefore reiected.

[f] He maketh them iudges in their owne cause, to conuince them of their owne conscience, that they were the cause of their owne ruine.

[g] I will take no more care for my vineyard, that is, my Church, but leaue them to their owne wickednesse, and punishment, and will no more defend them against their enemies.

hostes is the house of Israel, and the men of Iuvah are his pleasant plant, and he looked for [h] iudgement, but behold oppression: for righteousnesse, but behold a crying.

8 Woe vnto them that ioyne house to house, and lay fielde to fielde, till there bee no place, that you may be placed by your selues in the mids of the earth.

9 This is in mine eares, saith the Lord of hostes. Surely many houses shall be desolate, euen great and faire without inhabitant.

10 For ten acres of vines shall yeeld one [m] bath, and the seede of an [n] homer shall yeeld an [o] ephah.

11 ¶ Woe vnto them, that [p] rise vp early to follow drunkennesse, and to them that continue vntill [q] night, till the wine doe inflame them.

12 And the harpe and viole, timbrell, and pipe, and wine are in their feasts: but they regard not the [r] worke of the Lord, neither consider the worke of his hands.

13 Therefore my people [s] is gone into captiuitie, because they had [t] no knowledge, and the glory thereof are men famished, and the multitude thereof is dried vp with thirst.

14 Therefore [u] hell hath enlarged it selfe, and hath opened his mouth without measure, and their glory, and their multitude, and their pompe, and he that reioyceth among them, shal descend into it.

15 And man shall be brought downe, and man shall bee humbled, euen the eyes of the proud shalbe humbled.

16 And the Lord of hostes shall be exalted in iudgement, and the holy God shalbe sanctified in iustice.

17 Then shall [x] the lambes feede after their maner, and the stranger shall eate the desolate places of the fat.

18 ¶ Woe vnto them, that draw iniquitie with [y] cordes of vanitie, and sinne, as with carropes:

19 Which say, [z] Let him make speed: let him hasten his worke, that we may see it: and let the counsell of the holy one of Israel draw neere and come, that we may know it.

20 Woe vnto them that speake good of euill, [a] and euill of good, which put darkenesse for light, and light for darkenesse, that put bitter for sweete, and sweete for sowre.

21 Woe vnto them that are [b] wise in their owne eyes, and prudent in their owne sight.

22 Woe vnto them that are [c] mightie to drinke wine, and to them that are strong to powre in strong drinke:

23 Which iustifie the wicked for a reward, and take away the righteousnesse of the righteous from him.

24 Therefore as the flame of fire deuoureth the stubble, and as the chaffe is consumed of the flame: so their [d] roote shall be as rottennesse, and their budde shall rise vp like dust, because they haue cast off the law of the Lord of hosts, and contemned the word of the holy one of Israel.

25 Therefore is the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, and hee hath stretched out his [e] hand vpon them, and hath smitten them that the mountaines did tremble: and their carkeises were torne in the midst of the streets. And for all this his wrath was not turned away, but his hand was stretched out still.

26 And hee will lift vp a signe [f] vnto the nations afarre, and will hisse vnto them from the ende of the earth: and beholde, they shall come hastily with speede.

27 None shal [g] faint nor fall among them: none shall slumber nor sleepe, neither shall the girdle of his loines be loosed, nor [h] the latchet of his shoes be broken:

28 Whose arrowes shalbe sharpe, & all his bowes bent: his horse hooues shall be thought like flint, and his wheeles like a whirlewind.

29 His roaring shall be like a lyon, and he shall roare like lions whelps: they shal [i] roare, and lay holde of the pray: they shall take it away, and none shall deliuer it.

30 And in that day they shall roare vpon them, as the roaring of the sea: and if [k] they looke vnto the earth, behold darkenesse, and sorrow, and the light shall be darkened in their [l] skie.

CHAP. VI.

1 Isaiah sheweth his vocation by the vision of the diuine Maiestie. 9 Hee sheweth the obstinacie of the people. 11 The destruction of the land. 13 The remnant reserued.

IN the yeere of the death of King Vzziah, [a] I saw also the Lord sitting vpon an [b] high throne, and lifted vp, and the lower [c] partes thereof filled the Temple.

2 The [d] Seraphims stood vpon it: euery one had sixe wings: with twaine hee couered his [e] face, and with twaine hee couered his feete, and with twaine he did [f] flie.

6 Then flew one of the Seraphims vnto me with an hote cole in his hand, which he had taken from the m altar with the tongs:

7 And hee touched my mouth, and said, Loe, this hath touched thy lips, and thine iniquitie shall be taken away, and thy n sinne shall be purged.

8 Also I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send? and who shall goe for vs? Then I said, Here am I, send me.

9 And hee said, Goe, and say vnto this people, o Ye shall heare in deed, but ye shall not vnderstand: ye shall plainely see, and not perceiue.

10 Make the heart of this people fat, make their eares heauie, and shut their eyes, lest they see with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and vnderstand with their hearts, and conuert, and be healed them.

11 Then said I, Lord, p how long? And he answered, Vntill the cities be wasted without inhabitant, and the houses without man: and the land be vtterly desolate,

CHAP. VII.

1 Ierusalem besieged. 4 Isaiah comforteth the king. 14 Christ is promised.

AND in the dayes of * Ahaz, the sonne of Iotham, the sonne of Vzziah king of Iudah, Rezin the king of ‖ Aram a came vp, and Pekah the sonne of Remaliah king of Israel, to Ierusalem to fight against it, but he could not ouercome it.

2 And it was told the house of b Dauid, saying, Aram is ioyned with c Ephraim: therefore his heart was d mooued, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the forrest are mooued by the winde.

3 ¶ Then sayde the Lorde vnto Isaiah, Goe forth now to meete Ahaz (thou and e Shear-iashub the sonne) at the ende of the conduit of the vpper poole, in the path of the fullers field.

4 And say vnto him, Take heede, and be still: feare not, neither be faint hearted for the two tailes of these smoking f firebrands, for the furious wrath of Rezin and of Aram, and of Remaliahs sonne.

5 Because Aram hath taken wicked counsell against thee, and Ephraim, and Remaliahs sonne, saying,

6 Let vs goe vp against Iudah, and let vs waken them vp, and make a breach therein for vs, and set a king in the middes thereof, euen the sonne of g Tabeal.

7 Thus saith the Lord God, It shall not stand, neither shall it be.

8 For the head of Aram is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin: and within fiue and h threescore yeere, Ephraim shalbe destroyed from being a people.

9 And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Remaliahs sonne. If ye beleeue not, surely yee shall not be established.

10 ¶ And the Lord spake againe vnto Ahaz, saying,

11 Aske i a signe for thee of the Lord thy God: aske it, either in the depth beneath or in the height aboue.

12 But Ahaz said, I will not aske, neither will I k tempt the Lord.

13 Then he said, Heare you now, O house of Dauid, Is it a small thing for you to grieue l men, that ye will also grieue my God?

14 Therefore the Lorde m himselfe will giue you a signe. Behold, the virgine shal conceiue and beare a sonne, and shee shall call his name ‖ Immanu-el.

15 n Butter and honie shall he eate, till he haue knowledge to refuse the euill, and to chuse the good.

16 For afore the o childe shall haue knowledge to refuse the euill, p to chuse the good, the land, that thou abhorrest, shalbe forsaken of both her Kings.

17 The Lord shall bring vpon thee, and vpon thy people, and vpon thy fathers house (the dayes that haue not come from the day that q Ephraim departed from Iudah) euen the King of r Ashur.

18 And in that day shall the Lord hisse for the s flie that is at the vttermost part of the floods of Egypt, and for the Bee which is in the land of Ashur.

Christ is not onely God but man also, because he shall be nourished as other men vntill the age of discretion. o Not meaning Christ, but any childe: for before a childe can come to the yeeres of discretion, the Kings of Samaria and Damascus shall be destroyed. p Since the time that the twelue Tribes reuolted from Roboam. q Ye whome thou hast put thy trust. r Meaning, the Assyrians: for by reason the countrey is hote and moyst, it is full of flies, as Aegypt is full of Bees.

e That is to say, the rest shall returne, which name Isaiah gaue his sonne to signifie that the rest of the people should returne out of their captiuitie.

f Which haue but a litle smoke and shall quickly be quenched.

g Which was an Israelite, and as seemeth, enemie to the house of Dauid.

h Counting from the fiue and twentieth yeere of the reigne of Vzziah, at what time Amos prophecied this thing, and now Isaiah confirmeth that the Israelites should be led into perpetuall captiuitie, which thing came to passe within twentie yeeres after that Isaiah did this message.

i For the confirmation of this thing, that thine enemies shall be destroyed and thou preserued.

k Not to beleeue Gods word without a signe, is to tempt God: but to refuse a signe when God offereth it for the ease and helpe of our infirmitie, is to rebell against him.

l You thinke you haue to doe with men, when yee contemne Gods messengers: but it is God against whom you harden your eares.

m For although as thou art vnworthy, the Lord for his elect sake will giue a signe: yet which shall be that Christ the Sauiour of his Church and the effect of all signes and miracles shalbe reuealed.

‖ Or, God with vs, which name can agree to none, but to him that is God and man.

n Meaning, that

19 And they shall come and shall light all in the desolate valleis, and in the holes of the rockes, and vpon all thorny places, and vpon all bushy [f] places.

20 In that day shall the Lorde shaue with a rasour that is hired, euen by them beyonde the Riuer, by the king of Ashur, the head and the haire of the [c] feete, and it shall consume the beard.

21 And in the same day shall a man [u] nourish a yong kowe, and two sheepe.

22 And for the [x] abundance of milke, that they shall giue, he shall eate butter: for butter and hony shall euery one eate, which is left within the land.

23 And at the same day euery place, wherein shall be a thousand vines, shall be at a thousand pieces of siluer: so it shall bee for the briars and for the thornes.

24 With arrowes and with [y] bowe shall one come thither: because all the land shall be briars and thornes.

25 But on [z] all the mountaines, which shal bee digged with the mattocke, there shall not come thither the feare of briars and thornes: but they shall bee for the sending out of bullocks, and for the treading of sheepe.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The captiuitie of Israel and Iudah by the Assyrians. 6 The infidelitie of the Iewes. 9 The destruction of the Assyrians. 14 Christ the stone of stumbling to the wicked. 19 The word of God must be inquired at.

MOreouer, the Lord sayd vnto me, Take thee a [a] great roll, and write in it [b] with a mans penne, Make speede to the spoyle: haste to the pray.

2 Then I tooke vnto mee [c] faithfull witnesses to record, Uriah the Priest, and Zechariah the sonne of Iberechiah.

3 After, I came vnto the [d] Prophetesse, which conceiued and bare a sonne. Then said the Lord to me, Call his name, ‖Maher-shalal-hash-baz.

4 For before the [e] childe shall haue knowledge to crie, My father, and my mother, [f] hee shall take away the riches of Damascus and the spoyle of Samaria, before the king of Ashur.

5 ¶ And the Lorde spake yet againe vnto me, saying,

6 Because this people hath refused the waters of [g] Shiloah that runne softly, & reioyce with Rezin, and the sonne of Remaliah,

7 Nowe therefore, behold, the Lord bringeth vp vpon them the waters of [h] the Riuer mighty & great, euen the king of Ashur with all his glory, and hee shall come vp vpon all their riuers, and goe ouer all their bankes,

8 And shall breake into Iudah, and shall ouerflow and passe through, and shall come vp to the [i] necke, and the stretching out of his wings shall fill the breadth of thy lande, O [k] Immanu-el.

9 Gather together on heapes, O ye [l] people, and ye shall be broken in pieces, and hearken al ye of farre countreys: gird your selues, and you shall be broken in pieces: gird your selues, and you shall be broken in pieces.

10 Take counsell together, yet it shall be brought to nought: pronounce a decree, yet shall it not stand: for God is with vs.

11 For the Lord spake thus to me in taking [m] of mine hand, and taught me, that I should not walke in the way of this people, saying,

12 Say yee not, A [n] confederacie to all them, to whom this people saith a confederacie, neither feare you [o] their feare, nor bee afraid of them.

13 [p] Sanctifie the Lord of hostes, and let him be your feare, and let him be your dread.

14 And he shall be as a [q] Sanctuarie: but as a stumbling stone, & as a rocke to fall vpon, to both the houses of Israel, and as a snare, and as a net to the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

15 And many among them shall stumble, and shall fall and shall be broken, and shall be snared, and shall be taken.

16 [r] Binde vp the testimonie: seale vp the Law among my disciples.

17 Therefore I will waite vpon the Lord that hath hidde his face from the house of Iaakob, and I will looke for him.

18 Behold, I and the [s] children whom the Lord hath giuen mee, are as signes and as wonders in Israel, [t] by the Lord of hostes, which dwelleth in mount Zion.

19 And when they shall say vnto you, Enquire at them that haue a spirit of diuination, and at the soothsayers which whisper & murmure, [u] Should not a people enquire at their God? from the [x] liuing to the dead?

20 To the [y] Law, and to the testimonie, if they speake not according to this word: it is because there is no [z] light in them.

21 Then he that is afflicted and famished, shall go to and fro in [a] it: and when he shall be hungry, he shall euen fret himselfe, [b] and curse his king and his gods, and shall looke vpward.

22 And when hee shall looke to the earth, behold trouble, and [c] darkenesse, vexation and anguish, and he is driuen to darkenesse.

a That thou mayest write in great letters to the intent it may be more easily read.
b Meaning, after the common fashion: because all men might read it.
c Because the thing was of great importance, he tooke these two witnesses, which were of credit with the people, when he set this vp vpon the doore of the Temple, albeit Uriah was a flattering hypocrite, 2 Kin. 16.11.
d Meaning, to his wife, and this was done in a vision.
‖Or, make speede to the spoyle: haste to the pray.
e Before any child be able to speake.
f That is, the army of Assyria.
g Which was a fountaine at the foote of mount Zion, out of the which ranne a small riuer through the citie: meaning, that they of Iudah, distrusting their owne power, which was small, desired such power and riches as they saw in Syria and Israel.
h That is, the Assyrians, which dwell beyond Euphrates.
i It shall be readie to drowne them.
k He speaketh this to Messiah, or Christ, in whom the faithfull were comforted, & who would not suffer his Church to be destroyed vtterly.
l To wit, yee that are enemies to the Church, as the Assyrians, Egyptians, Syrians, &c. m To encourage me that I should not shrinke for the infidelitie of this people, and so neglect mine office.
n Consent not ye that are godly, to the league and friendship that this people seeke with strangers and idolaters.
o Meaning, that they should not feare the thing that they feared, which haue no hope in God.
p In putting your trust onely in him, in calling vpon him in aduersitie, patiently looking for his helpe, and fearing to doe any thing contrary to his will.
q He will defend you which are his elect, and reteine all the rest, which is meant of Christ, against whom the Iewes should stumble and fall, Luke 2.34. rom. 9.33. 1. pet. 2.7, 8.
r Though all forsake me, yet ye that are mine, keepe my words sure sealed in your hearts.
s Meaning, them that were willing to heare and obey the word of God, whom the world hated, as though they were monsters, and not worthy to liue.
t This was a consolation in their troubles, knowing that nothing could come vnto them but by the will of the Lord.
u Answere the wicked thus.
x That is, will they refuse to be taught of the Prophet, who is the mouth of God, and seeke helpe at the dead, which is the illusion of Satan?
y Gods remedie in the word of God, where his will is declared.
z They haue no knowledge, but are blinde leaders of the blinde.
a That is, in Iudah, where they should haue had rest, if they had not thus grieuously offended God.
b In whome afore they put their trust.
c They shall thinke that heauen and earth and all creatures are bent against them to trouble them.

f Signifying, that no place shall be free from them.
c That is, that which is from the belly downward meaning, that he would destroy both great and small.
u Hee that before had a great number of cattell, shal be content with one kowe and two sheepe.
x The number of men shall be so small, that a few beastes shall be able to nourish all abundantly.
y As they that goe to seeke wild beastes among the bushes.
z The mountaines contrary to their wonte, shall be tilled by such as shal flee to them for succour.

CHAP. IX.

1 The vocation of the Gentiles. 6 A prophecie of Christ. 14 The destruction of the ten Tribes for their pride and contempt of God.

a He comforteth the Church againe after these great threatnings, promising to restore them to great glory in Messiah.

b Wherewith Israel was punished, first by Tiglath-pileser, which was a light scourge in respect of that which they suffered afterward by Shalmaneser, who caried the Israelites away captives.

c Where as the Jewes and Gentiles dwelt together by reason of those 20. cities, which Salomon gaue to Hiram.

d Which were captiue in Babylon: and the Prophet speaketh of that thing which should come to passe threescore yeeres after, as though it were now done.

e Meaning, the comfort of their deliuerance.

f This captiuitie and deliuerance were figures of our captiuitie by sinne, and of our deliuerance by Christ through the preaching of the Gospel. Matth. 4.15,16.

g Their number was greater when they went into captiuitie, then when they returned, but their ioy was greater at their returne, Hagge. 2.10.

h Thou gauest them perfect ioy, by deliuering them and by destroying the tyrants that had kept them in cruell bondage, as thou diddest deliuer them by Gideon from the Midianites, Judg. 7.22.

i He speaketh of the deliuerance of his Church, which he hath deliuered miraculously from his enemies, but specially by the comming of Christ, of whom he prophesieth in the next verse.

k The author of eternitie, and by whome the Church and every member thereof shall bee preserued for euer, and haue immortall life.

l His singular loue and care for his elect.

m This is another prophecie against them of Samaria, which were mockers and contemners of Gods promises and menaces.

n We were but weake, when the enemie ouercame vs, but wee will make our selues so strong, that wee will neither care for our enemies, nor feare Gods threatnings.

o Rezin King of Syria, who was in league with Israel, was slaine by the Assyrians, after whose death, Aram, that is, the Syrians were against Israel, which on the other side were assailed by the Philistims.

YEt [a] the darkenesse shall not be according to the affliction, [b] that it had when at the first hee touched lightly the lande of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, nor afterward when hee was more grieuous by the way of the sea beyond Jorden in Galile of [c] the Gentiles.

2 The people that [d] walked in darkenesse, haue seene a great [e] light: they that dwelled in the land of the shadow of death, vpon them hath the [f] light shined.

3 Thou hast [g] multiplyed the nation, and not increased their ioy: they haue reioyced before thee according to the ioy in haruest, and as men reioyce when they diuide a spoile.

4 For the [h] yoke of their burthen, and the staffe of their shoulder, and the rodde of their oppressour hast thou broken, as in the day of Midian.

5 Surely euery battell of the warriour is with noyse, and with tumbling of garments in blood: but this shall be [i] with burning and deuouring of fire.

6 For vnto vs a childe is borne, and vnto vs a Sonne is giuen: and the gouernment is vpon his shoulder, and he shall call his Name Wonderfull, Counseller, The mightie God, The euerlasting [k] Father, The Prince of peace,

7 The increase of his gouernment and peace shall haue none ende: hee shall sit vpon the throne of Dauid, and vpon his kingdome, to order it, and to stablish it with iudgement and with iustice, from henceforth, euen for euer: [l] the zeale of the Lord of hostes will performe this.

8 The Lord hath sent a word into Jaakob, and it hath lighted vpon [m] Israel.

9 And all the people shall know, euen Ephraim, and the inhabitant of Samaria, that say in the pride and presumption of the heart,

10 The [n] bricks are fallen, but wee will builde it with hewen stones: the wilde figge trees are cut downe, but we will change them into Cedars.

11 Neuertheless the Lorde will raise vp the aduersaries of [o] Rezin against him, and ioyne his enemies together.

12 Aram before and the Philistims behinde, and they shall deuoure Israel with open mouth: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

13 For the people turneth not vnto him that smiteth them, neither doe they seeke the Lord of hostes.

14 Therefore will the Lord cut off from Israel head and taile, branch and rush in one day.

15 The ancient and the honourable man, hee is the head: and the Prophet that teacheth lies, he is the taile.

16 For the leaders of the people cause them to erre: and they that are led by them, are deuoured.

17 Therefore shall the Lord haue no pleasure in their young men, neither will hee haue compassion of their fatherlesse and of their widowes: for euery one is an hypocrite and wicked, and euery mouth speaketh folly: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

18 For wickednesse [p] burneth as a fire: it deuoureth the briars and the thornes, and will kindle in the thicke places of the forrest: and they shall mount vp like the lifting vp of smoke.

19 By the wrath of the Lord of hosts shall the land be darkened, and the people shall be as the meate of the fire: no man shall [q] spare his brother.

20 And hee shall snatch at the right hand, and be hungry: and hee shall eate on the left hand, and shall not be satisfied: euery one shall eate the [r] flesh of his owne arme.

21 Manasseh, Ephraim: and Ephraim Manasseh, and they both shall be against Judah: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

p Wickednesse as a bellowes kindleth the fire of Gods wrath, which consumeth all his obstinate enemies.

q Though there were no forreine enemie, yet they shall destroy one another.

r Their greedinesse shall be insatiable, so that one brother shall eate vp another, as though hee should eate his owne flesh.

CHAP. X.

1 Of wicked lawmakers. 5 God will punish his people by the Assyrians, and after destroy them. 21 The remnant of Israel shall be saued.

WOe vnto them that decree wicked decrees, and [a] write grieuous things,

2 To keepe backe the poore from iudgement, and to take away the iudgement of the poore of my people, that widowes may bee their pray, and that they may spoyle the fatherlesse.

3 What will ye do now in the day of visitation, and of destruction, which shall come from [b] farre? to whome will ye flee for helpe? and where will ye leaue your [c] glorie?

4 [d] Without mee euery one shall fall among them that are bound, and they shall fall downe among the slaine: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hande is stretched out still.

a Which write and pronounce a wicked sentence to oppresse the poore: meaning that the wicked magistrates, which were the chiefe cause of mischiefe, should be first punished.

b To wit, from Assyria.

c Your riches and authoritie, that they may be safe, and that ye may receiue them againe.

d Because they haue forsaken me, some shall go into captiuitie, and the rest shall be slaine.

e God calleth for the Assyrians to be the executioners of his vengeance.

5 ¶ O e Asshur, the rod of my wrath: and the staffe in their hands is mine indignation.

f That is, the Assyrians against the Iewes, which are but hypocrites: and in this first and seuenth verse is declared the difference of the work of God, and of the wicked in one very thing and actes: for Gods intention is to chastise them for their amendment, and the Assyrians purpose is to destroy them to enrich themselues: thus in respect of Gods Iustice, it is Gods work, but in respect of their owne malice it is the work of the deuill.

6 I will send f him to a dissembling nation, and I will giue him a charge against the people of my wrath to take the spoyle, and to take the praye, and to tread them vnder feete like the mire in the streete.

g Seeing that I haue ouercome as well one citie as another, so that none coulde resist, shall Ierusalem be able to escape mine hands?

7 But he thinketh not so, neither doeth his heart esteeme it so: but he imagineth to destroy and to cut off not a few nations.

8 For he saith, Are not my princes altogether Kings?

9 Is not Calno as Carchemish? Is not Hamath like Arpad? Is not Samaria as Damascus?

h When he hath sufficiently chastised his people (for he beginneth at his owne house) then will he burne the rodde.

10 Like as mine hand hath found the kingdomes of the idoles, seeing their idoles were aboue Ierusalem, and aboue Samaria:

i Meaning of Sancherib.

11 Shall not I, as I haue done to Samaria, and to the idoles thereof, so doe to Ierusalem and to the idoles thereof?

12 ¶ But when the Lord hath accomplished h all his worke vpon mount Zion and Ierusalem, I will visit the fruit of the proude heart i of the King of Asshur, and his glorious and proude lookes, 13 Because he said, By the power of mine owne hand haue I done it, and by my wisedome, because I am wise: therefore I haue remooued the borders of the people, and haue spoyled their treasures, and haue pulled downe the inhabitants like a valiant man.

14 And mine hand hath found as a nest the riches of the people, and as one gathereth egs that are left, so haue I gathered all the earth: and there was none to mooue the wing or to open the mouth, or to whisper.

k Here wee see, that no creature is able to doe any thing, but as god appointeth him, and that they are al but his instruments to doe his worke, though the intentions be diuers, as vers. 6.

15 Shall the k axe boast it selfe against him that heweth therewith? or shall the saw exalt it selfe against him that mooueth it? as if the rodde should lift vp it selfe against him that taketh it vp, or the staffe should exalt it selfe as it were no wood.

16 Therefore shall the Lord God of hosts send among his fatte men, leannesse, and vnder his glory he shall kindle a burning, like the burning of fire.

l Meaning, that God is a light to comfort his people, and a fire to burne his enemies.

17 And the light of Israel shall bee as a l fire, and the Holy one thereof as a flame, and it shall burne, and deuoure m his thornes and his briars in one day:

m That is, the Assyrians.

18 And shall consume the glory of his forrest, and of his fruitfull fields both soule n and flesh: and he shall be as the o fainting of a standard bearer.

n To wit, body and soule vtterly.

o When the banner is lost, and the standard taken.

19 And the rest of the trees of his forrest shall be few, that a childe may tell them.

20 ¶ And at that day shall the remnant of Israel, and such as are escaped of the house of Iacob, stay no more vpon him that smote them, but shall p stay vpon the Lord, the Holie one of Israel in trueth.

p This is the ende of Gods plagues towards vs, to bring them to him, and to forsake all trust in others.

21 The remnant shall returne, euen the remnant of Iaakob vnto the mightie God.

22 For though thy people, O Israel, bee as the sand of the sea, yet shall the remnant of them returne. The consumption q decreed shal ouerflow with righteousnesse.

q This small number, which seemed to be consumed, and yet according to Gods decree is saued, shall be sufficient to fill all the worlde with righteousnesse.

23 For the Lord God of hostes shall make the consumption, euen r determined in the middes of all the land.

r God will destroy this land as he hath determined, and after saue a small portion.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of hostes, O my people, that dwellest in Zion, bee not afraid of Asshur: hee shall smite thee with a rodde, and shall lift vp his staffe against thee after the maner of s Egypt:

s As the Egyptians did punish thee.

25 But yet a very little time, and the wrath shall be consumed, and mine anger in their destruction.

26 And the Lord of hostes shall raise vp a scourge for him, according to the plague of t Midian in the rocke Oreb: and as his staffe was vpon the u Sea, so he will lift it vp after the maner of Egypt.

t Reade Chap. 9.4.

u When the Israelites passed through by the lifting vp of Moses rod, and the enemies were drowned, Exod. 14.28.

27 And at that day shall his burden bee taken away from off thy shoulder, and his yoke from off thy necke: and the yoke shall be destroyed because of x the anoynting.

x Because of the promise made to that kingdome whereby Christ kingdome was prefigured.

28 He is come y to Aiath: he is passed into Migron: at Michmash shall hee lay vp his armour.

y He describeth by what way the Assyrians should come against Ierusalem, to confirme the faithfull, when it should come to passe, that as their plague was come, so should they be deliuered.

29 They haue gone ouer the forde: they lodged in the lodging at Geba: Ramah is afraide: Gibeah of Saul is fled away.

30 Lift vp thy voyce, O daughter Gallim, cause Laish to heare, O poore Anathoth.

31 Madmenah is remooued: the inhabitants of Gebim haue gathered themselues together.

32 Yet there is a time that hee will stay at Nob: hee shall lift vp his hand toward the mount of the daughter Zion, the hill of Ierusalem.

33 Behold, the Lord God of hostes shall cut off the z bough with feare, and they of hie stature shall be cut off, and the high shall bee humbled.

z Feare and destruction shall come vpon Iudah: for the princes and people shall all be leade away captiues.

34 And he shall cut away the thicke places of the forrest with yron, and Lebanon shall haue a mightie fall.

CHAP. XI.

1 Christ borne of the roote of Ishai. 2 His vertues and kingdome. 6 The fruites of the Gospell. 10 The calling of the Gentiles.

derstanding, the Spirite of counsel & strength, the Spirite of knowledge, and of the feare of the Lord,

3 And shal make him prudent in the feare of the Lord: for hee shall not iudge after the sight of his eyes, neither reproue by the hearing of his eares,

4 But with righteousnesse shall he iudge the poore, and with equitie shall hee reprooue for the meeke of the earth: and he shall [b] smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lippes shall hee slay the wicked.

5 And Justice shall bee the girdle of his loynes, and faithfulnesse the girdle of his reines.

6 The [c] Wolfe also shall dwell with the lambe, and the leopard shal lie with the kid, and the calfe, and the lyon, and the fat beast together, and a litle childe shall leade them.

7 And the kowe and the beare shall feede: their yong ones shall lie together: and the lion shall eate straw like the bullocke.

8 And the sucking childe shall play vpon the hole of the aspe, and the wained childe shall put his hand vpon the cockatrice hole.

9 Then shal none hurt nor destroy in all the mountaine of mine holines: for the earth shal be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as [d] the waters that couer the sea.

10 And in that day the root of Jshai, which shall stand vp for a signe vnto the [e] people, the nations shall seeke vnto it, and his [f] rest shal be glorious.

11 And in the same day shall the Lorde stretch out his hand [g] againe the second time, to possesse the remnant of his people, (which shall be left) of Asshur, and of Egypt, and of Pathros, and of Ethiopia, and of Elam, and of Shinear, and of Hamath, and of the yles of the sea.

12 And hee shall set vp a signe to the nations, and assemble the dispersed of Jsrael, and gather the scattered of Judah from the foure corners of the world.

13 The hatred also of Ephraim shall depart, and the aduersaries of Judah shall be cut off: Ephraim shall not enuie [h] Judah, neither shall Judah vexe Ephraim:

14 But they shall flee vpon the shoulders of the Philistims toward the West: they shall spoyle them of the East together: Edom and Moab shalbe the stretching out of their hands, and the children of Ammon in their obedience.

15 The Lord also shall vtterly destroy the [i] tongue of the Egyptians sea, and with his mightie wind shall lift vp his hand [k] ouer the riuer, and shall smite him in his seuen streames, and cause men to walke therein with shooes.

16 And there shalbe a path to the remnant of his people, which are left of Asshur, like as it was vnto Jsrael in the day that hee came vp out of the land of Egypt.

CHAP. XII.

A thankesgiuing of the faithfull for the mercies of God.

AND thou [a] shalt say in that day, O Lord, I will praise thee: though thou wast angry with me, thy wrath is turned away, and thou comfortest me.

2 Beholde, God is my [b] saluation: I wil trust, and will not feare: for the Lord God is *my strength and song: hee also is become my saluation.

3 Therefore with ioy shall yee [c] draw waters out of the welles of saluation.

4 And yee shall say in that day, * Praise the Lord: call vpon his Name: declare his workes among the people: make mention of them, for his Name is exalted.

5 Sing vnto the Lord, for hee hath done excellent things: this is knowen in all the world.

6 Crie out, and shout, [d] O inhabitant of Zion: for great is the holy one of Jsrael in the middes of thee.

3 I haue commanded them, that I haue [c] sanctified: and I haue called the mightie to my wrath, and them that reioyce in my [d] glorie.

4 The noyse of a multitude is in the mountaines, like a great people: a tumultuous voyce of the kingdomes of the nations gathered together: the Lord of hostes numbreth the hoste of the battell.

10 For the h starres of heauen and the planets thereof shalt not giue their light: the Sunne shal be darkened in his going foorth, and the Moone shall not cause her light to shine.

11 And I will visite the wickednes vpon the i world, and their iniquitie vpon the wicked, and I will cause the arrogancie of the k proude to cease, and will cast downe the pride of tyrants.

12 I will make a l man more precious then fine golde, euen a man aboue the wedge of gold of Ophir.

13 Therefore I will shake the heauen, and the earth shall remooue out of her place in the wrath of the Lord of hostes, and in the day of his fierce anger.

19 And Babel the glorie of kingdomes, and beautie and pride of the Chaldeans, shall be as the destruction of God * in Sodom and Gomorah.

20 It shall not bee inhabited for euer, neither shall it bee dwelled in from generation to generation: neither shall the o Arabian pitch his tents there, neither shall the sheepeheards make their foldes there.

21 But p Zim shall lodge there, and their houses shall be full of Ohim: Ostriches shall dwell there, and the Satyres shall daunce there.

22 And Iim shall cry in their palaces, and Dragons in their pleasant places: and the time thereof is readie to come, and the daies thereof shall not be prolonged.

FOr a the Lord will haue compassion of Iaakob, and I will yet chuse Israel, and cause them to rest in their owne land: and the stranger b shall ioyne himselfe vnto them, and they shall cleaue to the house of Iaakob.

2 And the people shall receiue them, and bring them to their owne place, and the house of Israel shall possesse them in the lande of the Lorde, for c seruants and handmaides: and they shall take them prisoners, whose captiues they were, and haue rule ouer their oppressours.

3 ¶ And in that day when the Lorde shall giue thee rest from thy sorrowe, and from thy feare, and from the sore bondage, wherein thou diddest serue, 14 I will ascend aboue the height of the cloudes, and I will be like the most high.

15 But thou shalt be brought downe to the graue, to the sides of the pit.

THe a burden of Moab, Surely b Ar of Moab was destroyed, and brought to silence in a night: surely Kir of Moab was destroyed, and brought to silence in a night.

2 c He shall goe vp to the Temple, and to Dibon to the high places to weepe: for d Nebo and for Medeba shall Moab howle: vpon all e their heads shall be baldnes, and euery beard shauen.

3 In their streetes shal they be girded with sackecloth: on the tops of their houses, and in their streetes euery one shall howle, and come downe with weeping.

4 And Heshbon shall crie, and Elealeh: their voyce shall be heard vnto Jahaz: therefore the warriers of Moab shall howte: the soule of euery one shall lament in himselfe.

5 Mine f heart shall cry for Moab: his fugitiues shal flee vnto Zoar, g an heifer of three yeere olde: for they shall goe vp with weeping by the mounting vp of Luhith: and by the way of Horonaim they h shall raise vp a cry of destruction.

6 For the waters of Nimrim shal be dried vp: therfore the grasse is withered, the herbes consumed, and there was no greene herbe.

7 Therefore what euery man hath left, and their substance shall they beare to the i brooke of the willowes.

8 For the cry went round about the borders of Moab: and the howling thereof vnto Eglaim, & the skriking thereof vnto Beer Elim,

The causes wherefore the Moabites are destroied.

SEnd a yee a lambe to the ruler of the world from the rocke of the wildernesse, vnto the mountaine of the daughter Zion.

2 For it shal be as a birde that b flieth, and a nest forsaken: the daughters of Moab shall be at the foordes of Arnon.

3 Gather a counsell, execute iudgement: c make thy shadow as the night in the midday: hide them that are chased out: bewray not him that is fled.

4 Let my banished dwell with thee: Moab be thou their couert from the face of the destroyer: for the extortioner d shall ende: the destroyer shall be consumed, and the oppressour shall cease out of the land.

a That is, offer a sacrifice: whereby he declareth their long delay, which would not repent when the Lord called them, shewing them that it is now too late, seeing the vengeance of God is vpon them.

b There is no remedie, but you must flie.

c He sheweth what Moab should haue done when Israel their neighbour was in affliction, to whom because they would giue no shadowe nor comfort, they are now left comfortlesse.

d The Assyrians shall oppresse the Israelites, but for a while.

z They shall vnderstand, that the Lord doeth defend his Church, and them that ioyne themselues thereunto.

5 And

5 And in mercie ſhal the throne be prepared, and [e] he ſhall ſit vpon it in ſtedfaſtneſſe, in the tabernacle of Dauid, iudging, and ſeeking iudgement, and haſting iuſtice.

6 We haue heard of the pride of Moab, (he is very proude) euen his pride, and his arrogancie, and his indignation, but his [f] lyes ſhall not be ſo.

7 Therefore ſhall Moab howle vnto Moab: euery one ſhal howle: for the foundations of Kir-hareſeth ſhall ye mourne, yet they ſhall be [g] ſtriken.

8 For the vineyardes of Heſhbon are cut downe, and the vine of Sibmah: [h] the lords of the heathen haue broken the principall vines thereof: they are come vnto [i] Jaazer: they wandred in the wildernelle: her goodly branches ſtretched out themſelues, and went ouer the Sea.

9 Therefore will [k] I weepe with the weeping of Jaazer, and of the vine of Sibmah, O Heſhbon: and Elealeh, I will make thee drunke with my teares, becauſe vpon thy ſummer fruites, and vpon thy harueſt [l] a ſhowting is fallen.

10 And gladnes is taken away, and ioy out of the plentifull fielde: [m] in the vineyardes ſhall bee no ſinging nor ſhowting for ioy: the treader ſhall not treade wine in the wine preſſes: I haue cauſed the reioycing to ceaſe.

11 Wherefore, my [m] bowels ſhall ſound like an harpe for Moab, [m] mine inward partes for Kir-hareſh.

12 And when it ſhall appeare that Moab ſhall be wearie of his high places, then ſhall he come to his [n] Temple to pray, but he ſhall not preuaile.

13 This is the worde that the Lord hath ſpoken againſt Moab ſince that time.

14 And now the Lord hath ſpoken, ſaying, [o] In three yeeres, as the yeres of an [p] hireling, and the glory of Moab ſhall be contemned in all the great multitude, and the remnant ſhalbe very ſmall and feeble.

THe [a] burden of [b] Damaſcus, Beholde, Damaſcus is taken away from being a citie, for it ſhall be a ruinus heape.

3 The munition alſo ſhall ceaſe from [d] Ephraim, and the kingdome from Damaſcus, and the remnant of Aram ſhall be as the [e] glorie of the children of Iſrael, ſaith the Lorde of hoſtes.

4 And in that day the glory of [f] Jaakob ſhal be impouerished, and the fatnes of his fleſh ſhall be made leane.

5 And it ſhall be as when the harueſt man gathereth [g] the corne, and reapeth the eares with his arme, and he ſhall be as he that gathereth the eares in the valley of [h] Rephaim.

6 Yet a gathering of grapes ſhall [i] be left in it, as the ſhaking of an oliue tree, two or three berries are in the toppe of the vpmoſt boughs, and foure or fiue in the high branches of the fruite thereof, ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael.

7 At that day ſhall a man looke to his [k] maker, and his eyes ſhall looke to the holie one of Iſrael,

8 And he ſhall not looke to the altars, the workes of his owne handes, neither ſhall hee looke to thoſe things, which his owne fingers haue made, as groues and images.

9 In that day ſhall the cities of their ſtrength bee as the forſaking of boughes and branches, which [l] they did forſake, becauſe of the children of Iſrael, and there ſhall bee deſolation.

10 Becauſe thou haſt forgotten the God of thy ſaluation, and haſt not remembred the God of thy ſtrength, therefore ſhalt thou ſet pleaſant plants, and ſhalt graffe ſtrange [m] vine branches:

11 In the day ſhalt thou make thy plant to grow, and in the morning ſhalt thou make thy ſeede to flouriſh: but the harueſt ſhall be gone in the day [n] of poſſeſſion, and there ſhall be deſperate ſorowe.

12 [o] Ah, the multitude of many people, they ſhall make a ſound like the noyſe of the Sea: for the noiſe of the people ſhall make a ſound like the noiſe of mightie waters.

13 The people ſhall make a ſound like the noiſe of many waters: but God ſhall [p] rebuke them, and they ſhall flee farre off, and ſhall be chaſed as the chaffe of the mountaines before the winde, and as a rolling thing before the whirlewinde.

2 And I will set the Egyptians against the Egyptians: so euery one shall [c] fight against his brother, and euery one against his neighbour, citie against citie, and kingdome against kingdome.

3 And the [d] spirit of Egypt shall faile in the midst of her, and I will destroy their counsell, and they shall seeke at the idoles, and at the Sorcerers, and at them that haue spirites of diuination, and at the Southsayers.

13 The princes of Zoan are become fooles: the princes of [l] Noph are deceiued, they haue deceiued Egypt, euen the [m] corners of the tribes thereof.

14 The Lord hath mingled among them the spirite [n] of errours: and they haue caused Egypt to erre in euery worke thereof, as a drunken man erreth in his vomite.

15 Neither shall there be any worke in Egypt, which the head may [o] doe, nor the taile, the branch, nor the rush.

16 In that day shall Egypt bee like vnto women: for it shall be afraide and feare, because of the mouing of the hand of the Lorde of hostes, which he shaketh ouer it.

17 And the land of Iudah shall bee a feare [p] vnto Egypt: euery one that maketh mention of it, shall be afraid thereat, because of the counsell of the Lord of hostes, which hee hath determined vpon it.

18 In that day shall fiue cities in the land of Egypt [q] speake the language of Canaan, and shall [r] sweare by the Lord of hostes: one shalbe called the citie of [f] destruction.

19 In that day shall the altar of the Lorde bee in the middes of the land of Egypt, and [t] a pillar by the border thereof vnto the Lord.

e He sheweth that the sea and Nilus their great riuer, whereby they thought themselues most sure, should not be able to defend them from his anger, but that he would sende the Assyrians among them, that should keepe them vnder as slaues.
f For Nilus ran into the sea by seuen streames, as though they were so many riuers.
g The Ebrewe word is mouth, whereby they meane the spring, out of the which the water gusheth as out of a mouth.
h The Scriptures vse to describe the destruction of a countrey by taking away of the commodities thereof, as by vines, fleshfish, and such other things, whereby countries are enriched.
i Called also Tanes, a famous citie vpon Nilus.
k He noteth the flatterers of Pharaoh: who perswaded the king that he was wise, and noble, and that his house was most ancient, and so he flattered him selfe, saying, I am wise.
l Or, Memphis, others Alexandria, and now called the great Cairo.
m The principal vpholders therof, are the chiefest cause of their destruction.
n For the spirit of wisedome he hath made them drunken and giddie with the spirit of errour.
o Neither the great nor the small, the strong nor the weake.
p Considering that through their occasion the Iewes made not God their defence, but put their trust in them, and were therefore now punished, they shall feare least the like light vpon them.
q Shall make one confession of faith with the people of God: by the speach of Canaan, meaning, the language wherein God was then serued.
r Shall renounce their superstitions, and protest to serue God aright.
s Meaning, of fiue cities, fiue should serue God, and the fift remaine in their wickednesse: and so of the fift part there should bee but one left.
t There shall be euident signes and tokens that Gods religion is there: which maner of speach is taken of the Patriarkes, and ancient times, when God had not as yet appointed the place, and full maner how he would be worshipped.

20 And it shall be for a signe and for a witnesse vnto the Lord of hostes in the land of Egypt: for they shal cry vnto the Lord, because of the oppressours, and hee shall send them [u] a Sauiour and a great man, and shall deliuer them.

u This declareth that this prophesie should be accomplished in the time of Christ.

21 And the Lord shalbe knowen of the Egyptians, and the Egyptians shall knowe the Lord in that day, and do [x] sacrifice and oblation, and shall vow vowes vnto the Lord, and performe them.

x By these ceremonies he comprehendeth the spirituall seruice vnder Christ.

22 So the Lord shal smite Egypt, he shal smite and heale it: for he shal returne vnto the Lord, and he shalbe intreated of them, and shal heale them.

23 In that day shall there bee a path from [y] Egypt to Asshur, and Asshur shall come into Egypt, and Egypt into Asshur: so the Egyptians shall worship with Asshur.

y By these two nations, which were then chiefe enemies of the church, he sheweth that the Gentiles & the Iewes should bee ioyned together in one faith & Religion, and should be all one fold vnder Christ their shepheard.

24 In that day shal Israel be the third with Egypt and Asshur, euen a blessing in the mids of the land.

25 For the Lord of hostes shall blesse it, saying, Blessed be my people Egypt and Asshur, the worke of mine hands, and Israel mine inheritance.

CHAP. XX.

2 The three yeres captiuity of Egypt and Ethiopia described by the three yeeres going naked of Isaiah.

IN the yeere that [a] Tartan came to [b] Ashdod, (when [c] Sargon King of Asshur sent him) and had fought against Ashdod, and taken it, a Who was a captaine of Sanherib, 2. King. 18.17.

b A citie of the Philistims.

c The Ebrewes write that Sanherib was so called.

2 At the same time spake the Lord by the hand of Isaiah the sonne of Amoz, saying, Go, and loose the [d] sackcloth from thy loynes, and put off thy shooe from thy foot. And he did so, walking naked and barefoot.

d Which signifieth that the Prophet did lament the misery that he saw prepared before the three yeres that hee went naked and barefooted.

3 And the Lord said, Like as my seruant Isaiah hath walked naked, and barefoot three yeres, as a signe and wonder vpon Egypt, and Ethiopia,

4 So shall the king of Asshur take away the captiuity of Egypt, and the captiuity of Ethiopia, both young men and olde men, naked and barefoot, with their buttockes vncouered, to the shame of Egypt.

5 And they shall feare, and be ashamed of [e] Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt [f] their glory.

e In whose ayd they trusted.

f Of whom they boasted & gloried.

6 Then shall the inhabitant of this [g] yle say in that day, Beholde, such is our expectation, whither we fled for helpe to bee deliuered from the king of Asshur, and how shall we bee deliuered?

g Meaning, Iudea, which was compassed about with their enemies, as an yle with waters.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Of the destruction of Babylō by the Persians & Medes. 11 The ruine of Idumea, 13 And of Arabia.

THE burden of [a] the desert Sea. As the whirlewindes in the South vse to passe from the wildernes, so shall it [b] come from the horrible land.

a On the Sea side betweene Iudea and Caldea was a wildernesse, whereby he meaneth Caldea.

b That is, the ruine of Babylō by the Medes and Persians.

2 A grieuous vision was shewed vnto me, The [c] transgressor against a transgressor, and the destroyer against a destroyer. Go vp [d] Elam, besiege Media: I haue caused al the mourning [e] thereof to cease.

c The Assyrians and Caldeans, which had destroyed other nations, shalbe ouercome of the Medes & Persians, and this he prophesied an hundred yeeres before it came to passe.

d By Elam he meaneth the Persians.

e Because they shall find no succour, they shall mourne no more, or, I haue taught them to cease mourning, whom Babylon had afflicted.

3 Therefore are my [f] loynes filled with sorrow: sorrowes haue taken me as the sorrows of a woman that trauaileth: I was bowed downe when I heard it, and I was amased when I saw it.

f This the Prophet speaketh in the person of the Babylonians.

4 Mine heart failed: fearefulnes troubled mee: the night [g] of my pleasures hath he turned into feare vnto me.

g He prophesieth the death of Belthazzar, as Dan. 5.30. who in the mids of his pleasures was destroyed.

5 Prepare thou the table: watch in the watch towre: eat, drinke: [h] arise, ye princes, anoynt the shield.

h Whiles they are eating and drinking, they shalbe commanded to runne to their weapons.

6 For thus hath the [i] Lord said vnto me, Go, set a watchman to tell what he seeth.

i To wit, in a vision by the spirit of prophesie.

7 And hee sawe a charet with two horsemen: [k] a charet of an asse, and a charet of a camell: and hee hearkened and tooke diligent heede.

k Meaning, charets of men of war and others that caried the baggage.

8 And he cryed, A lyon: my lord, I stand continually vpon the watch towre in the day time, and I am set in my watch euery night:

l Meaning, Darius, which ouercame Babylon.

9 And behold, this mans charet commeth with two horsemen. And [m] he answered and saide, *Babel is fallen: it is fallen, and all the images of her gods hath hee broken vnto the ground.

m The watchman, which Isaiah set vp, told him who came toward Babylon, and the Angel declared that it should be destroyed: all this was done in a vision.

*Iere. 51.8. reue. 14.8.

10 O [n] my threshing, and the †corne of my floore. That which I haue heard of the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, haue I shewed vnto you.

n Meaning, Babylon.

† Ebr. sonne.

11 ¶ The burden of [o] Dumah. Hee calleth vnto me out of [p] Seir, Watchman, what was in the night? Watchman, what was in the night?

o Which was a citie of the Ishmaelites, and was so named of Dumah, Gene. 25.14.

p A mountaine of the Idumeans.

12 The watchman sayd, The [q] morning commeth, and also the night. If ye will aske, enquire: returne and come.

q He describeth the vnquietnesse of the people of Dumah who were night and day in feare of their enemies, and euer ran to and fro to inquire newes.

13 ¶ The burden against Arabia. In [r] the forest of Arabia shall ye tary all night, euen in the wayes of Dedanim.

r For feare, the Arabians shall flee into the woods, and he appointeth what way they shal take.

14 O inhabitants of the lande of Tema, bring forth [s] water to meet the thirsty, and preuent him that fleeth with his bread.

s Signifying, that for feare they shall not tary to eat nor drinke.

15 For they flee from the drawen swords, euen from the drawen sword, & from the bent bow, and from the grieuousnes of warre.

16 For thus hath the Lord said vnto mee, Yet a yeere [t] according to the yeeres of an [u] hireling, and all the glorie of Kedar shall faile.

t He appointeth them respit for one yeere only, and then they should be destroyed.

u Reade Chap. 16.14.

17 And the residue of the number of x Which was the name of a people of Arabia: and by the horrible destruction of all these nations, hee teacheth the Iewes that there is no place for refuge, or to escape Gods wrath, but only to remaine in his Church, and to liue in his feare.

the strong archers of the sonnes of x Kedar shal be few: for the Lord God of Israel hath spoken it.

CHAP. XXII.

1 He propheseth of the destruction of Ierusalem by Nebuchad-nezzar. 15 A threatning against Shebna. 20 To whose office Eliakim is preferred.

a Meaning, Iudea, which was compassed about with mountaines and was called the valley of visions, because of the Prophets, which were alwayes there, whom they naded Seers.
b He speaketh to Ierusalem, whose inhabitants were fled vp to the house tops for feare of their enemies.
c Which vsed wont to be full of people and ioy.
d But for hunger.
e And led into captiuitie.
f Which haue fled from other places to Ierusalem for succour.
g He sheweth what is the duetie of the godly, when Gods plagues hang ouer the Church, and specially of the ministers, Ierem. 9.1.
h That is, the shoute of the enemies, whom God had appointed to destroy the citie.
i He putteth them in minde how God deliuered them once from Sanehe-rib, who brought the Persians, and Cyrenians with him, that they might, by returning to God, auoyd that great plague which they should else suffer by Nebuchadnezzar.
k The secret place where the armour was, to wit in the house of the forrest, 1. King. 7.2.
l Be fortified the ruinous places, which were neglected in time of peace: meaning, the whole city and the city of Dauid which was within the compasse of the other.
m Either to pull downe such as might hurt, or else to know what men they were able to make.
n To prouide if need should be of water.
o To God that made Ierusalem: that is, they trusted more in these worldly meanes then in God.
p In stead of repentance ye were ioyfull and made great cheere, contemning the admonitions of the Prophets, saying, Let vs eat & drinke: for our Prophets say, that we shall die to morow.

THe burden of the a valley of vision. What b ayleth thee nowe that thou art wholly gone vp vnto the house tops?

2 Thou that art so full of c noise, a city ful of hurte, a ioyous city: thy slaine men shall not be slaine d with sword, nor die in battell.

3 All thy princes shall flee together from the bowe: they shall be e bound: all that shall be found in thee, shalbe bound together, which haue fled from f farre.

4 Therefore sayd I, Turne away from mee: I will weepe g bitterly: labour not to comfort me for the destruction of the daughter of my people.

5 For it is a day of trouble, and of ruine, and of perplexitie by the Lord God of hostes in the valley of vision, breaking down the citie: and a h crying vnto the mountaines.

6 ¶ And Elam i bare the quiuer in a mans charet with horsemen, and Kir vncouered the shield.

7 And thy chiefe vallies were full of charets, and the horsemen set themselues in aray against the gate.

8 And he discouered the k couering of Iudah: and thou diddest looke in that day to the armour of the house of the forest.

9 And ye haue seene l the breaches of the city of Dauid: for they were many, and ye gathered the waters of the lower poole.

10 And ye numbred the houses m of Ierusalem, and the houses haue ye broken down to fortifie the wall, 11 And haue also made a ditch between the two walles, for the n waters of the olde poole, and haue not looked vnto the maker o thereof, neither had respect vnto him that formed it of olde.

12 And in that day did the Lorde God of hostes call vnto weeping and mourning, and to baldnesse and girding with sackcloth.

13 And beholde ioy and gladnesse, slaying oxen and killing sheep, eating flesh, and drinking wine, p eating and drinking: for to morrow we shall die.

14 And it was declared in the eares of the Lord of hosts. Surely this iniquity shall not be purged from you, till yee die, saith the Lord God of hostes.

15 Thus saith the Lord God of hosts, Go get thee to that q treasurer, to Shebna, the steward of the house, and say, 16 What hast thou to do here? and whom hast thou r here? that thou shouldest here hewe thee out a Sepulchre, as he that heweth out his Sepulchre in an high place, or that graueth an habitation s for himselfe in a rocke?

17 Beholde, the Lord will cary thee away with a great captiuitie, and will surely couer thee.

18 He will surely rolle and turne thee like a ball in a large countrey: there shalt thou die, and there the charets of thy glory shall be the t shame of thy Lords house.

19 And I will driue thee from thy station, and out of thy dwelling will he destroy thee.

20 And in that day will I u call my seruant Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah, 21 And with thy garments will I clothe him, & with thy girdle will I strengthen him: thy power also will I commit into his hand, and he shalbe a father of the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and of the house of Iudah.

22 And the x key of the house of Dauid wil I lay vpon his shoulder: so hee shall open, and no man shall shut: and he shall shut, and no man shall open.

23 And I will fasten him as a y nayle in a sure place, and he shalbe for the throne of glory to his fathers house.

24 And they shall hang vpon him all the glory of his fathers house, euen of the nephewes and posteritie, z all smal vessels, from the vessels of the cuppes, euen to all the instruments of musicke.

25 In that day, saith the Lord of hosts, shal the a nayle that is fastened in the sure place, depart and shalbe broken, and fall: and the burden that was vpon it, shall bee cut off: for the Lord hath spoken it.

q Because the Ebrew word doth also signifie one that doth norish and cherish, there are of the learned that thinke that this wicked man did nourish secret friendship with the Assyrians and Egyptians, to betray the church and to prouide for himselfe against all dangers: in the meane season he packt craftily, and gate of the best offices into his hand vnder Hezekiah, euer aspiring to the highest.
r Meaning, that he was a stranger and came by of nothing.
s Whereas he thought to make his name immortal by his famous sepulchre, he died most miserably among the Assyrians.
t Signifying, that whatsoeuer dignity the wicked attaine vnto, at length it will turne to the shame of those Princes, by whom they are preferred.
u To be restored againe, out of the which office he had bene put by the craft of Shebna.
x I will commit vnto him the full charge & gouernment of the kings house.
y I will establish him & confirme him in his office: of this phrase reade Ezra 9.9.
z Meaning, that both small and great that shall come of Eliakim, shall haue praise and glory by this faithful officer.
a He meaneth Shebna, who in mans iudgement should neuer haue fallen.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 A prophesie against Tyrus. 17 A promise that it shall be restored.

THe a burden of Tyrus. Howle, yee ships of b Tarshish: for c it is destroyed, so that there is none house: none shall come from the lande of d Chittim: it is e reuealed vnto them.

2 Bee still, yee that dwell in the yles: the marchants of Zidon, and such as passe ouer the sea, haue f replenished thee.

a Reade Chap. 13.1.
b Be of Cilicia that come thither for marchandise.
c Tyrus is destroyed by Nebuchad-nezzar.
d By Chittim they meant all the yles and countries West-ward from Palestina.
e All men know of this destruction.
f Haue hanted thee, and enriched thee.

3 The seed of Nilus growing by the abundance of waters, and the harueſt of the riuer was her reuenues, and ſhee was a mart of the nations.

4 Bee aſhamed, thou Zidon: for the [h] ſea hath ſpoken, euen the ſtrength of the ſea, ſaying, I haue not [i] trauailed, nor brought foorth children, neither nouriſhed young men, nor brought vp virgins.

5 When the fame commeth to the Egyptians, they ſhalbe [k] ſorry, concerning the rumor of Tyrus.

6 Goe you ouer to [l] Tarſhiſh: howle, ye that dwell in the yles.

7 Is not this that your glorious citie? her antiquitie is of ancient dayes: her owne feete ſhall leade her afarre off to be a ſoiourner.

8 Who hath decreed this againſt Tyrus (that [m] croweth men) whoſe marchants are princes: whoſe chapmen are the nobles of the world?

9 The Lord of hoſtes hath decreed this, to ſtaine the pride of all glory, and to bring to contempt all them that bee glorious in the earth.

10 Paſſe thorowe thy lande like a flood to the [n] daughter of Tarſhiſh: there is no more ſtrength.

11 He ſtretched out his hand vpon the ſea: he ſhook the kingdoms: the Lord hath giuen a commandement concerning the place of marchandiſe, to deſtroy the power thereof.

12 And he ſaid, Thou ſhalt no more reioyce when thou art oppreſſed: [o] O virgin [p] daughter of Zidon: riſe vp goe ouer vnto Chittim: yet there thoulhalt haue no reſt.

13 Behold the land of the Caldeans: this was no people: [q] Aſſhur founded it by the inhabitants of the wilderneſſe: they ſet vp the towers thereof: they raiſed the palaces therof and he [r] brought it to ruine.

14 Howle ye ſhippes of Tarſhiſh, for your [ſ] ſtrength is deſtroyed.

15 And in that day ſhal Tyrus be forgotten ſeuenty yeres, (according to the yeeres of one king) at the end of [t] ſeuenty yeres ſhal Tyrus [u] ſing as an harlot.

16 Take an harpe and go about the citie: (thou harlot that haſt beene forgotten) [x] make ſweet melody, ſing moe ſongs that thou maieſt be remembred.

17 And at the ende of ſeuentie yeeres ſhall the Lord viſite Tyrus, and ſhe ſhal returne to her [y] wages, and ſhal commit fornication with all the kingdomes of the earth, that are in the world.

18 Yet her occupying and her wages ſhall bee [z] holy vnto the Lord: it ſhall not bee layd vp nor kept in ſtore, but her marchandiſe ſhall bee for them that dwell before the Lord, to eate ſufficiently, and to haue durable clothing.

and ſo the gaine vnto the true worſhipping of God, and liberalitie toward his Saints.

g Meaning, the coaſt of Egypt, which was fed by the ouerflowing of Nilus.

h That is, Tyrus, which was the chiefe port of the ſea.

i I haue no people left in me and am as a barren woman that neuer had childe.

k Becauſe theſe two countreys were ioyned in league together.

l Tyrus willeth other merchants to go to Cilicia, and to come no more there.

m Who maketh her merchants like princes.

n Thy ſtrength will no more ſerue them therefore flee to other countries for ſuccour.

o For Tyrus was neuer touched nor afflicted before.

p Becauſe Tyrus was built by them of Zidon.

q The Caldeans which dwelt in tents in the wildernes, were gathered by the Aſſyrians into cities.

r The people of the Caldeans deſtroyed the Aſſyrians: whereby the Prophet meaneth, that ſeeing the Caldeans were able to ouercome the Aſſyrians, which were ſo great a nation, much more ſhall theſe two nations of Caldea & Aſſyria be able to ouerthrow Tyrus.

ſ That is, Tyrus by whom ye are inriched.

t Tyrus ſhall lie deſtroyed ſeuenty yeeres, which he calleth the reigne of one king or a mans age.

u Shall vſe all craft and ſubtilty to entiſe men againſt to her.

x She ſhall labor by al meanes to recouer her firſt credit, as an harlot when thee is long forgotten, ſeeketh by all meanes to entertaine her louers.

y Though ſhe haue bin chaſtiſed of the Lord, yet ſhe ſhall returne to her olde wicked practiſes, and for gaine ſhall giue her ſelfe to all mens luſts like an harlot.

z He ſheweth that God yet by the preaching of the Goſpel will call Tyrus to repentance, and turne her heart from auarice

CHAP. XXIIII.

A propheſie of the curſe of God for the ſinnes of the people.
13 A remnant reſerued ſhall praiſe the Lord.

BEhold, the Lord maketh the [a] earth empty, and he maketh it waſte: hee turneth it vpſide downe, and ſcattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof.

2 And there ſhall bee like people, like [b] Prieſt, and like ſeruaunt, like maſter, like mayd, like miſtreſſe, like buyer, like ſeller, like lender, like borower, like giuer, like taker to vſury.

3 The earth ſhall be cleane emptied, and vtterly ſpoyled: for the Lord hath ſpoken this word.

4 The earth lamenteth and fadeth away: the world is feebled and decayed: the proud people of the earth are weakened.

5 The earth [c] alſo deceiueth, becauſe of the inhabitants thereof: for they tranſgreſſed the lawes: they changed the ordinances, and brake the euerlaſting couenant.

6 Therefore hath the [d] curſe deuoured the earth, and the inhabitants therof are deſolate. Wherfore the inhabitants of the land are [e] burned vp, and few men are left.

7 The wine fayleth, the vine hath no might: all that were of merrie heart, doe mourne.

8 The mirth of tabrets ceaſeth: the noiſe of them that reioice endeth: the ioy of the harp ceaſeth.

9 They ſhal not drinke wine with mirth: ſtrong drinke ſhall bee bitter to them that drinke it.

10 The citie of [f] vanity is broken downe: euery houſe is ſhut vp, that no man may come in.

11 There is a crying for wine in the ſtreets: all ioy is darkened: the [g] mirth of the world is gone away.

12 In the city is left deſolation, and the gate is ſmitten with deſtruction.

13 ¶ Surely thus ſhal it bee in the mids of the earth among the people, [h] as the ſhaking of an oliue tree, and as the grapes when the vintage is ended.

14 They ſhal lift vp their voice: they ſhall ſhoute for the magnificence of the Lord: they ſhall reioyce from [i] the ſea.

a This propheſie is as a concluſion of that which hath bene threatned to the Iewes & other nations from the 13. chapter, and therefore by the earth he meaneth thoſe lands, which were before named.

b Becauſe this was a name of dignity, it was alſo applied to them which were not of Aarons family, and ſo ſignifieth alſo a man of dignity, as 2. Sam. 8. 18. and 20. 25. 1. chro. 18. 17. and by theſe words the Prophet ſignifieth an horrible confuſion, where there ſhall be neither religion, order nor policy, Hoſe. 4. 9.

c That is, renderth not her fruite for the ſinne of the people, whom the earth deceiueth of their nourture, becauſe they deceiued God of his honour.

d Written in the Law, as Leuit. 26. 14. deut. 28. 16. thus the prophets vſed to apply particularly the menaces and promiſes which are generall in the Law.

e With heat and brought, or elſe that they were conſumed with the fire of Gods wrath.

f Which, as it was without order, ſo now ſhould it be brought to deſolation and confuſion: and this was not only meant of Jeruſalem, but of all the other wicked cities.

g Becauſe they did not vſe Gods benefits aright.

their pleaſures ſhould faile, and they fall to mourning.

h Bee compared to the faithful, declaring that in this great deſolation the Lord will aſſemble his Church, which ſhal praiſe his Name, as Chap. 10. 22.

i From the vtmoſt coaſts of the world, where the Goſpel ſhalbe preached, as verſe 16.

15 Where-

15 Wherefore praise yee the Lord in the valleyes, euen the Name of the Lord God of Israel, in the yles of the sea.

16 From the vttermost parts of the earth we haue heard praises, euen glory to the [k]iust, and I sayd, [l]My leannesse, my leannesse, woe is me: the transgressours haue offended: yea, the transgressours haue grieuously offended:

17 Feare, and the pit, and the snare are vpon thee, O inhabitant of the earth.

18 And he that fleeth from the noise of the feare, shall fall into the pit: and hee that commeth vp out of the pit, shall bee taken in the snare: for the [m] windowes from on high are open, and the foundations of the earth doe shake.

19 The earth is vtterly broken downe: the earth is cleane dissolued: the earth is mooued exceedingly.

20 The earth shall reele to and fro like a drunken man, and shalbe remoued like a tent, and the iniquity thereof shalbe heauy vpon it: so that it shall fall, and rise no more.

21 And in that day shal the Lord [n] visite the hoste aboue that is on hie, euen the kings of the world that are vpon the earth.

22 And they shall be gathered together, as the prisoners in the pit: and they shalbe shut vp in the prison, and after many dayes shall they be [o] visited.

23 [p]Then the Moone shalbe abashed, and the Sunne ashamed, when the Lord of hostes shall reigne in mount Zion and in Ierusalem: and glory shalbe before his ancient men.

k Meaning, to God, who will publish his Gospel thorow all the world.
l I am consumed with care, considering the affliction of the Church, both by forreine enemies and domesticall. Some reade, my secret, my secret: that is, it was reuealed to the Prophet, that the good should be preserued, and the wicked destroyed.
m Meaning, that Gods wrath and vengeance should be ouer and vnder them: so that they should not escape no more then they did at Noahs flood.
n There is no power so high or mighty, but God will visite him with his rods.
o Not with his rodes, as ver. 21. but shalbe comforted.
p When God shall restore his Church, the glory thereof shall so shine, and his ministers (which are called his ancient men) that the sunne and the moone shalbe darke in comparison thereof.

CHAP. XXV.

A thanksgiuing to God in that that he sheweth himselfe iudge of the world by punishing the wicked, and maintaining the godly.

O Lorde, thou [a] art my God: I will exalt thee, I will praise thy Name: for thou hast done wonderfull things, according to the counsels of old with a stable trueth.

2 For thou hast made of a [b] city an heape, of a strong citie, a ruine: euen the palace [c] of strangers of a citie, it shall neuer be built.

3 Therefore shall the [d] mightie people giue glory vnto thee: the city of the strong nations shall feare thee.

4 For thou hast beene a strength vnto the poore, euen a strength to the needy in his trouble, a refuge against the tempest, a shadowe against the heate: for the blaste [e] of the mightie is like a storme against the wall.

5 Thou shalt bring downe the noyse of the strangers, [f] as the heate in a drie place: he will bring downe the song of the mighty, as [g] the heat in the shadow of a cloud.

6 And in this [h] mountaine shall the Lord of hostes make vnto all people a feast of fatte things, euen a feast of fined wines, and of fat things full of marrow, of wines fined and purified.

7 And he will destroy in this mountaine [i] the couering that couereth all people, and the vaile that is spread vpon all nations.

8 He will destroy death for euer: and the Lorde God will [k] wipe away the teares from all faces, and the rebuke of his people will he take away out of all the earth: for the Lord hath spoken it.

9 And in that day shall men say, Loe, this is our God: wee haue waited for him, and he wil saue vs. This is the Lord, we haue waited for him: wee will reioyce and be ioyfull in his saluation.

10 For in this mountaine shall the hand of the Lord rest, and [l]Moab shalbe threshed vnder him, euen as strawe is threshed in [m] Madmenah.

11 And he shall stretch out his hand in the middes of them (as hee that swimmeth, stretcheth them out to swimme) and with the strength of his handes shall hee bring downe their pride.

12 The defence also of the height of thy walles shall he bring downe and lay lowe, and cast them to the ground, euen vnto the dust.

a Thus the Prophet giueth thanks to God, because he will bring vnder subiection these nations by his corrections, & make them of his Church, which before were his enemies.
b Not only of Ierusalem, but also of these other cities, which haue beene thine enemies.
c That is, a place whereas all vagabonds may liue without danger, and as it were at ease, as in a palace.
d The arrogant and proud, which before would not know thee, shal by thy corrections feare and glorifie thee.
e The rage of the wicked is furious, till God breake the force thereof.
f Meaning, that as the heate is quenched by the raine, so shall God bring downe the rage of the wicked.
g As a cloud shadoweth from the heat of the sunne, so shall God asswage the reioycing of the wicked against the godly.
h To wit, in Zion, whereby he meaneth his Church, which should vnder Christ be assembled of the Iewes & the Gentiles, and is here described vnder the figure of a costly banket, as Mat. 22.2.
i Meaning, the ignorance and blindnes, whereby we are kept backe from Christ.
k He will take away all occasions of sorow and fill his with perfit ioy, Reuel. 7. 17. and 21. 4.
l By Moab are meant all the enemies of his Church.
m There were two cities of this name: one in Iudah, 1. Chron. 2. 49. & another in the land of Moab, Iere. 48. 2. which seemeth to haue bin a plentifull place of corne, Chap. 10. 31.

CHAP. XXVI.

A Song of the faithfull, wherein is declared, in what consisteth the saluation of the Church, and wherein they ought to trust.

IN that day shall [a] this Song bee sung in the land of Iudah, Wee haue a strong citie: [b] saluation shall God set for wals and bulwarkes.

2 [c] Open yee the gates, that the righteous nation which keepeth the trueth, may enter in.

3 By an assured [d] purpose wilt thou preserue perfite peace, because they trusted in thee.

4 Trust in the Lord for euer: for in the Lord God is strength for euermore.

5 For he will bring downe them that dwel on hie: [e] the high citie he will abase: euen vnto the ground will hee cast it downe, and bring it vnto dust.

6 The foote shall treade it downe, euen the feete of the [f] poore, and the steppes of the needy.

7 The way of the iust is righteousnesse: thou wilt make equall the righteous path of the iust.

8 Also we, O Lord, haue waited for thee in a This song was made to comfort the faithfull, whē their captiuitie should come, assuring them also of their deliuerance, for the which they should sing this song.

b Gods protection and defence shalbe sufficient for vs.
c He assureth the godly to returne after the captiuity to Ierusalem.
d Thou hast decreed so, and thy purpose cannot be changed.
e There is no power so hie, that can let God, when he will deliuer his.
f God will set the poore afflicted ouer the power of the wicked.

in the way of thy [s] iudgements: the desire of our soule is to thy Name, and to the remembrance of thee.

9 With my soule haue I desired thee in the night, and with my spirite within mee will I seeke thee in the morning: for seeing thy iudgements are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world shall learne [h] righteousnesse.

10 Let mercy [i] be shewed to the wicked, yet he will not learne righteousnes: in the land of vprightnesse will he do wickedly, and will not behold the maiesty of the Lord.

11 O Lord, they will not behold thine hie hand: but they shall see it, and be confounded with [k] the zeale of the people, and the fire of thine [l] enemies shall deuoure them.

12 Lord, vnto vs thou wilt ordaine peace: for thou also hast wrought all our workes for vs.

13 O Lord our God, other [m] lords beside thee haue ruled vs, but we wil remember thee onely, and thy Name.

14 The [n] dead shall not liue, neither shall the dead arise, because thou hast visited and scattered them, and destroyed all their memory.

15 Thou hast increased [o] the nation, O Lord: thou hast increased the nation: thou art made glorious: thou hast inlarged al the coasts of the earth.

16 Lorde, in trouble haue they [p] visited thee: they powred out a prayer when thy chastening was vpon them.

17 Like as a woman with childe, that draweth neere to the trauell, is in sorrow, and cryeth in her paynes, so haue wee bene in thy [q] sight, O Lord.

18 Wee haue conceiued, wee haue borne in paine, as though wee should haue brought forth [r] wind: there was no helpe in the earth, neither did the inhabitantes of the [t] world fall.

19 [t] Thy dead men shall liue: euen with my body shall they rise. Awake, and sing, yee that dwell in dust: for thy [u] dewe is as the dewe of herbes, and the earth shall cast out the dead.

20 Come, my people: [x] enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doores after thee: hide thy selfe for a very little while, vntil the indignation passe ouer.

21 For loe, the Lorde commeth out of his place, to visite the iniquitie of the inhabitants of the earth vpon them: and the earth shall disclose her [y] blood, and shall no more hide her slaine.

s We haue continually abin in the anguishes wherewith thou hast afflicted vs.

h Meaning, that by afflictions men shal learne to feare God.

i The wicked, though God shew them euident signes of his grace, shalbe neuer the better.

k Through enuy and indignation against thy people.

l The fire and vengeance wherewith thou doest destroy thine enemies.

m The Babylonians, which haue not gouerned according to thy word.

n Meaning, that the reprobate, euen in this life shall haue the beginning of euerlasting death.

o To wit, the company of the faithfull by the calling of the Gentiles.

p That is, the faithful by thy rods were moued to pray vnto thee for deliuerance.

q To wit, in extreme sorrow.

r Our sorowes had none ende, neither did we enioy the comfort that we looked for.

t The wicked and men without religion were not destroyed.

t He comforteth the faithfull in their afflictions, shewing them that euen in death they shall liue: & that they shall most certainely rise to glory: the contrary should come to the wicked, as verse 14.

u As herbs dead in winter flourish againe by the raine in the spring time: so they that lie in the dust, shal rise vp to ioy when they feele the dew of Gods grace.

x Hee exhorteth the faithfull to be patient in their afflictions, and to wait vpon Gods worke.

y The earth shall vomit and cast out the innocent blood, which it hath drunke, that it may cry for vengeance against the wicked.

CHAP. XXVII.

A propheſie against the kingdome of Satan, 2 And of the ioy of the Church for their deliuerance.

IN that [a] day the Lord with his sore & great and mighty [b] sword shal visit Liuiathan that pearcing serpent, euen Liuiathan that crooked serpent, and hee shall slay the dragon that is in the sea.

2 In that day sing of the vineyard [c] of red wine.

3 I the Lord doe keepe it: I will water it euery moment: least any assayle it, I will keepe it night and day.

4 Anger [d] is not in mee: who would set the briars and the thornes against mee in battell? I would goe through them, I would burne them together.

5 Or will he [e] seeke my strength, that hee may make peace with me, and bee at one with mee?

6 [f] Hereafter, Iaakob shal take roote: Israel shal flourish and grow, and the world shal be filled with fruit.

7 Hath he smitten [g] him as he smote those that smote him? or is hee slaine according to the slaughter of them that were slaine by him?

8 In [h] measure in the braunches thereof wilt thou contend with it, when hee bloweth with his rough winde in the day of the East winde.

9 By this therefore shall the iniquitie of Iaakob bee purged, and this is all the [i] fruite, the taking away of his sinne: when hee shall make all the stones of the Altars, as chalke stones broken in pieces, that the groues and images may not stande vp.

10 Yet the [k] defenced citie shall be desolate, and the habitation shall be forsaken, and left like a wildernesse. There shall the Calfe feede, and there shall hee lie, and consume the branches thereof.

11 When the boughes of it are drie, they shall bee broken: the [l] women come, and set them on fire: for it is a people of none vnderstanding: therefore hee that made them, shall not haue compassion of them, and hee that fourmed them, shall haue no mercie on them.

12 And in that day shall the Lorde thresh from the chanell of the [m] riuer vnto the riuer of Egypt, and ye shal be gathered one by one, O children of Israel.

13 In that day also shall the great trumpe a At the time appointed.

b That is, by his mightie power and by his word. He propheſieth here of the destruction of Satan and his kingdome vnder the name of Liuiathan, Assur, and Egypt.

c Meaning, of the best wine, which this vineyard, that is, the Church, should bring forth as most agreeable to the Lord.

d Therefore he will destroy the kingdome of Satan, because he loueth his Church for his owne mercies sake, and cannot be angry with it, but disireth that he may powre his anger vpon the wicked infidels, whom he meaneth by briers and thornes.

e He meaneth that Israel will not come by gentlenesse, except God make them to feele his rods, and so bring them vnto him.

f Though I afflict and diminish my people for a time, yet shall the roote spring againe and bring forth in great abundance.

g He sheweth that God punisheth his in mercy, and his enemies in iustice.

h That is, though thou wilt not destroy the roote of thy Church, though the branches thereof seeme to perish by the sharpe wind of affliction.

i He sheweth that there is no true repentance, nor full reconciliation to God, till the heart be purged from all idolatry, and the monuments therof destroyed. k Notwithstanding his fauour that hee will shew them after, yet Ierusalem shalbe destroyed, and grasse for cattel shal grow in it. l God shal not haue need of mighty enemies: for the very women shall do it, by their great shame. m He shall destroy all from Euphrates to Nilus: for some also towards Egypt thinking to haue escaped.

bee [n] blowen, and they ſhall come, which periſhed in the land of Aſſhur: and they that were chaſed into the land of Egypt, and they ſhall worſhip the Lord in the holy Mount at Ieruſalem.

n In the time of Cyrus, by whom they ſhould be deliuered: but this was chiefly accompliſhed vnder Chriſt.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Againſt the pride and drunkenneſſe of Iſrael. 9 The vntowardnes of them that ſhould learne the word of God. 24 God doth all things in time and place.

WOe to the [a] crowne of pride, the drunkards of Ephraim: for his glorious beauty ſhall be a fading flowre, which is vpon the head of the [b] valley of them that be fat, and are ouercome with wine.

2 Beholde, the Lord hath a mightie and [c] ſtrong hoſte, like a tempeſt of haile, and a whirlewind that ouerthroweth, like a tempeſt of mighty waters that ouerflow, which throw to the ground mightily.

3 They ſhall be troden vnder foot, euen the crowne and the pride of the drunkards of Ephraim.

4 For his glorious beautie ſhall bee a fading floure, which is vpon the head of the valley of them that bee fatte, and as [d] the haſtie frut afore Summer, which when he that looketh vpon it, ſeeth it, while it is in his hand, hee eateth it.

5 In that day ſhall the Lord of hoſtes be for a crowne of glory, and for a diademe of beauty vnto the [e] reſidue of his people:

6 And for a Spirit of iudgement to him that ſitteth in iudgement, and for [f] ſtrength vnto them that turne away the battell to the gate.

7 But [g] they haue erred becauſe of wine, and are out of the way by ſtrong drinke: the Prieſt and the Prophet haue erred by ſtrong drinke: they are ſwallowed vp with wine: they haue gone aſtray through ſtrong drinke: they faile in viſion: they ſtumble in iudgement.

8 For all their tables are full of filthy vomiting: no place is cleane.

9 [h] Whome ſhall hee teach knowledge? and whome ſhall hee make to vnderſtande the things that hee heareth? them that are weyned from the milke, and drawen from the breaſts.

10 For [i] precept muſt bee vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a little, and there a little.

11 For with a ſtammering [k] tongue and with a ſtrange language ſhall hee ſpeake vnto this people.

12 Vnto whom [l] he ſaid, [m] This is the reſt: [n] giue reſt to him that is weary: and this is the refreſhing, but they would not heare.

13 Therefore ſhall the worde of the Lord be vnto them precept vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a litle, and there a litle, that they may go and fall backward, and be broken, and bee ſnared, and be taken.

14 Wherefore heare the worde of the Lord, ye ſcornefull men that rule this people, which is at Ieruſalem.

15 Becauſe ye haue ſaid, We haue made a [p] couenant with death, and with hell are we at agreement: though a ſcourge runne ouer, and paſſe through, it ſhall not come at vs: for we haue made [q] falſhood our refuge, and vnder vanitie are we hid.

16 Therefore thus ſayeth the Lord God, Beholde, I will lay in Zion a ſtone, a [r] tryed ſtone, a precious corner ſtone, a ſure foundation. Hee that beleeueth, [ſ] ſhall not make haſte.

17 Iudgment alſo will I lay to the rule, and [t] righteouſneſſe to the balance, and the [u] hayle ſhall ſweep away the vaine confidence, and the waters ſhall ouerflow [x] the ſecret place.

18 And your couenant with death ſhall be diſanulled, and your agreement with hell ſhall not ſtand: when a ſcourge ſhall runne ouer and paſſe through, then ſhall ye be trode down by it.

19 When it paſſeth ouer, it ſhal take you away: for it ſhall paſſe through euery morning in the day, and in the night, and there ſhall bee onely [y] feare to make you to vnderſtande the hearing.

20 For the bed is [z] ſtraite that it cannot ſuffice, and the couering narrow that one cannot wrap himſelfe.

21 For the Lorde ſhall ſtand as in mount [a] Perazim: he ſhall bee wroth as in the valley [b] of Gibeon, that hee may doe his worke, his ſtrange worke, and bring to paſſe his acte, his ſtrange act.

22 Now therefore bee no mockers, leſt your bondes increaſe: for I haue heard of the Lord of hoſts a conſumption, euen determined vpon the whole earth.

23 Hearken ye, and heare my voice: hearken ye, and heare my ſpeach.

24 Doth the plowman plow all the day, to ſowe? doeth hee open, and breake the clots of his ground?

25 When he hath made it [c] plaine, will he not then ſowe the fitches, and ſowe cummin, and caſt in wheate by meaſure, and the appointed barley and rie in their place?

26 For his God doth inſtruct him to haue diſcretion, and doeth teach him.

27 For fitches ſhall not be threſhed with a threſhing inſtrument, neither ſhall a cart a Meaning, the proud kingdome of the Iſraelites, which were drunken with worldly proſperity.

b Becauſe the Iſraelites for the moſt part dwelt in plentifull valleys, he meaneth hereby the valley of them that had abundance of worldly proſperity, and were as it were crowned therwith as with garlands.

c He ſeemeth to meane the Aſſyrians, by whom the ten tribes were caried away.

d Which is not of long continuance, but is loone ripe, & firſt eaten.

e Signifying that the faithfull, which put not their truſt in any worldly proſperity, but made God their glory, ſhalbe preſerued.

f He will giue counſell to the gouernour, and ſtrength to the captaine, to driue the enemies in at their own gates.

g Meaning, the hypocrites, which were among them and were altogether corrupt in life and doctrine, which is here meant by drunkenneſſe and vomiting.

h For there was none that was able to vnderſtand any good doctrine: but were fooliſh and as tunneet as yong babes.

i They muſt haue one thing oft times told.

k Let one teach what he can, yet they ſhal no more vnderſtand him then if he ſpake in a ſtrange language.

l That is, the Prophet whom God ſhould ſend.

m This is the doctrine, where vpon ye ought to ſtay and reſt.

n Shew to them that are weary and haue neede of reſt, what is the true reſt.

o Becauſe they will not receiue the worde of God when it is offred, it commeth of their owne malice, if after their hearts be ſo hardened, that they care not for it, as before Chap. 6, 9.

p They thought they had ſhifts to auoyd Gods iudgements, and that they could eſcape though all other periſhed.

q Though the Prophets condemned their idoles, and vaine truſt of falſhood and vanity, yet the wicked thought in themſelues that they would truſt in theſe things.

r That is, Chriſt by whom all the building muſt be tried & vpholden, Pſal. 118. 22. mat. 21. 42. acts 4. 11. rom. 9. 33. 1. pet. 2. 6.

ſ He ſhall bee quiet, and ſeeke none other remedies, but be content with Chriſt.

t In the reſtitution of his Church, iudgement and iuſtice ſhall reigne.

u Gods corrections and affliction.

x Affliction ſhall diſcouer their vaine confidence which they kept ſecret to themſelues.

y Terrour and deſtruction ſhall make you to learne that, which exhortations & gentleneſſe could not bring you vnto.

z Your affliction ſhalbe ſo ſore, that you are not able to endure it.

a When Dauid ouercame the Philiſtims, 2. Sam. 5. 20. 1. Chron. 14. 11.

b Where Joſhua diſcomfited fiue kings of the Amorites. Joſh. 10. 12.

c As the plowman hath his appointed time, and diuers inſtruments for his labour, ſo hath the Lord for his vengeance: for he puniſheth ſome at one time, and ſome at another, ſome after one ſort, and ſome after another, ſo that his choſen ſeede is beaten, and tried, but not broken, as are the wicked.

28 Bread corne when it is threshed, hee doeth not alway thresh it, neither doeth the wheele of his cart still make a noise, neither will he breake it with the teeth thereof.

29 This also commeth from the Lord of hosts, which is wonderfull in counsell, and excellent in workes.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 A prophecie against Ierusalem. 13 The vengeance of God on them that follow the traditions of man.

1 Ho [a] altar, altar of the citie that Dauid dwelt in: adde yeere vnto yeere: [b] let them kill lambes.

2 But I wil bring the altar into distresse, and there shall bee heauinesse and sorrow, and it shall be vnto me like [c] an altar.

3 And I will besiege thee as a circle, and fight against thee on a mount, and will cast vp ramparts against thee.

4 So shalt thou bee humbled, and shalt speake out of the [d] ground, and thy speach shall be as out of the dust: thy voyce also shalbe out of the ground like him that hath a spirit of diuination, and thy talking shall whisper out of the dust.

5 Moreouer, the multitude of thy [e] strangers shall bee like small dust, and the multitude of strong men shall be as chaffe that passeth away, and it shall be in a moment, euen suddenly.

6 Thou shalt bee visited of the Lord of hosts with thunder, and shaking, and a great noise, a whirlewind, and a tempest, and a flame of a deuouring fire.

7 And the [f] multitude of all the nations that fight against the altar, shall be as a dreame or vision by night: euen all they that make the warre against it, and strong holdes against it, and lay siege vnto it.

8 And it shall bee like as an hungry man dreameth, and beholde, [g] hee eateth: and when hee awaketh, his soule is emptie: or like as a thirstie man dreameth, and loe, hee is drinking, and when hee awaketh, behold, hee is faint, and his soule longeth: so shall the multitude of all nations bee that fight against mount Zion.

9 [h] Stay your selues, and wonder: they are blind, and make you blind: they are drunken, but not with wine: they stagger, but not by strong drinke.

10 For the Lord hath couered you with a spirit of slumber, and hath shut vp your eyes: the Prophets, and your chiefe Seers hath hee couered.

11 And the vision of them all is become vnto you, as the words of a booke that is sealed vp, which they deliuer to one that can reade, saying, Reade this, I pray thee. Then shall he say, I can [i] not: for it is sealed.

12 And the booke is giuen vnto him that cannot reade, saying, Reade this, I pray thee. And he shall say, I cannot reade.

13 Therefore the Lord saide, Because this people [k] come neere vnto mee with their mouth, and honour mee with their lips, but haue remooued their heart farre from me, and their [l] feare toward me was taught by the precept of men, 14 Therefore beholde, I will againe doe a marueilous worke in this people, euen a marueilous worke, and a wonder: for the wisedome of their wise men shall [m] perish, and the vnderstanding of their prudent men shall be hid.

15 Woe vnto them that [n] seeke deepe to hide their counsell from the Lord: for their workes are in darkenesse, and they say, Who seeth vs? and who knoweth vs?

16 Your turning of deuises shall it not be esteemed [o] as the potters clay? for shall the worke say of him that made it, Hee made mee not? or the thing formed, say of him that fashioned it, He had none vnderstanding?

17 Is it not yet but a little while, and Lebanon shalbe [p] turned into Carmel? and Carmel shalbe counted as a forrest?

18 And in that day shall the deafe heare the words of the booke, and the eyes of the blinde shall see out of obscuritie, and out of darkenesse.

19 The meeke in the Lord shall receiue ioy againe, and the poore men shall reioyce in the Holy one of Israel.

20 For the cruell man shall cease, and the scornefull shall bee consumed: and all that hasted to iniquitie, shalbe cut off.

21 Which made a man to sinne in the [q] word, and tooke him in a snare: which reproued them in the gate, and made the iust to fall without cause.

22 Therefore thus saith the Lord vnto the house of Iaakob, euen hee that redeemed Abraham, Iaakob shall not now be confounded, neither now shall his face be pale.

23 But when hee seeth his children, the worke of mine handes in the middes of him, they shall sanctifie my Name, and sanctifie the Holy one of Iaakob, and shall feare the God of Israel.

24 Then they that erred in spirite, [r] shall haue vnderstanding, and they that murmured, shall learne doctrine.

a The Ebrew word Ariel signifieth the Lion of God, and signifieth the Altar, because the Altar seemed to deuoure the sacrifice that was offered to God, as Ezek. 43. 16.

b Your daine confidence in your sacrifices shall not last long.

c Your city shall be full of blood, as an altar whereon they sacrifice.

d Thy speach shalbe no more so lofty, but a base, and low as the very charmers which are in low places, and whisper so that their voice can scarce be heard.

e Thine hired souldiers in whō thou trustest, shalbe destroyed as dust or chaffe in a whirle winde.

f The enemies that I wil bring to destroy thee, and that which thou makest thy daine trust, shall come at vnwares, euen as a dreame in the night. Some reade, as if this were a comfort to the Church for the destruction of their enemies.

g That is, he thinketh that he eateth.

h Wale hereon as long as ye list, yet shall ye finde nothing but occasion to be astonied: for your prophets are blinde, and therefore can not direct you.

i Meaning, that it is all alike, either to reade, or not to reade, except God open the heart to vnderstand.

k Because they are hypocrites and not sincere in heart, as Matt. 15. 8.

l That is, their religion was learned by mans doctrine, and not by my word.

m Meaning, that whereas God is not worshipped according to his word, both magistrates and ministers are but fooles, and without vnderstanding.

n This is spoken of them, which in heart despised Gods word, and mocked at the admonitions, but outwardly bare a good face.

o For all your craft, saith the Lord, you cannot be able to escape mine handes no more then the clay, that is in the potters handes, hath power to deliuer it selfe.

p Shall there not be a change of all things, and Carmel, that is a plentifull place in respect of that it shall be then, may be taken as a forrest, as Chap. 32. 15. and thus he speaketh to confort the faithfull.

q They that went about to finde fault with the Prophets wordes, and would not abide admonitions, but would entangle them and bring them into danger.

r Signifying, that except God giue vnderstanding and knowledge, man can not but stil erre and murmure against him.

CHAP. XXX.

1 He reproueth the Iewes which in their aduersitie vsed their owne counsell, 2 and sought helpe of the Egyptians, 10 despising the Prophets. 16 Therefore hee sheweth what destruction shall come vpon them, 18 but offereth mercie to the repentant.

WOe to the [a] rebellious children, saith the Lord, that take counsell, but not of mee, and [b] couer with a couering, but not by my Spirit, that they may lay sinne vpon sinne:

2 Which walke forth to goe downe into Egypt (and haue not asked at my mouth) to strengthen themselues with the strength of Pharaoh, and trust in the shadow of Egypt.

3 But the strength of Pharaoh shall bee your shame, and the trust in the shadow of Egypt your confusion.

4 For his [c] princes were at Zoan, and his ambassadours came vnto Hanes.

5 They shall bee all ashamed of the people that cannot profite them, nor helpe nor doe them good, but shall be a shame and also a reproch.

6 ¶ The [d] burden of the beastes of the South, in a land of trouble and anguish, from whence shall come the young and olde lyon, the viper and fierie flying serpent against them that shall beare their riches vpon the shoulders of the coltes, and their treasures vpon the bunches of the camels, to a people that cannot profit.

7 For the Egyptians are vanitie, & they shall helpe in vaine. Therefore haue I cried vnto [e] her, Their strength [f] is to sit still.

8 Now goe, and write [g] it before them in a table, and note it in a booke that it may bee for the [h] last day for euer and euer:

9 That it is a rebellious people, lying children, and children that would not [i] heare the law of the Lord.

10 Which say vnto the Seers, See not: and to the Prophets, Prophesie not vnto vs right things, but speake flattering things vnto vs: prophesie [k] errours.

11 Depart out of the way: goe aside out of the path: cause the Holy one of Israel to cease from vs.

12 Therefore thus saith the Holy one of Israel, Because you haue cast off this word, and trust in [l] violence, and wickednes, and stay thereupon,

13 Therefore this iniquitie shall bee vnto you as a breach that falleth, or a swelling in an high wall, whose breaking commeth suddenly in a moment.

14 And the breaking thereof is like the breaking of a potters pot, which is broken without pitie, and in the breaking thereof is not found [m] a sheard to take fire out of the hearth, or to take water out of the pit.

15 For thus said the [n] Lord God, the Holy one of Israel, In rest and quietnesse shall ye bee saued: in quietnesse and in confidence shall be your strength, but ye would not.

16 For ye haue said, No, but we will flee away vpon [o] horses. Therefore shall yee flee, Wee will ride vpon the swiftest. Therefore shall your persecuters be swifter.

17 A thousand as one shall flee at the rebuke of one: at the rebuke of fiue shall ye flee, till ye be left as a ship mast vpon the [p] top of a mountaine, and as a beaken vpon an hill.

18 Yet therefore will the Lord waite, that he may haue [q] mercie vpon you, and therefore wil he be exalted, that he may haue compassion vpon you: for the Lord is the God of [r] iudgement. Blessed are all they that wait for him.

19 Surely a people shall dwel in Zion, and in Ierusalem: thou shalt weepe no more: hee will certainely haue mercie vpon thee at the voice of thy crie: when he heareth thee, he wil answere thee.

20 And when the Lord hath giuen you the bread of aduersitie, and the water of affliction, thy raine shall be no more kept backe, but thine eyes shall see thy ‖ raine.

21 And thine eares shall heare a word behinde thee, saying, This is the way, [s] walke ye in it, when thou turnest to the right hand, and when thou turnest to the left.

22 And yee shall [t] pollute the couering of the images of siluer, and the rich ornament of thine images of gold, and cast them away as a menstruous cloth, and thou shalt say vnto it, [u] Get thee hence.

23 Then shall he giue raine vnto thy seed, when thou shalt sowe the ground, and bread of the increase of the earth, and it shall be fat and as oyle: in that day shall thy cattell bee fed in large pastures.

24 The oxen also and the young asses, that till the ground, shall eate cleane prouender, which is winnowed with the shouell and with the fanne.

25 And vpon euery high [x] mountaine, and vpon euery high hill shall there bee riuers and streames of waters, in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers shall fall.

26 Moreouer, the light of the Moone shall be as the light of the [y] Sunne, and the light of the Sunne shall bee seuen folde, and like the light of seuen dayes in the day that the Lord shall binde vp the breach of his people, and heale the stroke of their wound.

27 Beholde, [z] the Name of the Lord commeth from farre, his face is burning, and the burden thereof is heauie: his lippes are full of indignation, and his tongue as is a deuouring fire.

28 And

a Who contrary to their promise, take not me for their protectour, and contrary to my commandement, seeke helpe at strangers.

b They seeke shifts to cloke their doings, and not godly meanes.

c The chiefe of Israel went into Egypt in ambassie to seeke helpe, & abode at these cities.

d That is, a heauie sentence or prophecie against the beasts that caried their treasures into Egypt, by the wildernesse, which was South from Iudah: signifying that if the beasts should not be spared, he punished the men should much more grieuously.

e To wit, to Ierusalem.

f And not to come to and fro to seeke helpe.

g That is, this prophecie.

h That it may be a witnesse against them for all posteritie.

i He sheweth what was the cause of their destruction, & bringeth also all miserie to man: to wit, because they would not heare the word of God, but delighted to be flattered, and led in errour.

k Threaten vs not by the word of God, neither be so rigorous, nor talke vnto vs in the Name of the Lord, as Iere. 11, 21.

l Meaning, in their stubburnes against God and the admonitions of his Prophets.

m Signifying, that the destruction of the wicked shalbe without recouerie.

n Oft times by his Prophets he put you in remembrance of this, that you should onely depend on him.

o We will trust to escape by our horses.

p Whereas all the trees are cut downe saue two or three to make masts.

q He commendeth the great mercies of God, who with patience waiteth to call sinners to repentance.

r Not onely in punishing, but in vsing moderation in the same as Iere. 10, 24. & 30, 11.

‖ Or, instructer.

s God shal direct all thy wayes, and appoint thee how to goe either hither or thither.

t Ye shall cast away your idoles, which you haue made of gold, and siluer, with all that belongeth vnto them, as a most filthy thing, and polluted.

u Shewing that there can be no true repentance, except both in heart and deed wee shew our selues enemies to idolatrie.

x By these diuers maners of speach he sheweth that the felicitie of the Church shalbe so great, that none is able sufficiently to expresse it.

y When the Church shalbe restored, the glorie thereof shall passe seuen times the brightnes of the Sunne for by the sunne and moone, which are two excellent creatures, he sheweth what shall be the glory of the children of God in the kingdome of Christ.

z This threatning is against the Assyrians, the chiefe enemies of the people of God.

28 And his spirit is as a riuer that ouerfloweth vp to the necke: it diuideth asunder, to fanne the nations with the fanne of [a] vanitie, and there shall be a bridle to cause them to erre in the chawes of the people.

29 But there shall be a song vnto you as in the [b] night, when a solemne feast is kept: and gladnesse of heart, as he that commeth with a pipe to goe vnto the mount of the Lord, to the mightie one of Israel.

30 And the Lord shall cause his glorious voice to be heard, & shall declare the lighting down of his arme with the anger of his countenance, and flame of a deuouring fire, with scattering and tempest and hailestones.

31 For with the voyce of the Lord shall Asshur bee destroyed, which smote with the [c] rod.

32 And in euery place that the staffe shall passe, it shall [d] cleaue fast, which the Lord shall lay vpon him with [e] tabrets and harpes: and with battels, and lifting vp of hands shall hee fight [f] against it.

33 For [g] Tophet is prepared of olde: it is euen prepared for the [h] king: he hath made it [i] deepe and large: the burning thereof is fire and much wood, the breath of the Lord, like a riuer of brimstone, doeth kindle it.

a To driue them to nothing: and thus God consumeth the wicked by that meanes, whereby he cleanseth his.
b Ye shall reioice at the destruction of your enemies, as they that sing for ioy of the solemne feast, which began in the euening.
c Gods plague.
d It shall destroy.
e With ioy and assurance of the victorie.
f Against Babel: meaning the Assyrians and Babylonians.
g Here it is taken for hell, where the wicked are tormented, reade 2. King. 23.10.
h So that their estate or degree cannot exempt the wicked.
i By these figuratiue speaches he declareth the condition of the wicked after this life.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 He curseth them that forsake God, and seeke for the helpe of men.

WOe vnto them that [a] goe downe into Egypt for helpe, and stay vpon horses, and trust in charets, because they are many, and in horsemen, because they bee very strong: but they looke not vnto the holy one of Israel, nor [b] seeke vnto the Lord.

2 But he yet is [c] wisest: therefore he will bring euill, and not turne backe his word, but he will arise against the house of the wicked, & against the helpe of them that worke vanitie.

3 Now the Egyptians are men, and not God, and their horses flesh and not spirit: and when the Lord shall stretch out his hand, the [d] helper shal fall, and he that is holpen shal fall, and they shall altogether faile.

4 For thus hath the Lord spoken vnto me, As the Lion or Lions whelpe roareth vpon his pray, against whom if a multitude of shepheards bee called, hee will not be afraid at their voyce, neither will humble himselfe at their noise: so shall the Lord of hostes come [e] downe to fight for mount Zion, and for the hill thereof.

5 As birds that flee, so shall the Lord of hostes defend Ierusalem by defending and deliuering, by passing through and preseruing it.

a There were two speciall causes, why the Israelites should not ioyne amitie with the Egyptians: first because the Lord had commanded them neuer to returne thither, Deut. 17.16. and 28.68. least they should forget the benefite of their redemption: and secondly, least they should bee corrupted with the superstition and idolatrie of the Egyptians, and so forsake God, Iere. 2.18.
b Meaning, that they forsake the Lord, that put their trust in worldly things: for they cannot trust in both.
c And knoweth their craftie enterprises, and will bring all to nought.
d Meaning, both the Egyptians and the Israelites.
e He sheweth the Iewes, that if they would put their trust in him, hee is so able, that none can resist his power: and so carefull ouer them, as a bird ouer her yong, which euer flieth about them for their defence: which similitude the Scripture vseth in diuers places, as Deut. 32. 11. matth. 23 37.

6 O yee children of Israel, turne againe, in as much as ye are [f] sunken deepe in rebellion.

7 For in that day euery man shall [g] cast out his idoles of siluer, and his idoles of gold, which your hands haue made you, euen a sin.

8 [h] Then shall Asshur fall by the sworde, not of man, neither shall the sword of man deuoure him, and he shall flee from the sworde, and his yong men shall faint.

9 And he shall goe for feare to his [i] towre, and his princes shall be afraid of the standard, saith the Lord, whose [k] fire is in Zion, and his fornace in Ierusalem.

f He toucheth their conscience that they might earnestly seeke their grieuous sinnes, and so truely repent, for as much as now they are almost drowned and past recouery.
g By these fruits your repentance shall be knowen, as Chap. 2. 18.
h When your repentance appeareth.
i This was accomplished soone after, when Sanheribs armie was discomfited, and he fled to his castell in Ninineueh for succour.
k To destroy his enemies.

CHAP. XXXII.

The condition of good rulers and officers described by the gouernement of Hezekiah, who was the figure of Christ.

BEhold, [a] a King shall reigne in iustice, and the princes shall rule [b] in iudgement.

2 And that man shal be as an hiding place from the winde, and as a refuge for the tempest: as riuers of water in a drie place, and as the shadow of a great rocke in [c] a wearie land.

3 The eyes of the [d] seeing shall not bee shut, and the eares of them that heare, shall hearken.

4 And the heart of the foolish shall vnderstand knowledge, and the tongue of the stutters shall be ready to speake distinctly.

5 A [e] nigard shall no more bee called liberall, nor the churle rich.

6 But the niggard will speake of nigardnesse, and his heart will worke iniquitie, and doe wickedly, and speake falsely against the Lord, to make emptie the hungrie soule, and to cause the drinke of the thirstie to faile.

7 For the weapons of the churle are wicked: he deuiseth wicked counsels, to vndoe the poore with lying words, and to speake against the poore in iudgement.

8 But the liberall man will deuise of liberall things, & he will continue his liberality.

9 ¶ Rise vp, ye women that are at ease: heare my voyce, ye [f] careless daughters: hearken to my words.

10 Ye women, that are careless, shall bee in feare [g] aboue a yeere in dayes: [h] for the vintage shall faile, and the gathering shall come no more.

11 Ye women, that are at ease, bee astonied: feare, O yee careless women: put off the clothes: make bare, and gird sackcloth vpon the loynes.

12 Men shall lament for the [i] teates, euen a This prophecie is of Hezekiah, who was a figure of Christ, and therefore it ought chiefly to be referred to him.

b By iudgement and iustice is meant an vpright gouernement, both in policie and religion.
c Where men are wearie with trauelling for lacke of water.
d He promiseth to giue the true light, which is the pure doctrine of Gods word, and vnderstanding, and zeale of the same, contrary to the threatnings against the wicked, Chap. 6.9. and 29.10.
e Vice shall no more be called vertue, nor vertue esteemed by power and riches.
f He prophecieth of such calamities to come, that they will not spare the women and children, and therefore willeth them to take heede and prouide.
g Meaning, that the affliction should continue long, and when one yeere were past, yet they should looke for newe plagues.
h God will take from you the meanes and occasions, which made you to contemne him: to wit, abundance of worldly goods.
i By the teates hee meaneth the plentifull fieldes, whereby men are nourished, as children with the teate: or, the mothers for sorow and leanenesse shall lacke milke.

for the pleaſant fields, and for the fruitfull vine.

13 Upon the land of my people ſhall grow thornes and briers: yea, vpon all the houſes of ioy in the citie of reioycing,

14 Becauſe the palace ſhall bee forſaken, and and the ‖ noiſe of the citie ſhall be left: the towre and fortreſſe ſhal be dennes for euer, and the delight of wild aſſes, & a paſture for flocks, 15 Vntill the [k] Spirit bee powred vpon vs from aboue, and the wilderneſſe become a fruitfull fielde, and the [l] plentcous fielde bee counted as a forreſt.

16 And iudgement ſhal dwell in the deſert, and iuſtice ſhall remaine in the fruitfull field.

17 And the worke of iuſtice ſhall bee peace, euen the worke of iuſtice and quietneſſe, and aſſurance for euer.

18 And my people ſhall dwell in the Tabernacle of peace, and in ſure dwellings, and in ſafe reſting places.

19 When it hayleth, it ſhall fall on the forreſt, and the [m] citie ſhall be ſet in the low place.

20 Bleſſed are yee that [n] ſow vpon all waters, and [o] driue thither the feete of the oxe and the aſſe.

‖ Or, multitude.

k That is, when the Church ſhall be reſtored: thus the Prophets after they haue denounced Gods iudgements againſt the wicked, vſe to comfort the godly, leaſt they ſhould faint.

l The field which is now fruitfull, ſhall bee but as a barren forreſt in compariſon of that it ſhall bee then, as Chap. 29.17. which ſhall be fulfilled in Chriſtes time, for then they that were before as the barren wilderneſſe being regenerate, ſhall be fruitful, and they that had ſo vnbeginning of godlineſſe, ſhall bring forth fruites in ſuch abundance, that their former life ſhall ſeeme but as a wilderneſſe, where no fruits were.

m They ſhal not need to build it in high places for feare of the enemie: for God will defend it, and turne away the ſtormes from hurting of their commodities.

n That is, vpon fat ground and well watered, which bringeth forth in abundance: or in places which before were couered with waters, and now made dry for your vſes.

o The fields ſhall be ſo ranke, that they ſhall ſend out their cattell to eate vp the firſt crop, which abundance ſhall be ſignes of Gods fauour and loue towards them.

CHAP. XXXIII.

The deſtruction of them by whom God hath puniſhed his Church.

WOe to thee that [a] ſpoileſt, and waſt not ſpoiled: and doeſt wickedly, and they did not wickedly againſt thee: when thou ſhalt [b] ceaſe to ſpoile, thou ſhalt bee ſpoiled: when thou ſhalt make an end of doing wickedly, [c] they ſhall doe wickedly againſt thee.

2 [d] O Lord, haue mercy vpon vs, we haue waited for thee: bee thou, which waſt [e] their armie in the morning, our help alſo in the time of trouble.

3 At the noyſe of the tumult, the [f] people fled: at thine [g] exalting the nations were ſcattered.

4 And your ſpoile ſhall bee gathered like the gathering of [h] Caterpillers: and [i] he ſhall goe againſt him like the leaping of Graſhoppers.

5 The Lord is exalted: for hee dwelleth on high: hee hath filled Zion with iudgement and iuſtice.

a Meaning, the enemies of the Church, as were the Caldeans, and Aſſyrians: but chiefly of Sanherib, but not onely.

b When thine appointed time ſhall come that God ſhall take away thy power and that which thou haſt wrongfully gotten, ſhall bee giuen to others, as Amos 5.11.

c The Caldeans ſhall doe like to the Aſſyrians, as the Aſſyrians did to Iſrael: and the Medes and Perſians ſhall doe the ſame to the Caldeans.

d He declareth hereby what is the chiefe refuge of the faithfull, when troubles come, to pray & ſeeke helpe of God.

e Which helpedſt our fathers ſo ſoone as they called vpon thee.

f That is, the Aſſyrians flewe before the armie of the Caldeans, or the Caldeans for feare of the Medes and Perſians.

g When thou, O Lord, didſt lift vp thine arme to punith thine enemies.

h Yee that as Caterpillars deſtroyed with your number the whole world, ſhall haue no ſtrength to reſiſt your enemies the Caldeans, but ſhall be gathered on an heape and deſtroyed.

i Meaning, the Medes and Perſians againſt the Caldeans.

6 And there ſhall bee ſtabilitie of [k] thy times, ſtrength, ſaluation, wiſdom and knowledge: for the feare of the Lord ſhall bee his treaſure.

7 Beholde, [l] their meſſengers ſhall crie without, and the [m] Ambaſſadours of peace ſhall weepe bitterly.

8 The [n] pathes are waſte: the waykairing man ceaſeth: he hath broken the couenant: he hath contemned the cities: hee regarded no man.

9 The earth mourneth and fainteth: Lebanon is aſhamed, and hewen downe: [o] Sharon is like a wilderneſſe, and Baſhan is ſhaken and Carmel.

10 Now will I [p] ariſe, ſayth the Lord: now will I bee exalted, now will I lift vp my ſelfe.

11 [q] Yee ſhall conceiue chaffe, and bring forth ſtubble: the fire of your breath ſhall deuoure you.

12 And the people ſhall bee as the burning of lime: and as the thornes cut vp, ſhall they be burnt in the fire.

13 Heare, yee that are [r] farre off, what I haue done, and yee that are neere, know my power.

14 The [s] ſinners in Zion are afraid: a feare is come vpon the hypocrites: who among vs ſhall dwell with the deuouring fire? who among vs ſhall dwell with the euerlaſting burnings?

15 He that walketh in iuſtice, and ſpeaketh righteous things, refuſing gaine of oppreſſion, ſhaking his hands from taking of gifts, ſtopping his eares from hearing of blood, and ſhutting his eyes from ſeeing euill, 16 He ſhall dwell on [t] hie: his defence ſhall be the munitions of rocks: bread ſhal be giuen him, and his waters ſhall be ſure.

17 Thine eyes ſhall [u] ſee the King in his glory: they ſhall behold the lande [x] farre of.

18 Thine heart [y] ſhall meditate feare, Where is the ſcribe? where is the receiuer? were is he that counted the towres?

19 Thou ſhalt not ſee a fierce people, a people of darke ſpeech, that thou canſt not perceiue, and of a ſtammering tongue that thou canſt not vnderſtand.

20 Looke vpon Zion the citie of our ſolemne feaſtes: thine eyes ſhall ſee Jeruſalem a quiet habitation, a Tabernacle that cannot be remoued: and the ſtakes thereof can neuer be taken away, neither ſhall any of the cords thereof be broken.

21 For ſurely there the mightie Lorde will bee vnto vs as a place [z] of floods, and broade riuers, whereby ſhall paſſe no ſhippe

CHAP. XXXIIII.

2 He sheweth that God punisheth the wicked for the loue that he beareth toward his Church.

COme neere, yee [a] nations and heare, and hearken, yee people: let the earth heare and all that is therein, the world, and all that proceedeth thereof.

2 For the indignation of the Lord is vpon all nations, and his wrath vpon all their armies: hee hath [b] destroyed them and deliuered them to the slaughter.

3 And their slaine shall bee cast out, and their stincke shall come vp out of their bodies, and the mountaines shall be melted with their blood.

4 And all the host of heauen [c] shall be dissolued, and the heauens shall bee folden like a booke: and all their hostes shall fall as the leafe falleth from the vine, and as it falleth from the figtree.

5 For my sword shall be [d] drunken in the heauen: beholde, it shall come downe vpon Edom, euen vpon the people of [e] my curse to iudgement.

6 The sword of the Lord is filled with blood: it is made fat with the fat and with the blood of the [f] lambes and the goates, with the fat of the kidneis of the rammes: for the Lord hath a sacrifice in [g] Bozrah, and a great slaughter in the land of Edom.

7 And the [h] vnicorne shall come downe with them and the heifers with the bulles, and their land shall be drunken with blood, & their dust made fat with fatnesse.

8 For it is the day of the Lords vengeance, & the yeere of recompence for the iudgement of Zion.

9 And the riuers thereof shall bee turned into pitch, and the dust therof into [i] brimstone, and the land thereof shalbe burning pitch.

10 It shall not be quenched night nor day: the smoke thereof shall goe vp euermore: it shall be desolate from generation to generation: none shall passe through it for euer.

11 But the pelicane [k] and the hedgehog shall possesse it, and the great owle, and the rauen shall dwell in it, and hee shall stretch out vpon it the line of [l] vanitie, and the stones of emptinesse.

12 [m] The nobles thereof shall call to the kingdome, and there shall be none, and all the Princes thereof shall be as nothing.

13 And it shall bring forth thornes in the palaces thereof, nettles & thistles in the strong holdes thereof, and it shalbe an habitation for dragons, and a court for ostriches.

14 There shall [n] meete also Zim and Iim, and the Satyre shall crie to his fellow, and the shrichowle shall rest there, and shall finde for her selfe a quiet dwelling.

15 There [o] shall the Owle make her nest, and lay, and hatch, and gather them vnder her shadow: there shall the vultures also bee gathered, euery one with her make.

16 Seeke in the [p] booke of the Lord, and reade: none of [q] these shal faile, none shal want her make: for [r] his mouth hath commanded, and his very Spirit hath gathered them.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Sancherib sendeth Rabshakeh to besiege Ierusalem. 15 His blasphemie against God.

NOw [a] in the [b] foureteenth yeere of King Hezekiah, Sancherib king of Asshur came vp against all the strong cities of Iudah, and tooke them.

2 And the king of Asshur sent Rabshakeh from Lachish toward Ierusalem vnto king Hezekiah with a great hoste, and hee stood by the conduit of the vpper poole in the path of the fullers field.

3 Then came forth vnto him Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah, the [c] steward of the house, and Shebna [d] the chancellour, and Ioah the sonne of Asaph the recorder.

4 And Rabshakeh said vnto them, Tell you Hezekiah, I pray you, Thus sayeth the great king, the king of Asshur, What confidence is this, wherein thou trustest?

5 I say, [f] Surely I haue eloquence, but counsell and strength are for the warre: on whom then doest thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

6 Loe, thou trustest in this broken staffe of reede on Egypt, whereupon if a man leane, it will goe into his hand, and pearce it: so is [g] Pharaoh king of Egypt, vnto all that trust in him.

7 But if thou say to mee, We trust in the Lord our God, is not that he, whose high places and whose altars Hezekiah tooke downe, and said to Iudah and to Ierusalem, Yee shall worship before this altar?

8 Now therefore giue hostages to my lord the king of Asshur, and I will giue thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy part to set riders vpon them.

9 For how canst thou ‖ despise any captaine of the [h] least of my lords seruants? and put thy trust on Egypt for charets and for horsemen?

10 And am I now come vp without the Lord to this land to destroy it? The Lord said vnto mee, [i] Goe vp against this land and destroy it.

a This history is rehearsed, because it is as a seale and confirmation of the doctrine afore, both for the threatnings and promises: to wit, that God would suffer his Church to be afflicted, but at length would send deliuerance.

b When hee had abolished superstition, and idolatrie, and restored religion, yet God would exercise his Church, to trie their faith and patience.

c For hee was now restored to his office, as Isaiah had prophesied, Chap. 22.20.

d This declareth that there were few godly to bee found in the kings house, when hee was driuen to send this wicked man in such a weighty matter.

e Sancheribs chiefe captaine.

f He speaketh this in the person of Hezekiah, falsly charging him, that he put his trust in his wit and eloquence, whereas his onely confidence was in the Lord.

g Satan laboured to pull the godly king from one vaine confidence to another: to wit, from trust in the Egyptians, whose power was weake and would deceiue them, to yeeld himselfe to the Assyrians, and so not to hope for any helpe of God.

‖ Or, turne backe.

h He reproacheth to Hezekiah his small power, which is not able to resist one of Sancheribs least captaines.

i Thus the wicked to deceiue vs, will pretend the Name of the Lord: but wee must trie the spirits, whether they be of God or no.

11 ¶ Then saide Eliakim, and Shebna, and Ioah vnto Rabshakeh, [k] Speake, I pray thee, to thy seruants in the Aramites language, (for we vnderstand it) and talke not with vs in the Iewes tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wall.

12 Then sayde Rabshakeh, Hath my master sent mee to thy master and to thee, to speake these words, and not to the men that sitte on the wall: that they may eate their own doung, and drinke their owne † pisse with you?

13 So Rabshakeh stood, and cried with a loud voyce in the Iewes language, and saide, Heare the words of the great King, of the king of Asshur.

14 Thus saith the King, Let not Hezekiah deceiue you: for he shall not be able to deliuer you.

15 Neither let Hezekiah make you to trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord will surely deliuer vs: this citie shall not be giuen ouer into the hand of the king of Asshur.

16 Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus saith the king of Asshur, Make [l] appointment with me, and come out to mee, that euery man may eate of his owne vine, and euery man of his owne figge tree, and drinke euery man the water of his owne well,

17 Till I come and bring you to a land like your owne land, euen a land of wheate, and wine, a land of bread and vineyards, 18 Lest Hezekiah deceiue you, saying, The Lord will deliuer vs. Hath any of the gods of the nations deliuered his land out of the hand of the king of Asshur?

19 Where is the god of [m] Hamath, and of Arpad? where is the god of Sepharuaim? or how haue they deliuered Samaria out of mine hand?

20 Who is he among all the gods of these lands, that hath deliuered their countrey out of mine hand, that the Lord should deliuer Ierusalem out of mine hand?

21 Then they [n] kept silence, and answered him not a word: for the Kings commaundement was, saying, Answere him not.

22 Then came Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah the steward of the house, and Shebna the chanceller, and Ioah the sonne of Asaph the recorder, vnto Hezekiah with rent clothes, and told him the words of Rabshakeh.

k They were afraid, lest by his words he should haue stirred the people against the King, and also pretended to grow to some appointment with him.

m That is, of Antiochia in Syria, of the which these two other cities also were: whereby we see how euery towne had his peculiar idole, and how the wicked make God an idole, because they do not vnderstand that God maketh them his seruants, and punisheth cities for sinne.

n Not that they did not shew by euident signes that they did detest his blasphemie: for they had now rent their clothes, but they knew it was in vaine to bee long reasoning with this infidel, whose rage they should haue so much more prouoked.

and came into the House of the Lord.

2 And hee sent Eliakim the steward of the house, and Shebna the Chancellor, with the Elders of the Priestes, clothed in sackecloth vnto [b] Isaiah the Prophet, the sonne of Amoz.

3 And they said vnto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This day is a day of tribulation and of rebuke and blasphemie: for the children are come to the [c] birth, and there is no strength to bring forth.

4 If so be the Lord thy God hath [d] heard the wordes of Rabshakeh, whom the King of Asshur his master hath sent to raile on the liuing God, and to reproch him with wordes which the Lord thy God hath heard, then [e] lift thou vp thy prayer for the remnant that are left.

5 So the seruants of the King Hezekiah came to Isaiah.

6 And Isaiah said vnto them, Thus say vnto your master, Thus saith the Lord, Bee not afraid of the wordes that thou hast heard, wherewith the seruants of the King of Asshur haue blasphemed me.

7 Beholde, I will send a blast vpon him, and hee shall heare a [f] noyse, and returne to his owne land, and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his owne land.

8 ¶ So Rabshakeh returned, & found the King of Asshur fighting against [g] Libnah: for hee had heard that hee was departed from Lachish.

9 Hee heard also men say of Tirhakah, King of Ethiopia, Behold, hee is come out to fight against thee: and when hee heard it, hee sent other messengers to Hezekiah, saying,

10 Thus shall ye speake to Hezekiah King of Iudah, saying, Let not thy God [h] deceiue thee, in whom thou trustest, saying, Ierusalem shall not be giuen into the hand of the King of Asshur.

11 Behold, thou hast heard what the kings of Asshur haue done to all lands in destroying them, and shalt thou be deliuered?

12 Haue the gods of the nations deliuered them, which my Fathers haue destroyed? as [i] Gozan, and [k] Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden, which were at Telassar?

13 Where is the king of Hamath, and the king of Arpad, and the king of the citie of Sepharuaim, Hena, and Iuah?

14 ¶ So Hezekiah receiued the letter of the hand of the messengers and read it, and he went vp into the house of the Lord, and Hezekiah spread it before the Lord.

15 And Hezekiah prayed vnto the Lord, saying,

16 O Lord of hosts, God of Israel, which [l] dwellest betweene the Cherubims, thou art very God alone ouer all the Kingdomes of the earth: thou hast made the heauen and the earth.

17 Encline thine eare, O Lord, and heare: open thine eyes, O Lord, and see, and heare all the wordes of Sanherib, who hath sent to blaspheme the liuing God.

18 Trueth it is, O Lord, that the kings of Asshur haue destroyed all lands, and [m] their countrey, 19 And haue cast their gods in the fire: for they were no gods, but the worke of mens hands, euen wood or stone: therefore they destroyed them.

20 Now therefore, O Lord our God, saue thou vs out of his hand, that [n] all the Kingdomes of the earth may know, that thou only art the Lord.

21 ¶ Then Isaiah the sonne of Amoz sent vnto Hezekiah, saying, Thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, Because thou hast prayed vnto me, concerning Sanherib King of Asshur, 22 This is the word that the Lord hath spoken against him, The [o] virgin, the daughter of Zion, hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorne: the daughter of Ierusalem hath shaken her head at thee.

23 Whom hast thou rayled on and blasphemed? and against whom hast thou exalted thy voyce, and lifted vp thine eyes on high? euen against the [p] holy one of Israel.

24 By thy seruants hast thou rayled on the Lord, and said, By the multitude of my charets I am come vp to the toppe of the mountaines to the sides of Lebanon, and will cut downe the high cedars thereof, and the faire firre trees thereof, and I will goe vp to the heights of his toppe, and to the forest of his fruitfull places.

25 I haue digged [q] and drunke the waters, and with the plant of my feete haue I dried all the riuers closed in.

26 Hast thou not heard how I haue of olde time made it, [r] and haue formed it long agoe? and should I now bring it, that it should be destroyed, and laide on ruinous heapes, as cities defensed?

27 Whose inhabitants † haue small power, and are afraide and confounded? they are like the grasse of the fielde and greene herbe, or grasse on the house tops, or corne blasted [s] afore it be growen.

28 But I knowe thy dwelling, and thy [t] going out, and thy comming in, and thy furie against me.

29 Because thou ragest against me, and thy tumult is come vp vnto mine eares, therefore will I put mine [u] hooke in thy nosethrils,

ABout * that a time was Hezekiah sicke vnto the death, and the Prophet Isaiah sonne of Amoz came vnto him, and sayd vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Put thine house in an order, for thou shalt die, and not liue.

a Some after that the Assyrians were slaine: so that God will haue the exercise of his children continuall, that they may learne onely to depend vpon God, and aspire to the heauens.

2 Then Hezekiah b turned his face to the wall, and prayed to the Lord,

3 And said, I beseech thee, Lord, remember now, how I haue walked before thee in trueth, and with a perfite heart, and haue done that which is good in thy sight: and Hezekiah wept sore.

b For his heart was touched with feare of Gods iudgement, seeing he had appointed him to die, so quickly after his deliuerance from so great calamitie, as one vnworthy to remaine in that estate, and also foreseeing the great change, that should come in the Church, forasmuch as he left no sonne to reigne after him: for as yet Manasseh was not borne: and when he reigned, wee see what a tyrant he was.

4 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord to Isaiah, saying,

5 Goe, and say vnto Hezekiah, Thus saith the Lord God of Dauid thy Father, I haue heard thy prayer, and seene thy teares: behold, I will adde vnto thy dayes fifteene yeeres.

10 I saide in the g cutting off of my dayes, I shall goe to the gates of the graue: I am deprined of the residue of my yeeres.

11 I said, h I shall not see the Lord, euen the Lord in the land of the liuing: I shall see man no more among the inhabitants of the world.

12 Mine inhabitation is departed, and is remooued from mee, like a shepheards tent: I i haue cut off like a Weauer my life: hee will cut me off from the height, from day k to night, thou wilt make an ende of me.

13 I reckoned l to the morning: but hee brake all my bones, like a Lyon: from day to night thou wilt make an ende of me.

14 Like a Crane or a Swallow, so did I m chatter: I did mourne as a Doue: mine eyes were lift vp on high: O Lord, n it hath oppressed me, comfort me.

15 What shall I say? o for he hath said it to me, & he hath done it: I shal walke p weakely all my yeeres in the bitternesse of my soule.

16 O Lord, q to them that ouerliue them, and to all that are in them, the life of my spirite shall bee knowen, that thou causedst mee to r sleepe, and hast giuen life to me.

17 Behold, for s felicity I had bitter griefe, but it was thy pleasure to deliuer my soule from the pit of corruption: for thou hast cast all my t sinnes behind thy backe.

18 For u the graue can not confesse thee:

f He left this long of his lamentation and thanksgiuing to al posteritie, as a monument of his owne infirmitie and thankefull heart for Gods benefites, as Dauid did, Psal. 51.
g At what time it was told me, that I should die.
h I shall no more praise the Lord here in this Temple among the faithfull: thus God suffereth his dearest children to want his consolation for a time, that his grace afterward may the more appeare, when they feele their owne weakenesse.
i By my sinne I haue prouoked God to take my life from me.
k That is, in one day, or hastily.
l Once night I thought that I should liue till morning, but my pangs in the night perswaded me the contrary: hee sheweth the horrour that the faithfull haue when they apprehend Gods iudgement against their sinne.
m I was so oppressed with sorow, that I was not able to vtter my words, but only to grone & sigh.

r That after that thou hadst condemned me to death, thou restoredst me to life.
s Whereas I thought to haue liued in rest and ease, being deliuered from mine enemie, I had griefe vpon griefe.
t Hee esteemeth more the remission of his sinnes, and Gods fauour, then a thousand liues.
u For as much as God hath placed men in this world to glorifie him, the godly tooke it as a signe of his wrath when their dayes were shortened, either because that they seemed vnworthy for their sinnes to liue longer in his seruice, or for their zeale to Gods glory, seeing that there are so few in earth that doe regard it, as Psal. 6. 5. and 115. 17 death cannot praise thee: they that goe downe into the pit, cannot hope for thy trueth.

19 But the liuing, the liuing, he shal confesse thee, as I doe this day: the father to the [x] children shall declare thy trueth.

20 The Lord was readie to saue me: therefore wee will sing my song, all the dayes of [y] our life in the house of the Lord.

21 Then sayd Isaiah, Take a lumpe of drie figs and [z] lay it vpon the boyle, and he shall recouer.

22 Also Hezekiah [a] had sayd, What is the signe, that I shall goe vp into the House of the Lord?

3 Then came Isaiah the Prophet vnto King Hezekiah, and sayd vnto him, What sayd these men? and from whence came they to thee? And Hezekiah sayd, They are come from a farre countrey vnto me, from Babel.

4 Then said he, What haue [d] they seene in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house haue they seene: there is nothing among my treasures that I haue not shewed them.

2 Remission of sinnes by Christ. 3 The comming of Iohn Baptist. 18 The Prophet reproueth the idolaters and them that trust not in the Lord.

COmfort [a] yee, comfort ye my people, will your God say.

2 Speake comfortably to Ierusalem, and cry vnto her, that her [b] warrefare is accomplished, that her iniquitie is pardoned: for shee hath receiued of the Lordes hand [c] double for all her sinnes.

3 A [d] voice crieth in the [e] wildernes, [f] Prepare ye the way of the Lord: make streight in the desert a path for our God.

4 Euery valley shall be exalted, and euery [g] mountaine and hill shall be made lowe: and the crooked shalbe streight, and the rough places plaine.

5 And the glory of the Lord shall be reuealed, and all [h] flesh shall see it together: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

6 A [i] voyce said, Crie. And he said, What shall I crie? All flesh is grasse, & all the [k] grace thereof is as the floure of the field.

7 The grasse withereth, the floure fadeth, because [l] the Spirit of the Lord bloweth vpon it: surely the people is grasse.

8 The grasse withereth, the floure fadeth: but the [m] worde of our God shall stand for euer.

9 O Zion, that bringest good tidings, get thee vp into the hie [n] mountaine: O Ierusalem, that bringest good tidings, lift vp thy voyce with strength: lift it vp, bee not afraid: say vnto the cities of Iudah, Behold [o] your God.

14 Of whom tooke he counsell, and who instructed him and taught him in the way of iudgement? or taught him knowledge, and shewed vnto him the way of vnderstanding?

t He speaketh all this to the intent that they should neither feare man, nor put their trust in any, saue onely in God.

u Here by he armeth them against the idolatry, wherewith they should be tempted in Babylon.

x He sheweth the rage of the idolaters, seeing that the poore that haue not to suffice their owne necessities, will defraud themselues to serue their idoles.

y Haue ye not the word of God, which plainely condemneth idolatrie?

z Can you not learne by the visible creatures whom God hath made to serue your vse, that you should not serue them nor worship them?

a So that his power appeareth in euery place whereseuer we turne our eyes.

b Who hath set in order the infinite number of the starres.

c He rebuketh the Iewes because they did not rest on the prouidence of God, but thought that he had forsaken them in their troubles.

d And therefore all power is in his hand to deliuer when his time commeth.

e Shewing that men must patiently abide, and not curiously seeke out the cause of Gods delay in our afflictions.

f They that trust in their own vertue, and doe not acknowledge that all commeth of God.

CHAP. XLI.

2 Gods mercie in chusing his people. 6 Their idolatrie. 27 Deliuerance promised to Zion.

KEepe [a] silence before mee, O ilands, and let the people [b] renew their strength: let them come neere, and let them speake: let vs come together into iudgement.

2 Who raised vp [c] iustice from the East, and called him to his foote? and gaue the nations before him, and subdued the Kings? he gaue them as dust to his sword, and as scattered stubble vnto his bowe.

3 He pursued them, and passed safely by the way that he had not gone with his feete.

4 Who hath wrought and done it? hee that calleth the [d] generations from the beginning. I the Lord am the [e] first, and with the last I am the same.

5 The Iles saw it, and did [f] feare, and the ends of the earth were abashed, drewe neere, and came.

6 Euery man helped his neighbour, and sayd to his brother, [h] Be strong.

7 So the workeman comforted the founder, and he that smote with the hammer, him that smote by course, saying, It is readie for the sodering, and he fastned it with nailes, that it should not be mooued.

8 ¶ But thou, Israel, art my [i] seruant, and thou Iaakob, whom I haue chosen, the seede of Abraham my friend.

9 For I haue taken thee from the ends of the earth, and called thee before the chiefe therof, and said vnto thee, Thou art my seruant, I haue chosen thee, and not cast thee away.

10 Feare thou not, for I am with thee: be not afraid, for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee, and helpe thee, and will sustaine thee with the [k] right hand of my iustice.

11 Beholde, all they that prouoke thee, shall be ashamed, and confounded: they shall be as nothing, and they that striue with thee, shall perish.

12 Thou shalt seeke them and shalt not [l] finde them: to wit, the men of thy strife, for they shalbe as nothing, and the men that warre against thee, as a thing of nought.

13 For I the Lord thy God will hold thy right hand, saying vnto thee, Feare not, I will helpe thee.

14 Feare not, thou [m] worme, Iaakob, and ye men of Israel: I will helpe thee, saith the Lord and thy redeemer the holy one of Israel.

15 Behold, I will make thee a roller, and a new threshing instrument hauing teeth: thou shalt thresh the [n] mountaines, and bring them to powder, and shalt make the hils as chaffe.

16 Thou shalt fanne them, and the winde shall carie them away, and the whirlwind shall scatter a God, as though he pleaded his cause with all nations, requireth silence that he may be heard in his right.

b That is, gather al their power and supports.

c Who called Abraham (who was the patterne of Gods iustice in deliuering his Church) from the idolatrie of the Caldeans to go to and fro at his commandement, and placed him in the land of Canaan?

d Who hath created man and maintained his succession.

e Though the world set vp neuer so many gods, yet they diminish nothing of my glory: for I am all one, vnchangeable, which haue euer bene, and shalbe so, euer.

f Considering mine excellent workes among my people.

g They assembled themselues, and conspired against me to maintaine their idolatrie.

h He noteth the obstinacie of the idolaters to maintaine their superstitions.

i And therefore ought not to pollute thy selfe with the superstition of the Gentiles.

k That is, by the force of my promise, in the performance whereof I will shew my selfe faithfull and iust.

l Because they shalbe destroyed.

m Thus he calleth them because they were contemned of all the world, and that they considering their owne poore estate, should seeke vnto him for helpe.

n I will make thee able to destroy all thine enemies, be they neuer so mightie: and this chiefly is referred to the kingdome of Christ.

scatter them: and thou shalt reioyce in the Lord, and shalt glory in the holy one of Israel.

17 When [o] the poore and the needie seeke water, and there is none (their tongue faileth for thirst: I the Lord will heare them: I the God of Israel will not forsake them)

18 I will open riuers in the toppes of the hils, and fountaines in the mids of the valleys: I will make the wildernesse as a poole of water, and the waste [p] land as springs of water.

19 I will set in the wildernesse the cedar, the Shittah tree, and the Myrrhe tree, and the pine tree, and I will set in the wildernesse the firre tree, the elme and the boxe tree together.

20 Therefore let them see and know, and let them consider & vnderstand together that the hand of the Lord hath done this, and the holy one of Israel [q] hath created it.

21 [r] Stand to your cause, sayeth the Lord: bring foorth your strong reasons, sayth the King of Iaakob.

22 Let them bring foorth, and let them tell vs what shall come: let them shew the former things what they be, that wee may consider them, and know the latter end of them: either declare vs things for to come.

23 Shew the things that are to come hereafter, that we may know that you are gods: yea, doe good or doe euill, that we may declare it, and behold it together.

24 Behold, yee are of no value, and your making is of nought: man hath [s] chosen an abomination by them.

25 ¶ I haue raised vp [t] from the North, and he shall come: from the East sunne shall [u] he call vpon my Name, and shall come vpon [x] princes as vpon clay, and as the potter treadeth mire vnder the foote.

26 Who hath declared from the beginning, that we may know? or before time, that we may say, Hee is righteous? Surely there is none that sheweth: surely there is none that declareth: surely there is none that heareth [y] your words.

27 I am the first, that sayth to Zion, Behold, behold [z] them: and I will giue to Ierusalem [a] one that shall bring good tidings.

28 But when [b] I beheld, there was none, and when I enquired of them, there was no counseller, and when I demanded of them, they answered not a word.

29 Behold, they are all vanitie: their worke is of nothing, their images are winde and confusion.

BEhold, [a] my seruant: [b] I will stay vpon him: mine elect, in whom my soule [c] delighteth: I haue put my Spirit vpon him: he shall bring foorth [d] iudgement to the Gentiles.

2 He shall not [e] crie, nor lift vp, nor cause his voice to be heard in the streete.

3 A [f] bruised reed shall he not breake, and the smoking [g] flaxe shall he not quench: he shall bring foorth iudgement in [h] trueth.

4 He shall not faile nor be discouraged till hee haue [i] set iudgement in the earth: and the [k] yles shall waite for his law.

5 Thus saith God the Lord (he that created the heauens and spred them abroad: he that stretched forth the earth, and the buds thereof: he that giueth breath vnto the people vpon it, and spirit to them that walke therein)

6 I the Lord haue called thee in [l] righteousnesse, and will holde [m] thine hand, and I will keepe thee, and giue thee for a [n] couenant of the people, and for a light of the Gentiles,

7 That thou mayest open the eyes of the blinde, and bring out the prisoners from the prison: and them that sit in darkenesse, out of the prison house.

8 I am the Lord, this is my Name, and my [o] glory will I not giue to another, neither my praise to grauen images.

9 Behold, the former things are [p] come to passe, and new things doe I declare: before they come foorth, I tell you of them.

10 Sing vnto the Lord a new song, and his praise from the end of the earth: yee that goe downe to the Sea, and all that is therein: the yles and the inhabitants thereof.

11 Let the wildernes and the cities thereof lift vp their voice, the townes that [q] Kedar doth inhabite: let the inhabitants of the rocks sing: let them shout from the top of the mountaines.

12 Let them giue glory vnto the Lord, and declare his praise in the ylands.

13 The Lord shall goe forth as a [r] gyant: hee shall stirre vp his courage like a man of warre: hee shall shoute and cry, and shall preuaile against his enemies.

14 I haue a long time holden my peace: I haue beene still and refrained my selfe: now will I cry like a [s] trauailing woman: I will destroy and deuoure at once.

15 I will make waste mountaines, & hils, and drie vp all their herbes, and I will make the floods ylands, & I will drie vp the pooles.

16 ¶ And I will bring the [t] blinde by a

[o] That is, they that shall be afflicted in the captiuitie of Babylon.

[p] God will rather change the order of nature, then they should want any thing, that cry to him by true faith in their miseries: declaring to them hereby that they shall lacke nothing by the way, when they returne from Babylon.

[q] That is, hath appointed, and determined that it shall come to passe.

[r] He biddeth the idolaters to proue their religion, and to bring forth their idoles, that they may be tried whether they know all things, and can doe all things: which if they can not doe, he concludeth that they are no gods, but vile idoles.

[s] So that a man cannot make an idole, but he must doe that which God detesteth, and abhorreth: for he chuseth his owne deuises, and forsaketh the Lords.

[t] Meaning, the Chaldeans.

[u] That is, Cyrus, who shall doe all things in my name, and by my direction: whereby he meaneth that both their captiuitie, and deliuerance, shall be ordered by Gods prouidence and appointment.

[x] Both of the Chaldeans and others.

[y] Meaning, that none of the Gentiles gods can worke any of these things.

[z] That is, the Israelites which returne from the captiuitie.

[a] To wit, a continuall succession of Prophets and ministers.

[b] When I looked whether the idoles could doe these things, I found that they had neither wisedome nor power to doe any thing: therefore he concludeth that all are wicked that trust in such vanitie.

[a] That is, Christ, who in respect of his manhood is called here seruant. The Prophets vse to make mention of Christ after that they haue declared any great promise, because he is the foundation whereupon all the promises are made and ratified.

[b] For I haue committed all my power to him, as to a most faithfull steward. Some reade, I will establish him: to wit, in his office by giuing him the fulnesse of my Spirit.

[c] He onely is acceptable vnto me, and they that come vnto me by him: for there is no other meanes of reconciliation. Matth.12.18. ephes.1.4.

[d] He shal declare himselfe gouernor ouer the Gentiles, & call them by his word, and rule them by his Spirit.

[e] His comming shall not be with pompe & noise, as earthly princes.

[f] He will not hurt the weake & feeble, but support & comfort them.

[g] Meaning, the wicke of a lampe or candle which is almost out, but he will cherish it and snuffe it, that it may shine brighter.

[h] Although he fauor the weake, yet will hee not spare the wicked, but will iudge them according to trueth and equitie.

[i] Till he haue set all things in good order.

[k] The Gentiles shall be desirous to receiue his doctrine.

[l] Meaning, unto a lawfull and iust vocation.

[m] To assist and guide thee.

[n] As him, by whom the promise made to all nations in Abraham, shall be fulfilled.

[o] I will not suffer my glory to be diminished: which I should doe, if I were not faithfull in performing the same, and the idolaters thereby would abuse me.

[p] As in time past I haue done true in my promises, so will I be in time to come.

[q] Meaning, the Arabians, vnder whom he comprehendeth all the people of the East.

[r] He sheweth the zeale of the Lord, and his power in the conseruation of his Church.

[s] I will haste to execute my vengeance, which I haue so long deferred, as a woman that desireth to be deliuered when she is in trauaile.

[t] That is, my poore people, which are in perplexitie and care.

way,

way, that they knew not, and leade them by paths that they haue not knowen: I wil make darkenesse light before them, and crooked things straight. These things will I doe vnto them, and not forsake them.

17 They shall be turned backe: they shall be greatly ashamed, that trust in grauen images, and say to the molten images, Ye are our gods.

18 ¶ Heare, yee deafe: and ye blinde, regard, that ye may see.

19 Who is blinde but my [u] seruant? or deafe as my [x] messenger, that I sent? who is blinde as they [y] perfite, and blind as the Lords seruant?

20 Seeing many things, but thou keepest them not? opening the eares, but he heareth not.

21 The Lord is willing for his righteousnesse sake, that he may magnifie the Law, and exalt it.

22 But this people is [z] robbed and spoiled, and shall be all snared in dungeons, and they shall be hid in prison houses: they shall be for a pray, and none shall deliuer: a spoile, and none shall say, [a] Restore.

23 Who among you shal hearken to this, and take heede, and heare for [b] afterwards?

24 Who gaue Iaakob for a spoile, and Israel to the robbers? Did not the Lord, because wee haue sinned against him: for they would not walke in his wayes, neither be obedient vnto his Law.

25 Therefore he hath powred vpon him his fierce wrath, and the strength of battel: and it set him on fire round about, and hee knew not, and it burned him vp, yet he considered not.

CHAP. XLIII.

1 The Lord comforteth his people. Hee promiseth deliuerance to the Iewes. 11 There is no God but one alone.

BUt now thus sayth the Lord, [a] that created thee, O Iaakob: and hee that formed thee, O Israel, [b] Feare not: for I haue redeemed thee: I haue called thee by thy name, thou art mine.

2 When thou passest through the [c] waters, I will be with thee, & through the floods, that they doe not ouerflow thee. When thou walkest through the very fire, thou shalt not bee burnt, neither shall the flame kindle vpon thee.

3 For I am the Lord thy God, the holy one of Israel, thy Sauiour: I gaue [d] Egypt for thy ransome, Ethiopia, and Seba for thee.

4 Because thou wast precious in my sight, and thou wast honourable, and I loued thee, therefore will I giue [e] man for thee, and people for thy sake.

5 Feare not, for I am with thee: I will bring thy seede from the [f] East, and gather thee from the West.

6 I will say to the North, Giue: and to the South, Keepe not backe: bring my sonnes from farre, and my daughters from the endes of the earth.

7 Euery one shalbe called by my [g] name: for I created him for my glory, formed him, and made him.

8 I will bring foorth the blinde people, and they shall haue eyes, and the deafe, and they shall haue eares.

9 Let all the nations be gathered [h] together, and let the people be assembled: who among them can declare this, and shew vs former things? let them bring foorth their [i] witnesses, that they may be iustified: but let them [k] heare, and say, It is trueth.

10 You [l] are my witnesses, saith the Lord, and my [m] seruant, whom I haue chosen: therefore ye shall know and beleeue me, and ye shall vnderstand that I am: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me.

11 I, euen I am the Lord, and beside me there is no Sauiour.

12 I haue declared, and I haue saued, and I haue shewed, when there was no strange god among you: therefore you are my witnesses, saith the Lord, that I am God.

13 Yea, before the day was, I am, & there is none that can deliuer out of mine hand: I will doe it, and who shall let it?

14 Thus saith the Lord your Redeemer, the holy One of Israel For your sake I haue sent to Babel, and [n] brought it downe: they are all fugitiues, and the Caldeans cry in [o] the shippes.

15 I am the Lord your holy One, the creatour of Israel, your King.

16 Thus sayth the Lord which maketh a way in [p] the Sea, and a path in the mightie [q] waters.

17 When he [r] bringeth out the [s] charet and horse, the armie and the power lie together, and shall not rise: they are extinct, and quenched as towe.

18 Remember yee not the former things, neither regard the things of olde.

19 Behold, I doe a new thing: now shall it come foorth: shall you not know it? I will euen make a way in the [t] desert, and floods in the wildernesse.

20 The wilde [u] beastes shall honour mee, the dragons and the ostriches, because I gaue water in the desert, and floods in the wildernesse to giue drinke to my people, euen to mine elect.

21 This people haue I formed for my selfe: they shall shew foorth my praise.

22 And

a After these threatnings he promiseth deliuerance to his Church, because he hath regenerate them, adopted them, and called them.
b When thou seest dangers and conspiracies on all sides, remember this benefite and the loue of thy God, and it shall encourage thee.
c By water and fire he meaneth all kinde of troubles and perils.
d I turned Sanneheribs power against these countreys, and made them to suffer that affliction which thou shouldest haue done, and so were as the payment of thy ransome, Chap. 37.9. e I will not spare any man, rather then thou shouldest perish: for God more esteemeth one of his faithfull, then all the wicked in the world.

o To wit, Israel, which should haue most light, because of my Law.
x The Priest to whom my word is committed, which should not onely heare it himselfe, but cause others to heare it.
y As the Priests and Prophets that should be lights to others.
z Because they will not acknowledge this benefite of the Lord, who is ready to deliuer them, he suffereth them to be spoiled of their enemies through their owne fault and incredulitie.
a There shall be none to succour them, or to will the enemie to restore that, which he hath spoiled.
b Meaning, Gods wrath.

f Ye prophecies of their deliuerance from the captiuitie of Babylon, and so of the calling of the vniuersal church, alluding to that which is written, Deut 30.3.
g Meaning, that he could not be vnmindfull of them, except he would neglect his owne Name and glory.
h Signifying that no power can resist him in doing this miraculous worke, nor all their idoles are able to doe the like, as Chap. 41.22.
i To proue that the things which are spoken of them, are true.

q When the Israelites passed through Iordan, Iosh. 3.17.
r When he deliuered his people out of Egypt.
s Pharaoh & his mightie armie.
t Meaning, that their deliuerance out of Babylon should be more famous then that frō Egypt was, Jer. 23.7 heg 2. 10.2. col. 5.17. Ezek. 21.5.
u They shall haue such abundance of all things as they return home, euen in the wild and barren places, that the very beasts shall feele my benefites, and shal acknowledge them: much more men ought to be thankefull for the same.

22 And thou hast not [x] called vpon mee, O Iaakob, but thou hast [y] wearied me, O Israel.

23 Thou [z] hast not brought me the sheepe of thy burnt offrings, neither hast thou honoured me with thy sacrifices. I haue not caused thee to serue with an offring, nor wearied thee with incense.

24 Thou boughtest me no sweete [a] sauour with money, neither hast thou made me drunke with the fat of thy sacrifices, but thou hast made me to [b] serue with thy sinnes, and wearied me with thine iniquities.

25 I, euen I am hee that putteth away thine iniquities for mine owne sake, and will not remember thy sinnes.

26 Put me in [c] remembrance: let vs bee iudged together: count thou that thou maiest be iustified.

27 Thy [d] first father hath sinned, and thy [e] teachers haue transgressed against me.

28 Therfore I haue [f] prophaned the rulers of the Sanctuarie, and haue made Iaakob a curse, and Israel a reproch.

x Thou hast not worshipped mee as thou oughtest to haue done.
y Because thou hast not willingly receiued that which I did commaund thee, thou didst grieue me.

CHAP. XLIIII.

5 The Lord promiseth comfort, and that he will assemble his Church of diuers nations. 9 The vanitie of idoles 17 The beastlinesse of idolaters.

YEt now heare, O Iaakob my seruant, and Israel, whome I haue chosen.

2 Thus saith the Lord, that made thee, and formed [a] thee from the wombe: he will helpe thee. Feare not, O Iaakob, my seruant, and thou righteous [b] whom I haue chosen.

3 For I will powre water vpon the [c] thirstie, and floods vpon the drie ground: I will powre my Spirit vpon thy seede, and my blessing vpon thy buds.

4 And they [d] shall growe as among the grasse, and as the willowes by the riuers of waters.

5 One shall say, I am the Lords: another [e] shall bee called by the name of Iaakob: and another shall subscribe with his hand vnto the Lord, and name himselfe by the name of Israel.

6 Thus saith the Lord the King of Israel and his redeemer, the Lord of hostes, [f] I am the first, and I am the last, and without mee is there no God.

7 And who is like me, that shall [g] call and shall declare it, and set [h] it in order before mee, since I appointed the [i] ancient people? and what is at hand, and what things are to come? let [k] them shew vnto them.

8 Feare ye not, neither bee afraide: haue not I told thee of olde, and haue declared it? [l] you are euen my witnesses, whether there be a God beside me, and that there is no God that I know not.

9 All they that make an image, are vanitie, and [m] their delectable things shal nothing profite: and they are their owne witnesses, [n] that they see not nor know: therefore they shall bee confounded.

10 Who hath made [o] a god, or molten an image, that is [p] profitable for nothing?

11 Behold, all that are of the [q] fellowship thereof, shall be confounded: for the workmen themselues are men: let them all be gathered together, and [r] stand vp, yet they shall feare, and be confounded together.

12 The smith taketh an instrument, and worketh in the coles, & fashioneth it with hammers, and worketh it with the strength of his armes: yea, he is an [s] hungred, & his strength faileth: he drinketh no water, and is faint.

13 The carpenter stretcheth out a line: he fashioneth it with a red thread, he planeth it, and he purtreith it with the compasse, and maketh it after the figure of a man, and according to the beautie of a man that it may remaine in [t] an house.

14 He will hewe him downe Cedars, and take the pine tree and the oke, and taketh courage among the trees of the forest: he planteth a firre tree, and the raine doth nourish it.

15 And man burneth thereof: for hee will take thereof, and [u] warme himselfe: hee also kindleth it and baketh bread, yet hee maketh a god, and worshippeth it: he maketh it an idole and boweth vnto it.

16 He burneth the halfe therof euen in the fire, and vpon the halfe therof he [x] eateth flesh: he rosteth the roste and is satisfied: also he warmeth himselfe, and saith, Aha, I am warme, I haue beene at the fire.

17 And the residue therof he maketh a god, euen his idole: he boweth vnto it, and worshippeth & prayeth vnto it, and saith, Deliuer me: for thou art my God.

18 They haue not knowen, nor vnderstand: [y] for God hath shut their eyes that they cannot see, and their hearts, that they cannot vnderstand.

19 And none † considereth in his heart, neither is there knowledge nor vnderstanding to say, I haue burnt halfe of it, euen in the fire, and haue baked bread also vpon the coles ther.

a He created and chose thee from the beginning of his owne mercie, and before thou couldest merite anie thing.
b Whom God accepteth as righteous: or which hadest occasion thereunto because of the Law, and of thine holy vocation.
c Because man of himselfe is as the drie and barren land, hee promiseth to moysten him with the waters of his holy Spirit, Ioel. 2. 28. Iohn 7. 38. acts 2. 17.
d That is, thy children and posteritie shall increase wonderfully after their deliuerance from Babylon.
e By this diuersitie of speach hee meaneth one thing, that is, that the people shalbe holy and receiue the true religion of God, as Psal. 87. 5.
f I am alwaies like my selfe, that is, most iust toward my Church, and most able to maintaine it, as chap. 41. 4. and 48. 12. reuel. 1. 17 and 22. 13.
g And appoint them that shall deliuer the Church.
h That is, declare vnto me how I ought to proceede herein.
i God calleth the Israelites ancient, because hee preferred them to all other in his eternall election.
k Meaning, their idoles.
l Read chap. 43. 10.
m Whatsoeuer they bestow vpon their idoles to make them to seeme glorious.
n That is, the idolaters seeing their idols blind, must needes be witnesses of their owne blindnesse, and feeling that they are not able to helpe them, must confesse that they haue no power.
o Meaning, that whatsoeuer is made by the hand of man, if it be esteemed as god, is most detestable.
p Whereby appeareth their blasphemie, which call images the bookes of the laitie, seeing that they are not onely here called vnprofitable, but chap. 41. 24. abominable and Ieremie calleth them the worke of errours, Ier. 10. 15. Habakkuk, a lying teacher, 2. 18.
q That is, which by any way consent either to the making or worshipping.
r Signifying, that the multitude shall not then saue the idolaters, when God will take vengeance, although they excuse themselues thereby among men.
s He describeth the raging affection of the idolaters, which forget their owne necessities to set forth their deuotion toward their idoles.
t To place it in some Temple.
u He letteth forth the obstinacie and malice of the idolaters, which though they see by daily experience that their idoles are not better then the rest of the matter wherof they are made, yet they refuse the one part and make a god of the other, as the Papists make their cake god, and the rest of their idoles.
x That is, hee either maketh a table or trenchers.
y The Prophet giueth here an answere to all those that wonder how it is possible that any should be so blinde to commit such abomination, saying, that God hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their hearts.
† Hebr. turneth.

of: I haue rosted flesh, and eaten it, and shall I make the residue thereof an abomination? shall I bow to the stocke of a tree?

20 Hee feedeth [z] of ashes: a seduced heart hath deceiued him, that hee cannot deliuer his soule, nor say, Is there not a lie in my right hand?

21 [a] Remember these (O Iaakob & Israel) for thou art my seruant: I haue formed thee: thou art my seruant: O Israel forget me not.

22 I haue put away thy transgressions like a cloud, and thy sinnes, as a mist: turne vnto me, for I haue redeemed thee.

23 [b] Reioyce, ye heauens, for the Lord hath done it: shoute, ye lower parts of ỹ earth: breake forth into praises, ye mountaines, O forest and euery tree therein: for the Lord hath redeemed Iaakob and will be glorified in Israel.

24 Thus saith the Lord thy redeemer & hee that formed thee from the wombe, I am the Lord that made all things, that spread out the heauens alone, and stretched out the earth by my selfe.

25 I destroy the [c] tokens of the southsayers, and make them that coniecture, fooles, and turne the wise men backward, and make their knowledge foolishnesse.

26 ¶ He confirmeth the word of his [d] seruant & performeth the counsell of his messengers, saying to Ierusalem, Thou shalt bee inhabited: and to the cities of Iudah, Yee shalbe built vp, and I will repaire the decayed places thereof.

27 Hee saith to the [e] deepe, Be drie and I will drie vp the floods.

28 He saith to [f] Cyrus, Thou art my shepheard: and he shall perfourme all my desire, saying also to Ierusalem, Thou shalt bee built: and to the Temple, Thy foundation shall bee surely laide.

4 For Iaakob my seruants [f] sake, & Israel mine elect, I wil euen call thee by thy name and name thee, though thou hast not knowen mee.

5 I am the Lord and there is none other: there is no God beside mee: I [g] girded thee though thou hast not knowen me.

6 That they may know from the rising of the sunne, and from the West, that there is none besides me: I am the Lord, and there is none other.

7 I forme the [h] light and create darkenes: I make peace and create euill: I the Lord doe all these things.

8 Ye heauens, send the dewe from aboue, and let the clouds drop downe [i] righteousnes: let the earth open, and let saluation and iustice grow forth: let it bring them forth together: I the Lord haue [k] created him.

9 [l] Woe be vnto him that striueth with his maker, the potsherd with the potsherds of the earth: shall the clay say to him that fashioneth it, What makest thou? or thy worke, [m] It hath none hands?

10 Woe vnto him that saith to his father, What hast thou begotten? or to his mother, What hast thou brought forth?

11 Thus saith the Lord, the holy one of Israel, & his maker, Aske me [n] of things to come concerning my sons, & concerning the workes of mine hands: commaund you me.

12 I haue made the earth, and created man vpon it: I whose hands haue spread out the heauens, I haue euen commaunded all their [o] armie.

13 I haue raised [p] him vp in righteousnes, and I wil direct al his wayes: he shal build my citie, and he shall let goe my captiues, not for [q] price nor reward, saith the Lord of hostes.

14 Thus saith the Lord, the labour of [r] Egypt, and the marchandise of Ethiopia, and of the Sabeans, men of stature shall come vnto thee, and they shall be [s] thine: they shall follow thee, and shall goe in chaines: they shall fall downe before thee, and make supplication vnto thee, saying, Surely God is in thee, and there is none other God besides.

15 Verily thou, O God, [t] hidest thy selfe, O God, the Sauiour of Israel.

16 All they shall be ashamed, and also confounded: they shall goe to confusion together, that are the makers of images.

17 But Israel shall bee saued in the Lord, with an euerlasting saluation: ye shall not bee ashamed nor confounded world without end.

18 For thus saith the Lord (that created z He is abused as one that would eate ashes, thinking to satisfie his hunger.

a Shewing that mans heart is most inclined to idolatrie, & therefore he warneth his people by these examples, that they should not cleaue to any, but to the liuing God, when they should be among the idolaters.
b He sheweth that the worke of the Lord toward his people shall be so great, that the insensible creatures shalbe mooued therewith.
c Hee armeth them against the southsayers of Babylon, which would haue borne them in hand, that they knew by the starres that God would not deliuer them, and that Babylon should stand.
d Of Isaiah and the rest of his Prophets, which did assure the Church of Gods fauour and deliuerance.
e He sheweth that Gods worke should be no lesse notable in their deliuerance, then when he brought them out of Egypt through the sea.
f To assure them of their deliuerance, he nameth the person by whom it should bee more then an hundreth yeere before he was borne.

CHAP. XLV.

1 The deliuerance of the people by Cyrus. 9 God is iust in all his workes. 20 The calling of the Gentiles.

a To assure the Iewes of their deliuerance against the great tentations that they should abide, he nameth the person and the meanes.
b Because Cyrus should execute the office of a deliuerer, God called him his anointed for a time, but after another sort then he called Dauid.
c To guide him in ỹ deliuerance of my people.

THus saith the Lord vnto [a] Cyrus his [b] anointed, whose right hand I haue holden to [c] subdue nations before him: therefore wil I weaken the loynes of Kings, & open ỹ doores before him, and the gates shall not be shut.

2 I wil goe before thee & make the [d] crooked streight: I will breake the brasen doores, and burst the yron barres.

3 And I will giue thee the treasures of darknes, & the things hid in secret places, that thou maiest [e] know that I am the Lord which call thee by thy name, euen the God of Israel.

d I will take away al impediments & lets.
e Not that Cyrus did know God to worship him aright, but hee had a certaine particular knowledge, as prophane men haue of his power, and so was compelled to deliuer Gods people.

f Not for any thing that is in thee, or for thy worthinesse.
g I haue giuen thee strength, power & authoritie.
h I send peace and warre, prosperitie & aduersitie, as Amos 3.6.
i He comforteth the Iewes, as if he would say, Though when ye looke to the heauens and earth for succor, ye see nothing now but signes of Gods wrath, yet I will cause them to bring forth most certaine tokens of your deliuerance, and of the performance of my promise, which is meant by righteousnes.
k I haue appointed Cyrus to this vse and purpose.
l Hereby hee bridleth their impatiencie, which in aduersitie and trouble murmure against God, and will not tary his pleasure: willing that man should match with his like and not contend against God.
m That is, it is not perfitly made.
n In stead of murmuring, humble your selues, and aske what ye will for the consolation of my children, and you shall be sure of it, as ye are of these things which are at your commandement. Some reade it with an interrogation and make it the application of the similitude.
o That is, the starres.
p To wit, Cyrus, that I may shew by him the faithfulnesse of my promise in deliuering my people.
q Meaning, freely and without ransome or any grieuous condition.
r These people were tributaries to the Persians, and so king Artashashte gaue this money toward the building of the Temple, Ezr. 7. 21.
s Whereas before they were thine enemies, they shall now honour thee, and thou shalt rule them: which was accomplished in the time of Christ.
t Hereby he exhorteth the Iewes to patience, though their deliuerance be deferred for a time: shewing that they should not repent their long patience, but the wicked and idolaters shalbe destroyed.

heauen, heauen, God himselfe, that formed the earth, and made it: he that prepareth it he created it not in vaine: he formed it to be [u] inhabited) I am the Lord, and there is none other.

19 I haue not spoken in secret, neither [x] in a place of darknesse in the earth: I said not in vaine vnto the seed of Iaakob, Seeke you me: I the Lord doe speake righteousnesse, and declare righteous things.

20 Assemble your selues, and come drawe neere together, [y] yee abiect of the gentiles: they haue no knowledge, that set vp the wood of their idole, and pray vnto a god that cannot saue them.

21 Tell yee and bring them, and let them take counsell together, who hath declared this from the beginning? or hath told it of olde? Haue not I the Lord? and there is none other God beside mee, a iust God, and a Sauiour: there is none beside me.

22 Looke vnto me, and yee shall be saued: all [z] the endes of the earth shallbe saued: for I am God: and there is none other.

23 I haue sworne by my selfe: the word is gone out of my mouth in [a] righteousnesse, and shall not returne, That euery [b] knee shall bow vnto me, & euery tongue shall sweare by me.

24 Surely [c] he shal say, In the Lord haue I righteousnesse & strength: hee shall come vnto him, and al that [d] prouoke him, shalbe ashamed.

25 The whole seed of Israel shall bee iustified, and glory in the Lord.

CHAP. XLVI.

1 The destruction of Babylon and of their idoles 3 He calleth the Iewes to the consideration of his workes.

BEl is bowed downe: [a] Nebo is fallen: their idoles were vpon the [b] beastes, and vpon the cattell: they which did beare you, were laden with a wearie burden.

2 [c] They are bowed downe, and fallen together: for they could not rid them of the burden, and their [d] soule is gone into captiuitie.

3 Heare ye me, O house of Iaakob, and al that remaine of the house of Israel, which are [e] borne of mee from the wombe, and brought vp of me from the birth.

4 Therefore vnto olde age, I the same, euen I will beare you vntill the hoare haires: I haue made you: I will also beare you, and I will carry you, [f] and I will deliuer you.

5 ¶ To whom will yee make me like or make me equall, or compare me, that I should be like him?

6 They draw gold out of the bagge, and weigh siluer in the ballance, and hire a goldesmith to make a god of it, and they bow down, and worship it.

7 They beare it vpon the shoulders: they carry him and set him in his place: so doeth hee stand, and can not remoue from his place. Though one cry vnto him, yet can hee not answere, nor deliuer him out of his tribulation.

8 Remember this, and be ashamed: bring it againe [h] to minde, O you transgressers.

9 Remember the former things of old: for I am God, & there is none other God, and there is nothing like me,

10 Which declare the last thing from the beginning: and from of olde, the things that were not doone, saying, My counsel shal stand, and I will doe whatsoeuer I will.

11 I call a [i] birde from the East, and the man of my [k] counsel from farre: as I haue spoken, so wil I bring it to passe: I haue purposed it, and I will doe it.

12 Heare mee, ye stubburne hearted, that are farre from [l] iustice.

13 I bring [m] neere my iustice: it shal not be far off, & my saluation shal not tary: for I will giue saluatiõ in Zion, & my glory vnto Israel.

CHAP. XLVII.

The destruction of Babylon and the causes wherefore.

COme down and sit in the dust: O [a] virgin, daughter Babel, sit on the ground: there is no [b] throne, O daughter of ỹ Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called tender & delicate.

2 Take the mill stones, & [c] grinde meale: loose thy lockes: [d] make bare the feete: vncouer the legge, and passe through the floods.

3 Thy filthinesse shall be discouered, and thy shame shalbe seene: I wil take vengeance, and I will not meete thee as a [e] man.

4 [f] Our redeemer, the Lord of hosts is his Name, the holy one of Israel.

5 [g] Sit stil, and get thee into darknesse, O daughter of the Caldeans: for thou shalt no more be called, The ladie of kingdomes.

6 I was wroth with my people: I haue polluted mine inheritance, and giuen them into thine hand: thou didst shew them no [h] mercy, but thou diddest lay thy very heauie yoke vpon the ancient.

7 And thou saydest, I shall be a lady for euer, so that thou diddest not set thy minde to these things, neither diddest thou remember the latter end thereof.

8 Therefore now heare, thou that art giuen to pleasures, and dwellest carelesse, Shee saith in her heart, I am and none els: I shall not sit as a widow, neither shall know the losse of children.

9 But these two things shall come to thee suddenly on one day, the losse of children and widowhoode: they shall come vpon thee in their [i] perfection, for the multitude of thy diui-x As do the false gods, which giue vncertaine answeres.

y Al ye idolaters which though you seem to haue neuer so much worldly dignitie, yet in Gods sight you are vile and abiect.
z He calleth the idolaters to repentance, willing them to looke vnto him with the eye of faith.
a That is, that ỹ thing which I haue promised, shalbe faithfully performed.
b The knowledge of God and the true worshipping shall be through all the world, Rom. 14. 11. phil. 2. 10. wherby he signifieth that wee must not onely serue God in heart, but declare the same also by outward profession.
c Meaning, the faithful shal feele and confesse this.
d Al the contemners of God.

a These were the chiefe idoles of Babylon.
b Because they were of gold and siluer, the Medes and Persians caried them away.
c The beastes that caried the idoles fell downe vnder their burden.
d He vnrideth the idoles, which had neither soule nor sense.
e He sheweth the difference betweene the idoles & the true God: for they must be caried of others, but God himselfe carieth his, as Deut. 32. 11.
f Seeing I haue begotten you, I will nourish and preserue you for euer.
g The people of God, seeing their owne calamitie, and the flourishing estate of the Babylonians, should be tempted to thinke that their God was not so mightie as the idoles of their enemies: therefore he describeth the originall of all the idoles, to make them to bee abhorred of all men: shewing that the most that can bee spoken in their commendation, is but to prooue them vile, Baruc. 6. 25.

h Become wise, meaning, that all idolaters are without wit or sense, like madde men.
i That is, Cyrus, which shall come as swift as a bird, and fight against Babylon. k Him by whom I haue appointed to execute that, which I haue determined.

m He sheweth that mans incredulitie cannot abolish the promise of God, Rom. 3. 3.

a Which hast liued in wealth and wantonnes, and hast not yet bene ouercome by any enemie.
b Thy gouernement shall be taken from thee.
c Thou shalt be brought to most vile seruitude: for to turne the mill was the office of slaues.
d The things wherein she setteth her greatest pride, shalbe made vile, euen from the head to the foote.
e I will vse no humanitie nor pitie toward thee.
f The Israelites shall confesse, that the Lord doth this for his churches sake.
g For very shame and hide thy selfe.
h They abused Gods iudgements, thinking that hee punished the Israelites, because he would vtterly cast them off, and therefore in stead of pitying their miserie, thou didst increase it.
i So that the punishment shall be so great as is possible to be imagined.

nations, and for the great abundance of thine inchanters.

10 For thou hast trusted in thy wickednes: thou hast said, None seeth me. Thy [k] wisdome and thy knowledge, they haue caused thee to rebell, and thou hast said in thine heart, I am, and none els.

11 Therefore shall euill come vpon thee, and thou shalt not know the morning thereof: destruction shall fall vpon thee, which thou shalt not be able to put away: destruction shall come vpon thee suddenly, or thou be aware.

12 Stand now among thine inchanters, and in the multitude of thy southsayers (with whome thou hast [l] wearied thy selfe from thy youth) if so be thou mayest haue profite, or if so be thou mayest haue strength.

13 Thou art wearied in the multitud of thy counsels: let now the astrologers, the starre gasers, and prognosticators stand vp, & saue thee from these things, that shall come vpon thee.

14 Behold, they shall be as stubble: the fire shall burne them: they shall not deliuer their own liues frō ỹ power of the flame: there shall be no coles [m] to warme at, nor light to sit by.

15 Thus shall they serue thee, with whom thou hast wearied thee, euen thy merchants from thy youth: euery one shall wander to his owne [n] quarter: none shall saue thee.

CHAP. XLVIII.

1 The hypocrisie of the Iewes is reproued. 11 The Lord alone will be worshipped. 20 Of their deliuerance out of Babylon.

HEare ye this, O house of Iaakob, which are [a] called by the name of Israel, and are come out of [b] the waters of Iudah: which sweare by the name of the Lorde, and make mention of the God of Israel, but not in truth, nor in righteousnesse.

2 For they are called of the holy citie, and stay themselues, [c] vpon the God of Israel, whose Name is the Lord of hosts.

3 I haue declared the former things of olde, and they went out of my mouth, and I shewed [d] them: I did them suddenly, and they came to passe.

4 Because I knew, that [e] thou art obstinate, and thy necke is an yron sinew, and thy brow brasse,

5 Therefore I haue declared it to thee of old: before it came to passe, I shewed [f] it thee, lest thou shouldest say, Mine idole hath done them, and my carued image, and my molten image hath commanded them.

6 Thou hast heard, behold all this, and wil not ye [g] declare it? I haue shewed thee newe things, euen now, and hid things, which thou knewest not.

7 They are created now, and not of olde, and euen before this thou heardest them not, lest thou shouldest say, Behold, I [h] knewe them.

8 Yet thou heardest them not, neither diddest know them, neither yet was thine eare opened of olde: for I knew that thou wouldest grieuously transgresse: therefore haue I called thee a transgressour from the [i] wombe.

9 For my Names sake wil I deferre my wrath, and for my praise wil I refraine it from thee, [k] that I cut thee not off.

10 Behold, I haue fined thee, but [l] not as siluer: I haue [m] chosen thee in the fornace of affliction.

11 For mine owne sake, for mine owne sake will I doe it: for how should my Name [n] be polluted? o surely I will not giue my glory vnto another.

12 Heare mee, O Iaakob and Israel, my called, [p] I am, I am the first, and I am the last.

13 Surely mine hand hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spanned the heauens: when I call them, [q] they stand vp together.

13 All you, assemble your selues, and heare: which among them hath declared these things? the Lord hath loued [r] him: he will doe his will in Babel, and his arme shal be against the Caldeans.

15 I, euen I haue spoken it, and I haue called him, I haue brought him, and his way shall prosper.

16 Come neere vnto me: heare ye this: I haue not spoken it in secrete from the [s] beginning: for the time that the thing was, I was there, and now the Lord God and his Spirite hath [t] sent me.

17 Thus saith the Lord thy redeemer, the Holy one of Israel, Iam the Lorde thy God, which teach thee [u] to profite, and leade thee by the way that thou shouldest goe.

18 Oh that thou haddest harkened to my commandements! then had thy prosperitie bene as the flood, and thy righteousnes as the waues of the sea.

19 Thy seede also had beene as the sande, and the fruite of thy body like the grauel thereof: his [x] name should not haue bene cut off nor destroyed before me.

20 [y] Go ye out of Babel: flee yee from the Chaldeans, with a voice of ioy: tel and declare this: shewe it foorth to the ende of the earth: say yee, The Lord hath redeemed his seruant Iaakob.

21 And they [z] were not thirstie: he led them through the wildernesse: he caused the waters to flowe out of the rocke for them: for hee claue the rocke, and the water gushed out.

22 There is no [a] peace, saith the Lord, vnto the wicked.

k Thou diddest thinke that thine owne wisedome & policie would haue saued thee.

l He derideth their vaine confidence, that put their trust in any thing, but in God, condemning also such vaine sciences, which serue to no vse, but to deceiue the people, and to bring them from depending onely on God.

m They shall vtterly perish, and no part of them remaine.

n They shall flee euery one to that place, which he thought by his speculations to be most sure: but that shall deceiue them.

a He detecteth their hypocrisie which vaunted themselues to be Israelites, and were not so in deed.

b Meaning, the fountaine and stocke.

c They make a shew, as though they would haue none other God.

d He sheweth that they could not accuse him in any thing, for as much as he had performed whatsoeuer he had promised.

e I haue done for thee more then I promised, that thy stubburnesse and impudencie might haue bene ouercome.

f How thou shouldest be deliuered out of Babylon.

g Will ye not acknowledge this my benefite and declare it vnto others.

h Shewing the mans arrogancy is the cause why God doth not declare all things at once, lest they should attribute this knowledge to their owne wisedome.

i From the time that I brought thee out of Egypt: for that deliuerance was as the birth of the Church.

k As it was my free mercy that I did chuse thee: so is it my free mercie that must saue thee.

l For I had respect to thy weakenes and infirmitie: for in siluer there is some purenesse, but in vs there is nothing but drosse.

m I tooke thee out of ỹ fornace where thou shouldest haue bene consumed.

n God loueth the saluation of his with his own honour: so that they can not perish, but his glory should be diminished, as Deut. 32. 27.

o Read Ch. 42. 8

p Read Ch. 41. 4

q To obey me, and to do whatsoeuer I command them.

r Meaning, Cyrus, whom hee had chosen to destroy Babylon.

s Since the time that I declared my selfe to your fathers.

t Thus the prophet speaketh by himselfe, and to assure them of these things.

u What things shall doe thee good.

x That is, the prosperous estate of Israel.

y After that he had forewarned them of their captiuitie, and of the cause thereof, he sheweth them the great ioy that shal come of their deliuerance.

z He sheweth that it shall be as easie to deliuer them, as hee did their fathers out of Egypt.

a Thus he speaketh that the wicked hypocrits should not abuse Gods promise, in whom was neither faith nor repentance, as Chap. 57. 21.

CHAP. XLIX.

1 The Lord exhorteth all nations to beleue his promises. 6 Christ is the saluation of all that beleeue, and will deliuer them from the tyrannie of their enemies.

HEare yee me, O yles, and hearken, yee people from farre. The Lord hath called [a]me from [b]the wombe, and made mention of my name from my mothers belly.

2 And he hath made my mouth like a sharp [c]sword: vnder the shadow of his hand hath he [d]hid me, and made me a chosen shaft, and hid me in his quiuer,

3 And said vnto me, Thou art my seruant, [e]Israel, for I will be glorious in thee.

4 And I said, I haue [f]laboured in vaine: I haue spent my strength in vaine and for nothing: but my iudgement is with the Lord, and my worke with my God.

5 And now saith the Lord, that formed me from the wombe to be his seruant, that I may bring Iaakob againe to him (though Israel be not gathered, [g]yet shall I bee glorious in the eyes of the Lord: and my God shall bee my strength.)

6 And he said, It is a small thing that thou shouldest be my seruant, to raise vp the tribes of Iaakob, and to restore the desolations of Israel: I will also giue [h]thee for a light of the Gentiles, that thou maiest be my saluation vnto the end of the world.

7 Thus saith the Lord the redemer of Israel, and his Holy one, to him that is despised in soule, to a nation that is abhorred, to a [i]seruant of rulers, Kings shall see, and [k]arise, and princes shall worship, because of the Lord, that is faithfull: and the Holy one of Israel, which hath chosen thee.

8 Thus saith the Lord, [l]In an acceptable time haue I heard thee, and in a day of saluation haue I helped thee: and I will preserue thee, and will giue [m]thee for a couenant of the people, that thou maiest raise vp the [n]earth, and obtaine the inheritance of the desolate heritages:

9 That thou maiest say to the [o]prisoners, Goe foorth: and to them that are in darkenesse, Shewe your selues: they shall feede in the wayes, and their [p]pastures shall bee in all the tops of the hils.

10 Thou shalt not be hungry, neither shall they bee thirstie, neither shall the heate smite them, nor the sunne: for he that hath compassion [q]on them, shall leade them: euen to the springs of waters shal he driue them.

11 And I will make all my mountaines, as a way, and my pathes shall be exalted.

12 Behold, these shal come from farre: and loe, these from the North and from the West, and these from the land of [r]Sinim.

13 Reioyce, O heauens, and be ioyful, O earth: breake forth into praise, O mountaines: for God hath comforted his people, and will haue mercie vpon his afflicted.

14 But Zion said, The Lord hath [s]forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me.

15 Can a woman forget her child, and not haue compassion on the sonne of her wombe? though they should forget, yet will I not forget thee,

16 Behold, I haue grauen thee vpon the palme of mine [u]hands: thy [x]walls are euer in my sight.

17 Thy builders make [y]haste: thy destroyers and they that made thee waste, are departed from thee.

18 Lift vp thine eyes round about and behold: all these gather themselues together, and come to thee: as I liue, saith the Lord, thou shalt surely [z]put them all vpon thee as a garment, and gird thy selfe with them like a bride.

19 For thy desolations, and thy waste places, and thy land destroyed, shall surely be now narow for them that shall dwell in it, and they that did deuoure thee, shalbe farre away.

20 The children of thy barrennesse shal say againe in thine eares, The place is straite for me: giue place to me that I may dwell.

21 Then shalt thou say in thine heart, Who hath begotten mee these, seeing I am barren, and desolate, a captiue and a wanderer to and fro? and who hath nourished them? behold, I was left alone: whence are these?

22 Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will lift vp mine hand to the [a]Gentiles, and set vp my standart to the people, and they shall bring thy sons in their armes: and thy daughters shalbe caried vpon their shoulders.

23 And Kings [b]shall be thy nourcing fathers, and Queenes shall be thy nources: they shall worship thee with their faces toward the earth, and licke vp the [c]dust of thy feete: and thou shalt know that I am the Lord: for they shall not be ashamed that wait for me.

24 Shall the praye bee [d]taken from the mightie? or the iust captiuitie deliuered?

25 But thus saith the Lord, [e]euen the captiuitie of the mightie shall bee taken away: and the pray of the tyrant shalbe deliuered: for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, and I will saue thy children, 26 And will feede them that spoile thee, with [f]their owne flesh, and they shall be drunken with their owne blood, as with sweete wine: and all flesh shall know that I the Lord am thy sauiour and thy redeemer, the mightie one of Iaakob.

a This is spoken in the person of Christ to assure the faithfull, that these promises should come to passe: for they were all made in him, and in him should be performed.

b This is meant of the time that Christ should bee manifested to the world, as Pa. 2. 7 c By the sword and shaft, he signifieth the vertue and efficacie of Christs doctrine.

d God hath taken me to his protection and defence: this chiefly is meant of Christ, and may also be applied to the ministers of his word.

e By Israel is meant Christ, & all the body of the faithfull, as the members and their head.

f Thus Christ in his members complaineth that his labour, and preaching take none effect, yet he is contented that his doings are approued of God.

g Though the Iewes refuse my doctrine, yet God will approoue my ministerie.

h To declare my Gospell to the Gentiles, Chap. 42. 6. Actes 13. 47. Luk. 2. 32.

i Meaning, the Iewes whom tyrants kepe in bondage.

k The benefit of their deliuerance shalbe so great, that great and small shall acknowledge it, and reuerence God for it.

l Thus he speaketh of his Church, when he would shew his mercie toward it, 2. Cor. 6. 2.

m Meaning, Christ alone.

n Signifying, that before Christ renew the earth by his word, there is nothing but confusion and disorder.

o To them that are in the prison of sin and death.

p Being in Christes protection they shall be safe against all dangers, and free from the feare of the enemies.

q Meaning, that there should bee nothing in their way from Babylon, that should hinder or hurt them: but this is accomplished spiritually.

r Meaning, the South countrey, so that Christ shall deliuer his from al the parts of the world.

s Reade Chap. 44. 23.

t He obiecteth what the faithfull might say for their long affliction and answereth thereunto to comfort them, with a most proper similitude, and full of consolation.

u Because I wou'd not forget thee.

x Meaning, the good order of policie and discipline.

y I haue a continuall care to build thee vp againe, and to destroy thine enemies.

z Hee sheweth what are the ornaments of the Church: to haue many children, which are assembled by the word of God, & gouerned by his spirit.

a He sheweth that Christ will not onely gather this great number of the Iewes, but also of the Gentiles.

b Meaning, that Kings shalbe conuerted to the Gospel, and bestowe their power and authoritie for the preseruation of the Church.

c Being ioyned with the Church they shall humble themselues to Christ their head, and giue him all honour.

d He maketh this as an obiection, as though the Caldeans were strong, & had them in full possession.

e This is the answere to the obiection, that none is stronger then the Lord, neither hath he more iust title vnto them.

f I will cause them to destroy one another. Iudg. 7. 22. 2 Chro. 20. 23. Chap. 19. 2.

CHAP. L.

1 The Iewes forsaken for a time. 2 Yet the power of God is not diminished. 5 Christes obedience and victorie.

THus saith the Lord, Where is that [a] bill of your mothers diuorcement, [b] whom I haue cast off? or who is the creditor [c] to whom I sould you? Behold, for your iniquities are ye sold, & because of your transgressions is your mother forsaken.

2 Wherefore [d] came I, and there was no man? I called, and none answered: is mine hand so [e] shortned, that it cannot helpe? or haue I no power to deliuer? Behold, at my rebuke I drie vp the sea: I make the floods desert: their fish rotteth for want of water, and dieth for thirst.

3 I cloth the heauens with darknesse, and make a [f] sacke their couering.

4 The Lord God hath giuen [g] me a tongue of the learned, that I should know to minister a word in time to him that is [h] wearie: he will raise mee vp in the morning: in the morning he will waken mine eare to heare, [i] as the learned.

5 The Lord God hath opened mine eare and I was not rebellious, neither turned I backe.

6 I gaue my backe vnto the [k] smiters, and my cheekes to the nippers: I hid not my face from shame and spitting.

7 For the Lord God will helpe me: therefore shall I not be confounded: therefore haue I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed.

8 He is neere that iustifieth mee: who will contend with me? Let vs stand together: who is mine aduersarie? let him come neere to me.

9 Behold, the Lord God will helpe mee: who is hee that can condemne mee? loe, they shall waxe old as a garment: the moth shal eat them vp.

10 [l] Who is among you that feareth the Lord? let him heare the voice of his seruant: he that walketh in darkenesse, and hath no light, let him trust in the Name of the Lord, and stay vpon his God.

11 Behold, all you kindle [m] a fire, and are compassed about with sparkes: walke in the light of your fire, and in the sparkes that yee haue kindled. This shal ye haue of mine hand: ye shall lie downe in sorrow.

a Meaning, that he had not forsaken her, but through her owne occasion, as Hos. 2. 2.
b Which should declare that I haue cut her off: meaning, that they could shew none.
c Signifying, that he sold them not for any debt or powertie, but that they sold themselues to sinne to buy their owne lusts and pleasures.
d He came by his prophets and ministers, but they would not beleeue their doctrine and conuert.
e Am I not able to helpe you as I haue holpen your fathers of olde, when I dried vp the red sea, and killed the fish in the riuers, and also afterward in Egypt?
f As I did in Egypt in token of my displeasure, Exod. 10. 21.
g The prophet doth represent here the person and charge of them that are lawfully called to the ministerie of Gods word.
h To him that is oppressed by affliction and miserie.
i As they that are taught and made meete by him.
k I did not withdraw from God for any persecution or calamitie.
l Whereby he sheweth that the true ministers of God can looke for none other recompence of the wicked but after this sort, and also what is their comfort.
m Shewing that it is a rare thing that any should obey aright gods true ministers, though they labour to bring them from hell to heauen.

a He comforteth the Church, that they should not be discouraged for their small number.
b That is, to Abraham, of whom ye were begotten, as to Sarah, of whom ye were borne.
c As plentifull as Paradise, Gen. 2. 8.
d I will rule, and gouerne my Church by my word, and doctrine.
e The time that I will accomplish my promise.
f My power, and strength.
g He forewarneth them of the horrible changes and mutations of all things, and how he will preserue his Church in the midst of all these dangers.
h He putteth them in remembrance of his great benefits for their deliuerance out of Egypt, that thereby they might learne to trust in him constantly.
i Meaning, Egypt. Psal. 87. 4. k To wit, Pharaoh, Ezek. 29. 3
l From Babylon.

HEare me, yee [a] that follow after righteousnesse, and yee that seeke the Lord: looke vnto the [b] rocke, whence ye are hewen, and to the hole of the pit, whence yee are digged.

2 Consider Abraham your father, and Sarah that bare you: for I called him alone, and blessed him, and increased him.

3 Surely the Lord shall comfort Zion: he shall comfort all her desolations, and hee shall make her desert [c] like Eden, and her wildernesse like the garden of the Lord: ioy and gladnesse shalbe found therein: praise, and the voice of singing.

4 Hearken yee vnto me, my people, & giue eare vnto me, O my people: for a [d] Law shall proceede from me, and I will bring forth my iudgement for the light of the people.

5 My [e] righteousnesse is neere: my saluation goeth forth, and mine [f] armes shall iudge the people: the Iles shal wait for me, and shall trust vnto mine arme.

6 Lift vp your eyes to the heauens, and looke vpon the earth beneath: for the [g] heauens shall vanish away like smoke, & the earth shall waxe olde like a garment, and they that dwell therein, shall perish in like maner, but my saluation shall be for euer, and my righteousnesse shall not be abolished.

7 Hearken vnto me, ye that know righteousnes, the people in whose heart is my Law. Feare yee not the reproch of men, neither bee ye afraid of their rebukes.

8 For the moth shall eate them vp like a garment, and the worme shall eate them like woll: but my righteousnesse shallbe for euer, and my saluation from generation to generation.

9 Rise vp, rise vp, and put on strength, O arme of the Lord: rise vp as [h] in the olde time in the generations of the world. Art not thou the same, that hath cut [i] Rahab, and wounded the [k] dragon.

10 Art not thou the same, which hath dried the sea, euen the waters of the great deepe, making the depth of the Sea a way for the redeemed to passe ouer?

11 Therefore the reuecmed of the Lord shall [l] return, and come with ioy vnto Zion, and euerlasting ioy shall be vpon their head: they shall obtaine ioy, and gladnesse: and sorow and mourning shall flee away.

12 I, euen I am hee, that comfort you. Who art thou, that thou shouldest feare a mortall man, and the sonne of man, which shall be made as grasse?

13 And forgettest the Lord thy maker, that hath spread vp the heauens, and laid the foundations of the earth? and hast feared continually al the day, because of the rage of the oppressour, m You haue refused the light and consolation by your owne deuises, and haue refused the light and consolation which God hath offered: therefore yee shall remaine in sorrow, and not bee comforted.

ſour, which is ready to deſtroy? Where is now the rage of the oppreſſour?

14 The captiue [m] haſteneth to bee looſed, and that he ſhould not die in the pit, nor that his breade ſhould faile.

15 And I am the Lord thy God that diuided the ſea, when his waues roared: the Lord of hoſts is his Name.

16 And I haue put my wordes in thy [n] mouth, and haue defended thee in the ſhadow of mine hand, that I may plant the [o] heauens, and lay the foundation of the earth, and ſay vnto Zion, Thou art my people.

17 Awake, awake, and ſtand vp, O Ieruſalem, which haſt dronke at the hand of the Lord the [p] cup of his wrath: thou haſt dronken the dregs of the cup of trembling, and wrung them out.

18 There is none to guide her among all the ſons, whom ſhe hath brought forth: there is none that taketh her by the hand of all the ſonnes that ſhe hath brought vp.

19 Theſe two [q] things are come vnto thee: who will lament thee? deſolation and deſtruction, and famine, and the ſword: by whom ſhal I comfort thee?

20 Thy ſonnes haue fainted, and lie at the head of all the ſtreets as a wilde bull in a net, and are full of the wrath of the Lord, and rebuke of thy God.

21 Therefore heare now this, thou miſerable and dronken, but [r] not with wine.

22 Thus ſayeth thy Lorde God, euen God that pleadeth the cauſe of his people, Beholde, I haue taken out of thine hand the cuppe of trembling, euen the dregges of the cuppe of my wrath: thou ſhalt drinke it no more.

23 But I will put it into their hand that ſpoile thee: which haue ſaid to thy ſoule, Bow downe, that we may goe ouer, and thou haſt laid thy body as the ground, and as the ſtreete to them that went ouer.

p Thou haſt bin iuſtly puniſhed and ſufficiently, as Chap. 40. 2. and this puniſhment in the elect is by meaſure, & according as God giueth grace to beare it: but in the reprobate it is the iuſt vengeance of God to driue thē to an inſenſiblenes & madnes, as Ier. 25. 15, 16.
q Whereof the one is outward, as of the things that come to the body: as warre and famine: and the other is inward, and appertaineth to the mind: that is, to be without comfort: therefore he ſaith, how ſhalt thou be comforted?
r But with trouble and feare.

1 A conſolation to the people of God. 7 Of the meſſengers thereof.

ARiſe, ariſe: put on thy ſtrength, O Zion: put on the garments of thy beauty, O Ieruſalem the holy City: for henceforth there ſhall no [a] more come into thee the vncircumciſed and the vncleane.

2 Shake thy ſelfe from the [b] duſt: ariſe, and ſit downe, O Ieruſalem: looſe the bands of thy necke, O thou captiue daughter, Zion.

3 For thus ſayth the Lord, Ye were ſold for [c] nought: therefore ſhall yee be redeemed without money.

4 For thus ſaith the Lord God, My people went [d] downe aforetime into Egypt to ſoiourne there, and Aſſhur [e] oppreſſed them without cauſe.

5 Now therefore what haue I here, ſaith the Lord, that my people is take away for nought, and they that rule ouer them, make them to howle, ſaith the Lord? and my Name all the day continually is [f] blaſphemed?

6 Therefore my people ſhall knowe my Name: therefore they ſhall know in that day, that I am he that do ſpeake: behold, it is I.

7 How [g] beautifull vpon the mountaines are the feete of him, that declareth and publiſheth peace! that declareth good tidings, and publiſheth ſaluation, ſaying vnto Zion, Thy God reigneth!

8 [h] The voyce of thy watchmen ſhalbe heard: they ſhall lift vp their voyce, and ſhout together: for they ſhal ſee eye to eye, when the Lord ſhal bring againe Zion.

9 O ye deſolate places of Ieruſalem, bee glad and reioyce together: for the Lord hath comforted his people: hee hath redeemed Ieruſalem.

10 The Lorde hath made [i] bare his holy arme in the ſight of all the Gentiles, and all the ends of the earth ſhall ſee the ſaluation of our God.

11 [k] Depart, depart yee: goe out from thence and touch no vncleane thing: go out of the mids of her: be yee cleane, that [l] beare the veſſels of the Lord.

12 For ye ſhal not go out [m] with haſte, nor depart by flying away: but the Lord will goe before you, and the God of Iſrael will gather you together.

13 Behold, my [n] ſeruant ſhall proſper: he ſhalbe exalted and extolled, and be very hie.

1 Moe of the Gentiles shal beleeue the Gospel then of the Iewes. 7 God leaueth his for a time, to whom afterward he sheweth mercy.

a After that he hath declared the death of Christ, he speaketh to the Church, because it should feele the fruite of the same, & calleth her barren, because that in the captiuity she was as a widow without hope to haue any children.

R Eioyce, [a] barren that didst not beare: breake forth into ioy & reioyce, thou that didst not trauaile with child: for the [b] desolate hath moe children then the married wife, saith the Lord.

2 [c] Inlarge the place of thy tents, and let them spread out the curtaines of thine habitations: spare not, stretch out thy coardes and make fast thy stakes.

3 For thou shalt increase on the right hand and on the left, and thy seed shall possesse the Gentiles, and dwell in the desolate cities.

4 Feare not: for thou shalt not be ashamed, neither shalt thou be confounded: for thou shalt not be put to shame: yea, thou shalt forget the shame of thy [d] youth, and shalt not remember the reproch of thy [e] widowhood any more.

5 For he that [f] made thee, is thine husband (whose Name is the Lord of hostes) and thy redeemer the Holy one of Israel, shall be called the God of the whole [g] world.

6 For the Lord hath called thee, being as a woman forsaken, and afflicted in spirit, and as a [h] yong wife when thou wast refused, saith thy God.

7 For a little while haue I forsaken thee, but with great compassion will I gather thee.

8 For a moment in mine anger, I hid my face from thee for a litle season, but with euerlasting mercy haue I had compassion on thee, saith the Lord thy redeemer.

9 For this is vnto me as the [i] waters of Noah: for as I haue sworne that the waters of Noah should no more goe ouer the earth, so haue I sworne that I would not bee angry with thee, nor rebuke thee.

10 For the mountaines shall remooue and the hils shal fall downe: but my mercy shal not depart from thee, neither shall the couenant of my peace fall away, sayth the Lord, that hath compassion on thee.

11 O thou afflicted and tossed with tempest, that hast no comfort, behold, I will lay thy stones with [k] the carbuncle, and lay thy foundation with saphirs,

2 Wherefore do ye lay out siluer and not for bread? [d] and your labour without being satisfied? hearken diligently vnto me, and eate that which is good, and let your soule delite in [e] fatnesse.

3 Encline your eares, and come vnto me: heare, and your soule shal liue, and I wil make an euerlasting couenant with you, euen the [f] sure mercies of Dauid.

4 Behold, I gaue [g] him for a witnesse to the people, for a prince and a master vnto the people.

5 Behold, thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not, [h] & a nation that knew not thee, shall runne vnto thee, because of the Lord thy God, and the holy One of Israel: for he hath glorified thee.

6 Seeke ye the Lord while he may [i] bee found: call ye vpon him while he is neere.

7 Let the wicked [k] forsake his wayes, and the vnrighteous his owne imaginations, and returne vnto the Lord, and he wil haue mercy vpon him: and to our God, for he is very ready to forgiue.

8 For my [l] thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your waies my waies, saith ỹ Lord.

12 Therefore ye shall go out with ioy, and be led forth with peace: the [n] mountaines and the hils shall breake forth before you into ioy, and all the trees of the field shall clappe their hands.

1 An exhortation to iudgment and iustice. 10 Against shepheards that deuoure their flocke.

THus sayth the Lord, [a] Keepe iudgement and doe iustice: for my saluation is at hand to come, and my [b] righteousnesse to bee reuealed.

2 Blessed is the man that doth this, and the sonne of man which layeth hold on it: he that keepeth the [c] Sabbath and polluteth it not, and keepeth his hand from doing any euill.

3 And let not the sonne of the stranger, which [d] is ioyned to the Lord, speake and say, The Lord hath surely separate mee from his people: neither let the Eunuch say, Behold, I am a drie tree.

4 For thus saith the Lord vnto the Eunuches, that keepe my Sabbaths, and chuse the thing that pleaseth mee, and take holde of my Couenant.

5 Euen vnto them will I giue in mine [e] House and within my walles, a place and a [f] name better then of the sonnes and of the daughters: I will giue them an euerlasting name, that shall not be put out.

6 Also the strangers that cleaue vnto the Lord, to serue him, and to loue the Name of the Lord, and to be his seruants: euery one that keepeth the Sabbath, and polluteth it not and imbraceth my couenant,

7 Them will I bring also to mine holy Mountaine, and make them ioyfull in mine House of prayer: their burnt [g] offerings and their sacrifices shalbe accepted vpon mine altar: for mine House shall be called an house of prayer for [h] all people.

8 The Lord God saith, which gathereth the scattered of Israel, Yet will I gather to them those that are to be gathered to them.

9 All ye [i] beastes of the field, come to deuoure, euen all ye beasts of the forest.

10 Their [k] watchmen are all blinde: they haue no knowledge: they are all dumme dogs: they cannot barke: they lie and sleepe, and delight in sleeping.

11 And these greedy dogs can neuer haue ynough: and these shepheards cannot vnderstand: for they all looke to their owne way, euery one for his aduantage, and for his owne purpose.

a God sheweth what he requireth of them after that he hath deliuered them: to wit, the workes of charity whereby true faith is declared.
b Which I will declare to learn you, and powre into your hearts by my Spirit.
c Vnder the Sabbath he comprehendeth the whole seruice of God and true religion.
d Let none thinke himselfe vnmeet to receiue the graces of the Lord: for the Lord will take away all impediments, & will forsake none which will keepe his true religion & beleeue in him.
e Meaning, in his Church.
f They shalbe called after my people and be of the same religion: yea, vnder Christ the dignity of the faithfull shalbe greater then the Iewes were at ỹ time.
g Hereby he meaneth the spirituall seruice of God, to whom the faithfull offer continuall thanksgiuing, yea, themselues and all that they haue as a liuely and acceptable sacrifice.
h Not only for the Iewes, but for all others, Mat. 21. 13.
i Meaning, the enemies of the Church, as the Babylonians, Assyrians, &c. thus he speaketh to feare the hypocrites, & to assure the faithfull, that when this commeth, they may know it was told them before.
k He sheweth that this affliction shall come through the fault of the governours, Prophets, and Pastors, whose ignorance, negligence, auarice and obstinacie prouoked Gods wrath against them.

12 Come,

12 Come, I will bring wine, and we will fill our selues with strong drinke, and to [l] morow shal be as this day, and much more abundant.

l We are well yet, & to morow shall be better: therefore let vs not feare the plagues before they come: thus the wicked contemned the admonitions and exhortations which were made them in the Name of God.

CHAP. LVII.

1 God taketh away the good, that hee should not see the horrible plagues to come. 3 Of the wicked idolaters, 9 And their vaine confidence.

THe righteous perisheth, and no man considereth it in heart: and mercifull men are taken away, and no man vnderstandeth that the righteous is taken away [a] from the euill to come.

a From the plague that is at hand, and also because God will punish ỻ wicked. b The soule of the righteous shal be in ioy and their body shall rest in the graue, vnto the time of the resurrection, because they walked before the Lord.

2 [b] Peace shal come: they shal rest in their beds, euery one that walketh before him.

3 But you [c] witches children, come hither, the seed of the adulterer and of the whore.

c He threatneth the wicked hypocrites, who vnder the pretence of the name of Gods people, deriued Gods word and his promises: boasting openly that they were the children of Abraham, but because they were not faithful and obedient as Abraham was, he calleth them bastards, and the children of sorcerers, which forsooke God, and fled to wicked meanes for succour.

4 On whom haue ye iested? vpon whom haue ye gaped and thrust out your tongue? are not ye rebellious children, and a false seed?

d Reade Leuit. 18.21. 2. king. 23.10.

5 Inflamed with idols vnder euery green tree? and sacrificing the [d] children in the valleys vnder the tops of the rocks?

6 Thy portion is in the smoothe stones [e] of the riuer: they, they are thy lot: euen to them hast thou powred a drinke offring: thou hast offered a sacrifice. Should I delight in [f] these?

e Meaning, euery place was polluted with their idolatry: or euery laye stone that they found, they made an idole of it.

7 Thou hast made thy shed vpon a very hie mountaine: thou wentest vp thither, euen thither wentest thou to offer sacrifice.

f In the sacrifices which you, offering before these idoles, thought you did serue God.

8 Behind the [h] doores also and posts hast thou set vp thy remembrance: for thou hast discouered thy selfe to another then mee, and wentest vp, and diddest [i] enlarge thy bed, and make a couenant between thee and them, and louedst their bedde in euery place where thou sawest it.

g To wit, thine altars, in an open place like an impudent harlot that careth not for the sight of her husband.

h In stead of setting vp the word of God in the open places of the gates & doores to haue it in remembrance, Deut. 6.9. & 27.1. thou hast set vp signes & marks of thine idolatry in euery place. i That is, didst increase thine idolatry more and more.

9 Thou wentest [k] to the kings with oyle, and diddest increase thine ointments and send thy messengers farre off, and diddest humble thy selfe vnto hell.

k Thou diddest seeke the fauour of the Assyrians by gifts and presents, to helpe thee against the Egyptians: and when they failed, thou soughtest to the Babylonians, and more and more diddest torment thy selfe.

10 Thou wearyedst thy selfe in thy manifold iourneys, yet saydest thou not, [l] There is no hope: thou [m] hast found life by thine hand, therefore thou wast not grieued.

l Although thou sawest all thy labors to be in vaine, yet wouldest thou neuer acknowledge thy fault and leaue off. m. He derideth their vnprofitable diligence which thought to haue made sure, and yet were deceiued.

11 And whome diddest thou reuerence or feare, seeing thou hast [n] lied vnto mee, and hast not remembred mee, neither set thy minde thereon? Is it not because I holde my peace, and that of long [o] time? therefore thou fearest not me.

n Broken promise with me. o Meaning, that wicked abuse Gods lenity and grow to farther wickednesse.

12 I wil declare thy [p] righteousnes and thy works, and they shall not profit thee.

p That is, thy naughtines, idolatries & impieties: which the wicked cal Gods seruice: thus he derideth their obstinacie.

13 When thou cryest, let them that thou hast gathered together deliuer thee: but the wind shall [q] take them all away: vanity shall pul them away: but he that trusteth in me, shal inherite the lande, and shall possesse mine holy mountaine.

q Meaning, the Assyrians another, whose helpe they looked for.

14 [r] And he shall say, Cast vp, cast vp: prepare the way: take vp the stumbling blocks out of the way of my people.

r God shall say to Darius and Cyrus.

15 For thus saith he that is hie and excellent, he that inhabiteth the eternitie, whose Name is the Holy one, I dwel in the high and holy place: with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit to reuiue the spirit of the humble, and to giue life to them that are of a contrite heart.

16 For I will not contend for euer, neither will I bee alwayes wroth, [s] for the spirit should fayle before me: and I haue made the breath.

s I will not vse my power against fraile man whose life is but a blast.

17 For his wicked [t] couetousnesse, I am angry with him, and haue smitten him: I hid me and was angry, yet he went away, and turned after the way of his owne heart.

t That is, for the vices and faults of the people, which is meant here by couetousnesse.

18 I haue seene his wayes, and wil [u] heale him: I will leade him also, and restore comfort vnto him, and to those that lament him, u Though they were obstinate, yet I did not withdraw my mercy frō them.

19 I create the [x] fruit of the lippes, to be peace: peace vnto them that are [y] farre off, and to them that are neere, sayeth the Lord: for I will heale him.

x That is, I frame the speech and words of my messengers which shall bring peace.

y As wel to him that is in captiuitie, as to him that remaineth at home.

20 But the wicked are like the raging sea, that can [z] not rest, whose waters cast vp myre and dyrt.

z Their euill conscience doth euer torment them, and therefore they can neuer haue rest, reade Chap 48.22.

21 There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked.

CHAP. LVIII.

1 The office of Gods Ministers. 2 The workes of the hypocrites. 6 The fast of the faithfull. 13 Of the true Sabbath.

CRie [a] aloude, spare not: lift vp thy voyce like a trumpet, and shew my people their transgression, and to the house of Iaakob their sinnes.

a The Lord thus speaketh to the Prophet, willing him to vse all diligence and temerity to rebuke the hypocrites.

2 Yet they [b] seeke mee dayly, and will knowe my wayes, euen as a nation that did righteously, and had not forsaken the statutes of their God: they aske of me the ordinances of iustice: they will drawe neere vnto God, saying,

b They will seeme to worship me and haue outward holinesse.

3 [c] Wherefore haue wee fasted, and thou seest it not? we haue punished our selues, and thou regardest it not. Beholde, in the day of your fast you wil seeke [d] your wil, and require all your debts.

c He setteth forth the malice and disdaine of the hypocrites, which grudge against God, if their works be not accepted.

d Thus he conuinceth the hypocrites by ỻ secret table and by their duety toward their neighbour, that they haue neither faith nor religion.

4 Behold, yee fast to strife and debate, and to smite with the fist of wickednesse: yee shall not fast as ye doe to day, to make your voyce

So long as you vse contention and oppression, your fasting and prayer shall not be heard.

voyce to be [c] heard aboue.

5 Is it such a fast that I haue chosen, that a man should afflict his soule for a day, and to bowe downe his head, as a bull rush, and to lie downe in sackecloth and ashes? wilt thou call this a fasting, or an acceptable day to the Lord?

6 Is not this the fasting that I haue chosen, to loose the bands of wickednesse, to take off the heauy burdens, and to let the oppressed goe free, and that ye breake euery [f] yoke?

f That you leaue off all your extortions.

7 Is it not to deale thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poore that wander vnto thine house? when thou seest the naked, that thou couer him, and hide not thy selfe from [g] thine owne flesh?

g For in him thou seest thy selfe as in a glasse.

8 Then shall thy [h] light breake forth as the morning, and thine health shal grow speedily: thy [i] righteousnes shal go before thee, and the glory of the Lord shall embrace thee.

h That is, the prosperous estate wherewith God will blesse thee.

i The testimony of thy goodnesse shall appeare before God & men.

9 Then shalt thou call, and the Lord shall answere: thou shalt cry, and he shall say, Here I am: if thou take away from the mids of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the [k] finger, and wicked speaking:

k Whereby is meant all maner of iniury.

10 If thou [l] powre out thy soule to the hungry, and refresh the troubled soule: then shall thy light spring out in the [m] darknesse, and thy darknesse shalbe as the noone day.

l That is, haue compassion on their miseries.

m Thine aduersitie shalbe turned into prosperity.

11 And the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfie thy soule in drought, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watred garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters faile not.

12 And they shall be of thee that shal build the old [n] waste places: thou shalt raise vp the foundations for many generations, and thou shalt be called the repayrer of the breach, and the restorer of the pathes to dwell in.

n Signifying, that of the Iewes should come such, as should build againe the ruines of Ierusalem and Iudea: but chiefly this is meant of the spirituall Ierusalem, whose builders were the Apostles.

13 If thou [o] turne away thy foote from the Sabbath, from doing thy will on mine holy day, & call the Sabbath a delight, to consecrate it, as glorious to the Lord, and shalt honour him, not doing thine owne wayes, nor seeking thine owne will, nor speaking a vaine word, o If thou refraine thy selfe from thy wicked works.

14 Then shalt thou delite in the Lord, and I will cause thee to mount vpon the hie places of the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Iaakob thy father: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

CHAP. LIX.

2 The wicked perish thorow their owne iniquities. 12 The confession of sinnes. 16 God alone will preserue his Church, though all men faile.

*Num. 11.23. chap. 50.2.

BEhold,* the Lords hand is not shortened, that it cannot saue: neither is his eare heauy, that it cannot heare.

*Ierem. 5.25.

2 But* your iniquities haue separated betweene you and your God, and your sinnes haue hid his face from you, that hee will not heare.

3 For your hands are defiled with [a] blood, and your fingers with iniquity: your lippes haue spoken lies, and your tongue hath murmured iniquitie.

a Reade Chap. 1.15.

4 No man calleth for iustice: no man [b] contendeth for trueth: they trust in vanitie, and speake vaine things: they conceiue mischiefe, and [c] bring forth iniquitie.

b All men wink at the iniuries & oppressions, and none go about to remedy them.

c According to their wicked deuises, they hurt their neighbours.

5 They hatch cockatrice [d] egs, and weaue the spiders [e] web: he that eateth of their egs, dyeth, and that which is trode vpon, breaketh out into a serpent.

d Whatsoeuer commeth from them, is poyson, and bringeth death.

e They are profitable to no purpose.

6 Their webs shalbe no garment, neither shal they couer themselues with their labours: for their works are works of iniquity, and the worke of cruelty is in their hands.

7 Their feete run to euill, and they make haste to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are wicked thoughts: desolation and destruction is in their pathes.

8 The way of peace they know not, and there is none equity in their goings: they haue made them crooked pathes: whosoeuer goeth therein, shall not know peace.

9 Therefore is [f] iudgment farre from vs, neither doeth [g] iustice come neere vnto vs, we wait for light, but lo it is darknes: for brightnesse, but we walke in darknesse.

f That is, Gods vengeance to punish our enemies.

g Gods protection to defend vs.

10 We grope for the wall like the [h] blind, and we grope as one without eyes: we stumble at the noone day as in the twilight: we are in solitary places, as dead men.

h We are altogether destitute of counsell & can find no end of our miseries.

11 We roare all like [i] beares, and mourne like doues: we looke for equitie, but there is none: for health, but it is farre from vs.

i We expresse our sorowes by outward signes, some more, some lesse.

12 For our trespasses are many before thee, and our [k] sinnes testifie against vs: for our trespasses are with vs, and wee know our iniquities k This confession is generall to the Church to obtaine remission of sinnes, and the Prophets did not exempt themselues from the same.

13 In trespassing and lying against the Lord, and wee haue departed away from our God, and haue spoken of cruelty and rebellion, conceiuing and vttering out of the heart false [l] matters.

l To wit, against our neighbours.

14 Therfore [m] iudgement is turned backward, and iustice standeth farre off: for truth is fallen in the streete, and equitie can not enter.

m There is neither iustice nor brightnesse among men.

15 Yea, truth faileth, and he that refraineth from euil, maketh himselfe [n] a pray: and when the Lord sawe it, it displeased him, that there was no iudgement.

n The wicked will destroy him.

16 And when hee sawe that there was no man, he wondered that none would offer himselfe. [o] Therfore his arme did [p] saue it, and his righteousnes it selfe did sustaine it.

o Meaning, to doe iustice, and to remedy the things that were so farre out of order.

p That is, his Church: or his arme did helpe it selfe, and did not seeke aid of any other.

17 For he put on righteousnes, as an habergion, and an [q] helmet of saluation vpon q Signifying, that God hath all meanes at hand to deliuer his Church, and to punish their his head, and hee put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeale as a cloke.

18 As to make recompense, as to requite the fury of the aduersaries with a recompence to his enemies: he wil fully repay the [r] Iands.

19 So shall they feare the Name of the Lord from the West, and his glory from the rising of the sunne: for the enemy shall [s] come like a flood: but the spirit of the Lord shal chase him away.

20 And the Redeemer shall come vnto Zion, and vnto [t] them that turne from iniquity in Iaakob, saith the Lord.

21 And I wil make this my couenant with them, saith the Lord, My Spirit that is vpon thee, and my wordes, which I haue put in thy mouth, [u] shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seede, nor out of the mouth of the seede of thy seede, saith the Lord, from henceforth euen for euer.

r To wit, your enemies, which dwell in diuers places, and beyond the sea.
s He sheweth that there shalbe great affliction in the Church, but God will euer deliuer his.
t Whereby he declareth that the true deliuerance from sinne and Satan belongeth to none, but to the children of God, whom he iustifieth.
u Because the doctrine is made profitable by the vertue of the spirite, he ioyneth the one with the other, and promiseth to giue them both to his Church for euer.

CHAP. LX.

3 The Gentiles shall come to the knowledge of the Gospel. 8 They shall come to the Church in abundance. 16 They shall haue abundance, though they suffer for a time.

ARise, O Ierusalem: bee bright, for thy [a] light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen vpon thee.

2 For beholde, darkenesse shall couer the [b] earth, and grosse darknes the people: but the Lord shal arise vpon thee, and his glory shalbe seene vpon thee.

3 And the Gentiles shall walke in [c] thy light, and Kings at the brightnesse of thy rising vp.

4 Lift vp thine eyes round about, and behold: al [d] these are gathered, and come to thee: thy sonnes shal come from far, and thy daughters shalbe nourished at thy side.

5 Then thou shalt see & shine: thine heart shall bee astonied [e] and enlarged, because the multitude of the sea shall bee conuerted vnto thee, and the riches of the Gentiles shall come vnto thee.

6 The [f] multitude of camels shall couer thee: and the dromedaries of Midian and of Ephah: al they of Sheba shal come: they shal bring golde and incense, and shew forth the praises of the Lord.

7 All the sheepe of [g] Kedar shalbe gathered vnto thee: the rammes of Nebaioth shall serue thee: they shall come vp to be accepted vpon mine [h] altar: and I will beautifie the house of my glory.

8 Who are these [i] that flee like a cloude, and as the doues to their windowes?

a The time of thy prosperity and felicitie: whereas speaking of Babylon he commanded her to go downe, Chap. 47.1.
b Signifying, that all men are in darknesse till God giue them the light of his Spirit, and that this light shineth to none but to those that are in his Church.
c Meaning, that Iuden should be as the morning starre, and that the Gentiles should receiue light of her.
d An infinite number from all countreyes, as Chap. 49.18.
e For ioy, as the heart is drawen in for sorow.
f Meaning, that euery one shall honour the Lord with that, wherewith he is able: signifying, that it is no true serving of God, except we offer our selues to serue his glory, and all that we haue.
g That is, the Arabians, that haue great abundance of cattell.
h Because the altar was a figure of Christ, Ebr. 13.10. he sheweth that nothing can bee acceptable to him, which is not offered to him by this altar, who was both the offering and the altar it selfe.
i Shewing what great number shall come to the Church, and with what great diligence and zeale.

9 Surely the Iles shal wait for me, & the ships [k] of Tarshish, as at the beginning, that they may bring thy sonnes from far, and their siluer and their gold with them, vnto the name of the Lord thy God, and to the Holy one of Israel, because he hath glorified thee.

10 And the sonnes of strangers shall build vp thy walles, and their [l] Kings shall minister vnto thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my mercy I had compassion on thee.

11 Therefore thy gates shalbe open continually: neither day nor night shall they bee shut, that men may bring vnto thee the riches of the Gentiles, and that their Kings may be brought.

12 For the nation and the [m] kingdom, that will not serue thee, shal perish: and those nations shalbe vtterly destroyed.

13 The [n] glory of Lebanon shal come vnto thee, the firre tree, the elme & the bore tree together, to beautifie the place of my Sanctuary: for I will glorifie the place of my [o] feet.

14 The sonnes also of them that afflicted thee, shall come and bowe vnto thee: and all they that despised thee, shal fall [p] downe at the soles of thy feet: and they shall call thee, The Citie of the Lord, Zion of the Holy one of Israel.

15 Whereas thou hast been forsaken and hated, so that no man went by thee, I will make thee an eternall glory, and a ioy from generation to generation.

16 Thou shalt also sucke the milke of the Gentiles, and shalt sucke the [q] breests of kings: and thou shalt know, that I the Lord am thy Sauiour, and thy Redeemer, the mighty one of Iaakob.

17 For brasse will I bring golde, and for yron will I bring siluer, and for wood brasse, and for stones yron. I will also make thy gouernment [r] peace, and thy exactours righteousnesse.

18 Violence shall no more bee heard of in the land, neither desolation, nor destruction within thy borders: but thou shalt call [s] salvation, thy wals, and praise, thy gates.

19 Thou shalt haue no more sun to shine by day, neither shall [t] the brightnes of the moone shine vnto thee: for the Lord shalbe thine euerlasting light, and thy God thy glory.

20 Thy sunne shall neuer goe downe, neither shal thy moone be hid: for the Lord shalbe thine euerlasting light, and the dayes of thy sorow shalbe ended.

21 Thy people also shalbe all righteous: they shal possesse the land for euer, the [u] graffe of my planting shall bee the worke of mine hands, that I may be glorified.

22 A little one shall become as a [x] thou-k The Gentiles that are now enemies, shall become friends and setters forth of the Church.

l Meaning, Cyrus and his successors: but chiefly this is accomplished in them that serue Christ being conuerted by his Gospel.
m He sheweth that God hath giuen all power and authoritie here in earth to the vse of his Church: and that they which will not serue and profit the same, shalbe destroyed.
n There is nothing so excellent which shall not serue the necessitie of the Church.
o Signifying, that Gods maiestie is not included in the Temple, which is but the place for his feet, that we may learne to rise vp to the heauens.
p To worship their head Christ by obeying his doctrine.
q Both bie and low shal be ready to helpe and succour thee.
r Thy gouernors shall loue thee, and seeke thy wealth and prosperity.
s Meaning, not a temporal felicity, but a spirituall, which is fulfilled in Christs kingdome.
t Signifying, that all worldly meanes shall cease, and that Christ shalbe all in all, as Reue. 21.22. & 22.5.
u The children of the Church.
x Meaning, that the Church should be miraculously multiplied.

saue, and a small one as a strong nation: I the Lord will hasten it in due time.

CHAP. LXI.

1 He prophesieth that Christ shall be anointed, and sent to preach. 10 The ioy of the faithfull.

THe *spirit of the Lord God is [a] vpon me, therefore hath the Lord anointed me: he hath sent mee to preach good tidings vnto the poore, to bind vp the [b] broken hearted, to preach libertie to the [c] captiues, and to them that are bound, the opening of the prison,

2 To preach the [d] acceptable yeere of the Lord, and the day of [e] vengeance of our God, to comfort all that mourne,

3 To appoint vnto them that mourne in Zion, and to giue vnto them beauty for [f] ashes, the oyle of ioy for mourning, the garment of gladnesse for the spirit of heauinesse, that they might be called [g] trees of righteousnesse, the planting of the Lord, that he might be glorified.

4 And they shall build the olde waste places, and raise vp the former desolations, and they shall repaire the cities that were desolate and waste through many [h] generations.

5 And the stranger shall [i] stand and feede your sheepe, and the sonnes of the strangers shall be your plowmen and dressers of your vines.

6 But yee shall be named [k] the Priests of the Lord, and men shall say vnto you, The ministers of our God: Ye shall eat the [l] riches of the Gentiles, and shall be exalted with their glory.

7 For your shame you shall receiue [m] double, and for confusion [n] they shall reioyce in [o] their portion: for in their land they shall possesse the [p] double: euerlasting ioy shall be vnto them.

8 For I the Lord loue iudgement, and hate [q] robberie for burnt offering, and I will direct their worke in trueth, and will make an euerlasting couenant with them.

9 And [r] their seed shall be knowen among the Gentiles, and their buds among the people. All that see them, shall knowe them, that they are the seed which the Lord hath blessed.

10 [s] I wil greatly reioyce in the Lord, and my soule shall be ioyfull in my God: for hee hath clothed me with the garments of saluation, and couered me with the robe of righteousnes: he hath decked me like a bridegrome, and as a bride treth her selfe with her iewels.

11 For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth to growe that which is sowen in it: so the Lord God will cause righteousnes to grow, and praise before all the heathen.

*Luke 4 18.

a This appertaineth to all the Prophets and ministers of God, but chiefly to Christ, of whose abundant graces euery one receiueth according as it pleaseth him to distribute.

b To them that are inwardly touched with the feeling of their sinnes.

c Which are in the bondage of sinne.

d The time when it pleased God to shew his good fauour to man, which S. Paul calleth the fulnesse of time, Gal. 4.4.

e For when God deliuereth his Church, he punisheth his enemies.

f Which was the signe of mourning.

g Trees that bring forth good fruits, as Mat. 3.8.

h That is, for a long time.

i They shall be ready to serue you in all your necessities.

k This is accomplished in the time of Christ, by whome all the faithfull are made Priests and Kings, 1. Pet. 2.9. reu. 1.6 and 5.10.

l Reade Chap. 60.11.16.

m Abundant recompence, as this word is vsed. Chap. 40.2.

n That is, the Iewes.

o To wit, of the Gentiles.

p Whereas the Gentiles had dominion ouer the Iewes in time past, now they shall haue double authoritie ouer them, and possesse twise so much.

q I will not receiue their offering, which are extortioners, deceiuers, hypocrites, or that depriue me of my glory.

r That is, of the Church.

s He sheweth what shall be the affection, when they feele this their deliuerance.

CHAP. LXII.

1 The great desire that the Prophets haue had for Christs comming. 6 The diligence of the Pastors to preach.

FOr Zions sake I wil not [a] hold my tongue, and for Jerusalems sake I will not rest, vntill the righteousnesse thereof breake forth as the [b] light, and saluation thereof as a burning lampe.

2 And the Gentiles shall see thy righteousnesse, and all kings thy glory: and thou shalt bee called by [c] a new name, which the mouth of the Lord shall name.

3 Thou shalt also be a [d] crowne of glory in the hand of the Lord, and a royall diademe in the hand of thy God.

4 It shal no more be said vnto thee, [e] Forsaken, neither shall it bee said any more to thy land, Desolate, but thou shalt be called ‖ Hephzi-bah, and thy land ‖ Beulah: for the Lord delighteth in thee, and thy land shall haue an [f] husband.

5 For as a yong man marrieth a virgine, so shall thy sonnes [g] marrie thee: [f] as a bridegrome is glad of the bride, so shall thy God reioyce ouer thee.

6 I haue set [h] watchmen vpon thy wals, O Jerusalem, which all the day and all the night continually shall not cease: [i] yee that are mindfull of the Lord, keepe not silence,

7 And giue him no rest, till he repaire and vntill hee set vp Jerusalem the [k] praise of the world.

8 The Lord hath sworne by his right hand and by his strong arme, Surely I will no more giue thy corne to be meate for thine enemies, and surely the sonnes of the strangers shall not drinke thy wine, for the which thou hast laboured.

9 But they that haue gathered it, shall eate it, and praise the Lord, and the gatherers thereof shall drinke it in the courtes of my Sanctuarie.

10 [l] Goe through, goe through the gates: prepare you the way for the people: cast vp, cast vp the way, and gather out the stones, and set vp a standard for the people.

11 Behold, the Lord hath proclaimed vnto the ends of the world: [m] tell the daughter Zion, Behold, thy Sauiour commeth: behold, his wages is with him, and [n] his worke is before him.

12 And they shal call them, The holy people, the redeemed of the Lord, and thou shalt be named, A [o] citie sought out and not forsaken.

a The Prophet saith that he will neuer cease to declare vnto the people the good tidings of their deliuerance.

b Till they haue full deliuerance: and this the Prophet speaketh to encourage all other ministers to the setting forth of Gods mercies towards his Church.

c Thou shalt haue a more excellent fame then thou hast had hitherto.

d He shall adorne thee as deare and precious, as a king doth his crowne.

e Thou shalt no more be contemned as a woman forsaken of her husband.

‖ Or, my delight in her.

‖ Or, married.

f That it may be replenished with children.

g Forasmuch as they confesse one faith, and religion with thee, they are in the same bond of marriage with thee, and they are called the children of the Church, in as much as Christ maketh her plentifull to bring forth children vnto him.

h Prophets, pastors, and ministers.

i He exhorteth the ministers neuer to cease to call vpon God by prayer for the deliuerance of his Church, and to teach others to doe the same.

k For the restauration whereof all the world shall praise him.

l Signifying the great number that shall come to the Church, & what meanes he will vse to prepare for the restitution of the same, as Chap.

57.14. m The Prophets and ministers shew the people of this their deliuerance which was chiefly meant of our saluation by Christ. Zech. 9.9. mat. 21.5. n Shall haue all power to bring his purpose to passe, as Chap. 40.10. o That one ouer whom God hath had a singular care to preserue her when she was [illegible]

CHAP. LXIII.

1 God shall destroy his enemies for his Churches sake. 7 Gods benefits towards his Church.

WHo is this that commeth [a] from Edom, with red garments from Bozrah? hee is glorious in his apparell, and walketh in his great strength. [b] I speake in righteousnesse, and am mighty to saue.

2 [c] Wherefore is thine apparell red, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the wine presse?

3 I haue troden the wine presse alone, and of all people there was none with mee: for I will tread them in mine anger, and tread them vnder foote in my wrath, and their blood shall bee sprinkled vpon my garments, and I will staine all my raiment.

4 For the day of vengeance is in mine heart, and the [d] yeere of my redeemed is come.

5 And I looked, and there was none to helpe, and I wondered that there was none to vphold: therefore mine owne [e] arme helped me, and my wrath it selfe sustained me.

6 Therefore I will tread downe the people in my wrath, and make them [n] drunken in mine indignation, and will bring downe their strength to the earth.

7 I [g] will remember the mercies of the Lord, and the praises of the Lord according vnto all that the Lord hath giuen vs, and for the great goodnes toward the house of Israel, which hee hath giuen them according to his tender loue, & according to his great mercies.

8 For he said, Surely they are my [h] people, children that will not lie: so hee was their Sauiour.

9 In all their troubles hee was [i] troubled, and the Angel of his [k] presence saued them: in his loue and in his mercie hee redeemed them, and hee bare them and caried them alwayes continually.

10 But they rebelled and vexed his holy spirit: therefore was he turned to be their enemie, and he fought against them.

11 Then hee [l] remembred the old time of Moses and his people, saying, Where is hee that brought them vp out of the Sea with the [m] shepeheard of his sheepe? where is hee that put his holy Spirit within [n] him?

12 Hee led them by the right hand of Moses: with his owne glorious arme, diuiding the water before them, to make himselfe an euerlasting Name.

13 Hee led them through the deepe, as an [o] horse in the wildernesse, that they should not stumble.

14 As the beast goeth downe into the valley, the spirit of the Lord gaue them rest: so diddest thou leade thy people, to make thy selfe a glorious Name.

15 [p] Looke downe from heauen, and behold from the dwelling place of thine holines, and of thy glory. Where is thy [q] zeale and thy strength, the multitude of thy mercies, & of thy compassions? they are restrained from [r] me.

16 Doubtlesse thou art our father: though [s] Abraham be ignorant of vs, and Israel know vs not, yet thou, O Lord, art our Father, and our Redeemer: thy Name is for euer.

17 O Lord, why hast [t] thou made vs to erre from thy wayes? and hardened our heart from thy feare? Returne for thy [u] seruants sake, and for the tribes of thine inheritance.

18 The people of thine holinesse haue possessed it, but a little [x] while: for our aduersaries haue troden downe thy Sanctuarie.

19 We haue beene as they, ouer whome thou neuer barest rule, and vpon whom thy Name was not called.

a This prophecie is against the Idumeans, and enemies which persecuted the Church, on whom God will take vengeance, and is here set forth all bloody after that he hath destroyed them in Bozrah, the chiefe city of the Idumeans: for these were their greatest enemies, and vnder the title of circumcision and the kinred of Abraham claimed to themselues the chiefe religion, and hated the true worshippers, Mal. 1. 37.

b God answereth them that asked this question, Who is this? &c. and saith, Be it now performed in deed the vengeance which my Prophets threatned.

c Another question, to the which the Lord answereth.

d Shewing, that when God minister his enemies, it is for the profite and deliuerance of his Church.

e God sheweth that he hath no need of mans helpe for the deliuerance of his, and though men refuse to doe their duetie through negligence, and ingratitude, yet he himselfe will deliuer his church, and punish the enemies, Reade chap. 59. 16.

f I will so afflict them, and make them so feeble, that they shall not knowe, which way to go.

g The Prophet speaketh this to moue the people to remember God's benefits in times past, that they may be confirmed in their troubles.

h For I did chuse them to be mine, that they should be holy,

i Hee bare their afflictions and griefes, as though they had beene his owne.

k Which was a witnesse of Gods presence: and this may bee referred to Christ, to whome belongeth the office of saluation.

l That is, the people of Israel being afflicted, called to remembrance Gods benefites, which he had bestowed vpon their fathers in times past.

m Meaning, Moses.

n That is, in Moses, that he might well gouerne the people: some referre this giuing of the Spirit to the people.

o Peaceably and gently, as an horse is led to his pasture.

p Hauing declared Gods benefits shewed to their forefathers, he turneth himselfe to God by prayer, desiring him to renewe the same graces toward them.

q The great affection which thou bearest towards vs.

r Meaning from the whole body of the Church.

s Though Abraham would refuse vs to be his children, yet thou wilt not refuse to be our Father.

t By taking away thy holy Spirit from vs, by whom wee were gouerned, and so for our ingratitude diddest deliuer vs vp to our owne concupiscence, & diddest not decerne mine expectation.

u Meaning, for the couenants sake made to Abraham, Izhak and Iaakob his seruants.

x That is, in respect of the promise, which is perpetuall, albeit they had now possessed the land of Canaan, a thousand and foure hundred yeeres: and thus they lament, to moue God rather to remember his couenant, then to punish their sinnes.

CHAP. LXIIII.

1 The Prophet prayeth for the sinnes of the people. 6 Mans righteousnesse is like a filthie cloth.

OH, that thou wouldest [a] breake the heauens, and come downe, and that the mountaines might melt at thy presence!

2 As the melting fire burned, as the fire caused [b] the waters to boile, (that thou mightest declare thy Name to thy aduersaries) the people did tremble at thy presence.

3 When thou didst terrible things, which we looked not for, thou camest downe, and the mountaines melted at thy presence.

4 For since the beginning of the world they haue not [c] heard nor vnderstand with the eare, neither hath the eye seene another God beside thee, which doeth so to him that waiteth for him.

5 Thou didst meete him, [d] that reioyced in thee, and did iustly: they remembred thee in thy [e] wayes: behold, thou art angry, for we haue sinned: yet in [f] them is continuance, and we [g] shall be saued.

6 But we haue all beene as an vncleane thing, and all our [h] righteousnesse is as filthie clouts, and we all doe fade like a leafe, and our iniquities like the winde haue taken vs away.

7 And there is none that calleth vpon thy Name, neither that stirreth vp himselfe to take holde of thee: for thou hast hid thy face from vs, and hast consumed vs because of our iniquities.

a The Prophet continueth his prayer, desiring God to declare his loue toward his Church by miracles, and mighty power, as hee did in mount Sinai.

b Meaning the raine, haile, fire, thunder & lightnings.

c Saint Paul vseth the same kind of admiration, 1. Cor. 2. 9. marueiling at Gods great benefit shewed to his Church by the preaching of the Gospel.

d Thou shewedst fauour toward our fathers, when they trusted in thee, and walked after thy commandements.

e They considered thy great mercies.

f That is, in thy mercies, which he calleth the wayes of the Lord.

g Thou wilt haue pitie vpon vs.

h We are iustly punished and brought into captiuitie, because we haue prouoked thee to anger, and though we would excuse our selues, yet our righteousnesse, and best vertues are before thee as vile clouts, or (as some reade) like the menstruous clothes of a woman.

8 But now, O Lord, thou art our Father: we are the [i] clay, and thou art our potter, and we all are the worke of thine hands.

9 Be not angry, O Lord, [k] aboue measure, neither remember iniquitie for euer: loe, we beseech thee, behold, we are all thy people.

10 [l] Thine holy cities lie waste: Zion is a wildernes, and Ierusalem a desert.

11 The house of our Sanctuary and of our glory, [m] where our fathers praised thee, is burnt vp with fire, and all our pleasant things are wasted.

12 Wilt thou hold thy selfe still [n] at these things, O Lord? wilt thou hold thy peace and afflict vs aboue measure?

i Albeit, O Lord, by thy iust iudgement thou maiest diuerly destroy vs, as the potter may his pot, yet we appeale to thy mercies, whereby it hath pleased thee to adopt vs to be thy children.

k For so the flesh iudgeth, when God doeth not immediatly send succour.

l Which were dedicated to thy seruice, and to call vpon thy Name.

m Wherein we reioyced and worshipped thee.

n That is, at the contempt of thine owne glorie? though our sinnes haue deserued this, yet thou wilt not suffer thy glory thus to be diminished.

CHAP. LXV.

1 The vocation of the Gentiles, and the reiection of the Iewes. 13 The ioy of the elect, and the punishment of the wicked.

I Haue bene sought of them that [a] asked not: I was found of them that sought me not: I said, Behold me, behold me, vnto a nation that called not vpon my Name.

2 I haue spread [b] out mine handes all the day vnto a rebellious people, which walked in a way that was not good, euen after their owne [c] imaginations.

3 A people that prouoked mee euer vnto my face: that sacrificeth in [d] gardens, and burneth incense vpon [e] bricks.

4 Which remaine among the [f] graues, and lodge in the deserts, which eate [g] swines flesh, and the broth of things polluted are in their vessels.

5 Which say, [h] Stand apart, come not neere to me: for I am holier then thou: these are a smoke in my wrath, and a fire that [i] burneth all the day.

6 Behold, it is [k] written before me: I wil not keepe silence, but wil render it and recompense it into their bosome.

7 Your iniquities and the iniquities of your fathers shalbe [l] together (saith the Lord) which haue burnt incense vpon the mountaines, and blasphemed me vpon the hils: therfore will I measure their old worke into their bosome.

8 Thus saith the Lord, As the wine is found in the cluster, and one saith, Destroy it not, for a [m] blessing is in it, so wil I doe for my seruants sakes, that I may not destroy them whole.

9 For I will bring a seed out of Iaakob, and out of Iudah, that shall inherite my mountaine: and mine elect shall inherite it, and my seruants shall dwell there.

10 And [n] Sharon shalbe a sheepefold, and the valley of Achor shall be a resting place for the cattell of my people, that haue sought me.

11 But ye are they that haue forsaken the Lord, and forgotten mine holy mountaine, and haue prepared a table for the [o] multitude, and furnish the drinke offerings vnto the number.

12 Therefore will I [p] number you to the sworde, and all you shall bow downe to the slaughter, because I called, and ye did not answere: I [q] spake, and ye heard not, but did euil in my sight, and did chuse that thing which I would not.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, my seruants shall [r] eate, and yee shall bee hungry: behold, my seruants shall drinke, and yee shall be thirstie: behold, my seruants shall reioyce, and ye shalbe ashamed.

14 Behold, my seruants shall sing for ioy of heart, and yee shall cry for sorrow of heart, and shall howle for vexation of mind.

15 And ye shal leaue your name as a curse vnto my [s] chosen: for the Lord God shall slay you, and call his seruants by [t] another name.

16 Hee that shall blesse in the [u] earth, shall blesse himselfe in the true God, and hee that sweareth in the earth, shall sweare by the true God: for the former [x] troubles are forgotten, and shall surely hide themselues from mine eyes.

17 For loe, I will create [y] newe heauens and a new earth: and the former shall not bee remembred nor come into mind.

18 But be you glad, and reioyce for euer in the things that I shall create: for behold, I will create Ierusalem, as a reioycing, and her people as a ioy.

19 And I will reioyce in Ierusalem, and ioy in my people, and the voyce of weeping shall be no more heard in her, nor the voyce of crying.

20 There shall bee no more there a childe of yeeres, nor an old man that hath [z] not filled his dayes: for hee that shall bee an hundred yeeres old, shall die as a young man: but the sinner being [a] an hundred yeeres old shall bee accursed.

21 And they shall [b] build houses and inhabite them, and they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them.

22 They shall not build, and another inhabite: they shall not plant, and another eate: for as the dayes of the tree are the dayes of my people, and mine elect shall enioy in olde age the worke of their hands.

a Meaning, the Gentiles which knew not God, should seeke after him when he had moued their hearts with his holy Spirit, Rom. 10.20.

b He sheweth the cause of the reiection of the Iewes, because they would not obey him for any admonition of his Prophets, by whom he called them continually and stretched out his hand to draw them.

c He sheweth that to delight in our owne fantasies, is the declining from God, and the beginning of all superstition and idolatrie.

d Which were dedicate to idoles.

e Meaning, their altars, which he thus nameth by contempt.

f To consult with spirits, and to coniure deuils, which was forbidden, Deut. 18.11.

g Which was contrary to Gods commandement, Leuit. 11.7. deut. 14.8.

h He sheweth that hypocrisie is euer ioyned with pride and contempt of others.

i Their punishment shall neuer haue end.

k So that the remembrance thereof cannot bee forgotten.

l Shall be both punished together: and this declareth how the children are punished for their fathers faults: to wit, when the same faults or like are found in them.

m That is, it is profitable: meaning, that God will not destroy the faithfull branches of his vineyard, when he destroyeth the rotten stockes, that is, the hypocrites.

n Which was a plentiful place in Iudea to feede sheepe, as Achor was for cattell.

o By the multitude and number he meaneth their innumerable idoles, of whom they thought they could neuer haue enough.

p Seeing you cannot number your gods, I wil number you with the sworde.

q By my Prophets, whom ye would not obey.

r By these words, Eat and drinke, he meaneth the blessed life of the faithfull, which haue alwayes consolation, and full contentment of all things in their God, though sometimes they lacke these corporall things.

s Meaning, that he would call the Gentiles, who should abhorre euen the very name of the Iewes for their infidelities sake.

t Then by the name of the Iewes.

u By blessing and by sweating is meant the praising of God for his benefits, & the true worshipping of him, which shall not be onely in Iudea, but through all the world.

x I wil no more suffer my Church to be desolate as in times past.

y I wil so alter and change the state of my Church, that it shall seeme to dwell in a new world.

z Meaning, in this wonderfull restauration of the Church, there should be no weakenesse of youth, nor infirmities of age, but all should be fresh, and flourishing: and this is accomplished in the heauenly Ierusalem, when all sinnes shall cease, and the teares shall be wiped away.

a Whereby he sheweth that the infidels and impenitent sinners haue no part of this benediction.

b He propoundeth to the faithfull the blessings which are contained in the Lawe, and so vnder temporall things comprehendeth the spirituall promises.

23 They shall not labour in vaine, nor bring forth in feare: for they are the seed of the blessed of the Lord, and their buds with them.

24 Yea, before they call, I will answere, and whiles they speake, I will heare.

c Reade Chap. 11,6.

25 The c wolfe and the lambe shall feede together, and the lyon shall eate straw like the bullocke: and to the serpent dust shall be his meat. They shall no more hurt nor destroy in all mine holy mountaine, saith the Lord.

CHAP. LXVI.

1 God dwelleth not in temples made with hands. 3 Hee despiseth sacrifices done without mercie and faith. 5 God comforteth them that are troubled for his sake. 19 The vocation of the Gentiles. 23 The perpetuall Sabbath. 24 The punishment of the wicked is everlasting.

* Acts 7.48,49.

THus sayth the Lord, * The a heauen is my throne, and the earth is my footestoole: where is that house that yee will build vnto me? and where is that place of my rest?

a My maiesty is so great, that it filleth both heauen & earth, and therefore cannot be inclosed in a temple like an idole: condemning hereby their vaine confidence, which trusted in the Temple and sacrifices.

2 For all these things hath mine hand made, b and all these things haue beene, saith the Lord: and to him will I looke, euen to him that is poore, and of a c contrite spirit and trembleth at my words.

b Seeing that both the Temple, and the things therein with the sacrifices were made and done by his appointment, he sheweth that he hath no neede thereof, and that he can be without them, Psal. 50,10.

c To him that is humble and pure in heart, which receiueth my doctrine with reuerence and feare.

3 Hee that killeth a bullocke, is as if hee d slew a man: he that sacrificeth a sheepe, as if he cut off a dogges necke: he that offereth an oblation, as if he offered swines blood: he that remembreth incense, as if he blessed an idole: yea, they haue chosen their owne wayes, and their soule delighteth in their abominations.

d Because the Iewes thought themselues holy by offering of their sacrifices, and in the meane season had neither faith nor repentance, God sheweth that he doth no lesse detest these ceremonies, then he doth the sacrifices of the heathen, who offered men, dogs, and swine to their idoles, which things were expressly forbidden in the Law.

4 Therefore will I e chuse out their delusions, and I will bring their feare vpon them: because I called, and none would answere: I spake and they would not heare: but they did euill in my sight, and chose the things which I would not.

e I will discouer their wickednes and hypocrisie, wherewith they thinke to blinde mine eyes, to all the world.

5 Heare the word of the Lord, all yee that tremble at his f word, Your brethren that hated you, and cast you out for my Names sake said, Let the Lord be glorified: but he shall appeare to your ioy, and they shall be ashamed.

f He encourageth the faithfull by promising to destroy their enemies, which pretended to be as brethren, but were hypocrites, and hated them that feared God.

6 g A voice soundeth from the city, euen a voice from the Temple, the voice of the Lord, that recompenseth his enemies fully.

g The enemies shall shortly heare a more terrible voyce, euen fire and slaughter, seeing they would not heare the gentle voyce of the Prophets which called them to repentance.

7 Before h shee trauailed, shee brought forth: and before her paine came, shee was deliuered of a man childe.

h Meaning, that the restauration of the Church should bee so sudden and contrary to all mens opinion, as when a woman is deliuered before she looke for it, and that without paine in trauaile.

8 Who hath heard such a thing? who hath seene such things? shall the earth bee brought forth in one i day? or shall a nation bee borne at once? for assoone as Zion trauailed, she brought forth her children.

i This shall passe the capacitie of man, to see such a multitude that shall come vp at once, meaning, vnder the preaching of the Gospel, whereof they that came vp out of Babylon, were a figure.

9 Shall I k cause to trauel, and not bring forth? shall I cause to bring forth, and shall be barren, saith thy God?

k Declaring hereby, that as by his power and prouidence woman trauaileth and is deliuered: so hath he power to bring forth his Church at his time appointed.

10 Reioyce yee with Ierusalem, and bee glad with her, all ye that loue her: reioyce for ioy with her, all ye that mourne for her,

11 That yee may sucke l and bee satisfied with the brests of her consolation: that ye may milke out and bee delighted with the brightnesse of her glory.

l That ye may reioyce for all the benefites that God bestoweth vpon his Church.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wil extend m peace ouer her like a flood, and the glory of the n Gentiles like a flowing streame: then shall ye sucke, ye shall be o borne vpon her sides, and be ioyfull vpon her knees.

m I will giue her felicitie and prosperitie in great abundance.

n Reade Chap. 60.16.

o Ye shall be cherished as her dearely beloued children.

13 As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you, and yee shall be comforted in Ierusalem.

14 And when ye see this, your hearts shall reioyce, and your p bones shall flourish like an herbe: and the hand of the Lord shall be knowen among his seruants, and his indignation against his enemies.

p Ye shall haue new strength and new beautie.

15 For beholde, the Lord will come with fire, and his charets like a whirlewind, that he may q recompense his anger with wrath, and his indignation with the flame of fire.

q This vengeance God began to execute at the destruction of Babylon, and hath euer continued it against the enemies of his Church, and will doe till the last day, which shall be the accomplishment thereof.

16 For the Lord will iudge with fire, and with his sword all flesh, and the slaine of the Lord shalbe many.

17 They that sanctifie r themselues, and purifie themselues in the gardens behinde one tree in the middes eating f Swines flesh, and such abomination, euen the Mouse, shalbe consumed together, saith the Lord.

r Meaning, the hypocrites.

f Whereby are meant them that did maliciously transgresse the Law, by eating beasts forbidden, euen to the mouse, which nature abhorreth.

18 For I will visite their workes, and their imaginations: for it shall come that I will gather all nations and tongues, and they shall come, and see my s glory.

s The Gentiles shall be partakers of that glorie, which before I shewed to the Iewes.

19 And I will set a u signe among them, and will send those that x escape of them vnto the nations of y Tarshish, z Pul, and a Lud, and to them that draw the b bowe, to c Tubal and d Iauan, yles afarre off, that haue not heard my fame, neither haue seene my glory, and e they shall declare my glory among the Gentiles.

u I will marke these that I chuse, that they perish not with the rest of the infidels: whereby he alludeth to the marking of the posts of his people, whom hee preserued, Exod. 12.7.

x I will scatter the rest of the Iewes, which escape destruction, into diuers nations.

y That is, Cilicia.

z Meaning, Affrica.

20 And they shall bring all your f brethren for an offring vnto the Lord out of all nations, vpon g horses, & in charets, and in horse litters, and vpon mules, and swift beastes, to Ierusalem mine holy mountaine, saith the Lord, as the children of Israel offer in a cleane vessell in the house of the Lord.

a To wit, Lydia, or Asia minor. b Signifying, the Parthians. c Italy. d Grecia. e Meaning, the Apostles, Disciples, and others, which he did chuse of the Iewes to preach vnto the Gentiles. f That is, the Gentiles, which by faith shall be made the children of Abraham, as you are. g Whereby he meaneth that no necessary meanes shall want, when God shal call the Gentiles to the knowledge of the Gospel.

21 And

21 And I will take of them for [h] Priestes, and for Leuites, saith the Lord.

22 For as the new [i] heauens, and the new earth which I will make, shall remaine before me, saith the Lord, so shall your seed and your name continue.

23 And from moneth to moneth, and from Sabbath to Sabbath shall all flesh come to worship before me, saith the Lord.

24 And they shall goe forth, and looke vpon the [k] carkeises of the men that haue transgressed against me: for their [l] worme shall not die, neither shal their fire be quenched, and they shalbe an abhorring [m] vnto all flesh.

h To wit, of the Gentiles, as he did Luke, Timothie, and Titus first, and others after to preach his word.

i Hereby be signified the kingdome of Christ wherein his Church shalbe renewed, and whereas before there were appointed seasons to sacrifice: in this there shall be one continuall Sabbath, so that all times and seasons shall be meet.

k As hee hath declared the felicitie that shall be within the Church for the comfort of the godly, so doeth he shew what horrible calamitie shall come to the wicked that are out of the Church.

l Meaning, a continuall torment of conscience, which shall euer gnawe them, and neuer suffer them to be at rest. Marke 9.44.

m This is the iust recompence for the wicked, which contemning God and his word, shall bee by Gods iust iudgement abhorred of all his creatures.

Ieremiah.

The Argvment.

THe Prophet Ieremiah borne in the citie of Anathoth in the countrey of Beniamin, was the sonne of Hilkiah, whom some thinke to bee he that found out the booke of the Law, and gaue it to Iosiah. This Prophet had excellent gifts of God, and most euident reuelations of prophecie, so that by the comandement of the Lord he began very yong to prophesie, that is, in the thirteenth yeere of Iosiah, and continued eighteene yeere vnder the said King, and three moneths vnder Iehoahaz, & vnder Iehoiakim eleuen yeeres, and three moneths vnder Iehoiachin, and vnder Zedekiah eleuen yeres, vnto the time that they were caried away into Babylon. So that the time amounteth to aboue fourtie yeere, besides the time that he prophesied after the captiuity. In this booke he declareth with teares and lamentation, the destruction of Ierusalem, and the captiuitie of the people for their idolatrie, couetousnes, subtiltie, crueltie, excesse, rebellion and contempt of Gods word, and for the consolation of the Church, reuealeth the iust time of their deliuerance. And here chiefly are to be considered three things. First, the rebellion of the wicked, which waxe more stubburne and obstinate, when the Prophets doe admonish them most plainly of their destruction. Next, how the Prophets and ministers of God ought not to be discouraged in their vocation, though they bee persecuted and rigourously handled of the wicked for Gods cause. And thirdly though God shew his iust iudgement against the wicked, yet will he euer shew himselfe a preseruer of his Church, and when all meanes seeme to mans iudgement to be abolished, then will he declare himselfe victorious in preseruing his.

CHAP. I.

1 In what time Ieremiah prophesied. 6 He acknowledgeth his imperfection, and is strengthened of the Lord. 11 The Lord sheweth him the destruction of Ierusalem. 17 Hee commaundeth him to preach his word without feare.

THe [a] words of Ieremiah the sonne of [b] Hilkiah one of the Priests that were at [c] Anathoth in the land of Beniamin.

2 To whom the [d] word of the Lord came in the dayes of Iosiah the soune of Amon King of Iudah, in the thirteenth yeere of his reigne:

3 And also in the dayes of Iehoiakim the [e] sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, vnto the end of the eleuenth yeere of Zedekiah, the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, euen vnto the caryng away of Ierusalem captiue in the fift [f] moneth.

4 Then the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

5 Before I [g] formed thee in the wombe, I knew thee, and before thou camest out of the wombe, I sanctified thee, and ordeined thee to be a Prophet vnto the [h] nations.

6 Then said I, [i] Oh, Lord God, behold, I cannot speak, for I am a childe.

7 But the Lord said vnto mee, Say not, I am a childe: for thou shalt goe to all that I shall send thee, and whatsoeuer I command thee, shalt thou speake.

8 Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

9 Then the Lord stretched out his hand and [k] touched my mouth, and the Lord sayd vnto mee, Behold, I haue put my words in thy mouth.

10 Behold, this day haue I set thee ouer the [l] nations and ouer the kingdomes, to plucke vp, and to roote out, and to destroy and throw downe, to build, and to plant.

11 After this the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying, Ieremiah, what seest thou? And I said, I see a [m] rod of an almond tree.

12 Then sayd the Lord vnto mee, Thou hast seene aright: for I wil hasten my word to performe it.

13 Againe the word of the Lord came vnto mee the second time, saying, What seest thou? And I said, I see a [n] seething pot looking out of the North.

a That is, the sermons and prophecies.

b Which is thought to be he that found the booke of the Law vnder king Iosiah, 2. King. 22, 8.

c This was a citie about three miles distant from Ierusalem, and belonged to the Priests, the sonnes of Aaron, Iosh. 21. 18.

d This is spoken to confirme his vocation and office: for as much as he did not presume of himselfe to preach and prophesie, but was called thereunto by God.

e Meaning the nephew of Iosiah: for Iehoahaz was his father, who reigned but three moneths, and therefore is not mentioned, no more is Ioachin that reigned no longer.

f Of the eleuenth yeere of Zedekiah, who was also called Mattaniah, and at this time the Iewes were caried away into Babylon by Nebuchad-nezzar.

g The Scripture vseth this manner of speach, to declare that God hath appointed his ministers to their offices before they were borne, as Isai. 49. 1. gal. 1. 15.

h For Ieremiah did not onely prophesie against the Iewes, but also against the Egyptians, Babylonians, Moabites, and other nations.

i Considering the great burdens of Gods iudgements, which according to his threatnings should come vpon the land, he was moued with a certaine compassion on the one side to pitie them that should thus perish, and on the other side by the infirmitie of mans nature knowing how hard a thing it was to entermedle such a charge. Isai. 6. 11. 1 Cor. 3. 11. and 4. 1.

k Which declareth that God maketh them meet, and alloweth them, whom he calleth to his holie ministerie, giuing them all meanes necessarie for the same, Exod. 4. 12. Esaie 6. 7.

l He sheweth what is the authority of Gods true ministers, which by his word haue power to beate downe and to build vp.

m Hee inforceth the signe with the word for a more ample confirmation, alluding by the rod of the almond tree, which first budeth, the hastie performance of the Babylonians against the Iewes.

n Signifying, that the Caldeans Assyrians should be as a pote to seethe the Iewes, which should not escape their plagues and iudges.

14 Then said the Lord vnto me, Out of the [o] North shall a plague be spred vpon all the inhabitants of the land,

15 For loe, I will call all the families of the kingdomes of the North, saith the Lord, and they shall come, and euery one shal set his throne in the entring of the gates of Ierusalem, and on all the walles therof round about, and in all the cities of Iudah.

16 And I will declare vnto them my [p] iudgements touching all the wickednesse of them that haue forsaken me, and haue burnt incense vnto other gods, and worshipped the workes of their owne hands.

17 Thou therefore trusse vp thy loynes, and arise and speake vnto them all that I command thee: be not afraid of their faces, lest I [q] destroy thee before them.

18 For I, beholde, I this day haue made thee a defenced citie, and an [r] yron pillar and walles of brasse against the whole lande, against the Kings of Iudah, and against the princes thereof, against the Priests therof and against the people of the land.

19 For they shall fight against thee, but they shall not preuaile against thee: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

o Syria & Assyria were Northward in respect of Ierusalem, which were the Caldeans dominion.

p I will giue them charge and power to execute my vengeance against the idolaters, which haue forsaken me for their idoles.

q Which declareth that Gods vengeance is prepared against them, which dare not execute their duetie faithfully, either for feare of man, or for any other cause, 1.Cor.9.16.

r Signifying on the one part, that the more that Satan, and the world rage against Gods ministers, the more present will he be to helpe them, Ioth.1.5.heb.13.5. and on the other part, that they are vtterly vnmeete to serue God, and his Church, which are afraide, and doe not resist wickednesse, what soeuer danger depend thereon, Isa.50.7.Ezek.3.8.

CHAP. II.

2 God rehearseth his benefits done vnto the Iews. 8 Against the Priests and false Prophets, 12 The Iewes are destroyed, because they forsake God.

MOreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Goe, and cry in the eares of Ierusalem, saying, Thus saith the Lord, I remember thee, with the [a] kindnesse of thy youth and the loue of thy marriage, when thou wentest after me in the wildernesse [b] in a land that was not sowen.

3 Israel was as a thing [c] hallowed vnto the Lord, and his first fruites: all they [d] that eat it, shall offend: euill shall come vpon them, saith the Lord.

4 Heare ye the word of the Lord, O house of Iaakob, and all the families of the house of Israel.

5 Thus saith the Lord, What iniquitie haue your Fathers found in me, that they are gone [e] farre from me, and haue walked after vanitie, and are become [f] vaine?

6 For they sayd not, Where is the Lord that brought vs vp out of the land of Egypt? that led vs thorow the wildernesse, thorow a desert, and waste land, thorow a drie land, and [g] by the shadow of death, by a land that no man passed thorow, and where no man dwelt?

7 And I brought you into a plentifull countrey, to eat the fruit therof, and the commodities of the same: but when ye entred, ye defiled [h] my land, and made mine heritage an abomination.

8 The Priests said not, [i] Where is the Lord? and they that should minister the [k] Law, knew mee not: the [l] pastours also offended against me, & the prophets prophelied in [m] Baal, and went after things that did not profit.

9 Wherefore I will yet [n] pleade with you, saith the Lord, and I will plead with your childrens children.

10 For goe yee to the Iles of [o] Chittim, and beholde, and send vnto [p] Kedar, and take diligent heed, and see whether there bee such things.

11 Hath any nation changed their gods, which yet are no gods? but my people haue changed their [q] glory, for that which doth not [r] profite.

12 O ye [r] heauens, be astonied at this: be afraid and vtterly confounded, saith the Lord.

13 For my people haue committed two euils: they haue forsaken me [t] the fountaine of liuing waters, to dig them pits, euen broken pits, that can hold no water.

14 Is Israel a [u] seruant, or is he borne in the house? why then is he spoiled?

15 The [x] Lyons roared vpon him and yelled, and they haue made his land waste: his cities are burnt without [y] an inhabitant.

16 Also the children of [z] Noph and Tahapanes haue [a] broken thine head.

17 Hast not thou procured this vnto thy selfe, because thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, when he [b] led thee by the way?

18 And what hast thou now to doe in the way of [c] Egypt? to drinke the water of Nilus? or what makest thou in the way of Assur? to drinke the water of the [d] Riuer?

19 Thine owne wickednes shall [e] correct thee, and thy turnings backe shall reproue thee: know therefore and behold, that it is an euill thing, and bitter, that thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, and that my feare is not in thee, saith the Lord God of hostes.

20 For of olde time I haue broken thy yoke, and burst thy bonds, and thou saidest, [f] I will no more transgresse, but like an harlot thou runnest about vpon all high hilles, and b When I had deliuered thee out of Egypt.

c Chosen aboue all other to serue the Lord onely, and the first offered to the Lord of all other nations.

d Whosoeuer did challenge this people, or vex did annoy them, was punished.

e That is, fallen to most vile idolatrie.

f Altogether giuen to vanitie, and are become blinde and insensible, as the idoles that they serue.

h By your idolatrie, and wicked maners, Psal.78 58 & 106.38.

i They taught not the people to seek after God.

k As the Scribes, which should haue expounded the Law to the people.

l Meaning, the princes & ministers, signifying, that all estates were corrupt.

m That is, spake vaine things, and brought the people from the true worship of God, to serue idoles, for by Baal, which was the chief idole of the Moabites, are meant all idoles.

n Signifying, that he would not as hee might, straightway condemne them, but sheweth them by euident examples their great ingratitude, that they might be ashamed, and repent.

o Meaning, the Grecians and Italians.

p Ment Arabia.

q That is, God which is their glory, and who maketh them glorious aboue all other people, reproouing the Iewes, that they were lesse diligent to serue the true God, then were the idolaters to honour their vanities.

r Meaning, the idoles which were their destruction, Psal. 106.36.

s He sheweth, that the insensible creatures abhorre this vile ingratitude, and as it were, tremble for feare of Gods great iudgements against the same.

t Signifying, that when men forsake Gods word, which is the fountaine of life, they reiect God himselfe, and so fall to their owne inuentions, and vaine confidence, and procure to themselues destruction, Ionah 2.8. Zech.10.2.

u Haue I ordered them like seruants, and not like dearely beloued children? Exod.4.22. therefore it is their fault onely, if the enemie spoile them.

c To seeke helpe of man, as though God were not able enough to defend thee, which is to drinke of the puddles, and to leaue the fountaine, reade Isa.31.1.

vnder all greene trees.

21 Yet I had planted thee, a noble vine, whose † plants were all natural: how then art thou turned vnto mee into the plants of a strange vine?

22 Though thou wash thee with g nitre, and take thee much sope, yet thine iniquitie is marked before me, sayth the Lord God.

23 How canst thou say, I am not polluted, neither haue I h followed Baalim? behold thy wayes in the valley, and know, what thou hast done: thou art like a swift i dromedarie, that runneth by his wayes:

24 And as a wild k asse, vsed to the wildernesse, that sucketh vp the winde by occasion at her pleasure: who can turne her backe? all they that seeke her, wil not weary themselues, but will finde her in her l moneth.

25 Keepe thou thy feete from m barenesse, and thy throat from thirst: but thou saidest desperately, No, for I haue loued strangers, and them will I follow.

26 As the n theefe is ashamed, when hee is found, so is the house of Israel ashamed, they, their Kings, their Princes, and their Priests, and their Prophets,

27 Saying to a tree, Thou art my o father, and to a stone, Thou hast begotten me: for they haue turned their backe vnto me, and not their face: but in the time of their trouble they will say, Arise, and helpe vs.

28 But where are thy gods that thou hast made thee? let them arise, if they can helpe thee in the time of thy trouble: for according p to the number of thy cities, are thy gods, O Iudah.

29 Wherefore will q ye plead with me? ye all haue rebelled against me, saith the Lord.

30 I haue smitten your children in vaine, they receiued no correction: your r owne sword hath deuoured your Prophets like a destroying lyon.

31 O generation, take heed to the word of the Lord: haue I bene as s a wildernesse vnto Israel? or a land of darkenesse? Wherefore saith my people then, We are lords, t we will come no more vnto thee?

32 Can a maide forget her ornament, or a bride her attire? yet my people haue forgotten me, dayes without number.

33 Why doest thou prepare thy way, to u seeke amitie? euen therefore will I teach thee, that thy wayes are wickednesse.

34 Also in thy x wings is found the blood of the soules of the poore innocents: I haue not found it in holes, but vpon all these places.

35 Yet thou sayest, Because I am guiltlesse, surely his wrath shall turne from me: behold, I will enter with thee into iudgement, because thou sayest, I haue not sinned.

36 Why runnest thou about so much to change thy wayes? for thou shalt be confounded of Egypt, y as thou art confounded of Asshur.

37 For thou shalt goe forth from thence, and thine hands vpon z thine head, because the Lord hath reiected thy confidence, and thou shalt not prosper thereby.

CHAP. III.

God calleth his people vnto repentance. 14 He promiseth the restitution of his Church. 20 He reproueth Iudah and Israel, comparing them to a woman disobedient to her husband.

THey a say, If a man put away his wife, and shee goe from him, and become another mans, shall hee returne againe vnto her? shall not this land b be polluted? but thou hast played the harlot with many c louers: yet d turne againe to me, sayth the Lord.

2 Lift vp thine eyes vnto the high places, and behold, where thou hast not played the harlot: thou hast sit waiting for them in the wayes, as the e Arabian in the wildernesse: and thou hast polluted the land with thy whoredomes, and with thy malice.

3 Therefore the showres haue beene restrained, and the f latter raine came not, and thou hadest a s whores forehead: thou wouldest not be ashamed.

4 Diddest thou not still crie h vnto me, Thou art my father, and the guide of my youth?

5 Will he keepe his anger for euer? will he reserue it to the end? thus hast thou spoken, but thou doest euill, euen more and more.

6 The Lorde sayde also vnto me, in the dayes of Iosiah the King, Hast thou seene what this rebell i Israel hath done? for shee hath gone vp vpon euery high mountaine, and vnder euery greene tree, and there played the harlot.

7 And I said, when shee had done all this, Turne thee vnto me: but she returned not, as her rebellious sister Iudah sawe.

8 When I sawe, how that by all occasions rebellious Israel had played the harlot, I cast k her away, and gaue her a bill of diuorcement: yet her rebellious sister Iudah was not afraid, but she went also, and played the harlot.

9 So that for the l lightnesse of her whoredome shee hath euen defiled the land:

for † Ebr. seed was all true.

g Though thou vse all the purifications and ceremonies of the Law, thou canst not escape punishment, except thou turne to me by faith and repentance.

h Meaning, that hypocrites denie that they worship the idoles, but that they honour God in them, and therefore they cal their doings Gods seruice.

i He compareth the idolaters to these beasts, because they neuer cease running to and fro: for both valleys and hils are full of their idolatrie.

k He compareth the idolaters to a wilde asse: for she can neuer be tamed, nor yet wearied: for as she runneth she can take her winde at euery occasion.

l That is, when she is with foale: and therefore the hunters waite their time: so though thou canst not be turned backe now from thine idolatrie, yet when thine iniquitie shall be at the full, God will meet with thee.

m Hereby he warneth them that they should not goe into strange countreys to seeke helpe: for they should but spend their labour, and hurt themselues, which is here meant by the bare foote and thirst, Isa 57.10.

n As a theefe will not acknowledge his fault till he be taken with the deed, and ready to be punished, so they will not confesse their idolatrie, till the plagues x The Prophets and the faithfull are slaine in euery corner of your countrey.

y For the Assyrians had taken away the tenne tribes out of Israel, and destroyed Iudah, euen vnto Ierusalem: and the Egyptians slew Iosiah and vexed the Iewes in sundrie sorts.

z In signe of lamentation, as 2. Sam. 13. 19.

a According as it is written, Deut. 24. 4.

b If he take such one to wife againe.

c That is, with idoles, and with them whom they hast put thy confidence in.

d And I will not cast thee off, but receiue thee, according to my mercie.

e Which dwelleth in tents, and waiteth for them that passe by to spoile them.

f As God threatned by his Law, Deut. 28. 24.

g Thou wouldest neuer be ashamed of thine actes and repent: and this impudencie is common to idolaters, which will not giue ouer, though they be neuer so manifestly conuicted.

h He sheweth that the wicked in their miseries will crie vnto God, and vse outward prayer as the godly doe, but because they turne not from their euill, they are not heard, Isa 58. 3, 4.

i Meaning the ten tribes.

k And gaue her vnto the hands of the Assyrians.

l The Ebrew word may either signifie lightnesse and whoredome of mens minds.

due to the same light vpon them. o Meaning, that idolaters spoile God of his honour: and whereas he hath taught to call him the father of all flesh, they attribute this title to their idoles. p Thou thoughtest that thy gods of blockes and stones could haue holpen thee, because they were many in number, and present in euery place: but now let vs see whether either the multitude, or their presence can deliuer thee from my plague. Chap. 11. 13. q As though I did you iniurie in punishing you, seeing that your faults are so euident. r That is, you haue killed your Prophets that exhorted you to repentance, as Zechariah, Iosiah, &c. s Haue I not giuen them abundance of all things? t But will trust in our owne power and policie. u With strangers.

for she hath committed fornication with stones and stockes.

10 Neuertheless for all this, her rebellious sister Iudah hath not returned vnto mee with [m] her whole heart, but fainedly, saith the Lord.

11 And the Lord said vnto me, The rebellious Israel hath [n] iustified her selfe more then the rebellious Iudah.

12 Goe and cry these words toward [o] the North, and say, Thou disobedient Israel, returne, sayth the Lord, and I will not let my wrath fall vpon you: for I am mercifull, saith the Lord, and I will not alway keepe mine anger.

13 But know thine iniquitie: for thou hast rebelled against the Lord thy God, and hast [p] scattered thy wayes to the strange gods vnder euery greene tree, but ye would not obey my voice, saith the Lord.

14 O yee disobedient children, turne againe, saith the Lord, for I am your Lord, and I will take you one of a city, and two of a tribe, and will bring you to Zion,

15 And I will giue you pastors according to mine heart, which shal feed you with knowledge and vnderstanding.

16 Moreouer, when yee be increased and multiplyed in the land, in those dayes, saith the Lord, they shall say no more, The [q] Arke of the couenant of the Lord: for it shall come no more to minde, neither shal they remember it, neither shall they visite it, for that shall be no more done.

17 At that time they shall call Ierusalem, [r] The throne of the Lord, and all the nations shall be gathered vnto it, euen to the Name of the Lord in Ierusalem: and thencefoorth they shal follow no more the hardnesse of their wicked heart.

18 In those dayes the house of Iudah shall walke with the house of Israel, and they shall come together out of the land of the [s] North into the land, that I haue giuen for an inheritance vnto your fathers.

19 But I said, How did I take thee for children and giue thee a pleasant land, euen the glorious heritage of the armies of the heathen, and said, Thou shalt call me, saying, My father, and shalt not returne from me?

20 But as a woman rebelleth against her [t] husband: so haue yee rebelled against me, O house of Israel, saith the Lord.

21 [u] A voice was heard vpon the hie places, weeping and supplications of the children of Israel: for they haue peruerted their way, and forgotten the Lord their God.

22 O ye disobedient children, returne and I will heale your rebellions. [x] Behold, wee come vnto thee, for thou art the Lord our God.

23 Truely the hope of the hilles is but vaine, nor the multitude of mountaines: but in the Lord our God is the health of Israel.

24 For confusion hath deuoured our [y] fathers labour, from our youth their sheepe and their bullockes, their sonnes and their daughters.

25 Wee lie downe in our confusion, and our shame couereth vs: [z] for wee haue sinned against the Lord our God, we and our fathers from our youth, euen vnto this day, and haue not obeyed the voice of the Lord our God.

CHAP. IIII.

1 True repentance. 4 Hee exhorteth to the circumcision of the heart. 5 The destruction of Iudah is prophecied, for the malice of their hearts. 19 The Prophet lamenteth it.

O Israel, if thou returne, [a] returne vnto me, saith the Lord: and if thou put away thine abominations out of my sight, then shalt thou not remooue.

2 And thou shalt [b] sweare, The Lord liueth in trueth, in iudgement, and in righteousnesse, and the nations shall bee blessed in him, and shall glory in him.

3 For thus sayth the Lord to the men of Iudah, and to Ierusalem,

4 Breake vp [c] your fallow ground, and sowe not among the thornes: be circumcised to the Lord, and take away the foreskinnes of your hearts, ye men of Iudah, and inhabitants of Ierusalem, lest my wrath come foorth like fire, and burne, that none can quench it, because of the wickednesse of your inuentions.

5 [d] Declare in Iudah, and shew foorth in Ierusalem, and say, Blow the trumpet in the land: crie, and gather together, and say, Assemble your selues, and let vs goe into strong cities.

6 Set vp the standard in Zion: [e] prepare to flee, and stay not: for I will bring a plague from the North, and a great destruction.

7 The [f] lion is come vp from his denne, and the destroyer of the Gentiles is departed, and gone foorth of his place to lay thy lande waste, and thy cities shalbe destroyed without an inhabitant.

8 Wherefore gird you with sackecloth: lament and howle, for the fierce wrath of the Lord is not turned backe from vs.

9 And in that day, sayth the Lorde, the heart of the King shall perish, and the heart of the princes and the Priests shall be astonished, and the [g] Prophets shall wonder.

10 Then said I, Ah, Lorde God, surely thou hast [h] deceiued this people & Ierusalem, saying,

m Iudah fained for a time that she did returne, as vnder Iosiah and other good Kings, but shee was neuer truely touched, or wholly reformed, as appeared when occasion was offered by any wicked prince.
n Israel hath not declared her selfe so wicked as Iudah which yet hath had more admonitions and examples to call her to repentance.
o Where as the Israelites were now kept in captiuitie by the Assyrians, to whom he promiseth mercy, if they will repent.
p There was no way, which thou didst not haunt to seeke after the idoles, and to trot a pilgrimage.

q This is to be vnderstood of the comming of Christ: for then they shall not seeke the Lord by ceremonies, and all figures shall cease.
r Meaning the Church, where the Lord will be present to the worlds end, Mat. 28.20.

s Where they are now in captiuitie.
t The Ebrew word signifieth a friend or companion, and here may be taken for a husband, as it is vsed also, Hosea 3.1.
u Signifying, that God, whom they had forsaken, would bring their enemies vpon them, who should lead them captiue and make them to cry and lament.
x This is spoken in the person of Israel to the Lorde of Iude, which stayed so long to turne vnto God.

y For their idolatrie Gods vengeance hath light vpon them and theirs.
z They iustifie not themselues, or say that they would follow their fathers, but condemne their wicked doings and desire forgiuenesse of the same, as Ezra 9.7. psal. 106, 6, Isa 64.6.

a That is, wholly and without hypocrisie, Joel. 2.12. not dissembling to turne and serue God, as they do which serue him by halues, as Hose. 7.16.
b Thou shalt detest the name of idols, Psal. 16.4. and shalt with reuerence sweare by the liuing God, when this oath may aduance Gods glory, and profite others: and hereby, sweating he meaneth the true religion of God.
c Hee willeth them to plucke vp the impietie and wicked affection, & worldly respects out of their heart, that the true seede of Gods word may be sowen therein, Hose. 10.12. and this is the true circumcision of the heart, Deut. 10.16. rom. 2. 29 col. 2.11.
d He warneth them of the great dangers that shall come vpon them by the Caldeans, except they repent and turne to the Lord.
e He speaketh this to admonish them of the great danger when euery man shall prepare to saue himselfe, but it shall be too late, 2. King 25.4.
f Meaning, Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babylon, 2 King. 24.1.
g That is, the false prophets, which flatter and securitie.
h By the false prophets, which promised peace and tranquilitie: and thus thou hast punished their rebellious stubbornesse, by causing them to hearken vnto lyes, which would not beleeue thy trueth, 1. King. 22.23. Ezek. 14.9. 2. Thess. 2.11.

saying,

saying, Yee shall haue peace, and the sword pierceth vnto the heart.

11 At that time shall it be said to this people and to Ierusalem, A drie [i] winde in the hie places of the wildernesse commeth toward the daughter of my people, but neither [k] to fanne nor to cleanse.

12 A mightie winde shall come vnto mee from those places, and now will I also giue sentence vpon them.

13 Beholde, hee shall come vp as the [l] clouds, and his charets shall be as a tempest: his horses are lighter then eagles: [m] Woe vnto vs, for we are destroyed.

14 O Ierusalem, wash thine heart from wickednesse, that thou mayest be saued: how long shall thy wicked thoughts remaine within thee?

15 For a voice declareth from [n] Dan, and publisheth affliction from mount [o] Ephraim.

16 Make yee mention of the heathen, and publish in Ierusalem, Beholde, the skoutes come from a farre countrey, & crie out against the cities of Iudah.

17 They haue compassed her about as the [p] watchmen of the field, because it hath prouoked me vnto wrath, sayth the Lord.

18 Thy wayes and thine inuentions haue procured thee these things, such is thy wickednesse: therefore it shall be bitter, therefore it shall pierce vnto thine heart.

19 My belly, [q] my belly, I am pained, euen at the very heart: mine heart is troubled within me: I cannot be still: for my soule hath heard the sound of the trumpet, and the alarme of the battell.

20 Destruction vpon destruction is cryed, for the whole land is wasted: suddenly are my [r] tents destroyed, and my curtaines in a moment.

21 How long shall I see the standard and heare the sound of the trumpet?

22 For my people is foolish, they haue not knowen mee: they are foolish children, and haue none vnderstanding: [s] they are wise to doe euill, but to doe well they haue no knowledge.

23 I haue looked vpon the earth, and loe, it was without forme and [t] voide: and to the heauens, and they had no light.

24 I beheld the mountaines: and loe, they trembled, and all the hilles shooke.

25 I beheld, and loe, there was no man, and all the birdes of the heauen were departed.

26 I beheld, and loe, the fruitfull place was a wildernesse, and all the cities thereof were broken downe at the presence of the Lord, and by his fierce wrath.

27 For thus hath the Lord said, The whole land shall be desolate: yet will I [u] not make a full ende.

28 Therefore shall the earth mourne, and the heauens aboue shall be darkened, because I haue pronounced it: I haue thought it, and will not repent, neither will I turne backe from it.

29 The whole citie shall flee, for the noise of the horsemen and bowmen: they shall goe into thickets, and climbe vp vpon the rockes: euery citie shall bee forsaken, and not a man dwell therein.

30 And when thou shalt be destroyed, what wilt thou doe? Though thou [x] clothest thy selfe with scarlet, though thou deckest thee with ornaments of gold, though thou paintest thy face with colours, yet shalt thou trimme thy selfe in vaine: for thy louers will abhorre thee and seeke thy life.

31 For I haue heard a noise as of a woman trauailing, or as one labouring of her first child, euen the voice of the daughter Zion that sigheth and stretcheth out her hands: [y] woe is me now: for my soule fainteth because of the murtherers.

CHAP. V.

1 In Iudah no righteous man is found neither among the people nor the rulers. 15 Wherefore Iuda is destroyed of the Caldeans.

RUnne to and fro by the streetes of Ierusalem, and behold now, and know, and inquire in the open places thereof if yee can finde a man, or if there be any that executeth iudgement, and seeketh the trueth, and I will spare [a] it.

2 For though they say, The [b] Lord liueth, yet doe they sweare falsely.

3 O Lord, are not thine eyes vpon the [c] trueth? thou hast [d] stricken them, but they haue not sorowed: thou hast consumed them, but they haue refused to receiue correction: they haue made their faces harder then a stone, and haue refused to returne.

4 Therefore I said, Surely they are poore, they are foolish, for they knew not the way of the Lord, nor the iudgement of their God.

5 I will get me vnto the [e] great men, and will speake vnto them: for they haue knowen the way of the Lorde, and the iudgement of their God: but these haue altogether broken the yoke, and burst the bonds.

6 Wherefore [f] a Lyon out of the forrest shall slay them, and a woolfe of the wildernesse shall destroy them: a Leopard shall watch ouer their cities: euery one that goeth out thence, shalbe torne in pieces, because their trespasses are many, and their rebellions are increased.

18 The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead the dough to make cakes to [i] the queene of heauen, and to powre out drinke offerings vnto other gods, that they may prouoke me vnto anger.

19 Doe they prouoke me to anger, saith the Lord, and not themselues to the confusion of their owne faces?

20 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, mine anger and my wrath shall be powred vpon this place, vpon man and vpon beast, and vpon the tree of the field, and vpon the fruit of the ground, and it shall burne and not be quenched.

21 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Put your burnt offerings vnto your sacrifices, and eate the flesh.

22 For [k] I spake not vnto your fathers, nor commanded them, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offerings and sacrifices.

23 But this thing commanded I them, saying, Obey my voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people: and walke yee in all the wayes which I haue commaunded you, that it may be well vnto you.

24 But they would not obey, nor incline their eare, but went after the counsels and the stubbornnesse of their wicked heart, and went backeward and not forward.

25 Since the day that your fathers came vp out of the land of Egypt, vnto [l] this day I haue euen sent vnto you all my seruants the Prophets, [m] rising vp earely euery day, and sending them.

26 Yet would they not heare me nor encline their eare, but hardened their necke and did worse then their fathers.

27 Therefore shalt thou speake all these wordes vnto them, but they [n] will not heare thee: thou shalt also crie vnto them, but they will not answere thee.

28 But thou shalt say vnto them, This is a nation that heareth not the voice of the Lord their God, nor receiueth discipline: trueth is perished, & is cleane gone out of their mouth.

29 Cut off thine [o] haire, O Ierusalem, and cast it away, and take vp a complaint on the hie places: for the Lord hath reiected and forsaken the generation of his [p] wrath.

2 Oh, that I had in the wildernesse a [b] cottage of wayfaring men, that I might leaue my people, and goe from them: for they be all [c] adulterers, and an assembly of rebels, c Vtterly turned from God.

3 And they bend their tongues like their bowes for [d] lies: but they haue no courage for the trueth vpon the earth: for they proceed from euill to worse, and they haue not knowen mee, saith the Lord.

d To belie and slaunder their neighbours.

4 Let euery one take heede of his neighbour, and trust you not in any [e] brother: for euery brother will vse deceit, and euery friend will deale deceitfully, e Meaning, that all were corrupt and none could finde an honest man. f They haue so practised deceit, that they cannot forsake it, rather forsake God, then leaue their wicked trade. g They haue

5 And euery one will deceiue his friende, and will not speake the trueth: for they [f] haue taught their tongues to speake lies, and take great paines to doe wickedly.

6 Thine habitation is in the mids of deceiuers, [g] because of their deceite they refuse to know me, saith the Lord.

7 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes, Beholde, I will [h] melt them, and trie them: for what should I els doe for the daughter of my people?

h With the fire of affliction.

8 Their tongue [*] is as an arrow shot out, and speaketh deceite: one speaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in his heart he layeth waite for him.

*Psal.28.3. and 120.4.

9 Shall I not visit them for these things, saith the Lord? or shall not my soule bee auenged on such a nation as this?

10 Upon the [i] mountaines will I take vp a weeping and a lamentation, and vpon the faire places of the wildernesse a mourning, because they are burnt vp: so that none can passe through them, neither can men heare the voice of the flocke: both the foule of the aire, and the beast are fled away and gone.

i Signifying, that all the places about Ierusalem should be destroyed.

11 And I wil make Ierusalem an heape, and a den of dragons, and I will make the cities of Iudah waste, without an inhabitant.

12 Who is [k] wise to vnderstand this? and to whom the mouth of the Lorde hath spoken, euen hee shall declare it. Why doeth the land perish, and is burnt vp like a wildernesse, that none passeth through?

k Meaning, that they are all without sense and vnderstanding, and that God hath taken his spirit from them.

13 And the Lorde sayeth, Because they haue forsaken my Lawe, which I set before them, and haue not obeyed my voyce, neither walked thereafter,

14 But haue walked after the stubbernnes of their owne heart, and after Baalims, which [l] their fathers taught them, l He sheweth that the children can not excuse themselues by their fathers: for both father, and childe if they be wicked, shall perish.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Beholde, I will feede this people with wormewood, and giue them waters of gall to [m] drinke:

m Read Chap. 8.14.

16 I will scatter them also among the heathen, whom neither they nor their fathers haue knowen, and I will send a sword after them, till I haue consumed them.

17 Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, Take heede and call for [n] the mourning women, that they may come, and send for skilfull women that they may come, n Seeing you can not lament your own sinnes, call for those foolish women, whom of a superstition you haue to lament for the dead, that they by their fained teares may prouoke you to some sorow.

18 And let them make haste, and let them take vp a lamentation for vs, that our eyes may cast out teares and our eye liddes gush out of water.

o As though they were weary of vs, because of our iniquities, Leu. 18.28. and 20. 22.

19 For a lamentable noise is heard out of Zion, How are we destroyed, and vtterly confounded, for we haue forsaken the land, and our dwellings [o] haue cast vs out.

20 Therefore heare the word of the Lord, O yee women, and let your eares regard the words of his mouth, and [p] teach your daughters to mourne, and euery one her neighbour to lament.

p He deriueth the superstition of the women, which made an art of mourning, and taught to weepe with fained teares.

21 For death is come vp into our [p] windowes, and is entred into our palaces, to q Signifying, that there is no meanes to deliuer the wicked from Gods iudgements: but when they thinke to be most sure, and most far off, then are they soonest taken.

destroy the children without, and the young men in the streetes.

22 Speake, Thus saieth the Lord, The carkaises of men shall lie, euen as the doung vpon the fielde, and as the handfull after the mower, and none shall gather them.

23 Thus saith the Lord, Let not the [r] wise man glory in his wisedome, nor the strong man glory in his strength, neither the rich man glory in his riches.

r For as much as none can saue himselfe by his owne labour or any worldly meanes, he sheweth that it is in vaine to put our trust therein, but that we trust in the Lord, and reioyce in him, who onely can deliuer vs, 1. Cor. 1.31. 2. Cor. 10.17.

24 But let him that glorieth, glory in this, that he vnderstandeth, and knoweth me: for I am the Lord, which [s] shew mercie, iudgement, and righteousnesse in the earth: for in these things I delight, saith the Lord.

s These three points are necessary to know aright: his mercie wherein consisteth our satisfaction: his iudgement, which he executeth continually against the wicked: and his iustice, whereby he defendeth, and maintaineth the faithfull.

25 Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will visite all them, which are [t] circumcised with the vncircumcised:

t Meaning, both Iewes and Gentiles, as in the next verse he sheweth the cause, reade Chap. 4.4.

26 Egypt and Iudah, and Edom, & the children of Ammon, and Moab, and all the vtmost corners of them that dwel in the wildernes: for all these nations are vncircumcised, and all the house of Israel are vncircumcised in the heart.

CHAP. X.

1 The constellations of the starres are not to bee feared. 5 The weakenesse of idoles. 6 Of the power of God. 21 Their Pastors are become bruite beasts.

HEare yee the word of the Lord that hee speaketh vnto you, O house of Israel.

2 Thus saith the Lord, Learne not the way of the heathen, and bee not afraid for the [a] signes of heauen, though the heathen be afraid of such.

a God forbiddeth his people to giue credite or feare the constellations and coniunctions of starres & planets, which haue no power of themselues, but are gouerned by him, and their secret motions, and influences are not known to man, and therefore there can be no certaine iudgment thereof, Deut. 18.9.

3 For the [b] customes of the people are vaine: for one cutteth a tree out of the forrest (which is the worke of the handes of the carpenter) with the axe, b Meaning, not onely in the obseruation of the starres, but their Lawes and ceremonies whereby they continue their idolatry, which is forbidden Deu. 12.30

4 And another decketh it [c] with siluer, and with gold: they fasten it with nailes, and hammers, that it fall not.

c The Prophets vse thus plainely and simply to set forth the vile absurditie of the idolaters, that men might learn to be ashamed of 5 The idoles stand vp as the palme tree, but speake not: they are borne because they cannot go: feare them not, for they cannot doe euill, neither can they doe good.

6 There is none like vnto thee, O Lord: [d] thou art great, and thy Name is great in power.

7 Who would not feare thee: O king of nations? for to thee appertaineth the dominion: for among al the wise men of the Gentiles, and in all their kingdomes there is none like thee.

8 But altogether they dote, and are foolish: for the stocke is a [e] doctrine of vanitie.

that, whereunto their corrupt nature is most subiect, reade Isa. 44.12. d He teacheth the people to lift vp their eyes to God, who hath all power, and therefore ought onely to be feared: and herein hee sheweth them not onely the euill that they ought to eschewe, but the good which they ought to follow, Reuelat. 15.4. e Because the people thought that to haue images, was a meane to serue God, and to bring them to the knowledge of him, he sheweth that nothing more displeaseth God, nor bringeth man into greater errours and ignorance of God: and therefore he calleth them the doctrine of vanitie, the worke of errors, verse 15 and Habak. 2.18. calleth them the teachers of lyes: contrary to that wicked opinion, that they are the bookes of the lay people.

9 Siluer

9 Siluer plates are brought from Tarshish, and golde from [f] Uphaz, for the worke of the workeman, and the handes of the founder: the blew silke, and the purple is their clothing: all these things are made by cunning men.

10 But the Lord is the God of trueth: he is the liuing God, and an euerlasting king: at his anger the earth shall tremble, and the Nations cannot abide his wrath.

11 (Thus shall you say vnto them, The gods [g] that haue not made the heauens and the earth shall perish from the earth, and from vnder these heauens)

12 He hath made the earth by his power, and established the world by his wisedome, and hath stretched out the heauen by his discretion.

13 He giueth by his voyce the multitude of waters in the heauen, & he causeth the cloudes to ascend from the ends of the earth: he turneth lightnings to raine, and bringeth foorth the wind out of his treasures.

14 Euery man is a [h] beast by his owne knowledge: euery founder is confounded by the grauen image: for his melting is but falsehood, and there is no breath therein.

15 They are vanitie, and the worke of errours: in the time of their visitation they shall perish.

16 The [i] portion of Iaakob is not like them: for hee is the maker of all things, and Israel is the rod of his inheritance: the Lord of hosts is his Name.

17 [k] Gather vp thy wares out of the land, O thou that dwellest in the strong place.

18 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, at this time I will throw as with a sling the inhabitants of the land, and will trouble them, and they shall find it so.

19 Wo is me for my destruction, and my grieuous plague: but I thought, Yet it [l] is my sorow, and I will beare it.

20 [m] My tabernacle is destroyed, and all my cordes are broken: my children are gone from me: and are not: there is none to spread out my tent any more, and to set vp my curtaines.

21 For the Pastours [n] are become beasts, and haue not sought the Lord: therefore haue they none vnderstanding: and all the flocks of their pastures are scattered.

22 Behold, the noyse of the bruite is come, and a great commotion out of the [o] North countrey to make the cities of Iudah desolate, and a denne of dragons.

23 O Lord, I know that [p] the way of man is not in himselfe, neither is it in man to walke and to direct his steps.

24 O Lord, correct me, but with [q] iudgement, not in thine anger, lest thou bring mee to nothing.

25 Powre out [r] thy wrath vpon the heathen that know thee not, and vpon the families that call not on thy Name: for they haue eaten vp Iaakob and deuoured him and consumed him, and made his habitation desolate.

f Whereas they found the best gold: shewing that they thought nothing too deere for their idoles: some read Ophir, as 1. Kin. 9. 28.

g This declareth, that all that hard bene in this Chapter spoken of idoles, was to arme the Iewes when they should be in Caldea among the idolaters, and now with one sentence her instructeth them both how to protest their owne religion against the idolaters, and how to answere them to their shame, which should cause them to conuerte, and therefore he writeth this sentence in the Caldeans tongue for a memoriall, whereas all the rest of his writing is Ebrew.

h The more that man thinketh to do any thing wel by his own wisedome, and not as God instructeth him, the more doeth he proue himselfe to be a vile beast.

i By these words Portion & Rod, he signifieth their inheritance: meaning, that God should be all sufficient for them: and that their felicity consisted in him alone, and therefore they ought to renounce all other helpes and succours as of idoles, &c. Deut. 32. 9. psal. 16. 5.

k The Prophet willeth the Iewes to prepare themselues to this captiuitie, shewing that it was now at hand, that they should keele things, wherefore he hath told them.

l It is my iust plague, & therefore I will take it patiently: whereby he teacheth the people how to behaue themselues toward God.

m He sheweth how Ierusalem shall lamente.

n The gouernours and ministers. o Reade Chap. 4. 15. p He speaketh this because that Nebuchad-nezzar purposed to haue made warre against the Moabites and Ammonites, but hearing of Zedekiahs rebellion, he turned his power to goe against Ierusalem, Ezek. 21. 21. therefore the Prophet saith, that this was the Lords direction.

q Considering that God had reuealed vnto him the certitude of their captiuitie, Chap. 7. 16. he onely prayeth, that he would punish them with mercie, which Isaiah calleth in measure, Chap. 27. 8. measuring his rods by their infirmitie, 1. Cor. 10. 13. for here by iudgement is meant not onely the punishment, but also the mercifull moderation of the same, as Chap. 30. 11. r Forasmuch as God cannot onely be knowen and glorified by his mercie, that he vseth toward his children, but also by his iustice in punishing his enemies, he prayeth that his glory may fully appeare both in the one and the other, Psal. 79. 6.

CHAP. XI.

3 A curse of them that obey not the word of Gods couenant. 10 The people of Iudah, following the steps of their fathers, worship strange gods. 15 The Lord forbiddeth Ieremiah to pray for them.

THe word that came to Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Heare ye the words of this couenant, and speake vnto the men of Iudah, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem,

3 And say thou vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, [a] Cursed be the man that obeyeth not the words of this couenant,

4 Which I commanded vnto your fathers, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, from the yron fornace, saying, Obey my voyce, and doe according to all these things, which I command you: so shall ye be my people, and I will be your God,

5 That I may confirme the othe that I haue sworne vnto your fathers to giue them a land which floweth with milke and honie, as appeareth this day, Then answered [b] I and said, So be it, O Lord.

6 Then the Lord said vnto mee, Crie all these words in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem, saying, Heare yee the words of this couenant, and doe them.

7 For I haue protested vnto your fathers, when I brought them vp out of the land of Egypt vnto this day, [c] rising early and protesting, saying, Obey my voyce.

8 Neuertheless they would not obey, nor encline their eare: but euery one walked in the stubburnesse of his wicked [d] heart: therefore I will bring vpon them all the [e] wordes of this couenant, which I commanded them to do, but they did it not.

9 And the Lord said vnto me, A [f] conspicie is found among the men of Iudah, and among the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

10 They are turned backe to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to heare my wordes: and they went after other gods to serue them: thus the house of Israel, and the house of Iudah haue broken my couenant, a He calleth the Iewes to the consideration of Gods mercies, who freely chose them, made a couenant of eternall felicitie with them, and how he euer performed it on his behalfe, and how they euer shewed themselues rebellious and ingrate toward him, and brake it on their part, and so are subiect to the curse of the law, Deut. 27. 26.

b Thus he speaketh in the person of the people, which agreed to the couenant.

c Read Chap. 7. 13.

which I made with their fathers.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lorde, Beholde, I will bring a plague vpon them which they shall not bee able to escape, and though they crie vnto me, [g] I will not heare them.

12 Then shall the cities of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, goe, and crie vnto the gods vnto whom they offer incense, but they shall not bee able to helpe them in time of their trouble.

13 [h] For according to the number of thy cities were thy gods, O Iudah, and according to the number of the streets of Ierusalem haue yee set vp altars of confusion, euen altars to burne incense vnto Baal.

14 Therefore thou shalt not pray [i] for this people, neither lift vp a cry or prayer for them: for when they crie vnto mee in their trouble, I will not heare them.

15 What should my [k] beloued tarie in mine house, seeing they haue committed abomination with many? and the holy flesh [l] goeth away from thee: yet when thou doest euill, thou reioycest.

16 The Lord called thy name, A greene oliue tree, faire, and of goodly fruite: but with [m] noyse and great tumult he hath set fire vpon it, and the branches of it are broken.

17 For the Lord of hostes that planted thee, hath pronounced a plague against thee, for the wickednesse of the house of Israel, and of the house of Iudah, which they haue done, against themselues to prouoke me to anger in offering incense vnto Baal.

18 And the Lord hath taught mee, and I knowe it, euen then thou shewedst mee [n] their practises.

19 But I was like a lambe, or a bullocke, that is brought to the slaughter, [p] I knew not that they had deuised thus against me, saying, Let vs [o] destroy the tree with the fruit thereof, and cut him out of the land of the liuing, that his name may be no more in memorie.

20 But O Lorde of hostes, that iudgest righteously, and triest the reines and the heart, let mee see thy [p] vengeance on them: for vnto thee haue I opened my cause.

21 The Lord therefore speaketh thus of the men of [q] Anathoth, (that seeke thy life, and say, [r] Prophesie not in the Name of the Lord, that thou die not by our hands)

22 Thus therefore saith the Lord of hosts, Behold, I will visite them: the yong men shall die by the sword: their sons and their daughters shall die by famine,

23 And none of them shall remaine: for I will bring a plague vpon the men of Anathoth, euen the yeere of their visitation.

[q] To wit, both the Priests and the rest of the people: for this towne was the Priestes, and they dwelt in it, read Chap. 1.1.

[r] Not that they could not abide to heare God named: (for herein they would shew themselues most holy) but because they could not abide to bee sharpely reproued, and therefore desire to be flattered, Isa. 30.10 and to be maintained in their pleasures, Michah. 2.11, and not to heare vice condemned, Amos 7.12.

CHAP. XII.

1 The Prophet marueileth at the prosperitie of the wicked, although he confesse God to be righteous. 7 The Iewes are forsaken of the Lord. 10 He speaketh against Pastors and Preachers, that seduce the people. 14 The Lord threatneth destruction vnto the nations, that troubled Iudah.

O Lorde, if I dispute with thee, thou art [a] righteous: yet let me talke with thee of thy iudgements: wherefore doeth the way of the wicked [b] prosper? why are all they in wealth that rebelliously transgresse?

2 Thou hast planted them, and they haue taken roote: they grow, and bring foorth fruit: thou art neere in their mouth, and farre from their [c] reines.

3 But thou, Lorde, knowest mee: thou hast seene mee, and tried mine heart toward thee: pull them out like sheepe for the slaughter, and [d] prepare them for the day of slaughter.

4 How long shal the land mourne, and the herbes of euery fielde wither, for the wickednesse of them that dwell therein? the beastes are consumed, and the birds, because they said, [e] He will not see our last end.

5 If thou hast runne with the [f] footemen, and they haue wearied thee, then how canst thou match thy selfe with horses? and if thou thoughtest thy selfe safe in a peaceable lande, what wilt thou doe in the swelling of Iorden?

6 For euen thy brethren, and the house of thy father, euen they haue dealt vnfaithfully with thee, and they haue cryed out altogether vpon thee: but beleeue them not, though they speake faire to thee.

7 I haue forsaken [g] mine house: I haue left mine heritage: I haue giuen the dearely beloued of my soule into the handes of her enemies.

8 Mine heritage is vnto mee, as a [h] lyon in the forrest: it cryeth out against mee, therefore haue I hated it.

9 Shall mine heritage bee vnto mee, as a bird [i] of diuers colours? are not the birdes about her, saying, Come, assemble all the beasts of the field, come to eate her?

10 Many pastors haue destroyed my [k] vineyard, and troden my portion vnder foote: of my pleasant portion they haue made a desolate wildernesse.

[a] The Prophet confesseth God to be iust in all his doings, although man be not able to giue a reason of all his actes.

[b] This question hath bene alway a great tentation to the godly, to see the wicked enemies of God in prosperitie, and his deare children in aduersitie, as Iob. 21.7. Psalm. 37.1. and 73.3. Habac. 1.3.

[c] They professe God in mouth, but denie him in heart, which is here meant by the reines, Ier. 17.9. 13. matth. 15.8.

[d] The Ebrew word is, sanctifie them, meaning, that God would be sanctified in the destruction of the wicked, to whom God for a while giueth prosperitie, that afterwarde they should the more feele his heauie iudgement when they lack their riches, which were a signe of his mercie.

[e] Abusing Gods lenitie, and his promises, they flattered themselues as though God would euer be mercifull, and not vtterly destroy them: therefore they hardened themselues in sinne, till at length the beasts and insensible creatures felt the punishment of their stubborne rebellion against God.

[f] Some thinke that God reproueth Jeremiah in that, that he would reason with him, saying, that if he were not able to match with men, that he were farre vnable to dispute with God. Others, by the footemen, meane them of Anathoth, and by the horsemen them of Ierusalem, which should trouble the Prophet more then his owne countrymen did.

[g] God willeth the Prophet to denounce his iudgements against Ierusalem, notwithstanding that they shall both by threatnings and flatteries labour to put him to silence.

[h] Euer ramping and raging against mee and my Prophets.

[i] In steade of bearing my liuery and wearing onely my colours, they haue change and diuersitie of colours of their owne, and superstitions: therefore the enemies, as thicke as the fowles of the ayre shall come about them to destroy them.

[k] He prophecieth of the destruction of Ierusalem by the captaines of Nebuchad-nezzar, whom he calleth pastors.

11 They haue laid it waste, and it, being waste, mourneth vnto me: and the whole land lyeth waste, because no man setteth his minde on [l] it.

12 The destroyers are come vpon all the high places in the wildernesse: for the sword of the Lord shall deuoure from the one end of the land, euen to the other end of the land: no flesh shall haue peace.

13 [m] They haue sowen wheat, and reaped thornes: they were [n] sicke, and had no profite: and they were ashamed of [o] your fruites, because of the fierce wrath of the Lord.

14 Thus saith the Lorde against all mine euill [p] neighbours, that touch the inheritance, which I haue caused my people Israel to inherite, Behold, I wil plucke them out of their land, and plucke out the house of Iudah from among them.

15 And after that I haue plucked them out, I [q] will returne, and haue compassion on them, and will bring againe euery man to his heritage, and euery man to his land.

16 And if they will learne the [r] wayes of my people, to sweare by my Name, ([s] The Lord liueth, as they taught my people to sweare by Baal) then shal they be built [t] in the middes of my people.

17 But if they will not obey, then will I vtterly plucke vp, and destroy that nation, saith the Lord.

l Because no man regardeth my word, or the plagues that I haue sent vpon the land.

CHAP. XIII.

The destruction of the Iewes is prefigured. 11 Why Israel was receiued to be the people of God, and why they were forsaken. 15 He exhorteth them to repentance.

THus saith the Lord vnto me, Go, and buy thee a linnen girdle, and put it vpon thy loines, and put it not in water.

2 So I bought the girdle according to the commandement of the Lord, and put it vpon my loines.

3 And the word of the Lord came vnto me the second time, saying,

4 Take the girdle that thou hast bought, which is vpon thy loynes, and arise, goe toward [a] Perath, and hide it there in the cleft of the rocke.

5 So I went, and hid it by Perath, as the Lord had commanded me.

6 And after many daies, the Lord sayde vnto mee, Arise, goe toward Perath, and take the girdle from thence, which I commaunded thee to hide there.

7 Then went I to Perath, and digged, and tooke the girdle from the place where I had hid it, and beholde, the girdle was corrupt, and was profitable for nothing.

8 Then the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

9 Thus saith ỹ Lord, After this maner will I destroy the pride of Iudah, and the great pride of Ierusalem.

10 This wicked people haue refused to heare my worde, and walke after the stubbornesse of their owne heart, and walke after other gods to serue them, and to worship them: therefore they shall be as this girdle, which is profitable to nothing.

11 For as the girdle cleaueth to the loines of a man, so haue I tied to me the whole house of Israel, and the whole house of Iudah, saith the Lord, that they might be my people: that they might haue a name and praise, and glory, but they would not heare.

12 Therefore thou shalt say vnto them this word, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Euery [b] bottell shall be filled with wine, and they shall say vnto thee, Doe wee not know that euery bottell shall be filled with wine?

13 Then shalt thou say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, euen the Kings that sit vpon the throne of Dauid, and the Priests and the Prophets, and all the inhabitants of Ierusalem with drunkennesse.

14 And I [c] will dash them one against another, euen the fathers and the sonnes together, saith the Lord: I will not spare, I will not pitie nor haue compassion, but destroy them.

15 Heare and giue eare, be not proude: for the Lord hath spoken it.

16 Giue glory to the Lord your God, before he bring [d] darkenes, and or euer your feete stumble in the darke mountaines, and whiles you looke for [e] light, hee turne it into the shadowe of death, and make it as darkenes.

17 But if ye will not heare this, my soule shall [f] weepe in secrete for your pride, and mine eye shall weepe and drop downe teares, because the Lords flocke is caried away captiue.

18 Say vnto the [g] King & to the Queene, Humble your selues, sit downe, for the crowne of your glory shall come downe from your heads.

19 The cities of [h] the South shall be shut vp, and no man shall open them: all Iudah shal be caried away captiue: it shall bee wholly caried away captiue.

20 Lift vp your eyes and behold them that come from the North: where is the [i] flocke that was giuen thee, euen thy beautifull flocke?

21 What wilt thou say, when he shall visit thee? (for thou hast [k] taught them to bee captaines and as chiefe ouer thee) shall not sorow take thee as a woman in trauile?

22 And if thou say in thine heart, Wherefore come these things vpon me? For the multitude of thine iniquities are thy skirts discoua Because this riuer Perath or Euphrates was far from Ierusalem, it is euident, that this was a vision whereby was signified that the Iewes should passe ouer Euphrates to be captiues in Babylon, and there for length of time should seeme to be rotten: although they were ioyned to the Lord before as a girdle about a man.

b Euery one of you shalbe filled with spirituall drunkennesse, and be without all knowledge to seeke how to helpe your selues.

c It shall be as easie for me to destroy the greatest & the strongest, as it is for a man to breake earthen bottels.

d That is, affliction and miseries by the Babylonians, Isa 8.22.

24 Therefore will I scatter them, as the stubble that is taken away with the South winde.

25 This is thy portion, and the part of thy measures from mee, saieth the Lorde, because thou hast forgotten me and trusted in lies.

26 Therefore I haue also discouered thy skirtes vpon thy face, [m] that thy shame may appeare.

27 I haue seene thy adulteries, and thy [n] neyings, the filthinesse of thy whoredome on the hilles in [o] the fieldes, and thine abominations. Wo vnto thee, O Ierusalem: wilt thou not be made cleane? when shall it once be?

CHAP. XIIII.

1 Of the dearth that should come. 7 The prayer of the people asking mercie of the Lord. 10 The vnfaithfull people are not heard. 12 Of prayer, fasting, and of false prophets that seduce the people.

THe word of the Lord that came vnto Ieremiah, concerning the [a] ‖dearth.

2 Iudah hath mourned, and the gates thereof are desolate, they haue beene [b] brought to heauinesse vnto the ground, and the cry of Ierusalem goeth vp.

3 And their nobles haue sent their inferiours to the water, who came to the welles, and found no water: they returned with their vessels emptie: they were ashamed and confounded, and [c] coucred their heads.

4 For the ground was destroyed, because there was no raine in the earth: the plow men were ashamed, and couered their heads.

5 Yea, the hinde also calued in the field, and forsooke [d] it, because there was no grasse.

6 And the wilde asses did stand in the high places, and drew in their wind like [e] dragons: their eyes did faile, because there was no grasse.

7 [f] O Lord, though our iniquities testifie against vs, deale with vs according to thy Name: for our rebellions are many, we sinned against thee.

8 O the hope of Israel, the sauiour thereof in the time of trouble, why art thou as a [g] stranger in the land, as one that passeth by to tarry for a night?

9 Why art thou as a man astonied, and as [h] a strong man that cannot helpe? yet thou, O Lord, art in the middes of vs, and thy Name is called vpon of vs: forsake vs not.

10 Thus saith the Lord vnto this people, Thus haue they delited to wander: they haue not refrained their feete, therefore the Lord hath no delite in them: but hee will now remember their iniquitie, and visite their sinnes.

11 Then said the Lord vnto mee, [i] Thou shalt not pray to doe this people good.

12 When they fast, I will not heare their cry, and when they offer burnt offering, and an oblation, I will not accept them: but I wil consume them by the sword, and by the famine and by the pestilence.

13 Then answered I, Ah Lord God, Behold, the [k] prophets say vnto them, Yee shall not see the sword, neither shal famine come vpon you, but I will giue you assured peace in this place.

14 Then the Lord said vnto me, The prophets prophecie lies in my Name: * I haue not sent them, neither did I commaund them, neither spake I vnto them, but they prophecie vnto you a false vision, and diuination, and vanitie, and deceitfulnesse of their owne heart.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Concerning the prophets that prophecie in my name, whom I haue not sent, yet they say, Sworde and famine shall not be in this land, by sword and famine shall those prophets bee consumed.

16 And the people to whom these prophets doe prophecie, shall be cast out in the streetes of Ierusalem, because of the famine, & the sword, and there shall bee none to burie them, both they, and their wiues, and their sonnes, and their daughters: for I will powre their wickednesse vpon them.

17 Therefore thou shalt say this word vnto them, Let mine eyes drop downe [l] teares night and day without ceasing: for the virgine daughter of my people is destroyed with a great destruction, and with a sore grieuous plague.

18 For if I go into ỹ field, behold the slaine with the sword: and if I enter into the citie, behold them that are sicke for hunger also: moreouer, the Prophet also & the Priest goe a wandring [m] into a land that they know not.

19 Hast thou vtterly reiected [n] Iudah, or hath thy soule abhorred Zion? why hast thou smitten vs, that wee cannot bee healed? Wee looked for peace, and there is no good, and for the time of health, and behold trouble.

20 We [o] acknowledge, O Lord, our wickednesse and the iniquitie of our fathers: for we haue sinned against thee.

21 Doe not abhorre vs: for thy Names sake cast not downe the throne of thy glorie: remember and breake not thy couenant with vs.

22 Are there any among the [p] vanities of the Gentiles, that can giue raine? or can the heauens giue showres? is it not thou, O Lord our God? therefore we will waite vpon thee: for thou hast made all these things.

a Which came for lacke of raine as verse 4.

e Which are so dote of nature, that they cannot be cooled with drinking of water, but still gape for the aire to refresh them.

f He sheweth the only way to remedie Gods plagues, which is by vnfained confession of our sinnes, and returning to him by repentance.

m Both hie and lowe shall be led captiues into Babylon.

n Though the Prophet knew that God had cast off the multitude, which were hypocrites, and bastard children, yet he was assured that for his promise sake he would haue still a Church for the which he prayeth.

o He teacheth the Church a forme of prayer to humble themselues to God by true repentance, which is the onely meane to auoyd this famine, which was the beginning of Gods plagues.

CHAP. XV.

1 The Lord would heare no prayer for the Iewes, 3 But threatneth to destroy them with foure plagues.

Then

THen ſayd the Lord vnto mee, [a] Though Moſes and Samuel ſtood before me, yet mine affection could not bee toward this people: caſt them out of my ſight, and let them depart.

2 And if they ſay vnto thee, Whither ſhall we depart? then tell them, Thus ſaith the Lord, * Such as are appointed to death, vnto death: and ſuch as are for the ſword, to the ſword: and ſuch as are for the famine, to the famine: and ſuch as are for the captiuity to the captiuitie.

3 And I will appoynt ouer them foure kinds, ſaith the Lord, the ſword to ſlay, and the [b] dogs to teare in pieces, and the foules of the heauen, and the beaſtes of the earth to deuoure and to deſtroy.

4 I will [c] ſcatter them alſo in all kingdomes of the earth, [d] becauſe of Manaſſeh the ſon of Hezekiah king of Iudah, for that which he did in Ieruſalem.

5 Who ſhal then haue pitie vpon thee, O Ieruſalem? or who ſhalbe ſory for thee? or who ſhall goe to pray for thy peace?

6 Thou haſt forſaken me, ſaith the Lord, and gone backward: therefore will I ſtretch out mine hand againſt thee, and deſtroy thee: for I [e] am weary with repenting.

7 And I will ſcatter them with the fanne [f] in the gates of the earth: I haue waſted, and deſtroyed my people, yet they would not returne from their wayes.

8 Their widowes are [g] increaſed by mee aboue the ſand of the ſea: I haue brought vpon them, and againſt the ‖ aſſembly of the yong men a deſtroyer at noone day: I haue cauſed him to fall vpon them, and the citie ſuddenly, and ‖ ſpeedily.

9 She that hath borne [h] ſeuen, hath beene made weake: her heart hath failed: the ſunne hath failed [i] her, whiles it was day: ſhee hath bene confounded and aſhamed, and the reſidue of them will I deliuer vnto the ſword before their enemies, ſaith the Lord.

10 [k] Woe is mee, my mother, that thou haſt borne mee, a contentious man, and a man that ſtriueth with the whole earth: I haue neither [l] lent on vſury, nor men haue lent vnto mee on vſury: yet euery one doth curſe me.

11 The Lord ſaid, [m] Surely thy remnant ſhal haue wealth: ſurely I wil cauſe thine enemy to intreat thee in the time of trouble, and in the time of affliction.

12 Shal the [n] yron breake the yron, and the braſſe that commeth from the North?

13 Thy ſubſtance and thy treaſures wil I giue to be ſpoyled without ‖ gaine, and that for all thy ſinnes euen in all thy borders.

14 And I will make thee to go with thine enemies into a land that thou knoweſt not: for a fire is kindled in mine anger, which ſhall burne you.

15 O Lord, thou knoweſt, remember me, and viſite me, and reuenge me of my [o] perſecutors: take me not away in the continuance of thine anger: know that for thy ſake I haue ſuffered rebuke.

16 Thy words were found by mee, and I did [p] eat them, and thy word was vnto me the ioy and reioycing of mine heart: for thy name is called vpon me, O Lord God of hoſts.

17 I ſate not in the aſſembly of the mockers, neither did I reioyce, but ſate alone [q] becauſe of thy plague: for thou haſt filled me with indignation.

18 Why is mine heauines continuall? and my plague deſperate and can not bee healed? why art thou vnto me [r] as a liar, and as waters that faile?

19 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, If thou [s] returne, then will I bring thee againe, and thou ſhalt ſtand before me: & if thou take away the [t] precious from the vile, thou ſhalt bee [u] according to my word: let them returne [x] vnto thee, but returne not thou vnto them.

20 And I wil make thee vnto this people a ſtrong braſen wall, and they ſhall fight againſt thee, but they ſhall not [y] preuaile againſt thee: for I am with thee to ſaue thee and to deliuer thee, ſaith the Lord.

21 And I will deliuer thee out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeeme thee out of the hand of the tyrants.

a The Lord forbidding Ieremiah to marry, ſheweth him what ſhould bee the afflictions vpon Iudah. 13 The captiuity of Babylon. 15 Their deliuerance. 19 The calling of the Gentiles.

THe word of the Lord came alſo vnto me, ſaying,

2 Thou ſhalt not take [a] thee a wife, nor haue ſonnes nor daughters in this place.

3 For thus ſaith the Lord concerning the ſonnes, and concerning the daughters that are borne in this place, and concerning their mothers that beare them, and concerning their fathers that beget them in this land,

4 They ſhall die of deathes and diſeaſes: they ſhall not be lamented, neither ſhal they be buried, but they ſhalbe as dung vpon the earth and they ſhall be conſumed by the ſword, & by famine, and their carkeiſes ſhall bee meate for the foules of the heauen, and for the beaſtes of the the earth.

b Signifying that the affliction should be so great that one should not haue leasure to cõfort another.

5 For thus saieth the Lord, [b] Enter not into the house of mourning, neither goe to lament, nor be moued for them: for I haue taken my peace from this people, saieth the Lord, euen mercy and compassion.

c That is, should not rent their clothes in signe of mourning.

6 Both the great and the small shal die in this land: they shal not be buried, neither shall men lament for them, [c] nor cut themselues, nor make themselues bald for them.

d For in these great extremities all consolation and comfort shalbe in vaine.

7 They shal not stretch out the hands for them in the mourning to comfort them for the dead, neither shall they giue them the [d] cup of consolation to drink for their father or for their mother.

8 Thou shalt not also goe into the house of feasting to sit with them to eate and to drinke.

9 For thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will cause to cease out of this place in your eyes, euen in your daies the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladnes, the voyce of the bridegrome, and the voice of the bride.

10 And when thou shalt shewe this people all these wordes, and they shall say vnto thee, *Wherfore hath the Lord pronounced all this great plague against vs? or what is [e] our iniquity? and what is our sin that we haue committed against the Lord our God?

* Chap. 5. 19.

e Because the wicked are alway rebellious & dissemble their owne sinnes, and murmure against Gods iudgmẽts, as though he had no iust cause to punish them, he sheweth him what to answere.

11 Then shalt thou say vnto them, Because your fathers haue forsaken me, saith the Lord, and haue walked after other gods, and haue serued them, and worshipped them, and haue forsaken me, and haue not kept my Law,

* Chap. 7. 26.

12 (* And yee haue done worse then your fathers: for behold, you walke euery one after the stubbornesse of his wicked heart, and will not heare me)

13 Therefore will I driue you out of this land into a land that ye know not, neither you nor your fathers, and there shall ye serue other gods day and night: for I will shew you no grace.

* Chap. 23. 7.

f Signifying, the benefit of their deliuerance out of Babylon should be so great, that it should abolish the remembrance of their deliuerance from Egypt: but he hath here chiefly respect to the spirituall deliuerance vnder Christ.

g By the fishers and hunters are meant the Babylonians & Caldeans, who should destroy them in such sort, that if they escaped the one, the other should take them.

14 *Behold therefore, saith the Lord, the dayes come that it shall no more be said, The Lord liueth, which brought vp the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt,

15 But, The Lord liueth, [f] which brought vp the children of Israel [g] from the land of the North, and from all the lands where hee had scattered them, and I will bring them againe into their land that I gaue vnto their fathers.

16 Behold, saith the Lord, I will send out many [g] fishers, and they shall fish them, and after wil I send out many hunters, and they shal hunt them from euery mountaine and from euery hill, and out of the caues of the rocks.

17 For mine eyes are vpon all their waies, they are not hid from my face, neither is their iniquity hid from mine eyes.

18 And first I will recompense their iniquity and their sinne double, because they haue defiled my land, and haue filled mine inheritance with their filthy [h] carions and their abominations.

h That is, their sons & daughters which they offred to Moloch.

19 O Lorde, thou art my [i] force, and my strength and my refuge in the day of affliction: the Gentiles shal come vnto thee from the ends of the world, and shall say, Surely our fathers haue inherited [k] lies, and vanity, wherein there was no profite.

i He wondreth at the great mercy of God in this deliuerance, which shall not onely extẽd to the Iewes, but also to the Gentiles.

k Our fathers were most vile idolaters: therefore it commeth onely of Gods mercy, that he performeth his promise, and hath not vtterly cast vs off.

20 Shal a man make gods vnto himselfe, and they are no gods?

21 Behold, therefore I will this once [l] teach them: I will shew them mine hand and my power, and they shall know that my Name is the Lord.

l They shal once againe feele my power, and mercy for their deliuerance, that they may learne to worship me.

a The remembrance of their contempt of God cannot passe, albeit for a time he deferre the punishment, for it shalbe manifest to men & Angels.

b In stead of the Law of God, they haue written idolatry and all abominations in their heart.

c Your sinnes appeare in all the altars that you haue erected to idols.

2 [d] They remember their altars as their children, with their groues by the green trees vpon the hie hils.

d Some reade, so that their children remember their altars, that is, follow their fathers wickednesse.

3 [e] O my mountaine in the fielde, I will giue thy substance, and all thy treasures to be spoiled, for the sinne of thy hie places throughout all thy borders.

e Zion that was my mountaine, shall now be left as a waste fielde.

4 And thou shalt rest, [f] & in thee shalbe a rest from thine heritage that I gaue thee, & I wil cause thee to serue thine enemies in y land which thou knowest not: for ye haue kindled a fire in mine anger, which shall burne for euer.

f Because thou wouldest not giue the land rest at such times, dayes and yeres as I appointed, thou shalt hereafter be caried away, & it shall rest for lacke of labourers.

5 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, [g] Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arme, and withdraweth his heart from the Lord.

g The Iewes were giuen to worldly policies, and thought to make themselues strong by the friendship of the Egyptians, Isa. 31. 3. and strangers, and in the meane season did not depend on God, and therefore her denouncerth Gods plagues against them, shewing that they prefer corruptible man to God, which is immortall, Isa. 2. 22. Chap. 48. 6, 7.

6 For he shal be like the heath in the wildernesse, and shal not see when any good commeth, but shall inhabite the parched places in the wilderneſse, in a salt land, and not inhabited.

7 Blessed be the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is.

8 [h] For he shalbe as a tree that is planted by the water, which spreadeth out her rootes by the riuer, and shall not feele when the heate commeth, but her leafe shalbe greene, and shall not care for the yeere of drought, neither shall cease from yeelding fruit.

h Reade Psal. 1. 3.

9 [i]The heart is deceitfull and wicked aboue all things, who can know it?

10 I the Lord search the heart, and try the reines, euen to giue euery man according to his wayes, and according to the fruite of his workes.

11 [k]As the partridge gathereth the yong, which she hath not brought forth: so hee that getteth riches, & not by right, shall leaue them in the mids of his dayes, and at his ende shalbe a foole.

12 As a glorious throne [l] exalted from the beginning, so is the place of our Sanctuary.

13 O Lord, the hope of Israel, all that forsake thee, shalbe confounded: they that depart from thee, shalbe written [m] in the earth, because they haue forsaken the Lord, the fountaine of liuing waters.

14 Heale me, O Lord, and I shalbe whole: [n] saue me, and I shal be saued: for thou art my praise.

15 Beholde, [o] they say vnto me, Where is the word of the Lord? let it come now.

16 But [p] I haue not thrust in my selfe for a pastour after thee, neither haue I desired the day of misery, thou knowest: that which came out of my lips, was right before thee.

17 Be not [q] terrible vnto me: thou art mine hope in the day of aduersity.

18 Let them be confounded that persecute me, but let not me be confounded: let them be afrayd, but let not me bee afrayd: bring vpon them the day of aduersitie, [r] and destroy them with double destruction.

19 Thus hath the Lord said vnto me, Goe and stand in the [s] gate of the children of the people, whereby the Kings of Iudah come in, and by the which they goe out, and in all the gates of Ierusalem, 20 And say vnto them, Heare the word of the Lord, yee Kings of Iudah, and all Iudah, and all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, that enter in by these gates.

21 Thus sayth the Lord, Take heede to your soules, and beare no burden in the [t] Sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Ierusalem.

22 Neither cary forth burdens out of your houses in the Sabbath day: neither doe yee any worke, but sanctifie the Sabbath, as I commanded your fathers.

23 But they obeyed not, neither inclined their eares, but made their neckes stiffe and would not heare, nor receiue correction.

24 Neuertheless if ye will heare me, saith the Lord, and beare no burden through the gates of the city in the Sabbath day, but sanctifie the Sabbath day, so that ye doe no worke therein,

25 Then shall the Kings and the princes enter in at the gates of this citie, and shall sit * vpon the throne of Dauid, and shall ride vpon charets, and vpon horses, both they and their princes, the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem: and this citie shall remaine for euer. *Chap.22.4.

26 And they shall come from the cities of Iudah, and from about Ierusalem, and from the land of Beniamin, and from the plaine, and from the mountaines, & from the South, which shall bring burnt offerings, and sacrifices, and meat offrings, and incense, and shall bring sacrifice of praise into the house of the Lord.

27 But if yee will not heare me to sanctifie the Sabbath day, & not to beare a burden nor to goe through the gates of Ierusalem in the Sabbath day, then will I kindle a fire in the gates therof, and it shal deuoure the palaces of Ierusalem, and it shall not be quenched.

4 And the vessell that hee made of [a] clay, was broken in the hand of the potter: so he returned, and made it another vessell, as seemed good to the potter to make it.

5 Then the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

b When the scripture attributeth repentance vnto God, it is not that he doth contrary to that which he hath ordained in his secret counsell: but when he threatneth, it is a calling to repentance, & where he giueth man grace to repent, the threatning (which euer containeth a condition in it) taketh no place: and where the scripture exacteth repentance in God, because it is appointed to mans iudgement.

21 Therefore, [i] deliuer vp their children to famine, and let them drop away by the force of the ſworde, and let their wiues be robbed of their children, & be widowes: and let their huſbands be put to death, and let their yong men be ſlaine by the ſword in the battell.

22 Let the cry be heard from their houſes, when thou ſhalt bring an hoſte ſuddenly vpon them: for they haue digged a pit to take me, and hid ſnares for my feet.

CHAP. XIX.

Hee propheſieth the deſtruction of Ieruſalem for the contempt and deſpiſing of the word of God.

THus ſaide the Lord, Goe, and buy an earthen bottel of a potter, and take of the ancients of the people, and of the ancients of the Prieſts,

2 And goe foorth vnto the valley of Ben-hinnom, which is by the entrie of the || Eaſt gate: and thou ſhalt preach there the wordes that I ſhall tell thee,

|| Or, gate of the ſunne.

3 And ſhalt ſay, Heare ye the word of the Lord, O [a] Kings of Iudah, and inhabitants of Ieruſalem, Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, the GOD of Iſrael, Behold, I will bring a plague vpon this place, the which whoſoeuer heareth, his eares ſhall [b] tingle.

a By Kings here & in other places are meant counſellers and gouernors of the people: which be called the Ancients here 1.

b Reade of this phraſe, 1. Sam. 3.11.

5 And they haue built the high places of Baal, to burne their ſonnes with fire for burnt offrings vnto Baal, which I [c] cōmanded not, nor ſpake it, neither came it into my mind)

c Whereby is declared, that whatſoeuer is not commanded by Gods word touching his ſeruice, is againſt his word.

e This deuiliſh ſigne was to confirme them touching the aſſurance of this plague, which the Lord threatned by his Prophet.

14 Then came Ieremiah from Topheth, where the Lord had sent him to prophesie, and he stood in the court of the Lordes house, and sayd to all the people,

15 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I wil bring vpon this citie, and vpon al her townes, all the plagues that I haue pronounced against it, because they haue hardened their necks, and would not heare my words.

2 Ieremiah is smitten and cast into prison for preaching the word of God. 3 He propheseth the captiuity of Babylon. 7 He complaineth that he is a mocking stock for the word of God. 9 Hee is compelled by the Spirit to preach the word.

WHen Pashur, the sonne of Immer, the Priest, which was appointed gouernor in the house of the Lord, heard that Ieremiah prophesied these things,

2 Then Pashur smote Ieremiah the Prophet, and put him in the [a] stockes that were in the high gate of Beniamin which was by the House of the Lord.

3 And on the morning, Pashur brought Ieremiah out of the stocks. Then said Ieremiah vnto him, The Lord hath not called thy name Pashur, but ‖Magor-missabib.

4 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, I wil make thee to bee a terror to thy selfe, and to all thy friends, and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, & thine eyes shall behold it, and I wil giue all Iudah into the hand of the king of Babel, and hee shall cary them captiue into Babel, and shall slay them with the sword.

5 Moreouer, I wil deliuer al the substance of this citie, and all the labours thereof, and all the precious things thereof, and all the treasures of the Kings of Iudah will I giue into the hand of their enemies, which shall spoyle them, and take them away and carie them to Babel.

6 And thou Pashur, and all that dwell in thine house, shal go into captiuity, & thou shalt come to Babel, & there thou shalt die, and shalt bee buried there, thou and all thy [b] friendes, to whom thou hast prophesied lies.

7 O Lord, thou hast deceiued me, and I am [c] deceiued: thou art stronger then I, and hast [b] preuailed: I am in derision daily: euery one mocketh me.

8 For since I spake, I cried out of wrong, and proclaimed [d] desolation: therfore the word of the Lord was made a reproch vnto me, and in derision daily.

9 Then I said, I wil not make mention of him, nor speake any more in his Name. But his word was in mine heart as a burning fire shut vp in my bones, and I was weary with forbearing, and I could not stay.

10 For I had heard the rayling of many, and feare on euery side. [f] Declare, said they, and we wil declare it: al my familiars watched for mine halting, saying, It may be that he is deceiued: so we shall preuaile against him, and we shall execute our vengeance vpon him.

11 [g] But the Lord is with me like a mightie gyant: therefore my persecuters shall bee ouerthrowen, and shall not preuaile, and shall be greatly confounded: for they haue done vnwisely, and their euerlasting shame shal neuer be forgotten.

12 * But, O Lord of hostes, that triest the righteous, and seest the reines and the heart, let mee see thy vengeance on them: for vnto thee haue I opened my cause.

13 Sing vnto the Lord, praise ye the Lord: for hee hath deliuered the soule of the poore frō the hand of the wicked.

14 [h] Cursed be the day wherein I was borne: and let not the day wherein my mother bare me, be blessed.

15 Cursed be the man that shewed my father, saying, A man childe is borne vnto thee, and comforted him.

16 And let that man be as the [i] cities, which the Lord hath ouerturned and repented not: and let him heare the crie in the morning, and the shouting at noone tide,

2 He exhorteth the King to iudgement and righteouſnes. 9 Why Ieruſalem is brought into captiuity. 11 The death of Shallum the ſonne of Ioſiah is propheſied.

THus ſayd the Lord, Goe downe to the houſe of the King of Iudah, and ſpeake there this thing,

3 Thus ſayeth the Lord, *Execute ye iudgement and [a] righteouſnes, and deliuer the oppreſſed from the hand of the oppreſſour, and vexe not the ſtranger, the fatherleſſe, nor the widowe: doe no violence, nor ſhead innocent blood in this place.

4 For if yee doe this thing, then ſhall the kings ſitting vpon the throne of Dauid enter in by the gates of this houſe, *and ride vpon charets, and vpon horſes, both hee and his ſeruants and his people.

5 But if ye will not heare theſe words, I [b] ſweare by my ſelfe, ſaieth the Lord, that this houſe ſhalbe waſte.

6 For thus hath the Lorde ſpoken vpon the Kings houſe of Iudah, Thou art [c] Gilead vnto me, and the head of Lebanon, yet ſurely I will make thee a wildernes and as cities not inhabited, 15 Shalt thou reigne, becauſe thou cloſeſt thy ſelfe in cedar? did not thy [k] father eate and drinke and proſper, when hee executed iudgement and iuſtice?

16 When he iudged the cauſe of the afflicted and the poore, hee proſpered: was not this becauſe he knew me, ſaith the Lord?

Against false pastours. 5 A prophecie of the great Pastour Iesus Christ.

WOe be vnto [a] the pastors that destroy and scatter [b] the sheepe of my pasture, saith the Lord.

2 Therefore thus saieth the Lord God of Israel vnto the pastors that [c] feede my people, Yee haue scattered my flocke and thrust them out, and haue not visited them: behold, I will visite you for the wickednesse of your works, saith the Lord.

3 And I will gather the [d] remnant of my sheepe out of all countreys, whither I had driuen them, and will bring them againe to their foldes, and they shall growe and increase.

4 And I wil set vp shepheards ouer them, which shall feed them: and they shall dread no more nor bee afraid, neither shall any of them be lacking, saith the Lord.

5 Beholde, the dayes come, sayeth the Lord, that I wil raise vnto Dauid a righteous [e] branch, and a King shall reigne, and prosper, and shall execute iudgement, and iustice in the earth.

6 In his dayes Iudah shall be saued, and * Israel shall dwel safely, and this is the name whereby they shall call him, * The Lord our righteousnesse.

7 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that they shall no more say, The [f] Lord liueth, which brought vp the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt,

8 But, The Lord liueth, which brought vp and led the seed of the house of Israel out of the North countrey, and from all countreys where I had scattered them, and they shall dwell in their owne land.

9 Mine heart breaketh within me, because of the [g] Prophets, all my bones shake: I am like a drunken man (and like a man whome wine hath † ouercome) for the presence of the Lord and of his holy words.

haudes of the wicked that none can returne from his wickednesse: they are vnto [l]mee as Sodom, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomorah.

15 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord of hostes concerning the Prophets, Beholde, I will feed them with [m] wormewood, and make them drinke the water of gall: for from the Prophets of Jerusalem is ‖ wickednesse gone forth into all the land.

16 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Heare not the wordes of the prophets that prophesie vnto you, and teach you vanitie: they speake the vision of their owne [n] heart, and not out of the mouth of the Lord.

17 They say still vnto them that despise me, The Lord hath said, Ye [o] shall haue peace: and they say vnto euery one that walketh after the stubburnnesse of his owne heart, No euil shall come vpon you.

18 For [p] who hath stood in the counsell of the Lord that he hath perceiued, and heard his word? Who hath marked his word and heard it?

19 Beholde, the tempest of the Lord goeth forth in his wrath, and a violent whirlewinde shall fall downe vpon the head of the wicked.

20 The anger of the Lord shall not returne vntill he haue executed, and till he haue performed the thoughts of his heart: in the latter dayes ye [q] shall vnderstand it plainely.

21 * I haue not sent these Prophets, saith the Lord, yet they ranne: I haue not spoken to them, and yet they prophesied.

22 But if they had stood in my counsel, and [r] had declared my wordes to my people, then they should haue turned them from their euill way, and from the wickednesse of their inuentions.

23 Am I a God at hand, saieth the Lord, and not a God [s] farre off?

24 Can any hide himselfe in secret places, that I shall not see him, sayeth the Lord? Doe not I fill heauen and earth, saith the Lord?

25 I haue heard what the Prophets said, that prophesie lies in my Name, saying, I [t] haue dreamed, I haue dreamed.

26 How long? † Doe the Prophets delight to prophesie lies, euen prophesying the deceit of their owne heart?

27 Thinke they to cause [u] my people to forget my Name by their dreames, which they tell euery man to his neighbour, as their forefathers haue forgotten my Name for Baal?

28 The Prophet that hath a dreame, let him [x] tell a dreame, and he that hath my word, let him speake my word faithfully: [y] what is the chaffe to the wheate, saith the Lord?

29 Is not my word euen like a fire, sayeth the Lord? and like an hammer, that breaketh the stone?

30 Therefore behold, I will come against the Prophets, saith the Lord, that [z] steale my word, euery one from his neighbour.

31 Behold, I will come against the Prophets, saieth the Lord, which haue sweete tongues, and say, [a] He saith.

32 Beholde, I will come against them that prophesie false dreames, saith the Lord, and doe tell them, and cause my people to erre by their lies, and by their flatteries, and I sent them not, nor commaunded them: therefore they bring no profite vnto this people, saith the Lord.

33 And when this people, or the prophet, or a priest shall aske thee, saying, What is the [b] burden of the Lord? thou shalt then say vnto them, What burden? I wil euen forsake you, saith the Lord.

34 And the prophet, or the priest, or the people that shall say, The [c] burden of the Lord, I will euen visite euery such one, and his house.

35 Thus shall yee say euery one to his neighbour, and euery one to his brother, What hath the Lord answered? and what hath the Lord spoken?

36 And the burden of the Lord shall yee mention no more: for euery mans [d] word shall be his burden: for yee haue peruerted the wordes of the liuing God, the Lord of hostes our God.

37 Thus shalt thou say to the Prophet, What hath the Lord answered thee? and what hath the Lord spoken?

38 And if you say, The burden of the Lord, Then thus saith the Lord, Because ye say this word, The burden of the Lord, and I haue sent vnto you, saying, Yee shall not say, The burden of the Lord,

39 Therefore behold, I, euen I will vtterly ‖ forget you, and I will forsake you, and the citie that I gaue you and your fathers, and cast you out of my presence,

40 And will bring * an euerlasting reproch vpon you, and a perpetuall shame which shall neuer be forgotten.

1 He prophecieth that they shall be in captiuitie seuentie yeeres, 12 And that after the seuentie yeeres the Babylonians should be destroyed. 15 The destruction of all nations is prophecied.

a That is, in the third yeere accomplished, and in the beginning of the fourth: for though Nebuchad-nezzar began to reigne in the end of the third yeere of Iehoiakims reigne, yet that yeere is not here counted, because it is almost expired. Dan. 1. 1.

THe word that came to Ieremiah, concerning all the people of Iudah in the [a] fourth yeere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah that was in the first yeere of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel:

2 The which Ieremiah the Prophet spake vnto all the people of Iudah, and to all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, saying,

3 From the thirteenth yeere of Iosiah the sonne of Amon King of Iudah euen vnto [b] this day (that is the three and twentieth yeere) the word of the Lord hath come vnto mee, and I haue spoken vnto you [c] rising earely, and speaking, but yee would not heare.

b Which was the fift yeere and the ninth moneth of Iehoiakims reigne.

c That is, I haue spared no diligence or labour, Chap. 7. 13

4 And the Lord hath sent vnto you all his seruants the Prophets, rising earely and sending them, but ye would not heare, nor encline your eares to obey.

5 They [d] said, Turne againe now euery one from his euill way, and from the wickednesse of your inuentions, and ye shall dwell in the land that the Lord hath giuen vnto you, and to your fathers for euer and euer.

6 And goe not after other gods to serue them and to worship them, and prouoke mee not to anger with the workes of your hands, and I will not punish you.

7 Neuertheless ye would not heare mee, saith the Lord, but haue prouoked me to anger with the workes of your hands to your owne hurt.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, Because ye haue not heard my words,

9 Behold, I will send and take to me all the [e] families of the North, saith the Lord, and Nebuchad-nezzar the king of Babel my [f] seruant, and will bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, and against all these nations [g] round about, and will destroy them, and make them an astonishment and an hissing, and a continuall desolation.

d He sheweth that the Prophets wholly with one consent did labour to pull the people from their vices, which then reigned: to wit, from idolatrie and the daily conference of men: for vnder these two all other were contained, 2. King. 17. 13. chap. 18. 11. and 35. 15. Ionah 3. 8.

‖ Or, destroy.

11 And this whole land shall bee desolate, and an astonishment, and these nations shall serue the king of Babel seuentie yeeres.

h Meaning, the bread and all things that should serue vnto their fraile, should be taken away.

12 And when the [i] seuentie yeeres are accomplished, I will visite [k] the king of Babel and that nation, saith the Lord, for their iniquities, euen the land of the Caldeans, and will make it a perpetuall desolation.

i This reuelation was for the confirmation of his prophecie, because he told them of the time that they should enter and remaine in captiuitie, 2. Chron. 36. 22. Ezra 1. 1. chap. 29. 10. dan. 9. 2.

13 And I will bring vpon that land all my words which I haue pronounced against it, euen all that is written in this booke, which Ieremiah hath prophesied against all nations.

14 For many nations, and great Kings shall euen [l] serue themselues of them: thus will I recompense them according to their deedes, and according to the workes of their owne hands.

k For seeing the iudgement began at his owne house, the enemies must needs be punished more grieuously. Ezek. 9. 6. 1. pet. 4. 17.

cause all the nations, to whome I send thee, to drinke it.

16 And they shall drinke, and be mooued, and bee mad, because of the sword that I will send among them.

17 Then tooke I the cup at the Lordes hand, & made all people to drinke, vnto whom the Lord had sent me:

18 Euen Ierusalem, and the cities of Iudah, and the kings thereof, & the Princes thereof, to make them desolate, an astonishment, an hissing, and a curse, [n] as appeareth this day:

21 [q] Edom, and Moab, and the Ammonites,

22 And all the kings of Tyrus, and all the kings of Zidon, and the kings of the [r] Iles that are beyond the sea,

26 And all the kings of the North, farre and neere one to another, and all the kingdomes of the world, which are vpon the earth, and the king of [u] Sheshach shall drinke after them.

27 Therefore say thou vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Drinke and be drunken, and spew and fal, and rise no more, because of the sword, which I will send among you.

28 ¶ But if they refuse to take the cuppe at thine hand to drinke, then tell them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Ye shall certainely drinke.

29 For loe, I begin to plague the [x] citie, where my Name is called vpon, and should you goe free? Ye shall not goe quite: for I will call for a sword vpon all the inhabitants of the earth, saith the Lord of hostes.

30 Therefore prophecie thou against them all these words, and say vnto them, *The Lord shall roare from aboue, and thrust out his voice from his holy habitation: hee shall roare vpon his habitation, and crie aloude, as they that presse the grapes, against all the inhabitants of the earth.

31 The sound shall come to the endes of the earth: for [y] the Lord hath a controuersie with the nations, and will enter into iudgement with all flesh, and hee will giue them that are wicked, to the sword, saith the Lord.

32 ¶ Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Beholde, a plague shall goe forth from nation to nation, and a * great whirlewind shall be raised vp from the coasts of the earth, 33 And [z] the slaine of the Lord shall bee at that day, from one ende of the earth, euen vnto the other ende of the earth: they shall not bee mourned neither gathered nor buried, but shal be as the dung vpon the ground.

2 Ieremiah mooueth the people to repentance. 7 Hee is taken of the false prophets and priests, and brought to iudgement. 23 Vrijah the Prophet is killed of Iehoiakim contrary to the will of God.

IN the beginning of the reigne of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, came this word from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord, Stand in the [a] court of the Lords House, and speake vnto all the cities of Iudah, which come to worship in the Lords House, all the words that I command thee to speake vnto them: keepe not [b] a word backe,

3 If so be they will hearken, and turne euery man from his euill way, that I may [c] repent me of the plague, which I haue determined to bring vpon them, because of the wickednesse of their works.

4 And thou shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord, If ye will not heare me to walke in my Lawes, which I haue set before you,

5 And to heare the words of my seruants the Prophets, whom I sent vnto you, both rising vp early, and sending them, and will not obey them, all the people heard Ieremiah speaking these words in the house of the Lord.

8 Now when Ieremiah had made an end of speaking all that the Lord had commaunded him to speake vnto all the people, then the Priestes, and the Prophets, and all the people tooke him, and sayd, Thou shalt die the death.

9 Why hast thou prophesied in the Name of the Lord, saying, This [f] house shall bee like Shiloh, and this citie shall bee desolate without an inhabitant? and all the people were gathered against Ieremiah in the house of the Lord.

10 And when the Princes of Iudah heard of these things, they came vp from the Kings house into the house of the Lord, and sate down in the entrie of the [g] newe gate of the Lords house.

11 Then spake the Priests, and the Prophets vnto the Princes, and to all the people, saying, † This man is worthie to die: for hee hath prophesied against this citie, as yee haue heard with your eares.

12 Then spake Ieremiah vnto all the Princes, and to all the people, saying, The Lord hath [h] sent mee to prophesie against this house, and against this citie all the things that ye haue heard.

13 Therefore nowe amend your wayes and your workes, and heare the voyce of the Lord your God, that the Lord may repent him of the plague, that he hath pronounced against you.

14 As for me, behold, I am in your hands: doe with me as ye thinke good and right.

15 But know yee for certaine, that if yee put me to death, ye shall surely bring innocent blood vpon your selues, and vpon this city, and vpon the inhabitants thereof: for of a trueth the Lord hath sent mee vnto you, to speake all these words in your eares.

16 Then said the Princes and all the people vnto the priests, and to the prophets, This man is not worthie to die: for hee hath spoken vnto vs in the Name of the Lord our God.

17 ¶ Then rose vp certaine of the Elders of the land, and spake to all the assemblie of the people, saying,

18 Michah the Morashite *prophesied in the dayes of Hezekiah King of Iudah, and spake to all the people of Iudah, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Zion shall bee plowed like a field, and Ierusalem shalbe an heape, and the mountaine of the [i] house shall be as the high places of the forrest.

19 Did Hezekiah King of Iudah, and all Iudah put him to death? did hee not feare the Lord, and prayed before the Lord, & the Lord repented him of the [k] plague, that hee had pronounced against them? Thus might wee procure great euill against our soules.

20 And there was also a man that prophesied in the Name of the Lord, one Uriiah the sonne of Shemaiah, of Kiriath-iearim, who prophesied against this citie, and against this land, according to all the words of Ieremiah.

21 Now when Iehoiakim the King with all his men of power, and all the princes heard his wordes, the King sought to slay him. But when Uriiah heard it, hee was afraid and fled, and went into Egypt.

22 Then Iehoiakim the King [l] sent men into Egypt, euen Elnathan the sonne of Achbor, and certaine with him into Egypt.

23 And they fet Uriiah out of Egypt, and brought him vnto Iehoiakim the King, who slewe him with the sword, and [m] cast his dead bodie into the graues of the children of the people.

24 But the hand of Ahikam [n] the sonne of Shaphan, was with Ieremiah that they should not giue him into the hand of the people, to put him to death.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Ieremiah at the commaundement of the Lord sendeth bonds to the King of Iudah and to the other Kings that were neere, whereby they are monished to bee subiects vnto Nebuchad-nezzar. 9 Hee warneth the people and the Kings and Rulers that they beleeue not false prophets.

IN the beginning of the reigne of [a] Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, came this word vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord to me, Make thee [b] bonds, and yokes, and put them vpon thy necke,

3 And send them to the King of Edom, and to the King of Moab, and to the King of the Ammonites, and to the King of Tyrus, and to the King of Zidon, by the hand of the messengers which come to Ierusalem vnto Zedekiah the King of Iudah,

4 And commaund them to say vnto their masters, Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Thus shall yee say vnto your masters,

5 I haue made the earth, the man, and the beast that are vpon the ground, by my great power, and by myoutstretched arme, and haue giuen it vnto whom it pleased me.

6 But nowe I haue giuen all these lands into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar the King of Babel my [c] seruant, and the beasts of the field haue I also giuen him to serue him.

8 And the nation and kingdome which will k So that the citie was not destroyed, but by miracle was deliuered out of the hands of Sancherib.

l Here is declared the furie of tyrants, who can not abide to heare Gods word declared, but persecute the ministers thereof, and yet in the end they preuaile nothing, but prouoke Gods iudgements so much the more.

m As in the first Hezekiahs example is to be followed, so in this other Iehoiakims acte is to be abhorred: for Gods plague did light on him, and his household.

n Which declareth that nothing could haue appeased their furie, if God had not mooued this noble man to stand valiantly in his defence.

b By such signes the Prophets vsed sometimes to confirme their prophecies, which notwithstanding they could not doe of themselues, but in as much as they had a reuelation for the same, Isa. 20.2. and therefore the false prophets to get more credite, did vse also such visible signes, but they had no reuelation, 1. 9 Therefore heare not your prophets, nor your soothsaiers, nor your dreamers, nor your enchanters, nor your sorcerers, which say vnto you thus, Yee shall not serue the King of Babel.

10 For they prophesie a lie vnto you to cause you to goe farre from your land, and that I should cast you out, & you should perish.

11 But the nation that put their neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babel, and serue him, those wil I let remaine still in their owne land, sayth the Lord, and they shall occupie it, and dwell therein.

12 ¶ I spake also to Zedekiah King of Judah according to all these wordes, saying, Put your necks vnder the yoke of the King of Babel, and serue him and his people, that yee may liue.

13 Why will yee die, thou, and thy people by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the Lord hath spoken against the nation, that will not serue the king of Babel?

14 Therefore heare not the wordes of the prophets, that speake vnto you, saying, Yee shall not serue the king of Babel: for they prophesie a lie vnto you.

15 For I haue not * sent them, saith the Lord, yet they prophesie a lie in my name, that I might cast you out, and that ye might perish, both you, and the prophets that prophesie vnto you.

16 ¶ Also I spake to the Priestes and to all this people, saying, Thus sayth the Lord, Heare not the wordes of your prophets that prophesie vnto you, saying, Behold, * the vessels of the house of the Lord shall nowe shortly be [f] brought againe from Babel, for they prophesie a lie vnto you.

17 Heare them not, but serue the king of Babel, that ye may liue: wherefore should this citie be desolate?

18 But if they bee Prophets, and if the word of the Lord bee with them, let them [g] entreat the Lord of hosts, that the vessels, which are left in the house of the Lord, and in the house of the king of Judah, and at Jerusalem, goe not to Babel.

19 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, concerning the * pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bases, and concerning the residue of the vessels that remaine in this citie,

20 Which Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel tooke not, when hee caried * away captiue Jeconiah the sonne of Jehoiakim king of Judah from Jerusalem to Babel, with all the nobles of Judah and Jerusalem.

21 For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, concerning the vessels that remaine in the house of the Lord, & in the house of the king of Judah, and at Jerusalem, 22 They shall bee brought to Babel, and there they shall bee vntill the day that I visite [h] them, saith the Lord: then will I bring them vp, and restore them vnto this place.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 The false prophecie of Hananiah. 12 Ieremiah reproueth Hananiah, and propheseth.

AND that same yeere in the beginning of the [a] reigne of Zedekiah king of Judah in the [b] fourth yeere, and in the fifth moneth Hananiah the sonne of Azur the Prophet, which was of [c] Gibeon, spake to mee in the house of the Lord, in the presence of the priests, and of all the people, and said,

2 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, saying, I haue broken the yoke of the king of Babel.

3 † Within two yeeres space I wil bring into this place all the vessels of the Lords House, that Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel tooke away from this place, and caried them into Babel.

4 And I will bring againe to this place Jeconiah the sonne of Jehoiakim King of Judah, with all them that were caried away captiue of Judah, and went into Babel, saieth the Lord: for I will breake the yoke of the king of Babel.

5 Then the Prophet Jeremiah said vnto the [d] Prophet Hananiah in the presence of the Priestes, and in the presence of all the people that stood in the House of the Lord,

6 Euen the Prophet Jeremiah said, So be it: the Lord so doe, the Lord confirme thy wordes which thou hast prophesied, to restore the vessels of the Lords House, and all that is caried captiue, from Babel, into this place.

7 But heare thou now this word that I will speake in thine eares, and in the eares of all the people.

8 The Prophets that haue beene before mee and before thee in time past, [f] prophesied against many countreys, and against great kingdomes, of warre, and of plagues, and of pestilence.

9 And the Prophet which prophesieth of peace, when the word of the Prophet shall come to passe, then shall the Prophet bee knowen, that the Lord hath truely sent him.

10 Then Hananiah the Prophet tooke the yoke from the Prophet Jeremiahs necke, and brake it.

11 And Hananiah spake in the presence of all f Meaning, that the Prophets that did either denounce warre or peace, were tried either true or false by the successe of their prophecies. Albeit God maketh to come to passe sometime that which the false prophet speaketh, to trie the faith of his, Deut.13.3.

g This declareth the impudencie of wicked hirelings, which haue no zeale to the truth, but are led with ambition to get the fauour of men, and therefore cannot abide any, that might discredit them, but burst forth into rages, and contrary to their owne conscience, passe not what lyes they report, or how wickedly they doe, so that they may maintaine their estimation, all the people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Euen so wil I breake the yoke of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, from the necke of all nations within the space of two yeeres: and the Prophet Ieremiah went his way.

12 ¶ Then the worde of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah the Prophet, (after that Hananiah the Prophet had broken the yoke from the necke of the Prophet Ieremiah) saying,

13 Goe and tell Hananiah, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Thou hast broken the yokes of wood, but thou shalt make for them yokes of yron.

14 For thus sayth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, I haue put a [h] yoke of iron vpon the necke of all these nations, that they may serue Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel: for they shall serue him, and I haue giuen him the [i] beasts of the field also.

15 Then said the Prophet Ieremiah vnto the Prophet Hananiah, Heare now Hananiah, the Lord hath not sent thee, but thou makest this people to trust in a lie.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will cast thee from off the earth: this yeere thou shalt die, because thou hast spoken rebelliously against the Lord.

17 So Hananiah the Prophet [k] died the same yeere in the seuenth moneth.

h That is, a hard and cruell seruitude.

i Signifying, that all should be his, as Dan. 2.38.

k Seeing this thing was euident in the eyes of the people, and yet they returned not to the Lord, it is manifest, that miracles cannot moue vs, neither the word it selfe, except God touch the heart.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Ieremiah writeth vnto them that were in captiuitie in Babylon. 10 He prophecieth their returne after seuentie yeeres. 16 Hee prophecieth the destruction of the King and of the people that remaine in Hierusalem. 21 He threatneth the prophets that seduce the people. 32 The death of Shemaiah is prophecied.

NOw these are the wordes of the ‖booke that Ieremiah the Prophet sent from Jerusalem vnto [a] the residue of the Elders, which were caried away captiues, and to the Priests, and to the Prophets, and to all the people whom Nebuchad-nezzar had caried away captiue from Jerusalem to Babel:

3 By the hand of Elasah the sonne of Shaphan, and Gemariah the sonne of Hilkiah, (whom Zedekiah king of Judah [c] sent vnto Babel to Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel) saying,

c To intreat of some equall conditions.

4 Thus hath the Lord of hostes the God of Israel spoken vnto all that are caried away captiues, whom I haue [d] caused to be caried away captiues from Jerusalem vnto Babel:

d To wit, the Lord, whose worke this was.

5 Build you houses to dwell in, and plant you gardens, and eate the fruites of them.

6 Take you wiues, and beget sonnes and daughters, & take wiues for your sonnes, and giue your daughters to husbandes, that they may beare sonnes and daughters, that ye may be increased there, and not diminished.

7 And seeke the prosperitie of the citie, whither I haue caused you to bee caried away captiues, and [e] pray vnto the Lord for it: for in the peace thereof shall you haue peace.

e The Prophet speaketh not this for the affection that hee bare to the tyrant, but that they should pray for the common rest and quietnesse, that their troubles might not be increased, and that they might with more patience and lesse griefe waite for the time of their deliuerance, which God had appointed most certaine: for els not onely the Israelites, but all the world, yea, and the insensible creatures should reioyce when these tyrants should be destroyed, as Isa. 14.4.

8 ¶ For thus sayeth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Let not your Prophets, and your Southsayers that be among you, deceiue you, neither giue eare to your dreames, which you dreame.

9 For they prophecie you a lie in my Name: I haue not sent them, saith the Lord.

10 But thus saith the Lord, That after seuentie yeeres be accomplished at Babel, I wil visite you, and performe my good promise toward you, & cause you to returne to this place.

11 For I know the thoughts, that I haue thought towards you, sayeth the Lord, euen the thoughts of peace, and not of trouble, to giue you an end, and your hope.

12 Then shall you crie vnto me, & ye shall go and pray vnto me, and I will heare you.

13 And yee shall seeke mee and finde me, because ye shal seeke me with all [f] your heart.

f When your oppression shall be great, & your afflictions cause you to repent your disobedience, and also when the seuentie yeeres of your captiuitie shall be expired, 2.Chro.36.22. Ezr 1.1.cha.25. 12.Dan.9.2.

14 And I will bee found of you, saith the Lord, and I will turne away your captiuitie, and I will gather you from all the nations, and from all the places, whither I haue cast you, saith the Lord, and will bring you againe vnto the place, whence I caused you to be caried away captiue.

15 ¶ Because yee haue said, The Lorde hath raised vs vp [g] Prophets in Babel, g As Ahab, Zedekiah, & Shemaiah.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lorde of the King, that sitteth vpon the throne of Dauid, and of all the people, that dwell in this citie, your brethren that are not gone forth with you into captiuitie:

17 Euen thus saith the Lord of hosts, Behold, I will send vpon them the [h] swoorde, the famine, and the pestilence, and will make them like vile [i] figges, that cannot be eaten, they are so naughtie.

h Whereby he assureth them, that there shall be no hope of returning before the time appointed.

i According to the comparison, Chap. 24.1.2.

18 And I will persecute them with the swoord, with the famine, & with the pestilence; and I will make them a terrour to all kingdomes of the earth, and [k] a curse, and astonishment and an hissing, and a reproch among all the nations whither I haue cast them.

k Reade Chap. 7.13. and 25.3. and 26.5.

19 Because they haue not heard my words, saith the Lord, which I sent vnto them by my seruants the Prophets, [l] rising vp early, and sending them, but ye would not heare, saith the Lord.

l Reade Chap. 7.13. and 25.3. and 26.5.

20 ¶ Heare yee therefore the word of the Lord all yee of the captiuitie, whome I haue sent from Jerusalem to Babel.

21 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of of Israel, of Ahab the sonne of Kolaiah, and of Zedekiah the sonne of Maaseiah, which prophecie lies vnto you in my Name, Behold, I will deliuer them into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel, and he shall slay them before your eyes.

22 And all they of the captiuitie of Judah that are in Babel, shall take vp this curse against them, and say, The Lord make thee like Zedekiah and like Ahab, whome the king of Babel burnt [m] in the fire.

23 Because they haue committed [n] villenie in Israel, and haue committed adulterie with their neighbours wiues, and haue spoken lying wordes in my Name, which I haue not commanded them, euen I know it, and I testifie it, saith the Lord.

24 ¶ Thou shalt also speake to Shemaiah the || Nehelamite, saying,

25 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, saying, Because thou hast sent letters in thy Name vnto all the people, that are at Jerusalem, and to Zephaniah the sonne of Maaseiah the Priest, and to all the Priests, saying,

26 The Lord hath made thee Priest, for [o] Jehoiada the Priest, that yee should be officers in the House of the Lord, for euery man that raueth and maketh himselfe a Prophet, to put him in prison and in the stockes.

27 Now therefore why hast not thou reproued Jeremiah of Anathoth, which prophecieth vnto you?

28 For, for this cause hee sent vnto vs in Babel, saying, This captiuitie is long: build houses to dwell in, and plant gardens, and eate the fruites of them.

29 And Zephaniah the Priest read this letter in the eares of Jeremiah the Prophet.

30 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Jeremiah, saying,

31 Send to all them of the captiuitie, saying, Thus saith the Lord of Shemaiah the Nehelamite, Because that Shemaiah hath prophecied vnto you, and I sent him not, and he caused you to trust in a lie, 32 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will visit Shemaiah the Nehelamite, and his seed: he shall not haue a man [p] to dwell among this people, neither shall he behold the good, that I will doe for my people, saith the Lord, because hee hath spoken rebelliously against the Lord.

m Because they gaue the people hope of speedie returning.

n Which was adulterie, and falsifying the word of God.

|| Or, dreamer.

o Shemaiah the false prophet flattereth Zephaniah the chiefe Priest, as though God had giuen him the spirit and zeale of Jehoiada to punish wholsoeuer trespassed against the word of God, of the which he should haue made Jeremiah one, calling him a raiser and a false prophet.

p He and his seed shall be destroyed, so that none of them should see the benefite of this deliuerance.

CHAP. XXX.

1 The returne of the people from Babylon. 16 He menaceth the enemies, 18 And comforteth the Church.

THe word, that came to Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the Lorde God of Israel, saying. Write thee all the wordes that I haue spoken vnto thee in [a] a booke.

3 For loe, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will bring againe the captiuitie of my people Israel and Judah, sayth the Lord: for I will restore them vnto the land, that I gaue to their fathers, and they shall possesse it.

4 Againe, these are the wordes that the Lorde spake concerning Israel, and concerning Judah.

5 For thus saith the Lord, We haue heard a [b] terrible voice, of feare and not of peace.

6 Demand now and behold, if man trauell with childe? wherefore doe I beholde euery man with his handes on his loynes as a woman in trauell, and all faces are turned into a paleneſſe?

7 Alas, for this [c] day is great: none hath beene like it: it is euen the time of Jaakobs trouble, yet shall he be deliuered from it.

8 For in that [d] day, sayth the Lorde of hostes, I will breake [e] his yoke from off thy necke, and breake thy bondes, and strangers shall no more serue themselues [f] of him.

9 But they shall serue the Lorde their God, and [g] Dauid their King, whome I will raise vp vnto them.

10 Therefore feare not, O my seruant Jaakob, saith the Lord, neither be afraid, O Israel: for loe, I will deliuer thee from a farre countrey, and thy seede from the land of their captiuitie, and Jaakob shall turne againe, and shall be in rest and prosperitie, and none shall make him afraid.

11 For I am with thee, sayth the Lord, to saue thee: though I vtterly destroy all the nations where I haue scattered thee, yet will I not vtterly destroy thee, but I will correct thee by iudgement, and not [h] vtterly cut thee off.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Thy bruising is incureable, and [i] thy wound is dolorous.

13 There is none to iudge thy cause, or to lay a plaister: there are no medicines, nor helpe for thee.

14 All thy [k] louers haue forgotten thee: they seeke thee not: for I haue stricken thee with the wound of an enemie, & with a sharpe chastisement for the multitude of thine iniquities, because thy sinnes were increased.

15 Why cryest thou for thine affliction? thy sorow is incureable, for the multitude of thine iniquities: because thy sinnes were increased, I haue done these things vnto thee.

16 [l] Therefore all they that deuoure thee, shall be deuoured, and all thine enemies, euery one shall goe into captiuitie: & they that spoile thee, shall be spoiled, and all they that rob thee, will I giue to be robbed.

17 For I will restore health vnto thee, and I wil heale thee of thy wounds, saith the Lord, because a Because they should be assured and their posteritie confirmed in the hope of this deliuerance promised.

b He sheweth that before that this deliuerance shall come, the Caldeans should be extremely afflicted by their enemies, & that they should be in such perplexitie and sorow as a woman in her trauell, as Isa. 13.8.

because they called thee, The cast away, saying, This is Zion, whom no man seeketh after.

18 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will bring againe the captiuitie of Iaakobs tents, and haue compassion on his dwelling places: and the citie shall bee builded vpon her owne heape, [m] and the palace shall remaine after the maner thereof.

19 And out of them shall proceed [n] thanksgiuing, and the voice of them that are ioyous, and I will multiply them, and they shall not be few: I will also glorifie them, and they shall not be diminished.

20 Their children also shall bee as afore time, and their congregation shalbe established before me: and I will visit all that vexe them.

21 And their [o] noble ruler shalbe of themselues, and their gouernour shall proceed from the middes of them, and I will cause him to draw neere, and approch vnto me: for who is this that directeth his [p] heart to come vnto me, saith the Lord?

22 And yee shall be my people, and I will be your God.

23 Behold, [q] the tempest of the Lord goeth forth with wrath: the whirlewinde that hangeth ouer, shall light vpon the head of the wicked.

24 The fierce wrath of the Lord shall not returne, vntill he haue done, and vntill he haue performed the intents of his heart: in the [r] latter dayes ye shall vnderstand it.

m Meaning, that the city and the Temple should be restored to their former state.

n He sheweth how the people shall with praise and thankesgiuing acknowledge this benefite.

o Meaning, Zerubbabel, who was the figure of Christ, in whom this was accomplished.

p Signifying, that Christ both willingly submit himselfe to the obedience of God his father.

q Lest the wicked hypocrites should flatter themselues with their promises, the Prophet sheweth what shall be their portion.

r When this Messiah and deliuerer is sent.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 Hee rehearseth Gods benefits after their returne from Babylon, 23 And the spirituall ioy of the faithfull in the Church.

AT the [a] same time, saith the Lord, will I be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shalbe my people.

2 Thus saith the Lord, The people which [b] escaped the sword, found grace in the wildernesse: [c] he walked before Israel to cause him to rest.

3 The Lord hath appeared vnto me [d] of olde, saying they: [c] Yea, I haue loued thee with an euerlasting loue, therefore with mercie I haue drawen thee.

4 Againe I will build thee, and thou shalt be builded, O virgine Israel: thou shalt still [f] be adorned with thy timbrels, and shalt goe forth in the dance of them that be ioyfull.

5 Thou shalt yet plant vines vpon the mountaines of [g] Samaria, and the planters that plant them, [h] shall make them common.

6 For the dayes shall come that the [i] watchmen vpon the mount of Ephraim shall crie, Arise, and let vs goe vp vnto [k] Zion to the Lord our God.

a When this noble gouernour shall come: meaning Christ, not onely Iudah and Israel, but the rest of the world shalbe called.

b Which were deliuered from the cruelty of Pharaoh.

c To wit, God.

d The people thus reason as though he were not so beneficiall to them now, as he had bin of old.

e Thus the Lord answereth that his loue is not changeable.

f Thou shalt haue still occasion to reioyce: which is meant by tabrets and dancing, as their custome was after notable victories, Exod. 15. 20. iudg. 5. 2. and chap. 11. 34.

g Because the Israelites, which were the ten tribes, must returned to Samaria, therefore this must be spiritually vnderstood vnto the kingdome of Christ, which was the restauration of the true Israel.

u That is, the people that were lew captiue.

vpon my [z] thigh: I was ashamed, yea, euen confounded, because I did beare the reproch of my youth.

20 Is Ephraim [a] my deare sonne or pleasant child? yet since I spake vnto him, I still [b] remembred him: therefore my bowels are troubled for him: I will surely haue compassion vpon him, sayth the Lord.

21 Set thee vp [c] signes: make thee heaps: set thine heart toward the path and way, that thou hast walked: turne againe, O virgine of Israel: turne againe to these thy cities.

22 How long wilt thou goe astray, O thou rebellious daughter? for the Lord hath created [d] a new thing in the earth: A WOMAN shall compasse a man.

23 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Yet shall they say this thing in the land of Iudah, and in the cities thereof, when I shal bring againe their captiuity, The Lord blesse thee, O habitation of Iustice and holy mountaine.

24 And Iudah shall dwell in it, and all the cities thereof together, the husbandmen and they that goe forth with the flocke.

25 For I haue satiate the wearie soule, and I haue replenished euery sorowfull soule.

26 Therefore I awaked and beheld, and my sleepe [e] was sweete vnto me.

27 Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will sowe the house of Israel, and the house of Iudah [f] with the seede of man and with the seede of beast.

28 And like as I haue watched vpon them, to plucke vp and to roote out, and to throwe downe, and to destroy, and to plague them, so will I watch ouer them, to build, and to plant them, saith the Lord.

29 In those dayes shall they say no more, The fathers haue [g] eaten a sowre grape, and the childrens teeth are set on edge.

30 But euery one shall die for his owne iniquitie: euery man that eateth the sowre grape, his teeth shall be set on edge.

31 ¶ Behold, the dayes come, sayth the Lord, that I wil make a [h] new couenant with the house of Israel, & with the house of Iudah,

32 Not according to the couenant that I made with their fathers, when I tooke them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt, the which my couenant they [i] brake, although I was || an husband vnto them, saith the Lord.

33 But this shall be the couenant that I will make with the house of Israel, After [k] those dayes, sayth the Lord, I will put my Lawe in their inward partes, and write it in their hearts, and will be their God, and they shall be my people.

34 And they shall [l] teach no more euery man his neighbor and euery man his brother, saying, Knowe the Lorde: for they shall all know me from the least of them vnto the greatest of them, saith the Lord: for I will forgiue their iniquitie, and wil remember their sinnes no more.

35 Thus sayth the Lord, which giueth [m] the sunne for a light by day, and the courses of the moone and of the starres for a light to the night, which breaketh the sea, when the waues thereof roare: his Name is the Lord of hostes.

36 If these ordinances depart out of my sight, saith the Lord, then shall the seede of Israel cease from being a nation before me, for euer.

37 Thus sayth the Lord, If the heauens can be measured, [n] or the foundations of the earth be searched out beneath, then will I cast off all the seed of Israel, for all that they haue done, saith the Lord.

38 Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that the [o] city shalbe built to the Lord from the tower of Hananeel, vnto ỹ gate of the corner.

39 And the line of the measure shall goe forth in his presence vpon the hill Gareb, and shall compasse about to Goath.

40 And the whole valley of the dead bodies, and of the ashes, and all the fields vnto the brooke of Kidron, and vnto the corner of the horse gate toward the East, shall be holy vnto the Lord, neither shall it bee plucked vp nor destroyed any more for euer.

In signe of repentance, and detestation of my sinne.

As though he would say. Not by his iniquitie he did what ly in him to cast her off.

To wit, in pitying him for my promise sake.

Marke by what way thou didst go into captiuitie, and thou shalt turn againe by the same.

Because their deliuerance from Babylon was a figure of their deliuerance from sinne, he sheweth how this should be procured, to wit, by Iesus Christ whom a woman should conceiue, & beare in her wombe.

Which is a strange thing in earth: because he should be borne of a virgine without man: or, he meaneth, that Ierusalem which was like a barren woman in her captiuitie, should be fruitfull as thee, that is ioyned in mariage, and whom God blesseth with children.

Hauing vnderstand this vision of the Messiah to come, in whom the two houses of Israel and Iudah should be ioyned, I reioyced.

I will multiplie, and enrich them with people and cattell.

The wicked vsed this prouerbe, when they did murmure against Gods iudgements pronounced by the Prophets, saying, That their fathers had committed the fault, and that the children were punished, Ezek. 18.3

Though the couenant of redemption made to the fathers, and this which was giuen after, seeme diuers, yet they are all one, and grounded on Iesus Christ, saue that this is called new, because of the manifestation of Christ, and the abundant graces of the holy Ghost giuen to his Church vnder the Gospel.

i And so were the occasion of their owne disorderement through their infidelitie, Isai. 50.1.

k In the time of Christ, my lawe shall in stead of tables of stone be written in their hearts by mine holy Spirit, Ezec. 8.8.10.

[Or, master.

l Vnder the kingdome of Christ there shall be none blinded with ignorance, but I will giue them faith, and knowledge of God for remission of their sinnes, and daily increase the same: so that it shall not seeme to come so much by the preaching of my ministers, as by the instruction of my holy Spirit, Isa. 54. 13. but the full accomplishing hereof is referred to the kingdome of Christ when we shal be ioyned with our head.

m If the sunne, moone and stars cannot but giue light according to mine ordinance, so long as this world lasteth, so shall my Church neuer faile, neither shall any thing hinder it: and as sure as I will haue a people, so certaine is it, that I will leaue them my word for euer to gouerne them with.
